DAILY ONTARIO

ROASTED ALIVE.

THE TERRIBLE DEATH OF EIGHT PERSONS IN AN OHIO TOWN.

A FATHER'S FEARFUL JUMP.

From the N. Y. Herald Feb. 21.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb, 23.—East Liverpool, Ohio, is a small town on the bank of the Ohio river, forty-four miles below Pittsburg. It is a thriving place, built up and sustained by large potteries which are there located. To this place in last September or October came William Sloan, from Harrison county, Ohio. He started a drug store in a four-storey frame building on the corner of Broadway and Sixth street, did a thriving business, and lived happily in the midst of his large family. The building in which his store and dwelling was located was owned by Frank Stewart, who used a part of it as a feed store and store house for hay and grain. Another portion of the building was used by Mr. George, a grocer. A few days ago Wilbur Skeels, a boarder of Mrs. Sloan, came to visit his sister for a few days, and he increased the number of the family to ten persons.

A DREADFUL AWAKENING.

Shortly after one o'clock this morning Sloan was aroused by some noise, and on getting out of bed and opening the door of his room he found that the hallway was full of smoke. He formed a plan by which the members of his family and told them to follow him. Picking up a tiny little blonde-haired girl in his arms, he tried to go down stairs, the staircase was at this time burned away, and escape by that means was cut off. Turning to the front of the building he told his children and his wife (who had a babe in her arms) to follow him, and leaped to the ground. The wife and the children were either overcome with the flames and stifling fumes from the drug store, or Mrs. Sloan, failing to get the children to jump, preferred death with them to life without them. Mr. Sloan hoped by jumping first to be able to catch the others and break the force of the fall; and although he broke his leg in the leap, hobbled around, crying out piteously for the others. The little girl he took with him was saved unharmed.

The building was erected last summer, and was a perfect fire trap, having numerous elevators running up through to the fourth floor, which opened in every pathway for the flames, and as nearly every floor was filled with hay, they spread with frightful rapidity. In twenty or thirty minutes the entire structure was consumed. The firemen by heroic work confined the fire to Stewart's building and a small adjoining frame house.

FINDING OF THE DEAD.

Seven of the bodies have already been recovered from the ruins, but the eighth, that of one of the children, has not been found. The headless and limbless trunks have been carried to a storeroom in the immediate vicinity, and covered from sight with heavy wrappings of muslin. The bodies are charred beyond recognition, those of the grown persons being conjectured by their size, while the child, burned to a crisp at the breast of its mother, makes hers the only identity that is certain.

THE MISSING BODY.

Around the burned building a sorrowful crowd of citizens are grouped, anxiously watching the efforts of the firemen in their search after the last of the victims, and now and then directing attention toward some peculiar form among the fragments. Only one of the bodies was found in the room in which the family had been sleeping, while the others were lying together in a corner of the cellar underneath the room through which the father made his escape. It is evident that the mother and children had followed him while he endeavored to guide them to safety, and had been overcome by the smoke or borne down in the crash which followed an explosion of some of the materials in the store. Mr. Sloan is now in a back room, and it is probable that he was overcome by the smoke and flames before he fully realized what was occurring. No one escaped him, and he was not seen by any of the persons on the outside.

THE FATHER'S STORY.

When it became known beyond a doubt that his wife and all his children but one had perished, Sloan fainted, and was taken to a neighbor's house. Here, with his arms round his motherless little one, he told his story this afternoon:—

"I have no hesitation," said he, "in telling you all I know. I was wakened last night by a sound, as of something striking the house, and thought I smelled lamp-oil burning. I hurried to the door, that leads to the store, and could see that the room was filled with smoke. I knew that the fire had got a good headway, and so thought of nothing but saving my wife and children. I wakened them and gathered them round me, making sure that no one was missing, and then told them to follow me through Kaufman's room to the stairway. The smoke drove us back from there, and I rushed to the window, where I heard people shouting for me to jump, I told my wife to jump first, but she refused.

HIS ESCAPE.

"My brother, who was standing by me just before I escaped with one child in his arms, said he would try and help them out if I would jump and catch them from below. I jumped, but when I looked back they were hidden by the smoke. Then I went round to the front of the store, but could not get in, and I ran on around to the staircase. I climbed up it and got as far as the outkitchen, when Kaufman's man grasped me from behind and dragged me out. Some persons put this coat on me, and I knew nothing more until I found myself in this room."

"I came here," continued Mr. Sloan, with tears in his eyes in answer to further questions "from Harrison county in the fall and opened a drugstore. There were better schools here, and I wanted my children to have the best education I could give them, but it is all over now," and he shook his head sadly. "I will go back to Harriston county with the bodies."

INCENDIARISM SUSPECTED.

"The fire must have been an incendiary one, for there was nothing in the cellar which could have caused it. Yesterday evening Kaufman's cellar doors were broken by a horse falling through them. After getting out the horse I forgot to lock my cellar, so that anyone could have entered."

"Is there anyone whom you suspect?"

"No, I will not say that there is, but there are sly ways of dealing with insurance companies."

The burned building, like all the other buildings in the town, was lighted by natural gas from wells near at hand. This gas increases and diminishes in pressure very suddenly, and, as Sloan left the room the burners lighted in the store, when he went to bed, it is generally believed that a rush of gas caused the explosion and started the fire. Mr. Kaufman, the grocer, was badly injured in saving his wife from the burning building. The death list is as follows:—Wilbur Skeels, aged 20; Mrs. Wm. Sloan, aged 31; Luella Sloan, aged 13; Clyde Sloan, aged 12; Lizzie Sloan, aged 11 Alexander Sloan, aged 9; Paul Sloan, aged 5; Mary Sloan, aged eighteen months.

A SUNKEN ISLAND IN LAKE MICHIGAN.

Sturgeon Bay Expositor:—From Mrs. Josephine Graham we learn some particulars concerning the so-called "sunken island" in the vicinity of Fox du Morts (Death's Door). Mrs. Graham states that the island was situated in Lake Michigan, about five miles southeast of Rock Island, and known as "Little Gull," because of its whiteness and appearance from a distance. The island was of an irregular id shape, being about fifty feet in width by one hundred feet in length; was entirely a formation of small stones, ranging from the size of a walnut to rocks weighing several pounds.

A DREADFUL AWAKENING.

Shortly after one o'clock this morning Sloan was aroused by some noise, and on getting out of bed and opening the door of his room he found that the hallway was full of smoke. He formed a plan by which the members of his family and told them to follow him. Picking up a tiny little blonde-haired girl in his arms, he tried to go down stairs, the staircase was at this time burned away, and escape by that means was cut off. Turning to the front of the building he told his children and his wife (who had a babe in her arms) to follow him, and leaped to the ground. A SUGGESTION.

A day's pleasure at your disposal, instead of a day's agony. Everyone who has corns can testify to the constant discomfort they produce. "I could have enjoyed the ball, or the picnic, or some other social pastime, but, oh, how my corns ached!" No necessity now for such complaints. BRONCHITIS.

From John Flagg, Esq., of Bennington, N. H.

"Three years since I was very much troubled with a dreadful cough, which resulted in Bronchitis, affecting me so severely at times it difficult to speak in an audible voice. To this was added more nights sweats, and I was fearful of going into a decline. After recourse to various remedies, to no purpose, I made use of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, a few bottles of which fully restored me to health. Since that time I have had several severe attacks of cough, but the Balsam has always removed them. I always keep it by me, and should not know how to do without it.

JERSEY BUTTER.

Jersey butter is all the fashion, and it has become so, mainly because the makers have kept up a uniform color through the year, using artificial color when necessary. Diarymen who wish to be in the fashion must use the Perfected Butter Color made by Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt., Jersey Association. It gives the brightest and most perfect color to butter of any substances I have ever used. I know it to be, as you say, as harmless as salt, and it adds several cents per pound to the value of butter."

Hearing that you are about to publish a little work on the world-renowned Pain Killer, I desire to place on record my experience of its merits during sales of twenty years. It has become a house-hold word in these townships, and I would as soon think of letting my stock of tea and sugar run out as that of the Pain Killer. It is every day performing the most wonderful cures, and I have yet to hear the first word of dissatisfaction.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 16, 1874.
Dr. Giles:—I paid one hundred dollars to veterinary surgeon for medicine and attendance on a valuable saddle-horse, without any benefit. He was lame from a sore more than a year, and useless in consequence of it. No one could find he had any effect. I applied the Liniment Iodide Ammonia, and, to my great surprise, found that it removed both pain and lameness. Having driven him recently over a very rough road, sixty miles in two days—two of the hottest days this summer—without the least symptom of return of curb or lameness. As a precaution, I took a bottle of Liniment with me, but had no occasion to use it. In all cases where a Liniment can be applied, it gives me the greatest satisfaction.

Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor removes the cause speedily. Try it. Beware of another article "just as good." Take only Putnam's. Sold everywhere.

BRONCHITIS.

From John Flagg, Esq., of Bennington, N. H.

"Three years since I was very much troubled with a dreadful cough, which resulted in Bronchitis, affecting me so severely at times it difficult to speak in an audible voice. To this was added more nights sweats, and I was fearful of going into a decline. After recourse to various remedies, to no purpose, I made use of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, a few bottles of which fully restored me to health. Since that time I have had several severe attacks of cough, but the Balsam has always removed them. I always keep it by me, and should not know how to do without it.

JERSEY BUTTER.

Jersey butter is all the fashion, and it has become so, mainly because the makers have kept up a uniform color through the year, using artificial color when necessary. Diarymen who wish to be in the fashion must use the Perfected Butter Color made by Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt., Jersey Association. It gives the brightest and most perfect color to butter of any substances I have ever used. I know it to be, as you say, as harmless as salt, and it adds several cents per pound to the value of butter."

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

The result of the election in East Cumberland on Saturday indicates that the Gladstone Government is not losing popularity.

The conflict with the Boers of South Africa has thus far been exceedingly humiliating to the British forces. One disaster has followed another, the last being a second Isandula.

American pork is being "boycotted" all over Europe. France, Austria and Russia have forbidden all importations, and England may soon follow suit, as the popular feeling is very much against its use. All this comes from the rapid spread of trichinosis in the United States.

The London Standard, the leading Conservative paper in England, has practically gone over to the Liberals, as it more frequently supports their measures than condemns them. The Conservatives talk of starting another paper, as they are now unrepresented in the press.

The eldest son of the Crown Prince of Germany, Prince Frederick Victor Albert, was married on Sunday to the Princess Augusta Victoria, of Holstein-Augustenburg, amid great pomp and splendor at Berlin. Everybody was happy, we are told, the old Emperor and Empress being delighted.

The report of the Agricultural Commission informs us that the County of Hastings has a total acreage of 885,411, and that of this 390,043 acres are cleared. This leaves more than half of the county uncleared. Prince Edward has a total acreage of 229,772, and, 107,924 acres cleared.

The death of Senator Carpenter removes another prominent figure from American politics. He was a brilliant lawyer, a sagacious politician, and an eminent statesman. When he was still a young man some one named him "the Webster of the West," and though there was much exaggeration in the comparison, as there always is, there was more foundation for it than is sometimes found.

MR. SANDFORD FLEMING and others are projecting a plan for connecting the Dominion of Canada with the continent of Asia by a telegraph cable. The idea is to start from a deep inlet on the north coast of Vancouver Island and carry the cable direct to Japan, or touch one of the Aleutian Islands midway. This, it is claimed, would give the principal cities of Canada and the United States much more direct and cheaper telegraph communication with China, Japan and other Asiatic countries than is furnished by the present European route. A company will probably be formed and application made to Parliament for a charter, the line to be completed in five years from the date of granting the charter. As a purely Canadian enterprise we wish to see it succeed.

WHILE the deputation is at Ottawa and have the ear of the Government, it would be well for them to press upon the N. P. authors and supporters a re-consideration of the coal duty, in the interest of home manufactures. They can point out that within a few miles of the city of Belleville are located as rich and extensive iron mines as are to be found on the continent, and that facilities for carrying the ore from the mines to the city have been obtained at considerable expense to the ratepayers. They can show that, owing to the duty on coal, the manufacture of this ore here is found unprofitable, and as a consequence it is shipped to United States furnaces to be smelted. They can furnish figures to prove that the population of Belleville is decreasing and property becoming less valuable, owing to the want of manufacturing industries which the N. P. was to foster and build up. In short, the deputation can do a good deal to advance the interests of Belleville if they are reasonable and well prepared. So long as the excellent ore from the iron mines of this county is carried through our city and hundreds of miles into a foreign country to be manufactured into metal, so long will there be empty shops, vacant houses, and a decreasing population. It is folly to talk of offering encouragement to manufacturers so long as the only industry that can be advantageously employed is allowed to slumber under an injurious tariff.

THE DEPUTATION TO OTTAWA.

As the result of the special meeting of the City Council Saturday evening, a deputation from that body left the city for Ottawa yesterday noon. Our report of the special meeting, which appeared yesterday, sufficiently explained the purpose. We have not much confidence in deputations generally, but this one may accomplish something. The proposed Quebec and Ontario Railway scheme, now before Parliament, with a fair prospect of being chartered, threatens to interfere with our interests by depriving us of a large share of the trade and traffic of the northern townships. At any rate, should the scheme be carried out, the Grand Junction and Belleville and North Hastings Railways would be much less beneficial to the city than now, as an important source from which trade is drawn would be tapped by the new line running from east to west. The citizens of Belleville have invested considerable money in existing lines, and it is only reasonable that their interests should be watched by the Council.

The idea of urging upon the Government the propriety, or we might say the necessity, of an increased grant for the construction of the Murray Canal, and immediate attention to the work, is of much importance at the present time. It is not necessary to repeat the reasons that we should be soon advanced in support of this contention. We trust the deputation will not be satisfied with evasive answers, but that the sincerity of the Government in placing the amount in the estimates that has been referred to will be fully tested. Unless the object was to offer a "sop to Cerberus," in view of the approaching election in East Northumberland, there should be no hesitation in making the vote sufficiently large to ensure an early construction of the work. If delayed, the prospects of Belleville becoming the outlet for the mineral regions of North Hastings and adjoining counties will be greatly lessened. At present our facilities for shipping the large quantities of ore that must be moved from the mines for smelting in American furnaces are notoriously deficient. If immediate steps are not taken to remedy this state of affairs, we must not be surprised if other sections are favored, to our disadvantage. The construction of the Murray Canal would remove many obstacles at present interfering with the shipment of iron ore and other produce from this section.

A NEW INDUSTRY.

We understand that several enterprising business men in Napanee have been considering the propriety of trying to establish a glucose manufactory in that place. Glucose is a sugar manufactured from corn, and in the early stages of the work the process is said not to be dissimilar to the manufacture of starch from corn. There is no such manufactury yet in Canada, but as sugar is an article of standing necessity the business opening seems like a good one, in case the article can be made cheaply enough to compete against the cane sugar we now import exclusively from foreign countries.

In Buffalo there is an immense establishment of this kind where, we are informed, some 10,000 bushels of corn are consumed daily, and a very large number of persons are employed. Last week John Herring, Esq., Reeve of Napanee, and Dr. Button went on a visit to this establishment with an eye to business. The future success of the project in our neighbouring town will depend perhaps entirely on the report they bring back with them.

The greatest difficulty, we apprehend, in connection with the success or even the establishment at all of such a business here, is the existence of our so-called "National Policy"—the grand Tory panacea for the development of manufacturing industries in Canada!

It is well known that in order to get the principal raw materials—corn and coal—necessary for this business, they must both be imported from the United States. The N. P. puts a duty of ten cents on every bushel of imported corn, and fifty cents on every ton of coal. Unless the N. P. stone wall can be thrown flat down in this case, as it is in the interests of many other industries, so that they can live at all, it would seem useless to attempt such an important enterprise.

It would seem to us that if we ever expect to establish an industry like this for the manufacture at home of sugar, or our own iron, or any other commodity requiring steam-power—as most manufactures now do—we must of necessity throw off the incubus of the present "National Policy," imposing as it does a heavy tax on so important a raw material as coal. The party riding into power and clinging to office on the N. P. cry needs to be thrown off, too, in order to ensure complete success.

THE LEGISLATURE.

A despatch from Toronto announces that the Legislature will be prorogued on Friday next, and as there is a large amount of work to be done yet, long sessions may be expected during the week.

THE 10TH ROYALS.—Tardy justice has at last been done the officers of the Tenth Royals of Toronto, who were illegally deprived of their commissions without other reason than that the reorganization of the regiment required it. They are gazetted as retired members of the militia, retaining rank.

A FRAUD.—It has been discovered that boys in Toronto city collect old postage stamps and sell them at the rate of 20 cents a hundred to a St. Thomas man, who puts them through a chemical process, by which they are made to look like new. The stamps are then sold to dealers at low rates. The same thing is done in this city. Boys are not so much to blame as the parties employing them in the dishonest business.

THE HULL ABDUCTION.—Four times on Sunday a mob gathered in Hull, in the vicinity of the building where the Rev. Mr. Syvret conducts religious services, for the purpose of getting possession, if possible, of Miss Gueret, the young woman convert, who, however, was in Ottawa. In the evening stones were thrown at the door of the building, when the crowd was dispersed by the police. A brother from St. Paschel, province of Quebec, who arrived on Saturday with her brother-in-law, Gosey, made the arrangements for the abduction Sunday, a cab being kept in readiness during the day and all the night to carry her away. Yesterday the brother had an interview with Miss Gueret who declined to go with him.

Two tramps laid down on a pile of hot slag near Patterson, N. J., and went to sleep. One was roasted to death and the other will die.

MARKET FEES.

REASONS OF THE GOVERNMENT FOR PREPARING THE NEW BILL.

In the Legislature on Thursday Mr. Wood introduced the bill respecting market fees, and moved the first reading. He desired to give a few reasons why the Government had decided to bring in such a measure. The cities, towns, and villages claim that, while they erected market buildings and maintained markets in the interest of citizens, the seller derived an equal benefit with the buyer, and that, taking into consideration the expense of maintenance it was but fair that the seller should pay a small fee. He submitted that it could not be acknowledged for one moment that the right should be given of taxing the produce of the farm for merely the right to sell, and the right of charging fees would have to be placed upon some other ground. An amount varying from $70,000 to $100,000 has been paid for the right to back up a waggon in the neighborhood of some buildings. No wonder the farmers demanded that might be called justice and fair play. On behalf of the farmer and seller it was claimed that if corporations had the

that the farmer should be allowed to judge whether he would have sufficient accommodation afforded to justify him in going to the market place. That matter should be optional with the seller. It was an arbitrary action on the part of the cities and towns to erect buildings without consulting the farmer as to the proper amount of accommodation, and then say to the farmer, "You shall sell your hay here, your cordwood there, and your commodities some other place, and you shall stay on the market for a certain time, and before dealing with us at all you shall pay a tax to us for doing so."

THE GOVERNMENT'S PROPOSITION

was that the cities and towns may establish markets and market fees; that if they establish these fees it shall be optional with the farmer or seller whether they shall attend these markets or not; that if free then to compel the farmer to attend the market for a reasonable time before offering his goods elsewhere. There are several cities and towns surrounded by counties owning country roads, and which impose tolls upon them. It was claimed by the urban constituencies that it was unfair that they should be compelled to have their streets open in common for the farmer and citizens outside with the citizens inside. They contended that they were so surrounded by toll-gates that they were besieged cities, so to speak, and that a reasonable distance outside the city or town should be free. He had no hesitation in saying that any county that kept up the

was not abreast with the spirit of the times. (Hear, hear.) It was the most expensive way of maintaining roads. But they did not propose by any act of that House to compel them to take down the toll gate bars. The Government believed there should be some reciprocity, and their proposition was that where cities and towns were surrounded by roads upon which tolls were imposed, that this Act shall not apply to such cities and towns until toll bars were taken down for a reasonable distance around such cities and towns. It was the intention of the Government to refer the Bill to a Special Committee representing both sides of the House, and both rural and urban constituences. The time during which the farmer on a free market shall remain, and as to what a reasonable distance for the abolishment of the tolls, were questions yet to be considered and decided upon.

PERSONAL ITEMS.

—Longfellow was 74 years old last Sunday.

—Dr. Riddell, Coroner of Toronto, has been committed for trial, for extortion.

—Mrs and Miss Hanlan, wife and sister of the champion, have gone to New York to meet him.

—Gen. Garfield left Mentor yesterday at 1 p. m., reaching Washington early this morning.

—Mr. E King Dodds takes part on behalf of the Brewers' Association of Iowa in the contest in that state this summer for a prohibitory liquor law.

—For the first time in the history of the United States, the inauguration of a President will take place on Friday, when Mr. Garfield will enter the White House on the 4th of March next. Superstitious people look upon this as another omen for this fatal year, 1881.

—Rev. Mr. McLean of St. Andrew's Church, preached before the students of Queen's College, Kingston, Sunday afternoon. He delivered an able discourse from Proverbs, IV, 7,—"Wisdom is the principal thing; therefore get wisdom; with all thy getting, get understanding."

—The Kennedy family, vocalists, have been singing throughout Scotland. The Kennedys have completed a circle of the world. One of them is credited with saying that a good Scotchman can find no match on earth, and that a bad Scotchman can only find his match when he leaves the earth.

—Mrs. Lalonde, of Montreal, who is suing for a separation from her husband, took the extraordinary method of seizing all his property on Saturday before judgment, including a large manufacturing establishment employing a great many operatives, none of whom can be paid until the case is argued in court on Tuesday.

—Capt. Ioman, who was killed by the Boers in the encounter at Laing's Nek, on the 29th ult., was the son of a country clergyman, who had passed as adventurous a life as any hero of romance or knight of a fairy tale. Starting in life as a midshipman, he soon got tired of the navy and left; then, feeling he had no chance of passing a competitive examination after his previous years spent at sea, he enlisted as a private soldier; rose from the ranks to be an officer; exchanged from his regiment, the Scots Greys, into the Grenadier Guards; and finally exchanged with Mr. Crawley, son of Mr. Crawley, of Stockwood from the Guards into the 60th Rifles, in gallantly leading which regiment, he fell, covered with honorable wounds. Capt. Ioman was still quite a young man; and he only made the exchange from the Grenadiers to the 60th a few weeks previous to his death, for the express purpose of fighting at the Cape.

REPORT OF THE MINISTER OF MARINE AND FISHERIES.

The Minister of Marine and Fisheries has submitted his report for the year ending the 30th of June, 1880. From it we learn that the total amount expended on the various branches of the service administered by the Department, including the salaries of the established staff, was $809,492.28, while the amount voted was $890,048 62, which last-named amount includes the Departmental salaries. The whole number of persons engaged in the outside service of the Department at the close of the calendar year was 1,704. The total number of light stations in the Dominion on the 31st December last was 452, and of lights shown 551; the number of steam fog whistles and automatic fog horns, 29; and the number of light keepers, engineers of fog whistles and other assistants, with crews of light ships, was 606. After giving the expenses of the maintenance of the Government steamships; the figures for the sustenance of the Montreal Water Police Marine Hospitals, &c., we learn that the total number of steamboats in the Dominion is 797, having a gross tonnage of 158,862 tons and 97,552 register. Of this number 214 belong to the West Ontario, Huron and Lake Superior Divisions, 113 to the East Ontario Division, 186 to the Three Rivers Division, 107 to the Quebec Division, 101 to the Maritime Provinces, 40 to British Columbia and 30 to Manitoba. Of the whole number 294 were paddle, 503 screw, 361 passenger steamers, 77 freight and 359 tugs. During the last calendar year 65 new steamers were added to the list, having a gross tonnage of 6,355 tons and 4,228 tons register. For the last eleven years the receipts for steamboat inspection amounted to $150,486.61, and the expenditure to $122,231.06, the excess of receipts for the period being $28,255.55. The total number of certificates issued since the Act came into operation is 838 for the grade of Master and 300 for that of mate. The total number of vessels on the register books of the Dominion on the 31st December last was 7,377. The number of vessels built during the year was 271.

BURNED IN HIS SHANTY.

Miserable Death of an Ottawa Inebriate.

OTTAWA, Feb. 27.—About half-past twelve to-day an alarm of fire was given for a small shanty situated near the corner of Bank and Sparks street. The box struck the wrong alarm and the fireman were delayed some time in arriving. The shanty was in flames, and soon fell a complete prey to the devouring element. On the flames subsiding an entrance was effected, and immediately inside the door was found the body of a man. The upper part of the body was dreadfully burned. The clothes and flesh were gone, and the ribs protruded. The man, who was James Matthews, aged 50 years, was a sort of lawyer and debt collector. He used his shanty as a part office and bedroom. He was a drunken, dissolute character, the source of much sorrow to a very respectable family. He was known all over this city as such, even when sober. There is little doubt that drunkenness was the immediate cause of the poor fellows death. The supposition is that he overturned his stove or set fire to his papers in his drunken stupor, although it was midday. Perhaps he was laying in a drunken sleep, and a spark from the stove set the building in flames. Whatever may be the true cause of the fire will never be known. At any rate, he must have become alive to his danger, and tried to get out of the door, which opens on the street. He was found with his head towards the door, and his body burned as described. A book-shelf of wood near the door had fallen, and the destroyed and charred contentswere scattered over his body. A jury was empannelled this afternoon by Dr. Corbett, and the preliminary examination commenced, but no light was thrown upon the cause of the fire. A strange circumstance is that a few months ago Matthews' mother died, and on her death-bed expressed her belief that her son James, whose conduct was a source of constant grief, would come to an untimely end.

—James Gibson, residing on the 4th concession of the township of Cartwright, on Saturday last hanged himself in his own woods.

—In the abduction case at Montreal it was brought to the magistrate's notice that Miss Lariviere, who it was believed had been abducted by one Stanislas Jasmin, fled from her home to escape persecution, and only worked for Jasmin. She was handed over to her brother's keeping, and Jasmin was digcharged.

Throat & Lung INSTITUTE,

Permanently established at the
Dafoe House, BELLEVILLE,
For the cure of all the various diseases of the Head, Throat and Chest, including the Eye, Ear and Heart.

But a few weeks or months are required to cure the most obstinate cases of Catarrh, Throat diseases, Asthma, Bronchitis, and the earlier stages of Consumption, when the treatment is conducted under the Doctor's own personal supervision. A word to the wise is therefore sufficient.

All diseases of the respiratory organs treated by medical inhalations.

Inhalations remove hepetization by dissolving the hardened matter existing in the air cells of the lungs, thus enabling the patient to expectorate it with ease, at the same time giving the diseased surface an opportunity to heal.

Inhalations scatter inflammation and soothe the inflamed surface, thus relieving a harassing cough almost immediately.

Inhalations absorb the fleshy excrescences that exist upon the pharyngeal surface in cases of granular throat, and restore the proper vitality of the parts, thus relieving the dryness of the throat and the sensation as if needles were penetrating the mucous membrane of the pharynx.

Inhalations will cure the most obstinate cases of catarrh when combined with proper constitutional and o her topical treatment.

In fact, Inhalations will cure thousands of cases of the breathing organs when all other means have failed.

Let there be no delay, then, in application to the treatment that has stood the test and proved equal and again the only one—the only reliable safeguard and means of restoration.

Consultation free and prices within the reach of all.

The very best of references given from all parts of Canada from those already cured. Remedies sent to any part of Ontario.

If possible, call personally at the office for consultation and examination, but if impossible to do so, write for "List of Questions" and "Medical Treatise." Address

The Best Field
—FOR—
EMIGRANTS,

An Immense Area of Railroad and Government Lands, of great fertility, within easy reach of permanent market, at extremely low prices, now offered for sale in Eastern Oregon and Eastern Washington Territory.

These lands form part of the great Grain Belt of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 250 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded for all parts of the world.

Grain at Portland, Oregon, commands a price equal to that obtained in Chicago.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R. R. is now assured, and guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the construction of the network of 700 miles of branches by the O. R. & N. Co. in the valleys of the Great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the lands now open to purchase or pre-emption. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future.

Lands show an average yield of 40 bushels of wheat per acre. No failure of crops ever known.

Railroad Lands offered at the uniform rate of $2.50 an acre.

FIXED PRICES,
—OF—

BESIDES the advantage of Low Prices I offered to customers through our system of trading wholly upon a Cash basis, there is this also that is worthy the attention of the pub namely, FIXED PRICES. We take it to be the only just and right way of doing business to mark goods at the lowest price we can afford to sell them and not ask more.

Though we are aware that a large number of people are taken by a practice in many stores of throwing something off the price asked, or professing to give something in, gratis, with a purchase, yet we have no hesitation in saying that the practice is a dishonest one and that little reliance is to be placed on store which do this.

Where a second price is made, more than the just value is always asked, and the customer, after being put to the annoyance of haggling about the price, gets an abatement, often a very considerable one, and finds after all he has invariably paid more for his goods than we would have asked him in the first place.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Local Brevities.

—Farmers are preparing for spring work.

—Wheels are used in preference to sleighs by many.

—Another big snow storm is predicted, but not by Vennor.

—Work commenced on the piers for the lighthouse to-day.

—This is the first day of Spring, and it is neither a lamb nor a lion.

—Large quantities of hay are still being delivered at Picton to be pressed for exportation.

—The one who gets the ring in the pancake to-night will be married first. Now, girls, look for it.

—To-morrow (Ash Wednesday) will be generally observed by our Roman Catholic fellow-citizens as a holy day.

—The American mail reached us this morning looking as if it had been in the ark with Noah, and got knocked overboard.

—Three prisoners and two tramps in the "cooler" last night. The prisoners were drunks, and one of them had a slung-shot on his person.

—The News says Kingston is behind the age, because she has no telephones nor skating rink. Poor old Kingston ! Belleville has both.

—The G. T. R. morning train going east has connected but twice since New Year's with the Prince Edward County railway for Picton,

—If ever you should be attacked by night never shout "Murder !" for no one will bother about you ; yell "Fire !" and everybody will be out ot doors in a jiffey.

—Dr. O'Sullivan, ex-M. P. P., of Peterboro', offers to put up from $200 to $500 that his horse can beat any other in the district in a race from Peterboro' to Port Hope and return.

—A movement is about to be started to have eggs sold by the pound. Some eggs weigh 14 ounces to the dozen, while others go as high as 20 and 24 ounces, but they are usually sold for the same price.

—It has been proposed that farmers should pay their daughters for labor as they do their sons, and allow them some social freedom, in order to prevent them from longing for city life and seeking it.

—There are scores of good Tories expecting an appointment as Census Enumerators. The Commissioners have no power to make such appointments, but no doubt they will be permitted to make a few suggestions.

—The promoters of the Kingston and Pembroke, and Napanee, Tamworth and Quebec, Railways are actively pressing their claims on the Local Ministry for bonuses. We have not heard of anything being done for our local roads, in that direction.

—Mr. Marsh had the street scraped from the station to the lower end of Front Street yesterday, with a view to having the sun operate on the ice over the car track. As the weather was much colder to-day, it is not likely the cars will be on for some time yet.

—There was a horse race at Trenton on Saturday last which attracted a large crowd, and resulted in much loud talking, big betting and some fighting. It is probably true as a contemporary remarks, "Trenton can get up more excitement over no amateur trot than any town of its size in Canada."

—A chess tournament at Ottawa has attracted considerable attention. There were representatives from many towns and cities, but none from Belleville. Why ? A few years ago there was a chess club here that had a name and reputation in the land. With the improved facilities for practice offered by the Mechanics' Institute, retrogression should not be thought of.

—"Ye local" of our neighbor over the way made a discovery on Saturday that greatly shocked his sensitive soul, and as a consequence he has vowed that no daughter of Eve, however fair, shall tempt him from a life of liberty and happiness. He accidentally (?) overheard two ladies, who looked the very embodiment of goodness and meekness, talking about and admiring "a magnificent dog of the St. Bernard kind," and one of them expressed a desire to own the brute that she might have him killed and have his skin made into a rug. The dog, during the colloquy, was gazing at the ladies and wagging his tale. The cruel expression of the fair one drove our friend frantic, and henceforth he is wedded to celibacy. It looks as if he was jealous of the dog.

VITAL STATISTICS.—The following is the return of births, marriages and deaths recorded by R. Newbery, Esq., City Clerk, for the month of February :—Births 12, marriages 8, deaths 11.

BROKE HER ARM.—Last night Sarah Hurst, a servant at Mr. Geo. Wallbridge's, slipped on the ice after passing through the side gate, just before entering the house, and broke the left fore-arm a little above the wrist.

CURLING MATCH.—The Trenton curlers have asked for a friendly match of curling with the curlers of this city, to take place at Trenton to-morrow. It is more than likely the Belleville men will accommodate them, and two rinks will be played on each side.

TO NIGHT. — Again we remind our readers of the soiree to be given in the City Hall to-night, by the ladies of the St. Andrew's Church, at which we hope the attendance will be large. An excellent tea and a good programme of entertainment may be expected.

CARRYING DEADLY WEAPONS.—Thomas Keegan was this morning fined $10 and costs for carrying a slung shot. The instrument was a solid piece of lead to which was attached a strap, and a blow from it would be sufficient to cause instant death. His statement was that he carried it on account of a dangerous dog.

INLAND REVENUE.—The duties of excise collected within the Inland Revenue Division of Belleville during the month of February were as follows, viz :

Spirits	$4362 02
Tobacco	1892 20
Malt	224 64
	$6969 46
Corres'g period last year	6691 13
Increase	278 33

Making a total increase of $9,147.13 for the eight months of the fiscal year.

UPSET.—Yesterday morning a buggy in which were seated Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haight of Thurlow, and child, capsized on Cannifton Road just after crossing the railway track. It being very slippery in that spot the wheels of the buggy slid on the siding of the road, and eventually turned over, depositing the parties mentioned above in the slush at the side, four of whom were seriously injured. The horse endeavored to get away, but Mr. Haight managed to hold on to the lines.

THE FIREMEN'S ASSEMBLY.—One of the most successful assemblies ever held in this city was that of the Quinte Hook and Ladder Company, at the City Hall last night. The attendance was so great that the hall was scarcely large enough to afford room for the dancers. The music was furnished by the orchestra of the 15th Batt. Band, and an excellent supper was served at the Commercial House soon after midnight by Clarke Edwards. Dancing was kept up until about four o'clock this morning, and the company separated well pleased with the night spent with the Hook and Ladder firemen.

WELL DOSED.—One night last week an old lady living in the vicinity of Albert College was taken suddenly ill, and arousing her husband from his slumbers told him to go and get her a dose of Electric Oil. This command the old gentleman proceeded to obey, and, without striking a light, went to where the medicine was kept, and took, as he supposed the bottle required. Pouring out what he supposed was a good dose, the old woman drank it off, but complained immediately after that the dose she got was not Electric Oil. Her husband becoming alarmed, struck a light, when, horror of horrors, he observed that he had administered a large draught of Stevens' Blue Black Ink. Fearing that the partner of his bosom would be poisoned he at once seized a three ounce bottle of Castor Oil, and, pouring off the entire contents of the bottle, gave her this at one draught. The result was all that could be desired, as the old lady speedily recovered.

PROBS.—Fresh to strong winds, mostly from the north-west and north, fair to cold weather, with occasional snow flurries. Lower temperature.

NARROW ESCAPE.—As a man with a load of shingles was ascending Murney's Hill at noon to-day, the horse slipped and fell, but with assistance, the horse regained his feet, The animal escaped with a few scratches, which were not serious.

POLICE REPORT.— During the month ending 28th February, 1881, the police arrested 27 persons, charged as follows :— Assault and battery 2 ; carrying revolver 1 ; drunk 11 ; disorderly conduct 1 ; fighting on public streets 2 , false pretences 1 ; horse stealing 2 ; larceny 5 ; lunacy 1 ; threatening 1 ; 25 persons (tramps) applied for and received protection in the police cells during the month.

TIRED OF LIFE.—One of the drunks in the police cells this night, an old man 75 years of age, named James Blytheman, had told some parties during the day that he purposed committing suicide. This information was given to Policeman Cook, who kept his eye on the old man, and about 12 o'clock last night observed the old fellow going down a gangway on Front Street to the river. He followed him, and arrested him when on the bank of the river. Upon being questioned the old man stated that he was in great trouble, his son having recently been killed in Michigan.

ABOUT DEAD MEN.—We find this in the Whig :—"Even dead men's votes were recorded in the syndicate big push vote. It has been pointed out to us that Mr. Ferris, member for East Northumberland, who died on the 21st January, is recorded in the Mail as having voted in the division on the 26th upon the railway bargain." We did not know before that Mr. Ferris was dead. We thought he represented East Northumberland in the Ontario Legislature, and was doing good service in supporting Mr. Mowat and his colleagues. From what we know of him, we doubt if he would vote for the syndicate, dead or alive. Our contemporary must have been thinking of Mr. Wheeler.

RECEPTION OF THE BISHOP.—Extensive preparations are being made at Kingston for the reception of the new R. C. Bishop, expected to arrive in a short time. It is understood that his lordship will leave Toronto in a private car by the ordinary express, but at Belleville the car will be attached to a special engine. Many Bellevillians will go to Kingston with the Bishop. It is the intention to disembark at the foot of Brock street, where a procession will be formed and the Bishop conducted to the Palace, thence in his episcopal robes to the Cathedral, of which he will be formally put in possession by the Very Rev. the Administrator. The ceremony of installation will follow. The Archbishop of Toronto and the Bishops of the Province of Quebec will be present and take part in the ceremony.

HOTEL ARRIVALS.—The following are the arrivals at the Dafoe House for the 24 hours ending noon to day :—S. G. Beatty, C G Kelso, M P P, Ottawa ; Chas Wood, Chas Harrington, F Horrigan, D J Shannon, Picton ; Harry Herrick, New York ; H Banman, Chicago ; Frank Clark, R G Leslie, Northport ; John Sawyer, New York ; A E Overell, Ballston ; John E Richards, London ; S Rose, Madoc ; J A Frake, Buffalo, N Y ; J M Webster, Kingston, Geo Robertson, Kingston ; F O Cross, Peterboro ; C W Meakins, Hamilton ; Chas J Pursey, Madoc ; W T Cumming, J W Millard, Wm Buell, Frank Thomas, James Gallon, W Brewster, J Ralston, W F Henderson, T C Drake, Montreal ; Robt Caldwell, O Newcombe, Geo Pike, R S Hudson, E M Clark Toronto.

THE COURSE OF TRUE LOVE.—He is a sailor and lives near the dock. He has a nice circle of acquaintance, but none of its lady members appeared capable of making an impression on his heart. He was introduced to visit an uncle in Gananoque, and while there he met a young lady whom he recently made his wife. His extreme bashfulness avoided the necessity of a courtship, which his distant relatives attended to with an ardor equally as fortunate and successful as though prosecuted by himself. The wooing and winning were all done for him, and with his approval, and as "Barkis was willin'," the necessary preparations were made and the marriage consummated yesterday. The susceptible nature of the young man as alluded to could not be stirred by any of our young city ladies, and thus it was that a bride from a distant place has become the mistress of a house which should only have known as its centre of light the person of a Belleville girl.

INSPECTION SOLICITED.—We have to-day received our Scotch and Irish Suitings for Spring and Summer wear, and claim they are the finest assortment that will be shown in the city this season.

JAMES HENNESEY.

GOOD OIL.—A. L. Geen has just receive l another consignment of that extra superior American Oil, which he sells at 35c. All who wish a brilliant light and clear chimneys will do well to try it. He also sells an extra good test of Canadian Oil at 30c per gallon.

INCENTIVES FOR INCREASING POPULATION.—Sir Leonard Tilley having clearly shown by his carefully prepared Budget statement that Canada is more prosperous under a protective duty, and that the N P. has been a great boon to our manufacturers it is a little strange that the founders of this great policy should neglect the fountain head of all nations' wealth, and keep Babies on the free list. N. Davenport, Hatter and Furrier, being convinced that the party now in power will never give this great struggling industry the attention it deserves, will give prizes to every Baby born in the Ccunties of Hastings and Prince Edward during next December (1881,) as follows :—

For every Girl Baby—1 handsome Fur Hood.
For every Boy Baby—One Fur Turban.
For every Pair of Twins—One Silver Cups.
For Triplets—One twenty dollar gold piece.

A physician's certificate is expected with every application for a prize, and it is to be hoped that Babies will not be imported into Hastings and Prince Edward from Adgington, Lennox and Northumberland Counties. Please remember while waiting for the "Little Ones" that N. Davenport has the largest and finest stock of Hats and Caps in Central Canada.

KILLED BY A LOAD OF WOOD.—James Tweedell of Brighton was instantly killed yesterday morning by the capsizing of a load of wood upon him while coming down a bad hill.

NO. 1 COMPANY, 15TH BATT.—Now that Captain Biggar has completed his military training, the above company will resume their weekly drills on Thursday evening next.

MISSIONARY SERVICES.—On Sunday next the annual missionary sermons will be preached in the Bridge Street C. M. Church by the Rev. Henry Steinhaur, a native Indian missionary from the North-West, and the Rev. W. J. Hunter, D. D., of Toronto. On the following evening the anniversary meeting will be held, at which addresses will be delivered by the gentlemen named above and others.

East Northumberland

REFORM CONVENTION,

A. J. cCallum, Esq., the Standard Bearer.

A convention of delegates from the different Reform Associations of East Northumberland was held at Warkworth yesterday morning for the purpose of nominating a candidate to contest the Riding in the interest of the Reform party, at the forthcoming election to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Keeler.

The number of delegates present was 140, and in addition to these there were between 300 and 400 others, embracing most of the leading men of the Riding.

The names placed before the Convention were those of Mr. Webb, Colborne ; Crowter, Reeve of Brighton ; Dr. McRea, Warkworth ; Sills, Myersburgh ; W H Austin, Trenton ; and A. McCallum, Brighton.

These gentlemen were then balloted for, no name to be dropped from any ballot, and on the fourth being taken it it was found that Mr. McCullum had a majority of all the votes cast. The nomination was then made unanimous by a standing vote, and on its being tendered to Mr. McCullum, he unnounced his acceptance of it, after which he addressed the convention. His remarks were short but to the point, and were to the effect that having been made the nominee of the party he wanted to fight until the last day in the afternoon.

The other gentlemen who were nominated addressed the meeting, and pledged their support and hearty co-operation in endeavoring to secure the return of Mr. McCallum.

Mr. Crowter's address was one of the best ever listened to in the Ridiog, and frequently called forth cheers and thundering applause from those present.

Mr. Ferris, M. P. P., member of the Local Legislature, also addressed the meeting, and all agreed in the opinion that his discourse was the best he has ever made since his entrance into public life. He said the boast was made that the Government had bought up East Northumberland body and breeches, but the day of the election would prove that the farmers of that Riding had registered their disapproval of the Pacific Railway contract, and that they could not be bought up like sheep. He counselled all those who were present to work late and early until the election was over, as the eyes of the whole Dominion, from Prince Edward Island to Vancouver's Island were upon East Northumberland.

Mr. J. L. Biggar, of this city, who was present, also delivered a short address, in which he expressed the hope, that every elector would make this a personal matter, feeling satisfied that if this were done Mr. McCallum's return would be ensured.

At the close of the meeting rousing cheers were given for the Queen and Mr. McCallum.

Meetings will be held at once at different places in the constituency, in which, we are pleased to know, the Biggar Brothers will lend a cheerful assistance.

THE QUEBEC AND ONTARIO RAILWAY.

A GOOD SUGGESTION.—A suggestion has been made by a gentleman desirous of keeping the Rebellion & Ontario Navigation Company steamers up to the mark as to public convenience. It is to make a trial of the Pullman palace car system of berths for the accommodation of tourists in summer. One of the many boats of the company could be altered so as to have a very large saloon on the hurricane deck. The berths could be arranged at each side, and during the day by the use of the ample windows there could be had ample light. The passengers would thus have an almost uninterrupted view of surrounding scenery without going outside, and a spacious drawing-room to walk about in. Side-tables could be had, and matters arranged so that waiters could supply luncheon or refreshments at any hour during the day or evening. It would certainly be a novel venture in the direction of pleasure travelling, and will likely be taken up by the company.

OUR TABLE.

GAGE'S SCHOOL EXAMINER.—The second number of Gage's School Examiner and Monthly Review is on our table. It is edited by several well-known educationalist, the Literary Department being under the care of Rev. Chas. Pelham Mulvany, M. A., one of the best literary critics in Canada. His essay on Walter Scott (continued from first number) is an admirable piece of writing, the more so as it is brief and directly to the point. He also has a poem in the present number, entitled "The Marquis and the Lady," which is fully up to his standard of excellence. Besides the original contributions—"Meta Hill's School"—Literary Notes, Topics of the Month, and a full set of model examination papers. The work must be of rare interest to teachers and scholars. $1.00 a year ; W. J. Gage & Co., 11 Wellington Street, Toronto.

ANDREWS' BAZAR for March is a decided improvement over any previous number. Always in the front rank of ladies' publications, it is now surely deserving of any terms of praise. The front-piece illustration is strikingly handsome, and Mr. Andrews announces that it is from the pen of an artist (Mr. Grey-Parker) who is justly celebrated for his very superior work. The contents of this number are of a high order and the ladies, always on the qui vive to know the latest fashions, will find ANDREWS' BAZAR invaluable. The proprietor, disapproving the scheme of giving glaring chromos as premiums, has made arrangements with one of the largest and best seed-growers in the country, whereby he offers to every subscriber a choice of One Dollar's worth of Flower or Vegetable Seeds. When we remember that the subscription price to ANDREWS' BAZAR is but One Dollar, and know the paper itself is worth twice the money, we would pronounce this offer unprecedented. We would advise those of our lady readers unacquainted with the BAZAR to send 15 cents for a sample copy to W. R. ANDREWS, Publisher, Tribune Building, New York.

AMELIASBURG ITEMS.

(From our own Correspondent.)

The social held at the parsonage, Friday evening, on the Redperville Circuit, was a grand success. The object of these socials is to raise funds for the circuit debt. The evening was spent in the usual manner, in chat and music.

A petition is in circulation to be presented to the Council for help on the new road. The Council will doubtless render aid.

A resident of one of our villages has applied for a situation on the Belleville Police Force. I guess they had FORCE enough without him.

It is a very foolish idea some of our people have of making presents to their ministers before their salaries are paid. These presents are valued highly by the recipients, but they would value their SALARIES just as highly.

THE ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Monday, Feb. 28th.

After routine yesterday Mr. Pardee asked the House to resolve to go into Committee to-day on his resolutions granting aid to certain railways. He also moved the first reading of the Sault Ste. Marie Railway Bill, and had it referred to the Railway Committee, which will consider it this morning.

Three important Government measures were considered in Committee of the Whole—the School Bill, the Licence Bill, and the Bill to protect the public interest in streams and rivers. There was a good deal of discussion on each of them, and in each some amendments were made.

PARNELL'S ADVICE TO DEVOY.

LONDON, March 1.—Parnell telegraphed to Devoy in New York as follows : "If the report that you sent a threatening letter to Sir Wm. Harcourt is true, your action is most censurable. If untrue, you should immediately cable a contradiction."

LONDON, Feb. 28.—Hearne, land agent to the brother of the late Lord Mountmorris, was fatally shot by two men at Ballinrobe.

A LETTER FROM PARNELL.

The Secretaries of the Land Leagues have received a communication from Parnell advising the League to be ready to hold representative meetings on some Sunday following the introduction of the Land Bill. Two members of the Land League are arrested at Tralee in connection with the raid of the armed band in Kerry.

LAND LEAGUE DOINGS.

CORK, Feb. 28.—Parnell's alliance with Communists has produced an un avourable impression among the Catholic clergy and laity here. The Land Leaguers are striving to counteract it. The branch league of Kanturk passed a resolution declaring Parnell justified in seeking the assistance of any party, regardless of religion. Fifty armed men visited several houses in Kerry county and compelled the farmers to swear that they will pay only Griffith's valuation, and stole forty guns and some money.

MARION, N. C., March 1.—A negro stole a dressed hog Sunday, and coming to a fence laid the hog upon the top rail balancing it until he got over. Afterward in attempting to shoulder the hog it fell on the opposite side of the fence. The gammon stick caught the negro around the neck and hanged him. Yesterday he was found dead, the hog on one side and the negro on the other side of the fence.

RALEIGH, N. C., March 1.—The most stringent bill regulating the classification and sale of liquor ever known in this State, passed the Lower House of the Legislature yesterday.

EMMITSBURG, Md., March 1.— The rebellion of graduates of a class at Mount St. Mary's College, was caused by a complaint made by Prof. Black, that they were neglectful of their duties. Students took this as a reflection on their abilities, and one of them named Malone demanded Black to take back his statement. President Hill expelled Malone and demanded an apology from the other students. They then left the College, but returned, and finally apologized.

HARRISBURG, PA., March 1.—The House of Representatives last evening passed resolutions of sympathy for Ireland.

TITUSVILLE, March 1.—During Febuary 179 wells were completed in northern oil fields, 26 in lower country, against 200 and 300 respectively in January. The production of new wells was 4,891 barrels against 5,221 in January.

PORTLAND, Oregon March 1.—The Catholic Archbishop Blanchet, in charge of the diocese comprising Oregon, Washington, Idaho, and a portion of Montana, for 43 years, resigned on account of advanced age, being 86. Archbishop Signers formerly of Victoria is his successor.

NEW YORK, March 1.—The Herald's Columbus special reports an interview with Foster in which he says Garfield has not yet definitely decided upon a Cabinet.

The Times says McMahon's charge that the President's private Secretary has been lobbying for the passage of the appropriation bill is unfounded.

The Tribune says the great amount of indispensable work to be done makes it more than probable that an extra session will be called. If the Republicans remain united in opposition to the Funding Bill for the next 24 hours, there will be no danger that it could become law this session. The general belief is that the fate of the bill is sealed.

The World says expressions favoring the retention of Secretary Sherman in his present place in the Cabinet, are heard on all sides. His prompt, effective measures to meet any attempt of National Bank Officers to precipitate a panic are mentioned with much enthusiasm, as a wise and patriotic act.

NEW YORK, March 1.—The Sun says Gould's journey is to give personal attention to matters in relation to consolidation and extension of South Western roads. They are the Iron Mountain, the Missouri Pacific, the Missouri and Texas, the Texas and Pacific, and International and great Northern.

Wallack's theatre has been sold, and will be used for a German theatre.

The War with the Boers.

FURTHER ACCOUNTS OF THE SPITZKOP DISASTER.

General Roberts to Succeed Colley.

LONDON, Feb. 28.—In the Commons this evening Mr. Childers, Secretary for War, replying to a question, said there was no further intelligence from the Transvaal. He would make a further statement to-morrow relative to the intended action of the Government. General Wood has succeeded General Colley in command and as Governor of Natal, and also, Mr. Childers believed, as High Commissioner of the Eastern Department. Mr. Asheton Cross said the Conservatives would state their intentions with regard to the new proposal to-morrow.

A despatch in the second edition of the Telegraph says that Gen. Colley was shot through the head. The loss of the 10th Foot is supposed to be light, as all the officers escaped. The other regiments suffered heavily. Commander Romilly of the Naval Brigade is said to be dead.

A Mount Prospect despatch says :—The Boers carried the British position on the Spitzkop by a rush, A correspondent was taken prisoner, but afterwards released. He says that Colley's body is on the hill. It is clear that the loss of the hill was not due to the failure of ammunition. Colley ever-estimated the strength of his position, and left its most vital part, which the Boers attacked in force, but poorly defended.

Gen. Robert will succeed Gen. Colley.

THE LATEST.

LONDON, March 1.—Gen. Roberts will have by the time he arrives in Natal 13,000 men. Detailed accounts render it certain the British were driven from Shitzkop because they were fairly beaten. The fight ended in a rout. Most moderate estimate of loss placed at 300 killed and wounded. The latter lay exposed to a heavy rain from Sunday afternoon until early Monday morning.

A correspondent of the Times gives the following account of late engagement : Shitzkop is about 800 yards from Boer position. Two companies were left at base of hill ; the remainder of troops toiled up the hill, which is very steep, on hands and knees. It was impossible to have carried up even the mountain guns. The whole force reached the summit before daylight, and about 3 o'clock began firing. The Boers were completely surprised, but promptly returned the fire. Our men had little cover. I estimate the number of Boers at the base of the hill at 2,000. Up to mid-day their loss was certainly heavier than ours. Colley was conspicuous for coolness and courage. He kept up a constant communication with the camp by signals. Shortly after noon the Boers' fire, which heretofore averaged about fifty shots a minute, increased to a terrific volley. Our men wavered, were rallied, wavered again, and ran. The Boers subsided the hill and followed them with a terrible fire as they went down the other side.

This correspondent was captured by the Boers who treated him well, and gave him a pass to return to camp. He identified the body of Colley on the field.

MAN OR MONKEY?

MONSTER DISCOVERED AT BUFFALO—A CHILD WITH A MONKEY'S FACE.

While Dr. Wetmore of Buffalo was sitting in his office last Thursday, a woman bearing a babe in her arms entered and desired to consult him about its deformity. The doctor took the infant from her arms, and was astonished to find himself looking into a monkey's face. A critical examination was made. The child was a female, a little over eleven months old; its body and limbs were those of a human being, the skull was in a normal condition, but beginning just above the eyes and extending over the head was a skin of a light brown hue, supporting a growth of coarse red-dish brown hair. The eye-brows were of a drab color, long and overhanging, normal bright blue eyes, then the face descended into a monkey's nose, the shape being perfect and showing perfectly ape-like nostrils. The upper-lip was hair-lipped and in exact conformity with the monkey nose, on each cheek was a growth of red-brown hair, that on the left side of the face being longer and ending in a curl. The mother, who is about 35 years of age, strong and healthy, said she was an immigrant from Ireland, and came to this country a few months ago. Three months prior to the birth of her child, while setting alone in her house one evening she went to the door in response to a rap, and was severely frightened by confronting some boys who had on false faces. As to the form of the mask she could not say, but was of the impression that they were those of apes. Shortly after she received another scare, on discovering that her kitchen was on fire, and the impression were upon her in her thoughts until her confinement. She thought Dr. Wetmore might perform some plastic operation and remove the abnormal developments, but he sadly told her that should he attempt such an operation it would leave the face more deformed than now. He advised her, when the child grew older to shave the face. The doctor considered the case of so much curiosity that, being dean of the faculty of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, he sent her to the institution, where the offspring was examined and commented upon by the corps of physicians and students.

MEN, WOMEN, AND SUICIDE.

Men are everywhere becoming more weary of the burden of life. Authorities on sanitary and vital statistics tell us that of late years life, the average human life, has been considerably prolonged by greater attention to the means of preserving health; yet, concurrent with this improvement, there are a greater impatience of life itself and a greater desire to escape its burden. Women are less prone to commit suicide in Europe than men, and extensive investigation on the subject has convinced Signor Morselli that the tendency to suicide increases with age more strongly among the unmarried and widowed than among the married of both sexes. Among a million of persons of each class in Europe generally, the following numbers committed suicide:—

Married men with children	205
Married men without children	470
Widowers with children	526
Widowers without children	1004
Married women with children	45
Married women without children	104
Widows with children	104
Widows without children	328

Women cling to life much more strongly than men, and that under the most wretched conditions. A childless widow would appear to be far more desolate in the world than a widower similarly situated; yet she bears her loneliness better—doubtless from religious restraints, or from possessing a larger measure of that hope which springs eternal in the human breast.—Contemporary Review.

Two young ladies were found nearly dead at Spring Valley, N. Y., yesterday morning from inhaling coal gas. Both restored.

A BAPTIST MINISTER'S EXPERIENCE

I am a Baptist Minister and before I even thought of being a clergyman graduated in medicine but left it a lucrative practice for my present profession. 40 years ago, I was for many years a sufferer from quinsy. "Thomas Eclectric Oil cured me." I was also troubled with hoarseness and Thomas Eclectric Oil always relieved me. My wife and child had Diphtheria, and "Thomas Eclectric Oil cured them" and taken in time it will cure in a few times out of ten. I am confident it is a cure for the most obstinate Cold, or Cough and if any one will take a small teaspoon and half fill it with the Oil and then place of the spoon in one nostril and draw the Oil out of the spoon into the head by sniffing it up as they can until the Oil falls over into the throat and practice that twice a week, I don't care how offensive their headmay be, it will clean it out and cure their Catarrh. For Deafness and Earache it has done wonders to my certain knowledge. It is the only medicine dubbed patent medicine that I have ever felt like recommending and I am veryanxious to see it in every place, for I tell you that I would not be without it in my house for one consideration, I am now suffering with a pain like Rheumatism in my right limb and noth relieves me like Thomas Eclectric Oil.

Dr. E. F. CRANE,

THE BEST RESULTS are pleasantly accomplished by that be nigh invigorant, antiperiodic and promotor of digestion, appetite and sleep, —Northrop & Lyman's Quinine Wine. The laboratory of the chemist never yielded a more salutary preparation, or one in which the ingredients are more completely blended. The feeble and nervous derive from it new strength; sufferers from dyspepsia and loss of appetite and that is not only enabled to digest and assimilate properly, but imparts an unwonted relish for foods. Invalids usually suffer from depression of mind. There is no better remedy for despondency, originated by ill-health, than this genial tonic. Pure Sherry and aromatic constituents of a delicious description, enhance its remedial value, and gave it an agreeable flavor. It promotes convalescence following exhausting maladies, stimulates and fertilizes the circulation, and increases the muscular power. Blemishes, trembling of the muscles, trembling of the limbs, and other manifestations of nervous weakness, are specially remedied by it. When taken during the absence of the liver, it is a remedy of sterling merit for bilious, remittent and intermittent fever. A wine-glassful three or four times a day, will usually be found an effectual preventive of the return of the paroxysms. Intelligent observation and long experience determine the efficacy of this medicine, which has met with wide recognition, and won an unrivalled reputation. No absurd pretensions are put forth in regard to it; the statements in its behalf are plain, straightforward facts, easily tested.

It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt in his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relief human suffering. Ayer's

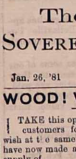
Sarsaparilla



For Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Erysipelas, Rose, or St. Anthony's Fire, Eruptions and Eruptive diseases of the skin, Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Blotches, Tumors, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers, Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa, arising from internal ulceration, and Uterine disease, Syphilitic and Mercurial diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, General Debility, and for Purifying the Blood.

This Sarsaparilla is a combination of vegetable alteratives—Stillingia, Mandrake, Yellow Dock—with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, and is the most efficacious medicine yet known for the diseases it is intended to cure.

Its ingredients are so skilfully combined, that the full alterative effect of each is secured, and while it is so mild as to be harmless even to children, it is still so effectual as to purge out from the system those impurities and corruptions which develop into loathsome diseases.

The reputation it enjoys is derived from its cures, and the confidence which prominent physicians all over the country repose in it, is the result of their experience of its usefulness.

Certificates attesting its virtues have accumulated, and are constantly being received, and as many of these cases are publicly known, they furnish convincing evidence of the superiority of this Sarsaparilla over every other alterative medicine. So generally is its superiority to any other medicine known, that we need do no more than to assure the public that the best quality it has ever possessed are strictly maintained.

COURTSHIP OF GREAT MEN.

Mr. Goss Gees into the History of Love-making, and Makes Deductions.

The Rev. C. C. Goss lectured in Utah Hall on "The Moral Aspect of Courtship as Illustrated in Distinguished Men of Modern Times." He said: "Sir Isaac Newton is said only to have loved once. This may be true, but I hardly believe it. A man can love a dozen times and not reveal it. The great Newton was a very eccentric lover. He was in the habit of sitting silently in the presence of his sweetheart for many hours. He was very absent-minded, and it is said the estrangement between him and the lady was caused by his unconscious use of her finger once as a pipe stopper. Young girls had better never marry philosophers if they yearn for the caresses of affection.

The speaker next referred to Daniel O'Connell's courtship. He was a sharp, decisive, matter of fact man, with very little sentiment in his make-up. Meeting a lady who attracted his attention he asked her if she had an engagement. She replied that she had not. He proposed, and they were speedily married. Ordinary minds have no business to follow the example of Daniel O'Connell. This kind of marriage is only fit for a genius.

"The courting period really begins," he said, "when we begin to study each others' dispositions. Courtship should be honest and sincere, not formal. It should not be too long. Dr. John Brown courted seven years without kissing the object of his affections. After this period he asked her if he might kiss her. She acquiesced, but instead of indulging in the luxury he said, 'let us pray.' A kiss under such circumstances is no kiss at all. My experience is that a stolen kiss is the best. I believe praying should be more practised in connection with courtship all along the line, but this was not a time for praying. He might have taken the kiss and prayed afterward. John Brown's courtship was too cruel and formal.

The lecturer then took up John Wesley's wedded life. He said he was badly matched, and his wife humiliated him on all occasions before his friends. "But if John Wesley had married an amiable and domestic woman Methodism might not have existed." Mr. Goss next described the courtship of Daniel Webster and Miss Grace Fletcher. When Daniel called upon her she continued the duties in which she was engaged. So do the girls of the present time, but the duties they are generally engaged in is waiting for him. Webster's was a courtship of simplicity and honesty, and worthy of every young man's and woman's emulation.—N. Y. Sun.

WHISKEY THE RUIN OF BRUIN.

A party of prospectors camped one night recently in the Sierra Nevada, El Dorado county, Cal. The ground was covered with snow, and when about midnight, a grizzly bear approached, the crunching of his feet aroused the whole camp. The bear trotted boldly up to within a few feet of the fire and seized the nearest thing that could be reached—a bag containing a few sacks of flour and sugar, and a demijohn of the hottest whiskey manufactured on the Pacific coast. The prospectors fired several shots at the grizzly, which caused him to shake the bag and scamper off. Relieved of the unwelcome visitor's presence, the party dropped off to sleep again, to be aroused about dawn by loud long roars in the neighboring glen. The men approached the ravine cautiously, and were delighted to see the grizzly uproariously drunk, rolling and tumbling. The bear had broken the demijohn and lapped up the whiskey with an appreciative tongue. His antics were very funny, and they were keeping until long after sunrise. He tried hard to climb up the side of the ravine, and made ferocious dashes at the men, but every time he rolled down. At last the spectators got tired and moved on. Another death from whiskey is added to the long list.

—Information has been received at Halifax from England to the effect that the vote for the maintenance of the garrison for the ensuing year is only half what it formerly was. This indicates that the strength of the garrison will be materially reduced. It is probable the 101st Regiment will be remove, and that other reductions will be made.

"She is pretty and talented," said senator Shaddbury, after listening to a recital by Miss Phœbe Cousins, the St. Louis lawyer, at Deaver, Del., the other night; "but she had better be taking care of some good man's house, adorning woman's proper sphere as a wife and mother." The senator is a bachelor, and it of course occurred to a friend to say: "Take her then, senator," but he shook his head, smiled and walked off.

A BAPTIST MINISTER'S EXPERIENCE

I am a Baptist Minister and before I even thought of being a clergyman graduated in medicine but left a lucrative practice for my present profession. 40 years ago, I was for many years a severe sufferer from piles. "Dr. Eclectric Oil cured me," I was also troubled with hoarseness and Thomas Eclectric Oil always relieved me. My wife and child had Diphtheria and "Thomas Eclectric Oil cured them" and if taken in time it will cure seven times out of ten. I am confident it is a cure for the most obstinate Cold, or Cough and if any one will take a small teaspoon, and half fill it with the Oil and then place of the spoon in one nostril and draw the Oil out of the spoon into the head by sniffing as hard as they can until the Oil falls over into the throat and practice that twice a week, I don't care how offensive their headmay be, it will clean it out and cure their Catarah. For Deafness and Earache it has done wonders to my certain knowledge. In the only needle one dubbed patent medicine that I have ever felt like recommending and I am veryanxious to see it in every place, for I tell you that it would not be without it in my house for any consideration, I am now suffering with a pain like Rheumatism in my right limb and pain relieves me like Thomas Eclectric Oil.
Dr. E. F. CRANE,

TO THE PUBLIC!

Hopkins' great Single Cylinder, Double Acting, non-Freezing Force Pump. Patented Jan. 31st, 1881.

I have had nearly twenty years experience in handling nearly all kinds of pumps, and I claim to know as much about this principle as any working operation of pumps as the most of men. And I affirm that I have the only reliable pump, and the only one of single cylinder, double-acting freezing porcelained force pump on a true mechanical principle now before the public. My close attention, observation and experience in pumps has enabled me to construct a perfect and cover it in such a way (by patent dated Jan. 31st, A. D., 1881, for fifteen years) that they are not to be affected around or over it. Therefore, I can positively assure all persons who may get an interest in this excellent invention that they will not be interrupted during the prosperity during the life time of the patent.

I am now in a position for successful operation with my invention, and to give industrious, enterprising persons a good chance to make money by handling the same, for it is conceded by all most since and manufacturers who have examined my pump that it will unquestionably take the place of all other pumps in the market, and hence the best, most safe and sure investment as a profitable speculation presented in my invention. For further assurance that my invention is all that I claim for it, the people will please call on persons in the City of Belleville who have the pumps in use, and at our shop in O'Brien's Hotel Building, and oblige

BRONCHITIS.

From John Flagg, Esq., of Bennington, N. H.
"Three years since I was very much troubled with a dreadful cough, which resulted in bronchitis, effecting me so severely as to render it difficult to speak in an audible voice. To this was added severe night sweats, and I was fearful of going into a decline. After resorting to various remedies, to no purpose, I made use of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, a few bottles of which fully restored me to health. Since that time I have had several severe attacks of cough, but the Balsam has always relieved me. I always keep it by me, and should not know how to do without it.

JERSEY BUTTER.

Jersey butter is all the fashion, and it has become so, mainly because the makers have kept up a uniform color through the year, using artificial color when necessary. Dairymen who wish to be in the fashion must see to it that their butter Color is made by Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt. DIARY Assoc. says: "It gives the brightest and most perpetual color to butter of any substance I have ever used. I know it to be, as you say, as harmless as salt, and it adds several cents per pound to the value of butter."

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

Those engaged in the cattle export business are confident that the coming season will prove a lucrative one, and that the trade will greatly increase in bulk.

The little anti-tax rebellion in Lowe township on the Gatineau is over. The majesty of the law has triumphed without resort to physical or military force. It appears there was a misunderstanding of some kind that partially justified the refusal to pay taxes by some of the farmers.

For some time past counterfeit 25 cent pieces have been found in circulation, principally in the western part of the Province. The discovery of a gang of counterfeiters at Listowell, and the arrest of some of the party on Sunday explains the source of supply. It is supposed that about $2,000 of the coin has been issued during the past three months.

The Ontario Government has acceded to the demands of the municipalities and brought down the resolutions providing for the granting of aid out of the Provincial Treasury, (1) to the partially constructed roads of Western Ontario, and (2) to the proposed line from Gravenhurst to the Sault Ste Marie. This does not indicate any assistance for local lines, nor for any other lines in this section.

Mr. Sowell, who has had his name connected with projects for the winter navigation of the St. Lawrence, is now putting his scheme in practical shape. He offers to enter into an agreement with the Dominion Government to undertake the establishment of a weekly line of ocean steamers, to ply uninterruptedly during winter and summer seasons between the ports of Quebec and Liverpool, making the former a winter port. Other considerations are mentioned.

WHAT FIREMEN CAN DO.

Here is something from the New York Sun that will doubtless be interesting to our firemen, who take much pride in the efficiency and promptness of their movements when danger threatens. A number of tests were lately made in New York and the Sun says that from the clang of the bell until the driver shouted "ready," the time was from 2½ to 4½ seconds. At one station ten tests were made, timed with a stop watch registering an eighth of a second, and this is what the reporter says of the result:—

"The harness, already attached to the engine, was suspended by a system of pulleys over the places where the horses were to stand. The collars were hinged at the top, but were open at the bottom, and they hung like a pair of open scissors. When the horse's neck is beneath this collar it is only necessary to let it drop and close it around his neck, when it clasps automatically. With the same movement the reins are escaped in the bit, which the horse always has in his mouth, and as the whole harness falls upon the animal at the clasp of the collar he stands completely harnessed. The captain approached the gong. The firemen were all on the floor. The horses were on the alert. "Clang!" The watch was started; the horses, whose halters were unhitched by the same current of electricity that rang the bell, leaped forward, and stood like rocks under the harness, with their necks held up ready for the collars, which two firemen sprang forward and seized. There was a quick click, click, the driver vaulted into his seat, seized the reins, and shouted "Ready!" The watch was stopped. The horses were examined, and found to be perfectly harnessed and ready to start. The captain asked the reporter: "How much?" "One second and five eights." "If I'd said that I'd been called a liar," said the captain. The horses were released. They ran back again to their stalls and were haltered. There was another trial, and the team was hitched and harnessed in one and one-half seconds. This made the captain smile. The time occupied by each of the other eight trials was expressed in seconds, as follows: 2, 2, 2, 1¾, 2, 1¾, 1¾ and 1¾.

Every company in New York has two men near the pole of the engine all night long. The instant the gong sounds the horses are loosened and they jump forward; the firemen are there and they clasp the harness while the driver is running down the stairs. The great object is to get to the fire as soon as possible, for in fighting it in a dry goods district the gain of a few seconds may mean the saving of a million dollars. Could not the Belleville fire department learn some useful lessons from a study of the way they do things in New York?

BLUNDERING AGAIN.

The Ottawa Free Press essays a reply to the criticisms of its article on the Murray Canal, but confines its remarks this time to the political view of the question. This is better for the reputation of the organ, as it displayed a wonderful knowledge of the geographical situation of this section when attempting to locate places and define distances. It will be seen, however, from the following that experience has not taught it much wisdom, and that, in order to make the most of a bad job, it blunders again. The Free Press says:—

"It is quite possible that all the advantages claimed for the Canal may accrue from its construction, but we are quite satisfied the Minister of Public Works has no notion of carrying last general election is quite sufficient proof of that. Should East Northumberland return a Liberal to the House of Commons, we will hear no more of the Murray Canal from either the Ministry or its now enthusiastic advocates. Even should the game succeed the probabilities are in the same direction, though not so strong perhaps. If the work is so important as the organs pretend, how is it they did not discover its importance and its urgency until it was needed as a cry to carry a county? The thing is transparent, and we will be greatly mistaken should it have the effect of misleading the electors of East Northumberland."

We will not assume that the Free Press is entirely ignorant of the history of the Murray Canal agitation, as it is too well informed on public matters generally to rest under such an imputation. The only conclusion possible, therefore, is that the organ wilfully misrepresents the facts in order to let itself down as easily as possible. The editor must be aware that for several years the construction of this canal has been a live local issue, and that scarcely a month has passed without some reference being made to it by the local press. The Globe, some time ago, dispatched a special correspondent to the locality, and published a full and accurate report of the isthmus, harbors, probable cost of construction, and objects to be served by the canal. All this could not have escaped the attention of our contemporary. The Murray Canal is an actual necessity in the interest of Lake Ontario navigation, not to mention the claims of Belleville and other Bay of Quinte ports for a more direct and safer outlet to the American and western markets.

It is not improbable that the item in the estimates has some reference to the vacancy in East Northumberland, but if so it can serve no party purpose. The electors of that riding cannot be influenced by such a bait, more especially as they are fully aware that the Reform party has always recognized the importance of such a work. We trust the deputation from this city, lately in Ottawa, will exact from the Government an expression of opinion that will set all doubts at rest, one way or the other.

DIED OF SORROW.—A case of death from grief was spoken of by Rev. Dr. Lucas, in the East End Methodist Church, Montreal, on Sunday. F. J. Backler dearly loved his mother, and was so deeply affected by her death, which occurred recently, that he died of sorrow at Hampton on the 26th ult. His body arrived in town Saturday and will be laid in the same grave as that of his mother.

SERVED HIM RIGHT.—The jury in a Chicago lawsuit, on their way back to the court with a verdict of $600 for the plaintiff, passed close by the plaintiff's chair. He stopped one of them, asked what the decision was, and received the information which he could have gained in the regular way by waiting a few minutes. The judge reprimanded him and the juror, and set aside the verdict.

GENEROUS CITIZENS.—The people of Buffalo, feeling deeply the loss of the Palace Hotel, are discussing a scheme to raise $100,000 to assist Dr. Pierce in rebuilding. One thousand subscriptions of $100 apiece are proposed, and Dr. Pierce is to issue to each subscriber Turkish bath tickets entitling holders to the full advantages that the amount would have purchased before.

THANK YOU.—It is very bad taste for a preacher to take personal public notice of something peculiar or even wrong about some one in the congregation. A New York clergyman undertook to rebuke a man who did not arrive before the sermon had began, by pausing in the thread of his discourse to remark: "Glad to see you, sir; come in, always glad to see those here late who can't come early." A bashful man thus addressed would have felt like sinking through the floor, if the floor had afforded an opening, but this hard-cheeked intruder didn't feel that way at all. On the contrary, he made half the congregation laugh by saying, "Thank you; would you favor me with the text!"

PARLIAMENTARY NOTES.

It is Mr. Lane's intention to move for an investigation into the loss of the steamers Waubuno and Seymour, in Georgian Bay within the last two years.

The deputation in regard to the iron industry had an interview with the Premier at 5 o'clock Tuesday evening, and will ask that an increased duty be put on pig iron. The members of the deputation consider that $8.50 a ton would be the means of having smelting works and blasting furnaces established in Canada.

Sir Leonard Tilley will introduce a resolution extending the present bank charters to July 1st, 1891, and also to amend the act respecting certain savings banks, so as to enable them to fix a less rate of interest on deposits than four per cent.

Mr. Casey will introduce a motion shortly to make candidates for Civil Service positions pass a competitive examination. The Civil Service Commission has not been heard from for some time. It is presumed that they are still busy preparing an interim report.

There is comfort in store for persons troubled with lame back, rheumatic pains, cerns or bunions, who consult Holloway's Corn Cure at Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil followed up systematically until relief is obtained.

Jas. Shannon, Lonsdale, writes:—"For many years my wife was troubled with cramp pains, and could get no relief until about two years ago; she was then not able to walk, and sleep at night. Your agent was then on his regular trip, and she asked him if he could cure her. He told her Dr. Tomas' Eclectric Oil was a sure cure. She tried it, and judge of her astonishment when in a few days the pain was all allayed and the foot restored to its natural condition. It is also the best remedy for burns and bruises I ever used."

THE WHEAT PROTECTION HUMBUG.

The way Canadian farmers are protected by the tariff has been pretty effectually exposed by a writer signing himself "X" in the Peterboro' Review and Examiner. In his eagerness to make out a case for his masters the Review endeavoured to show that the duty on grain was a great benefit to the Canadian farmers. It was this argument which called forth the letters from "X", who is described as one of the most prominent Conservatives in Peterborough county, and who is known to be Mr. W. H. Gluxton who formerly represented Peterborough in the House of Commons. In these letters it is affirmed that the regulations regarding the importation and grinding of American wheat nullify the duty, and it is added that "the whole thing from the passing of the Act has been a delusion and a snare. The working of the system has had the effect of throwing the milling business into the hands of half a dozen large mills on the Lachine and Welland Canals, and of making the hundreds of other mills in the county almost valueless. So sure is Mr. Gluxton of this state of the business that he says he would not accept as a present the best mill in Peterborough if he be bound to run it to its full capacity for one year. Referring to the price of wheat in the States and Canada, he lets us into a secret which completely upsets the theory that the tariff benefits the farmers. Mr. Gluxton writes:

I have a lot of wheat lying at Millbrook and Bethany since last fall, and I have not succeeded in selling a single car load to a local miller, and this notwithstanding there is very little spring wheat in the country, owing to the partial failure of the crop last year. And why can it not be sold? Simply because the large mills referred to are running on hard Minnesota wheat, which makes a strong flour, and upon this wheat no duty is paid. If you will try and sell 10,000 bushels of wheat which I can supply, and when you have obtained a bid for it add the freight and charges for an equal quantity of the same quality of wheat delivered from Chicago, you will probably see where the duty is. Since the Order-in-Council passed last month, American wheat has been brought into Peterboro and ground for consumption. Has this wheat paid duty, and if not, why not? Last winter I sold large quantities of wheat for exportation, but at that time, notwithstanding the new policy, no one pretended to say that American wheat paid duty. Last spring, after a hard battle, and after we succeeded in getting an Order-in-Council, rectifying, as we supposed, the defect in the Act, I was simple enough to suppose that the duty on wheat ground for consumption would be collected, and I purchased largely and went to Montreal to sell, but I soon found that 'I was barking up the wrong tree,' and failing to effect sales there, I had to ship to Chicago and compare with American wheat in that market, and I paid dearly for my faith in the sincerity of Orderen-Council. In connection, for the present, I have no hesitation in saying that the alleged duty on wheat imported into the country has been throughout misleading, and has done more harm than good to the trade.

Here we have statements which bear internal evidence of their correctness, and which agree entirely with reports received from other quarters as to the way the Government has connived with the large milling establishments to defeat the ostensible object of their own policy of protection to farmers. A more dishonest sham could hardly be perpetrated. First, we have the imposition of a duty on American wheat, to cajole the Ontario farmers; next, we have a series of customs regulations by which the millers are enabled to import all the wheat they want for making flour for export and home consumption; then we have the people of the Maritime Province paying a premium on this flour made by our large millers from American wheat on the false pretence of helping the Ontario farmers; while as a quid pro quo a duty of sixty cents per ton on coal is exacted from the people of the Upper Provinces on the equally false pretence of helping the miners of Nova Scotia. It is simply a case of stealing all round to benefit a few concerns endowed either through the dishonesty or stupidity of the Government with a monopoly. In every way the Ontario farmer is victimized, but the hypocritical manner with which the Government renders the tariff not only nugatory, but positively injurious to the farmers, is well exposed in the foregoing quotation. Here we see how Canadian wheat is made unsaleable through the competition of the Minnesota grain, the local market destroyed and the product of Ontario farms thrown upon the hands of those who cannot but be losers, and as a natural result reflect their misfortune on the cultivators of the soil. This is certainly a lovely illustration of the wisdom and patriotism of the framers of the tariff for the protection of farmers.—Ottawa Free Press.

LOOKING FOR HER HUSBAND

Mrs. Hanlan's Unsuccessful Cruise in New York Bay.

The "City of Chester" with Hanlan on board arrived in New York on Sunday, but so dense was the fog she could not come up. The New York Sun thus describes the search for the champion:

Early in the day the Atlanta boat club chartered a tug-boat, and with all its members aboard started down to meet Hanlan on board the vessel. Whether they reached the steamship or not was an open question last night, as nothing could be learned of their movements, and it was supposed that they were still cruising around the bay in search of the cloud-enveloped craft.

Mrs. Hanlan the wife of the sturdy oarsman, is stopping at the Gilsey house. She was extremely anxious about her husband yesterday. She drove to the Inman line pier in the forenoon, and, after waiting there some hours, telegraphed to the Quarantine on Staten Island, and procured a telegraphic permit allowing Hanlan to leave the steamer at any time.

Then, accompanied by a gentleman friend and the head porter of the Gilsey house, she too chartered a tug and went in search of her husband. After steaming all around the bay without finding the steamship, so dense was the fog, they were obliged to return to the city. Mrs. Hanlan gave up all hope of her husband's arrival after ten o'clock, and retired for the night.

—Gladstone sleeps for an hour or two before going down to the Commons.

—Mr. Gladstone is said to have aged at least four years in the past four weeks.

—Bishop Bond, of Montreal, is ill from rheumatic gout, and is confined to his home.

—John Bright says Wendell Phillips is the greatest orator who speaks the English language.

—Senator Penny's health is slowly improving and with the return of fine weather he will be able to leave his house.

—Carlyle bequeathed his Dumfriesshire estate to the University of Edinburgh to found an endowment for indigent students in the faculty of arts.

—Dr. Wild's sermon Monday night was not on Tennyson's morman bold, nor the mermaid fair, nor yet of the sad-eyed serpent gazing into her cave and dying for love of her.

—Mr. Mackenzie is evidently much better in health. His voice, when addressing the House, is resuming its familiar tone and ring, and is considerably stronger than it was a week ago.

—Mr. Charles A Woodhull, of Strathroy, died on Sunday morning at the age of 62. His father settled at Kilworth, on the Thames, in 1796, and the gentleman now deceased spent all his life in the vicinity of his birthplace. He leaves a widow, four children and numerous other relatives.

—Mrs. Speight, Matron of the Blind Institute, Brantford, and formerly connected with the Deaf and Dumb Institute here, was one of the witnesses examined in the investigation on Monday. She testified to the bad treatment received from Mr. Hunter, the Principal, and said that, owing to this unpleasantness, she intended to offer her resignation, to take effect in March.

—Henry W. Longfellow, the greatest of American poets, and one of the greatest of living poets, was 74 years old last Sunday. Lyman Abbott, so well known for his command of good English. It is a work every admirer of the great and good man will delight to read and preserve.

THE FATAL PARIS GREEN.

Death of a Woman in Carleton County through a Mistake.

OTTAWA, Feb. 28.—A sad case of death by accidently poisoning occurred on the Richmond road to-day, a short distance from the city. It appears that Mrs. James Jacques had been suffering for some time from a bilious headache, which became more violent on Friday night. About two o'clock in the morning she got up and went to the pantry, where there had been some semna in a paper package, for the purpose of taking some in order to alleviate her pain. At the time the fire was burning briskly, and with the light of the moon, which was shining brightly at the time, afforded sufficient light without the aid of a lamp. By mistake she took a package containing some Paris green, which had been placed in the upper shelf of the pantry by her husband unknown to his wife, and poured about half the contents into a cup of warm water, and after steaming it some time drank the whole down in two draughts. Immediately afterwards, noticing some peculiar taste about it she informed her husband, who, on getting up, discovered too late the terrible mistake she had made, and immediately administered mustard and salt, which had the effect of making her vomit violently for hours, until hardly anything was left in her stomach. Dr. Wright was called in on Sunday and stated that he could not have done more than had he been done for the relief of the patient had been present at the moment. Notwithstanding the efforts of Dr. Wright, she expired to-day. It is likely that an inquest will be held.

AMELIASBURG ITEMS.

(From our own Correspondent.)

A very pleasant time was spent at the residence of the Rev. Mr. Scales, in the form of a social, on Friday evening last.

The people of Eatonville intend having something in the form of a lecture and social on Friday evening next, when Profs. Brown and Green, of the Deaf and Dumb Institute, are to be present. They anticipate a good time.

Mr. W. W. Brickman has moved to Redhersville from Green Point. He has bought the farm of the late Elijah Brickman.

We have been informed that Mr. Wm. Rose started for Toronto on Monday last to have his arm amputated, from which the poor man has suffered for the past year. He no doubt has the sympathy of all his friends and acquaintances.

FOR AND ABOUT WOMEN.

Women love always; when earth slips from them they take refuge in heaven.

There is no torture that a woman would not suffer to enchance her beauty.

Of all things that man possesses, women alone take pleasure in being possessed.

Before promising a woman to love only her, one should have seen them all or should see only her.

We meet in society many beautiful and attractive women whom we think would make excellent wives—for our friends.

We consure the inconstancy of women when we are victims; we find it charming when we are the objects.

Woman among savages is a beast of burden; in Asia she is a piece of furniture; in Europe she is a spoiled child.

The highest mark of esteem a woman can give a man is to ask his friendship; and the most signal proof of her indifference is to offer him hers.

FIXED PRICES.

BESIDES the advantage of Low Prices offered to customers through our system of trading wholly upon a Cash basis, there is this also that is worthy the attention of the pub namely, FIXED PRICES. We take it to be the only just and right way of doing business to mark goods at the lowest price we can afford to sell them at and not ask more.

Though we are aware that a large number of people are taken by a practice in many stores of throwing something off the price asked, or professing to give something in goods, with a purchase, yet we have no hesitation in saying that the practice is a dishonest one and that little reliance is to be placed on store which do this.

Where a second price is made, more than the just value is always asked, and the customers, after being put to the annoyance of haggling about the price, are ashamed, often, a very considerable one, and finds after all he has invariably paid more for his goods than we would have asked him in the first place.

Permanently established at the

BELLEVILLE,

For the cure of all the various diseases of the Head, Throat and Chest, including the Eye, Ear and Heart.

But a few weeks or months are required to cure the most obstinate cases of Catarrh, Throat diseases, Asthma, Bronchitis, and the earlier stages of Consumption, when the treatment is conducted under the Doctor's own personal supervision. A word to the wise is therefore sufficient.

All diseases of the respiratory organs treated by medical inhalations.

Inhalations remove expectoration by dissolving the hardened matter existing in the air cells of the lungs, thus enabling the patient to expectorate it with ease, at the same time giving the diseased surface an opportunity to heal.

Inhalations soothe inflammation and soothe the inflamed surface, thus relieving a harassing cough almost immediately.

Inhalations absorb the fetid gases and unhealthy excrescences that exist upon the pharyngeal surface in cases of granulated throat, and restore the proper vitality of the parts, thus relieving the dryness of the throat and the sensation as if needles were penetrating the mucous membranes of the pharynx.

Inhalations will cure the most obstinate cases of catarrh when combined with proper constitutional and other topical treatment.

In fact, Inhalations will cure thousands of cases of the breathing organs when all other means have failed.

Let there be no delay, then, in application to the treatment that has stood the test and proved again and again the only hope—the only reliable safeguard and means of restoration.

Consultation free and prices within the reach of all.

The very best of references given from all parts of Canada from those already cured. Remedies sent to any part of Ontario.

A MAGNANIMOUS ACT.—About a year since Mr. N. B. Falkner promised alot to John McCarthy, the old and favorite driver of Messrs. Lake & Jenkins, if he would quit drinking and keep sober for one year. This John agreed to do, and immediately joined the Workingman's Temperance Association, since which time he has remained true to his promise, not having touched, tasted, nor handled the intoxicating cup to the wonder and astonishment of all who knew him. Yesterday Mr. Falkner announced to John his intention of carrying out his part of the agreement by presenting him with a life lease of a comfortable house and lot on Murney's Hill, in which the latter can spend his days in comfort. This action on the part of Mr. Falkner is worthy of the highest commendation, and will, probably, do more for the cause of temperance than a dozen lectures.

A TRIO OF RUNAWAYS.—Last night about 10 o'clock a team of horses owned and driven by Jacob Jones, the Ploughboy, ran away just after crossing the lower bridge, the driver being, as usual, under the influence of liquor. On Murney's Hill they encountered a cariole driven by Mr. J. P. Thomas, who was coming down to the City Hall after Mrs. Thomas, and tearing away the back part of Mr. T.'s vehicle, dumped that gentleman in the snow, when his horse ran away, stopping at Lake & Jenkins' livery stable, where he is kept. The Ploughboy's team continued on their mad career, and some distance further up the road ran into another cutter, in which was seated a young fellow with his girl. This cutter also was turned over, and the occupants of it left floundering in the snow, while their horse made away, and stopped at his stable, very little damage being done. The Ploughboy's cutter came to grief soon after, and it, with driver, robes, &c., were left on the road. Mr. Thomas, who had taken ever precaution to get out of the way of the runaway team, will hold the Ploughboy responsible, and with this object in view has secured the cutter and robes of Jones, who will learn, one of these days, that it don't pay to get drunk.

SHROVE TUESDAY.—This important date in the calendar of the Roman Catholic Church closed at 12 last night. Of course the good wife baked her batch of pancakes, and the whole company present had a hand in stirring the batter, if possible. She baked them carefully, turning them deftly and browning them skilfully. But before doing so, and on the sly, she concealed in one a ring, in another a button, in another a coin, and in a fourth—oh, wretched pancake ! rag. She served them up steaming. Whoever gets the ring will be married first ; it never failed yet, and the boys and girls know it. Each cake was taken from the plate with as much trepidation as if they were drawing a lottery ticket for millions. The pancake with the coin in it brought wealth to the eater ; he or she who found the button will live and die unmarried ; and the unlucky one who found the rag stuck in his teeth will end his days in poverty. We know this morning what laughing, giggling, tittering, joking, chaff was indulged in. How the girls screamed if some noted woman later unearthed thering, and how the maiden blushed if she found it herself. What basketfuls of good natured chaff were dumped on the head of him or her who discovered the button. How the hat was passed round for coppers to make up a purse for the owner of the rag. These are some of the events that make Shrove Tuesday a memorable day to many.

INSPECTION SOLICITED.—We have to-day received our Scotch and Irish Suitings for Spring and Summer wear, and claim they are the finest assortment that will be shown in the city this season.

JAMES HENNESSY, Tailor.

D. & D. INSTITUTE.—The Ontario Supplementary Estimates contain $500 for disks, maps, charts and general lessons for use in the Deaf and Dumb Institute.

A FINE PICTURE.—Mr. J. H. Ford has just completed a very fine life-size picture of the late Dr. Newton. The picture was made from a small card photo and reflects great credit on the artist. It is on exhibition in the show window of Mr. Ford, along with others equally as good.

AT OTTAWA.—The deputation from Trenton, Brighton, and Belleville arrived at Ottawa yesterday afternoon and had an interview with Hon J H Pope in relation to an increased subsidy to the Murray Canal. The Minister promised to lay the matter before his colleagues. The Government grant is placed at $25,000, which the deputation want increased to $100,000. The Belleville deputation will oppose the Quebec & Ontario Railway using the Grand Junction Railway.

EAST NORTHUMBERLD.—In the Commons yesterday Mr Blake moved that the writ be issued for an election in East Northumberland. The motion fell like a thunderbolt among the Ministerialists, notwithstanding the seat had been vacant for several weeks. Mr. Kirpatrick unwittingly exposed the Government's dread of this contest, by raising a point of order to kill the motion. A discussion followed, in which Mr. Kirpatrick was worsted. The motion was put and carried.

ASH WEDNESDAY.—To-day was Ash Wednesday or the first day of Lent proper. This feast is of very ancient origin, tradition giving many interesting records of its observance and the ceremonies practiced on this day by the people of the early church. In the Roman Catholic Church it is one for public penance and humiliation, so called from the ceremony of blessing ashes, wherewith the priest signs the people with a cross, saying, 'Remember man, thou art but dust, and unto dust thou shalt return." (Genesis III, 9.) This custom was introduced by Gregory the Great (590-604), was sanctioned by Pope Celestime III in 1191 and afterwards generally prevailed.

THE FIZZONE CASE.—The enquiry into the cause of the accident to Sergt. Fizzone, at the rifle ranges last October, which was to have been held last week, will be held at the Dafoe House to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock. The Court will consist of Lt.-Col. Von Straubenzie, Lt.-Col. Villiers, and Brigade Major Worsley. The enquiry is held in consequence of the application made to the Government by Mr. S. Wallbridge for FIZZONE for compensation. Fizzone is an old soldier, was in no way to blame, and is permanently injured. It is a wonder he lives, as the bullet passed through the lung, and he should receive a pension. A regular order is issued commanding all officers and men knowing the facts to attend and give evidence.

HOW IT HAPPENED.—Two hearts are crushed beneath the iron heel of cruel fate and two young lives have gone under a cloud portentios of future misery. It happened thusly: She lives in Frankford, is young and fair, and was wooed and won by a comely lad whom we will call P. D., and who studied the multiplication table in School Section No. 6, Ameliasburgh, ere his mousach sprouted and he went courting. They were engaged, the day appointed for the nuptial ceremony, and wedding garments chosen. He decided to lead the charming Miss L—— to the bridal altar attired in a new suit of Red Duck His mother cut, suited and sewed the garments with skill and care, but she was ignorant of the service they were to be put to. The sight of his wedding suit made our hero so happy he could keep the secret no longer, and so ventured a hint that the maternal mind was not slow in interpreting. His cake was all dough at once. The mother had not quite surrendered the reins of authority, and she was unconditionally opposed to the match. She stormed the castle and threatened to thrash the would-be benedict until the Red Duck suit fell from his back. He knew she meant all she said, and so promised to obey his mamma. A letter, short and sorrowful, was despatched to the expectant bride, informing her that circumstances over which he had no control prevented his fulfilling the contract, and relieving her from the engagement. She wept bucketfuls of briny tears, and he pouted and sighed for days. The Duck suit is hanging on the wall of his room and he refuses to wear it. It was over thus. The course of true love never did run smooth.

GOOD OIL.—A. L. Goon has just received another consignment of that extra superior American Oil, which he sells at 35c. All who wish a brilliant light and clear chimneys will do well to try it. He also sells an extra good test of Canadian Oil at 30c per gallon.

INCENTIVES FOR INCREASING POPULATION.—Sir Leonard Tilley having clearly shown by his carefully prepared Budget statement that Canada is more prosperous under a protective duty, and that the N P. has been a great boon to our manufacturers it is a little strange that the framers of this great policy should neglect the fountain head of all nations' wealth, and keep a tax on the free list. N. Davenport, Hatter and Furrier, being convinced that the party now in power will never give this great struggling industry the attention it deserves, will give prizes to every Baby born in the Counties of Hastings and Prince Edward during next December (1881), as follows :—

For every Girl Baby—1 handsome Fur Hood.
For every Boy Baby—One Fur Turban.
For every Pair of Twins—Two Silver Cups.
For Triplets—One twenty dollar gold piece.

A physician's certificate is expected with every application for a prize, and it is to be hoped that Babies will not be imported into Hastings and Prince Edward from Adjington, Lennox and Northumberland Counties. Please remember while waiting for the "Little Ones" that N. Davenport has the largest and finest stock of Hats and Caps in Central Canada.

—The new Allan steamer Parisian has made a successful trial trip. Her first departure from Halifax is fixed for April 2. The new Cunarder Servia, 8,400 tons, was successfully launched on the Clyde yesterday.

SERIOUS RUNAWAY.—This afternoon a horse belonging to Mr. S. P. Knight, of Sidney, ran away from in front of the Merchants' Bank, taking fright at a train on the Grand Junction. In front of the market one of his hoofs caught between the planks and rail, and was badly broken. Notwithstanding this he ran as far as the Kingston road, where he was stopped. The horse, which was a valuable one, had to be killed, and the cutter was badly broken.

ST. ANDREWS CHURCH SOIREE.

The ladies of St. Andrews Church held their annual soiree in the City Hall last night. We are glad to say that it was as it deserved to be, eminently successful in every respect. After full justice had been done to the elaborate supper provided Mr. N. D. McArthur, a member of the Kirk Session was called to the chair, and a most enjoyable and varied programme was well carried out. There was an anthem by the choir, songs by Mrs. J. P. Thomas and Miss Ockerman, and Messrs. O'Hagan, Edgar, and Spangenberg. There were also readings by Messrs. Thos. Duncan, Lewis and Carmichael, together with a spirited address by Rev. D. Mitchell, pastor of the sister congregation of John Street Church. A notable feature in the proceeding was the exhibition in sign language of the emotions of hope, fear, disappointment, courage, cowardice, Christ stilling the tempest, &c., vividly portrayed by Professor Cowan, of the Deaf and Dumb Institute, his brother Professor, Mr. Watson, kindly acting as interpreter. One of the pleasantest evenings of the season was closed by the whole company singing "God save the Queen."

LEGAL MATTERS.

QUEEN ex rel LEE v. GILMOUR.

We find this in the Mail's legal news of Tuesday :—Foster moved absolute a summons in the nature of a quo warranto to test the validity of the election of defendant as Reeve for the town of Trenton, on the ground of bribery, and also, that through his business connections with the corporation he was unqualified to act. By consent it was arranged that the question raised as to bribery should stand over. It appears that the corporation of Trenton passed a by-law to exempt from taxation for a period of ten years any new mill or manufactory which defendant might build within the municipality. A mill was built by Gilmour, and according to the by-law has been exempted from taxation, and it is contended that he is disqualified under sec. 74 of the Municipal Act, which is to the effect, that any one deriving or having any interest in a corporation shall be disqualified to act as councillor. W. Cassells and Holman showed cause, and contended that the agreement with the corporation as to exemption from taxation was not a contract within the meaning of the Act, and in any event it had been fully complied with on the part of Gilmour, and that his right had been absolute to the exemption, prior to his nomination. Judgment reserved.

LATER—GILMOUR UNSEATED.

The following is the judgment:—Summons made absolute to unseat defendant, his Lordship holding that the by-law constituted a contract, and he was therefore disqualified for the position of reeve ; relator to have his costs. This was a summons in the nature of a quo warranto to test the validity of the election of defendant as reeve for the town of Trenton. In support of the summons it was contended that defendant had entered into a contract with the corporation, by the terms of which his mill was to be exempted from taxation for ten years, and sec. 74 of the Municipal Act provides that anyone who derives any interest from a corporation is disqualified to act as a member of it. His Lordship held this a good objection, and therefore made the order unseating defendant. Foster for summons ; Holman contra.

re HUGH BLAIR.

Mr. T. Langton, for James Woods, moved to strike the respondent, a solicitor of the Court, off the rolls, on the ground of an alleged abuse of the practice of the Court. After hearing the evidence and the argument of counsel for the petitioner, the Vice-Chancellor, without calling on counsel for the respondent, gave judgment, and entirely exonerated the solicitor from all blame, and dismissed the petition with costs.

THE BIDDULPH TRAGEDY.

An Extraordinary Sequel—Dill Donnelly and Johnny O'Connor to Receive $20 per Night for Appearing on the Stage.

The Biddulph tragedy is to be produced on the stage at Streetsville to-night. A dramatic company have secured the service of Bill Donnelly and Johnny O'Connor, paying them $20 per night. They left to-day for Streetsville. The ambitions individual who secured their service lives in Streetsville ; The posters with which the village Barnum is flooding the country state "the services of the survivors of this great tragedy have been secured at great expense. They will both give a graphic account of that terrible murder and holocaust, and will exhibit some very interesting relics from the ruins of the Donnelly home. William Donnelly is a man of more than ordinary ability, and can interest his hearers with an account of this tragedy as no other man is capable of doing. Johnny O'Conner is well known through the straightforward and manly evidence he gave upon the trial and will be heard with much interest." The bill concludes that the entertainment "will be interspersed with first-class musical talent." Prof. Jose Ginnani, a Toronto street harpist, and a number of performing dogs will vary the monotony of blood, bones and and smoke.

The Vigilance Committee had a grand ball at Clandeboyne on Friday night. Over 200 were present. The ex-prisoners received an enthusiastic reception. A mass meeting of the Roman line people will be held at the Cedar Swamp schoolhouse on Saturday, at 1 o'clock p. m., to defray the expenses of the recent trial.

LATE AGRARIAN OUTRAGES.

The Coercion Act to be Enforced To-morrow.

SUSPICIOUS CHARACTERS IN DUBLIN.

LONDON, March 2.—Our Dublin correspondent telegraphs the following concerning two agrarian outrages in County Mayo: Mr. Hearn was clerk of the petty session, and land agent to the late Lord Leitrimorris' brother. He was proceeding on foot to his residence situated a mile from Ballaneorbe, after attending the petty sessions, and was fired at when within eighty yards of his house. He received six wounds, and was not expected to survive the night. No arrests have yet been made. A woman states that she saw three men fire at Mr. Hearn, but did not know them.

On Sunday night a shot was fired into the bedroom of Mr. Geo. Scott, of Crossmoliero, near Ballina. The bullet grazed the head of a child who was sleeping with Mrs. Scott, and penetrated the bed clothes. Mr. Scott, who is high constable of Tyrawlo, had lately taken a grazing farm which had been some time vacant. There is no clue to the would-be-assassin.

Our Dublin correspondent telegraphs : The Coercion Act will be put in force on Thursday morning, immediately after the enactment. I am at present advised that no arrests will be made in Dublin, though for reasons appearing to be urgent to the executive, the city, and county of Dublin will be immediately proclaimed. The reason of this, is that since the fall, Dublin has become a rendezvous for many who have transferred their allegiance to foreign States, notably America, and whose conduct is suspicious, similar to that adopted in the year 1866 and 1867, by American emissaries. Many have been recognized as old agents of the Fenian conspiracy. Still they have committed no overt act justifying their arrest or persecution. During the coercion debate many have fled. The same may be said of the prominent members of the Land Executive.

AMERICAN DESPATCHES.

TERRIBLE AND FATAL RAILWAY ACCIDENTS.

TRENTON, N. J., March 2.—An agreement was reached in the case of Reeves, the Hoboken miser, who left a million to U. S. Government. The latter gives up a fourth of estate to the heirs.

St. Louis west bound passenger train on Hannibal St. Joseph Railway, wrecked by a broken rail near Macon, Mo., on yesterday morning. One baggage car, two coaches, one sleeper and engine thrown from the track. Engine falling upon the smoker in which were fifty seven emigrants. Many probably killed. Telegrams were sent to Brookfield for assistance, and a wrecking train consisting of caboose, containing doctors and helpers, engine and coach responded, and when near Crookfield the wrecking train also crashed through a bridge, the engine falling on the caboose completely demolishing it. Every person on the train was injured, including Simon Woodruff, of Binghampton, N. Y. The following are killed : Dr. C. H. Wade, W. A. Hallet, Geo. D. Week, Arthur Jary, John Cummins, F. C. Sacks, of Brookfield, James Tisdale, engineer, and Henry Simpson, of St. Louis.

The Tribune says a full list of Cabinet advisers has been determined upon. Blaine as Secretary of State, heads the list. The name of Windom is mentioned in connection with Treasury portfolio. Logan seems to doubt Morton will be Secretary of Navy. The Herald says ex-representative L. A. Sheldon says he is to be private Secretary for the President, though the relation may not continue permanently.

Comptroller Jacks stated last evening the President will veto the Funding Bill.

It prohibits the possession or carrying of arms without a license, provides for the searching of houses, and gives the authorities power to prohibit or regulate the importation and sale of firearms, dynamite, &c., the maximum penalty or summary conviction being three months' imprisonment without hard labor. The Bill is to remain in force for five years. By the use of the cloture, the Bill was introduced and passed its first reading.

Sarsaparilla

For Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Tumors, Ulcers, Blotches, or St. Anthony's Fire, Eruptions and Eruptive diseases of the Skin, Pimples on the Face, Blotches, Boils, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers, Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Side and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa, Arising from internal ulceration, and Uterine Diseases, Syphilitic and Mercurial diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, Debility, and for Purifying the Blood.

This Sarsaparilla is a combination of vegetable alteratives — Stillingia, Mandrake, Yellow Dock — with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, and is the most efficacious medicine yet known for the disease. It is intended to cure.

Its ingredients are so skillfully combined, that the full alterative effect of each is secured, and while it is so mild as to be harmless even to children, it is still so effectual as to purge out from the system those impurities and corruptions which develop into loathsome disease.

The reputation it enjoys is derived from its cures, and the confidence which prominent physicians all over the country reposes in it, from their experience of its usefulness.

Certificates attesting its virtues have accumulated, and are constantly being received, and as many of these cases are publicly known, they furnish convincing evidence of the superiority of this Sarsaparilla over every other alterative medicine. So generally is its superiority to any other medicine known, that we need do no more than to assure the public that the best qualities it has ever possessed are strictly maintained.

February 21th, 1881.

In the first terrible winter spent by the Pilgrims on Plymouth, in Massachusetts—the germs of pulmonary diseases were planted, and took deep root in families which became the progenitors of thousands of the noblest people. The prevalence of consumption, that early developed, elected the attention of the most eminent physicians and scientific men to an investigation of its cause and the means of prevention and cure. The best results of professional studies on this subject are embodied in Dr. J. C. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which is now recognized as the world's remedy for coughs, colds, consumption and other diseases of the throat and lungs. We believe it to be absolutely certain in its remedial effects, and a safe, pleasant and reliable agent to be kept on hand in every household, and prove, in many cases of colds, coughs, &c., a means of preventing more serious results.—Independent, Va. Religious Herald.

DAILY ONTARIO

PIKE'S PEAK A VOLCANO.

The probability of a volcano existing in the Rocky Mountains has never entered the minds of our citizens. Credulous as we are, we doubt such a thing does exist and not very far from Colorado Springs, has recently been furnished us by Sergeant O'Keefe, of the signal service. The first knowledge that was given us of this peculiar and newly discovered phenomenon was reported last Saturday afternoon, and since that time a Gazette reporter, under the guidance Sergt. of O'Keefe visited the scene of what proved to be one of the most wondrous discoveries ever brought to light in this mountain region.

Nearly all the citizens of Colorado Springs have seen or read of the crater which is located near the summit and just west of the peak. It has always been conceded by scientists that this self same crater had in times gone by, been the scene of a terrible eruption, as particles of lava had been discovered in the crevices of the rock adjoining it. Those who have investigated more closely the various formations which are peculiar to a volcano mountain generally have affirmed that there are plenty of evidence to show plainly that Pike's Peak crator has in its centre a circular or cup-like opening through which lava has certainly been emitted.

It was on the night of the 29th of October that the crater first displayed any signs of volcanic activity. Sergeant O'Keefe was aroused from his slumbers by a dreary, doleful sound which apparently emanated from beneath the signal station. His first convictions were that it was an earthquake, but his impression was soon dispelled by the fact that the sound still continued without any signs of ajar. The Sergeant concluded to investigate the cause of this mysterious sound, and he, in company with his assistant, F. L. Jones, dressed themselves in search of the cause. They had barely stepped over the door-sill when a bright flash, at first thought to be lightning, surmounted the summit of the peak. It was only of a second's duration, and the peak was again clothed in darkness. From this time the sound heretofore described seemed to decrease until the usual quiet of the solemn mountain peak was again restored.

The following day Sergeant O'Keefe visited the crater, feeling confident that the sound heard on the night previous had emanated from that source. Great was his surprise on looking down into the crater to discover vapor curling up from the cup-like enclosure. This discovery only prompted him to further continue his researches, and after two hours' labor on climbing he found himself standing within about 200 yards of the crater chimney. The heat even at this distance was very oppressive, and the ground about him was covered with ashes and lava, which had been emitted from what he believed to be an inpient volcano.

O'Keefe was lost in astonishment. The snow for acistance of half a mile from the crater had entirely disappeared. There was all the more remarkable as it had upon the day previous been several feet in depth. The Seargeant was very much astonished at the remarkable discovery thus brought to light, but he was not deceived by the calm. He was convinced that the absolute repose which the volcano then displayed would be of short duration.

Since the 29th of October, but one eruption has occured, and that was on the night of November 7th, when another one similar to that which occurred on the 29th, only more violent, occurred. Sergeant O'Keefe happened to be up on the roof of the signal station on this occasion, and he portrays the majesty of the scene as the grandest that he has ever witnessed, not excepting that of Vesuvius, seen by him in 1862, when he was a lad and before he left his native Ireland for America.

The eruption began with a tremendous burst, which shook Pike's Peak to its very foundation, hurling into the air dense clouds of ashes and lava. These explosions succeeded each other with rapidity and increased violence for about one hour, when the volcano seemed to enter a profound sleep. During the eruption the clouds are strongly illuminated by the reflection of the glowing lava in the crater, giving the scene the appearance of a vast conflagration. This will account for the peculiar light which has been noticed by the sheep herders on the plains east of this city.

Sergeant O'Keefe informs us that the flow of lava tends towards Ruxton's creek, whence the water for the supply of the city is procured, and there is no doubt that the hot lava will, if it reaches the creek, heat the water that it will be of no earthly use for drinking purposes. It is evident that the eruption has just begun, and should it continue any length of time there is no doubt but that Colorado Springs will meet the same fate as that which destroyed the flourishing cities of Pompeii and Herculaneum. The flow of lava has already extended a distance of three miles from the crater, and only two eruptions have taken place.—Colorado Spring's Gazette.

—Geo. Bull, son of John Bull, of Sophiasburgh, was severely struck with an axe on the head and received a taller narrow escape. wound, whilst engaged with others in putting a log on a sleigh on the farm of Mr. E. N. Hazzard. The young man escaped most miraculously from being killed.

THE BEST RESULTS are pleasantly accomplished by those who use the high tonic, nutritive and promoter of digestion, appetite and sleep, —Northrop & Lyman's Quinine Wine. The laboratory of the chemist never yielded a more salutary preparation, or one in which the ingredients are more completely harmonized. The feeble and nervous cannot fail to gain strength; sufferers from dyspepsia and loss of appetite find that it not only enables them to digest and assimilate properly, but exerts an unwonted relish for food. Invalids usually suffer from depression of mind. There is no better remedy for despondency, originated by ill-health, than this genial tonic. Pure Sherry and aromatic constituents of a choice description, enhance its remedial value, and serve in an agreeable flavor. It promotes convalescence following exhausting maladies, stimulates and fortifies the circulation, and increases the muscular power. Sleeplessness, trembling of the muscles, trembling of the limbs, and other manifestations of nervous weakness, are speedily remedied by it. When taken during the absence of the river, it is a remedy of sterling merit for bilious, remittent and intermittent fever. A wine-glassful three or four times a day, will usually be found an effectual preventive of the return of the paroxysms. Intelligent observation and long experience determine the efficacy of this medicine, which has met with wide recognition, and won an unrivalled reputation. No absurd pretensions are put forth in regard to it; the statements in its behalf are plain, straightforward and reliable.

DON'T DESPAIR OR DELAY, BUT APPLY FOR DOCTORS.

Where doctors have failed to cure and men given their patients up to die, Electric Bitters have often been found, and a cure effected, bringing great joy to households. Diseases of the Stomach Liver Kidneys and Urinary Organs are positively cured by Electric Bitters. They invigorate pure incomparable. Headache and all Bilious Attacks. Try them, and be convinced that they are the best medicine ever Sold by Jas. Clarke & Co.

EPPS'S COCOA—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette. —Sold only in Packets labelled—JAMES EPPS & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London, Eng. nowly

Consumption Cured.

The Best Field

—FOR—

EMIGRANTS.

An Immense Area of Railroad and Government Lands, of great fertility, within easy reach of permanent market at extremely low prices, is now offered for sale in Eastern Oregon and Eastern Washington Territory.

These lands form part of the great Grain Belt of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 250 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded for all parts of the world.

Grain at Portland, Oregon, commands a price equal to that obtained in Chicago.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R. R. is now assured, and guarantees to afford cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of the new overland line to the Pacific Ocean, with the construction of the network of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R. & N. Co. in the valleys of the Great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the lands now open to purchase by pre-emption. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future. Lands show average yield of 40 bushels of wheat per acre. No failure of crops ever known.

Railroad Lands offered at the uniform rate of $2.50 an acre.

This was rather a cruel, unfeeling remark of Mr. Earle to his daughter Sadie, or Sarah, as she now wished to be called, because, "at least, she wasn't a baby."

'No, sis, you're neither a little girl nor a woman, but just between hay and grass, as one may say.'

Sarah gave an extra push to her already well tied back muslin overskirt, and started for school with a smouldering spark in her eye.

'It's true what father says,' she soliloquised, as she walked along. 'I'm too old to wear my dresses short, and too young to wear them long; too old to let my hair go loose and comfortable, and too young for frizzes, puffs, and coils. And as the cows in the spring, when hay is gone and grass not well grown, have to put up with odds and ends, so I have to take all Hat's and Jen's cast off dresses and hats; or if there is anything awfully unbecoming to them, I get it, whether I like it or not. Then, in the work, what I have is just what everybody else hates to do, like washing the dishes and cleaning the lamps—just what nobody gets credit for, either, only blame for not doing well.'

By this time this ambitious girl of ours had reached the school house; but the teacher had not yet come, so she tied and attached to the door handle, told the scholars Sarah started at once to retrace her steps, for it was a two-mile walk, with only here and there a few of apple trees to shield her from the sun's glare.

As she walked, her thoughts reverted to the morning's conversation, partly, perhaps, because the recollection of the new gown she greeted her. Like any girl of her age, it struck her as a queer, backward sort of comparison to speak of childhood as the time of hay.

'Oh, yes!' she exclaimed aloud, as a thought struck her; 'I see how it is!' and she at once resolved to write the next week's composition on that very subject.

'I'll say,' she soliloquized, 'that childhood is cared for by the general love of father and mother. That's the hay you see! But, at last, the youth grows out into the world and gathers love for himself. And I shall give it a moral turn, for, somehow, I think young people ought not to be selfish, even if I am so, but ought to gather love by loving.

What is the use of talking, though? If I really wanted to be useful I couldn't. Who'd ask me to sit up with sick people, for instance? I couldn't even keep awake all night. I wish I could be sure I'd be the right sort of a woman, and then seems to me, it might be beautiful to be wrinkled or gray; for by that time one is sure of one's self.'

Then she suddenly stepped down from her mount of moral enthusiasm—a feat, alas! so easily accomplished, often so hard to account for.

'Before I get to be good and gray, I'd like to have some nice times and some nice things. This muslin overskirt and hat are nice, and for once, new, but—why—what—!'

She sprang quickly out of the road in sudden terror, for she thought a loose horse was plunging furiously down the road behind her. She had not scrambled halfway up the bank when she came in sight, but to her relief he was not riderless. 'Squire Wait's boy reined him in with difficulty, just within view, and, turning in his saddle, shouted at the top of his voice, evidently to some one in a neighboring field:

'It Dr. Binslie ain't to home, what'll I do?'

Sarah could not hear the reply, but the boy appeared satisfied, for he quickly settled his self in the saddle applied the whip to the horse, and was out of sight in an instant.

Sarah hurried up the bank and looked over the wall at the top. At no great distance, she saw a man lying on the ground, and three or more standing by him. In a moment she saw who it was, and as the ran toward the group, she guessed the truth when she heard 'Squire Wait himself had received at the hands of one of his blundering workmen, a severe cut in the leg with a scythe, while mowing.

The bright arterial blood was pouring from the wound, a deathlike pallor had overspread the sufferer's face, and his eyes were already half closed.

Sarah wisked her muslin overskirt over her head like a flash.

Help me tear a broad bandage out of that!' she cried.

The men were dull looking, plodding laborers but one of them seemed encouraged by her air of determination, and in a moment, from the back of the skirt a breadth was torn. Without any words, Sarah tied a strong knot in this breadth. Then she stooped down, and then with one great heart-sinking, one cry of the flesh against the spirit, she lifted the rent garment from the wound to see just where it was; then she pressed the knot just above the wound with all her strength.

'John,' said she steadily, 'tie this band under the leg, and one of you others go as quick as you can for a short stout stick.'

The blood, already affected in its flow by her pressure, oozed more slowly from the wound. The stick was brought in a trice, and slipped under the bandage where John had tied it in a hard knot.

'Now, John,' said Sarah calmly, 'twist the stick till you tighten the bandage so that the blood shall stop altogether.'

By this time poor Mrs. Wait, trembling and terrified, arrived on the scene with a little, old-fashioned pocket bottle of smelling salts and a cruet of vinegar, wherewith to bathe her husband's head. These restoratives answered well enough until the doctor arrived.

'You're a right, smart, sensible girl,' said the doctor when he heard what Sarah had done. 'Any one of you fellows,' continued he, 'could have stopped the blood, or mostly have stopped, by pressing the limb, above the wound, with your fingers, until help could be got.'

Next morning Sarah stopped at the Squire's gate to learn how he was. John was spreading hay in a field close by, and he came out to the road to speak to her.

'I say,' he said, contemplating her slight form with genuine admiration, 'you're a little creature as you be, to ha' been so knowin' and smart! Why, you can't be more'n fourteen or fifteen, at the outside.

'Only fifteen,' answered Sarah, with a queer little smile. 'Just between hay and grass.'

'I never did see the beat!' responded John. 'How'd you know so well what to dow? That's what I'd like to know.'

'Oh! I learned it at school,' answered Sarah, with a little air of patronage and humility combined. 'You see, John, the blood that comes from the heart is bright red, and comes in jets, as the heart beats; didn't you notice that?'

'Yes! yes! I see his live was beaten 'away but nothin' we could dew wouldn't suit him; in fact, there didn't seem to be nothin' we could dew.'

'Well,' continued she, finding that his wandering thoughts had come home again, 'when the blood comes that way, and is a bright red like that, you must do something at once. You must put your force on a knot, as I did, between the wound and the heart. And while a knotted bandage is getting ready, you must hold the limb up as high as you can. That will check the blood. I forgot that at the time.'

'I never did see the beat!' answered John, his limited vocabulary allowing no more eloment phraseology in which to express his wonder and admiration.

Sarah was moving on when John called after her, saying—

'Say, sis, it's a shame! but those numheads went to work and tore that pooty muslin thing of yours all to pieces, thinkin' because you asked for one bandage you'd want twenty more. Missus Wait was dretful sorry. Said if there had been enough left for an apron 'twouldn't have been so bad.'

Sarah laughed and went on, smoothing down a dusty alapaca overskirt—an old one of Jennie's cut down.

A few days after, the Earle family were all in the kitchen at tea, when a knock came at the front door. Hattie went to the door and returned directly with a package in her hand, reading the outside paper in a rather a disgustful tone as she walked in.

'To the little girl who learns her lessons at school so well.'

'Susie, of course,' said Sarah, with a lofty air; for Hattie had looked at her, while Susie was aged six.

'I don't know why it mayn't mean you, retorted Hattie. 'It looks like 'Squire Wait's hand, though a little shaky.'

Sarah had had a mind not to take the package. As she took off the newspaper wrapper, she saw a note slipped out, and a string of a brown paper parcel, from some city store, as was evident by the advertisement. The note was directed to 'Miss Sarah Earle,' and read as follows:

'Dear Sarah:—I was dreadful sorry you lost your overskirt, and the 'Squire was too, and said you shouldn't lose nothing by it. So I went to the city, and went round and round until I was tired to death, and my head was all of a daze. Finally I went into the nicest looking store, and the one recommended the highest, and was showed the proper cierk for such things and says to him in a despairing way, I expect: 'Show me the genteelest, handsome and most suitable dress for a young lady of fifteen years.' He asked was you dark or blonde?

'Says I, "Middling, with a rosy cheek, a bright eye, and such a look as you might guess a girl to have that tore her bran new overskirt all to pieces to stop my husband from bleeding to death." I can tell you the folks round here was interested to find out all about it; and one gentleman give me the book you find enclosed with his respects. The end of it all was that the head of the store come and sold me the best and very reasonable and leave to change it if you don't like it, and likewise put in a piece of muslin for a school overskirt, as your like yours as I could see, too.

With my earnest hopes that you will make as good a woman as girl, I remain your humble servant,

M. E. WAIT.'

Sarah read the note aloud, at the eager request of the family, but it had been hard work for her and she now burst into tears and was running off without even looking at her treasures, when her father called out cheerily:

'Come, Sadie, let's see what the Squire's wife has bought for you. I allers thought she was a close woman, and guess it's a pink calico.'

'I'll bet you can't talk so, father?' asked Sarah, indignantly. But she dried her tears and opened the parcel, nevertheless.

There was a chorus of 'ohs!' and 'splendid!' when a piece of silvery summer silk was unrolled.

'Enough,' said Hattie, 'for a whole suit; and you deserve it, Sadie; and I am very glad you have got it.'

'That is organdie muslin, and very nice,' remarked Jennie, as the muslin came into view.

The book proved to be a pocked edition of Whittier. She said softly, as she took it in her hand;

'That's the best of all, because I can always keep it.'

Only the fly leaf was written:

'MISS SARAH EARLE.'

'A token of Admiration for her noble conduct. JOHN BREWSTER.'

It was one she never knew, nor was ever likely to see; yet it was all the more delightful to think that, to one person in the world, she would seem 'noble.' Her soul thrilled at the thought.

As she arose to carry away her precious bundles, her father spoke far more gently than he was wont to do:

'The best of all, I think, is that you did it without the thought of reward.'

If the public are fairly and faithfully dealt with they will come to appreciate it sooner or later. This fact is well illustrated in the experience of MESSRS. Tackett & Billings with their well known "Myrtle Navy" Tobacco. Throughout the manufacturers of T. & B. have stood firmly by their original idea to give the public the best article possible, at the lowest possible price, and in the large demand for their tobacco the public have manifested their appreciation.

Nature, after all, is the great pleasure. She hides all the secrets of health within her broad, generous bosom, and man needs but to go to her sanctuary for his every ill. The discovery of the great Cough Remedy, Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum, is an apt illustration of this. As a cure for Coughs, Colds, Loss of Voice and Hoarseness it stands unrivalled, while its low price and readiness of access place it within the reach of all. Try it and be convinced. All chemists keep it in 25 and 50 cents bottles.

It has done me more good than any medicine I have before used, and have been obliged to carry a cane until within two weeks, since which time I have not found it necessary. I also wish to state that this testimonial is not solicited, but I give it in the hope that others may be benefited as I have been. (Signed) MRS. N. PUVEY,

"I have used Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor with very satisfactory results. Have introduced it to several friends, who speak of it in high terms. HIGH PRICED BUTTER.
Buyers pay the highest price for "gilt-edge butter," but unfortunately there is an even, bright color. No toilet is complete without SOZODONT. It combines all that is needed to keep the mouth and tooth healthful, and imparts a delicious fragrance to the breath. Its use should never be intermitted, as the mouth needs to be kept pure and clean, and by nothing better than SOZODONT can this be affected.

Spalding's Glue is indispensable in the house, because there are always small breaks occuring which it will repair.

THE AGONY OVER.

A BAPTIST MINISTER'S EXPERIENCE
I am a Baptist Minister and before I even thought of being a clergyman graduated in medicine but left a lucrative practice for my present profession. 40 years ago, I was for many years afflicted with rheumatism. Allcock's Electric Oil cured me," I was also troubled with hoarseness and Thomas Eclectric Oil relieved me. My wife and child had Diphtheria, and "Thomas Eclectric Oil cured them" and if taken in time it will cure seven tunes out of ten. I am confident it is a cure for the most obstinate Cold, or Cough and if any one will take a small teaspoon, and half if I it with the Oil and then place of the throat and practice that twice a week, I don't care how offensive their breadmay be, it will clean it out and cure their Catarrh. For Deafness and Earache it has done wonders to my certain knowledge. It is the only medicine dubbed patent medicine that I have ever felt like recommending and I am veryanxious to see it in every Clime, for I tell you that I would not be without it in my house for any consideration, I am now s fering with a pain like Rheumatism in my right hand and both relieves me like Thomas Eclectric Oil.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

Parnell and his followers pretend to attribute late agrarian outrages to exasperation caused by the passage of the Coercion Act.

Gen. Garfield will be inaugurated President of the United States to-morrow. It is not positively known yet who will form his Cabinet.

There are 97,000 Canadian militia in the rural sections, costing the country $100,000 annually, and 9,600 in the cities, costing $75,000 annually.

The Dairymen's Convention held at Peterborough on Tuesday was fairly attended and proved successful. Mr. Harford Ashley represented this district.

When urgency was voted for the Arms Bill, a Government measure, the strange spectacle was witnessed of Sir Chas Dilke, a member of the Government, voting with the minority.

Mr. Devoy, the fiery New York Land Leaguer, who warned the Home Secretary of what was in store for him, has got into hot water. A complete rupture between the League in Ireland and the American section is threatened.

Much has been said about the unhappy lot of well-bred working women, but action has been taken in London, England, that bids fair to be generally observed. A new club, with 1,800 members, all of the gentler sex, was opened this week for the benefit of unfortunate but respectable gentle-women. The list of membership includes governesses and seamstresses, so that within this fold, at least, sensitive woman who stoops to labor will be secure from snubs, and emotions of mortification.

Mr. MACKENZIE has on the first suitable occasion after his recent illness, moved for returns relating to the Intercolonial Railway. It will be remembered that during his Administration a number of persons rendered accounts for services one way and another on the Intercolonial. Those who could not furnish the necessary proof of the justness of their claims were refused payment. When the Tory party returned to power the applications were renewed and honored. Mr. Mackenzie now moves for the papers in regard to these contracts and claims, and the Government will have an opportunity of showing who were entitled to payments and for what service.

When Sir Richard Cartwright gave notice of his bill to protect members of the House of Commons from possible attempts at corruption by Railway and other corporations, the Tories cried out that the measure was an insult to the House and should be treated as such. The public drew its own inference, very naturally concluding that those who felt their dignity and honor impugned by such a measure were most in need of its provisions. Again, the other evening when Mr. Longley's motion to close the bar of the House of Commons came up, the Tory majority insisted that it was marked strongly by bad taste; that it was an advertisement to the country that members of the House of Commons are too much addicted to liquor; and that such an advertisement is untrue and unfair. They protest that there never was a more sober set of men in Parliament, and that the whole exhibition was unworthy the dignity of that honorable body. The object of Mr. Longley's motion was consequently defeated. The public will again draw an inference.

UPPER CANADA COLLEGE.

"To be or not to be," is now the all-absorbing question with the aristocratic Toronto Boarding and High School, whose high sounding but misleading name we have placed at the head of this article. Unmistakeable indications have appeared which show that, in the opinion of the majority of the tax payers of the Province, who have thought upon the subject, "not to be," should be the decision of the Legislature. That this feeling in favor of its abolition has not become irresistible is the fault of the leading journals. Located in Toronto, a desire to perpetuate and nourish every Toronto institution, has blinded their vision and strangled their patriotism. On the local press the task of informing the public on this important educational question must devolve.

What is the history of the endowment of Upper Canada College? Briefly stated, it is this: By the Imperial Parliament, 250,000 acres of land were set apart for Grammar School purposes. When sight of these were in existence, 60,000 acres of the land were transferred by Sir John Colborne to U. C. College. The Cornwall, Kingston and Niagara [illegible] from the fund of their annual [illegible] forfeiture, the property of [illegible] School was appro- [illegible] one-fourth of the Province [illegible] endowment of [illegible] School money was absorbed, and, with the rest, nearly three-fourths of the University endowment. In all, nearly $1,500,000 have been spent upon it since its establishment in 1830. This all-golden endowment affords it an annual income of $22,000, in addition to $10,000 derived from fees.

Now, as to its work. What is it? What ever it may have been in the past, U. C. College has for many years been doing purely High School work. Like the High Schools and Collegiate Institutes of the Province, it is a feeder of University College. But is the College not a boarding school also? Like the great English Public Schools, has it not taken upon itself the important duty of moulding the "morals and manners" of its students? And has not the Collegiate Institute at Galt performed the same work for years? Are not all the leading Institutes and High Schools of the Province doing a similar duty?

And now as to the manner in which this high-toned High School has done its work. For years it was the principal feeder of the University. That we admit. As all who watch the current of educational affairs know, our High Schools have, as a whole, during the last ten years, made extraordinary progress. We have before us statistics showing the number who, for the past three years, have taken first and second class honors at the Matriculation examinations of Toronto University. What do these prove? They show that the High Schools and Collegiate Institutes have been making rapid strides forward, and that U. C. College has been losing ground as rapidly. At the Matriculation examination in June last, Toronto Collegiate Institute, not to mention others, took a position far in advance of anything attained by the, College for many years, and yet in 1879 the former got $1,200.50 from the Government, while the latter received but $23,000. Let those of our readers who wish to think intelligently on this subject, read for themselves the returns laid before the Legislature.

But for whom does this pet institution exist? Let us see. In the year 1875-76, 6 of its students had their residence in the United States, 182 lived in Toronto and its environs, 121 in the rest of Ontario, and 6 had their homes elsewhere. In 1876-77, 4 lived in the U. S., 196 in Toronto, 102 in the rest of Ontario, and 9 elsewhere. In 1877-78, 4 were Americans, 179 were residents of Toronto, 97 lived in the rest of Ontario, and 9 lived elsewhere. No wonder that Toronto desires the continued existence of "the College!" Over 60 per cent. of its students are the sons of her wealthiest citizens, while not more than 33 per cent. are supplied by all the rest of the Province. Belleville, London, Hamilton and the other cities and towns of Ontario have to provide, at no inconsiderable expense, higher education for their own youth. Why should not Toronto be compelled to do likewise?

Assuming the average attendance of pupils (we beg their pardon, students we should say) at U. C. College to be 300, the education of each costs, at least, $100. In 1879, according to the report of the Minister of Education, the expenditure per pupil was, for Belleville High School, less than $15. Taking the High Schools, as a whole, the expenditure per pupil was less than $24.

From its endowment, the college receives as we have said, $23,000 annually, over $70 for each of its students. The overwhelming majority of the youth of this Province—the sons of our farmers, mechanics, labourers—complete their school education at our Public Schools. These colleges for the masses, for the sturdy yeomanry of the country, also receive aid from the Government. In 1879, the Legislature Grant to the Public Schools of Ontario was, for each enrolled pupil, 50 cents. Taking the average attendance as the basis of calculation, the grant was about $1 per pupil! Will any sane man say that this is a just distribution of the Provincial school revenue? Such a state of affairs is wrong in the extreme. The higher education of a youth will always cost more than that obtained at a Public School, but the difference now is too great. If the country is to poverty-stricken that it can only aid Public Schools at the rate of 50 cents per pupil, there should be no delay in deciding upon the abolition of the high-caste boarding school, kept up at an expense to the Province of $100 per pupil, for the "blue bloods" of Toronto. No talk about past usefulness and the vested rights of officials should be allowed to hinder this decision from being arrived at. We are pleased to notice the temper exhibited by many of the liberal members of the Ontario Assembly on this subject. We trust they will keep up the agitation. We believe the Minister of Education will yet show that he is a far-seeing man, and recognizing the popular wishes in the matter, "stand from under." The educational interests of Ontario would not suffer by the removal of U. C. College. Vastly more important parts of our educational system have been, or are now, attacked in the Legislature without any one threatening to leave the Cabinet, or so far as we know, any one getting much excited.

DR. WILD'S PHILOSOPHY.—Rev. Dr. Wild is exciting public curiosity by his sermon-lectures on the men before Adam. He shows that these gentlemen were probably ten or fifteen feet high, so as to correspond with the skeletons of extinct animals dug up out of the earth. It would have been funny if man had only been two feet high. If the species keeps on degenerating and decreasing in size as it must have decreased, if man is only half the size now that he used to be, he will be a diminutive fellow by-and-bye. But if man had been only two feet high when he began, he could not possibly have subdued the earth and reduced wild animated nature in the way he now does. But what a saving it would have been in the matter of clothes!

In order to give a quietus to a hacking cough, take a dose of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil thrice a day, or oftener if the cough spells under it necessary.

From our own Correspondent.

HILLIER ITEMS.

A pleasing incident took place in the village of Melleville on Sunday evening last. For some two weeks a revival service had been in progress, and as usual on such occasions, an immense audience had assembled on Sunday evening. But that was the time on which the Rev. Mr. Halliwell was accustomed to hold an evening service in connection with the church of England. On his arrival the pulpit was at once ceconded to him, the vest assembly joining heartily and as far as possible audibly in the beautiful service of the church. The Rev. Mr. McAmmond, Methodist Minister, read the lessons and lead the hymns, the whole congregation devoutly standing during the reading of the Psalms and recital of the Creed. After prayer, Mr. Halliwell, with a facility for which he has few equals, at once took in the position, and chose for his text the words—"Therefore, being justified by faith we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ"—and delivered a powerful and impressive sermon on the doctrine of "Justification by faith," unclothing with clearness and simplicity that grand old doctrine of the Protestant Church. The effect of the whole service and its surroundings was good, and we hope it may be lasting. And it is quite certain that the old historic Church of England lost nothing by its association for the time being with a Methodist revival.

What a blessing it would be if there were more clergymen like Mr. Halliwell, willing to, do the Master's work in any and every field. Thereby many thousands who now know nothing of the church or services, might become acquainted therewith to the benefit of religion at large. It may be truly said that Mr. Halliwell has done more to break down prejudice against the church by his liberal and truly Christian spirit, than has ever been done before in this county.

A year ago last fall an effort was made by subscription to supply the "city" of Slab Creek with sidewalks. The effort was only partially successful, but many muddy gaps were left to be waded through to the discomfit of its citizens. Nothing further seemed likely to be done in the matter until a few weeks ago, when a few of our young folks, intent upon uniting amusement with utility, inaugurated a series of entertainments, known as "penny readings" devoting the proceeds to the completion of the much-needed side-walks. The entertainments have been kept mainly in the hands of a small party of amateurs, who in song, recitation, dialogue, reading and drama have displayed a combination of talents that would be no discredit to a larger place. Several pieces of merit have been rendered, and the parts have all been sustained with excellent taste, some of the performers displaying a more than common proficiency in the histrionic art.

The public, being well pleased with the entertainments, have patronized them liberally, the result being a fair prospect of sidewalks for all our streets, when they are laid out and a few houses put upon them.

PERISHED IN THE SNOW.

A VICTIM OF THE BITTER WEATHER.

The body of a woman about 40 years old, known as "English Mary," was found lying frozen in some woods in the town of Penfield, Monroe county, near Irondequoit bay, Friday morning. She was comfortably dressed, excepting that her feet were encased in low shoes, entirely unfit for outdoor wear in such severe weather. The last seen of her she got into the sleigh of Joseph Stevens of Ontario village when he started from Charlotte for home. She signified her intention of calling at the house of a man named Patey Brent, who also lived in a shanty a few rods from where the body lay in the snow. It is supposed that after leaving Steven's sleigh she walked through the woods, in the dark, and accidently stepped to one side of the road and tumbled down the bank. Stunned by the fall she was unable to rise, and thus perished from exposure almost within hearing of Brent's house.

A RELIGIOUS LUNATIC.—A man named John Neil was found wandering in the woods near Brockton Tuesday, literally incrusted with dry blood and with his nose broken. It is evident that he has been driven mad by religion. His whole cry is repentance. When brought into court he cried: "Beloved friends, come to Jesus just now."

DECREASE IN PRICE.—In consequence of so many Wolfe Islanders emigrating to the Western States the value of their land has greatly declined. Farms that sold two years ago at from $50 to $60 per acre can now be purchased at from $35 to $45 per acre. Several Islanders are preparing to fit this month to where the N. P. is unknown.—Whig.

THE CATTLE EXPORT TRADE.—The business of buying and shipping cattle for European markets promises to be large and profitable during the coming season. Sheep will be largely handled, and buyers say that the demand for suitable cattle to cross the breeds is greater than the supply. Farmers in Canada do not seem to realize the fact that it is more profitable to breed cattle and sheep than raise grain.

MILITIA REPORT.—The report of the Minister of Militia was laid on the table of the House Tuesday night. The strength of the active militia in the several provinces is as follows: Ontario, 16,987; Quebec, 12,215; New Brunswick, 1,680; Nova Scotia, 3,940; Manitoba and Northwest, 575; British Columbia, 303; and Prince Edward Island, 712; total, 37,418.

—Mr. Whitefoil, late editor of the London Sportsman, joins Mr. Good, late of the Mail, in the establishment of a Canadian sporting paper.

The Rev. C. B. Ansarel, M. A., of Three Rivers, has received a call from Fall River, Mass., to take the lead in a great religious movement going on there.

—Mr. H. G. F. Good, the sporting editor of the Mail, and the oldest member of the staff of the paper, has resigned. He will start a sporting paper in Toronto to be called The Oracle.

—Mr. George Stephens, President of the Bank of Montreal, it is stated, will remain in London until the latter part of April. It is said that the Syndicate will have to make arrangements for a loan of ten millions to carry out their enterprise.

—The Rev. John Hewitt Jellett, B. D., has been appointed Provost of Trinity College, Dublin. Professor Jellett is one of the best known mathematicians in the United Kingdom. He has been a fellow of Trinity College, Dublin, for more than forty years and held the chair of natural philosophy as long ago as 1843. He has written a good many sermons and theological works, but they are less well known than his "Calculus of Variations" and "Theory of Friction." He was born at Cashel in 1817.

HANLAN'S RECEPTION.

The champion oarsman of the world will arrive in Toronto to-morrow afternoon, and arrangements are complete to give him a rousing reception. There will be an entertainment at the Grand Opera House, consisting of music, gymnastic performances, &c., but the principal feature of the evening will be the presentations to Hanlan of the citizens testimonial, Sportsman's Cup and addresses. The Champion deserves all the honor that will be shown him. He is, perhaps, the best known Canadian living, and has done a good deal towards bringing his native country before the eyes of the world. Hurrah for Hanlan!

PARLIAMENTARY NOTES.

The Niagara Falls International Park matter will likely be brought before Parliament before its close, the New York State Legislature having voted $5,000 toward defraying the expenses of the special commission appointed to locate the reservation and report thereon.

Strong efforts are being made to have Mr. John White, of East Hastings, withdraw his bill in relation to the rate of interest to be charged by loan societies which are accused of imposing on the public. A case in point is the Protestant General Hospital in Ottawa, who five years ago had a loan to the extent of nearly $7,000. The directors will petition Parliament in favor of the passage of the bill, as they are satisfied that the operations of, at least, one loan company, is not as honest as it should be.

A caucus of the Opposition was held yesterday, when private business was transacted. The following resolution of condolence was passed: "Resolved, the Liberal members of Parliament, being now assembled for the first time since the death of the Hon. Luc Letellier de St Just, take this occasion to express their deep sense of sorrow at the less of one who was for a long period a most useful member of the Legislature of this country, and to testify their admiration for his many talents and public virtues, especially the pure, disinterested motives which inspired all his actions, and as to the tenacity of purpose which made him ever firmly adhere to what he conceived to be right, and in the best interests of the people, regardless of the consequences to himself."

RECENT EVENTS.

—Mrs. Jones, wife of a Montreal laborer, has entered a complaint against her husband for desertion. He is said to have gone to Texas.

—Mr. Childers, Secretary for War, gives the British loss in the recent engagement with the Boers as 83 killed, 122 wounded and 60 taken prisoners or missing.

—Rev. Canon Wilberforce of Winchester, England, who arrived in Quebec by the ocean steamship Monday will be the guest of the lord bishop while in that city.

—Tuesday, the 7th of June, is the day fixed for the examination of candidates desiring admission to the Royal Military College at the several district headquarters.

—St. Patrick's day will be quietly observed by the Irish societies of Toronto this year. The Emerald will meet at St. John's Hall and march to St. Michael's cathedral, where high mass will be celebrated.

—Two fires took place in Chatham Monday night. One resulted in the burning of a miserable cottage occupied by a colored man, the other in the total destruction of the city mills involving a loss of over $20,000.

—The Protection Bill passed its second reading in the House of Lords yesterday, and its third reading was fixed for to-day. Lord Spencer and Lord Beaconsfield spoke strongly upon the encouragement to rebellion in Ireland afforded from foreigners.

FIXED PRICES.

BESIDES the advantage of Low Prices I offered to customers through our system of trading wholly upon a Cash basis, there is this also that is worthy the attention of the pub namely, FIXED PRICES. We take it to be the only just and right way of doing business to mark goods at the lowest price we can afford to sell them and not ask more.

Though we are aware that a large number of people are taken by a practice in many stores of throwing something off the price asked, or professing to give something in gratis, with a purchase, yet we have no hesitation in saying that the practice is a dishonest one and that little reliance is to be placed on stores which do this.

Where a second price is made, more than the just value is always asked, and the customer, after being put to the annoyance of higgling about the price, gets an abatement, often a very considerable one, and finds after all he has invariably paid more for his goods than we would have asked him in the first place.

Dafoe House,

BELLEVILLE,

For the cure of all the various diseases of the Head, Throat and Chest, including the Eye, Ear and Heart.

But a few weeks or months are required to cure the most obstinate cases of Catarrh, Throat diseases, Asthma, Bronchitis, and the earlier stages of Consumption, when the treatment is conducted under the Doctor's own personal supervision. A word to these is therefore sufficient.

All diseases of the respiratory organs treated by medical inhalations.

Inhalations remove hepetization by dissolving the hardened matter existing in the air cells of the lungs, thus enabling the patient to expectorate it with ease, at the same time giving the diseased surface an opportunity to heal.

Inhalations scatter inflammation and soothe the inflamed surface, thus relieving a harassing cough almost immediately.

Inhalations absorb the fleshy excrescences that exist upon the pharyngeal surface in cases of granulated throat, and restore the proper vitality of the parts, thus relieving the dryness of the throat and the sensation as if needles were penetrating the mucous membrane of the pharynx.

Inhalations will cure the most obstinate cases of catarrh when combined with proper constitutional and other topical treatment.

In fact, inhalations will cure those hands of cases of the breathing organs when all other means have failed.

Let there be no delay, then, in application to the treatment that has stood the test and proved again and again as the only hope—the only reliable safeguard and means of restoration.

Consultation free and prices within the reach of all.

The very best of references given from all parts of Canada from those already cured. Remedies sent to any part of Ontario.

If possible, call personally at the office for consultation and examination, but if impossible to do so, write for "List of Questions" and "Medical Treatise." Address

Belleville, Dec. 21, 1880.

—March Sales.—

OUR customers are generally aware that we have received our usual Spring assortment of STAPLE and FANCY DRY GOODS much earlier this year than usual; but our sales during the months of January and February were so satisfactory, that if the present months' sales prove large, we will be under the necessity of laying in a second supply in most lines. To ensure this we are marking our Spring goods as well as any Winter goods that are left over at an unusually low advance on cost, and we invite customers to compare our prices and values.

We invite special attention to

Carpets.

—Don't forget the missionary services on Sunday next in the C. M. Church.

—Our Madoc notes crowded out to-day. They will keep for to-morrow.

—Talmage knows a thing or two. He calls a newspaper, "a pulpit on the wing."

—A sociable man is one who, when he has ten minutes to spare, goes and bothers somebody who hasn't.

—The fool buyeth an umbrella, but the prudent man knoweth a trick worth two of that.—Shakspeare.

—Col. Prince reports just about as much weather at Geneva, N.Y., as here, and just about the same kind.

—Two prisoners occupied the cell last night. They were charged with stealing a can of oysters from M. H. Peterson.

—The piece of poetry sent for publication in the ONTARIO, entitled "A Church in the Air," will appear on Saturday.

—There will be no changes in the captaincies of the Royal Mail Line this year. All the old officers have been reappointed.

—Mr. George Brewer, Elginburg, has lost three valuable horses through blood poisoning. Dr. Massie was summoned too late.

—Dr. and Mrs. Branscombe, of Picton were in the city, to-day and report the sleighing excellent all the way through.

—The Kingston "News" is not blinded by sectionalism. It points out the advantages the construction of the Murray Canal would confer upon the navigation of Lake Ontario.

—Garden Island is a noted municipality. It annually elects Mr. D. D. Calvin to the County Council of Frontenac, has more French men than Kingston, and produces two pairs of twins in one week.

—Young ladies in Kingston fall down on the slippery pavement, lose their caps and bonnets get up and walk home bareheaded, not knowing that they have lost anything. We always thought it took a good deal to make an impression on the average Kingston belle.

—Kingston policemen have ordered all flags hung out at the shops of second-hand goods dealers to be taken down. They seem to frighten horses and cause runaways. Will our "Corps" be so particular? If so, several red-cross banners on Front-st. must disappear.

—A farmer was heard complaining the other day that when eggs were selling for 30cts. a dozen his hens never made a move, but "how that they are down to half that price every pullet about his barn has her sleeves rolled up and is working like a nailer for twelve hours a day.

—Mr. McRae, who has been appointed general agent in this section for the celebrated "Scotch Finnan Haddie," manufactured by a new process at Digby, N.S., is meeting with large sales. He shipped a number of boxes to Peterboro' to-day. The article has superior merits.

—Is there a letter here in a scented envelope for my wife?' he asked the postmaster, while the green fire from his eyes made the office look like a leafy forest. 'Yes, sir," answered the postmaster, as he handed it out. The jealous man tore it open, when lo and behold! it was the milliner's bill for $100.

—We tried to correct the "Whig" the other day, which referred to Mr. Ferris the Local Member for East Northumberland, as being among the dead game, and type (that chief of sinners) made us say "Wheeler" instead of "Keeler," as we intended. The "Whig" thus has anopportunity to correct us when correcting itself. All right now.

REMEMBER.—Don't forget the meeting to night in Bethel Hall, at a quarter to 8. You are invited.

FRESH.—High easterly to northerly winds, cloudy weather with heavy snow at many places in the southern portion, and light snow in the north. Not much change in temperature.

INTERIM SESSIONS.—Fred Doronscau, the man charged with stealing money from another man on the ice at Trenton,a couple of weeks since, was again before Judge Lazier yesterday afternoon, and was sentenced to six months in Central Prison.

COURSE OF LECTURES.—J Parker Thomas, Esq., will lecture before the commercial students of Albert College on Friday, 4th inst., at 8 p. m., subject—"Insurance." This Institution is now prepared to give complete courses in book-keeping,banking, shipping and commission business, after the most modern and improved methods.

GOOD NEWS.—A telegram from Ottawa states that Hon. J. H. Pope, acting Minister of Railways and Canals, has promised that work on the Murray Canal will be prosecuted without any unnecessary delay. At the time of writing this we have not heard from the deputation. but trust their report will sustain the information given above.

THAT RUNAWAY.—Yesterday afternoon we announced that Mr. Knight's horse, whose leg was broken yesterday while running away, would have to be killed. This morning we were informed that Dr. Foster, Veterinary Surgeon, had hopes of being able to save the horse's life, and with this end in view, was going to sling the animal up. The fracture is looked upon as a simple one.

SERVICES NEBDED.—Prof. Coleman, of the Deaf and Dumb Institute, left for St. Catharines this morning, where he will act as interpreter in a rape case preferred by a deaf mute girl, who, some three years since, was a pupil of the Institute. The case was laid over so as to secure the services of an interpreter from the Institute. On Prof. Coleman's return to Toronto on Saturday next, he will deliver a lecture before the Deaf Mute Convention.

THE FIRE ENGINE TEAMS.—At the meeting of the Fire Committee of the City Council held last evening, the tenders for drawing the fire engines to and from fires were opened, and those of the Messrs. McCoy were found to be the lowest. The Committee accordingly have recommended the employment of the teams of these gentlemen,thus dispensing with the services of those of Ben Johnston and D. Bradford. In one respect this is to be regretted, as the teams that have been used for the last couple of years were very fine ones, and had become used to what was required of them, and new horses will have to be broke in to the work.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.—The Sons of St. Patrick of this city have wisely concluded to pursue the same course this year as they have done for the past two years, that is, to have no procession on the anniversary of Ireland's Patron Saint. On the forthcoming anniversary the day will be celebrated by a lecture in the evening at the Metropolitan Hall by the talented young Irish Canadian orator, James Fahey, who is also an honored member of the Fourth Estate, he being now on the staff of the Toronto Mail. Many will remember with pleasure Mr. Fahey's lecture on "The Literary Club," at the Metropolitan Hall two years ago, and will, we have no doubt, avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing him again. His subject this time will be "The Irish School of Eloquence," in which the lecturer will have a wide field for the display of his talent.

THE HAMILTON FIRE DEPARTMENT.—The account in yesterday's ONTARIO of the working of the New York Fire Department has brought to the writer's mind an exhibition of the working of the Hamilton Fre Brigade, given before him last summer, which was almost equal to that witnessed by the reporter of the Sun in New York. The Hamiltonians take great pride, and justly too, in their fire department and we were only a few hours in the ambitious city when a friend invited us to step around and take a look at the apparatus, etc., in one of their fire stations. On arrival there we were introduced to Chief Atchison, who, by the way, is a fine looking fellow, exceedingly courteous, and, in our opinion, just the man for the position. He placed himself at our disposal, and after showing us through the dormitories, which were as clean as a new pin, and everything in apple-pie order, he very kindly announced his intention of showing us how quickly they could get ready for a run. Telling his men to get ready, we having taken our places on the stairs, out of the way, the alarm was sounded, the same pull that gave the alarm unlocessing the horses, who are so well trained that they at once gallop to their places, where the harness is suspended in the same manner as in New York, and the whole time occupied in several tests, until "ready" was called was from 6½ to 8 seconds. In the evening of the same day we were invited to step around andsee a"run,"this practice being indulged in every evening in the year at 8 o'clock. The doors were closed, and from the time the gong sounded until the trucks were out just eight seconds had elapsed. We would recommend any of our readers who visit Hamilton to go and see the working of their fire department, which may justly be considered one of the best in America.

TEA-MEETING.—A tea meeting will be held at Ferry Point on Tuesday evening, February 8th. Vocal and instrumental music will be given. Addresses will be delivered by Professors from Albert College. Admission 25 cts each. Tea served at 7 p. m.

CURLIANA.—The curling match which took place in Trenton yesterday resulted in a victory for the Trenton men by one point, the score being 36 to 35. A return match will be played here next week, when the home players are in hopes of being more successful.

THE FIZZONE CASE.—The investigation into the shooting of Sergt. Fizzone last fall, took place this morning at the Dafoe House, before Lt.-Col. Von Straubenzie, D. A. G. Some ten witnesses were examined, including the Surgeon and Assistant-Surgeon of the 15th Battalion. The result will not be known for a few days.

LOST ON THE ICE.—John K. Graham, of Roblin's Mills, was returning home from Belleville on Tuesday evening, and when crossing the bay lost his way and wandered about the ice for two hours. His efforts to find the track terminated in his falling into a hole and getting thoroughly drenched, after which he returned to the city. He reached his home next day safely.

A BABCOCK FIGHT.—The Babcocks were at their old amusement of fighting again this morning, the combatants being Kitty Harrison or Babcock, and her half-sister Mary Babcock. Mary appeared at the Police Station this morning, her face covered with blood, for the purpose of getting a warrant out for Kitty Harrison, who said last beat her with a piece of hardwood. The parties in questions are residents o the upper end of Coleman Ward, and rows among them are not of an uncommon occurrence.

THE MARKET TOLLS.—L. H. Henderson Esq., City Solicitor, returned from Toronto last night, where he had been looking after the interests of the city in the question of the abolition of market fees now before the House. He reports that his mission was unsuccessful, as the Special Committee to whom the matter was referred, and before whom he appeared, had decided to recommend the total abolition of fees.

THE NEW D. A. G.—Lieut-Col. Villiers, the new Deputy-Adjutant General of Militia for this district, accompanied Lt.-Col. Von Straubenzie to this city last evening, for the purpose of making the acquaintance of the officers of the local battalions. During the evening they visited the armories of Capts. Harrison and Fenton of the 49th, and Col. Villiers expressed himself as highly pleased with the manner in which they were kept. To-day the armories of the 15th Batt. were visited, and most of these also were found to be well kept, especially those of Nos. 1, 3 and 4 companies. While the officers of this district will feel regret at parting company with Col. Von Straubenzie, who goes to the Lower Provinces, judging from what we have seen of his successor, they will find a gentleman who will, in a short time, be equally as popular as the old D. A. G.

INSPECTION SOLICITED.—We have to-day received our Scotch and Irish Suitings for Spring and Summer wear, and claim they are the finest assortment that will be shown in the city this season.

JAMES HENNESSY.

INCENTIVES FOR INCREASING POPULATION.—Sir Leonard Tilley having clearly shown by his carefully prepared Budget statement that Canada is more prosperous under a protective duty, and that the N P. has been a great boon to our manufacturers it is a little strange that the founders of this great policy should neglect the fountain head of all nations wealth, and keep Halton from the free list. Mr. Davenport, Hatter and Furrier, being convinced that the party now in power will never give this great struggling industry the attention it deserves, will give prizes to every Baby born in the Counties of Hastings and Prince Edward during next December (1881,) as follows :—

For every Girl Baby—1 handsome Fur Hood.
For every Boy Baby—One Fur Tarban.
For every Pair of Twins—Two Silver Cups.
For Triplets—One twenty dollar gold piece.

A physician's certificate is expected with every application for a prize, and it is to be hoped that Babies will not be imported into Hastings and Prince Edward from Adjington, Lennox and Northumberland Counties. Please remember while waiting for the "Little Ones" that N. Davenport has the largest and finest stock of Hats and Caps in Central Canada.

—Large quantities of hay are still being delivered at Picton to be pressed for exportation.

AMERICAN DESPATCHES.

JEWETT ON RAILWAY MATTERS.

WORK OF A COLORADO VIGILANCE COMMITTEE.

ANOTHER GUESS AT THE CABINET.

CHICAGO, March 3.—In response to a letter from the Railway Age to Hugh Jewett, concerning the allegation that the public look upon him, Gould, Vanderbilt, Garrett, and Roberts as controlling the railway policy of the country, Jewett replies instead of practically controlling the Railway interest, they are obliged in order to manage successfully the property under their immediate charge, to accommodate their own views to the sentiments of those representing a much larger aggregate of interests, and to subordinate their own judgment and interests to the public. Jewett says he is not opposed to all legislation in railway matters, but he denies the authority of the National Government, to legislate upon the subject matter of railway management, or in any way to regulate such management. He does not doubt the right of the State Legislature to regulate railway management. The State has no right by legislation to impair the value of franchises, railways or ot property, unless there is such a public necessity as would justify the compensation thereof. Jewett does not apprehend any great danger to the political liberties of the people in the creating of any such interest. There ought to be no consolidation, parallel, or competing lines of railways. Such consolidation ought to be prohibited.

BALTIMORE, March 3.—Frank I. Wright, a young lawyer, recently went with a servant to attend law business in Colorado. Just learned that he and the servant have been hanged by a Vigilance Committee, charged with stealing mules, they having purchased stolen mules not knowing them to be stolen.

NEW YORK, March 3.—The Herald's Washington special says at noon the Cabinet seemed settled thus : State,Blaine; Treasury, Windom ; Interior, Kirkwood ; War,Lincoln ; Navy,Morton ; Post Office, Hunt : Att'y-General, Macveagh.

At Chittenden's reception last night Hayes plainly gave it to be understood that he would veto the Funding Bill.

AFTERNOON DESPATCHES.

The Irishman with the Boers.

WHO HE IS AND WHO HE WAS.

LONDON, March 3.—The Times says the Irishman described as chief adviser of Boer commander, is Alfred Aylward, for some time connected with James Stephens, Fenian, Head- Centre. A correspondent met him at Natal after the war. Aylward said at the meeting of the Fenian Central Com., Stephens presiding, decided to assassinate the late Lord Mayo, Chief Secretary for Ireland, as he passed out of the castle yard at Dublin, and attack Chester Castle, for the purpose of procuring arms. Aylward thought the time inopportune, and informed the Committee he should inform Mayo of his danger. Aylward sent a note to Mayo telling him not to pass through the Castle yard that evening. Aylward was that night shot by a Fenian as an informer, and wounded in two places. When Aylward recovered he was placed under the police, and accepted an offer of money from the socities fund, on condition of his leaving the country. Aylward went to South Africa, was at the Diamond fields, and has been long known in Africa as a strong sympathizer with the Dutch. When in '76 the Boers being at war with the Seconi wanted an officer,Aylward volunteered. At the fight at Matero Rhief, he was serving with the Lydenburg volunteers and on the death of there Captain succeeded to the command. He is the author of "Transvaal of to-day's." He was up to quite recently editor of Natal Witness, published at Pertramaritsburg.

—Conductors of the Grand Trunk railway are to be relieved of all responsibility so far as regards the sale, inspection and collection of tickets. The ticket picker will have complete charge in future, the duty of the conductor being solely the safe working of the train.

A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Neglect speedily follows in an incurable lung disease or consumption. BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritations, giving relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the throat troubles which Singers and public speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's Bronchial Troches have been recommended by physicians, and always give satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly a generation, they have attained well merited rank among the simple remedies of the age. Sold at 25c a box everywhere.

—There is comfort in store for persons troubled with lame back, rheumatic pains, sores or bruises, who continue without delay, a course of Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil, followed up systematically until relief is obtained.

—George E. Jones, an American who was arrested in Montreal for having stolen watches in his possession, has been acquitted, but a charge of smuggling has been made against him and the goods placed under seizure.

Just think of it—you can relieve the twinges of rheumatism, or the most painful attack of neuralgia—you can check a cough, and heal bruised or broken skin, with a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, costing only 25 cents.

—The Ontario Government has taken railway employees under its protection. Henceforth men employed on railways in the province will have the right of getting compensation when injured by accidents which arise from the neglect of the companies.

—The agents of the Toronto Cattle Exportation Company are going through the country in great numbers buying up sheep and lambs for the English market. The animals will be left at their farm yards till June when they will be gathered up and shipped direct.

Sure but not Slow.—People who have used Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil to get rid of pain, find that it is sure but not slow. A cough even, of long standing, is speedily controlled and cured by it. Rheumatism, neuralgia, sores, lame back, and swelled neck rapidly disppear when it is used.

Hacking cough lacerate the lungs and beget consumption ; consumption fills our cemeteries. If nipped in the bud with DR. THOMAS' Eclectric Oil, the destructive malady is deprived of its power. Pain is also subdued by this benign healing agent—corns, sores, frost-bites, burns, and other troubles.

MOUNT PLEASANT, Pa., March 3.—Operatives of Connellsville coke region have struck for an advance of wages. The strike involves 3,000 men.

CHICAGO, March 3.—Another heavy snow storm throughout the north-west extended from this city to Dakota, moving eastward, reached here at midnight. A very high wind is driving the sleet. Railroad traffic will be again suspended.

—There is comfort in store for persons troubled with lame back, rheumatic pains, sores or bruises, who continue without delay, a course of Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil, followed up systematically until relief is obtained.

—George E. Jones, an American who was arrested in Montreal for having stolen watches in his possession, has been acquitted, but a charge of smuggling has been made against him and the goods placed under seizure.

Just think of it—you can relieve the twinges of rheumatism, or the most painful attack of neuralgia—you can check a cough, and heal bruised or broken skin, with a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, costing only 25 cents.

—The Ontario Government has taken railway employees under its protection. Henceforth men employed on railways in the province will have the right of getting compensation when injured by accidents which arise from the neglect of the companies.

—The agents of the Toronto Cattle Exportation Company are going through the country in great numbers buying up sheep and lambs for the English market. The animals will be left at their farm yards till June when they will be gathered up and shipped direct.

Sure but not Slow.—People who have used Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil to get rid of pain, find that it is sure but not slow. A cough even, of long standing, is speedily controlled and cured by it. Rheumatism, neuralgia, sores, lame back, and swelled neck rapidly disppear when it is used.

Hacking cough lacerate the lungs and beget consumption ; consumption fills our cemeteries. If nipped in the bud with DR. THOMAS' Eclectric Oil, the destructive malady is deprived of its power. Pain is also subdued by this benign healing agent—corns, sores, frost-bites, burns, and other troubles.

THE GREAT FODDER PLANT. A great want supplied to these that require green forage. It has been proved in many cases that 100 tons of green feed can be grown per acre, 10 tons when dry. It is the first grn e feed in the Spring and the last in the Autumn. It yields vigorously the entire season that the ground is open from frost. From four to five cuttings can be made in a season. No other food so good will fatten stock so quickly and so well and give such a great flow of milk.

The leaves are greedily eaten by horses, cattle and swine.—American Agriculturist, Aug. 1877...It will improve the yield and quality of milk very much. Comfrey and water will grow pigs fast.—AM. AGR., Nov., 1878...Regards it as especially valuable for farming purposes. Once planted in a yard, it will supply of fresh vegetable food.—Am. Agr., March, 1879. No plant is so easily established. Once set, only a few weeks kept down for a short time, no further labor is required, but the liberal application of manures, each year.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

For Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Erysipelas, Rose, or St. Anthony's Fire, Eruptions and Eruptive diseases of the skin, Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Tumors, Boils, Blotches, Tumors, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers, Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa, arising from internal ulceration, and Uterine disease, Syphilitic and Mercurial diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, General Debility, and for Purifying the Blood.

This Sarsaparilla is a combination of vegetable alteratives — Stillingia, Mandrake, Yellow Dock — with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, and is the most efficacious medicine yet known for the diseases it is intended to cure.

Its ingredients are so skillfully combined, that the full alterative effect of each is assured, and while it is so mild as to be harmless even to children, it is still so effectual as to purge out from the system those impurities and corruptions which develop into loathsome disease.

The reputation it enjoys is derived from its cures, and the confidence which prominent physicians all over the country repose in it, prove their experience of its usefulness.

Certificates attesting its virtues have accumulated, and are constantly being received, and as many of these cases are publicly known, they furnish convincing evidence of the superiority of this Sarsaparilla over every other alterative medicine. So generally is its superiority to any other medicine known, that we need do no more than to assure the public that the best qualities it has ever possessed are strictly maintained.

A Lecture to Young Men
ON THE LOSS OF

MANHOOD

We have recently published a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage &c., resulting from excesses.

☞ Price in sealed envelope, only 6cts. or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hand of every youth and every man in the land. Address,

It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jeweled medal by the National Medical Association. February 21th, 1881.

In the first terrible winter spent by the Pilgrims at Plymouth, in Massachusetts, the seeds of pulmonary diseases were planted, and took deep root in families which became the progenitors of thousands of the American people. The prevalence of consumption, thus early developed, elicited the attention of the most eminent physicians and scientific men to an investigation of its cause and the means of prevention and cure. For the best results of professional studies on this subject, combined in Dr. J. C. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, reference is confidently had as the world's remedy for coughs, colds, consumption and other diseases of the throat and lungs. We believe it to be absolutely certain in its remedial effect. It is a safe, pleasant and reliable remedy, and may be relied on in every host that will prove, in many cases of colds, coughs &c., a means of preventing more serious results.—Lisbon (N. H.) Republican Press.

GIVEN UP BY THE DOCTORS.

Where doctors have failed to cure and have given their patients up to die, Electric Bitters have often been used, and a sure effected, greatly to the astonishment of all. Diseases of the Stomach, Liver, Kidneys and Urinary Organs are positively cured by Electric Bitters. They invariably cure Constipation, Headache and all Bilious Attacks. Try them, and be convinced that they are the best medicine ever used. Sold by Jas. Clarke & Co.

T. Burrows, of Wallingford, writes: that he was cured of a very dangerous case of self-mutilation of the lungs, solely by the use of five bottles of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Every druggist says it is consoling to the people to know that it mentions to cure them in his travels, and it nearly every instance it was effected.

Jas. Shannon, Lambton, says: For many years my wife was troubled with chronic rheumatism, and could get no relief until about two years ago; she was then so unable to walk, and in pain was so excruciating, that she could not sleep at night. Your agent was then on his regular trip, and she asked him if he could get her, He told her Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil was a sure cure. She tried it, and judge of her astonishment within two days the pain was all allayed, and she has restored to its natural condition. It is also the best remedy for burns and bruises I ever used."

EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.—Sold only in packets labelled "JAMES EPPS & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London, Eng." Also makers of Epps's Chocolate Essence for afternoon use.

The Best Field
—FOR—
EMIGRANTS.
An Immense Area of Railroad and Government Lands, of great fertility, within easy reach of permanent market, at extremely low prices, is now offered for sale in Eastern Oregon and Eastern Washington Territory.

These lands form part of the great Grain Belt of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 250 to 800 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded for all parts of the world.

Grain at Portland, Oregon, commands a price equal to that obtained in Chicago.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R. R. is now assured, and guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new railroad line to the Pacific Ocean, with the construction of the network of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R. & N. Co. in the valleys of the Grande Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the lands now open to purchase pre-emption. There is every indication of a continuous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future.

Lands show an average yield of 40 bushels of wheat per acre. No failure of crops ever known.

Railroad Lands offered at the uniform rate of $2.50 an acre.

DAILY ONTARIO

THE NEW SOCIETY REPORTER.

(From the Brooklyn Eagle.)

"Well, how did you get along at the party last night?" asked the city editor of a new reporter whom he had engaged the day before and whom he had sent to write up a social occasion.

"Not very well," responded the new reporter gloomily. "I don't think Brooklyn society is the top notch racket anyhow."

"What's the matter?" demanded the city editor. "Don't they use you well?"

"I can't say they did," rejoined the new reporter. "Now, I went up there last night and waded right into the fun. I asked for the chairman of the party, and told him we were laying out to swell their heads in to-day's issue, and he'd better skip in and introduce me to some of the high bugs if he calculated to have his name mentioned in the report."

"What did he say to that?" asked the city editor, with a calm gleam in his eye.

"He wanted to know who sent me, I told him the main push of the literary staff had fired me in there, and that when I'd got through shaking a leg I'd like some facts about the party. He said I'd give 'em, I told him he'd better get his secretary to heel up pretty lively, or I'd give the whole outfit a deal in the paper. I told him I didn't think every hair on his head a band of music and all playing different tunes."

"And what did he say to that?" inquired the city editor, the gleam deepening ominously.

"Oh, he said he was a friend to the Eagle, and would do what he could for me. I told him that would letter hop right at it, and first I wanted a nice full card, and he calculated to hold the friendship of the Eagle, I said, he didn't want to make much fuss any business before he had me bumping around in the party. He said if I'd go upstairs and take off my hat and overcoat he'd see me later."

"Did you do it?" asked the city editor in a constrained tone.

"No. I said I wanted some grub first. So he took me down in the front kitchen and asked me if I liked boned turkey. I told him I'd take a leg and wing of the breast. What do you think he gave me? Head cheese! If he didn't you can lick me. I couldn't eat that, so I asked him for a glass of beer and a cheese sandwich. He said he had some wine, so I drank a bottle and put a couple in my pockets.

"What did you do then?" interrogated the city editor, fingering a length of gas pipe.

"I went up to the parlor, and he said I'd better take a description of the scene before I danced, and he gave me a pencil. Here they are: Mary Monroe, red frock, white sack and hair bunched; Emma Lattrops, yellow dress and high-heeled slippers; Marion Willoughby, some kind of thin stuff, white, and tied up with blue tape, and hair frizzed; Jennie Merchison, black clothes and a feather in her hair; Ella Wexford, red hair and gray suit, flat in front and stuck out behind; Pauline Tresley—I tell you, boss, she was a daisy. Diggers in fish and dress to the top branch. She had on a velvet cut outfit a mile long and sixteen rows of teeth on her gloves. Her hair was a dead yellow, tied up like a bun and had a lot of vegetables in it. Florence Rose, green cress, flipped with velvet and finished up at the side with a white check rose; Minnie Abernethy, white not worth with read streaks, walked with a limp and hair frescoed. That's all I got. There was a lot of old peasants there but I knew you didn't want to write them, and as for the men, I told 'em it would cost 'em a dollar apiece to get in, and as they wouldn't put up I shove 'em. I can state that they were a cheap lot who don't know any more how to society than a pig does of politics, and that'll teach 'em a lesson. And I say, we'd better give the chairman a rub. He didn't introduce me to a solitary girl, and because that he hasn't paid his gas bill for seven months, and that day before yesterday his accounts were found short. What do you think?"

"Got any more about the party?" demanded the city editor, rising slowly.

"Nothing, except that the grub was fit to eat, though furnished by that popular caterer, Mr. Traplangeer. I told him I'd give him a puff in the Eagle, as I knew that the whole party was a fake, and that on account of the villainous treatment to which our new society reporter was subjected when he asked for a handful of cigars. Say, what have you got for me to do to-night?"

"Not a thing!" yelled the city editor, as he brought the gas pipe across the new reporter's ear. "You infernal reptile, don't you know that was one of the best houses in town and the affair the finest of the season?"

"I'm going back to St. Paul," groaned the new reporter, as he fell down stairs. "If that's Brooklyn society, I'm going where they have some style," and he struck off towards the Northwest, largely afoot.

HORRIBLE STORY OF CRUELTY.

A horrible story of cruelty to a 12 year old girl comes from Columbiana county in the eastern part of Ohio, near the Pennsylvania line. A girl named Cora Bloom, whose father had been killed by a fall a year ago, had been adopted by a man named Sam Neigh. A few days since she came to the house of some people whom she knew, begging to be allowed to stay, saying the Neighs were killing her. An examination by a physician showed deep scalp wounds, a broken finger, a hand burned almost to the bone with a red hot poker, a cheek from which a piece of flesh had been bitten, a fractured pelvis and other injuries of a nameless character, and a body so bruised that no spot the size of a man's hand remained void of injuries of some sort.

The girl's story is that nearly all these injuries had been inflicted by a girl sixteen years of age, the daughter of old Neigh, who had been encouraged and aided in the devilish work by the parents. The cruelties were begun soon after her introduction into the family. Often these fiends would beat her with her father's cane and sometimes with a poker, cutting through the scalp. Once she held her up by one foot and beat her with the cane, fracturing the pelvis bone, and inflicting other and nameless injuries.

Once she struck her across the hand, breaking a finger; once she bit a piece of flesh from her cheek, and at another time sunk her teeth into the child's hand. For variety in this amusement—for the cruelties seem to have been practiced as entertainment only—she would bend the girl's fingers back, drawing the skin tightly across the palm of her hand, and proceed to perforate it with a pin, and, on other occasions, beat her head against the wall until she fell to the floor exhausted and senseless.

In these refined sports the father and mother of the young lady seem to have taken a part, kicking her about the room, and on one occasion burning her hand nearly to the bone with a red hot poker. The citizens of the neighborhood have become aroused and are indulging in dire threats against old Neigh and his family. He, in turn, has become alarmed and a few days since paid the girl's doctor bill of $50, and gave his note for $1,500, payable to her intended father, with interest, as a sort of acknowledgement of the injuries done her.

SIR GEORGE COLLEY.

Sir George Colley had a knowledge of South Africa that it would be difficult to equal. As an officer with his regiment, and subsequently as a border magistrate in Caffraria, he gained a prudence under the administration of Sir George Grey. In '76 he accompanied Sir Garnet Wolseley to Natal and there visited the Transvaal, or, as it then was, the territory of South African Republic, upon the condition of which he wrote a valuable report. He again went to South Africa in 1878 as chief of the staff to Sir Garnet Wolseley, when after the conclusion of the Zulu war, he passed with the rest of the headquarters staff into the Transvaal. The disturbances in Afghanistan upon the death of Louis Cavagnari recalled him to India, where, then, at the time private secretary to the Viceroy, he had proceeded on leave to South Africa. Possessing, therefore, a knowledge of public affairs, Sir George Colley had had the opportunity of adding a special acquaintance with the men concerning Great Britain's South African empire. He had the spare frame and erect figure of the man trained to arms. Although of no more than middle height, his presence was yet dignified and commanding. The face was grave; the eyes clear and penetrating; the forehead, broad and massive, escaped the loftier from the premature baldness, which much brain work had probably produced; the mouth was resolute, and might have been termed too stern did it not relax so easily at the slightest hint of a joke, for Sir George Colley had a keen sense of humor and the most unaffected appreciation of fun. His manner was modest and perfectly unobtrusive. It may never be exactly known in this generation how far the Indian policy of Lord Lytton was affected by his advice. But one may report tends to throw upon Colley no small share of responsibility for the Afghan war, and it is at least certain that he was the close friend and confidant of the late Louis Cavagnari, whose capacity he was one of the first to discover, and that, like him, he received the honor of knighthood at the close of the first phase of the Afghan campaign. Others before Lord Lytton, with whom Colley was associated, have readily admitted his worth. Lord Northbrook, for example, when charged upon leaving Bengal, trusted him fully, and later on invited him to go with him to India, Sir Garnet Wolseley also, who found him a staff officer and adviser on many difficult occasions. The first was on the Gold Coast, when Sir George (then Colonel) Colley brushed new life into the nearly moribund transport service, and made the advance upon Coomassie possible. The second was in Zululand, when Colley was charged in the way from India to act as Sir Garnet's chief of staff. Sir Garnet Wolseley readily acknowledge the valuable services of such a subordinate is natural enough, but he has gone further, and, greatly to his credit, has never omitted to place considered himself Colley's inferior in many respects. A more recent recognition of the latter's worth was Colley's inspired was seen in the acceptance by Sir Evelyn Wood, his senior and superior officer in the service, of the position of brigadier under his orders, and the second in command.

A BAPTIST MINISTER'S EXPERIENCE

I am a Baptist Minister and before I even thought of being a clergyman graduated in medicine but left a lucrative practice for my profession. Several years ago, I was for many years a sufferer from Catarrh. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy Eclectric Oil cured me," I was also troubled with hoarseness and Thomas Eclectric Oil always relieved me. Any wife and child suffering from Diphtheria and Thomas Eclectric Oil cured them" and if taken in time will cure seven times out of ten. I am confident it is a remedy for the most obstinate Cold, or Cough and if any one will take a small teaspoon, and half fill it with sugar, and then place of the spoon into nostril and draw the Oil up with the spoon into the head by sniffing as hard as they can until the Oil falls over into the throat and practice inhaling once a week, I dare say how offensive their head may be, it will clean it out and cure their Catarrh. For Deafness and Sore Throat I have found it to my certain knowledge. It is the only medicine dubbed patent medicine that I have ever felt like recommending and I am very cautious to see it in every place, for I tell you that I would not be without it in my house for any consideration, I am now a Sufferer with a pain like Rheumatism in my right limb and sole, relieves me like Thomas Eclectric Oil.

OUR customers are generally aware that we received our usual Spring assortment of SCARFS and FANCY DRY GOODS much earlier this year than usual; but our sales during the months of January and February were so satisfactory, that if the present months' sales prove large, we will be under the necessity of laying in a second supply in most lines. To ensure this we are marking our Spring goods as well as any Winter goods that are left over at an unusually low advance on cost, and we invite customers to compare our prices and value.

We invite special attention to

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Local Brevities.

—The lion has been lively enough lately.

—A very bad day for gathering local news.

—The Council will meet on Monday evening next.

—Two drunks and one tramp were the occupants of the police cells last night.

—The Brighton Mechanics Institute has lately purchased a quantity of new books for that institution.

—The Cramahe cheese factory made 67,512 pounds of cheese, last year; 699,778 pounds of milk were received.

—Over 200 tons of freight were forwarded, and over 90 tons received at the Hastings station, the Star says, during January.

—The steamer Empress of Ind a, now lying at Picton, is to be sold at Toronto on the 12th. inst. under mortgages held against her.

—The brick for the woollen mills to be erected at Campbellford by Gault Bros. of Montreal, will be furnished by Mr. Foster of this city.

—An Ameliasburgh weather prophet says we are to have an early spring. He founded his prediction on the shape of the wind yesterday.

—The Ottawa deputation returned home last evening, excepting the Mayor and Ald Dickson, who went to Montreal in the interests of the city.

—If any such weather as this prevails at Washington to-day, the inauguration ceremonies will not be preformed under auspicious circumstances.

—Just think of it. Over a thousand newly-married, couples will see President Garfield inaugurated to-day. Won't there be an affectionate crowd?

—The Chief of Police will soon have an immense stock of dangerous weapons, such as revolvers, daggers, slung shots, &c., on hand. Let the supply be stopped.

—The noon express was only four hours late to-day. It might have been later.

—The Toronto and Ottawa Railway surveying party are within a few miles of Madoc, but have not established their head quarters there yet.

—The Bay of Quinte Insurance Co., of Picton, met with but one loss by fire during the past year, and that involved such a trifling amount as to be scarcely worth mentioning.

—Owing to the storm, we suppose, no telegrams have been received up to the time of writing—2 p. m. There is a heavy fall of snow over the eastern section of Ontario and adjoining States.

—Dan Shelby has been added to the Pullman & Hamilton show, as senior partner, and this year they will start out with a "monster aggregation," including a menagerie, and will travel by rail.

—Grants have been given by the Government, of $500 to each of the following roads:—The Hastings Road north of Thanet, also south of Maynooth; Monk Road, west of Bancroft; Monk Road, east of Bancroft; the Page Road, Faraday, and Monteagle Valley Road.

—The bogus butter made from fat or lard is becoming so common in the west that a law is to be passed, compelling dealers to give it its true name. Detroit and Chicago stores are full of it, where it is dispensed as the real article. Perhaps we are being dosed with it here in Canada.

—Mr. R. J. Mottashed, son of Mr. J. Mottashed of Picton, and brother of the popular Dafoe House clerk, has been presented with a watch and chain by his employers in Modesto, California, for his faithfulness in looking after their business. He has only been in their employ eight months.

—It is probable that about seven census enumerators will be appointed for the city of Belleville, one for each ward. The county enumerators will number from two to four for each township, according to size. The Government makes all these appointments, and they will probably be named in a few days.

—During the three months of October, November and December, of last year, there were forwarded from Campbellford, per Grand Junction Railway, 2477 tons of freight, for which the railway received $2,873.58. During the same period 910 passengers were carried from that station, contributing $670 to the earnings of the road.

—The absence of telegrams, and delay of our western mail, deprive us of all telegraph and general news reports to-day. There is an old saying that misfortunes never come singly, and our experience to-day sustains the adage. The Grand Trunk combined with the snow storm in depriving us of that, without which, a newspaper these days seems dull and uninteresting.

—A new servant girl was lately employed in a family residing not a thousand miles from Belleville. Soon after being domiciled she took to her bed with a severe attack of the measels. When she recovered the blankets were taken from the bed and hung out on the line to be aired. Some thief stole them at night, and now that family are anxiously enquiring for the next case of measels.

—The Marmora correspondent of the Review says:—A short time ago, as Mr. James W. Campion was driving some sheep through the Great Dismal Swamp, some unwelcome visitors made their appearance on the scene in the shape of two large wild cats or lynxes of ferocious aspect, but happily for himself and his many friends of the fair sex he managed to escape without injury.

RUNAWAY.—About six o'clock last evening a horse belonging to Adam Henry, grocer, came running down the sidewalk on Front Street with one fill attached, having left the sleigh, pretty badly smashed, on the other side of the river. Several persons had a very narrow escape from being knocked down and run over. The horse started from somewhere in the Grove.

ANNUAL CONCERT.—One week from this evening—Friday March 11th—the Tabor nacle M. E. Sabbath School purpose holding their annual concert. The programme just published shows a higher order of entertainment of this class than usual, and while highly creditable to any school, should command the presence of all interested in the work, even to the crowding of the church.

NEW CARS.—Two more new coaches for the Grand Junction Railway arrived yesterday from Cobourg, where they were manufactured by Mr. James Crosson. One of them was a passenger coach, and the other a post office, baggage, and smoking car combined. The new coaches are just the same as the two formerly received from Mr. Crosson, are very handsomely finished, both on the outside and in, and are alike creditable to the manufacturer and the railway.

HOLLOWAY ST METHODIST CHURCH, WEST BELLEVILLE.—The annual missionary sermons will be preached in the above church next Sunday. In the morning by Rev. W. J. Hunter, D.D., of Toronto, and in the evening by Rev. Henry Steinhauer, an Indian who has been for many years a missionary in the North West. The annual missionary meeting will be held the following Tuesday evening, when these gentlemen will deliver addresses on missions.

POLICE COURT.—Peter Malec and William Stott were the only prisoners before the P. M. this morning, both charged with drunkenness. Malec was also charged with assaulting Emma Anderson, a Swede, and was remanded until Tuesday next, at the prisoner's request. Stott was remanded for one week, in order to give him a chance to sober up. A couple of timber cases, and one of assault, preferred by Mary Babcock against Kitty Harrison, were also disposed of.

VENNOR'S LATEST.—Vennor has issued the following:—"There will be a rapid moderation on the 4th or 5th to warmth, but the temperature will again fall on Sunday night or Monday, and a week of extremely cold and stormy weather is likely to ensue, with some very heavy snow falls. The 17th and 18th days, (possibly the 16th), come within another downward curve of the weather line, as do also the 24th and 25th. Montreal has yet to experience the heaviest snow falls of the winter. Saturday next is likely to be slushy."

INSPECTION SOLICITED.—We have to-day received our Scotch and Irish Suitings for Spring and Summer wear, and claim they are the finest assortment that will be shown in the city this season.

JAMES HENNESSY.

INCENTIVES FOR INCREASING POPULATION.—Sir Leonard Tilley having clearly shown by his carefully prepared Budget statement that Canada is more prosperous under a protective duty, and that the N P. has been a great boon to our manufacturers it is a little strange that the founders of this great policy should neglect the fountain head of all nations' wealth, and keep Babies on the free list. N. Davenport. Hatter and Furrier, being convinced that the party now in power will never give this great struggling industry the attention it deserves, will give prizes to every Baby born in the Counties of Hastings and Prince Edward during next December (1881,) as follows:—

For every Girl Baby—1 handsome Fur Hood.
For every Boy Baby—One Fur Turban.
For every Pair of Twins—Two Silver Cups.
For Triplets—One twenty dollar gold piece.

A physician's certificate is expected with every application for a prize, and it is to be hoped that Babies will not be imported into Hastings and Prince Edward from Addington, Lennox and Northumberland Counties. Please remember while waiting for the "Little Ones" that N. Davenport has the largest and finest stock of Hats and Caps in Central Canada.

"A PLACE FOR EAERY MAN."

Lecture by Rev. A. Turnbull, M. A., before the students of Ontario Commercial College.

The above was the subject of a most instructive lecture by the Rev. A. Turnbull, M. A., to the students of the Commercial College yesterday afternoon. Thos. Holden, Esq., occupied the chair. That there is a Place for every man, and a place for every Man, he showed in an admirable manner. He urged that it was a good thing for a man to cultivate and develop some specialty; he might not find the opportunity of using special knowledge at once, but he would be prepared to do the work, requiring special knowledge when the opportunity offered. Thoroughness was one point the lecturer dwelt upon. A man should be master of his business, and the time that could be spared from business should be employed in the cultivation of mind and the preservation of vigor of body. Regarding mistakes, the lecturer said employers of young men don't find fault so much with the making of mistakes as with the repeating of them. A man may not find his place at once, but if he has it in him to deserve to achieve a large place in the world, he will be levelled up to it. The use a young man should make of his employer's time was pointedly dwelt on. They should not be "eye servants," working while the master's eye was on them, but, with singleness of heart as unto God," they should be about their employer's business as if it were their own. Reading newspapers during office hours, or idling away time for which a man was paid was wrong. The lecturer took up many points that want of space prevents us mentioning, and at the close he was loudly cheered.

At the conclusion of the lecture Mr. Thos. Holden addressed the students for about 15 minutes. He commended to them the sound advice given them in the able lecture they had just heard. He said he considered the training imparted in the College as one of the most valuable things a man could possess. Commercial education, such as was given by experienced and practical accountants in this Institution, would be of service to a man in any occupation in life. He regretted that before commencing to practice his profession he had not obtained such a knowledge of book-keeping and accounts as was here given, and he knew many lawyers and even judges who shared his regret. Often in court for want of such knowledge both lawyers and judges are completely nonplussed. He concluded by congratulating the Principals upon the high reputation the College enjoyed throughout the country, and expressing his pleasure at seeing double the number of students he had anticipated.

—The reported arrest of Haney, the Rochester gunsmith in Texas turns out to be a mistake.

Return of the Deputation.

THE MISSION TO OTTAWA PRONOUNCED A SUCCESS.

The civic deputation that visited Ottawa in the interest of the Grand Junction Railway and Murray Canal returned home last night, with the exception of Mayor Patterson and Mr. Dickson, who extended their visit to Montreal for the purpose of inspecting a cotton factory there. The report furnished by the returned members, as to the result of their interview with the Government, is highly satisfactory. They succeeded in having the amalgamation clause of the Quebec and Ontario Railway scheme defeated in committee, as will be seen by report of proceedings elsewhere. This is an important point for Belleville, for had the scheme as originally introduced been carried through committee, it would have passed the House, and then, as Mr. Jellett expresses it, "good-bye to Belleville." Mr. Bickford, who is engineering the Quebec and Ontario scheme, would, if the amalgamation idea had been adopted, sell his interests in the Grand Junction, and make it a part of the new line.

With regard to the Murray Canal, both Sir John Macdonald and Mr. Pope, the acting Minister of Railways, assured the deputation that the Government was fully committed to an immediate construction of the work, and that the item of $25,000 was not intended as a bait for votes in the pending East Northumberland election. They could not promise, however, that an increased vote would be recommended this session; but the deputation profess to have reason to believe that when the Supplementary Estimates are brought down next week an additional $25,000 will be recommended for this purpose. Work on the Canal will be commenced without delay, and pushed forward to completion as rapidly as the public funds will admit. We trust all these promises and expectations will be realized.

From our own correspondent.

MADOC ITEMS.

A farmer named Robert Delaney, living a short distance from here, had his barn and its contents destroyed by fire, Sunday night. All his live stock was saved. Insured in the L. L. and Globe for $300.

Scarlet fever of the worst type has broken out in the village. So far there has been only two deaths. Not many cases are reported as yet. With care, the doctors hope to smother it on the start.

A young woman, lately working at some hotel in Belleville, was arrested by Mr. Sills, some 30 miles north of this, on a charge of having stolen a number of things from that hotel and its boarders. She was brought to town and tried before A. F. Wood, Esq., J. P. Nothing whatever was proven, to in the slightest way convict her. Case discharged with costs against complainant.

Racing seems to be the ruling passion of sporting men in this place. Horse-racing was not enough, but a dog race must be gotten up. Some amusing incidents occurred in connection with the race. Some of the dogs would fight, some stop, and altogether displayed lack of training. Several bets were made of $5. The distance was something about ¼ of a mile. Time not taken.

The sale of Mrs. Hudgins hotel, as advertised, took place at six p. m., on Monday last. The property was purchased by Mr. P. R. Palmer, of Belleville, for $1,900.

Messrs. R. R. Casement & Co., are preparing to open a first-class hardware store in Mr. E. D. O'Flynn's old stand. This makes the second store in that line in Madoc.

Mr. Neil Todd has sold his stand to H. Corby, Esq., of Belleville, who has put in a first-class stock of flour and feed. This supplies a want long felt by the citizens of this place. We can now purchase the best flour at very suitable prices.

The bazaar in connection with the R. C. Church has been a grand success. Something over a thousand dollars were made, leaving between eight and nine hundred dollars clear. The election contest for a gold headed cane between Miss Minnie O'Brien and Miss M. Thompson, resulted in a victory for Miss Thompson by a majority of 500. Fully $500 dollars were realized by this alone.

There is a slight misunderstanding between the head teacher of the model school and some of the pupils. There seems to be a rule (whether made by the teacher or trustees is not generally known) that some three or four times a day, pupils ill or not must go out, and form in a line in the yard, and march into the school house in Indian file. This makes the last scholar some 3 or 4 minutes late in getting in. On these bitterly cold days with the agne and very severe sore throats it is cruelty to force such scholars to go out of a warm room and stand shivering in the cold for even one minute. One lady was obliged to leave the school because she really could not stand it, the teacher telling her she must stand it or go home. I don't pretend to say which is in the right, but by almost every body this rule is looked upon as silly. It does very well for summer but not for winter."

Madoc, March 2nd, '81.

AN EDITOR'S WIFE.—The editor of the Carterville, Ga., Express says:—"There is a little brown-eyed, enthusiastic, high-spirited lady, who, after she has cooked breakfast, cleared the things away, set the house to rights, attended to the call of the bread waggon, and milked the cow, does her hat and cloak and comes to the office, yanks us up out of the editorial easy chair, pounces on the exchanges, amputates every item of interest, stacks them on the copy hook, grabs up a Faber, travels it over a quire of editor's manuscript paper, removes her snowy-white apron, shoves up her sleeves, grabs a stick and rule, and sets it all up in type, reads the proofs and corrects

ENGINE STATION.

To the Editor of the DAILY ONTARIO.

DEAR SIR,—I believe there has been a committee appointed by the City Council to look up and report on some suitable place in the city to build a Fire Shed and Hall for No. 1 Engine; and also to report on some more suitable place for either, holding the Police Court, or at least the Police Cells. Of course the most convenient place would be either the Lister or Trusiech property, on the east side of the lower bridge, but I am afraid the amount that would be asked for either of these properties would be a far greater amount than the city would be willing to expend. But the property I would suggest for the city to buy would be the east corner of the McGuire property, at the southwest end of the lower bridge. At this place a lot 66 ft. front on Bridge-st. and 150 ft. deep could be obtained at I think a very reasonable price, and a good substantial building could be built, to be used as fire hall for the Engine and Hook and Ladder, and also for a Fireman's Hall, and plenty of room could be had for good healthy Police cells and Police Court office. This I think is one of the most convenient and available portions of the city, and is within two minutes walk of the principal business streets and offices, and no doubt could be purchased at a very reasonable price. The only objection to it, would be on account of its being on the west side of the river, and in case of a fire the bridge might possibly be swept away and the engine could not be brought over.

But this should be no objection. We on the west side are as much entitled to have one of the fire engines on our side of the river as those on the east, as our property is as valuable to us and as liable to fire as those properties on the east side, and as to the bridge being swept away, it is the duty of our City Council to provide against any exigency of the kind. I hope the Committee will give this property a thorough investigation before purchasing elsewhere.

Yours &c.,
WEST BELLEVILLE.

A BIG FAMILY.—A correspondent at Little Current, on Manitoulin Island, sends the Manitowaning Expositor some particulars of a tea-meeting lately held at that place. He mentions, among other things, the following circumstance: "The place was crowded to its utmost capacity, and of the 66 forming the audience, 57 consisted of W. Skippin, sr., and his family. Mr. Skippin is 66 years of age and counting his wife, his sons and their wives, his daughters and their husbands, and all their children, he has one of a family to each year of his age. The old gentleman and some of his grand children rendered a chorus very nicely.

ORANGE APPEAL.—A cable telegram was recently received by Mr. H. Merrick, M. P. P., grand master of the grand lodge of British North America, from Mr. William Johnston, well known in connection with the Orange order in Ireland, dated from Dublin, as follows: "Orange emergency committee solicit aid from Canadian brethren to resist land league tyranny and relieve persecution of Irish loyalists." The Orange authorities here are disposed to comply with the request, and circulars will shortly be issued by Mr. Merrick to lodges throughout Canada asking for contributions.

FOUND FROZEN TO DEATH.—The person found dead near Acton Wednesday evening proved to be Miss Catherine Keith, aged 18, whose parents live about three miles from Acton. It appears that Miss Keith started about a week ago to walk home, a distance of about six miles, from Mr. Finlay Macallum's Scotch block, where she had been working, and when within half a mile from home, it is supposed, she sank down exhausted, and was frozen to death. Mr. Macallum supposed she had reached home safely, while her parents were not aware she had left Mr. Macallum's. The road by which she was returning is one very seldom used, which accounts for her having lain so long in the snow. When found she was nearly covered by a snow drift and was frozen stiff. She was a strong, robust girl, and generally liked by all who knew her.

A REMARKABLE MEETING.—On Thanksgiving Day, in New York, four young men and their wives met for a social dinner. One of them was cashier in a leading New York Bank; one of them was book-keeper of a large Insurance Office; another was confidental clerk in a mercantile warehouse; the fourth was a rising young lawyer. The wives of all were intelligent and accomplished and moved in good society. The dinner was given at the house of one of the party. It was a genteel residence, handsomely furnished. The hand of taste and liberality adorned the dwelling and presided over the table. These four young women were taken out of the streets of New York, when they were little children, by Christian women. They were removed from the reeking atmosphere of vice and blasphemy, and brought under the genial influence of religion. They were turned from the black pathway that thousands tread, to the narrow way of intelligence and purity. The young men were born in the dark chambers of New York, where the depraved herd by hundreds.

RECENT EVENTS.

—Mrs. Christie, of Montreal, who brought her husband lately before the Police Court for assault, has taken an action against him for separation on ground of cruelty.

—Half a million cattle, worth $5,000,000, perished in the storms of this unparalleled winter on the Kansas cattle ranges alone. Montana and Wyoming will have similar reports to make.

A WILD IRISHMAN.

The Montreal Post, which professes to be an organ, if not the organ, of the Irish Catholics, has capped the climax of journalistic impudence and ignorance. The grace beauty virtues of the Irish women who attended the late ball at Montreal are extolled to the seventh heaven by the editor. But the laudation of his country women can provoke no objection, as the fair ladies in attendance at the festivities mentioned may have deserved all the praises they received. If the enthusiastic editor had stopped there, no one would have criticised his eulogium, however fulsome. He did not, and hence made himself ridiculous. He avowed that royalty itself could not escape the censuring attractiveness of his countrywomen, and that the present Duke of Cambridge and the Prince of Wales married Irishwomen, but that the marriages were annulled to enable them to form their present martial arrangements. It is needless to say that this statement is utterly devoid of the slightest grain of truth. In all seriousness, let us ask the thoughtful Irishmen of this Dominion, as well as the heads of the Catholic Church, if they think their cause can be served by such journalism, and if it is not their duty to disavow and thus extinguish the Montreal Post.

—W. N. Birch, Governor of the Bank of England, will represent England at the Monetary Conference.

—The charter elections in Oswego on Tuesday resulted in a decisive Republican victory, although the Democrats claim a gain over the election of a year ago. The returns show the Republicans elected the Mayor, four Aldermen, four Supervisors and Collector. The Democrats elected four Aldermen, four Supervisors, Collector and Justice of the Peace. The Council for 1881 stands 10 Republicans and 7 Democrats.

ECCENTRIC DIVINES.

Talmage went to Montreal recently, and prophesied millenniums and a mighty battle of the nations, wherein the Lord Jesus Christ in person was to lead the hosts to victory. And he enunciated these things with hand-flourishing.

Whereat Rev. A. J. Bray grew incensed and spoke in the first person in the columns of his Spectator, wildly, depreca tingly.

Rev. Dr. Wild of this city, has been saying lately that Jeremiah sailed a ship to Ireland, and that the human body is an epitome of the universe, containing in it gold, brass, glue, boots and shoes, together with spectacles and varnish. And he, too, raises his hands aloft, strokes his beard, and walks to and fro.

Whereat Rev. A. J. Bray grew incensed, and again spoke in the columns of his Spectator, wildly, depreciatingly.

Why these things should be it is not easy at first to divine. But from the article on "First Fiddles" that appeared on Saturday in the Spectator one is led to believe that the question with the rev. editor is one of "first fiddles"—a contention as to who is first fiddle, the rev. editor himself or the two other divines.

But if we remember aright the rev. editor's hair is as captivating as the locks of Dr. Wild, and his cuff-buttons, when he throws his arms aloft, even more conspicuous than those of the prophet preacher, and his pacings to and fro on the platform indeed cannot be excelled. Why then the rev. editor should be so apprehensive of his notoriety is not so apparent.—Word.

DAILY ONTARIO

FRIDAY, MARCH 4, 1881.

Now that the Coercion Act has been passed through all the necessary stages and is in operation, the Army Bill in a fair way of being speedily adopted, and other important measures well advanced, the Irish Land Bill may be expected soon. Lord Bessborough, chairman of the Land Commission appointed by Mr. Gladstone to enquire into the working of the land laws in Ireland, and report the result of their enquiries to the Government, has recommended the concession of the three F's. This is taken as an indication that the Bill, when introduced, will include these important requisities. If the Irish tenants get the three F's, which signify fair rents, free sales, and fixity of tenure, they should be satisfied; and if, as is quite probable, they also get for their children the three R's, they should be as happy and contented as any tenants under the sun. Much will be expected from a measure framed for so important a purpose, and under such urgent circumstances, by a Liberal Government, and we believe Mr. Gladstone will not disappoint the expectation of his admirers.

THE COUNTY OF HASTINGS.

The Agricultural Commission report furnishes a large amount of valuable information about each County in the Province. The soil of Hastings is described as sandy loam predominating, but clay, clay loam, and black sandy loam are frequently met with. The average depth of sandy loam in some townships is two feet. The subsoil is variable—sometimes quick-sand, at others gravelly, hardpan, or rock. A considerable portion of the land is unfit for cultivation, especially in the Township of Lake, which reports only 5,000 acres adapted to agricultural purposes, out of a total area of 63,160 acres. Of the whole county about 28 per cent. of the surface is too stony, or has rock too near the surface to be cultivated—the balance is made up of rolling, bottom, swampy, or spring lands and lakes. About 26 per cent. of the cleared lands is reported first-class for agricultural purposes, about 37 per cent. second-class, and the remainder third-class. These figures are necessarily approximate, as some of the township returns show averages which obviously include uncleared land, considered cultivable—and not, as contemplated by the questions, land actually cleared and cultivated.

The county is said to be generally well watered by springs, creeks, and wells. Water can be obtained by digging at depths varying from four to twenty-five feet. There are, besides, numerous small lakes, particularly in the northern section of the county.

In some of the front townships first-class land is worth from $60 to $100 per acre, according to quality and location; second-class is quoted at from $10 to $50 per acre; and third from $1.50 to $20 per acre. Farms can be rented at from $1 to $4 per acre. In the rear townships there are some free grant lands.

There is said to be a large proportion of land in this county still uncleared of stumps—very few of which are pine.

The fences are generally good, and the material employed is principally cedar, ash and pine.

There are few stone or brick dwellings; frame and log buildings predominate, and of those nearly 60 per cent. are reported to be inferior. Of the outbuildings about 37 per cent are reported first class; the remainder are inferior.

Drainage, as yet, has not been extensively resorted to. Only in one township (Thurlow) does it appear that tile has been used, even to a very limited extent. Stone is generally used in underdraining.

In some townships farming machinery has not yet been introduced—in others, where agricultural conditions are favorable they are largely used. Thus, while in Sidney 100 per cent. of the farmers use machines, in Carlow, Dungannon, and other townships they are practically unknown.

Plaster and salt have been used, to a limited extent, in 7 out of 24 townships, principally on roots, grain and clover.

About 50 percent of the uncleared land is set down as fit for cultivation when cleared.

The township acreage is given as 883,411; the cleared acreage as 390,943. Of the latter an inconsiderable area is devoted to fall wheat, except in Madoc, where an area of 25,000 acres yields an average of 15 bushels to the acre. It is impossible to arrive at even an approximate estimate of the proportions of the acreage devoted to the several cereals and roots from the returns rendered, but a tolerable idea may be formed of the average yield, which may be set down as follows: Fall whet, 16 bushels per acre; spring, 15 bush; barley, 32 bush; oats, 60 bush; rye, 16 bush; peas, 17 bush; corn, 38 bush; buckwheat, 23 bush; potatoes, 135 bush; turnips, 200 bush; other root crops, 200 bush; hay 1½ tons per acre. In some townships hardly any land is devoted to pasturage, the cattle remaining at large in the bush; in other the proportion is largest in the Townships of Huntingdon and Hungerford to the extent of one-third of the cleared acreage. In these townships cheese making, for export, is extensively carried on—the Hastings cheese factories having established quite a European reputation. In the front townships, barley is a large and profitable crop. Here, the average yield is not less than forty bushels per acre, and the quality ranks A 1, with American maltsters.

Hastings is, on the whole, best adapted for stock raising and dairying, but grain growing has been largely developed in some of the older townships, also fruit culture in some of the southern townships.

The common grades of cattle and horses are most extensively raised in the county. Few thoroughbreds have as yet been introduced. The townships sustain 31,485 horned cattle, 12,325 horses, 23,525 sheep, and 10,983 hogs. The Townships of Monteagle and Lake make no return of animals, and in Bangor the number of hogs has not been taken by the Assessor.

A large proportion of the acreage is still covered with timber—in some townships to the extent of seventy-five per cent.

Gold mining is very extensively carried on in Madoc and Marmora; and iron mining is likely to have increased development. Cheese making is the most important industry carried on in the county. The Cheese export from the Bay of Quinte district, to which Hastings is the largest contributor, amounted last season, to about eleven millions of pounds. There are forty-eight cheese factories in the county. The first in Eastern Ontario was started in the Township of Sidney.

The population of Hastings, according to the census of 1871, was 48,364. That of Belleville, according to the returns of the Assessors for 1880-1, was 9,087. In 1877 it amounted to 11,197.

A number of persons in this county have associated with others in the Bay of Quinte district and formed a Fruit Shipping Company, the objects of which are the careful picking, selecting, and packing of fruit, so as to compete in foreign markets with the best fruit growers of the continent. Hastings has a large number of young orchards beginning to bear more fruit than is necessary for home consumption—hence the desirability of the organization. Apples and pears are successfully grown; grapes do well on elevated land, and plums along the bay shore. Peaches are grown, but not to any extent. The best apples grown in the district command 22 shillings sterling per barrel in England, leaving the producer $3 per barrel, clear of all expenses.

In addition to all this it contains many valuable recipes for artisans and housekeepers.

EXODUS FROM CANADA.—It may be only a straw, but a Watertown man notices the Times that a great many poor boys and girles are coming to that section this spring from Canada to look for work, and he suggests that the people be prepared to do as well by them as possible.

MILLIONAIRES.—Mark Antony spent $1,000,000,000 just in sowing his wild oats. Heliogabalus spent $100,000 on one dinner. Old Nero was a trump; he made presents to his friends to the tune of $100,000,000. He was probably running for Parliament, or trying to get a Syndicate through. But, oh Moses! how Agrippina did put on style. Her toilet, on one occasion, cost $1,500,000, and even then her little box of jewelry which she left at home was worth $200,000,000. Give in, Matilda Jane, you can't equal that.

—In Prescott county there is an excess of candidates for legislative honors, some half a dozen names being mentioned in connection with the coming contest.

"TYENDINAGA'S REEVE."

MR. EDITOR, DEAR SIR.—Under this heading, in last weeks issue, some narrow-souled "Grit," and purporting to be from Marysville, had the audacity to assail the fair name and reputation of our illustrious reeve, and complained of the time Mr. Reeve, and complained of the time Mr. White actually wasted at the last County Council session. This is more ingratitude for real worth, and value received. Now, to dispose of this with some degree of justice, it is only fair to admit that representative men, possessed of vast and well stored minds, like Mr. White, always give good values for the time they may occupy during public discussion. It is true, Mr. White was on his feet very often, and fearlessly had his say every time. And possibly it may cost us a few hundred dollars, but what of that? Why, the practical demonstration which he gave of Parliamentary decorum &c., was worth every cent of it; and proved beyond a doubt his superior qualifications, for the Warden's chair, which honorable position his modesty has on more than one occasion prevented him from accepting. Yes, he is certainly a great man, and not only that, but he is the greatest general now living. Historians may squabble and rangle over the supremacy of the dead heroes, but the Reeve of this Township has paddled more canoes, and fought more battles, than any other living White man; and if he has not paid his taxes yet, I believe he will. But unlike all other great generals, his humanity would not permit him to carry anything more deadly than a harmless, single-barrel wind gun, which he handles with wonderful dexterity on all occasions. He has fired one shot in the House of Commons, this session. At a time when the Opposition was most furious over the C. P. R. question, Mr. White saw the inevitable danger that threatened the country, and with a promptness and cheek for which he is notorious bravely told the Hon. E. Blake, it was no use talking, the Government would have over 70 of a majority. And yet you will find people miserable enough to say that the paltry sum of $100 is too much for these valuable services. Mr. Editor, before closing I desire to caution some of our Deputy-Reeves to be very careful not to incur the wrath of Mr. White, or he certainly will strike them every one off the list with a single stroke.

OBSERVER.

Marysville, March 1st. 1881.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Feb. 28, '81.

Everything here is given up to preparations for the rapidly approaching inauguration of Gen. Garfield. The hotels are full to overflowing, and many of our private citizens, inspired to hospitable deeds, and pocketing of a little accommodation money, are opening their houses to the strangers who are unable to find lodging at the usual places. The arches and other decorations being completed will undoubtedly be the finest ever seen in this or any other country. General Sherman, the chief Marshal, whose programme for the procession did not give satisfaction when first issued, has altered it to meet the approbation of all organizations forming a part of the escort of the President. The preparations for the ball are progressing in a manner highly satisfactory, and though every ticket issued will be sold, the arrangements for the accommodation of the holders are so complete that confusion cannot very well happen. The strangers arriving in such numbers are from all parts of the country, though more are arriving from Pennsylvania and Ohio, than from any of the other States.

Of the military forming the procession, Pennsylvania furnishes 6,000 men.

The inauguration will be a grand affair. It is under the management of men whose ability and whose experience in organizing and completing a public demonstration of this kind is well established, and they deserve great credit for the attention to details, and the preparations for the comfort of sight-seers on Friday the fourth of March.

The President gave the last of his receptions and a dinner to the diplomatic corps last Thursday night. Although but three hundred invitations were sent out, there were but one hundred less than four thousand persons present. Of course such a crowd filled the never sufficient Executive Mansion to overflowing. The supper tables, the main attraction to many, were furnished in fine style, and in such quantities that the most hungry went away satisfied. An amusing, but at first alarming, incident occurred. It happened that at the time of supper the House of Representatives was in session, with locked doors, to prevent the egress of members, and under a "call" the Sergeant-at-Arms and his deputies, scouring the city for absent members, which as soon as found were arrested and taken to the Capitol. Several members, to whom legislative duties had no attractions with those of a supper at the White House, were enjoying the festivities, when the sudden entrance of half a dozen bailiffs, and the precipitate retreat of said Congressmen, followed by cries of "There he goes," "catch him," etc, caused a commotion, great because not understood. Some half a dozen members were hagged, and marched off by the merciless officials.

The death of Senator Carpenter for a time threw the Republicans into an agony of doubt concerning the organization of the next Senate, which was to have taken place on the 5th of March. They have, however, gotten around it by postponing the organization until March 10th, thus enabling the Wisconsin legislature to meet, choose, and send a new Senator here.

M. W. W.

—Gatlief, a New York butcher, aged sixty, who has been suffering from a painful disease, slashed his abdomen with a razor on Tuesday night. His intestines gushed out, and he hacked them to pieces and scattered them over the floor. It is the most horrible suicide ever reported in

The Quebec and Ontario Railway.

THE MATTER BEFORE THE COMMITTEE.

The consideration of the Bill to incorporate the Quebec and Ontario Railway was resumed before the Committee on Railways, Canals and Telegraph Lines at Ottawa yesterday morning. The following clause was submitted as a substitute for the general amalgamation clause struck out at the last meeting.

"The company is also authorized and empowered to make the necessary arrangements and to contract and agree with the Credit Valley Railway Company, the Grand Junction Railway Company, the Canada Central Railway Company and the Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa and Occidental Railway Company, or any of them, for amalgamation with the said companies or any of them, or for the acquisition or leasing of the lines thereof, or such parts of the Canada Central Railway and Grand Junction Railway as may, in the opinion of the directors of the company hereby incorporated, be made available to establish early and advantageous through connection between Toronto and Ottawa; and may also make traffic or running arrangements with any of the said companies: Provided that the terms of such amalgamation, acquisition or lease are approved of by two-thirds of the shareholders, present in person, or represented by proxy, at a special general meeting to be held for that purpose, in accordance with this Act."

Mr. Burnham, M. P., of Peterboro', was, on motion, permitted to address the Committee. He urged the necessity for the construction of a straight line. The adoption of the Grand Junction route would greatly lengthen the line, and would not develop the mineral resources of the country. The people of Belleville, who had granted a large bonus to the Grand Junction Railway, were also opposed to this amalgamating power.

Mr. Hillard said that the people of Peterboro were greatly interested in this line, as they had for 25 years been trying to secure the building of this road. He advocated the building of an independent line. He would support the new charter providing a straight line would be built.

Mr. White (Hastings) renewed his amendment, which provides that the company shall build their roads in the most direct line, viz Tweed and Peterborough.

Hon. Mr. Blake said that the promoters of the Bill had stated that it was only desired to use the Grand Junction R. R. temporarily. He submitted an amendment, empowering the company to make running arrangements with the Grand Junction R. R. for a period of four years.

The other amendments were withdrawn in favor of Mr. Blake's, which, after some discussion, was carried by a vote of 43 yeas to 36 nays.

The clause as amended was then adopted.

A clause was added that work should be commenced within one year, and completed within three years.

Mr. Cameron opposed the amendment, as it might be found desirable to acquire the Grand Junction Railway. This was the very object the deputation fought against, and, as the above vote shows, with happy results. Mr. Cameron accused several members of the Committee, including Mr. John White, of being opposed to the entire bill.

Mr. White denied that he was opposed to the Bill, but wanted the most direct line. He had only acted as an independent member of the Committee, and was not going to be crushed by Mr. Cameron, who had all through acted as solicitor for the Grand Junction and other schemes. He hoped the amendment would be carried.

It was pointed out that the promoters of the Bill adhered to the Grand Junction so tenaciously, it was quite evident that they intended to use that line not temporarily, but permanently.

Mr. Boultbee was only afraid that the amendment was not worded so as to prevent the company making running arrangements with the Grand Junction R.R. after the expiration of the four years.

Hon. Mr. Blake did not think this would be possible. In reply to his friend Mr. Baker, he would say that he did not desire to kill the Bill but to save it from a fatal attack of spinal curvature. (Laughter.)

AID TO RAILWAYS.

THE K. & P. AND N. T. & Q RAILWAYS REFUSED ASSISTANCE.

The Ontario Government has decided not to bonus any new roads in Ontario, and in consequence aid was refused to the Napanee, Tamworth and Quebec Railway. The Kingston and Pembroke line was given the cold shoulder for the reason that it had already received a large amount of Provincial aid. In each case the question of aid was discussed on its merits, and aid refused unless a matter of necessity. On this basis the western roads were considered, and also the Ontario Junction. In this case, however, no more aid was given than was previously promised, but it was granted for a longer distance Our local lines did not receive even a respectful mention during the discussion of the bonus question. We won't say whose fault this was, but the extension of both the Grand Junction and B. & N. H. Railways might seem as much a matter of necessity as the construction of some of the western roads that have been liberally bonused. They are not new roads, either.

AN AMUSING THEFT.—About one o'clock Thursday morning Inspector Archibald, on duty at the Central Police Station, Toronto, went to sleep at his desk, and some one came into the station and stole his overcoat, belt and button from the back of his chair. The thief subsequently met John Newhall and sold the lot to him for twenty cents, and the next policeman whom John Newhall met ran him in. Newhall was at once let go on proving how he came by the the property, but raised a great row about his twenty cents.

SERIOUS RAILWAY ACCIDENT.—Late Wednesday evening a serious and painful accident occurred at Parkdale. Miss Mackenzie, a resident of that village, was crossing the track of the Toronto, Grey and Bruce train was approaching the crossing. In endeavoring to escape from the train she was knocked down, and besides receiving slight injuries about the head one of her legs was completely crushed between the knee and ankle. As soon as possible assistance was rendered to the unfortunate lady, and Dr. Lynd summoned, who, on examining the injured leg, deemed its immediate amputation below the knee necessary.

FIXED PRICES.

ESIDES the advantage of Low Prices offered to customers through our system of trading wholly upon a Cash basis, there is this also that is worthy the attention of the pub namely, FIXED PRICES. We take it to be the only just and right way of doing business to mark goods at the lowest price we can afford to sell them and not ask more.

Though we are aware that a large number of people are taken by a practice in many stores of throwing something off the price asked, or professing to give something in, gratis, with a purchase, yet we have no hesitation in saying that the practice is a dishonest one and that little reliance is to be placed on stores which do this.

Where a second price is made, more than the just value is always asked, and the customer, after being put to the annoyance of haggling about the price, gets an abatement, often a very considerable one, and finds after all he has invariably paid more for his goods than we would have asked him in the first place.

For the cure of all the various diseases of the Head, Throat and Chest, including the Eye, Ear and Heart.

But a few weeks or months are required to cure the most obstinate cases of Catarrh, Throat diseases, Asthma, Bronchitis, and the earlier stages of Consumption, when the treatment is conducted under the Doctor's own personal supervision. A word to the wise is therefore sufficient.

All diseases of the respiratory organs treated by medical inhalations.

Inhalations remove hepetization by dissolving the hardened matter existing in the air cells of the lungs, thus enabling the patient to expectorate it with ease, at the same time giving the diseased surface an opportunity to heal.

Inhalations scatter inflammation and soothe the inflamed surface, thus relieving a harassing cough almost immediately.

Inhalations absorb the fleshy excrescences that exist upon the pharyngeal surface in cases of granular throat, and restore the proper vitality of the parts, thus relieving the dryness of the throat and the sensation as if needles were penetrating the mucous membrane of the pharynx.

Inhalations will cure the most obstinate cases of catarrh when combined with proper constitutional and o her topical treatment.

In fact, Inhalations will cure thousands of cases of the breathing organs when all other means have failed.

Let there be no delay, then, in application to the treatment that has stood the test and proved again and again the only hope—the only reliable safeguard and means of restoration.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

For Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Erysipelas, Rose, or St. Anthony's Fire, Tetter, Ringworm, Eruptive diseases of the skin, Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Blotches, Tumors, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers, Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa, arising from internal ulceration, and Uterine disease, Syphilitic and Mercurial disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, Debility, and for Purifying the Blood.

This Sarsaparilla is a combination of vegetable alteratives — Stillingia, Mandrake, Yellow Dock — with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, and is the most efficacious medicine yet known for the diseases it is intended to cure.

Its ingredients are so skillfully combined, that the full alterative effect of each is secured, and while it is so mild as to be harmless even to children, it is still so effectual as to purge out from the system those impurities and corruptions which develop into loathsome disease.

The reputation it enjoys is derived from its cures, and the confidence which prominent physicians all over the country repose in it, prove their experience of its usefulness.

Certificates attesting its virtues have accumulated, and are constantly being received, and as many of these cases are publicly known, they furnish convincing evidence of the superiority of this Sarsaparilla over every other alterative medicine. So generally is its superiority to any other medicine known, that we need do no more than to assure the public that the best qualities it has ever possessed are strictly maintained.

In the first terrible winter spent by the Pilgrims at Plymouth, in Massachusetts, the seeds of pulmonary diseases were planted, and took deep root in families which became the progenitors of thousands of the various people. The prevalence of consumption, thus early developed, directed the attention of the most eminent physicians and scientific men to an investigation of its cause and the means of prevention and cure. The best results of professional studies on this subject are embodied in Dr J. C. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which is now recognized as the world's remedy for coughs, colds, consumption and other diseases of the throat and lungs. We believe it to be absolutely certain in its remedial effects, and a safe, pleasant and reliable remedy, and if kept on hand in every household, will prove, in many cases of colds, coughs, &c., a source of preventing more serious results.—Richmond, Va., Religious Herald.

DAILY ONTARIO

SPRING PETTICOATS.

Lowton Queen:—Petticoats are in great variety just at present, and during the forthcoming spring are to be more so. Instead of stripes, there are colored spots up to a certain height. Red spots on navy-blue ground are most popular just now, as orange and cloth dresses of that color are much worn. Other petticoats are of velveteen, with a pleating of color around the edge, with perpendicular slits cut at distances, piped with the color of the pleating, and laced together with a lace and tags, finished off in a double loop. Plush skirts are cut out in points and having a pleating of satin beneath, with black lace coming out between the points. Kilted black satin skirts have a plain piece of colored, generally red, plush beneath, and some have plush bands at distances laid on the kilting.

ANIMAL INSTINCT.

One butterfly, says a foreign essayist, can tell its mate at once from a thousand other species, though it may differ from some of them only by a single spot or line, which would escape the notice all but the most attentive observers. Must we not conclude that there are elements in the butterfly's feeble brain exactly answering to the blank picture of its specific type? So, too, birds do not suppose that in every nest of animals there arises a preceptive structure specially adapted to the recognition of its own kind? Babies notice human faces long before they notice any other living thing. In like manner we know that like creatures can judge instinctively of their proper food. One young bird, just fledged, naturally pecks at red berries; another exhibits an untaught desire to chase down grasshoppers; a third, which happens to be born an owl, turns at once to the congenial pursuit of small sparrows, mince and frogs.

When we recollect that even so late an acquisition as articulate speech in human beings has its special physical seat in the brain, it is not astonishing that complicated mechanisms should have arisen among animals for the due perception of mates, food and foes respectively. Thus, doubtless, the serpent form has imprinted itself indelibly on the senses of the monkeys, and the wolf or dog form upon those cows; so that, even with a young ape or calf, the sight of these ancestral enemies at once calls up uneasy and terrified feeling in their half-developed minds. Our own infants in arms have no personal experience of the real meaning to be attached to angry tones, yet they shrink from the sound of a gruff voice even before they have learned to distinguish their nurse's face.

THE LAST RESULTS are pleasantly accomplished by that be nigh invigorant, antiperiodic and promoter of digestion, quinine wine, —Northrop & Lyman's Quinine Wine. The laboratory of the chemist never yielded a more salutary preparation, or one in which the ingredients are more completely harmonized. The feeble and nervous derive from it new strength; sufferers from dyspepsia and loss of appetite find that it not only enables them to digest and assimilate properly, but imparts an unwonted relish for foods. Invalids usually suffer from depression of mind. There is no better remedy for despondency, originated by ill-health, than this genial tonic. Pure Sherry and organic constituents of a choice composition, enhance its remedial value, and gave it an agreeable flavor. It promotes convalescence following exhausting malaise, stimulates and fertilizes the circulation, and increases the muscular power. Sleeplessness, twitching of the muscles, trembling of the limbs, and other manifestations of nervous weakness, are speedily remedied by it. When taken during the absence of the river, it is a steady of starting merit for bilious, remittent and intermittent fever. A wine-glassful three or four times a day, will usually be found an effectual preventive of the return of the paroxysms. Intelligent observation and long experience determine the efficacy of this medicine, which has met with wide recognition, and won an unrivalled reputation. No absurd pretensions are put forth in regard to it: the statements in its behalf are plain, straightforward and reliable.

TO THE PUBLIC !
Hopkins' great Single Cylinder, Double Acting, non-Freezing Force Pump, Patented Jan. 31st, 1881.

I have had nearly twenty years experience in handling nearly all kinds of pumps, and I claim to know as much about the principle and working operation of pumps as the most of men. And I affirm that I have the only reliable pump, and the only single cylinder, double-acting, anti-freezing porcelained force pump on a true mechanical principle now before the public. My close attention, observation and experience with my invention have enabled me to protect and cover it in such a way (by patent dated Jan. 31st, A. D., 1881, for fifteen years) that I defy any man to get under, around or over it. Therefore, I can positively assure all persons who may get an interest in this excellent invention that they will have an uninterrupted course of prosperity during the life time of the patent.

I am now in a position for successful operation with my invention, and to give industrious, enterprising persons a good chance to make money by handling the same, for it is conceded by all mechanics and machinists who have examined my pump that it will unquestionably take the place of all other pumps in the market, and hence the broad margin for safe investment and profitable speculation presented in my invention. For further assurance that my invention is all that I claim for it, the people will please call on persons in the City of Belleville who have the pumps in use, and at our shop in O'Brien's Hotel Building, and oblige

GIVEN UP BY THE DOCTORS.

Where doctors have failed to cure and have given their patients up to die, the Electric Bitters have in many cases, and a short effective use of one bottle will prove a better recommendation than a lengthy testimonial. Sold at 50 cents per bottle by T. Bilton & Co.

P Burnam, of Wilmington, Del., says that was cured of a severe case of kidney complaint by the use of Hop Bitters, supplied by the agent of both of them. Yes great pleasure in commending it to the afflicted. [Gazette.] No one we have ever heard of as mentions to our knowledge, and in nearly every instance it was effectual.

Jas. Shannon, Leaksville, says:—For many years my wife was troubled with chills and fever, and could get no relief until about two years ago; she was then not able to walk, and the pain was so excruciating that she could not sleep at night. Your agent was then on his regular trip, and she asked him if he could cure her. He told her Dr. Tomas' Eclectric Oil was a sure cure. She tried it, and judge of her astonishment when in a few days the pain was all allayed and the foot restored to its natural condition. It is also the best remedy for burns and bruises I ever used."

EPPS'S COCOA—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette. Sold only in packets labelled thus: "JAMES EPPS & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London, Eng." Also makers of Epps's Chocolate Essence for afternoon use.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you FREE OF CHARGE. The Best Field
—FOR—
EMIGRANTS.

An Immense Area of Railroad and Government Lands, of great fertility, within easy reach of permanent market at extremely low prices, is now offered for sale in Eastern Oregon and Eastern Washington Territory.

These lands form a part of the great Grain Belt of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 250 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded for all parts of the world.

Grain at Portland, Oregon, commands a price equal to that obtained in Chicago.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R. R. is now assured, and guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the construction of the network of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R. & N. Co. in the valleys of the Great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the lands now open to settlement and pre-emption. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future.

Lands show an average yield of 40 bushels of wheat per acre. No failure of crops ever known.

Railroad Lands offered at the uniform rate of $2.50 an acre.

Marriage Licenses.

MR. J. A. DAWSON having been appointed an Issuer of Marriage Licenses for the County of Hastings, will hereafter be prepared to issue Licenses. Twenty men of the 92th Regiment under a Lieutenant held the point which was most threatened by the Boers. Nothing could exceed the steadiness of these Highlanders. They kept well under cover, and although they fired but seldom they killed eight or ten of the Boers who showed themselves from behind cover. So far our position

APPEARED PERFECTLY SAFE.

The Boers had indeed got between us and the camp, but we had three days' provisions and could hold out until reinforcements came up. Our casualties were, with the exception of that of Commander Romilly, few and unimportant, and all were perfectly confident of the result. Four days seven to twelve the enemy's fire continued hot but harmless as before. Between seven and one it slackened, and it seemed as if the Boers were drawing off. This, however, was not the case. The enemy had been, as was afterwards learned, very strongly reinforcing their fighting line

IN PREPARATION FOR AN ASSAULT.

Shortly after one a terrific fire suddenly broke forth from the right lower slopes of the hilleside, on which the firing had all along been heaviest. A tremendous rush was simultaneously made by the enemy. Our advance, 200 yards off, met nearly all shot or driven back upon our main position. This position may be described as an oblong basin on the top of the hill. Our whole force now lined the rim of the basin, and fixed bayonets to repel the assault. The Boers, with shouts of triumph, swarmed up the sides of the hill, and made several desperate attempts to carry the position with a rush. Each time, however, they were driven back with the bayonet. After each charge the firing, which nearly ceased during the melee, broke out with renewed violence, and the air above us seemed full of bullets. The troops did their duty well and steadily, and trying as was the occasion fought with great coolness, encouraged by the officers.

THE FINAL ASSAULT.

At last the Boers, who had gathered near the edge of the slope, made a tremendous rush at a point beyond that at which they had before been attacking, and where the number of defenders was comparatively small. They burst through the defenders and poured in over the edge of the basin, and our position was lost. The main line of our defenders, their flank turned and taken in reverse, made a rush along the plateau and endeavored to reform and rally, but it was useless. With fierce shouts and a storm of bullets the Boers poured in. There was a wild rush, with the Boers close behind. The roar of firing—the whistling of bullets—the wild yells of the enemy made up a din which seemed infernal. All around men were falling. There was no resistance, no halt.

IT WAS FLIGHT FOR LIFE.

At this moment I was knocked down by the rush and trampled upon, and when I came to my senses the Boers were firing over me at the retreating troops moving down the hill. Trying to rise I was taken prisoner and led away. On the hill I found the body of General Colley, shot through the head. After a conversation with the Boer General I induced him to grant me a pass to come into our camp and bring out succour for the wounded. They were lying thickly both on the plateau and everywhere on the descent of the hill. The Boers were very civil. They took, it is true, the few articles I had about me; but no troops in the world could, on the whole, have behaved better as victors. Talking with me they ascribed their victories not to their arms or bravery, but to the righteousness of their cause. All to the.

COMPLETENESS OF THEIR VICTORY

there can be no question. They carried by sheer fighting a position which their General himself considered, defended by the force at his command, as impregnable. Even now I can hardly understand how it was done, so sudden was the rush, so instantaneous the change from what we considered as perfect safety to imminent peril. Up to the moment when the Boers made this rush they had effected no progress whatever. A few only of our men had been engaged, and the Boers' casualties were trifling in the extreme. A few minutes later they had the crest of the hill, and our men were defending the natural basin in which they had been lying in apparent security. It cannot be denied that the capture of the Majels Hill is an exploit of which any troops in the world might be proud.

A MONTH OF MYSTERY.

Confinement of a Young Woman of New York In Some Unknown Place for More than Thirty Days—Her Release as Mysterious as her Captivity.

Marion Calisch, a 17 year old girl, who disappeared from her home in Hoboken, New York, Jan. 19th, was discovered at Sixth avenue and Forty-second street at midnight recently by a gentleman whom she asked to get her a coach. She stated her name, and was given into the hands of the police who restored her to her parents. Miss Calisch claims that she lost consciousness somehow on the day of her disappearance, and when she recovered, found herself in a bed in a plainly furnished room in a locality strange to her, and attended by a colored woman. She was confined to the room, but not injured or insulted, til the night referred to. Being taken to a police station, to the police officer the girl much agitated, told the following story: "I was troubled sometime with malaria before leaving home on the day mentioned, and seemed to have lost my memory, for all I can say is I travelled a great deal, and only remember awakening at what seems to have been a long time after leaving home and finding myself in a room with a colored woman and a white woman. They had taken my sacque and outer clothing, and I was in bed at the time. They did not seem to hinder my departure, but would not give me my clothes. I then asked them if they would telegraph to my folks, and each time they promised to do, which I believed they did. They kept telling me different stories every day, however, until I finally demanded to be taken home. At first they refused, and said my folks did not want me, or they would call, as they had telegraphed for them, but on my insisting they at last said all right, and last night about 8 o'clock ordered a carriage. Three of us entered and drove about some time, when I began to think they were fooling me. When we were passing the corner of Forty-sixth street and Fifth Avenue I opened the door quickly and sprang out. Where I ran to I don't know, but strolled about until a gentleman (pointing to Mr. Harris) found me trying to get home."

The young woman persisted in the truth of her story, and said repeatedly that she thought she must have been under the influence of some drug, for many things occurred which she could not remember. She was then requested to wait in the captain's room until her folks called, which they did about 2 o'clock this morning. Mr and Mrs. Calisch, and a brother of the girl met together, and the affecting scene ensued. The mother of the young girl clasped her to her breast, and embraced her convulsively, while she sobbed with joy, crying, "My poor child, my poor daughter." The father and brother also exhibited considerable feeling and embraced her and kissed her several times. The whole party seemed unbounded, and, calling a carriage, the father and reunited family hastily drove away.

Mr Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberrys is the most successful medicine known for all summer complaints, diarrhœa, dysentery, cholera morbus, etc. Its effects are marvellous. It acts like a charm; relief is almost instantaneous. In sea-sickness and vomiting it is a specific worth ten times its cost. Equally good for the young, the old, and the middle-aged. If the public are fairly and faithfully dealt with they will come to appreciate it sooner or later. This fact is well illustrated in the experience of Messrs. Tackett & Billings with their well known "Myrtle Navy" Tobacco. Throughout the manufacturers of T. & B. have stood firmly by their original idea to give the public the best article possible, at the lowest possible price, and in the large demand for their tobacco the public have manifested their appreciation.

Nature, after all, is the great pleasure. She hides all the secrets of health within her bread, generous bosom, and man needs but to go to her sympathy for his every need. The discovery of the great Cough Remedy, Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum, is an apt illustration. As a cure for Coughs, Colds, Loss of Voice and Hoarseness it stands unrivalled, while its low price and readiness of access place it within the reach of all. Try it and be convinced. All chemists keep it in 25 and 50 cents bottles.

The efficacy of Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers in curing Coughs, Colds, and all Bronchial Affections, is daily exhibited, and has passed into a proverb. In the United States, where these marvellous Wafers are known, they bear down all opposition and eclipse all rivals; the demand for them has steadily increased for the last twenty years, until now the sales average over one hundred thousand a year. Ministers and members of the medical profession without number admit that they know of no preparation producing such beneficial results as the Wafers. When taken in season they effect a permanent cure. Sold by all druggists and country dealers at 25 cents per box.

LOWELL, MASS., May 15, 1876.
MESSRS. HAGYARD & CO.—Gentlemen:—I have been suffering for ten years with sciatic rheumatism, and the different kinds of Liniment I have used during that time can be estimated by gallons. About two weeks ago I obtained a bottle of your Liniment Iodide Ammonia of your agent, F. & B. Bailey & Co.; it gave me almost instantaneous relief from pain, and that since time I have been steadily improving. It has done me more good than any medicine that I have before used. I have been obliged to carry a cane until within two weeks, since which time I have not found it necessary. I also wish to state that this testimonial is not solicited, but I give it in the hope that others may be benefited as I have been. (Signed) Mrs. N. PUTNEY.

IMPORTANT TO ILL INVALIDS. IRON IN THE BLOOD.

The Peruvian Syrup, a protected solution of the protoxide of iron, strikes at the root of disease, by supplying the blood with its vital principle, or life element—Iron. "NEW FANGLED NOTION"

may not work injury to people when they relate to matters of little consequence, but when entertained as to what we shall take when afflicted with serious disease they may lead to dear experience. Don't therefore trifle with diseases of the blood manifested by eruptions, blotches, scrofulous and other swellings and grave symptoms, but take that well tested and efficacious remedy, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—the greatest blood-purifier of the age. If the bowels are very costive use also Dr. Pierce's Pellets (little sugar- coated pills).

A BAPTIST MINISTER'S EXPERIENCE

I am a Baptist Minister and before I even think of losing a clergyman graduated in medicine but left a lucrative practice for my present profession. 40 years ago, I was for many years a sufferer from quinsy, "Thomas Eclectric Oil cured me." I was also troubled with hoarseness and Thomas Eclectric Oil always relieved me. My wife and child had Diphtheria and "Thomas Eclectric Oil cured them" and if taken in time it will cure seven times out of ten. I am confident it is a cure for the most obstinate Cold, or Cough and if any one will take a small teaspoon, and half fill it with the Oil and then place of the spoon in our mouth and draw the Oil out of the spoon into the head by sniffing as hard as they can until the Oil falls over into the throat and practice that twice a week, I don't care how offensive their breath has been, it will clean it out and cure their Catarrh. For Deafness and Earache it has done wonders to my certain knowledge. It is the only medicine dubbed patent medicine that I have ever felt like recommending and I am veryanxious to see it in every place, for I tell you that I would not be without it in my house for any consideration. I am now suffering with a pain like Rheumatism in my right limb and both relieves me like Thomas Eclectric Oil.

For the cure of all the various diseases of the Head, Throat and Chest, including the Eye, Ear and Heart.

But a few weeks or months are required to cure the most obstinate cases of Catarrh, Throat diseases, Asthma, Bronchitis, and the earlier stages of Consumption, when the treatment is conducted under the Doctor's own personal supervision. A word to the wise is therefore sufficient.
All diseases of the respiratory organs treated by medical inhalations.
Inhalations remove hepetization by dissolving the inflamed matter existing in the air cells of the lungs, thus enabling the patient to expectorate it with ease, at the same time giving the diseased surface an opportunity to heal.
Inhalations scatter inflammation and soothe the inflamed surface, thus relieving a harassing cough almost immediately.
Inhalations absorb the fleshy excrescences that exist upon the pharyngeal surface in cases of granulated throat, and restore the proper vitality of the parts, thus relieving the dryness of the throat and the sensation as if specles were penetrating the mucous membrane of the pharynx.
Inhalations will cure the most obstinate cases of catarrh when combind with proper constitutional and other topical treatment.
In fact, Inhalations will cure thousands of cases of the breathing organs when all other means have failed.
Let there be no delay, then, in application to the treatment that has stood the test and proved again and again the only hope—the only reliable safeguard and means of restoration.
Consultation free and prices within the reach of all.
The very best of references given from all parts of Canada from those already cured. Remedies sent to any part of Ontario.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

Parnell says the Arms Bill will not prevent the shooting of bad landlords.

The Boers desire peace, but only on condition that they get what they are fighting for—their freedom.

Lord Lytten's motion in the House of Lords, favoring the retention of Candahar by the British, has been carried by a vote of 165 to 76. The Commons will probably reverse the decision.

The inauguration of Gen. Garfield as President of the United States, last Friday was indeed an auspicious event. His address seems to meet with almost universal commendation. It was brief but pointed. His reception by the people was most enthusiastic.

Hanlan told a Buffalo reporter that he was proud of one thing, viz: that he had rowed down all the lies that had been told about his selling and buying races. The oarsmen of New York now acknowledge that he fought his battles honestly and won his victories fairly.

Mr. McCuaig, M. P. for Prince Edward, has been speaking a good word for the veterans of the war of 1812. He told the House it was a disgrace to the country that any of this class should be depending upon their by no means well circumstanced families. He hoped the Government would, besides remembering the living veterans, take into consideration the widows of those who are dead.

A petition has been presented to Parliament against Chief Justice Wood of Manitoba, which charges him with having committed all the crimes in the calendar, both legal and moral. Mr. Wood was appointed to the office he now holds by the Mackenzie Government, and there are a number of hungry Tories who envy him the position, and who will not hesitate to employ whatever means they can command to wrest it from him. Chief Justice Wood may be guilty of some or all the crimes with which he is charged, but his accusers are not above suspicion.

SESSIONAL clerks have been an expensive luxury under the present Administration. Among this class for 1879 was Mr. E. King Dodds, the well known anti-temperance champion. He received $4 per day for forty days, during which he was absent and gave no service, for the $160 received. Mr. Speaker Blanchett undertook to explain the matter the other day, and succeeded in perpetrating the biggest joke of the session. He confessed that he did not know Mr. King Dodd or Dodd King, personally, but he recollected that the gentleman had received forty days leave of absence in order to deliver temperance lectures. This announcement was too much for the gravity of the House, and such a shout of laughter as went up, is seldom heard there.

PRESIDENTS OF THE U. S.

The 22nd inauguration of a President of the United States took place at Washington on Friday. Washington, the first President, served seven years; Thomas Jefferson, eight years. Neither of these was inaugurated a second time. The following is a list of the elected Presidents since the Republic had an existence. The years given are those of the election:—

Year.	Name.
1789	George Washington
1796	John Adams
1800	Thomas Jefferson
1808	James Madison
1812	James Madison
1816	James Monroe

1824	John Q. Adams
1828	Andrew Jackson
1832	Andrew Jackson
1836	Martin Van Buren
1840	Wm. H. Harrison
1844	James H. Polk
1848	Zachary Taylor

1856	James Buchanan
1860	Abraham Lincoln
1864	Abraham Lincoln
1868	Ulysses S. Grant
1872	Ulysses S. Grant
1876	Rutherford B. Hayes
1880	James A. Garfield

Messrs. John Tyler, Millard Fillmore and Andrew Johnson, elected Vice-Presidents, filled the Presidential chair as the result of the death of the presidents, Tyler succeeding Harrison; Fillmore succeeding Taylor, and Johnson succeeding Lincoln.

USURIOUS LOANS.

Mr. White the member for East Hastings, has a bill before Parliament intending to protect borrowers against the usurious terms exacted by loan societies, while ostensibly claiming only the ordinary rate of interest. The case of the Protestant Hospital at Ottawa is cited as an example illustrating the abuse that is sought to be remedied. This institution, it appears, originally borrowed $8,000 from the Metropolitan Loan and Savings Society. The loan was contracted in 1875. Since then the Hospital has paid $7,231.50 towards its indebtedness, and the Society claims the sum of $7,222.50 as being still due. This does not include law expenses, which, we understand, are paid by the borrowers. Mr. White's bill is framed with a view of putting an end to this system, and it is reported that strong pressure is being brought to bear on members, by interested parties, to have the bill rejected. Public opinion throughout the country seems to be strongly in favor of some sort of restrictions in loaning money, and it is protty likely Mr. White's bill will be favorably considered.

The Minister of Justice also introduced a Bill to amend the Act respecting the Andrew Mercer Ontario Reformatory for Females and the Central Prison of Ontario. The Minister of Agriculture laid his annual report upon the table. A resolution making better provision for the inspection of steamboats and boilers was passed in Committee, and afterwards a Bill introduced by the Minister of Marine founded upon the same.

Sir Leonard Tilley introduced a Bill respecting certain savings banks in Ontario and Quebec. In Committee, an interesting debate on the Minister of Agriculture's Bill to amend the Patent Act of 1872 took place. This is a Bill proposing to remove several patents which have lapsed by reason of the patentee's negligence. A vigorous assault upon the Bill was made by Mr. Thomas White and Mr. Macdougall, among other Ministerialists, the result of which was precipitated by Mr. Blake's caustic criticism, and the Bill was not adopted in Committee, and progress only was reported to enable the Minister to amend it in some particulars to meet the objections made.

On motion to go into Supply, Mr. Anglin, in a brief speech, criticised the Dominion Government's share in the misappropriation for the Irish relief vote of last year, and urged that further papers respecting the matter be brought down. After recess, several Private Bills were advanced a stage, among which was the Ontario and Quebec Railway Company's Act of Incorporation, which went through Committee of the Whole. The debate on the motion to go into Committee of Supply was renewed by Sir John Macdonald, who defended the Government's course. Mr. Blake clearly showed that the Government had deliberately permitted the grant to be used in the matter which the House desired to prevent its being used. Further remarks were made by Mr. Mills and Mr. Anglin, during which the latter requested the production of an important Order in Council, which contained evidently the key to the Government's mysterious conduct. Sir John Macdonald refused the paper on the ground that it was confidential.

In the Committee of Supply, the votes for the improvement of the harbours and rivers, dredging, slides and booms, roads and bridges, telegraphs, &c., under the head of public works and buildings chargeable to income, and the votes for militia and scientific institutions, marine hospitals for sick and distressed seamen, steamboat inspection, superintendence of insurance companies, geological survey, and statutes were passed.

The Committee reported progress, and the House adjourned at 1:40 a. m.

This is unhappily an age of skepticism, but there is one point upon which persons acquainted with the subject agree, namely, that Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is a medicine which can be relied upon to cure a cough, remove pain, heal sores of various kinds and benefit any inflamed portions of the body to which it is applied

Sermons in the Bridge and Holloway Street Methodist Churches Yesterday.

BRIDGE STREET CHURCH.

In the morning the pulpit was occupied by the Rev. Mr. Steinhauer, an Indian missionary from the far North-West. The congregation was tolerably large, and the presence of a native missionary from the scene of labor to which so large a proportion of the mission funds of the C. M. Church is contributed, must have gladdened the hearts of all those who heard him.

The Rev. Dr. Jeffers, in introducing the missionary to the congregation, stated that 40 years ago he (the Rev. Mr. Steinhauer) was an assistant of the Rev. James Hill, who was then laboring among the Cree Indians, and that 25 years ago he had the pleasure of seeing him ordained at the London Conference.

The missionary based his discourse on the 35 Chapter of Isaiah, 10th verse—

"And the ransomed of the Lord shall return, and come to Zion with songs, and everlasting joy upon their heads; they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away."

Prior to entering upon the consideration of his subject, he said a great many thoughts came into his mind as he stood in that beautiful house of prayer. He was carried back to that far-off land where so many years of his life had been spent in trying to do good to his brother Indians, where, however rude and unsightly the place they had to worship in, God had blessed them. Missionary labors had been of great benefit to his people, and if he was able he would like to tell them what God had done, and was doing, through the instrumentality of his laborers there.

In commencing his discourse he said that in every enterprise in which men engage they had an object in view, and which they hoped to arrive at; this was the case in every department of life. As he (the speaker) had started from his far away home delightful thoughts entered his mind at the prospect of once more visiting places known by him when he was a young man, and perhaps, there to meet with those with whom he was acquainted, and who were young at the time he was. The thought of coming nearly three thousand miles from where he was taken from a boy running as wild as the mountain deer, by a friend, and afterwards sent to school on Grape Island, was a pleasant one indeed. God had mercy upon him, and he was enabled to appear before them a monument of his goodness. For every understanding there was an end in view, and in that of the missionary labors in the North-West, it was not to end here, where everything was transitory, but in that house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. Many of the poor Indians, who were thought by many to be irreceivable were, through the instrumentality of the missionaries led to see themselves as sinners, and to embrace the truth. At the time the missionaries first went amongst them, from the one end of the North-West to the other there was no good to be found, but the Indian had always an idea of God, whom he regarded as a great spirit. This knowledge, however, was no good to them as it did not ransom them from the power of sin and satan. When they began to know that they were sinners they commenced to turn to God and now many had commenced to call upon the name of Jesus. The Indians were very slow to believe, as they, like their civilized brethren, had an antagonism to spiritual matters, but they were more assessible, and were attentive listeners to the glad tidings brought to them. He narrated a touching incident of the power of salvation, in the case of a young squaw, who with a newly wedded husband had gone off on a hunting tour, being taken ill while away, and in compliance with her request was brought back to the place where she had first given her heart to the Lord. Just before her death she started up with the exclamation that her friends on earth were getting farther away from her, but Jesus was coming nearer. But she was only one of the great many who had been blessed by missionary effort, and who have gone to the better land. He then referred to a tablet on the walls of the church here erected to the memory of the Rev. Wm. Case, father of Canadian Missions,—a name, he said, that he venerated as he was the first to go amongst the Indians and preach the Gospel. Nearly all of those who had received Christ through that good man's instrumentality, had gone to be with Jesus. A scene witnessed by the speaker of the sun rising over the tops of the Rocky Mountains, with their crests of eternal snow was beautifully described, and, he said he could not help thinking that as these mountains were lighted by our feolar system, so were the mountains around the New Jerusalem by the light of him whose presence is everlasting. If, said he, one of my poor people were here in this beautiful house he would think that he was in Heaven. Here the people were blessed with an abundance of good things, and from the height to which their blessing lifted them up they ought to look down to the dark habitations, and thirst of them and do what they could to tell them of the Saviour. He felt glad of the opportunity he had of speaking to them and telling them of the good work accomplished by their missionaries. They had taught them how to read God's word, and the Bible was placed in their hands, printed in their own language. This was a work in which his hearers had assisted, and he was thankful to be able to tell them that it had been successful. Much, however, was yet to be done in order to bring them all to a knowledge of truth as it is in Jesus.

EVENING SERVICE.

At this service the church was well filled, both up stairs and down, many being present from other congregations, eager to hear a sermon from a clergyman so distinguished as the Rev. Dr. Hunter.

His text was the 68th verse of the 6th chapter of the Gospel of St. John, "Then Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? Thou hast the words of eternal life."

Christianity, he said, aimed at the conversion of the world. Judaism had its origin with the Jews, and it grew up with them. They never sent a missionary or a messenger to other nations; their religion was for themselves. It was so with the Pagans, Egyptians, Chaldeans, and other sects. Christianity set out with a new prophesy and a new purpose. It claimed that it came from God, and was destined to fill the whole earth. The disciples were told to go and preach the Gospel to the whole world, and when the baptism of the Holy Ghost came upon them they went everywhere to preach the Gospel. This, he said, is the religion which modern infidelity asks us to relinquish, after it has outstood the vilest of opposition; a religion that is acknowledged by all the civilized nations of the world in their laws; and that have on their banners, sayings of Jesus. The writers of books have to acknowledge God for they cannot date them without putting in the year of our Lord. Asking the question, are these things so? He said, he for one was not afraid to face it. If we relinquished Christianity to whom would we go for an idea of God? The Bible idea is that he is self-existing, his nature is love, that he is the foundation of goodness, and in his goodness created this world and that while it is governed by certain fixed laws, He himself stands at the head and governs all. Modern scepticism would have us believe that the story of the creation was a myth; that man originated from the lower orders of animal life, and that the laws of nature are the governors of the universe. Were we prepared to relinquish our faith in the living God, who had done so much for us? If we were prepared to relinquish the Bible idea of God, he would like to have us account for the creation, if we could. If there was no personal God on the throne of the universe, then wrongs could never be righted. We could not extract or eradicate from the human heart a God of infinite love, wisdom and power. If we relinquished the Christian religion, to whom would we go for an idea of immortality? Col. Ingersoll in one of his blasphemous addresses, speaking of Jesus said, "Let me say once for all to that great man I would gladly pay the admiration of my tears." Col. Ingersoll and his followers must go out of their own set to find such a man. This very man of Nazareth, whose character stands out for the past 1800 years, teaches us that death is not the end of life. He could, in fancy, see the little group of disciples gathered around the Master as he spoke to them of his approaching dissolution. They, with tears in their eyes, are imploring him to tell them the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. His answer is "Let not your hearts be troubled, ye believe in God, believe also in me. In my father's house are many mansions, I go to prepare a place for you, that where I am ye may be also." In spite of the logic of materialists, the hope of immortality is one of the strongest characteristics of our natures. When we pass from the religion of man to that of God, we find that doctrine propounded in unmistakable terms. What is there to offer in exchange? Blot out the Bible and what was is there then? This world is a bad one, and the weak must die beneath the heel of the strong, the monuments which affection had reared must be levelled with the earth. If we relinquish the Christian religion to whom shall we go for an idea of regeneration? The old reformers were unable to reform themselves. Socrates said they must abandon the hope of reforming the manners of men, unless God sent some one to do it, and Plato that nothing could be done without the interposition of the Almighty. Nothing but the government of God, with its promises and threats, was adequate to the emergencies of this world. Regeneration unfolds the character, effects and condemnation of sin. Education was important, but it was subject to the Gospel of regeneration. The Gospel takes hold of the heart, it is the citidel of the soul. If any man be in Christ he is a new creature, and it he was out of Christ he was an old, fallen, corrupt and depraved creature. The Gospel is unique in its energies, and begins by the atonement made by the God-man, and they were not ashamed to announce from modern pulpits that without the shedding of blood there was no remission. Christ came not to be an example, but as a substitute, and to open up the way to God; and when the Holy Ghost takes possession of the hearts of men, old things pass away and all things become new. In every community there were hundreds of examples of the truthfulness of this assertion, and from thousands of death beds had come testimony of its worth. Were we, then, prepared to give this up for the doctrines of infidelity? When asked to relinquish Christianity, we had a right to ask for something better. The practical application of the subject, he said, was not difficult to determine. There comes in the history of every individual, a time when decision has to be made either to depart from Christ or cling to him; a moment when temptations were strong to make infidelity; a moment when members of churches were tempted to leave them. There was hope but in one direction, move but one way and that is forward. Repent of your sins and backslidings and find rest for the soul and yonder we shall bask in the sunlight of Him who is the light of the world, and whose promise is eternal life. He then closed his able and eloquent discourse with an appeal to his hearers, to see what they could in contributing to the missionary cause, asking themselves the question how much they owed the Lord.

HOLLOWAY STREET CHURCH.

The Rev. Dr. Hunter occupied the pulpit of this church in the morning, and chose for the theme of his discourse, XVII, 18 of the Acts of the Apostles—"Because he preached unto them Jesus, and the resurrection."

In his opening remarks he referred to the work of St. Paul, how he had been persecuted by his enemies; what golden opportunities had been offered him to show that he was a scholar and an orator, and how he improved the position he was placed in. St. Paul preached "Jesus and the resurrection," which he said, was the most permanent basis for any servant of Christ to labor on. All things were created by Jesus and for him all things exist. He is the only proper object of religious worship, as the disciples, after His ascension, worshipped Him, and subsequently returned to Jerusalem. Jesus is king of kings, and lord of lords, and everything that he does is stamped with divinity. People spoke of His spotless character, but if He was only a man, and nothing more, He would not have the power to save human beings. Jesus only can unbar the door of infinite justice, and bid the prisoners go free. His body was once seemingly like that of other men, but the union of human and divine wisdom is what constitutes his boldness. All blessedness is wrapped up in these two natures. Augment as they will man's wants, until they reach countless numbers, Jesus can provide. "God made the world and all things therein;" having no sculptor nor painter to mix his colors. The apostle says—"He giveth to all light," and this is sustained by the life and breath he" afterwards furnishes us; but how seldom we think of the glorious atmosphere. He likewise provides for us. We would probably think more of the latter if it were pregnant with contagious diseases, or the cold so severe that we could not bear it without suffering, and the animal kingdom cease to exist. He giveth to all life and breath, therefore no man should conceive the idea that he is the architect of his own fortune. God alone furnishes the whole material. The Bible is a divine revelation of love, and tells us that there is mercy and pardon for all. St. Paul preached unto them Jesus and the resurrection, and if we require proof of this, we need only note the ressurrection of Him, to show that it is divine, but from the beginning, Christ's enemies always denied the resurrection. If Christ be not risen our preaching and faith are all in vain. If we disprove the reality of Christ's resurrection, we disprove all ancient history. It is Christ that died, and is risen again, so likewise should we endeavor to be so resurreted. To those that trusted in Him, Christ says —"that ye may know the cause of my calling." It is absurd to believe that the human body can be resurrected from the dead, but the spirit can, and in the case of Jesus, He was the same after as before the resurrection. His ressurrection at the head of humanity, is a proof that men may be likewise risen again. If the resurrection of Christ is a demonstrative reality; certainly his word shall be attentively heeded, as it always sends a cheering word to all. Such a religion can have no rival, and it is for you to receive it lovingly and cheerfully. It is because he preached unto them. "Jesus and the resurrection," that we have missionary and other religious societies. God expects us, each and every one, to do our duty.

EVENING SERVICE.

Rev. Henry Steinhauer addressed a large congregation in Holloway Street Church in the evening, explaining the means of his conversion from heathenism to Christianity and relating several touching scenes that had come under his notice in the North-West. He spoke for about half an hour, and while his manner of address was perhaps not so eloquent as that of many other pulpit preachers, his remarks were listened to with unflagging interest throughout, and doubtless will prove a source of much good to the missionary cause in the North-West.

FIXED PRICES.

BESIDES the advantage of Low Prices offered to customers through our system of trading wholly upon a Cash basis, there is this also that is worthy the attention of the public namely, FIXED PRICES. We take it to be the only just and right way of doing business to mark goods at the lowest price we can afford to sell them and not ask more.

Though we are aware that a large number of people are taken by a practice in many stores of throwing something off the price asked, or professing to give something in, gratis, with a purchase, yet we have no hesitation in saying that the practice is a dishonest one and that little reliance is to be placed on stores which do this.

Where a second price is made, more than the just value is always asked, and the customer, after being put to the annoyance of higgling about the price, gets no abatement, often's very considerable one, and finds after all he has invariably paid more for his goods than we would have asked him in the first place.

—Did it ever strike you that when the fellows go out between acts to "see a man" to take a glass, that while they're gone the ladies take a glass "to see a man ?"

—The Napanee Beaver says public opinion is divided in Napanee between joy and disappointment at the decision of the Government on the railway bonus question.

—So far 178 ladies have responded to Forepaugh's $10,000 offer to the handsomest lady. Bradford, Pa., is ahead so far, but then Belleville is to be heard from yet.

—It is said that the Orange Bills will never be heard of in the Legislature again. In which case Mr. Robertson will be relieved of future embarrassment on this question.

—Fashions have been almost revolutionized in bonnets this year, but still thirty cents worth of velvet, three cents worth or wire and forty cents worth of feathers can be stirred up and sold for $25.

—The commons lying between Moira St. West and the G. T. R. track present an uninviting and unhealthy view this season of the year. It is to be regretted that a better system of drainage cannot be put in operation in that part of the city.

INSPECTION SOLICITED.—We have to-day received our Scotch and Irish Suitings for Spring and Summer wear, and claim they are the finest assortment that will be shown n the city this season.

JAMES HENNESSY.

THE ROADS.—A gentleman who has just been over the roads from here to Marmora states that there must be at least 2,000 pitchholes on them, some of which are very dangerous.

DEAD DRUNK.—A young man was picked up on Pinnacle street this morning about half-past nine o'clock, a clean case of dead drunk. He was lying on the side-walk in front of EASON'S carriage factory, and, although strenuous efforts were made to arouse him, he exhibited no signs of returning consciousness. He was finally taken to the Police Station.

ADDITIONAL ATTRACTION.—The two sons of the Rev. H. Steinhauer, who are studying at Victoria College to prepare themselves for the work of missionaries to their fellow-countrymen in the North-West, are to be present and sing at the missionary meeting in Bridge Street church this evening.

NO GAS.—Owing to the gas pipes in West Belleville refusing to convey gas to Holloway Street Church last evening, coal oil lamps had to be extemporized during the service, but the light furnished was scarcely sufficient. The pipes are either frozen or filled with water, and will be attended to, it is hoped, at once.

OBIT.—It is with deep regret that we learn of the death of Miss Mary Carman, daughter of Mr. J. W. Carman. of the St. Catharines News, which occurred at her father's residence, St. Catharines, last night. Miss Carman had many friends in this city, where she lived for several years, who will sympathize with the bereaved relatives and friends. The deceased young lady was about 22 years of age.

RESULT OF THROWING SNOW BALLS.—Yesterday morning while a number of small boys were indulging in throwing snow balls at each other, a lad named Finkle was struck in the eye, and in a few moments it began to swell and change its color. The boy was advised to have it lanced, and accordingly called at Dr. Murphy's surgery, where the eye was dressed ; but it is still very sore and presents a bad appearance.

A PITCHED BATTLE.—To-day at noon, a regular pitched battle at snow-balling took place on Taylor's Hill between pupils of the public schools and Ontario Commercial College. For some reason unknown to us the boys have been in the habit, all winter, of singling out the College students as objects at which to hurl their snow-balls, and to-day they had it out. The school boys were put to rout, but they will, doubtless, muster in larger force hereafter, when their larger antagonists will catch it.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Charles Hynes, who commenced the printing business in this office, and who has for some time been employed in the United States, leaves this evening for Chicago. "Charley" has been visiting his father and mother in this city for the last couple of weeks, and during that time has been straightening up the business formerly carried on by his brother here. He is a good printer, and a young man who deserves to prosper. He has our best wishes for his prosperity in his new home.

A SENSITIVE OFFICIAL.—In the ONTARIO of the 26th ult. the following item appeared :—"Dr. Canniff, of Toronto, late of this city, is one of the chiefs of the Census Commission. He is being rewarded for long and faithful services to the party." The Dr., who was in the city to-day, called on us to protest against such unkind and ungenerous treatment. He seemed to regard the reference to his political services and reward as an insult of some kind, but for the life of us we cannot discover what kind. He admits that the appointments were made on political grounds and generally in consideration of political services, but considers our notice an injustice, nevertheless. Dr. Canniff is well known in this city and county as a zealous Conservative, who, by voice and pen, has done yeoman service for his party. His ability and influence has been fittingly recognized by the present Government in the way mentioned. This way of putting the case may be less offensive to the worthy Dr., but it means the same after all.

GOOD OIL.—A. L. Gean has just receive i another consignment of that extra superior American Oil, which he sells at 35c. All who wish a brilliant light and clear chimneys will do well to try it. He also sells an extra good test of Canadian Oil at 30c per gallon.

PROBS.—Light to moderate winds, and fine weather.

THE SNOW BY-LAW.—A number of complaints have been made to us to day of places in the city where the requirements of the Snow By-law have not been carried out. Several of the places mentioned are on principal thoroughfares, and should receive the attention of the police.

FINE HORSE SHOES.—Mr. Thomas Davis, blacksmith in rear of the Anglo-American Hotel, has shown us a couple of new styles of horse shoes, invented by himself. One of these styles is for use on hunting horses, and the other to prevent interfering. Both of these shoes are well made, and look as though they were admirably adapted for the purposes named.

A HOTEL BURNED.—The old Sanford Hotel, in Brighton, lately called the Empey House, owned by Mr. J. E. Proctor, and occupied by Mr. A. Empey, was totally destroyed by fire yesterday morning. There was no insurance on the building. Mr. Empey had an insurance of $1,000 in the Canada Fire Marine Company on his furniture, the most of which was destroyed. Total loss about $5,000. The origion of the fire is unknown.

INCENTIVES FOR INCREASING POPULATION.—Sir Leonard Tilley having clearly shown by his carefully prepared Budget statement that Canada is more prosperous under a protective duty, and that the N P. has been a great boon to our manufacturers it is a little strange that the founders of this great policy should neglect the fountain head of all nations' wealth, and keep Babies on the free list. N. Davenport, Haiter and Furrier, being convinced that the party now in power will never give this great struggling industry the attention it deserves, will give prizes to every Baby born in the Counties of Hastings and Prince Edward during next December (1881,) as follows :—

For every Girl Baby—I handsome Fur Hood.
For every Boy Baby—One Fur Cuban.
For every Pair of Twins—Two Silver Cups.
For Triplets—One twenty dollar gold piece.

A physician's certificate is expected with every application for a prize, and it is to be hoped that Babies will not be imported into Hastings and Prince Edward from Adpington, Lennox and Northumberland Counties. Please remember while waiting for the "Little Ones" that N. Davenport has the largest and finest stock of Hats and Caps in Central Canada.

From our own Correspondent.

AMELIASBURGH ITEMS.

Socials have been the principal entertainments for some time past,and it would almost seem that they had grown old. But this is not the case; old and young alike apparently enthusiastic over the announcement that another social is to be held under the name of "Go as you please," at the residence of Mr. E. A. Brickman. Mr. Brickman kindly furnishes the house, and the young ladies furnish the eatables. Teams and sleighs are to be sent to Read-ersville for the accomodation of those who have no means ot getting there them selves. We are informed that sleighs are to be sent to Belleville to bring any (old or young), who choose to come from there. Should the sleighing fail to hold out this cannot possibly be carried out. This will furnish our city friends a capital chance of taking a drive and spending an evening in the country.

As these socials are intended especially to benefit the circuit, we have no doubt but a full house may be expected.

The late snow storms have blockaded cross roads in some parts ; but the thaw of yesterday and to-day will lower the snow considerably.

Some American gentlemen are looking after horses about here to take with them to the other side.

Should this weather continue long,those in the habit of making sugar will prepare for it.

A COMMERCIAL BALANCE SHEET.

SERVICES REWARDED.—Dr. May has received from Paris a gold medal, in consideration of his services at the exposition in 1878. The Canadian exhibitors will next week present him with a testimonial for his services in their behalf. The testimonial will include a gold watch, an epergne and other pieces of silver.

15TH BATTALION.—A petition has been in circulation, and largely signed by the ratepayers of Lennox county, praying for the organization of the 15th battalion. It is proposed to make J. W. Bell, ex-Warden and Reeve of Camden, Colonel. The Beaver hopes the Government will see the justice of the prayer of the petition.

THE DEPUTATION TO OTTAWA.

DETAILED REPORT OF THEIR VISIT AND ITS CONSEQUENCES.

The civic deputation appointed by the City Council consisting of the Mayor, Ald. Juliett, Dickson, Frost and D. B. Robertson, proceeded to Ottawa on Monday's noon train of last week, for the purpose of urging an increased grant for the Murray Canal, and to look after the interests of the city in the passage of the Ontario and Quebec Railway Bill, which was then before the Railway Committee with a clause to amalgamate with the Grand Junction Railway Company. On Tuesday the deputation was introduced to the Hon. Minister of Marine and Fisheries, by the Hon. Minister of Customs, and had a conversational interview with him, with reference to the harbor, light-house &c.

The Hon. Minister seemed to be conversant with the requirements of our harbor, and gave satisfactory assurances that the money that was appropriated would be wisely expended. They then called upon the Hon. J. H. Pops, acting Minister of Railways and Canals, accompanied by the Mayor of Trenton, and Reeves of Murray, Brighton and Colborne, also Mr. Doolittle, Manager of the Rolling Mills at Hamilton, and Mr. Munson,who is at present engaged in the iron mines of Madoc, and were introduced by the Hon. Messrs. Bowell and Reid, and Messrs. Brown and White, our members from the West and East ridings of the County. The importance of an increased appropriation to the Murray Canal and the early completion of the work, was fully set forth by the different members of the delegation. Mr. Gilmour represented the great advantage it would be to his immense lumber business. Mr. Munson gave full information in regard to the vast iron deposits in Madoc and Marmora, and the absolute necessity of the Murray Canal, in order to make the working of the iron mines in North Hastings a success.

The Mayor of Trenton, the Reeves of Brighton and Colborne, and the different members of our own delegation also fully set forth the advantages of the canal for general cummerce, and giving at all times a harbor of refuge and forming an inland route in rough and boisterous weather, thereby avoiding that most dangerous coast of Prince Edward county, which has been so disastrous to life and property for many years. The whole matter was set fully before the department, and the Hon. Minister, in reply, said he was glad to be so fully informed as to this particular portion of the country, of its resources and capabilities, and he was satisfied of the importance of the statements that had been made in regard to the various industries, and that the Government had recognised the necessity of the Murray Canal and consequently had put into the estimates $25,000 for the present year, thinking that it would be as much as could be expended advantageously the coming season, as the fiscal year commenced the 1st of July. However, he would lay the whole matter before his colleagues, and left the impression with the delegation that he would be favourable to an increased appropriation. Later in the day an arrangement was made for an interview with Sir John Macdonald, whose time is so much taken up that it is almost impossible for all who have business to arrange with his department to see him without considerable delay; but an interview was had, and after he had heard the delegation,who presented the case to him as they had before to the Hon. J. H. Pope, he stated that the matter had been considered in Council when the estimates were prepared, and that the Government were fully committed to the building of the Canal, and to build it at the earliest moment they could constantly do so. He looked into all the details of the matter and we understand the delegation were well pleased with the assurances they received.

This ended the labors of the joint delegation, but the Railway Committee was to meet Thursday morning, and our deputation commenced to set their house in order to present their case. It would seem that there was some difference of opinion with the delegation,as to the line of action they ought to pursue, but finally it was agreed (and we think wisely) to resist the amalgamation clause in the Bill,and defeat it if possible. Great interest was manifested by the different parties who were specially interested in the various schemes affected by the Bill, and it was almost impossible to get a hearing before the Committee ; but Belleville did get a hearing through the arrangement made with Messrs. Burnham, member for Peterboro', and White, of East Hastings, and after a red-hot contest the amalgamating clause was struck out of the Bill by a small majority. This is a fortunate thing for Belleville, and we think the deputation deserve the thanks of the community for what they have accomplished in the interests of the city.

The deputation are confident that an increased amount will be placed in the estimates for the Murray Canal, which will certainly be carried to an early completion, and they are loud in their praises of all the members from this county, who treated them with the utmost kindness and consideration, and rendered them every assistance possible.

PARLIAMENTARY NOTES.

It is expected that the estimates will be finally disposed of by the middle of this week, and the House will close a couple of weeks thereafter.

The total number of cattle exported from Canada during the past year was 50,005, being an increase of 25,000 over last year. The following was the division : Cattle, 50,005 ; sheep, 81,843, swine, 700.

On Tuesday next the Hon. Mr. Trudel in the Senate will ask for a full return of all Government employees in the various branches of the public service, with the salaries paid and also their nationalities.

It is contemplated to drill 20,000 officers and men in camp during the year, and the present year—twelve camps being formed, four camps in Ontario, three in Quebec two camps in Nova Scotia, two in New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island.

The bill to incorporate the Northern, Northwestern & Sault Ste. Marie Railway Company was introduced in the House Friday and read a first time. Several petitions were presented against it. The bill has also been received in the Senate.

Sir John Macdonald stated that the Government had no power to give away lands, but could sell them at $1 an acre. The Manitoba & Southwestern applied for 6,400 acres of land per mile, but this, with other applications, would be considered. He advised the committee to beware of paper companies. The bills were laid over.

MADRID, March 7.—The Cuban and Puerto Recan Senators and Deputies have decided to petition the Cabinet in favor of prompt negotiations with America for a treaty of commerce. THE NEW CABINET AND MISSIONS.

An Interview with Vanderbilt

FORT ASSINIBOINE, Mont. March 7.—Major Baker, from Sitting Bull's Camp, reports Sitting Bull anxious to surrender, but afraid he will be imprisoned or hung.

NEW YORK, March 7. — Washington special to the World say it is rumored Blaine has been decided upon a reorganization of state dept, which may be the entering wedge of permanent reform in diplomatic consular service. Rumored Bancroft Davis is to leave court claims and return to state department, to assist in reorganization. Believed a reorganization of Senate will occur on Tuesday or Wednesday, and that the republicans will not seek a postponement. Blaine's nomiessy cannot be elected before 15th, and the senate will adjourn before that time.

Morton, in deference to wishes of Mrs. Morton, expresses his preference for the French over the English mission. Understood the English mission has been tendered to Evarts, with special references to the importance of monetary question.

Vice-President Wheeler, after a sojourn in Florida, will go to Europe.

The Tribune says it is probable the Gov. of Minnesota will appoint Lieutenant-Governor Durnell to succeed Windom. Geo. R. Wilson and Harlan are candidates for the Kirkwood senatorial seat.

NEW YORK, March 7.—A large number of Land League meetings were held in this vicinity yesterday. Unabated interest and large accession to membership.

L. B. Boomer, great bridge builder of the west died suddenly in this city yesterday.

The Herald has a four column interview with W. H. Vanderbilt. He said we have had a severe winter and railroads had a hard time,but plenty of freight to be moved, and the probabilities are will have very large tonnage until late in the spring or summer, as navigation on the lakes will hardly open as early as usual.

(We omit the body of this interview, which is lengthy, and of little interest to our readers.) In conclusion Vanderbilt said :—

"The guiding maxim in life is—Do what you think is right and fair to others, regardless of what people may think."

As to his controlling Wall street speculation, Vanderbilt said : "What nonsence! Why, there are twenty men down here who could go round me three or four times before breakfast. No not 20, but a hundred and twenty. Supposing I should get all the money there was down in Wall street, I should only be a devilish sight worse off. I tell you, the nicest thing in this world is to be satisfied with what you have, and that's what I am."

The Transvaal War.

RUMORED ARMISTICE AND PEACE NEGOTATIONS.

Sir E. Wood reported killed.

NEW CASTLE, March 7.—Sunday Gen. Wood went to Mount Prospect to-day to confer with Sir Evelyn Wood, which resulted in an armistice to 14th inst. Rumors of peace are rife, but it is impossible unless we agree to the Boer terms—complete independence of Transvaal; amnesty to all the leaders. By armistice permission is granted to send provisions for 8 days to beleaguered garrisons. Drs. Davies and Dyas while being escorted from Transvaal to Orange Free State were fired upon by the Boer escort. After they reached the free state, Davies was killed and Dyas wounded. The affair is similar to the murder of Capt. Elliott.

LONDON, March 7.—Rumored Gen. Sir Evelyn Wood has been killed while attacking the Boers.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Except Lincoln all the Cabinet officers qualified this morning. They will take charge of departments at three o'clock this afternoon.

RANDOM NOTES.

Colorado herdsmen complain bitterly of the past winter. The loss among the herds has been unprecedented according to the statement of Mr. W. A. Tower, a well-known stockdealer ; how great it is impossible now to estimate. Mr. Tower says that the weather has been most severe and destructive in that part of the state which lies west and north of Pueblo, and that thousands upon thousands of cattle have been frozen to death there.

It is often remarked that the most atrocious and revolting murders are committed, not in great cities, but in country towns. If this be the fact, it may possibly be owing to the fact that the present year—twelve camps being formed, four camps in Ontario, three in Quebec two camps in Nova Scotia, two in New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island. victim and disappear. Mutilation and the ingenious concealment of the body are left to murderers who have more time at their disposal. These considerations are suggested by the recent butchery in the little town of Chirs, Mc. Charles Merrill, a fiend only twenty-three years old, who had cherished an apparently causeless resentment against his mother, killed her with a hammer, on February 19, cut her body to pieces with an axe, burned some parts of it in a stove and fireplace, and buried the rest, and in the intervals of his ghastly work, which occupied a full week, slept and ate in apparent peace of mind, and attended to the various duties of the home and farm. Of course suspicion finally ripened into conviction, and last Sunday morning he was arrested. He now is supposed to exhibit some regret, but as the whole appears tranquil and contented.

SEVERALLY PURSUED.—Says the Whig.—It is stated that as a result of Inspector Meylan's enquiries the following fines have been imposed in consequences of the recent escape from the Penitentiary, and the alleged want of inspection and discipline that followed : On the Chief Keeper, $20 ; on one guard, $10 ; on six keepers and about forty-five guards, $5 each. Not a guard or keeper in the institution seems to have been spared to tell the tail. If they were found to be all actually at fault then the Inspector is to be commended for the courage displayed.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

For Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Erysipelas, Rose, or St. Anthony's Fire, Eruptions and Eruptive diseases of the skin, Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Blotches, Tumors, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers, Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa, arising from internal ulceration, and Uterine disease, Syphilitic and Mercurial diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, General Debility, and for Purifying the Blood.

This Sarsaparilla is a combination of vegetable alteratives — Stillingia, Mandrake, Yellow Dock — with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, and is the most of Potassium and Iron, and is the most efficacious medicine yet known for the diseases it is intended to cure.

Its ingredients are so skillfully combined, that the full alternative effect of each is assured, and while it is so mild as to be harmless even to children, it is still so effectual as to purge out from the system those impurities and corruptions which develop into loathsome disease.

The reputation it enjoys is derived from its cures, and the confidence which prominent physicians all over the country repose in it, from their experience of its reliableness.

Certificates attesting its virtues have accumulated, and are constantly being received, and as many of these cases are publicly known, they furnish convincing evidence of the superiority of this Sarsaparilla over every other alterative medicine. So generally is its superiority known, that we need do no more than to assure the public that the best qualities it has ever possessed are strictly maintained.

A Lecture to Young Men
ON THE LOSS OF

MANHOOD

We have recently published a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, Seminal Emissions, Impotency, Nervousness, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits; in a sealed envelope, only 6 cts. or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practise, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hand of every youth and every man in the land.

In the first terrible winter spent by the Pilgrims at Plymouth, in Massachusetts, the seeds of pulmonary diseases were planted, and took deep root in families which became the progenitors of thousans of the American people. The prevalence of consumption, that early developed, directed the attention of the most eminent physicians and scientific men to an investigation of its cause and the means of prevention and cure. The best results of professional studies on this subject are combined in Dr. J. C. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which is now recognized as the world's remedy for coughs, colds, consumption and other diseases of the throat and lungs. We believe it to be an absolutely certain remedy for these diseases. It is a safe, pleasant and reliable remedy, and if kept on hand in every household, will prove, in many cases of colds, coughs, &c., a means of preventing more serious results.—Richmond, Va., Religious Herald.

DAILY ONTARIO

FEEDING COWS FOR MILK.

A New Jersey correspondent of the Country Gentleman, writing on the subject of feeding cows for milk, says that his experience teaches him that the food that is good for butter is also good for milk. He finds it more profitable to turn milk into butter, as his customers do not so readily recognize the difference between good and inferior milk as between good and bad butter. With them milk is milk, and if a competitor comes round with the commonest kind, at five cents a quart, they will give up taking milk that yields twenty per cent. more cream, if it costs six cents a quart. But as other dairy farmers may have customers with better taste, the writer referred to gives his experience as to the best feed. He says:

"If one wants a large quantity of fairly good, well-flavored milk for sale, he will find the best and cheapest food to consist of sugar-beets, or mangels, cut and sprinkled with wheat shorts, or sharps, or bran, and the best of clover hay, or corn fodder cut and mixed with a thin slop of steeped corn sprouts and cotton-seed meal or cornmeal. I have fed my milking cows as follows: Morning feed, cut hay or cornstalks, wetted with the above mentioned slop, made as follows: Two quarts of malt sprouts and one quart of cotton-seed meal or cornmeal per head, soaked in water in a barrel from twelve hours. This slop is poured over the cut fodder in a mixing-box, and the whole mixed until the slop is equally distributed; then a heaped bushel basket is given to each cow. Any cow that is a specially good feeder, and will pay for it, is treated to a quart or so of ground feed of corn and rye bran in addition, scattered over her mess. At noon, a peck per head of cut sugar beets or mangels, sprinkled with a quart of the above ground feed, is given. At night, the morning feed is repeated. But if I could not get six cents a quart for milk, I would double the allowance of roots, giving no meal with them, and give malt sprouts and bran, or only coarse wheat or rye middlings, made into the slop above described. This will make as much or more milk of good salable quality, but not so much cream. If one is near a brewery, and can procure brewers' grains, these are an excellent and wholesome food when fired with cornmeal. A bushel a day, with four quarts of cornmeal, given to a large cow, with hay and fodder, will produce a copious yield of rich-flavored milk of a good body and color, although not rich in cream; but a thick, creamy-looking milk, with only five per cent. of cream, will be more satisfactory to the consumer than pure Jersey milk with twenty-five per cent. of cream, but which is thin and blue when the cream is taken off. This should not be forgotten when considering the feeding of cows for milk. The best cows for a milk dairy are large grades of Short-Horns, or Ayrshire and native, as these yield a large flow of of milk, not rich in cream, but thick and of rich color. Food is a necessary condition, but if it is not put into the right kind of milk machines, it is wasted, or diverted from its most profitable use."

THE BEST RESULTS are pleasantly accomplished by that be nigh invigorant, antiperiodic and promoter of digestion, appetite and sleep,—Northrop & Lyman's Quinine Wine. The laboratory of the chemist never yielded a more salutary preparation, or one in which the ingredients are more completely harmonized. The feeble and nervous derive from it strength; sufferers from dyspepsia and loss of appetite find that it not only enables them to digest and assimilate properly, but imparts an unwonted relish for foods. Invalids usually suffer from depression of mind. There is no better remedy for despondency, originating in ill-health, than this genial tonic. Pure Sherry and aromatic constituents of a choice description, enhance its remedial value, and render an agreeable flavor. It promotes convalescence following exhausting maladies, stimulates the nerves, equalizes circulation, and increases the muscular power. Sleeplessness, twitching of the muscles, trembling of the limbs, and other manifestations of nervous weakness, are speedily remedied by it. Taken during the absence of the river, it is a remedy of sterling merit for bilious, remittent and intermittent fever. In New England three or four times a day, will usually be found an effectual preventive of the return of the paroxysm. Intelligent observation and experience determine the efficacy of this medicine, which has met with wide recognition, and won an unrivalled reputation. No absurd pretensions are put forth in regard to it: the statements in its behalf are plain, straightforward.

TO THE PUBLIC!

Hopkins' great Single Cylinder, Double Acting, non-Freezing Force Pump. Patented Jan. 31st, 1881.

I have had nearly twenty years experience in handling nearly all kinds of pumps, and I claim to know as much about the principle and working operation of pumps as the most of men. And I affirm that I have the only reliable pump, and that the single cylinder, double-acting, anti-freezing porcelained force pump on a true mechanical principle now before the public. My close attention, observation and experience with my invention have enabled me to protect and cover it in such a way (by patent dated Jan. 31st, A. D., 1881, for fifteen years) that I defy man to get around or over it. Therefore, I can positively assure all persons who may get an interest in this excellent invention, that they will have an uninterrupted course of prosperity during the life time of the patent.

I am now in a position for successful operation with my invention, and to give industrious, enterprising persons a good chance o make money by handling the same, for it is conceded by all mechanics and machinists who have examined my pump that it will unquestionably take the place of all other pumps in the market, and hence the broad margin for safe investment as a profitable speculation presented in my invention. For further assurance that my invention is all that I claim for it, the people will please call on persons in the City of Belleville who have the pumps in use, and at our shop in O'Brien's Hotel Building, and oblige

GIVEN UP BY THE DOCTORS.

Where doctors have failed to cure and have given their patients up to die, Electric Bitters have often been used, and a cure effected, greatly to the astonishment of all. Diseases of the Stomach, Liver, Kidneys and Urinary Organs are positively cured by Electric Bitters, and invariably cure Consumption, Headache and all Bilious Attacks. Try them, and be convinced that they are the best medicine ever used. Sold by Jas. Clarke & Co.

F. Burrows, of Wilkesport, writes: that he was cured of a very dangerous case of inflammation of the lungs, solely by the use of five bottles of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Fox's great pleasure in recommending it to the public, as he had proved it (for many of the diseases it mentions to cure) through his friends, and in nearly every instance it was effectual.

Jas. Shannon, Leaskdale, writes:— For many years my wife was troubled with chilblains, and could get no relief until about two years ago; she was then not able to walk, and the pain was so excruciating that she could not sleep at night. Your agent was then on his regular trip, and she asked him if he could cure her. He told her Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil was a sure cure. She tried it, and, to the judge of her astonishment when in a few days the pain was all allayed and the foot restored to its natural condition. It is also the best remedy for burns and bruises I ever used."

EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Prepared from the finest Spanish Liquorice, (Dulcis radix) Gum Arabic, Sloethorn, Tarsoformol, and Honey. Guaranteed to relieve the most distressing complaints. A scientific combination of the three most valuable Expectorants known, without doubt the most valuable native Gum for Medicinal purposes.

Every one who has heard of the wonderful effects of the Spanish Syrup and the Prices in Foreign Lands, Dislikes the idea of paying Fifty Dollars for a bottle of Syrup, when

GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM.

In this age of progression the most superficial reader, and the most careful student can see at a glance that we have reduced the price from the exorbitant figure of Fifty Dollars per bottle to the insignificant sum of Twenty-five Cents, and in addition have improved the quality, rendering it more powerful, more pleasant to the taste, more healing to the throat and lungs, and more speedy in its effects than the high priced article. Fifty per cent. of the Spanish Syrup is Gum Arabic, which we have replaced with Gum Sloethorn, which is a much more healing solution.

Its remarkable power in relieving certain forms of Bronchitis, and its almost specific effect in curing obstinate hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large.

Sold by all respectable chemists. Price, 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

The words "Syrup of Red Spruce Gum" constitute our Registered Trade Mark, and our wrapper and labels are also registered.

DAILY ONTARIO
AMERICAN JERSEYS.
A recent number of an English agricultural journal has taken occasion to scout the idea of ever exporting Jersey cattle to the Island of Jersey or to England. When we notice the prices now with which imported Jerseys sell in New York and Philadelphia, and the high prices which they bring, the idea of Jerseymen or Englishmen ever buying Jerseys of us does seem startling.
But let us reflect a little. Americans have imported Norse Horses from England and after carefully selecting them from the importations for a number of years they sent animals to England which have taken first premiums at the largest English Shows. I refer to Mr. Thorne among others. A few years ago at an auction at New York Mills, Short-Horns, bred in this country from a long line of American ancestors running at last to carefully selected English stock, were sold to Englishmen and taken back to the old country, and the prices paid were, I believe, larger than had ever been paid for Short-Horns in England.
Horses bred from ancestors originally imported from England have been exported by us to England at paying prices.
There would then seem to be no reason why we should not breed our Jerseys with equal success, and why we should not send our cousins across the water by sending them Channel Island cattle which will give more butter in a year than any of their own.
What are the facts as regards Jersey prices and Jersey butter records in the United States, and in England and the Island of Jersey to-day? Two cows recently sixteen pounds of butter a week in England or Jersey we have a dozen well authenticated here. And for annual records we stand not only far ahead of Jersey and England but we stand alone.
Pansy, 1019, and Jersey Queen of barnet, with over six hundred pounds each, Jersey Belle of Scituate, with over seven hundred pounds, and Euratos with nearly eight hundred pounds of butter for a running twelve months! What reports have we from the old country which equal or come near to any one of these four?
As to prices, great acclaim has been made over the paying of $400 for a bull and $1,000 each for three cows in the Island of Jersey lately, and these, be it remembered, were famous prize animals. But in New York in May, over $600 was paid to public auction for a bull calf, and $1,600 and $1,700 for young cows; and as to Jersey Belle Scituate, it is reported upon good authority that ten thousand dollars have been offered and refused for her; and for Eurotas it is probable that fifteen thousand would be declined. And the owners of these two cows would be likely to decline these prices, respectively for their animals, for at the rates at which their calves, male and female are selling, and are engaged for a number of years to come, they are bringing their owners a good six per cent. upon a principal of twenty thousand and thirty thousand dollars!
And these are American Jerseys; that is to say, so little blood of recent importations runs in their veins, and, as far as we can learn, their butter performances are so much better than those of their imported ancestors, that we can fairly claim that their superior qualities are the result of American food, the American climate and American breeding. Jersey queen of Barnet, is three generations from importation on her dam's side and through both sire and grandsires has half a dozen generations of American ancestors. Jersey Belle of Scituate is backed up by three solid rows of half a dozen generations of animals bred in America. Eurotas, though sired by an imported bull, received through her dam the thoroughly American blood of Jupitor and Alphea-Pansy, 1019, in three of the four lines running through her grand-parents, and has two and three generations of American sires and dams between her and her imported ancestors.
The deductions we would draw from these facts are,
First. The best Jersey cows living to-day are in America.
Second, The best cows in America have the purest line of American bred ancestors behind them.
Third. We may expect to go on improving our American Jerseys generation after generation in the future, and we can see in the past a steady rate of improvement over the imported foundation stock, as in Jersey Belle of Scituate who was bred to 700 pounds of butter from three crosses of a grandson of Flora who gave 500 pounds Eurotas who was bred to nearly 800 pounds of butter from the blood, rendered prepotent by in-breeding, of Alphea. The blood of the grandson of Flora, is twice strongly bred into grandsires of Jersey Queen of Barnet.
Fourth. A dash of entirely fresh blood is valuable, as in the case of Rioter 2nd, the sires of Eurotas; Pansy 8 one of the grandams of Jersey Belle of Scituate, and Dazzle 979, one of the granddams of Jersey Queen of Barnet. But a good line must first be well established by close breeding before we attempt to participate, as the chemists say, by the introduction of a new substance the gold, (i. e., butter) in the solution we have at first formed, and Jersey cattle are now so well spread over the varied climates of the United States, that we may as well hereafter import from one part of America to another the fresh blood we may have need of for an out-cross, so as to go to England or the Island of Jersey for it.—Cor. Massachusetts Ploughman.

A CANADIAN ROMANCE.
The son of bank president at the head of a band of thieves.—His Escapade with a Young Girl and discovery in Chicago.
Cincinnati Enquirer:—Chicago is the hiding place, temporary or permanent, of large numbers of persons from the surrounding country who need a place to hide themselves and their secrets. A most peculiar and interesting case of this kind has come to light. It seems Montreal was recently very much disturbed by a scandal that charged the son of one of her bank presidents with being a thief. Francois E. Letourneaux was the only son of Mr. Charles Letourneaux.
The father is a member of a prominent Montreal hardware firm, the president of a bank, and is supposed to be worth from $250,000 to $500,000. The son Francois married when only nineteen years of age to a girl of fine family, who was three years younger than himself. For five years the young couple lived happily together. The young man, assisted by the money and influence of his father, prospered, as was supposed, in business.
A short time ago the astounding discovery was made that the firm, at the head of which was young Letourneaux, was simply an organized band of thieves. Burglaries had been committed all around the vicinity of their store. In some way the Montreal police traced some of the plunder into the hands of Francois Letourneaux & Co. A watch set on the store discovered goods being carried in at night, and close investigation plainly showed that the partners were themselves

THE THIEVES.

One of the concern, Foirier by name, was arrested and confessed to the whole sale system of plunder that had been going on, and charged young Letourneaux with being a party to it. It was then discovered that the young man had fled in the company with a young girl that he had been keeping.
A reporter, learning that the young man and his parmour were domiciled in the city, took the trouble to look them up. It was known that letters for them from Montreal had been directed to 187 East Adams Street. At that number there is a French saloon. The proprietor stated Letourneaux had received two letters there but that he had not been within the place for nearly a week.
A gentleman who was afterwards found who knew the young Canadian, and from him it was learned that the couple were living at 26 Blue Field avenue. There the young people were found this morning. The girl, whose name is McDonnell, is a pretty Canadian of mixed Irish and French percentage, and is an interesting condition. They both declared that the story of Foirier was false. The only reason they left Montreal was, they say, the condition of the girl, who was unwilling to have her secret known in the city where she lived. The young man is a fine-looking, intelligent and evidently well-bred young man of about twenty-four years. The girl is plainly of humble origin.

Nature, after all, is the great pleasure. She hides all the secrets of health within her broad, generous bosom, and man needs but to go to her intelligently for his every need. LOWELL, MASS., May 15, 1876.
MESSRS. WM. M. GILES & CO.—Gentlemen: I have been suffering for ten years with sciatic rheumatism, and the different kinds of Liniment I have used during that time may be estimated by gallons. About two weeks ago I purchased a bottle of your Linimento de Amienda of your agents, F. & E. Bailey & Co.; it gave me almost instantaneous relief from pain and that since time I have been steadily improving. It has done me more good than any medicine that I have before used. I have bought a bottle every week since, and in two weeks, since which time I have not found it necessary. I also wish to state that this testimony is not solicited, but I give it in the hope that others may be benefited as I have been. (Signed) MRS. N. FUREY,

I can make whatever use of it you may deem proper."—Wm. Dodge, Montreal.

"NEW FANGLED NOTION"
may not work injury to people when they relate to matters of little consequence, but when entertained as to what we shall take when afflicted with serious disease they may lead to dear experience. Don't therefore trifle with diseases of the blood manifested by eruptions, blotches, scrofulous and other swellings and grave symptoms, but take that well tested and efficacious remedy, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—the greatest blood-purifier of the age. If the bowels are very costive use also Dr. Pierce's Pellets (little sugar- coated pills).

Dr. King's New Discovery has no equal and has established for itself a world-wide reputation. Many leading physicians recommend and use it in their practice. The formula from which it is prepared is highly recommended by all medical journals. The clergy and the press have emphasized it in the most glowing terms. Go to your druggist and get a trial bottle free of cost to test it. I am confident it is a cure for the most obstinate Cold, or Cough and if any one will take a small teaspoon, and half fill it with the Oil and then place of the spoon in one nostril and draw the Oil out of the spoon into the head by sniffing as hard as they can until the Oil falls over into the throat and notice it once a week, I don't care how offensive their headmay be, it will clean it out and cure their Catarrh. For Headache and Earache it has done more than any certain knowledge. It is the only medicine dubbed patent medicine that I have ever felt like recommending and I've never known it to see it in every place, for I tell you that I would not be without it in my house for any consideration. I am now suffering with a pain like Rheumatism in my right limb and noth relieves me like Thomas Eclectric Oil.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

The plague, so much dreaded in eastern countries, has made its appearance in Mesopotamia, and there is great fear of its spread.

The British Islands have experienced another severe snow storm, accompanied by a destructive gale of wind. Many vessels were wrecked.

Forty warrants were issued before Mr. Foster, Chief Secetary for Ireland, left Dublin Monday night. The arrest of that many persons was expected yesterday.

Lord Beaconsfield's scientific frontier is gone. It is understood that the British Government has determined upon the evacuation of Candahar and Afghanistan.

The Globe gives a few Conservative records and propounds as many questions for the delectation of the Mail, which we expect to see answered in an early issue of the Chief Opposition organ.

A brutal fellow in Montreal kicked and beat his aged mother, from the effects of which her life is imperiled. He was arrested, for assault proven, and a fine imposed. In default of paying the fine, he was sent to jail. That may be justice, but we think not. Such a monster should be imprisoned at hard labor for a year or more.

The British Government, it is rumored, sent Sir F. Roberts to the Transvaal in order to pacify the Jingo element, which is demanding revenge for the valuable lives lost in the Boer war. This is mainly active preparations for peace are going on, and it is probable that before Gen. Roberts arrives at the seat of hostilities terms will be agreed upon. The English people are getting ashamed of the Transvaal affair.

W. H. Vanderbilt says when a man has made a million dollars, and has secured for his family all they require, he is as well off as if he had a hundred million. He does not think rich men are so ambitious to accumulate greater wealth as the public give them credit for. This may be so, but Mr. Vanderbilt himself does not prove it by his actions. He is not disposed to rest and be thankful, although worth nearly a hundred million.

The train in which ex-President Hayes and his family were travelling from the White House to their Ohio home, after relinquishing the cares of State, was run into by another coming from an opposite direction on the Baltimore and Potomac Railway. Several persons were seriously injured, and one man killed. It is related that the touching spectacle was witnessed of Mr. and Mrs. Hayes kneeling in the snow to soothe the wounds of a poor mechanic. This act of thoughtful kindness and solicitude will give new force to the popular feeling that has been turned so strongly and favorably towards the ex-President and his noble consort during their occupancy of the Executive Mansion at Washington.

There are in the United States a number of practical philanthropists who use the wealth Providence has blessed them with to ameliorate the sufferings of their fellow men and advance the cause of humanity generally. The venerable Peter Cooper, of New York, may be mentioned as a good example of this class. Last week he observed his 90th birthday by giving to the trustees of Cooper Union $30,000 in cash, and by handing them receipts for $70,000 more, expended during the last year to enlarge and improve the building. A further sum of $10,000 he gave for the benefit of institutions aiding poor children. Mr. Cooper's gift to the building which bears his name now exceed $2,000,000, and it is not too much to say that this gift, as much by its spirit as by its material expression, will make his name familiar to the New Yorker to the latest generation.

The Mail is neither logical nor consistent. The prorogation of the Ontario Legislature furnished it an opportunity to vent a little party spleen towards the Mowat Government. It charges the majority of the Legislature with being a mere registrar of the Executive will, and leaves the public to estimate the force and righteousness of its ex parte judgment. The majority of the Legislature register the will of the Executive when such registration is in the interest of the public. They support such measures submitted by the Ministry as they approve of, and what else do the majority in the Commons? The Mail applauds a slavish support by Sir John Macdonald's followers, and presumes to criticise an independent support by Mr. Mowat's majority. The Conservative party never rose above a blind submission to the party leaders. The Reform party never submitted to be led blindly by any man.

A Sure Basis of Popularity.—Merit, apparent to a "cloud of witnesses," upon which the popularity of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is founded. Throat and lung complaints, pain, soreness, stiffness swellings, burns and ailments of various other kinds, yield to the action of this speedily and safe remedy.

The Christian Union, of New York, is a religious journal, and supposed to be above misrepresentation. In a recent issue we find this :

"Canada is buried deep under snow-drifts, and halt frozen by the intensity of the cold."

Communication between New York and Canada, by railway and telegraph, is neither difficult nor tedious. The editor of the Christian Union should have known better ; perhaps he did keep under snow," and reports have shown that many unfortunate wights have been more than "half-frozen by the intensity of the cold." Even in Manitoba and Keewatin, supposed to be under the North Pole, the winter has been so mild that not more than twenty cattle, running at large, have perished, while in the Western States and Territories about thirty per cent. of the stock winter-ed over is reported dead from the severity of the weather.

"THE HUM."

The Mail and its satellites, including the Belleville luminary, daily publish something about "the manufacturing boom," yclept, "the hum." If we are to believe all the Tory organs tell us the country is in a state of unprecedented prosperity. It will be observed, however, that they each have a good story to tell of what is going on away from home. The Mail tells about the boom in Montreal, but finds nothing in Toronto to crow over. The local Tory organ wisely and discreetly gives Belleville a wide berth when hum hunting. Occasionally some of them are forced to notice local results, and then we have the interesting spectacle of reluctant witnesses testifying to facts that must convict themselves and party of a fraud on the public. The Oshawa Vindicator was on the stand recently. Here is some of its evidence :—

The town is down, its business is dull and decreasing and its credit is lowering. With three foundry factories and one or two others doing little, and with a number of persons compelled to leave the town to seek occupation, who naturally give the town a poor reputation, it could hardly be otherwise. But, withal, the town is not dead, nor is it dying. It has vigor, it has means, and it has some enterprise. A number of the factories are doing better than ever before. There are more mechanics at work than previous to 1870, and the town was then considered prosperous. But then we were going up hill, property rising and business increasing, now it is the reverse and the difference is everything to the residents. We need a revival and the people of the town must begin the work. We have been looking for outside enterprise and capital to come in and restore the good times. But they have not come. "Providence helps those who help themselves," is as applicable to communities as to individuals.

—Mr. Gladstone is said to be greatly taking to heart the bloodshed in the Transvaal. If he had lost his own sons he could scarcely have been more deeply affected. He works incessantly. While the dinner hour of the other members of Parliament ranges from 120 minutes to 240, Mr. Gladstone scrupulously observes his 60 minutes.

—A london township farmer fed his hogs Monday morning, and two hours afterwards found that sixteen of them were dead. It is believed that some enemy mixed poison with the food.

Mr. Childers' scheme of army reform will save England a quarter of a million pounds sterling. Flogging in the army is to be entirely abolished. The minimum age of enlisting is to be raised from 18 to 19, and men, or more correctly youths, under twenty are to be sent to India.

From our own Correspondent.

AMELIASBURGH ITEMS.

There is a rumor afloat that Mr. Henry Wheeler, tanner at Eatonville, is about to leave these parts and go to Gananoque, where he intends to carry on business. We bespeak for him our best wishes, while sorry to have him leave us.

As socials have been all the rage lately, the best one is expected to take place at the residence of E. A. Brickman, on Thursday evening next. Every effort is being put forth to make this the grandest of the season.

The worst storm that has prevailed in these parts this winter occurred on Friday last, commencing about one o'clock in the morning and lasting all day. At times it was impossible to see across a hundred acres. About a foot of snow fell on the level, but it has nearly all disappeared again.

Preparations are being made for sugar times amongst our farmers. Some, we are informed, have already tapped, and have made sugar this year. It is not as early as last year.

Allow me to rectify the mistake in the Hymenial of the 25th ult. It was Miss Kate Mercer that had taken such an earnest part in the Sabbath School. Mrs. Bates we can inform you, had not taken any part in the school during the preceding year.

(From another correspondent)

Great preparations are made for a big time at the social to be held at Mr. Brickman's, on Thursday evening. It will, without doubt, be a grand success, should the evening be fine. As a guarantee of its success, the Oddfellows' brass band of Belleville has been engaged for the occasion, and will be present in full uniform, and add to the enjoyment of the evening by rendering a few of their favorite selections.

THE NAVIN MURDER CASE.

A visit to the woman in Napanee Jail.

A representative of the Kingston Whig has visited Mrs. Navin, now confined in Napanee Jail, charged with having murdered her husband in Earnesttown last fall. She looked in better health and feeling than when seen in the dirty but at the time of the inquest. Her hollow cheeks had filled out, while the bleached complexion had given way to a rosier one. Her eyes retained that weary look which always impresses a person on first sight. She recognized her visitor, and a conversation of a general character ensued. She said that her life in the jail was a lonely one. She was treated kindly by those in charge. The reporter learned that for some time after her incarceration she frequently gave way to bitter crying spells. She would scream and cry in a piteous manner. Latterly her grief has not been so demonstrative. Two of her children have visited her in gaol—her eldest boy and the little blind infant. The latter is in the keeping of the woman's brother, Lewis Simpson, of Napanee. The two eldest children have been adopted by persons in Newburg, the mother signing the papers to give possession of them a few days ago. Chief Allen, of Napanee, is working up the case. He claims to have very important evidence. The little boy tells a story, he says, of a very different character to that given at the inquest. The mother still protests her innocence. The case will be tried at the Assizes in Napanee, opening on the 18th of April, Judge Osler presiding.

EARTHQUAKE ON THE ISLAND OF ISCHIA.

Fearful Loss of Life and Property.

The details of the earthquake at Casamacchis state that the first shock was heard at 1.30 on Friday afternoon, and the second an hour later. The whole upper part of the town was destroyed. Two thousand establishments were seriously damaged. The syndic and subprefect of the town are directing the operations for the recovery of the bodies. Three royal steamers have arrived from Naples with soldiers and physicians. The soldiers have rescued many from the ruins. The population has fled to the surrounding country and along the seacoast. The Government is sending food from Naples. The King and Ministers have sent contributions. The second and fatal shock lasted seven seconds, accompanied by a noise like subterranean thunder ; then came the crash of falling houses, accompanied by shrieks of the victims. The probable loss of life is 2000, and the damage to houses and property one million francs. It was at first supposed that the disaster was connected with a partial eruption of Mount Vesuvius on the 3rd inst., but Prof. Palmiero states the seismographic instruments gave no indications of disturbance on the 4th inst., and he thinks the catastrophe was due to no as local phenomenon —possibly the sinking of the ground in consequence of corrosive action of mineral springs.

LATER.—Additional details of the earthquake at Casamacchis state that mothers were found with infants still clinging to their breasts at Villesemnti. Two girls playing on a door-step were struck dead by a falling architrave. Many deeds of heroism were performed by the military. A sergeant plunged among the ruins of a fallen house and rescued a woman with her babe. A corporal saved a blind man and two unconscious of his danger, struggled with his rescuer. Harrowing scenes are presented at the mortuary chambers, mothers, wives, and children striving to snatch the dead from the biers on which the soldiers were carrying them away.

ANOTHER SHOCK.

Another shock of earthquake occured at Casamacchia on Monday. Eleven more bodies have been found. The latest reports show 126 persons killed and 179 injured by the earthquakes.

LATER.—3,000 of the inhabitants of Casamacchia are without shelter.

GARFIELD TAKING THE OATH.

An Impressive Scene on the Platform of the Capitol.

At the end of his inaugural speech Garfield faced the chief justice, who rose on his right, and they looked into each other's eyes. Garfield never seemed to be so manly-looking as at this time, when his speech had filled his lungs with air and countenance with light, and that inflexibility which his best friends say he is strong in, came out. Chief Justice Waite arose in his robes, both men with their heads uncovered, and the young man who had the bible had it wide open upon his palms. Garfield put his right hand on one page of this bible, and with his blue eyes looked with a fine moral impressiveness into the quiet judge's. Waite repeated the short oath. Garfield bowed his head, and removing his hand kissed the book. A friend of mine pressed forward and found that he had put his lips on the second, third and perhaps fourth verses of the twenty-first chapter of Proverbs. Mr. Waite seemed impressed when he had administered the oath. His nostrils rather filled, and there was a movement of his throat. Mr. Garfield seemed wrought up to a pitch, not of excitement, but of inward feeling. When he had finished the oath of office, he turned to his mother, who was but a few feet behind him, and bending down kissed her on the mouth. He then kissed his wife, and next his daughter. Not a few sympathetic people were moved to tears when they saw this pale old lady, who had borne him in the wilderness cabin, and from the time he was eighteen months old had supported him with her own hands, even cutting the firewood to warm the cabin, cook his meals, live to the supreme consummation of seeing him the ruler of his country and the successor of George Washington.

PERSONAL AND IMPERSONAL.

—Little Lottlie to her friend ; "I have so many cares Yesterday a little baby sister arrived and papa is on a journey. It was but a piece of luck that mamma was at home to take care of it.

—On the 4th of March Mrs. Hayes took Mrs. Garfield and General Garfield's mother in the carriage with her to the Capitol to witness the inauguration ceremonies On their return a lunch was served at the White House, the ex-President and Mrs. Hayes tendering it to the President and Mrs. Garfield. After lunch Mrs. Hayes gave up the house to her successor and departed with her husband and family.

FIXED PRICES.

BESIDES the advantage of Low Prices offered to customers through our system of trading wholly upon a Cash basis, there is this also that is worthy the attention of the pub namely, FIXED PRICES. We take it to be only just and right way of doing business to mark goods at the lowest price we can afford to sell them and not ask more.

Though we are aware that a large number of people are taken by a portion in many stores of throwing something off the price asked, or professing to give something in, gratis, with a purchase, yet we have no hesitation in saying that the practice is a dishonest one and that little reliance is to be placed on stores which do this.

Where a second price is made, more than the just value is always asked, and the customer, after being put to the annoyance of haggling about the price, gets an abatement, often a very considerable one, and finds after all he has invariably paid more for his goods than we would have asked him in the first place.

March Sales.

OUR customers are generally aware that we received our usual Spring assortment of STAPLE and FANCY DRY GOODS much earlier this year than usual; but our sales during the months of January and February were so satisfactory, that if the present months' sales prove large, we will be under the necessity of laying in a second supply in most lines. To ensure this we are marking our Spring goods as well as any Winter goods that are left over at an unusually low advance on cost, and we invite customers to compare our prices and value.

We invite special attention to

of which we have DOUBLE OUR USUAL STOCK, and which we are selling at much lower prices than they are usually sold. During the month of March we will offer special inducements to purchasers, and hope to make proportionally large sales

A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Neglect speedily follows in an incurable lung disease or consumption. BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritations, giving relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the threat troubles which Singers and public speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's Bronchial Troches have been recommended by physicians, and always give satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well merited rank among the stple remedies of the age. Sold at 25c a box everywhere.

THE blood cannot properly perform its functions when loaded with impurities, because it is thick and sluggish; and every person needs at times something to cleanse and quicken the vital current. Dr. J. C. Ayer's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla meets this want perfectly, and his discovery of this compound ranks as important in preserving the blood in a healthy condition as does that of Wm. Harvey in demonstrating its circulatory action. Nothing else so vitalizes, purifies and enriches the blood as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is a perfect blood and nerve food. It never disturbs the stomach, but greatly assists and promotes the digestion and assimilation of all nutriments, and increases their power to sustain and nourish the body. In renovating the blood it clears and quickens the intellect, and thus gives to both mind and body the power of long sustained, arduous and successful effort. —Corning, N. Y., Journal.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Local Brevities.

—Spring seems to be coming on apace.

—The sleighing is very bad in both city and country.

—Lots of fresh maple sugar (?) in the shop windows.

—Three tramps and one drunk sojourned in the cells last night.

—The sidewalks have been well cleaned by the sun, and walking is now a pleasure.

—Plenty of fresh veal is being offered for sale, but generally the quality is not first-class.

—Spring goods are profusely displayed in shop windows, and the ladies enjoy examining the latest fashions.

—Vennor's "downward dip" is not here yet. Like his January thaw, it has been delayed by adverse circumstances.

—The Moira shows no signs of going on a rampage, although much water has been flowing into it from adjoining country.

—Kingston is infested with chicken thieves. Half the citizens report a loss and the police have arrested several suspected parties.

—The Kingston Whig says the firemen of that City can do better than the Hamilton men. How much better? Give us the figures fully attested.

—Our readers should not forget the Sunday School entertainment in the M. E. Tabernacle Friday evening. Preparations have been made for an enjoyable time.

—Robin's-egg blue for young girls dresses.

—Rubbers and thick-soled boots are still in demand.

—Mars is the morning star, and coming nearer to us.

—This is the best time of the year for observing the planet Mercury.

—It is remarked that there are more red noses in Kingston than anywhere else in the Dominion. It must be owing to some chemical substance in the water they drink.

—A strange coincidence was noticed in Toronto yesterday. Two brothers, Mr. J. Ross Robertson of the Telegram, and Mr. A. J. Robertson, each lost a child at exactly the same hour—five minutes to ten in the forenoon.

—The three young men arrested here for the theft of jewelry at Kingston were yesterday afternoon sentenced by the Kingston Police Magistrate as follows:—John Johnston to two years in the Reformatory; Brown a year in Central Prison and Hight six months.

—In view of the recent missionary services in this city, it may not be uninteresting to state that of the $160,000 contributed by the C. M. Church for missionary purposes last year, one thousand ministers raised $28,000, or $28 per head, as against only $1 per head by the laymen of the church. The contrast is not very flattering to the laymen.

☞Grant's new boot and shoe store is now open, everything fresh and new. Next door to Conger's grocery.

FOR THE AMERICAN MARKET.—Ten beautiful horses bought in this county, went east on the train to-day bound for the American market.

ON TIME.—For the past two days trains on the Grand Trunk have been running on time. This is about the only new thing we have been able to learn in our rambles to-day.

POLICE COURT.—James Vollick, charged with drunkenness, and Luke Magluke, on remand, on the same charge, were the only ones who answered to their names at the Police Court this morning. Both were discharged.

THE HUM.—Three mechanics of this city are to leave for Colorado next week, whither they go to seek employment, having searched in vain for the "hum" at home. These will be followed by others later on in the spring.

SETTLED.—At last the matter in dispute between C. L. Coleman and the School Board has been settled, Mr. Coleman expressing his willingness to accept the amount awarded him for school lot in Coleman Ward, $1100

SUNDAY SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT.—Our readers are asked to remember the annual entertainment in the M. E. Tabernacle, by the pupils of the Sunday School on Friday next. The programme of entertainment is one of the best ever prepared, and a good time may be anticipated.

SERIES OF LECTURES AT THE COMMERCIAL COLLEGE.—John J. B. Flint, Esq., will deliver the last lecture of the weekly series at Ontario Commercial College tomorrow, Thursday, afternoon at 3 o'clock. Subject—"Partnership." The chair will be occupied by W. H. Ponton, Esq.

FOXBORO SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT.—On Friday evening next, 11th inst. a grand musical and literary entertainment will be given in the Temperance Hall Foxboro, by the pupils of Mr Simmonds School. The programme is a very lengthy one, and all who attend will get the worth of their money.

JOKE ON THE OFFICERS.—When Haight was searched by the officers at Belleville nothing was found upon him. When Mr. Johnston saw him he said, "Hello, Jack, where's the money you got from Johnny?" He replied "I have only $5; I lost the rest." The police were astonished, and reminded him that they had found nothing by the search. Haight laughingly replied, "Oh, that wasn't any kind of a search," and forthwith he produced from his pocket the $5 bill.—Whig.

SUCCESSFUL TEA-MEETING.—A very successful tea-meeting was held in the school house at Ferry Point last evening. After tea, addresses were delivered by Profs. Badgley and Dyer of Albert University, and others, and on the whole a very enjoyable evening was spent. Some very fine music was rendered by the choir. Great credit is due the ladies who worked so hard to get it up. The party dispersed about 10 o'clock, all feeling satisfied with the evening spent on the Point. Proceeds $30.60.

NEW IDEA.—The people of Amelias burg go in to make things pay when they have entertainments. The social already referred to in our columns, to take place at Mr. S. A. Brickman's on Thursday evening, promises to be a grand affair. It is the intention of those concerned to send sleighs to the city for the accommodation of any of our citizen who choose to go. We understand the Oddfellows Band has been engaged for the occasion. This is a new idea, having a full brass band at church socials.

BARBERS' FOLES.—This from one of Rev. Dr. Wild's Toronto Sunday night lectures may be of some interest to the barbers of Belleville:—He said in effect that years ago tonsorial artists, in addition to trimming beards and scraping cheeks, occasionally amputated limbs and pulled teeth. They were very fond of bleeding, and when they performed that operation they had a pole close to where the patient was placed, round which red and white ribbons were wound. The barbers generally bled the arm, and before doing so tied a red ribbon underneath the part which they was to cut, so that the blood would not destroy its color, while a white ribbon was used above the wound.

CHEAP CLOTHING.—James Hennessy offers a first-rate suit of clothes for $6.50 of good Oxford tweed, well lined and trimmed, positively the best bargain in the city.

PROBS.—Moderate winds, mostly from the north and west, fair continued mild weather.

PALMER V. SOLMES.—Judgment in this case will be given in the Court of Common Pleas, at Toronto, on Friday.

CHANGED.—On Friday last the change in the name of the village of Mill Point came into effect, the Act having passed the House. Its new name is Deseronto.

MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT.—A musical entertainment for the benefit of the Home for the Friendless will be held in the Workingmen's Temperance Association Hall to-morrow evening.

REAL FUNNY.—The Tamworth Echo says that it is the intention of the N. T. & Q. Company to erect smelting works at the Wagar mines, run the iron into pigs and drive them to Toronto, overland to root out the Government. Now that is real funny!

THE FIRE ENGINE TRADE.—We understand arrangements have been made for the retaining of the teams used in drawing the fire engines to and from fires, until the end of the present month. A great deal of dissatisfaction is felt among the firemen at the proposed change, and it may possibly result in a disorganization of the force.

RACES AT TWEED.—The first day of the Tweed races came off on the ice yesterday with a large attendance. First race, best two in three, in harness—First, R. Simmons' horse Bob Second, R. McNeil; third, Wm. Powell. Running races, first, S. Huff's horse; second, Neil Tobbs' Dublin Dan; third, R. McNeil's Lady Windsor.

TO THE GENTLEMEN.—We wish to direct your attention to the advertisement of the Messrs Sanders Brothers in another column. These gentlemen have opened a tailoring establishment in the Ashley Block next door to the Canadian Bank of Commerce, in the premises formerly occupied by Brown and Dean, photographers. Their stock is all new, and none but the best of workmen will be employed. Mr. T. Sanders, who takes charge of the cutting department, has had an extensive experience in New York and Toronto, and those entrusting orders with the firm may expect good fits. We wish the new firm success, and bespeak for them a share of public patronage.

THE KINGSTON LARCENIES.—The Whig reports the proceedings at the trial of the three young men arrested here for larcenies in Kingston, and says:—At three o'clock the boys were arranged before the Magistrate, and sentenced. John Johnston was first called. The magistrate said he was very sorry to inflict punishment but that which he would receive, would, he hoped, be for his good. Perhaps, when he was released, he would be reformed. He therefore, sentenced him to two years in the Reformatory Prison at Penetanguishene. John Brown was next addressed. The Magistrate thought there was no doubt of his guilt. He was sorry in his case to pass a sentence of one year in the Central Prison. William Haight, the negro, was given six months in the Central Prison. The two latter boys took the sentence stolidly, but Johnston burst into tears.

MIGNON CLUB REUNION.—Last evening, at the elegant residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Grier, (formerly of this city), No. 3667 Lake avenue, the members of the old Mignon Club, whose rechere and distinguished career lent eclat to the social season of 1874 and 1875, received a royal hospitality from the host and hostess. The mansion was a bower of exotics, the viands were not less choice in variety and fragrance, and the stringed instruments of inspiring tone were responded to with the pleasure of six winters ago, when not one was as yet Benedict or bride, betrothed or financee. The club was abandoned after a life as brilliant as short—to put in print a bit of social tradition—owing to the matrimonial inroads on its membership, so many marriages occurring within the ranks as to thoroughly depiete them. In all respects the reunion last evening was one of the first-water gems in the season's crown of select entertainment, and the midnight merriness of retreating sleigh-bells was a serenade admirably won by host and hostess.—Chicago Inter Ocean March 4th.

UNSURPASSED.—The old and well known remedy "Holden's Expectorant" (for coughs and colds) is still unsurpassed. More than 20 years it has now been in use and it still continues popular, while scores of medicines for the same purpose have flourished for a year or so and are forgotten. If you have a cough or a cold call at Geen's Drugstore and procure a bottle.

GARDEN SEEDS.—For good and reliable garden and field seeds go to Geen's Drugstore.

INCENTIVES FOR INCREASING POPULATION.—Sir Leonard Tilley having clearly shown by his carefully prepared Budget statement that Canada is more prosperous under a protective duty, and that the N. P. has been a great boon to our manufacturers it is a little strange that the founders of this great policy should neglect the fountain head of all nations wealth, and keep Babies on the free list. N. Davenport, Hatter and Furrier, being convinced that the party now in power will never give this great struggling industry the attention it deserves, will give prizes to every Baby born in the Counties of Hastings and Prince Edward during next December (1881,) as follows:—

For every Girl Baby—1 handsome Fur Hood.
For every Boy Baby—One Fur Turban.
For every Pair of Twins—Two Silver Cups.
For Triplets—One twenty dollar gold piece.

A physician's certificate is expected with every application for a prize, and it is to be hoped that Babies will not be imported into Hastings and Prince Edward from Adjington, Leenox and Northumberland Counties. Please remember while waiting for the "Little Ones" that N. Davenport has the largest and finest stock of Hats and Caps in Central Canada.

MR. H. T. Robinson and his wife have settled their family dissensions. It will be remembered that Robinson, who is an Englishman, was gallivanting around the country with his wife's sister. He wife came up with them in Toronto, and had him arrested for refusing to support her. She appeared yesterday morning and requested that he be discharged.

HOLLOWAY-ST. C. M. CHURCH.

Annual Missionary Meeting Last Night

The annual missionary meeting held in the above church last evening was highly successful, both in point of attendance and in the amount of subscriptions received.

After prayer by the Rev. D. Mitchell, J. Vandusen, Esq., took the chair, and in a few well-chosen remarks stated the object of the meeting, and then called upon Mr. I. Diamond, Secretary, who read a few extracts from the annual report of Home and Foreign Missions. The amount contributed by the Belleville district, was the same as stated in our report of the Bridge Street meeting last evening.

The Rev. Mr. Locke then briefly addressed the congregation, and moved that the collectors of last year be reappointed, which was seconded and carried.

The Chairman next called upon the Rev. H. Steinhauser, native missionary, who delivered a very able address. He spoke of his youthful days before his conversion to Christianity, and also at some length of the hardships and difficulties which missionaries have to encounter in the great North-West, but he thanked God that there was a marked improvement in the customs and manners of the Indians since missions had been established. The speaker interspersed his remarks with some very touching anecdotes, and here and there a bit of quaint Indian humour. He was listened to with marked attention, and I was heartily applauded at its close.

The Rev. Dr. Hunter, of Toronto, was the next speaker, who delivered one of the ablest missionary addresses we have ever had the pleasure of listening to in this city. He spoke at some length, and held the undivided attention of his hearers from beginning to end. We regret being unable to give a report of his speech, but suffice it to say that it was a very brilliant and eloquent one, and was frequently applauded.

We must not omit to mention here that the choir added materially to the success of the meeting by their rendition of several suitable hymns.

The proceedings were brought to a close at about 10:30, by the choir singing the Doxology and the Rev. Mr. Lane pronouncing the Benediction.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

The regular meeting of the Board of Education took place last evening at the usual hour.

Present—The Chairman, Messrs. Wills, Doctor, Wensley, Richards, Wood, Willson Moore, McGinnis, Hayne, W. J. Diamond, Macoun, Johnston, Newbery and Tennant.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

A communication was read from C. L. Coleman, Esq., stating that he would accept the $1100 awarded him for school lot in Coleman Ward, and wishing the matter settled at earliest convenience.

Mr. Johnson presented the report of the auditors of school accounts for 1880, which he asked to lay on the table. Granted.

Mr. Wills presented the By-law to revise and amend the rules of order of the Board, which on motion was received.

The School Inspector presented and read his annual report, which was a very exhaustive document, going fully into the working of the schools for the year, and contained a vast amount of information. Referred to Committee on School Management.

On motion, the Board went into Committee of the Whole on By-laws, Mr. Newbery in the chair.

On motion the by-law was adopted, clause by clause, after a very lengthy discussion.

The committee rose and reported its adoption, as amended.

The by-law establishing the rules was then read a third time, passed, and numbered 27.

Mr. Hayne gave notice that he would move that the Secretary-Treasurer be instructed to pay the amount of the award for school site in Coleman Ward to C. L. Coleman, and get the deed for the same.

The Board then adjourned, after half-past eleven o'clock.

A Scene in the Commons.

A Physical Row averted by Parnell's Prudent Advice.

New York, March 9th.

The Herald's cable says toward midnight an extraordinary scene, which for a few moments threatened to develope into a physical row, took place in the Commons. Finnigan, referring to the constant interruptions, characterized them as a "beastly bellowing." Playfair, chairman, called upon him to withdraw the remark. O'Donnell pointed out that O'Connell had used the word "bellowing." O'Donnell would not be put down. The utmost confusion reigned. Harcourt was observed to whisper to Playfair, who immediately named O'Donnell. O'Donnell shouted he would have to be removed by the police. The Irish members closed around to help him. A physical row was averted owing to Parnell's prudent advice. In obedience to a request of the Irish leader, the member retired peacefully.

LATEST.

LONDON, March 9.—In the Commons last night, when the scene occurred during which O'Donnell was named, Parnell and others took exception to the Chairman's report on the ground that he did not name O'Donnell by name. Harcourt asserted he heard Playfair use the words, "Mr. O'Donnell." The speaker ended the discussion by ruling "no question," until order could be entertained, and then immediately put the question that O'Donnell be suspended. Adopted by 143 to 32, and O'Donnell withdrew. The Home Rulers intend to raise the question of privilege on Playfair's ruling.

Destructive Fire at Consecon.

NAMES OF THE SUFFERERS AND THEIR LOSSES.

(Per Dominion Line.)

CONSECON, March 9.

The most disastrous fire that ever took place here happened this morning. About 2 o'clock fire was discovered issuing from the store of John Byers, general merchant. The building being frame, the fire spread, and soon the adjoining building, owned and occupied by John G. Germar, grocer, was in flames. The wind being high at the time, the buildings across the street were soon subject to the firey element. The people worked with a will, but there being no fire appliances in the village everything was at the mercy of the flames. The names of the losers are as follows:—John Byers, general merchant, loss about $5,000, insured in the Royal for $4,000; John G. German, grocer, loss $1,000, no insurance; J. A. Johnson, Post Master and commission merchant, loss about $200, no insurance; Anthony Crouter, tinsmith, loss small, no insurance; John Hicks, harness maker, everything saved; James Jaques, loss about $1,200, insured for $750; several tenant houses, belonging to S. Greenshields & Co., of Montreal, insurance not known; John Middleton, loss about $1,000, insured. The village presents a desolate appearance. Origin of fire not known.

The Irish Trouble.

PROCEEDINGS AT CORK AND DUBLIN.

Arrests Under the Coercion Act.

NEW YORK, March 9.—The World's cable says there was an immense procession at Cork last night. Speakers advised passive resistance to the Government. Military blocked the way of the procession, which then broke into a gang, which patrolled the streets singing Fenian songs and halting in front of the clubs groaning for the Government and Landlords. There were also demonstrations at Queenstown and Youghal.

Members of the Executive Council of Land League at a meeting in Dublin yesterday discussed the situation in a very moderate tone. Arrangements were perfected for a mass meeting Sunday. The impression prevailed that the Government will prohibit them. It was resolved the families of arrested leaguers should receive a weekly allowance.

DUBLIN, March 8.—The first arrest under the Coercion Act was that of Joseph B. Walsh, of Castlebar, a merchant with a large business prominently indentified with the Land League movement. He will leave Castlebar this evening for Dublin. A number of prominent Land Leaguers arrested in County Kerry this morning and are now on their way to Dublin, Kilmainham goal, where they will be lodged, will be guarded by a strong force of police and military.

3:30 p. m.—So far upwards of twenty persons have been arrested in the country districts under the Coercion Act. No arrests have been made in the city yet.

LATER ARRESTS.

Cornilius Keogh, of Carrickish, County Limerick, was arrested to-day on a charge of intimidation and brought to Dublin. Michael P. Boyton, a League organizer, and one of the traversers, was arrested in Kildare, charged with inciting to murder and other acts of violence. He protested against the act in the name of the American Republic. Walsh, Keogh and Boyton are now in Kilmainham prison.

Boyton is an American citizen of Irish descent. Walsh is a cousin of Walsh, one of the traversers, who is now on his way to New Zealand.

Boyton, on being arrested, declared that he was an American citizen and claimed the protection of the United States. It is understood that Harrington and Power, of Tralee, have also been arrested. Each prisoner to-day was presented with a copy of the warrant specifying the charge on which he was arrested. Keogh is an extensive farmer. Walsh's warrant charges him with intimidation in County Mayo. A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Nally, one of the traversers. A fresh batch of warrants were issued to-night.

Martin O'Halloran, a prominent Land Leaguer, has been arrested at Loughres. The Gazette proclaims county Westmeath under the Coercion Act.

LATEST.

DUBLIN, March 9.—Walsh arrested yesterday, was known for some time as an out-spoken politician. His connection with the Land League is somewhat broadly marked by his extreme views, but outside of his own district he has not been much heard of on public platforms. The reception of prisoners at Dublin was not inspiriting.

At a meeting of the League yesterday, this resolution was adopted: "Where as a general union is taking place between Protestants and Catholics in Ulster, in the cause of the League, therefore we earnestly appeal to Catholics in Ulster to hold no demonstrations on St. Patrick's Day, in order to prevent religious discord."

Dillon said men of the County of Derry have already consented to abandon their procession.

NEW YORK, March 9.—The Herald special says as Senator McMillan left from St. Paul, it is understood the new Senator will come from Southern Minnesota, thus prohibiting Ramsay's appointment. The chances are in favor of Gen. Edgarton.

Washington specials to the Times says, John H. Starin entertained Gen. Grant Post Master General James, Arthur, and a number of Congressmen last night, in commemoration of his retirement from Congress.

It is estimated that about 40 vessels were lost and about 200 persons drowned during the recent storm in Scotland. The snow storm had abated some days before railway communication was restored.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

For Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Erysipelas, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, Eruptions and Eruptive diseases of the skin, Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Blotches, Tumors, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers, Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa, arising from internal ulceration, and Uterine disease, Syphilitic and Mercurial diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, General Debility, and for Purifying the Blood.

This Sarsaparilla is a combination of such vegetable alteratives — Stillingia, Mandrake, Yellow Dock — with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, and is the most efficacious medicine yet known for the diseases it is intended to cure.

Its ingredients are so skilfully combined, that the full alterative effect of each is assured, and while it is so mild as to be harmless even to children, it is still so effectual as to purge out from the system those impurities and corruptions which develop into loathsome disease.

The reputation it enjoys is derived from its cures, and the confidence which prominent physicians all over the country repose in it, prove their experience of its usefulness.

Certificates attesting its virtues have accumulated, and are constantly being received, and as many of these cases are publicly known, they furnish convincing evidence of the superiority of this Sarsaparilla over every other alterative medicine. So generally is its superiority to any other medicine known, that we need do no more than to assure the public that the best qualities it has ever possessed are strictly maintained.

In the Fermeuil rank of Alls four iron and antiperiodic Blands Northrop & Lyman's Quinine Wine. The weak, the nervous, the dyspeptic, never vainly seek its aid; sufferers from bilious, remittent, and intermittent fever are surely rescued by it from the malarial scourge. Its taste is agreeable, its ingredients do not number one that is objectionable, its surry which imparts to it an agreeable wineness, is eminently pure, and serves to diffuse it throughout the system its fine medicinal properties. It revives failing appetite, is conducive to sleep, and promotes regular secretion and evacuation. The nervous and dyspeptic as it is well known, are often troubled with a degree of melancholy which in many cases reaches the state of actual hypochondria. As the stomach regains its tone and the nerves recover their vigor, this ugly feature wears off. Quinine Wine, like falling gradually wears off. and cheerfulness resumes its sway. Persons who are convalescing after an exhausting disease, should take it in properly regulated doses, as it materially assists, thus taken, the restoration of vigor, which, without its vital aid might be seriously slow. Fever and ague and bilious, remittent sufferers should take it only during the absence of the feverish symptoms. Even persons, whose digestion is out of order, gain bodily substance as well as strength by its use. Use none but the Quinine Wine manufactured by Northrop & Lyman of Toronto, which can be procured of any druggist.

DAILY ONTARIO

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

Monday, Feb. 7th.

In the House of Commons Monday the entire afternoon was taken up with a discussion on the first order on the paper, the third reading of the Ontario and Quebec Railway Bill. Three amendments were offered, two of which were lost on a vote, and the third was declared lost on a division. The Bill was read a third time and passed. Several other Private Bills were advanced a stage, and, amongst others, Mr. McCarthy's Sault Railway Bill was read a second time and referred to Committee. In the evening a debate of some length took place on the motion of Mr. Macdonell (Inverness) to discontinue the official reporting at the close of the present session. Mr. Jones, of Halifax, proposed to amend the motion by restricting the length of speeches to one hour, and stipulating that no member shall have opportunity of revising. Mr. Landry proposed an amendment providing for a summary only of the speeches being taken. In the discussion it was evident that in the opinion of a large number of the members the present arrangement is far from perfect, but as to practicable method of summarizing was presented the sense of the House was in favour of a continuance of the existing system for the present rather than abolish it altogether. At the suggestion of the Leader of the Government the order paper was cleared of a large number of unopposed motions, after which the House adjourned at 11:35

Dr. Harvey's
Southern Red Pine
cures Coughs, Colds and Diseases of the Lungs.

ORMEMEE, Jan. 10th, 1881.

"Having examined the preparation of Mr. C. Dies, known as Lorne Bitters, we have no hesitation in certifying that the Medicine is an excellent tonic alterative and diuretic preparation, the ingredients of which are nearly all vegetable. For general purposes it is a very superior bitters, and we would recommend the public to try it in preference to the foreign compounds which flood our markets."

GIVEN UP BY THE DOCTORS,

Which doctors have failed to cure and have given their patients up to die, Electric Bitters have often been used, and a cure effected greatly to the astonishment of all. Diseases of the Stomach, Liver, Kidneys and Urinary Organs are promptly cured by Electric Bitters. They invariably cure Consumption, Headache, Nervous Attacks. Try them, and be convinced that they are the best medicine ever used. Sold by Jas. Clarke & Co.

F. Burrows, of Wilkesport writes: that he was cured of a very dangerous case of inflammation of the lungs, solely by the use of five bottles of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. For a great pleasure in recommending it to the public, as it has proved itself in many of the cases it mentions to cure, though his friend, and is nearly every instance it was effectual.

Jas. Shannon, Leaksville, writes:—"For many years my wife was troubled with chilblains, and could get no relief until about two years ago; she was then not able to walk, and the pain was so excruciating that she could not sleep at night. Your agent was then on his regular trip, and she asked him if he could cure her. He told her Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil was a sure cure. She tried it, and judge of her astonishment when in a few days the pain was all allayed, and the foot restored to its natural position. It is also the best remedy for burns and bruises I ever saw."

Epps's Cocoa.—Grateful and Comforting.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.—Sold only in Packets labelled—"James Epps & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London, Eng." Also makers of Epps's Chocolate Essence for afternoon use.

The Best Field
—FOR—
EMIGRANTS.

An Immense Area of Railroad and Government Lands, of great fertility, within easy reach of permanent market at extremely low prices, is now offered for sale in Eastern Oregon and Eastern Washington Territory.

These lands form part of the great Grain Belt of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 250 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded for all parts of the world.

Grain at Portland, Oregon, commands a price equal to that obtained in Chicago.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R. R. is now assured, and guarantees to afford cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific Coast with the construction of the network of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R. & N. Co. in the valleys of the Great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the lands now open to purchase pre-emption. There is every indication of the enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future.

Lands show an average yield of 40 bushels of wheat per acre. No failure of crops ever known.

Railroad Lands offered at the uniform rate of $2.50 an acre.

The Great American Remedy for COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, LOSS OF VOICE, HOARSENESS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS.

Prepared from the finest Red Spruce Gum, (Delicious to Chew), Horehound, Wild Cherry, Expectorant and Tonic. Superior to any medicine offered for all the above complaints. A scientific combination of the Gum which exudes from the Red Spruce tree of Nova Scotia, and the most valuable native Gum for Medicinal purposes.

Every one who has heard of the wonderful effects of the Spruce Gum and Pine in curing Lung Disease,	GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM.	In this preparation the Gum never separates, and all its unpleasant taste, odor, objectionable properties are removed. This is no secret, as we publish the name of every article we use. Our combination contains all the curative properties of the Gum in a concentrated form.

To Prepare the pulp, scrape off the outer coarse, light pink portion of the bark, and use only the pure white wood next to the sap. Break or cut into small pieces, and put into a porcelain kettle, and to every pound of the Gum add one quart of water, and boil slowly down to one half. Strain through a fine sieve or cloth, and add to every pint of the liquid one pound of white sugar, and boil down to the consistency of honey. Bottle while hot.

Its remarkable power in relieving certain forms of Bronchitis, and its almost specific effect in curing obstinate hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large.

Sold by all respectable chemists. Price, 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

The wonderful Spring of Red Spruce Gum" exists only in the genuine. The Trade-mark, and our signature and likeness are on each package.

Whisky Bob's Claim.

Whisky Bob was dead broke, very tired, and wanted to sit down and study out his situation. He found what was best to be done. He put down his rocker and pack carefully on the grass; his blankets were strapped in it, with pick, shovel, tin wash-pan, with a bag containing a little pork, ham, flour, and tin pot for his coffee, and peeping from the roll of blankets was the neck of a whisky bottle. He had stopped at the bottom of the year, people are very apt to from the Yuba river, that made along for miles. It was well wooded and shaded, by old trees, had little underbrush, and just below him there ran a creek amid the the bushes clear and cool, over the pebbles, which was very pleasant to see and hear in the hot weather of summer.

"Here I be again, the same derned fool as ever, ruined by whisky, after making piles of money; I just deserve it. What a doggoned jackass a human can make himself with whisky."

Taking up his pack, Bob toiled slowly up the ridge under the trees until he came to the top, where it flattened out in little level places and slight depressions. Birds were singing, and flowers blooming around him; and, as he sat down to rest, he listed, in his astonishment not very far off, the clear, sweet voice of a female, singing.

Peeping cautiously under the young pine trees, there, in a little open flat, sitting on a rock, was a girl. It was a pleasant picture to look at for a lonely man—a tall, shapely, buxom young girl, with light golden hair, blue eyes, and very regular, pretty features. She was dressed in a short calico dress, with moccasins on her feet, and a sun-bonnet thrown back from her head. Her hand rested on a long Kentucky rifle. She was a representative of the better class of Western girls, who were continually in those early days, arriving in the mines of California from the long trip over land, emigrating in families from Kentucky and other States.

Whiskey Bob listened to the song with delight, and gazed at the singer in admiration; and then, with his pack on his shoulder, coolly walked out into her presence, and, putting the pack down not far from her, sat down himself. The young girl looked at him a little surprised, but sat composed and still, only putting her hand carelessly on the stock of her rifle. Then she spoke to him.

"Well, mister, who might you be, that walks into a young lady's drawing-room, without knocking, even on the bark of a tree?"

"Please, Miss, I'm called Whiskey Bob —out prospecting," said he."

"No 'miss' about it. Mr. Bob, please. My name, for short, is Nell Gray. Any friends and to others—well, I've a shooting iron," said the girl and continued : "Your name of Whiskey is a bad one, young man, and, I reckon, shows you are being ruined by corn juice. Is that so ?"

"Well, Nell, that's a fact—but rather rough," said Bob, who saw the girl had a half smile on her face.

She was not in the least bold or forward, or wanting in modesty; but the company of rough men, danger, and scenes in the wilderness, had taught her to be self-composed and self-reliant.

"Now, Mr. Bob—without the whisky—it seems to me," said Nell, "you're throwing away yourself away; and there might be something better for yer, if ye'd seek it," and she looked at him with an expression of some interest.

"I know it Nell, if I could only do it." "Got no folks, no family, to keep for you?" said Nell.

"Navy one," replied Bob; "never had. I toted myself and pack up this ridge to jest seek my luck once more, and quit the corn juice and reform. I said to myself, 'Bob, if ye could only meet a true gran away where in these diggings, and stake out a claim wher she stood, it would bring ye fresh luck, and, ye might turn over a new leaf and be somebody once more.' And here sure enough, I've met you."

"I mean right, I am sure," said Nell, softly. "I came down the trail, away yonder, I see my folks are coming along, with their fixings and plunder, pan, mau, and the rest o'em. I must put out, stranger; but, Mr. Bob, you can say a kind word to on parting from a short acquaintance. Yer say a woman brings ye luck every time. Now I just hope I'll bring good fortune to yer and you may take yer pile out of this yere spot, though I can't see where it is. And Mr. Bob, said the girl hesitating, "if ye do find it, and act up to yer good intentions about the corn juice—well, then, Mr. Bob, my folks are raising log houses and shed fixings down on the opening at the foot o' the creek, away there where ye can see a break in the trees. We mean to locate." And walking up to Bob, she put her hand on his shoulder, "and Mr. Bob, if ye raise yer pile ye can bring just a little piece of gold down for Nell to remember she brought a better life for ye."

Bob was confused, and seemed to feel a tear in his eye, but he caught the little hand and kissed it, while Nell, blushing hurried away, with a step like an antelope's.

Whisky Bob was a believer in luck destiny, or whatever we may choose to call it, and more particularly, he had a strong belief in his own good luck, especially in its relations to the fair sex.

He took his rocker and put it in running order down the ridge by a little pool of water, fed by a small stream where he could bring his dirt and wash out for half an hour, and then pack down more while the pool was filling with water again.

Next he went and rolled away the rock under which Nell had been sitting and singing, by the dry pebbles of the rivulet, and taking his pick, commenced digging out a ditch in the grass, about two feet deep and two feet wide, down stream, and filled the dirt to his rocker. He worked until sunset, only finding about six bits of coarse gold, but in his last bucket, when washed out, he found a good solid piece of gold, weighing three ounces. This encouraged him, and brightened his hopes for the future. There was gold there he now found to be a fact.

In the morning he rose by daylight, and after hill trakfast of fried pork and coffee, ending with the usual smoke of his pipe, he went to work again, determined to work the mine out for Nell's sake, if he did not make a fortune.

He worked hard and steady through the day, only stopping at noon for some coffee and a smoke, beneath the pine-tree camp. The sun was very hot, but he found a friend it. At night, when he washed out the day's hard toil, he only had a dollar's worth of coarse gold, but he found a little piece of blue ribbon Nell had lost from her hair. This consoled him amply, as he kissed it and said to himself "Bob, better luck to morrow." His claim was what miners call "very spotted," for the gold was scattered in spots, here and there. The next day and the next, his labors brought him the same results—about enough to pay expenses, or as the miners call it, "grub money."

(Concluded to-morrow.)

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

TUESDAY, 8th.

Mr. Colby threw a bombshell into the Protectionist camp in his endeavour to make the N. P. consistent by insisting that parts of the machinery used in the business, which were not manufactured in the country, should be admitted free. This amendment brought forth a speech from Sir John Macdonald, in which he expressed his regret that one of his supporters should be the first to aim a direct blow at the National Policy, which he declared Mr. Colby's proposal to be. To this the latter replied with the assertion that the exemption of machinery not manufactured in the country was as much a part of a protective policy as the exemption on raw material. The amendment was defeated in Committee was negatived by a majority of 16, and when subsequently presented in the House of Commons it was also negatived by a larger majority. Mr. Mackenzie called attention to the unparalleled delay caused by the Department of the several officers of the 10th Royals. Mr. Caron, Minister of Militia, defended the action of the Department, then under his predecessor, Mr. Campbell, on the ground that Colonel Grasett had been confided with the work of reorganization, and could not be interfered with in the selection of officers. After some further discussion the matter was allowed to drop for the present, to be taken up again on concurrence. Mr. O'Connor displayed his intimate knowledge of the voluminous business details of his Department by saying that there were four messengers when there were really five, and that there were two extra clerks and the public accounts gave the names of almost a dozen. Mr. Blake rather indignantly called upon the Ministry to have somebody give the information the House required in voting public money. The several subsidies to three steamship lines to enhance Canada's trade with England, France, and Brazil were passed, and the House ajourned at 1:30 a. m.

Is health worth having? If it is, protect it. It is a jewel, as easily lost as virtue, and in many cases as difficult to recover. In this climate, and more particularly at this season of the year, people are apt to take cold and suffer from sore throat, coughs, spitting of blood, and pulmonary affections generally following. I was induced to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. After one day's trial I was sensible that it was relieving me; in ten day's time my cough had entirely ceased, and I was soon restored to health and strength. I have ever since kept the Balsam in my house, and whenever any member of my family has a cough or cold, it is immediately resorted to. No family should be without it."

A BAPTIST MINISTER'S EXPERIENCE

I am a Baptist Minister and before I even thought of being a clergyman graduated in medicine and left a lucrative practice for my present profession, 49 years ago, I was for many years a sufferer from quinsy. "Thomas Eclectric Oil cured me." I was also troubled with hoarseness and Thomas Eclectric Oil always relieved me. My wife and child had Diphtheria, and "Thomas Eclectric Oil cured them and if taken in time it will cure seven times out of ten; I am confident it is a cure for the most obstinate Cold, or Cough and if you will take a small lump of sugar and half fill it with the Oil and then place of the spoon in one nostril and draw the Oil out of the spoon into the head by sniffing the hand as they can until the Oil fails over into the throat and practice that twice a week, I don't care how offensive their breathing may be, it will cause it out and cure their Catarrh. For Deafness and Earache it has done wonders to my certain knowledge. It is the only medicine dubbed patent medicine that I have ever felt like recommending and I am veryanxious to see it in every place, for I tell you that I would not be without it in my house for any consideration, I am now suffering with a pain like Rheumatism in my right limb and soth relieves me like Thomas Eclectric Oil.

For the cure of all the various diseases of the Head, Throat and Chest, including the Eye, Ear and Heart.

But a few weeks or months are required to cure the most obstinate cases of Catarrh, Throat diseases, Bronchitis, and the earlier stages of Consumption, when the treatment is conducted under the Doctor's own personal supervision. A word to the wise is therefore sufficient.

All diseases of the respiratory organs treated by medical inhalations.

Inhalations remove hepatization by dissolving the hardened matter existing in the air cells of the lungs, thus enabling the patient to expectorate it with ease, at the same time giving the diseased surface an opportunity to heal.

Inhalations counteract inflammation and soothe the inflamed surface, thus relieving a harassing cough almost immediately.

Inhalations also remove all the fleshy excrescences that exist upon the pharyngeal surface in cases of granulated throat, and restore the proper vitality of the parts, thus relieving the irritation of the throat and the sensation as if needles were penetrating the mucous membrane of the pharynx.

Inhalations will cure the most obstinate cases of catarrh when combined with proper constitutional and other topical treatment.

In fact, Inhalations will cure thousands of cases of the breathing organs when all other means have failed.

Let there be no delay, then, in application to the treatment that has stood the test and proved again and again the only hope—the only reliable safeguard and means of restoration.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

The Kingston Land League has a membership of 800. We have not heard an intimation of organizing a League in Belleville.

The writs have been issued for East Northumberland and Carleton, N. B. Nominations on the 19th, and elections on the 25th inst.

There appears to be a conspiracy in England against American pork, and the trichinosis scare is being raised to serve the interests of the conspirators.

President Garfield wants Minister Lowell to remain at London where he has already done good service, but the latter has enough of diplomacy and wishes to return to his literary pursuits.

—The Coercion Bill is already bearing fruit. A number of arrests have been made in Ireland, and warrants have been issued for the arrest of others. There is much excitement in consequence.

We are glad to hear from Courtney again. He now says the coming sculler is Wallace Ross, and that had the New Brunswicker been handled and trained as well as Hanlan has been, he could beat the champion.

Another suicide, and for mysterious reasons. Hon. W. D. Brennan, of Malone, N. Y., bought strychnine, wrote a note to his wife, and ended his life by taking the poisonous drug. He was a native of Canada, but had lived at Malone for many years.

The Allan line have a fleet of eleven fast freight steamships, fitted up especially for the conveyance of live stock, and sailing between Montreal, Liverpool and Glasgow. On the opening of navigation these steamers will at once commence sailing between the above-mentioned ports.

This by a Boston poet, who disputes with Longfellow, Holmes, and other masters for the laurel wreath, is not so bad as it might be. There is a power of sentiment in it:—

"Full many a maid has toyed with kerosene,
And sailed to glory in a gorgeous glare;
Full many a man has yoked at glycerine,
And flown promiscuous through the desert air."

MONSEIGNEUR FABRE, of Montreal, has condemned the practice of swearing Roman Catholics on the Protestant Bible, as being contrary to a canon of the church, and declares that whoever takes such an oath knowingly commits a sin. The consequence of this charge is that several Roman Catholic witnesses have refused to swear on any other than the authorized book.

CLARKE and others of Manitoba have asked Sir John Macdonald to sit in judgment on Chief Justice Wood, who is accused, among other things, of getting drunk occasionally. Sir John does not feel very comfortable under the circumstances, and would rather be excused, or have the charge of drunkenness expunged from the record. He does not want to condemn himself when condemning the Chief Justice of Manitoba, even to gratify his political friends.

THE Toronto Custom Collectorship has been vacant a year, and no attempt has been made by the Government to fill the vacancy. When questioned in the House the other day, the Minister of Customs intimated that the Government would make an appointment as soon as it was thought necessary to do so. Mr. Blake urged that either a collector was necessary at Toronto or the work is not being efficiently performed. If we are to be guided by the intimation of the Minister of Customs, a collector is not necessary. And, then, if the Toronto Customs can be efficiently conducted without a collector why not elsewhere?

TORY ECONOMY.

We have said that sessional clerks were an expensive luxury under the present Tory regime at Ottawa. Here are some facts in proof of what we have said: In 1878, when Mr. Mackenzie asked for $10,000 as an allowance for sessional clerk purposes, the Conservatives, then in Opposition, objected to the amount as being excessive, and urged a reduction. Mr. Mackenzie finally consented to reduce the allowance to $8,000, which amount was voted. Soon after the Tories took possession of the Treasury Benches, and began to organize their system of economy. Mr. Patrick, Clerk of the House, asked for twelve extra sessional clerks. The Ministry insisted upon his taking a much larger number. He was perfectly willing to take all they would allow him. They furnished him with nearly a hundred, and instead of spending only $8,000, as they insisted Mr. Mackenzie should, they spent nearly $35,000! This is a fair illustration of the economy that is now practised at Ottawa.

Another illustration of a similar nature: Sir John Macdonald, Minister of the Interior, wanted $100,000 worth of clothing and provisions for the Mounted Police in the North-west. The greater portion of the Force is stationed at Fort McLeod, and must obtain their food supplies from Fort Benton in Montana, where they can be purchased for one-fourth the sum it would cost to get them from any part of the Dominion. Sir John was well aware of this, but he was determined to do something for his party organs, while pretending to be doing much for the public generally. He advertised for provisions and clothing for the Mounted Police in 134 Tory newspapers, at a cost of $2,113. The majority of the newspapers thus patronised have only a fitful existence, and many of them do not circulate 800 copies. But they needed assistance, and Sir John had a chance of using the public funds for that purpose in a way that would least excite hostile comment. We may mention here that the Police clothing, for which so many advertisements were inserted, has always been made at the Penitentiary, and the Premier knew it would be made there again, and that the advertisements were serving no purpose whatever.

We could furnish other illustrations of Tory economy, as now practised at Ottawa, but the above will do for the present.

THE MAJORITY AGAIN INSULTED.

Mr. Blake has introduced a bill the principal clause of which reads as follows:—

"If any member of the House of Commons acts for profit, fee, or reward before the Government of Canada or any department and thereof as agent, attorney, advocate, solicitor, representative or otherwise, on behalf of any person in respect of any claim, demand, or application preferred to the Government or any department by such person, or of any claim or demand made by the Government or any department such person, or of any matter depending or in negotiation or in difference between the Government or any department and and such person, the seat of such me mber shall thereby be vacated, and his election shall thenceforth be null and void."

This is intended to cover similar ground as that aimed at by Sir Richard Cartwright's rejected bill, and hence we are not surprised to find this in the Mail, in reference thereto:—

Sir Richard Cartwright's offensive bill in regard to members of Parliament and the Syndicate having been thrown out of the House of Commons by a very decisive vote, we hope to see Mr. Blake's bill treated in a similar summary manner. It is a bill introduced for much the same purpose, to insult the members of the majority and to insinuate to the country that there is need to prevent members of Parliament from acting as the agents of their constituents. It is based on the proceedings of the Railway Commission we are told. That this, it is based on the slanders of a partisan set of correspondents who, listening at keyholes and peering through chinks, and "ferreting out" the private affairs of contractors, have circulated slanders against members of Parliament. Everyone of these slanders has been exposed, denied, and disproved on evidence that no one has yet dared to controvert. But Mr. Blake, in order to secure a petty partisan advantage, has adopted the slanders, and brings in this bill as the expression of his belief in them.

Of course, that settles the matter. Mr. Blake's bill will be "treated in a similar summary manner." The organ speaks by the book. The inspiration comes from the fountain head. It will puzzle most persons, however, to understand how such a measure insults the "members of the majority" only. Does it not apply with equal force to members of the minority? The organ's solicitude for the honor and "proper functions" of members, under the circumstances, cannot but create a suspicion in the public mind. Or, does the organ mean to insinuate that all the political honor, and all the "proper functions" of representatives in Parliament are monopolized by the party of which it is an exponent? The guilty ones generally cry thief first.

FERRY ACCOMMODATIONS.

A CONTRAST BETWEEN BELLEVILLE AND KINGSTON.

Those who have crossed from Kingston to Wolfe Island and Cape Vincent by the ferry boats plying on these routes, know something of the demand made upon their purse to pay expenses. A correspondent of the Whig advocates a reform in this respect, and refers to our ferry accommodations as follows:

Take the first city west, Belleville. They have a steam ferry, established between the city and the township of Ameliasburgh, across the Bay of Quinte. Belleville, though smaller than Kingston, displays a public spirit that we may well emulate in such matters. They have long since secured the removal of toll gates, and made all the roads leading to the city free. The corporation has always taken the liveliest interest in securing the best facilities for communication with their neighbors opposite.

In leasing the ferry they stipulated for an ample boat, capable of carrying a number of teams and many wagons, besides passengers, further stipulating the number of trips the boat should make daily and the tolls that should be levied. Passengers pay 5c. and 20c. takes over a horse, wagon and driver, and there is an agitation for a still further reduction of these charges. With these low tolls the farmer is induced to drive directly from his home to the market place, or hotel, or to where his business may call him in the city, without leaving his seat, as the boat is so wide that he drives on at one end and off at the other. The city practitioner drives from his own door directly to the house of his patient with comfort and little or no loss of time.

These light charges, together with the conveniences of the ferry, enable the farmer to visit the city much oftener than he otherwise would. The mutual advantages are too numerous and obvious to need comment.

At several other points on the Bay of Quinte there are horse ferries established, where a horse, carriage and driver are taken over for 25cts., the boat usually making a round trip for one fare.

It will be a surprise to many to know that should they wish to cross to the island with their horse and buggy for a drive they would be met with a charge of 25cts. for crossing the wharf, in order to reach the boat.

One the live local issues now being discussed by our people has reference to improved ferry accommodations between Belleville and Ameliasburgh, and important improvements are expected.

From our own Correspondent.

MILL POINT NEWS.

The Manufacturing Establishments of Messrs. Rathbun & Son.

SHIP BUILDING

is another important branch of business carried on by the Messrs. Rathbun. Everything in the ship yard is "booming." At present about forty hands are employed, and I understand that business is likely to be brisk during the coming summer. This department is under the supervision of Mr. Evans, a gentleman well qualified for the position. As I gave your readers an account of the work being done, some time ago, it will be unnecessary to repeat it.

At present

is closed for repairs. This mill is one of the finest in the Dominion, and the quantity of lumber cut during the season is something enormous. Lumber of every description is manufactured here, also lath, barrel heading, picket stuff, etc., which furnish employment for some sixty hands.

Having heard a great deal about in which the horses of the above firm are kept, I thought I would call and see for myself. Upon entering the stable I was met by Mr. Howard, the genial foreman, who, upon making myself known, took a great deal of pains to show me through the premises. I might say en passant that Mr. Howard's knowledge of horse flesh is unsurpassed by any veterinary surgeon in the Dominion. The stable is a frame structure 35x150 feet, two stories high, and has ample room for sixty horses. At the time of my visit it contained fifty horses and some eight or ten head of fat cattle. On the right hand side, as I entered, is a room some twelve or fourteen feet square, which Mr. Howard informed me was the bath room wherein horses were placed for the purpose of receiving a vapour bath, which cures chills, founder, and many other diseases which horse flesh is heir to. The steam is supplied from the boiler in the machine shop, and by an ingenious contrivance of Mr. Howard's is made to enter the bath room in such a manner as to give the sick animal the full benefit of it. Along the centre of the stable is a couple of large water troughs, which are kept constantly filled with pure water for the use of the horses. The stable is also supplied with a chemical engine for use of fire. At the north end of the stable is situated the "hospital" proper in which are placed all animals requiring special treatment. Returning to the front of the stable, we entered the "loft" by means of a neat stairway. Upon reaching the loft I was shown the granary which measures 12 x 50 feet, and is divided into three compartments, holding bran, cut feed, and oats. The hay of which some sixty tons were on hand, is pulled up by a patent fork worked by horse power, and which is capable of unloading a load of hay in four fork fulls. The feed is cut by steam power, in the loft, and is passed through a hopper to the stable where it is thoroughly steamed. Near the steaming trough is a carrot pulper, which does excellent work, and is also worked by steam. Descending to the stable again, we entered what is termed "harness room No 2." Here I was shown the "medicine chest" valued at three hundred dollars. I noticed a couple of articles somewhat resembling the soldering iron heaters used by tinsmiths. Upon enquiring their use Mr. Howard said they were disinfecting stoves for the purpose of giving a sulphur fume through the stable as a preventive of distemper, which operation is performed every Saturday night. Harness room No 1 next received attention. In it the harness is cleaned, dried and repaired, Mr. Howard doing all jobs inside of 25 cents, allowing none to go to the harness maker that does not exceed that price. This room is heated by steam from the machine shop.

Underneath the harness room is situated the cellar, capable of holding twenty-five tons of roots. The walls are plastered and the floor is composed of Portland cement. The stable is kept exceedingly clean and the teamsters, some 35 in number, take great pride in grooming the horses under their charge.

CONCLUSION.

I feel that I have given your readers an imperfect account of the immense business carried on by the enterprising firm, but owing to the crowded state of your valuable columns I have been obliged to leave out a great many of the details. The fact of the Messrs. Rathbun employing thirteen hundred hands is sufficient proof of the magnitude of their business, and which represents at least one thousand eight hundred dollars a day for wages.

NEW PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS.—The revised plans of the new Parliament buildings were sent in to the Commissioner of Public Works Tuesday. The several architects were desirous of making such changes as would bring the building, when completed, within the cost fixed by Government, and this work has been undertaken at their own expense. It is not yet known whether the revised plans will be submitted to the Committee of Exports or whether their merits will be decided upon by the Commissioner and the architect of his department.

A CHURCH SENSATION.—There was a nice little sensation in the Riddell street Methodist Church, Woodstock, last Sunday evening. Two young men in the gallery conducted themselves in a very rude and troublesome manner. The pastor, Rev. W. W. Carson, was in the midst of one of his most eloquent passages when the annoyance, which he had felt considerably during the service, became more noticeable, and he stepped, and referring to them, demanded that they should cease; that he and the congregation had stood the annoyance long enough; that they were in the house of God, and as such must respect the surroundings of not themselves. "There is the police magistrate, and there the constable (pointing to these gentleman sitting in the audience), and here (pointing to himself) is the witness." The inference was plain, but we learn that an apology has been given, and for the present, proceedings stayed.

FIXED PRICES.

BESIDES the advantage of Low Prices offered to customers through our system of trading wholly upon a Cash basis, there is this also that is worthy the attention of the public namely, FIXED PRICES. We take it to b the only just and right way of doing business to mark goods at the lowest price we can afford to sell them and not ask more.

Though we are aware that a large number of people are taken by a practice in many stores of the present day, that of the price asked, or professing to give something in, gratis, with a purchase, yet we have no hesitation in saying that the practice is a dishonest one and that little reliance is to be placed on stores which do this.

Where a second price is made, more than the just value is always asked, and the customer, after being put to the annoyance of haggling about the prices gets an abatement, often a very considerable one, and finds after all he has invariably paid more for his goods than we would have asked him in the first place.

—March Sales.—

OUR customers are generally aware that we received our usual Spring shipment of STAPLE and FANCY DRY GOODS much earlier this year than usual; but our sales during the months of January and February were so satisfactory, that if the present months' sales prove large, we will be under the necessity of laying in a second supply in most lines. To ensure this we are marking our Spring goods as well as any Winter goods that are left over at an unusually low advance on cost, and we invite customers to compare our prices and value.

We invite special attention to

of which we have DOUBLE OUR USUAL STOCK and which we are selling at much lower prices than they are usually sold. During the month of March we will offer special inducements to purchasers, and hope to make proportionately large sales.

The blood cannot properly perform its functions when loaded with impurities, because it is thick and sluggish; and every person needs at times something to cleanse and quicken the vital current. Dr. J. C. Ayer's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla meets this want perfectly, and his discovery of this compound ranks as important in preserving the blood in a healthy condition as does that of Wm. Harvey in demonstrating its circulatory action. Nothing else so vitalizes, purifies and enriches the blood as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is a perfect blood and nerve food. It never disturbs the stomach, but greatly assists and promotes the digestion and assimilation of all nutriments, and increases their power to sustain and nourish the body. In renovating the blood in scurvy and quickens the intellect, and thus gives to both mind and body the power of long sustained, arduous and successful effort. —Corning, N. Y., Journal.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Local Brevities.

—No appearance of a break up in the river as yet.

—Only one tramp in the cells last night. No prisoners.

—Another door found open on Front Street last night by the police.

—Freight is very plentiful on the Grand Trunk just now, all along the line.

—The genuine "toothsome sweet" can be had at the groceries. 'Tis a fact.

—The snow has almost disappeared in the city, and wheeled vehicles are pretty generally used.

—Women's Christian Association entertainment in the Workingman's Temperance Hall to-night.

—The Mechanics Institute has received a thorough cleaning at the hands of charwomen. It was much needed.

—Ladies favor the Turkish fashion now and go about veiled A March sun is said to be hard on the complexion.

—When we hear a man boast of the length of his ancestry we are reminded of the quaint saying of the farmer, "The older the seed the worse the crop."

—There is a close competition between the sleigh and the wagon in the country just now, with the chances slightly in favour of the former. The waggon will be king soon.

—A car-load of agricultural implements from Noxon Bros., Ingersoll, has been received by their agent in this city, Mr. Robert Hamilton. They are principally seeders.

—The express was one hour late to-day —the same as yesterday.

—There was a fall in eggs to-day. It took place on Front-st., and left an impression on the sidewalk.

—Thomas Veitch, alias R. A. Fitch, has been arrested at Centreville and lodged in the Napanee jail, charged with jumping bail at Collingwood, and also for alleged perjury.

—The market was largely attended to-day, both the square and inside of the building being full. A considerable quantity of pork and beef was offered for sale at high prices.

Stern winter, now we say adieu,
We've had our fun and scrabbles too,
We've done away with our bandaged heads,
But what on earth will take our sleds?

—The crossings are disagreeable for ladies and everybody else, but this must be endured for a while. The snow and ice must give way under the increasing heat of Old Sol.

—The Toronto Telegram speaks of Mr. Meredith, in his present position, as "leader of a regiment of untrained Bashi-Bazouks." What have Mr. Robertson and Dr. Boulter got to say about it?

—We understand the Rev. Mr. Nethercott is placed in charge of the Bible Christian Church. The Rev. A. Schuster will henceforth occupy his time in the City Mission Work, into which he has entered.

—An attempt is being made to form a joint stock company in Kingston for the manufacture of grey cotton, ducks, ticking, shirting, &c. A committee has been appointed to give the matter a thorough investigation.

A deceitful eye,
Can better descry,
Than you or I,
On how many toes
A pussy cat goes,
And so I suppose
Can best counterfeit.

—We get this from Madoc. It has reference to an item that appeared in the ONTARIO the other day: "Why do the red noses of Kingston serve as so many lighthouses? Do you give it up? Because they give warning of the little water that passes underneath."

—William Arnott, formerly a printer in this office, has abandoned the stick and rule for the paste-pail and brushes, he having bought out the interest of John J. Shea in the city bill posting business. Persons requiring his services may depend upon getting their work well and faithfully done. Now "hang your banners on the outer walls."

—A youth just launching out in trade Unto a wealthy merchant said:
"Pray, tell me, sir, what you profess
To call the secret of success?"
The nabob's eyes with pleasure shone
As he replied in earnest tone:
"The secret simply is, I think, You'll find it, sir, in printers' ink."

—The Kingston News says:—"Detective McCauley speaks in the highest terms of praise of the treatment he received at the hands of the Belleville police while on his recent visit there. The Police Magistrate is mentioned as being a kind and affable gentleman, and the Chief of Police as a man who understands his business. The Detective says his visit was a pleasant one."

—The philosopher of the Tamworth Echo expresses his opinion of Division Courts this way:—To us there is but one attraction in these courts, and that is the awfully wise look of the judge. We have seen a judge look down at the lawyers much the same as a raven would from his perch on a stub of a tree at a flock of carion crows tearing at a dead carcass—the look expressive of "let me show you how to get away with it at a monthful."

—It is said that while women are in general very ready to forgive an injury and have an altogether higher Christian tone than men, there are, nevertheless, some offences of so grave a character that they can never be forgiven or forgotten. What those offences are may be learned from the philanthropic remarks of a peacemaker. "I can make up the quarrel between these two ladies," he said, "provided neither has said to the other that she was homely or an old maid. If these words have passed their lips nothing but death can cure the wound."

CHEAP CLOTHING.—James Hennessy offers a first-rate suit of clothes for $6.50 of good Oxford tweed, well lined and trimmed, positively the best bargain in the city.

INLAND REVENUE.—Mr. Babee, who has been in connection with the Inland Revenue office in this city for the past couple of years, has been transferred to Brantford, and will leave for his new field of labor next week. Those who have been more intimately acquainted with Mr. Babee will feel sorry on hearing of his removal, as he is a young man who has the good faculty of making for himself many friends.

ROWDYISM.—Yesterday afternoon a young lady who is visiting some friends in this city was approached by a young man, on Taylor's Hill, who, remarking that she was a stranger, volunteered his services to show her around the city. The young lady made no reply, and as she was near her stopping place at the time stepped in. The man then went off, and some little time afterwards she came out of the house when she observed the same person, with three others, standing at the corner. On seeing her they divided, going in different directions, and the lady went back into the house. Soon afterwards the gentleman of the house came in, and on being told of the occurrence followed the man down street and learned their names, when he reported the case to the Chief of Police. One of the parties is from Prince Edward, and the others belong to the city.

UNSURPASSED.—The old and well known remedy "Holden's Expectorant" (for coughs and colds) is still unsurpassed. More than 20 years it has now been in use and it still continues popular, while scores of medicines for the same purpose have flourished for a year or so and are forgotten. If you have a cough or a cold call at Geen's Drugstore and procure a bottle.

GARDEN SEEDS.—For good and reliable garden and field seeds go to Geen's Drug-store.

PROBS.—Fresh to brisk northerly winds clear to fair weather, lower temperature to-night.

QUEEN VS GRAINGER.—Mr. Justice Armour will give judgment in this case at Osgoode Hall to-morrow.

SUGAR MAKING.—The season for sugar making is now at hand, and preparations are going on for the season's campaign. Rain is the forerunner of better weather, whilst the work of tapping the trees has already been done. The sap flows briskly and the prospects for a good yield is encouraging.

REMEMBER.—Do not forget the meeting to-night in Bethel Hall, at 7.45. You are invited.

"Lovers of pleasure more than God
For you He suffer'd pain;
For you the Saviour spilt his blood;
And shall he bleed in vain?"

WORK AT THE DOCK.—The dock building at the mouth of the harbor goes bravely on, and the probability is that with a continuance of moderate weather the labors of the men will cease on or about the 18th inst. The space intervening between the piers will be filled with material which will be brought in by the cars.

A CHANGE.—The current in the vicinity of the Ashery now flows in an almost westerly direction, thus giving evidence of the existence of a bar in that locality. The opening thereabouts is gradually enlarging under the influence of the current, and with a continuance of pleasant weather this part of the river will soon be free of stationary ice.

SUCCESSFUL ENTERTAINMENT.—We are informed on good authority, that the Trenton Corps Dramatique played the "Colleen Bawn" in Picton to a $165 house, and that the play in other respects was a great success. In Trenton they produced the same play to a house of over $120. The Trenton people know how to appreciate home talent.

BRANCH BIBLE SOCIETY.—The Christian men and women of the city, irrespective of denomination, are requested to bear in mind the annual meeting of the Bible Society on Monday evening next. The meeting last year was one of the most successful ever held, in consequence of its nonsectarian nature, and thesame unanimity is looked for this year.

LOST HIS WAY.—Mat Shaw Cassy, an employee of the Globe Hotel, Picton, lost his way whilst driving to this city last night. He started from that hum of quietude shortly after midnight, and drove on the ice near the high shore after the moon had set. He drove around until daylight appeared, and he was then enabled to continue his trip to the city, where he arrived without further mishap.

CURE FOR DIPHTHERIA.—Dr. H. P. Gauthier, of St. Paul, Minn., highly recommends iodine as a cure for that fell disease, diphtheria. His method of treatment is this: The patient is ordered tincture of iodine in ten to twelve drop doses every hour, well diluted with water, so long as the fever lasts, subsequently reducing it to ten drops every two, and finally every three hours; local applications of the drug are made use of at the same time. These latter should be made by the physician himself at least twice a day. For internal use, I give, latterly, the decolourized tincture: bread and starchy articles of diet are at the same time used in abundance. Such is my treatment."

YACHTING NOTE.—Mr. R. J. Bell, contemplates making a number of improvements and alterations in the yacht Nora, and the necessary works will shortly be begun. A new cabin will replace that which during the past season did duty as such, and her interior will be so altered that all the requirements for cruising can be provided, and ladies be able to form members of a cruising party, who may wish to use the Nora for such a purpose. She will also be provided with a new patent wheel, which it is considered will fill all the work of the tiller satisfactory and economize space. When this work is done, the Nora will be one of the best fitted, as well as one of the speediest yachts owned in the country.

THE ENGINE TRIALS.—As stated by us one day this week, the members of the different fire companies feel very sore over the change about to take place in the engine teams, and many of them are in favor of "throwing up the sponge," so to speak. They argue that the tenders on which the contract was awarded to the Messrs. McCoy, or at least one of them, was unfair, as the applicant, after finding out, by published report, that he was a long way under the other parties, changed his tender, adding $100 to it. They say that if this person had a right to raise his tender, Messrs. Johnston and Bradford have an equal right to lower theirs, which, we understand, they would be willing to do, rather than lose their positions. Both of these men have excellent teams, well trained to the work required of them, and it is to be hoped that the Council will reconsider so important a matter, and thus prevent a disruption of a fire brigade second to none of its size in Ontario.

INCENTIVES FOR INCREASING POPULATION.—Sir Leonard Tilley having clearly shown by his carefully prepared Budget statement that Canada is more prosperous under a protective duty, and that the N. P. has been a great boon to our manufacturers it is a little strange that the founders of this great policy should neglect the fountain head of all nations' wealth, and keep Babies on the free list. N. Davenport, Hatter and Furrier, being convinced that the parly now in power will never give their names, when he reported the case to the Chief of Police. One of the parties is from Prince Edward, and the others belong to the city.

UNSURPASSED.—The old and well known remedy "Holden's Expectorant" (for coughs and colds) is still unsurpassed. More than 20 years it has now been in use and it still continues popular, while scores of medicines for the same purpose have flourished for a year or so and are forgotten. If you have a cough or a cold call at Geen's Drugstore and procure a bottle.

GARDEN SEEDS.—For good and reliable garden and field seeds go to Geen's Drug-store.

COURSE OF LECTURES.—S. B. Burdett, L. L. D., will lecture before the Commercial Students of Albert College, Friday, March 11th, at 8 o'clock, p. m. Visitors are invited.

GRAIN BIN BURST.—A bin in Henry Coon's elevator at Trenton burst yesterday noon, letting nearly the whole of the contents—6,000 bushels of peas—out on the road. The weather being fine, it was all got back, with only about 100 bushels slightly damaged.

CHRIST CHURCH.—The ladies of Christ Church are preparing for their Annual Tea-Meeting, which will be held in the City Hall next Tuesday evening. In addition to the good things provided for the appetite, there will be an intellectual programme of an interesting nature. Don't forget it.

PERSONAL.

—Forbes, the Canadian artist, is at present engaged on a full length portrait of Sir John Macdonald.

—Mr. Meredith, Q. C., will decline any offer to go upon the bench.

—M. Ryan, M. P., it is said will be appointed Warden of the St. Paul Penitentiary.

—Messrs. Hanlan and Whitefoot go to Montreal to-day and thence to Boston and New York. Mr. Whitefoot wishes to see as much of America as possible before returning to London. Mr. Hanlan will be away about a week.

—Nicholas Flood Davin says Tupper equals Gladstone and could be Conservative Premier of Great Britain if he crossed the Atlantic. Nicholas, it must be remembered, is in the Civil Service.

—H. R. H. the Princess has completed a water colour sketch of Mr. William Lee, the hero of the novel "A sailor's Sweetheart," lashed, as he represents himself in the top of the water-logged brigg in the South Pacific.

—Dr. Dawson, principal of McGill University, was awarded the Lyell medal by the Geological Society of London on the 18th of February, at the annual meeting of that society.

TRUE DIPLOMACY.

A Galveston man met a friend from the country on the street.

"How do you come on ?" exclaimed the former. "When I last heard of you you had a lawsuit on hand with Tom Smith about a fine horse. How did that end?"

"I won it. I completely got away with Tom. You see, the judge was the most honest man in the world, so I wrote him a note asking him to accept the enclosed $5 bill.

"I should think the judge would have ruled against you for trying to bribe him."

"So he would if I had not been careful to sign Tom Smith's name instead of my own."—Galveston News.

MRS. McSPILLKINS' COLD.

A very fashionable Galveston lady, Mrs. McSpillkins, is afflicted with partial deafness and also with a very bad cold, which, by the way, is very fashionable just now. In this connection it may be said she has an infant about six months old. There was quite a little social gathering at a lady's house a few night's ago and the high toned Col. Smith, one of the company, asked how the baby was coming on. The partially deaf lady must have had the cold running in her head instead of the baby, for she replied: "It's the worst one I have had this winter. It worries me nearly to death. I have done everything I could to get rid of it, but it's no use. I can tell by your looks, Col. Smith, that you are going to have one too, just like it pretty soon." Col. Smith don't visit the family any more.—Galveston News.

HONOUR.—It is stated that Mr. Forbes a Toronto artist, is going to England shortly to paint a portrait of Her Majesty. This will be as high an honour as Mr. Forbes can wish for. He is reckoned to be the premier portrait painter of Canada.

PAWNBROKERS.—The Ontario Act in regard to pawnbrokers and pawnbroking seems to be defective in some respects. Dr. Orton wants the Dominion Parliament to take such steps as will prevent extortions by pawnbrokers, by passing an act that will be difficult to evade.

MOTHERS! MOTHERS! MOTHERS!

Are you disturbed at night and broke of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it: there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle.

—Mr. Carlyle's friends it is reported, wish to put the little house in Scotland in which he was born in repair, and kept it as a monument—making it perhaps into a library for the use of the country people about.

Suicide of a Young Woman

SOMETHING MYSTERIOUS ABOUT THE AFFAIR.

MADOC, March 10.—A young woman named Annie Deal, a servant in the employ of C. B. Aylsworth, near this village, committed suicide on Monday night last by taking a dose of strychnine. Deceased had been working for Mr. Aylsworth for upwards of seven years, and according to reports now afloat did not bear a very good character. Dr. Sutton, Coroner, held an inquest on Tuesday, but nothing to throw any light on the reason of her committing the rash act was elicited. A post mortem examination was held, and the contents of her stomach analyzed by Dr. Loomis, who testified to the poison being found therein. The jury returned the following verdict:—

"From the evidence produced, we the jurors are of the opinion that the deceased, Annie Deal, came to her death on the seventh day of March, 1881, from the effects of strychnine."

There seems to be something mysterious about the affair, and rumors are afloat that all is not just right in the matter, and the result of the post mortem examination does not give entire satisfaction to the public. We suppose, however, the matter will remain a mystery and end here.

ENGLAND AND THE MONETARY CONFERENCE.

THE WALKING MATCH.

Brakeman Fatally Shot by Tramps,

LONDON, March, 10.—A deputation of the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce, yesterday urged upon Harrington that the Government appoint Commissioners to represent England, especially India, at Monetary Conference. The Telegraph says Hartington pointed out the invitation as originally worded seemed to commit the Government in accepting it, to adopt bemetallism. The Government could not participate in any conference which assumed their willingness to abandon the gold standard. Negotiations have consequently taken place with a view to modifying the invitation to enable England to accept it consistently with these reserves. England and India would also willingly adopt any safe, prudent measure which might help to rehabilitate the value of silver.

NEW YORK, March 10.—In walking match, Rowell slept at hotel last night and appears to be saving himself for the Astley belt contest. He will walk evenings during the present match to exhibit his style. Vaughan is said not to be in good condition. No interest manifested in the race. At noon the score was:—Rowell, 272; O'Leary, 301; Vaughan, 304.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

For Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Erysipelas, Rose, or St. Anthony's Fire, Eruptions and Eruptive diseases of the skin, Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Blotches, Tumors, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers, Inflammation, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa, arising from internal ulceration, and Uterine disease, Syphilitic and Mercurial diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, General Debility, and for Purifying the Blood.

This Sarsaparilla is a combination of vegetable alteratives — Stillingia, Mandrake, Yellow Dock — with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, and is the most efficacious medicine yet known for the diseases it is intended to cure.

Its ingredients are so skilfully combined, that the full alterative effect of each is assured, and while it is so mild as to be harmless even to children, it is still so effectual as to purge out from the system those impurities and corruptions which develop into loathsome disease.

The reputation it enjoys is derived from its cures, and the confidence which prominent physicians all over the country repose in it, prove their experience of its usefulness.

Certificates attesting its virtues have accumulated, and are constantly being received, and as many of these cases are publicly known, they furnish convincing evidence of the superiority of this Sarsaparilla over every other alterative medicine. So generally is its superiority to any other medicine known, that we need do no more than to assure the public that the best qualities it has ever possessed are strictly maintained.

A Lecture to Young Men
ON THE LOSS OF
MANHOOD

We have recently published a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical incapacity, Impediments to Marriage etc., resulting from excesses.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cts. or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hand of every youth and every man in the land.

MARCH WINDS! The sudden changes and high winds which prevail in March makes a bottle of DOWN'S ELIXIR always necessary. We have all that is claimed for it, and cure for sudden colds as all lung diseases.

RAXTER'S MANDRAKE BITTERS will cure all bilious Diseases. Sold everywhere at 25 cts. per bottle. Try it.

The best remedy for strains and galls on horses is HENRY & JOHNSON'S ARNICA AND OIL LINIMENT. Good for man and beast.

In the Fremont rank of Anæsthan tonics and anti-periodics stands Northrop & Lyman's Quinine Wine. The weak, the nervous, the dyspeptic, never vainly seek its aid; sufferers from fever, remittent, and intermittent fever, are surely rescued by it from the malarial scourge. Its taste is agreeable, its ingredients do not number one that is objectionable. The sherry which imparts to it an agreeable wine flavor, is eminently pure, and serves to diffuse throughout the system its fine medicinal properties. It revives failing appetite, is conducive to sleep, and promotes regular action and evacuation. The nervous and dyspeptic as it is well known, are often troubled with a degree of melancholy which in many cases reaches the stage of actual hypochondria. As the stomach regains its tone and the nerves recover their vigor, through the agency of the Quinine Wine, this feeling gradually wears off, and cheerfulness resumes its sway. Persons who are convalescing after an exhausting disease, should take it in properly regulated doses, as it materially assists, thus taken, the restoration of vigor, which, without its aid might be tediously slow. Fever and ague and bilious, remittent sufferers should take it only during the absence of the feverish symptoms. Lean persons, whose digestion is out of order, gain bodily substance as well as strength by its use. Use none but the Quinine Wine manufactured by Northrop & Lyman of Toronto, which can be procured of any druggist.

DAILY ONTARIO

A WOMAN'S VICTIM.

How a Faithless Wife Laid a Plot to Get Her Husband Back into Prison — An Ex-Convict's Woes.

At the Central Criminal Court, London, the other day, just as the jury were beginning to consult as to their verdict, the prisoner, an ex-convict, who had been taken into custody with spurious coin in his possession, was allowed by the judge, Justice Hawkins, to question a policeman. The following sensational episode being the result:—

"Was it a woman (he asked) who gave you the information?" The policemen hesitated.

"Answer," commanded the Judge.

"It was," said the officer.

"Do you see her in court?" asked the prisoner. The officer looked about vaguely.

"Is that the woman?" asked the prisoner pointing to a rather showily dressed woman with handsome features but a cold, disdainful expression of face.

"It is," replied the officer.

"My Lord," said the prisoner, with a slight tremor in his voice.

"THAT WOMAN IS MY WIFE!"

A buzz of surprise followed the announcement, and the woman turned her head away from the dock.

"I would like to say a few words, my Lord," continued the prisoner.

"The court will hear you," said Mr. Justice Hawkins.

"Thank you, my Lord," said the prisoner, no longer betraying any emotion, but speaking in clear, firm tones "I have served seven years on a similar charge to that now preferred against me. If I am again convicted you will give me at least one and twenty years, and that is the end of my life. Before you do so I would like you to know the whole truth of this affair. I married young. My wife unexpectedly showed extravagant tastes and very expensive habits. I was very fond of her, and did all I could to content her. Honestly I could not keep pace with her desires, and we took to coining.

She was with me in all my operations, aided in the work, assisted in passing the money. When we were taken the evidence was just as strong against her as against me. In answer to questions I put to my counsel, I was told that if I pleaded guilty and said I had compelled her to help me, she would get off. I did so, and she was acquitted. I was sentenced to seven years penal servitude. I served my full time and came back to London, determined to lead an honest life and to restore my wife to an honest home. It was some time before I found her; but I had obtained work at 30s. a week. I had only one wish—to make a new home for my wife. Eventually I found her. She was living with another man. His name is Foster. She told me that she had been obliged to accept his assistance or she would have starved. Foster was a fellow-workman of mine. I was willing to believe all she said and to forgive her. It was a bitter struggle but I did it.

'COME HOME,'

I said to her. 'and let bygones be bygones.' She said she could not come immediately. It would take a little time to break off with Foster; but she would do it. It waited, and every week as I received my wages I took £1 to her and gave it to her that she might have money without asking Foster for any. At last she appointed a night when she declared she would leave Foster. I was to meet her at the corner of Baldborne-place. I did so. She said Foster had come out with her and was a street or so off, but that she would go and tell him now that she had made up her mind to leave him. 'I love you still,' she said, 'rather than any other man in the world, and would never have left you of my own free will; hold this until I come back; I will only be a few minutes.' I waited, and almost immediately a policeman came and took me into custody. I did not know what the packet contained; it turned out to be

FALSE SILVER COINAGE ?"

He paused here, and there was considerable sensation in Court, everybody was convinced of the truth of the man's statement and impressed by its simple and dramatic force.

"I learned afterwards," said he, "that when she left me with that packet in my hand she went up to the first policeman she met, told him where I stood, that I was a returned convict, a coiner of a power of bad money; she knew it, she said, because I had tried to pass some of it upon her. That is my story, my Lord!"

A pin might have been heard drop while the prisoner was making his statement. The Court listened with almost breathless interest. When he had finished a sort of half-controlled expression of wonder and indignation went round, and the jury rose ed up at the judge in a bewildered and puzzled way.

"Policeman," said the judge.

"My Lord," responded the officer.

"Did this woman speak to you, as the prisoner says?"

"Yes, my Lord."

"And gave you the information as described?"

"Yes, my Lord."

"Was the packet of spurious silver in his hand, as he says?"

"It was, my Lord."

Upon the direction of the judge the prisoner was acquitted, and those in Court raised a subscription for him. They raised about £70 for him. His story has been verified in every detail.

The Best Field
—FOR—
EMIGRANTS.
—o—
An Immense Area of Railroad and Government Lands, of great fertility, within reach of permanent market, at extremely low prices, is now offered for sale in Eastern Oregon and Eastern Washington Territory.

These lands form part of the great Grain Belt of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 250 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded for all parts of the world.

Grain at Portland, Oregon, commands a price equal to that obtained in Chicago.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R. R. is now assured, and guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the construction of the network of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R. & N. Co. in the valleys of the Great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the lands now open to purchase or pre-emption. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future.

Lands show an average yield of 40 bushels of wheat per acre. No failure of crops ever known.

Railroad Lands offered at the uniform rate of $2.50 an acre.

The Great American Remedy for COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, LOSS OF VOICE, HOARSENESS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS.

Prepared from the Inner Red Spruce Gum. (Delicious Flavor.) Manufactured by Scientific Knowledge, Experience and Taste. Superior to any medicine offered for the above diseases, and is a Concentrated Extract of the Gum which exudes from the Red Spruce tree in the primeval forests, and valuable medicine for Medicinal purposes.

Everybody has heard of the wonderful effects of Spruce and the Pine-tree as a remedy. Dr. Jacob Bigelow, in "Pharmacopœia Lung. Disease," says: "In France the plaintiff class regularly drink every their common beverage." Numerous patients to whom we have sent the Gum in order that they might test its merits, have written us that it is the most wonderful remedy they ever used. Many have said that they would not take any sum for it if they could not get more. In fact, we have never yet received a complaint from any one who has used it according to the directions.

GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM.

In this age of adulteration the consumer is apt to be deceived, and all the antiquated remedies are performed, and their properties preserved. This Spruce, extracted in a powerful manner, is a very powerful remedy for Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Loss of Voice, Hoarseness, Throat Affections, and all Lung Diseases. It is the most complete and reliable remedy ever offered to the public.

Its remarkable power in relieving certain forms of Bronchitis, and its almost specific effect in curing obstinate hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large.

Sold by all respectable chemists. Price, 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

The words "Syrup of Red Spruce Gum" constitute our Registered Trade Mark, and our wrapper and labels are also registered.

DAILY ONTARIO

Whisky Bob's Claim.

The fourth day, just before he washed out, in his last rocker of dirt, at sunset, he found two pieces of gold—$150, the other full $200. Bob was happy that night; and tied the blue ribbon with a leather string around his neck, so that it could rest on his heart. The next two days brought no big pieces, but the seventh he took pieces of gold from the clay-like cement weighing about $700. It was dark colored gold, pretty solid, and twisted into strange shapes, with holes in it, but not appearing much worn, or in mining parlance, "washed."
When the miners passed him daily on their way over the divide they stopped to ask what his luck was, and when they saw a very little coarse gold in his pan they laughed at him. But Bob kept his lumps of gold in his pocket, or buried them beside the rock in his camp. In this way he worked on, taking sometimes large pieces of gold out, half as large as Nell's little fist, and then for days very little.
The days and weeks passed by, but Bob toiled on, determined to work out his claim, thoroughly. He dug down stream, until over the edge of the flat it became so steep no show of gold could be found, and then dug back and cross-ditches to see if the little depressions of the mountain had any more chunks of gold buried under the grass roots. But he had worked it out; and when better, he had not kept his word to Nell, his resolution to himself to reform, and had taken out his pile at the same time.
He now examined and weighed his gold, and found that he had about six thousand dollars, mostly in heavy pieces. This was a pretty good fortune for seven weeks' digging, and Bob felt an unspeakable longing to go and tell Nell all about it. The next morning by daylight he cleared up, packed his things and started down the ridge to the nearest mining tent. But in his blankets, carefully strapped ont of sight, was a heavy bag of gold in place of a whisky bottle.
Bob had a heavy load to pack, but it was all down hill, and therefore easier for him. He arrived at the mining store, or trading tent, so common in the mountains in olden times, where almost everything could be purchased—from a paper of pins to a calico shirt and broadcloth pantaloons. Here he rested and renovated himself generally, found an old sailor who could cut and trim his long hair and beard to reasonable proportions, and purchased some calico shirts and the cold suit which dazzled the streets of any city, and any of the fair sex would have said he was a very fine looking fellow.
It was early in the day yet, and Bob set out to find the ranch of Nelly's people, leaving his pack except his blankets containing his gold, which were slung over his shoulders on a pick handle.
In a little over a mile's walking he found a pretty valley at the mouth of the creek, where some new log houses, fences and clearings indicated Nell's home.
In a back room, with her white, strong, beautiful arms bare to the shoulder, stood pretty Nell at the washtub, very busy in a stream of soapsuds and Kentucky jeans, singing free as a bird.
Bob put down his pack and walked in, but Nell's quick ear heard, and as she turned and saw him her cheeks flushed and her eyes sparkled,
"What! Bob, is that you come at last — in such clothes, too?" she said, glancing with bright eyes at the young man, and with poorly disguised pleasure.
"Certain sure, Nell; you said I might come."
"Yes, Bob; but how about the whiskey?"
"Nell, I haven't touched a drop since you saw me; if I have, they may shoot me. And what's more, don't mean to—if you say so," replied he.
"And Bob did I bring luck to you?" Was there any good up there?"
"Only about six thousand dollars and more, rolled up in there blankets. But I owe to your pretty self, or I'm a nigger. And, Nell, just look here," and Bob took from his breast pocket a roll of bills, neatly fully wrapped in paper, which had rested on the bow of Nell's blue ribbon that he had found, and which she plainly saw. Unwrapping it there was found a roll of gold in the shape of a spread eagle, almost exact in every part, weighing over six ounces.
"Nell, yor said I might bring yer a specimen from my pile, and here 'tis."
"Yes, Bob, but what gal's bit of ribbon is that yer so fearful about?" said Nell, with a loving look, but turning her face mischievously from him, and stirring the soap-suds.
"That ere," replied he, "broke loose from the bar of an angel that met me on the mountains, yonder, and said some kind words to a dead-broke man, that gave him new life, and what's more, brought good luck and a pile of gold to him, and he kept the thing as a charm to lighten his thoughts when he felt down-hearted," and Bob went closer to Nell, whose cheek turned red.
"Yes, Bob," said she, "but ain't that talk kind of airy? Angels don't fit round those diggins, as I never heard of."
"Yes, Nell, that's so; but any woman's an angel to a man that's going wrong, and in the loving-kindness of her heart, encourages him to do right, and that's what you've done for me. You see, Nell, I've never had any folks of my own blood to keep for me; I went into a ship's cabin as 'prentice boy from an orphan asylum. That ere gold came to me by luck from you, and if ye'd only take with something else—"
"With what, Bob?" but Nell still kept her face turned away, while he was edging still closer to her.
"Well, Nell, if I must make the riffle, just take Bob with the durt and make him a happy man for the rest of his life. He loves you, and would die for you, any time," and Bob stole his arm around her slender waist.
Nell at last turned her blushing face and looking roguishly at Bob, said: "Don't you think, Bob, it would be better sense to say that ye'd live for Nell than die for her?"
Bob didn't speak, but drew Nell to him, and kissed her. Nell somehow had her hands so entangled in the soap-suds and clothes that she couldn't resist; but she pouted her lips, and Bob took his kisses back from them.
Three years after the above events happened, in that same little valley, was a very pretty cottage with a garden and flowers around it, that indicated taste and refinement, and the whole clearing had become extensive, with its buildings and improvements. Here resided Mr. Robert Stinson and his pretty wife Nell, the handsomest and happiest couple in the northern counties.
Mr. Stinson was a prosperous cattle dealer, well-to-do, and few remembered there was such a man as whisky Bob.

FOREPAUGH AND AMERICAN BEAUTY.

The New York correspondent of the Rochester Democrat writes: Thirty years ago a number of pretty-faced women who had plenty of money allowed themselves to be presented to the public as the beautiful women of the day. Their portraits were engraved and the work filled an elegant quarto. One of the number was Mrs. Coventry Waddell, who lived in great style at Murray Hill, but since then her husband has been glad to obtain a berth in the custom house. Most of these vain creatures lived to regret their folly.
New York contains some fine looking women at the present time, but they would not thank me for mentioning their names. A show of beautiful women was attempted at Gilmore's Garden two years ago, but it proved a complete failure. It is highly probably that had Forepaugh's offer been made ten years ago, Helen Gahagan Mansfield might have been a successful candidate. It is supposed that the prize will awake competition in Europe, and Forepaugh may expect a few hundred foreign photographs. Perhaps Mrs. Langtry may enter the the list, and the public will be curious to know who is considered the most beautiful woman in the world.

Bristol's Sarsaparilla and Pain Killer are powerful tonics in the safest of all remedies. Under their penetrating, destructive influences, the foulest ulcer and the deepest gangrene are speedily changed in their character, and the most loathsome sores and eruptions are soothed and healed.

The uses to which Murray & Lanman's Florida Water is put may, without exaggeration, be said to be universal.

In refined and cultivated society it is recognized as the most refreshing and exquisite of perfumes for the handkerchief, the toilet, and the bath.

Consumption.—Many say that this disease cannot be cured, but the proprietors of Allen's Lung Balsam will satisfy any one that it has been cured in very many cases of the worst description. They have hundreds of testimonials from thankful individuals who willingly admit it has saved their lives.

Fellow's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites will not only supply the waste going on in the brain, but will enable the mind to endure a greater tax than before. It will impart vigor and promote clear conceptions to the intellect. It will strengthen the nerves and gives power to all involuntary as well as the voluntary muscles of the body.

"INDIGESTION."—Yes, I have tried every kind of it and found no relief. I have no doctors, but can offer a prescription that has cured very many, and it might cure you as well; it shall cost but a square or dollar, and can be had at any Druggists.—Ask for Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

See advertisement in another column.

Persons who are very susceptible to sudden changes of weather would do well to keep a supply of Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum in the house. This compound is a concentrated preparation of the Gum which exudes from the Red Spruce Tree, and makes a large quantity of the Gum in perfect solution, never separating. Its remarkable power in curing all the forms of bronchitis, and curing obstinate, hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large. No remedy can equal it for a safe and thoroughly reliable Cough Medical. Feb 26 dw1 Sold by all druggists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

Is health worth having? If it is, protect it. It is a jewel as easily lost as virtue, and in many cases as difficult to recover. In all Throat diseases and colds particularly at this season of the year, people should be very apt to take cold and suffer from sore throat coughing, spitting of blood, and pulmonary complaints generally, which if not checked immediately lead to serious consequences. The question arises, which is the quickest and most effectual remedy? Brown's Bronchial Wafers have been before the public for twenty years, have always given perfect satisfaction, and invariably effect permanent cures when taken in season. Sold by all medicine dealers and country stores at 25 cents a box.

"I have no hesitancy in recommending Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry."—G. W. Seard, St. Catharines. "I would advise any one suffering from summer complaints to give Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry a fair trial."—Carman M. Grand Marsh, Castleton. "Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry gives universal satisfaction."—Thomas Douglas, Cambray. "Can recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry with confidence."—Mrs. Jas. Berry, Wilmington. "My customers bear high testimony to the virtues of Dr Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry."—T. Stevenson, Orangeville.

The bane turner stove, the telephone and other improvements of a like kind have worked a domestic and social revolution within the last few years. Among these improvements it is not unfair to include the "Myrtle Navy" tobacco. The great majority of men smoke because they have come to consider smoking a luxury, and will continue to do so. It is important, therefore, that they should smoke the best article of the article. That is what they get supplied with in the "Myrtle Navy." All smokers who have used it know that its flavor cannot be excelled, that its quality is always uniform and that the only care they have to exercise in its purchase is to see that the trade mark T. & B. is stamped on the plug.

MEDFORD, MASS., Sept. 18, 1877.
MRS. GILES—Dear Sir.—I have used your Iodide Ammonia Liniment and find it the best remedy I ever used. For a sprain or callous there is nothing equal to it. My wife sprained her ankle last Saturday evening; I used the Liniment as per directions; the second application was a perfect cure. Some of my friends started last night for Johnson Co., Kentucky; they have taken several bottles with them. I have used it on my horses and it works like a charm. I am going to Kentucky next month—farming. If you have any wish I could be served, that you might like, please send me two or three copies, and oblige
Yours respectfully,
CHAS. W. FOSTER.

HOW TO GET RICH.

The greatest secret of obtaining riches is first to practice economy, and the "Little Giant Snyder" says, "it used to worry the life out of me to pay enormous doctor's bills, but now I have none to pay. I take Burdock Blood Bitters regularly in our little household, and all simply because we like its effects—it makes us feel well." Burdock Blood Bitters are sold by Parkes Con Extract Co., Hamilton, Ont. Sold by all druggists at $1 per bottle or six bottles for $5, and holding it with the power that moves alone can give. Take no substitute. Parkes's Canada Corn Extractor never fails to cure. Price 25 cents per bottle. Sold Everywhere.

INFLAMED GUMS

are instantly relieved, and will be permanently cured by the use of SOZODONT. The whitest of teeth and the purest breath follow the use of this fragrant dentrifice. Its history is one long, continuous record of success as a beautifier of the teeth. Other preparations for the teeth have appeared and passed away, but SOZODONT remains. Sold by druggists everywhere, and strongly by Spalding's Prize Medal Agency. It is always ready to be used, and may justly be termed "Semper paratus."

ENVIED BEAUTY.

What is more handsome than a clear complexion, showing the beauties of perfect health? All can enjoy these advantages by using Electric Bitters, which purify the blood, and all diseases of the Stomach, Liver, Kidneys and Urinary organs. Only fifty cents per bottle. For sale by all druggists. For nervous debility and all disorders of the kidneys, they are a never failing remedy, and positively cure where all others fail. Try the Electric Bitters and be convinced that their wonderful merits. For sale by Jas. Clarke & Co.

NEW YORK BUTTER MARKET.

In reporting the market prices for butter the New York Tribune, of May 30th, says: "Choice packages of the retail trade sell at 19 to 20 cents, but light colored goods are hard to dispose of, and several lots were thought well sold at 17 to 18 cents. A fair to ordinary lot of dollars and cents is rapidly consuming dairymen that they should use the Perfected Butter Color made by Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt. It gives the perfect June color the year round and dairymen that use it never send light colored goods to market.

TWENTY YEARS A SUFFERER.

DR. R. V. PIERCE:
Dear Sir—Twenty years ago I was shipwrecked on the Atlantic Ocean, and the cold and exposure caused a large abscess to form on each leg, which kept continually discharging. After spending thousands of dollars, with no benefit, I was persuaded to try your Golden Medical Discovery, and now, in less than three months after taking the first bottle, I am thankful to say I am completely cured, and for the first time in ten years can put my left heel to the ground.
I am, sir, yours respectfully,
WILLIAM HYDEN,
St. Jefferson Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

MAN'S NOBLEST WORK.

This is an age of great work and wonderful invention. Steam, electricity, water, all are made to serve man, but unquestionably the greatest inventions are those which preserve man's health and prolong his life, and among the greatest of these is Dr. Pierce's New Discovery for Consumption. Its effects are truly wonderful and hundreds are happy to-day, who once looked forward to an early grave. For Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, loss of voice, Hay Fever, Hoarseness, Croup, or any affections whatever of the Throat, Chest or Lungs, Dr. King's New Discovery will positively cure. We can cheerfully recommend it to all, and can unhesitatingly say it is the only sure cure for Throat and Lung Affections. Trial bottles ten cents; regular size $1. For sale by Jas. Clarke & Co.

From Hon. W. H. Jones, of West Dover, Vt.
"I have been troubled from my boyhood with chronic or hereditary lung complaint. Some years since, early in the winter, I took cold, which as usual settled into a severe cough. This continued to increase as the season advanced, although I made use of all the cough remedies I had knowledged of. My family physician also prescribed for me, but I experienced no relief. During this time I was gradually running down, losing flesh and strength, until my friends, as well as myself became very much alarmed, thinking I should waste away in consumption. While in Boston, I purchased a bottle of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. After one day's trial I was sensible that it was relieving me; in five day's time my cough had entirely ceased, and I was soon restored to health and strength. I have ever since kept the Balsam in my house, and whenever any member of my family has a cough or cold, it is immediately resorted to. No family should be without it."

50 cents and $1 a bottle, sold by all druggist.

A BAPTIST MINISTER'S EXPERIENCE.

I am a Baptist Minister and before I even thought of being a clergyman graduated in another business and followed the practice of my present profession, 40 years ago. I was for many years a sufferer from quinsy, "thrush" and sore throat. Oil cured me. I was also troubled with horseevils and Thomas Eclectric Oil always relieved me. My wife and child has been afflicted with "Croup" and Oil has cured them" and if taken in time it will cure seven times out of ten. I am confident it is a cure for the most obstinate Cold, or Cough and if any one will take a small teaspoonful and half fill it with the Oil and then place of the spoon on one nostril and draw the Oil out of the spoon on the head by sniffing as hard as they can until the Oil falls over into the throat and practice that twice a week, I don't care how offensive their breathing be, it will clean it out and cure their Catarrh. For Deafness and Earache it has done wonders to my certain knowledge. It is the only medicine dubbed patent medicine that I have ever felt like recommending and I am veryanxious to see it in every place, for I tell you it truly would not be without it in my house for any consideration, I am now suffering with a pain like Rheumatism in my right thigh and moth cleavage, nor like Thomas Eclectric Oil.

BELLEVILLE,

For the cure of all the various diseases of the Head, Throat and Chest, including the Eye, Ear and Heart.

But a few weeks or months are required to cure the most obstinate cases of Catarrh, Throat diseases, Asthma, Bronchitis, and the earlier stages of Consumption, when the treatment is conducted under the Doctor's own personal supervision. A word to the wise is therefore sufficient.
All diseases of the respiratory organs treated by medical inhalations.
Inhalations remove hepetization by dissolving the hardened matter existing in the air cells of the lungs, thus enabling the patient to expectorate it with ease, at the same time giving the diseased surface an opportunity to heal.
Inhalations scatter inflammation and soothe the inflamed surface, thus relieving a harassing cough almost immediately.
Inhalations absorb the fleshy excrescences that exist upon the pharyngeal surface in cases of granulated throat, and restore the proper vitality of the parts, thus relieving the dryness of the throat and the sensation as if something were pervading the mucous membrance of the pharynx.
Inhalations will cure the most obstinate cases of catarrh when combined with proper constitutional and other topical treatment.
In fact, Inhalations will cure thousands of cases of the breathing organs when all other means have failed.
Let there be no delay, then, in application to the treatment that has stood the test and proved again and again the only hope—the only reliable safeguard and means of restoration.
Consultation free and prices within the reach of all.
The very best of references given from all parts of Canada from those already cured. Remedies sent to any part of Ontario.
If possible, call personally at the office for consultation and examination, but if impossible to do so, write for "List of Questions" and "Medical Treatise." Address

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

The Scotchmen of Montreal are indignant over the proposed abolition of the clan tartans in the British army, and will hold a public meeting to protest against the change.

German emigration is not all directed to the United States. A large number are intending to settle in Manitoba, and fifty have already taken up homesteads there this spring.

The Boer commander, it is reported, has ordered all the homesteads of the loyal Boers in the Utrecht district to be burned. This is considered a breach of the spirit of the armistice, and may defeat the peace negotiations.

A further investigation has been had into the affairs of the Blind Institution at Brantford. The Bursar has formulated a number of charges more or less serious, and his whole evidence was very severe on the Principal.

The United States have now more than 50,000,000 inhabitants, and if immigration continues at the rate it has for some time past another 10,000,000 will soon be added. the German authorities are getting alarmed, and American agents are warned to be less demonstrative in their appeals.

Gen. Garfield is a member of the Cobden or Free Trade Club, and it is reported that he has written a letter expressing his inability, for various partiotic reasons, to carry out all the principles of the club, but at the same time he approves of all possible ventilation of free trade in America.

This is an interesting item to find in the Mail:—

A comparison of the voting of St. John in the years 1878 and 1880 shows that in the former year there were 3,562 persons qualified to vote for members of Parliament and 2,944 last year.

Will our contemporary explain what it means? A decrease of 618 votes in St. John during two years of the National Policy is more than the most rabid free-trader in the county presumed to calculate upon.

THE Lennox Conservatives are said to be divided in their allegiance to Mr. Hooper, the present member, who refuses to resign his seat, and avows his intention of offering as the party candidate at the next general election. More than half the party in that riding will object to his candidature and refuse to support him.

IN its editorial reference to the case of Queen ex rel. Lee vs. Gilmour, the Globe makes the same mistake as a Kingston contemporary, in locating the dispute at Napanee. Mr. Gilmour was elected Reeve of Trenton, and the report of the legal proceedings at Toronto, published in the Globe of March 1st., correctly stated all the facts of the case.

THE Globe publishes a list of the subscribers to the Brown Memorial Fund up to March 9th. We find Madoc and vicinity liberally represented, considerable amounts having been collected by Messrs. E. D. O'Flynn and P. Vankleek. So far Belleville has not contributed a cent towards the fund, but the list of subscribers may have been delayed and will appear later.

MR. FORBES HEARD FROM.

The great war correspondent and lecturer was interviewed a few days ago at the Gilsey House, New York. He was packing up, preparatory to starring for Chicago and Winnipeg, but he was in a good humor (!) and greeted the reporter in a cordial tone. Mr. Forbes declared in answer to a question that he had been most agreeably disappointed with the American people. He had an idea that they were a race of ill-mannered, bad-tempered people, but he knows now they are not. (Ahem, we would like to know what the American people think of Mr. Forbes' manners and temper). But he has discovered one disgusting habit among Americans, and that is clearing their throats when in conversation. Mr. Forbes' further remarked:—

"Canadians are also peculiar. They never shut a door. I asked a boy in a hotel what a door was for, and he replied, 'To go in by.' But speaking of Canadians reminds me of my trip through Canada. It was one continual supper—and speech-making. I could not get away. The Canadians are genial, gentlemanly men; men of sterling character, who I believe mean well. But they are insufferably slow. They admire the Americans, and when an American happens among them they receive him with open arms—cannot do too much for him. But when they cross the border they are dignity personified and keep the Americans at the elbow joint, as if every man they met wanted to rob them."

Now, that is better than we expected. But it is probable the great war correspondent had quite forgotten his visit to Belleville. Speaking of his plans for the future he said:—

"I go to Winnipeg to lecture. I will continue lecturing in the west for some little time. I shall stay in New York for a day on my way to the far West, when I shall sail in May for Australia. But I certainly intend to return to America another year and possibly will lecture again. At all events I will write a book, having taken a number of notes. As to my going out to South Africa for campaign work, it is not probable. Had I been in England I should have gone. But I am very glad that I was not, because I sympathize with the Boers; and then the warfare is nothing but skirmishing all the time, the most dangerous for life and the most difficult to write up."

PROTECTION, THE POOR MAN'S FRIEND.

BY THOMAS O. SHEARMAN.

The protective system could not stand a day if it were not believed by at least half the poor men of this country to be favorable to their interests. It would be amusing to observe how strongly this belief prevails among poor men, if it were not so melancholy to see them sacrificing their own comfort and that of their families to a gross delusion. What is protection? Nothing in the world except a heavy tax on the necessaries of life, imposed for the express purpose of making them dearer to ourselves. How is this tax paid? In proportion to men's lands, houses, property or income? No; but in proportion to what they spend upon themselves and their families. Mr. Vanderbilt is said to have an income of from $10,000,000 a year to any conceivable higher amount. But call it $10,000,000. He may possibly use imported goods to the extent of $50,000 a year; although we doubt it, except when he buys pictures, which do not pay much duty. But 1,000 of his workmen, earning $500 a year each, or $500,000 in all, will use a much larger amount of imported goods, paying an equal duty, although all of them together do not have an income one-twentieth part as large as his, and do not own one-hundredth part of his property. Now it is only fair to Mr. Vanderbilt to say that he does not especially support this system, much as he profits by it. His workmen, who generously pay nineteen-twentieths of his taxes, are much more bent upon keeping up this wonderful system than he is.

But this is not all the beauty of protection. Duties can be levied in two ways. One is called a specific duty; and the other ad valorem. Under the first, goods pay duties according to weight or measure; under the second, according to their market value. Great complaints are made of the frauds which are practised on the Government under ad valorem duties; so specific duties are levied as far as possible. That sounds very fine; and poor folks vote gladly for honesty and specific duties. But alas! they find out that they are victimized worse than ever by their friend "Protection." The poor man imports an article of cheap quality, weighing ten pounds, worth $10. The specific duty is 50 cents a pound; so he pays Uncle Sam $5. But his rich neighbor imports a like article, of the same weight, but so much finer in quality, that it is worth $50. He pays just the same duty, because his fine goods are of the same weight and length with the poor man's. But the result is, that while the poor man pays a duty of 50 per cent, the rich man pays only 10 per per cent. And this is the system actually in force under the existing tariff.

This method is resorted to solely on the ground of necessity, to avoid fraud. It is said, and truly, that under any other method the Government will be more or less cheated by false swearing as to values. But what a condemnation this is of the whole system, by which either every poor man must be made to pay four or five times the tax imposed on a rich man, or else honest men must be made to pay twice as much as perjured rogues! Surely it is time that some other method of taxation came into use.

Well, Congress is not blind to this grievous injustice; and so it has done its protectionist best to remedy it; and how do you think they do it? Our wise and considerate legislators impose both kinds of duties on the same articles, and so give both rich men and perjurers all possible advantages over poor and honest men! On woolen goods, for example, the duty is fifty cents a pound, so as to make poor men pay more than rich ones, and then thirty-five per cent. on the cost, so as to give a chance for rogues to swear down the cost below what honest men could! True, neither the rich nor the rogues make quite so much separately as the rich would if the duty was all specific, or the rogue if it was all ad valorem; but the poor and honest man is nowhere. Evidently, Congress thinks that all rich men ought to be honest, and all poor men ought to be rogues; so it splits the difference between them. The final result is that the poor man's cheap blanket pays 100 per cent. duty, while the rich man's fine blanket pays only seventy per cent., and even less, if he only gets a clever rascal to bring it in for him. And it equalizes matters by giving the poor man a discount, if he will only employ a rascal, too.

We are not accusing any one of actually intending to bring about these results. Protectionists are sincere and honest in their belief, both in and out of Congress. Even when members of Congress move, as they have often done, to increase duties on articles which they make, and of which they have a monopoly, they really think that it will be a great thing for the country that they should make a fortune out of it. When Mr. Hathorn went to Congress, and urged a tax upon all foreign mineral waters, he no doubt thought that American stomachs would be injured by the use of any waters which did not come from the Hathorn spring. When Mr. Griswold moved to increase the duty on iron frogs, of which he was the largest maker, he doubtless believed that English frogs were bad for American railroads. When Mr. Warner Miller stood out for that duty on paper-making materials, by which he makes a fortune, while he adds one-fourth to the price of every newspaper, he believed that the country would be much better off if he became a millionaire than it would be if he should be reduced to a mere pittance of two or three hundred thousand dollars, for the sake of selling the New York Tribune at three cents; and the Tribune finally agreed with him, and led the van for Miller, millionaires, and the tariff of 1880. So Miller was re-elected; and the Tribune remains at four cents. A change in the tariff would enable the Tribune to sell at three cents, and yet make $100,000 a year more than it does now. But with noble self-devotion, all the readers of the Tribune, except ourselves, prefer to pay four cents a copy, and its proprietor to sacrifice their dividends, rather than interfere in the slightest degree with the sacred motto of "Miller, wool-pulp, and the tariff of 1880."—Christian Union.

A VENERABLE OLD CHURCH.

There was an interesting church anniversary in New York City the other day. The Forsyth-st. M. E. Church celebrated the 90th. year of its existence by a service that attracted a large attendance. This church was erected in 1780 on land that was confiscated from a Tories, and still contains memorials of its early existence. There are an old arm-chair which Bishop Asbury occasionally occupied, a clock, pulpit, altar-rail, &c., that recall the old times and faces. Several services were held in connection with the anniversary, the most interesting of which was the reunion of former pastors, members and friends of the old historic church. The building on this occasion was crowded to its utmost capacity. Bishop Harris presided, and among those on the platform were Peter Cooper, Thurlow Weed and Chauncey Shaffer, all old men, connecting the past with the present. There were also eight persons present who attended the anniversary services in the same church fifty years ago.

After a number of persons had related their experiences, Chauncey Shaffer spoke briefly. He said that he was a grandson of Bishop Asbury on one side, and on the other he came from the hardest kind of Presbyterian stock. He thought that in 1837 the Methodist of New York made a royal arch mistake in moving their churches up town for the benefit of the Flora McFlimseys. It was his opinion that more churches were needed down town, and he thought that fashion would yet come that way. If he wanted to be really fashionable twenty-five years from now he would buy property on the Battery while it was yet cheap, for he believed that the fashionable people would then seek that neighborhood for their homes. In the meantime he hoped they might have meeting-houses for the poor in the heart of the thickly populated districts. He advocated the appointment of Germans as missionaries in the lower parts of the city, and he predicted that there would be an immense German emigration to this country in a few years.

Peter Cooper was then introduced by Bishop Harris. Notwithstanding his age he spoke with a firm voice which was audible in all parts of the church. He said that he would most gladly have a few words with the congregation growing out of the best lessons of his life. The first lesson he received from his parents, who were for sixty years members of the old John Street Church, was that it was safe for him to do anything that he knew was right, and dangerous to do that which was wrong. It had been the light in his path through his long life. The next lesson he learned was from the oldest known record of human events. It was to keep subdued and have dominion over the things of the earth. The object of life was to better one's condition and the condition of those around him. He next spoke of the beauty of benevolence, and said that the height of bliss was the height of charity. He recited portions of Pope's Essay on Man, from which he said he had derived much pleasure during fifty years. Charity he held, was the grand key to unlock the kingdom of Heaven.

Thurlow Weed said that his strength was not sufficient to enable him to express his feelings. His voice was very low, and it was with great difficulty that he was heard even by those immediately surrounding him. He spoke of John Summerfield, a pastor who at one time occupied the pulpit of the Crosby Street Church, and said that he paid more deference to his judgment than to that of any other man of his years. He also spoke of the important part which the Rev. Mr. McArthur, secretary of the Methodist Book Concern in London, played at the time everyone thought war between Great Britain and America was imminent, twenty years ago.

When Mr. Weed had taken his seat, Mr. Cooper again rose. He said he had one thought which he would like to utter. Science is the law of God, designed for the use and elevation of mankind. "Believing this," he added, "I say that when Christianity becomes to be felt in all its purity, power and force, it will be found to be a simple system to guide and regulate the action of mankind. I would like that thought to be remembered."

AMELIASBURGH ITEMS.

The Soiree at Mr. Brickman's—A grand Success—About $00 present

The social announced to take place at Mr. E. A. Brickman's last evening was a grand success throughout. Shortly after 6 o'clock cutters and sleighs loaded with jolly young people commenced to arrive from all parts of the township and neighboring county. About 8 p. m. two sleigh sent to Belleville arrived with full loads, consisting of over 40 persons. These were followed shortly by another sleigh containing the Oddfellows' band. On the arrival of the band a good round of cheers was given, which showed the band was welcome and valued highly. After the members had warmed they assembled and rendered in fine style "Remembrance of Home." It would perhaps be well to state here that the attendance of the band was a real novelty. A social entainment of any kind in the country having a full band engaged has never been known before. After tea had been served, the band played a set of Waltzes, which was fully appreciated.

The remainder of the evening was spent in social chat. We were at times almost inclined to believe that the name of "Do as you please" would have been more appropriate than "Go as you please." About 11 p. m. the older visitors began to leave for home, followed by those from Belleville. The band gave another of their favorite selections, after which the house was called to order and Mr. W. T. Kinny, in a neat little speech, moved a vote of thanks to the band for lending their assistance on such liberal terms. Mr. S. S. Morden seconded the motion, and said that the band could rest assured that their kindness from them would never be forgotten. This was followed by the band playing "He's a jolly good fellow," and the gathering broke up, all feeling well pleased with the evening's entertainment. The proceeds will amount to upwards of $40, which goes towards liquidating the circuit debt.

HANDS OFF.

The War Song of the Boers.

LONDON, March 8.—The Boer war song creates much interest here, being a valuable contribution to the knowledge of the spirit actuating the people of the Transvaal. The following is its text:

Hands off! Stand back! Leave us alone!
You shall not rob us of our own;
We will be free! We will be free!
God and the right shall our standard be.

Our fathers' sweat and our fathers' blood
Have soaked the ground on which they stood;
Our mothers' tears, our mothers' toil,
Have hallowed our blest Afric's soil.

This is our land! This is our land!
Reclaimed by our good fathers' hand;
Reclaimed by them, we claim it now,
As a garden made by the yeoman's plough.

We ask but what to us was left,
Nor shall it from our grasp be reft;
For fatherland and freedom we will die,
Or live victoriously.

WORDS OF WISDOM.

Which we want our Readers to Ponder well

Long visits, long prayers, and long editorials seldom profit those who have to do with them. Life is short; time is short; moments are precious. Learn to condense to abridge to intensify. We can endure many an ache and ill if it is soon over, while even pleasures glow insiped and pain intolerable, if protracted beyond the limit of reason and convenience. Learn to be short. Log off the branches, stick to main facts in your case. If you pray, ask for what you desire and stop. If you speak, tell your message and hold your peace. Condense two words into one, and three into two.

Men who have half a dozen irons in the fire are not the ones to go crazy. It is the man of voluntary or compelled leisure who mopes or repines and thinks himself into the madhouse, or the grave. Motion is all Nature's law. Action is man's salvation, physical and mental. And yet, nine out of ten are wistfully looking forward to the coveted hour when they shall have leisure to do nothing, or something only if they feel like it—the very syren that has lured to death many a "successful" man.—He only is truly wise who lays himself out to work till life's latest hour, and that is the man who will live the longest, and life to most purpose.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

REMOVAL.

ON account of the fire which occurred this morning, George Thomas has removed his Butcher's Shop to the premises lately occupied by John Whitton, Front Street, opposite the Dominion Hotel, where he hopes to see his old customers and as many new ones as will favor him with their patronage.

FIXED PRICES.

BESIDES the advantage of Low Prices is offered to customers through our system of trading wholly upon a Cash basis, there is this also that is worthy the attention of the pub namely, FIXED PRICES. We take it to be the only just and right way of doing business to mark goods at the lowest price we can afford to sell them and not ask more.

Though we are aware that a large number of people are taken by a practice in many stores of throwing something off the price asked, or professing to give something in grains, with a purchase, yet we have no hesitation in saying that the practice is a dishonest one and that little reliance is to be placed on stores which do this.

Where a second price is made, more than the just value is always asked, and the customer, after being put to the annoyance of higgling about the price, gets an abatement, often a very considerable one, and finds after all he has invariably paid more for his goods than we would have asked him in the first place.

—March Sales.—

OUR customers are generally aware that we received our usual Spring assortment of STAPLE and FANCY DRY GOODS much earlier this year than usual; but our sales during the months of January and February were so satisfactory, that if the present months' sales prove large, we will be under the necessity of laying in a second supply in most lines. To ensure this we are making our Spring goods as well as any Winter goods that are left over at an unusually low advance on cost, and we invite customers to compare our prices and value.

We invite special attention to

Carpets,

of which we have DOUBLE OUR USUAL STOCK and which we are selling at much lower prices than they are usually sold. During the month of March we will offer special inducements to purchasers, and hope to make proportionately large sales.

The blood cannot properly perform its functions when loaded with impurities, because it is thick and sluggish ; and every person needs at times something to cleanse and quicken the vital current. Dr. J. C. Ayer's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla meets this want perfectly, and his discovery of this compound ranks as important in preserving the blood in a healthy condition as does that of Wm. Harvey in demonstrating its circulatory action. Nothing else so vitalizes, purifies and enriches the blood as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is a perfect blood and nerve food. It never disturbs the stomach, but promptly assists and promotes the digestion and assimilation of all nutriments, and increases their power to sustain and nourish the body. In renovating the blood it clears and quickens the intellect, and thus gives to both mind and body the power of long sustained, arduous and successful effort. —Corning, N. Y., Journal.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Local Brevities.

—Winter lingereth in the lap of spring.

—Trains late, as usual, on the Grand Trunk to-day.

—Two drunks and one tramp in the police cells last night.

—Sleighs slipped along very nicely today after the hard freeze of last night.

—Vennor smiled this morning. There was a decided "dip" in the temperature.

—A number of persons from Belleville appeared in costume at a skating carnival at Colborne lately.

—Walking on the snow this morning was a pleasure. The crust was strong enough to bear a horse.

—Next Thursday will be "St. Patrick's Day in the Morning." Vennor says there will be a big storm that day.

—Don't forget the concert and literary entertainment in the M. E. Tabernacle to-night by the pupils of the Sabbath School.

—Mr. Elijah Sprague of Robin's Mills carriage factory is in failing health, and is very much feared that he will not recover.

—Those who believe the world owes them a living don't stop to consider how many bad debts the old globe has to shoulder.

—A Napanee man has sixteen hens (Plymouth rock) which have laid over 500 eggs since winter began, and they are still at it.

—The farmers of Ameliasburgh are giving large orders for Prickly Comfrey, the new plant that is being introduced for fodder.

—The pilot engine ran off the Grand Trunk yesterday. No damage done beyond a short delay. An open switch was the cause.

—Mr. Andrew Wannamaker, for upwards of 70 years a resident of Ameliasburgh, lately died in Missouri, U. S., at the age of 100 years.

—When a woman leaves a man who has not earned his salt for years, he immediately advertises that he will pay no debts of her contracting.

—The firemen were coated with ice when finishing their work at the fire this morning. It was a disagreeable task, but none the less willingly performed.

—Mr. Irish Coleman, of Ameliasburgh, has been gazetted bailiff of the 4th Division Court of Prince Edward Co. in the room and stead of J. S. Tice, resigned.

—A writ of quo warranto has been served on Mr. Knox, Warden of Prince Edward, to unseat him. It is returnable before the County Judge on Tuesday next.

—The new mill about to be put in operation by the Messrs. Gilmour, at Trenton, will give employment to 200 men, in addition to the large force already employed by them.

—A Kingston butcher lately purchased a pair of fat sheep from Mr. Edward Abbott, of Wolfe Island, that weighed when alive 500 lbs., and when dressed 140 lbs. each. Tolerably fair mutton, we reckon.

—Mr. George Sanier who lived for so many years on Massassaga Point, was married recently at Napanee at the advanced age of seventy-five years. His bride was only twenty years younger than himself.

—The sudden change in the temperature from warm to cold weather is not at all welcomed. Those who were of the opinion that spring had come have changed their minds, and now wish for a home in the sunny South.

—On Tuesday last Auctioneer Allen, of Napanee, sold the farm of Israel Peters, Ernesttown, 41 acres for $1,000. The chattel property brought about $1,100. Mr. Peters and family including five sons, emigrate at once to Manitoba.

—Mr. M. Wright, of Melville, lately obtained from R. G. Clute, Esq., of this city, a beautiful Ayrshire cow, and Rev. Mr. Burns, of Ameliasburgh, purchased from Mr. G. S. Vandewaters a cow of the same breed that was imported from England and sold one time for $500.

—The Whig "local" is entitled to the cap and bells. We noticed the reports of ben roost thefts in that city, and stated that nearly half the citizens had lost their chickens, &c. Yo local now says we accused half the citizens of being thieves. A pair of leather goggles might help him some.

—A correspondent of the Picton Times, writing from West Lake, says :—Our respected friend Mr. D. Hyde has left our neighborhood and moved to Sydney where he has an opportunity of carrying on farming on a much larger scale. His departure will be a loss much felt here as a neighbor and member in the church. We wish him every success.

—They have a novel method of teaching a boy manners in U. S. College. Perhaps our teachers would like to adopt it. A small boy in one of the lower forms was recently noticed by the master in charge to be sitting with one leg thrown over the other. This, it seems, is a grave offence in the college code, and the master in question felt it necessary to inflict exemplary punishment. He at once let loose the whole class of boys on the diminutive offender, giving them not merely leave, but positive instructions to "kick" him. The boy-like, they proceeded to do with a will, and did not desist, or were not called off, until they left that urchin so mutilated that he bore the marks for days afterwards.

UNSURPASSED.—The old and well known remedy "Holden's Expectorant" (for coughs and colds) is still unsurpassed. More than 20 years it has now been in use and it still continues popular, while scores of medicines for the same purpose have flourished for a year or so and are forgotten. If you have a cough or a cold call at Geen's Drugstore and procure a bottle.

GARDEN SEEDS.—For good and reliable garden and field seeds go to Geen's Drugstore.

CURLING.—As the ice is in splendid condition there will be curling on the rink to-night.

PROBE.—Northerly veering to easterly winds, fine weather to-day, followed tomorrow by snow or rain.

PARLOR SOCIAL.—The social given by Mr. and Mrs. Richardson, in the interest of Bridge Street Church last evening was a great success, so far as attendance was concerned, as their spacious rooms were filled to overflowing.

NO. 1 COMPANY, 15TH BATTALION.—The members of this Company, bound to keep themselves together, will meet this evening in the office of Capt. Biggar to arrange for the reading of other rooms in which to meet as usual. The Government, of course, will be requested to refurbish the arms, accoutrements and clothing destroyed by fire.

CHURCH NEWS.—The M. E. congregation at Marsh Hill, Frankford Circuit, purpose to build a new church this coming season. They have already secured a fine subscription for that purpose. The pastor, Rev. A. Martin, is now engaged in a revival there, in which forty persons have presented themselves for prayer. The meeting is still progressing favorably.

THE ENTERTAINMENT LAST NIGHT.—The Women's Christian Association have a right to congratulate themselves on the success of the entertainment given by them in the Workingmen's Temperance Association Hall last night. The room was well filled, and an excellent programme of entertainment was given, consisting of vocal and instrumental music, addresses, readings, recitations, &c., making the evening a very pleasant one for all who attended.

MECHANICAL SURGERY. — Mr. Charles Clutte, of Toronto, surgical machinist, was in the city yesterday and to-day, at his rooms, Anglo American Hotel, on a professional visit. This makes the fourth visit Mr. Clutte has paid to our city, and each time he has done a largely increased business, the spiral trusses and other implements manufactured by him, having been instrumental in effecting many cures. His manufactures are endorsed by most of the leading physicians of Canada, and more particularly by those who have used them, to whom he is a veritable Good Samaritan.

MURCHISON CLUB.—At a meeting of this society, the Rev. Dr. Clarke read a paper on Spontaneous Generation. This was an able article on this much debated question. In a paper of this kind it is difficult to make extracts short enough to give an idea of the line of argument pursued. The main point however, and which the rev. gentleman proved to the satisfaction of the majority, was, that according to our present knowledge matter is inert of itself and cannot move without force being exerted, and carry the point as far back as we may, we are still brought up by the question. What caused the force to be exerted ? This he contended was external and could emanate from nothing else but the Supreme Creator. We are pleased to find that the attendance at these meetings has increased considerably of late.

POLICE COURT.—David Pringle, better known as "whiskey Davie," was remanded to jail for one week. John Miller was charged by the lessee of the market with refusing to pay market tolls on the 18th of February last. Judgment reserved.

VENNOR'S WEATHER.—Mr. Vennor predicts three storm periods still to come this month—the first on the 12th, 13th or 14th, the second on the 16th and 17th, and last on the 20th and 21st. The second and third will be accompanied by heavy snowfalls, the last being the heaviest of the season, and it will likely take in the greater part of North America, and may cross to Great Britain. A cold dip is also predicted.

NEW TEAS.—Mr. W. R. McRae has just received a fresh supply of new season teas, including all the choice varieties he usually keeps on hand. A particular sample, to which he calls special attention, and which is now very popular among connoisseurs, is the celebrated Congo, or Black Tea. The chests he has imported of this kind are composed of the first-picked leaf, and show superior strength and color. All his teas are brought direct from China and Japan, and may be relied on in every particular. Mr. McRae is prepared to supply the million.

NOT FAR ASTRAY.—The St. Catharines "News" has this : "A gentleman from Belleville, who was in this city yesterday, says there is much more business here than at that city. He claims that Belleville is the dullest city in Canada just now, notwithstanding the immense iron deposits in the rear townships. If the government would encourage iron smelting by offering a bonus and allowing a drawback on coal it would be different. Thousands of tons of iron ore are passing out of the county. Everything for the syndicate and not one cent for coal industries is the way the government is putting it, and in the mean time the cities are being depopulated. The best properties in the place are being offered for about 30 cents on the $ and no buyers." The last sentence is subject to debate. We doubt some whether the gentleman who gave this information to our contemporary would offer his "best property" for 30 cents on the dollar, providing he has any to offer.

CHEAP CLOTHING.—James Hennessy offers a firstrate suit of clothes for $6.50 of good Oxford tweed, well lined and trimmed, positively the best bargain in the city.

INCENTIVES FOR INCREASING POPULATION.—Sir Leonard Tilley having clearly shown by his carefully prepared Budget statement that Canada is more prosperous under a protective duty, and that the N. P. has been a great boon to our manufacturers, it is a little strange that the founders of this great policy should neglect the fountain head of all national wealth, and keep Babies on the free list. N. Davenport, Hatter and Furrier, being convinced that the party now in power will never give this great struggling industry the attention it deserves, will give prizes to every Baby born in the Counties of Hastings and Prince Edward during next December (1881,) as follows :—

For every Girl Baby—1 handsome Fur Hood.
For every Boy Baby—One Fur Turban.
For every Pair of Twins—Two Silver Cups.
For Triplets—One twenty dollar gold piece.

A physician's certificate is expected with every application for a prize, and it is to be hoped Edward Babies will not be imported into Hastings and Prince Edward from Adpington, Lennox and Northumberland Counties. Please remember while waiting for the "little dears" that N. Davenport has the largest and finest stock of Hats and Caps in Central Canada.

Disastrous Conflagration.

THE CUSTOM HOUSE, INLAND REVENUE AND NO. 1 COMPANY 15TH BATTALION ARMORY BURNED.

About half past four o'clock this morning a fire broke out in the brick and stone building on the corner of Bridge and Pinnacle Streets, owned by James Walworthy, Esq., and known as the Custom House Block.

The fire originated in the back part of the second story which was occupied by the Inland Revenue Department, and E. Davy, Custom Broker. The flames spread with great rapidity, and before the engines had got to work the entire building was in a blaze.

The hour being one at which people are loth to leave their comfortable beds, particularly on a morning as cold as this was, the crowd that turned out was somewhat smaller than usual, but those who were there went to work with a will, and smashing in the doors and windows of the Custom House, succeeded in saving the greater part of the records, office furniture, &c. The most valuable papers have been locked up in the vaults, it is supposed they are unharmed, as the vaults in the building separate therefrom, or at least outside of northern walls.

The smoke being very dense, and the fire spreading so rapidly, it was impossible to gain access to the second and third stories, so that all that was therein is destroyed, outside of what was secured in the vault.

The third story was used as an Armory by No. 1 Company, 15th A. L. I., the officers and men of which had, as is well known, fitted up Club Rooms, in addition to the room in which was stored the arms, clothing and accoutrements of the company. The Club Rooms were composed of billiard room and reading room, and only last night a debate took place between members of the Literary Club in connection with the company. The walls of these rooms were tastefully decorated with beautiful pictures, &c., supplied by the members of the company, so that their loss, outside of what belonged to the Government, will not be less than $300.

Mr. Windeat, portrait painter, who also occupied rooms on the third flat, loses in instruments, finished and unfinished work, papers, notes, &c., something over $1,000 —in fact, his all, and he is entitled to a great deal of sympathy.

The building, which was a very old and substantial one, was insured in the Royal for $3,000, and has been insured in that and other companies for the past 50 years. The amount of insurance on the building will not cover more than about one half of Mr. Nosworthy's loss.

The adjoining building was owned by Geo. Taylor, Esq., Sheriff of the County, and the armories with the Scots.

THE ARREST OF MR. BOYTON

His Appeal as an American Citizen not Recognized.

DUBLIN, March 10.—The Herald's correspondent says : — Your correspondent had an interview with Consul Burrows, regarding Michael Boyton's claim to be treated as an American citizen. Mr. Burrows states that he had the official intimation of Mr. Boyton's arrest about four months ago. Mr. Boyton called on him and left his passport which was issued about three years ago for purposes of travel, but since his imprisonment he has not communicated with Mr. Burrows. I have good authority for stating that the American Minister at London is inclined to view the case much as the then Minister viewed the cases which arose in the Fenian trials in 1866, viz : That Mr. Boyton having conspired the law of the country, he must bear the responsibility. The cases, however, are slightly different. The Fenians were brought to trial, whereas it is not proposed to bring Mr. Boyton to trial, and he may finally claim to have the charge against him decided by the ordinary tribunals. It is not expected that Mr. Boyton's appeal will have the desired effect.

IMPORTERS AND

"PARTNERSHIPS."

Lecture by John J. B. Flint, Esq, Barrister, Before the Students of Ontario Commercial College.

The last of the weekly series of lectures, which have been so valuable and instructive, was delivered before the students of Ontario Business College yesterday afternoon by John J. B. Flint, Esq., barrister, the subject being "Partnership."

W. H. Ponton, Esq., Registrar of the County, occupied the chair. He expressed his pleasure at having the opportunity of visiting the College, which, as an old resident of Belleville, he was proud to say was second to no Commercial College on the continent. The admirable conduct of the students was remarked throughout the city. He had much pleasure in introducing Mr. Flint.

In opening his remarks Mr. Flint reverted to the subjects he last addressed the students on—Promissory Notes—in order to call attention to the decision of the Court of Appeal in the case of Cosgrove v. Boyle.

In commencing the subject of Partnerships the lecturer impressed upon his audience the importance and great benefit that accrue of forming partnerships. It had not inaptly been compared to the marriage tie. The difference between the partnership that existed between the shareholders in a joint stock company, and that between ordinary partners was fully set forth. Mr. Johnson's valuable work, embracing the law affecting joint stock co's. and joint stock company book-keeping (which is a part of the college course) was highly commended.

The difference between a special partner in a business and a general partner, and the responsibilities of each were next fully explained. If a man receives a percentage of the profits of a concern for services rendered, he is to the public a partner. If a man permits his name to be used by others in doing business, although not in reality a partner, he is to the public a partner, and consequently responsible for its debts. The method of forming partnerships—the drawing up of articles of copartnerships, without which no partnerships should be formed ; what these articles should contain ; the registration of ordinary partnerships in the Registry office, and of partnerships embracing special partners in the office of the County Clerk, and other details, were explained in an able and comprehensive manner. The dissolution of partnerships was next dwelt on. The death of a member dissolves a partnership. How notice of the dissolution of partnership, either by effluxion of time or mutual concent, should be given, and the effect of non-compliance with the law, was next gone into.

A judgment against a partner in the hands of a sheriff could not be satisfied by seizing any of the partnership goods. The sheriff could only offer for sale the partner's interest, and the Court of Chancery would have to determine by its machinery how much of the capital stock of the concern belonged to the delinquent partner.

The difference between the Courts of Law and Chancery was ably explained by Mr. Flint, and he pointed out the probable early fusion of the two branches of law.

He next pointed out the necessity for the most scrupulous good faith between partners.

The lecture lasted about an hour, and was most attentively listened to by the large audience of students, who loudly cheered the lecturer at the close.

PARLIAMENTARY NOTES.

—It is understood that the Hon. Mr. Blake will accept the invitation to be banquetted at Toronto at the close of the session.

—It is expected that Sir Charles Tupper will be absent three months. Lady Tupper has accompanied him in the health trip.

—Mr. Bunster has a rival for the lieutenant-governorship of British Columbia in the person of Attorney-General Walkem, who is, it is said, likely to receive the appointment.

—Hon. Mr. Almon's amendment to the Canada Temperance Act, allowing sales of ales, porter, lager beer, cider and light wines, which resolution was carried on a vote of 28 to 26.

—It is expected that there will be a lively debate in the Commons when the bill to amend the Canada Temperance Act comes down from the Senate, where it has been adopted.

—It is understood that Mr. Bunster will introduce his resolution asking that the tax on rice imported be increased, and the duty on gunpowder taken off, so that the Chinese can be blown skyhigh and kept out of British Columbia, the beginning of the week.

—It is thought now that the action of the Senate in adopting Senator Almon's amendment to the Canada Temperance Act will delay the prerogation at least three days, as quite a number of speakers on both sides will speak on the question when it comes up for consideration in the Commons.

—The Richelieu and Ontario Navagation Company have purchased the steamer Cultivateur for $24,000 stock, equal to $12,000 cash. Originally she cost $48,000. She will make a valuable acquisition to the company's

AFTERNOON DESPATCHES.

THE ARMS BILL AMENDED.

THE TICHBORNE CLAIMANT AGAIN.

Gladstone and the Chancellorship.

LONDON, March 11.—Arrived out Goliah and Ville de Marseilles.

In the Commons last night, after the Speaker put the remaining amendments to the Arms Bill in accordance with Gladstone's resolution, Harcourt moved to recommend to amend clause one by providing compensation for arms voluntarily surrendered. Agreed to.

Parnell moved to limit operation of the bill to one 1884. Negatived by 208 to 57.

In a final appeal of the Tichborne claimant, to declare the sentence of two consecutive terms of seven years penal servitude on the same indictment illegal, the Lord Chancellor confirmed the decision of the Courts below, and dismissed the appeal.

The News says it is reasonable to think when Gladstone has put the finances into shape, he might resign the Chancellorship.

Baslin Bros., East India merchants, failed. Liabilities £150,000.

DUBLIN, March 11.—Several more arrests of Land Leaguers were made early this afternoon.

MARINE NOTES.

—Capt. Goodrich's sidewheel steamer City of Milwaukee will not only be one of the finest, but next to the composite steamer City of Cleveland, she will be the fastest steamer on the lakes.

—The boats of the Collingwood Line are being thoroughly overhauled and especially the City of Winnipeg and the Prince Smith, for about $8,000 will be spent on each one of these boats. Next season an iron boat will be built for the line, to be in readiness for the opening of 1882.

—Mr. R. Davis, Wolfe Island, is building a steamer, intended to ply between Newboro' and Montreal. The intention was to have put the boiler and machinery into her last fall, but it was put off till the ice had formed, and during the winter the contractors Messrs. Davidson & Doran, were afraid to risk taking the boiler across the ice. The probability now is that she will be very late in commencing work.—News.

FOSTER & REID,

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

For Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Erysipelas, Rose, or St. Anthony's Fire, Eruptions and Eruptive diseases of the skin, Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Blotches, Tumors, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers, Sore Eyes, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Side and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa, arising from internal ulceration, and Uterine disease, Gallstone and Mercurial diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, General Debility, and for Purifying the Blood.

This Sarsaparilla is a combination of vegetable alteratives — Stillingia, Mandrake, Yellow Dock — with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, and is the most efficacious medicine yet known for the diseases it is intended to cure.

Its ingredients are so skilfully combined, that the full alterative effect of each is assured, and while it is so mild as to be harmless even to children, it is still so effectual as to purge out from the system those impurities and corruptions which develop into loathsome disease.

The reputation it enjoys is derived from its cures, and the confidence which prominent physicians all over the country repose in it proves their experience of its usefulness.

Certificates attesting its virtues have accumulated, and are constantly being received, and as many of these cases are publicly known, they furnish convincing evidence of the superiority of this Sarsaparilla over every other alterative medicine. So generally is its superiority to any other medicine known, that we need do no more than to assure the public that the best qualities it has ever possessed are strictly maintained.

MARCH WINDS! The sudden change and high winds which prevail in March makes a bottle of DOWN'S ELIXIR always necessary to have at hand. It is a sure cure for sudden colds and all lung diseases.

MATTHEW'S MAGICAL BITTERS will cure all Bilious Diseases. Sold everywhere a 25 cts per bottle. Try it."

The best remedy for sprains and galls is Henry & Johnson's Arnica and Oil Liniment. Good for man and beast.

In the Fall and Spring of Ague less forms and anti-periodics stands Northrop & Lyman's Quinine Wine. "The weak, the nervous, the dyspeptic, never vainly seek its aid; sufferers from bilious, remittent, and intermittent fevers, or are surely rescued by it from the malarial scourge. Its taste is agreeable, its ingredients do not numb or stupefy, but it is absolutely impossible to it as agreeable wine flavor, is eminently pure, and serves to diffuse the vigour of the system to a degree of which neither the nor any other medicine gives no conception. It revives failing appetite, is conducive to sleep, and promotes regular secretion and evacuation. The nervous and dyspeptic, as it is well known, are often troubled with a degree of melancholy which in many cases reaches the stage of actual hypochondria. As the stomach regains its tone and the nerves recover their vigor, through the action of this Quinine Wine, this failing gradually wears off, and cheerfulness resumes its sway. Persons who are convalescing after an exhausting disease, should take it in properly regulated doses, as it mater ally assists, thus taken, the restoration of vigor, which, without its aid might be tediously slow. Fever and ague and bilious, remittent sufferers should take it only during the absence of the feverish symptoms. Leaving persons, whose digestion is out of order, gain bodily substance as well as strength by its use. Use none but the Quinine Wine manufactured by Northrop & Lyman of Toronto, which can be procured of any druggist.

DAILY ONTARIO

A STRANGE STORY.

All About a Beechnut in a Boy's Nose Eleven Years.

The Walkerton Telescope wants us to believe the following story:

"Eleven years ago, when Mr Krueger's (of Carrick) little boy was 2 years old, he complained of a great pain in his nose. And that he has been troubled with his nose at intervals ever since, till the other day, when he thought his nose was going to pieces, his mother ran a hair pin up it and pulled out a beechnut." This is a wonderful story certainly, about a boy with a beechnut eleven years and his mother pulling it out with a hair pin. We would just as soon believe that the boy had his nose on a beechnut eleven years and his mother pulled him out with a hair pin, or that the boy had a hair pin in his nose eleven years and his mother pulled it out with a beechnut, or that the mother had a hairpin in the boy eleven years and pulled it out with her nose, or that the mother had a beechnut in her nose, and pulled eleven hairpins out of the boy, or that the boy had eleven mothers in a beechnut, and pulled them all out with a hairpin, or that the boy had his nose,etc. But we should we lengthen out the dreary details of hairpins, mothers, beechnuts, noses and boys, all of which thousands and one varieties into which the different changes could be spun, are equally as credible as the yarn the Telescope wants us to believe. Even supposing such a phenomena could have occurred of a 2-year-old child pulling a beechnut up its nose eleven years ago, whould not the nut have long ere this have germinated and sent forth sprouts. In fact during such a long term of years we see no reason why the boo should not have a whole forest of thriving young beech trees flourishing around his head and ears.

A WOMAN TURNING TO BONE.

Mrs. Mollie Utz, says a New Albany, Ind., letter, is a highly respected widow of this city, whose husband, a well-to-do farmer of Georgetown township,died about one year ago. She is the eldest daughter of Mr. Joseph Carnes, formerly a carpenter of this city, who carried on building here several years, but now resides on a farm in Harrison county, about fourteen miles from New Albany. About eight years ago Mrs. Utz felt her health failing, her symptoms being those indicated by a disturbed condition of the circulation of the blood. These symptoms grew upon her, often producing sinking or fainting attacks. A little over a year ago she noticed a numbness in the ends of her fingers, and this slowly spread itself upward until all the fingers on both hands became involved. But it was more than numbness—it was confirmation. The hardening process continues, and has now reached nearly to the elbows on both arms. Flesh, muscles, arteries, and nerves have undergone the hardening process, and are now apparently solid bone, the skin covering the ossified parts being hard and alabaster like in appearance.

Eminent physicians have been called to see the case, but they only examined it to tell the lady that she was beyond the reach of aid from medical skill, and that the process of ossification would continue until a vital part was reached, when death would ensue. Mrs. Utz fully realized her condition, and bears up under it with fortitude and resignation. Her heart is seriously complicated in the disease, and the slightest excitement provokes an attack of fainting, in which suspended circulation continues until a reaction is produced by severe friction. Ossification of the principal arteries of the heart has, no doubt, set in. Nevertheless Mrs. Utz is very cheerful, and a few days ago left the city to pay a farewell visit to relatives and friends in the country. She says this will be her last trip to the scenes of her happy married life, and she will return to her home in this city to go out no more until she receives the summons, go away and be at rest.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

Wednesday, March 9th.

After the transaction of routine business, the House went into Committee of Supply, and was engaged all the afternoon in a discussion in connection with the Intercolonial Railroad votes. The Government's course, in regard to submitting old Intercolonial Railroad claims, which had already been decided adversely, to a new tribunal for rehearing, and as a consequence subjecting the country to heavy pecuniary losses, was severely criticised. During the course of the debate two members of the Cabinet, Messrs. O'Connor and McDonald (Pictou) became enraged because the Opposition members referred to their past connection as counsel with those very cases, which were decided against them when they acted as counsel, but reopened as soon as they entered the Cabinet, and their claims were awarded substantial amounts. The Minister of Justice alluded to Mr. Anglin as a gentleman who had been condemned by the Pacific Scandal Parliament as a foul slanderer and liar, and used other unparliamentary language, merely because Mr. Anglin alluded to Mr. James McDonald's past connection as counsel with one of these cases, and the fact that Mr. Anglin succeeded the name of his partner with that of counsel for the same claim. After recess several private Bills were advanced a stage, and the remainder of the evening consumed in debating the motion by Mr. Mousseau (Jacques Cartier) for the second reading of the Bill to limit the appellate jurisdiction of the Supreme Court of Canada. The debate was adjourned at midnight, when the House rose.

—Rev. W.K. Burr of Amelasburg cleared $150 with his poultry last year, and has now over thirty varieties of land and water fowls, one of the finest collections in the Dominion.

The Best Field
—FOR—
EMIGRANTS.

An Immense Area of Railroad and Government Lands of great fertility, within easy reach of permanent market at extremely low prices, is now offered for sale in Eastern Oregon and Eastern Washington Territory.

These lands form part of the great Grain Belt of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 250 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded for all parts of the world.

Grain at Portland, Oregon commands a price equal to that obtained in Chicago.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R. R. is now assured, and guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific together with the construction of the network of 7tn miles of railroad by the O. R. & N. Co. in the valleys of the Great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the lands now open to purchase pre-emption. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River Basin in the immediate future.

Lands show an average yield of 40 bushels of wheat per acre. No failure of crops ever known.

Railroad Lands offered at the uniform rate of $2.50 an acre.

The Great American Remedy for COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, LOSS OF VOICE, HOARSENESS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS

Prepared from the Finest Red Spruce Gum, Oil of Spruce Flower, Balsamic Sweetening, Expectorant and Tonic Principles, superior to any and all other compounds, and is the only reliable remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness and Throat Affections, and the most valuable native herb for Medicinal purposes.

Every one has a friend afflicted with one of the above ailments, and this is the remedy to cure them. In France the physicians highly endorse and prescribe it in all cases of Lung Affections, and it is the only remedy used in their hospitals. In Canada the pine forests abound with the Spruce, and the Canadians are proverbial for their freedom from Throat and Lung troubles, owing to the healing balsam they inhale from the pine forests. In the New England States, where the Spruce abounds, Consumption is almost unknown. Its wonderful healing properties are now attracting the attention of the whole civilized world.

GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM.

In this preparation the Gum never separates, and all the medicinal properties, and balsamic principles are preserved in their entirety. It is a pleasant syrup, containing the Gum of the Red Spruce, and is the only reliable remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Throat and Lung Affections. It is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for Consumption, and will cure the most obstinate cases if taken in time. Sold by druggists throughout the country.

Its remarkable power in relieving certain forms of Bronchitis, and its almost specific effect in curing obstinate hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large.

Sold by all druggists throughout the Dominion. 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

The genuine "Syrup of Red Spruce Gum" must have our Registered Trade Mark, and our name and label are also registered.

POETRY.

CHILD'S EVENING HYMN.

Saviour, oh ! seek repose,
Ere the night around us close,
Bless me with Thy tender care,
Listen to my evening prayer :
Day and night are one with Thee—
Suffer me to come to Thee.

Thou wast once a little child.
Only not by sin defiled ;
But the power of reigning sin
I can often feel within.
Yet Thou wilt not bid me flee—
Suffer me to come to Thee.

Sinful though I know I am,
I would be Thy little lamb—
I would fain be of Thy fold ;
Bless, as Thou didst bless of old.
Lord, I know Thou lovest me—
Suffer me to come to Thee.

Let Thy love securely keep
Through the hours of silent sleep ;
Guard me till my latest day
Sinks like yonder sun away ;
Then my prayer at eve shall be—
Suffer me to come to Thee.

EVENING PRAYER.

I come to thee to-night,
In my lone closet, where no eye can see ;
And deep in my heart my prayer with thee
Father of love and light :

Softly the moonbeams shine
On the still branches of the shadow trees,
While all around sounds of evening on the breeze
Steal through the slumbering vine.

Thou gavest the calm repose
That rests on all ; the air, the birds, the flower,
The human spirit in its weary hour,
Mow at the bright day's close.

'Tis nature's time for prayer ;
The silent praises of the glorious sky,
And the earth's odours floating round and high,
To heaven their breathings bear.

With them my soul would bend
In human reverence at Thy holy throne,
Trusting the merits of Thy Son alone,
The sceptre to extend.

If I this day have striven
With Thy blest spirit, or have bowed the knee
To aught of earth in weak idolatry,
I pray to be forgiven.

If in my heart has been
An unforgiving thought, or look,
Though deep the malice which I scarce could brook,
Wash me from the dark sin.

If I have turned away
From grief or suffering which I might relieve,
Careless the cup of water e'n to give,
Forgive me, Lord, I pray.

And teach me how to feel
My sinful wanderings with a deeper smart,
And more of mercy and of grace impart,
My sinfulness to heal.

Father ! my soul would be
Pure as the drops of eve's unsullied dew ;
And as the stars, whose nightly course is true,
So would I be to Thee

Not for myself alone
Would I these blessings of Thy love implore
But for each penitent the wide world o'er,
Whom Thou hast called Thine own.

And for my hearts best friends,
Whose steadfast kindness o'er my painful years,
Have watched to soothe afflictions griefs and tears
My warmest prayer ascends.

Should o'er their path decline
The light of gladness, or of hope or health,
Be Thou their solace, and their joy and wealth
As they have long been mine

And now, O Father ! take
The heart I cast with faith on Thee,
And cleanse its depths from each impurity,
For my Redeemer's sake.
—Hymns of the Ages

SUNDAY READING.

WHAT IS RELIGION?

We may always set before us the life of Christ, and learn what the Apostles learnt from Him. Read only the Sermon on the Mount, or that richest of all commentaries on it, the moral exhortations of St. Paul's Epistles, and that picture of simplicity of duty, the cheerfulness of mercy, the humility of kindness, the fervency of service; and we shall behold that patient tribulation, that instant prayer—read the answer to the great deep question, What is religion? Dean Stanley.

THERE ARE TWO KINDS OF GIRLS.

There are two kinds of girls ; one is the kind that appears best abroad—the girls that are good for parties, rides, visits, balls, &c., and whose chief delight is in such things. The other is the kind that appears best at home—the girls that are useful and cheerful in the dining-room, sick room, and all the precincts at home. They differ widely in character. One is often a torment at home—the other a blessing ; one is a moth consuming everything about her—the other a sunbeam, inspiring light and gladness all around her pathway. The right kind of education will modify both and unite their good qualities.

FOR QUIET MOMENTS.

Deeds are fruits ; words are but leaves.

We wish for more in life, rather than more of it.—[Jean Ingelow.

Knowledge of our duties is the most useful part of philosophy.—[Whately.

A man never attains true greatness by being perfectly satisfied with the result of each day's work as it is done.

And now abideth Faith, Hope and Charity—these three ; but the greatest of these is Charity.—[St. Paul.

Toil, not for the sake of toiling, but for that which is to be accomplished by it ; for the wheel, revolving in space, and whose circumference touches nothing, wears itself out indeed, but is of no use to the world.

Among the best of men are diversities of opinions ; which are no more, in true reason to breed hatred, than one that loves black should be angry with him that is clothed in white ; for thoughts are the very apparel of the mind.—[Sir Philip Sidney.

LOVE THE WILL OF GOD.

If we sincerely loved the will of God, and only this, we should change our earth into a heaven. We should thank God for everything—for evil as well as good, because evil would become good from His hand. O my God, what do I see in the course of the stars, in the revolution of the seasons, in the events of life, but the accomplishment of Thy will ! May it also be accomplished in me, and may I love it. May it sweeten and endear all even to me. May I annihilate my own to make Thy will reign in me. For it is thine, Lord, to will, and mine to obey.—Fenelon.

THE POWER OF SONG.

Learn to use your voices, boys ; it will often help you over a stiff bit of work to sing, and true gladness is infectious, for a "merry heart doeth good like medicine." An officer lay on the field of Shiloh, fatally wounded by a gun-shot. A multitude of others, bodies like himself, were stretched on the ground around him, but none near that he could easily converse. He felt himself alone—but with God—and this made him almost forget his pain and thirst, and the sadness of his dying thoughts of home and friends never to be seen by him again. Another home rose before him, in the twilight of of eternity ; the place prepared by the Sufferer of Calvary, for "His loved and His own :" and as he lay there under the stars the vision of it brightened as he drew nearer to it, and he began to sing :

"When I can read my title clear
To mansions in the skies,
I'll bid farewell to every fear
And wipe my weeping eyes"

Instantly another wounded man under the bushes not far away took up the strain, and between the mother and another, and the suffering and dying all around began to sing, till the dark battle-field rang that night with the melody of faith and hope.

AN OLD MAN'S WORD.

I met him one day on his way to the place where he was wont to be said. He had just passed the mile-stone of life labeled, "Seventy years." His back was bent, his limbs trembled beside his staff ; his clothes were old, his voice was husky, his hair was white, his eyes were dim, and his face was furrowed. Withal, he seemed still fond of life and full of gladness, not at all put out with his lot. He hummed the lines of a familiar hymn as his legs and cane carried him along.

"Aged friend," said I, "why should an an old man be merry ?"

"All are not," said he.

"Well, why, then, should you be merry ?

"Because I belong to the Lord"

"Are none others happy at your time of life ?"

"No, not one, my friendly questioner," said he ; and in his said more, his form straightened into the stature of his young er days, and something of inspiration set a beautiful glow across his countenance. "Listen, please, to the truth from one who knows. then wing it round the world, and no man of three-score years and ten shall be found to gainsay my words—The Devil has no happy old man.—Selected.

DO YOUR PART.

There are some people in this world who, wherever they may go, expect that something special will be done for their entertainment. At a party or church, social or instance, they expect to sit down in a corner by themselves, look agreeable or not, as the fancy strikes them, and wait for some one to come along to amuse them. If the company present have other plans for their evening's enjoyment, these people go home discontented, and say, with a disgusted expression, that they have had "such a stupid time !" Now, these forlorn people never think to do for every one in a gathering followed their example, parties, pic-nics and socials would be transformed into Quaker meetings. The rule holds here which always applies to every walk of life: To be happy ones self must try to impart happiness to others. The common-place little lady who talks about the weather and the fashion to one person after another is happier, better beloved, and often more finely entured than the young woman who will only condescend to converse on a special subject. Many a fitful conversation and many a delightful friendship have grown out of common-places on the weather. It is often for the very reason that she will not talk small talk that the wise young lady must sit in a corner and be disgusted at life all the evening until she begins to be making herself agreeable (and, therefore, contented) by helping instead of hindering sociability. This principle applies also to men, but it is not so much neglected by them as by their sisters.—Transcript.

—The Grand Trunk receipts for the week ending the 5th instant were $195,302, an increase of $594 over the corresponding week of last year.

F. Burrows, of Wilkesport, writes : that he was cured of a very dangerous case of inflammation of the lungs, solely by the use of five bottles of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Feels great pleasure in recommending it to the public, as he had proved it (for many of the diseases it mentions to cure) through his friends, and in nearly every instance it was effectual.

WHAT IS A CHRISTIAN ?

If you come to us and say you are a praying man, we answer we are glad ; but we would like to ask your wife and children what your praying is doing for you. If you say you daily read the Bible, that is right ; but let us ask your partner in business how much of its teaching you practice. If you say you are a member of the church, we are glad of that, if you are a worthy member, if not,—we are sorry for the church. But let us go on to the street to see whether the people you daily meet think you ought to be a church member.

So it comes to pass that a bundle of Christian duties may be dry and useless, or they may be the evidence of a sincere Christian life. Whether a man is a Christian or not depends entirely upon the principles which govern his daily life, and the influence that he touches others. Many serve themself out indeed, but is of no use to the world.

A Christian, then, is one who is virtuous, not because he is afraid of a scandal, but because he loves virtue. He is one who is honest, not because honesty is the best policy, but because honesty is right. He is one who hates sin, not because he is afraid of its punishment, but because sin is vile and destructive. He is one who loves God, not because he seeks favors, but because God is lovable ; as a child loves its mother, not because she gets its meat and puts its clothes, but because she is mother. He is one who prays, for prayer inspires him to good deeds ; it strengthens him to resist temptation ; it opens to him avenues of opportunity ; it nerves him to the accomplishment of life's duties ; it brings him into fellowship with all that is true and good. By prayer we do not mean the bowing of the head and saying over a few appropriate words, but the yearning desire, the unlifting heart, the contrite spirit ; such a condition of life is Christian. A man who answers to this description is a Christian, wherever you find him. "By their fruits ye shall know them."—Golden Rule.

A LESSON OF TRUST.

Some time ago a boy was discovered in the streets, evidently bright and intelligent, but sick. A man who had the feeling of kindness strongly developed, went to him, took him on the shoulder and asked him what he was doing there.

"Waiting for God to come to me," said he.

"What do you mean ?" said the gentleman, touched by the pathetic tone of the answer and the condition of the boy, in whose eyes and flushed face he saw the evidence of fever.

"God has sent for father and mother and little brother," said he, "and took them away to his home up in the sky, and mother told me when she was sick, that God would take care of me. I have no home, nobody to give me anything, and I came out here and have been looking so long up in the sky for God to take me, as mother said he would. He will come, won't he ? Mother never told a lie."

"Yes, my lad," said the man, overcome with emotion. "He has sent me to take care of you."

You should have seen his eyes flash and the smile of triumph break over his face, as he said :

"Mother never told a lie, sir ; but you have been so long on the way."—Life and Light.

WHAT FOLLOWED.

WORDSWORTH says, "The child is father of the man ;" and more than one prison scene and prison misery has illustrated this inevitable link of character between one's earlier and later years. A young man arrested for swindling his employer out of twenty thousand dollars sat alone in a criminal's cell, out of which daylight had faded.

Cowering on his hard bed he pictured to himself the world outside, full of warmth and light and comfort. The question came to him sharply—

"How came you here ? Was it really for the stealing of that last great sum ?"

Yes and no.

Looking back twenty years he saw himself a school-boy, ten years old. He remembered one lovely June day—with the roses in full bloom over the porch, and the dress himself wore while at her work, and the laborers in the wheat-fields.

Breakfast of all he remembered his Uncle John—such a queer, kind, forgetful old man ! That very morning his uncle had sent him away to pay a bill at the country store, and there were seventy-two cents left, and Uncle John did not ask him for it.

When they met that noon, this boy, now in prison, stood there under the beautiful blue sky, and a great temptation came. He said to himself : "Shall I give it back, or shall I wait until he asks for it ? If he never asks, then is he lookout. If he does, why, I can get it again together."

He never gave back the money.

A theft of twenty thousand dollars brought this young man to the prison door, but when he began he turned that very first step, when he sold his honesty for seventy-two cents.

That night he sat disgraced, and an open confession in his shilly cell. Uncle John was long ago dead. The old home was desolate, his mother broken-hearted. The prisoner knew that what brought him there was not the man's dead alone, but the boy's.

Had the ten-year old boy been true to his honor life now would have been all different. One little cheating was the first of many, until his character was eaten out, could bear no test, and he wrecked his manliness and his life.—Examiner and Chronicle.

This Syrup is a scientific preparation of the Gum which exudes from the Red Spruce Tree, and holds a large quantity of the Gum in perfect solution, never separating. Its remarkable power in relieving certain forms of bronchitis, and curing obstinate, hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large. Is health worth having ? If it is, protect it. It is a jewel as easily lost as a virtue, and in many cases as difficult to recover. In this climate, and more particularly at this season of the year, people are very apt to take cold and suffer from severe colds, coughs, spitting of blood, and pulmonary complaints generally, which if not checked immediately lead to serious consequences. The question arises, which is the quickest and most effectual remedy ? Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers have been before the public for twenty years, have always given perfect satisfaction, and invariably effect permanent cures when taken in season. Sold by all medicine dealers and country stores at 25 cents a box.

"I have no hesitancy in recommending Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry," says H. W. "My customers bear high testimony to the virtues of Dr Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry."—T. Stevenson, Orangeville.

The base burner stove, the telephone and other improvements of a like kind have worked a domestic and social revolution within the last few years. Among these improvements it is not unfair to include the "Myrtle Navy" tobacco. The great majority of men smoke tobacco ; have done so for centuries past, and will continue to do so. It is important, therefore, that they should smoke the best quality of the article. That is what they are supplied with in the "Myrtle Navy." Those smokers who have used it know that its flavor cannot be surpassed, that its quality is always uniform and that the only care they have to exercise in its purchase is to see that the trade mark T. & B. is stamped on the plug.

NEW YORK BUTTER MARBET.
In reporting the market prices for butter, the New York Tribune, of May 29th, said, "Choice packages to the retail trade reach 19 to 20 cents, but light colored goods are hard to dispose of, and several lots were thought well sold at 8 to 10 cents. It gives the perfect June color the year round and dairymen that use it never send light colored goods to market.

TWENTY YEARS A SUFFERER.
DR. R. V. PIERCE :
Dear Sir—Twenty years ago I was shipwrecked on the Atlantic Ocean, and the cold and exposure caused a large abscess to form on each leg, which kept continually discharging. After spending hundreds of dollars, with no benefit, I was persuaded to try your Golden Medical Discovery, and now, in less than three months after taking the first bottle, I am thankful to say I am completely cured, and for the first time in ten years can put my left heel to the ground.

MAN'S NOBLEST WORK.
This is an age of great work and wonderful invention. Steam, electricity, water, air, all are made to serve man, but unquestionably the greatest inventions are those which preserve man's health and prolong his life. And among the greatest of these is Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Its effects are truly wonderful and hundreds are healed by to-day, who once looked forward to an early grave. For Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, loss of voice, Hay Fever, Hoarseness, Croup, or any affections whatever of the Throat, Chest or Lungs, Dr. King's New Discovery will positively cure. We can cheerfully recommend it to all, and can unhesitatingly say it is the only sure cure for Throat and Lung Affections. Trial bottles ten cents ; regular size $1. For sale by Jas. Clarke & Co.

From Hon. W. H. Jones, of West Dover, Vt.
"I have been troubled from my boyhood with chronic or hereditary lung complaint. Some years since, early in the winter, I took cold, which as usual settled into a severe cough, which continued to increase as the season advanced, although I made use of all the cough remedies I had knowledged of. My family physician also prescribed for me, but I experienced no relief. During this time I was gradually running down, losing in flesh and strength, until my friends as well as myself, became very much alarmed, thinking a decline was fast in consumption. While in Boston, during the spring following, I was induced to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. After one day's trial I was sensible that it was the most effectual remedy ? EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

The order of withdrawal of the troops from Candahar has been given, so the vote in the House of Lords does not influence the action of the Ministry.

The American people are expecting so much from President Garfield's Administration, based upon their knowledge of the man who will inspire the work of the Cabinet, if is more than probable that they will be somewhat disappointed.

What is the matter with Arthur, Vice-President of the United States? He refused to dine with Hayes, Garfield, Wheeler and others the night before the inauguration, and refuses since to pay his respects to the President. He must be posting about something.

Spain is advancing. The Papal Nuncio having protested against the return of Republicans and Rationalists to chairs at the university, the Premier replied that the Ministry would not tolerate any interference of the Church with the royal or constitutional prerogative.

There is a new society craze in London, England, which may extend to Canada. It is known as the "Æsthetic," and its votaries, male and female, show themselves in tight-fitting costumes of the mediæval age, and play such tricks before high-heaven as to make the angels weep.

The pedestrian match which closes in New York to-night has been a stupendous farce. It was announced to be an international contest—two Englishmen against two Americans—but the collapse of Albert, who upheld the honor of the Stars and Stripes in the "go-as-you-please," left Rowell without a competitor. Vaughan, the other Englishman, has an easy job with O'Leary, and leads him as he pleases.

The New York Tribune has been shown a few snow-drops that grew in sunny spots; a crocus that had opened out its shining cup; has heard the mellow, faraway warble of the blue-bird, the prolonged, liquid notes of the song sparrow; and says if Mr. Vennor and the portentious bunch of planets in the sky will give the frozen world but half a chance, the spring revival, with all its music and fragrance and freshness, can be looked for yet in schedule time.

IGNORANT PRESUMPTION.

The local Tory luminary made a discovery the other day that was the means of occupying a quarter of a column of original editorial. Its readers must have appreciated this without considering the quality of the article. We wrote a short paragraph, relative to the Conservative nomination in East Northumberland and prospects of the canvass generally, before the announcement of Mr. McCallum's retirement from the contest was received. This was crowded out of the issue it was intended for, and appeared next day. In the meantime we had been informed of Mr. McCallum's withdrawal, but did not consider any change in the wording of the paragraph necessary. The statements were substantially correct, and needed no amendment, if the Reform candidate had retired. It was not because Mr. McCallum received a lukewarm support in his canvass that he declined to go to the polls. His health, subsequent to the nomination, has been such as to preclude the possibility of his making such a canvass as was necessary, and he wisely concluded not to jeopardize the interests of his party by remaining in the field. He was favorably received, and would have had an enthusiastic and unanimous support had he been able to contest the election to its close. These are facts that we stated then and repeat now. The reference to Mr. McCallum's candidature can be transferred to Mr. Grouter's without any revision. The latter simply assumes the responsibilities the former was unable, through ill health, to carry out.

On Wednesday we announced that Mr. Crouter would be chosen by the Reform Convention to meet that day to take the place vacated by Mr. McCallum. This information was given us the day before. So the organ has the satisfaction of knowing that we were placed under no obligation to it for information on this or any other matter of public interest. Self-praise is estimated by an intelligent public as it deserves. For consummate cheek and ignorant presumption the organ has no peer in Canada. We do not object to its misrepresentation, however, as an opportunity is thus afforded for an occasional exposure of a kind of journalism that could find favor nowhere else on this mundane sphere. Its readers, too, must appreciate the extracts from our columns, as they form a contrast in the use of ordinary English that cannot but be edifying and instructive. The organist, or rather organists,—for their name is legion—usually mouth their sentences much as a dog mouths a bone; and while consuming an astonishing number of crippled adjectives and orphaned verbs, both being tumbled about without regard to relationship, succeed in confusing themselves and all who attempt to follow their guidance. We would tender just one word of advice, which, unsupported by qualifying phrases, is "powerfully strong" in sentiment, and which, if thoughtfully observed hereafter, may save the organists from ridiculous positions and enhance their reputation in the sphere where they are fitted to shine. It is this—"don't."

PROF. S. T. GREENE,

Of the Ontario Deaf and Lamb Institute.

The last number of the Silent World, published at Toronto, contains the following brief biographical sketch of Prof. Greene, so well and honorably known as a Deaf and Dumb Institute here. The sketch was evidently written by a friendly hand, and is accompanied by a good wood-cut likeness of the subject. The writer says:—

was born on the 11th of June, 1844, in North Waterford, near Portland, Maine, and is descended from a family of the old Puritan stock of New England. He was the youngest of five children, and was born deaf, being the only one of the family so afflicted, except a sister who lost her hearing from a severe attack of scarlet fever, and died a few years ago. The older brothers are: Dr. William Warren Greene, Professor of Surgery in the Portland Medical College; Jacob L. Greene, President of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company, and George F. Greene, of Portland.

At the age of twelve years, Samuel was placed in the Hartford School, where he received instruction from the late Laurent Clerc, Wilson Whiton, Prof. Porter of the National Deaf-Mute College, the late John C. Bull and J. L. Noyes, now Superintendent of the Minnesota Institution for the Deaf and Dumb. After a term of four years in the primary department, he was admitted into the "Gallaudet High Class," under the care of J. Ayres, where he remained two years. After finishing this course, he received the appointment of assistant teacher, which position he held till the fall of 1866, when he resigned for the purpose of entering the National Deaf-Mute College at Washington, D. C. After passing a creditable examination the regular four years' college course, and in 1870 graduated with honors and received the degree of B.A. Upon leaving College, Mr. Greene received offers from three Institutions asking his services as teacher, and he chose to return to his old place in Hartford. Here he remained in the successful prosecution of his work till the fall of 1870, when he received an invitation to accept a position as teacher in the Institution at Belleville, where he is still engaged in teaching.

In August, 1871, Mr. Greene married Caroline C. Howard, third daughter of the late Hiram E. Howard, President of the Marine Bank of Buffalo, N.Y. They have four children, all of whom can hear and speak.

In August, 1877, Mr. Greene had the honor of delivering the oration before the New York Empire State Deaf Mute Association at their regular biennial meeting held in Elmira.

He is doing a good wook in the Belleville Institution, and as a result of his painstaking, faithful and systematic labors, special mention was made of the creditable performance of his class at the last annual examination.

A LIVELY OLD MAN.—Ten miles north of Mitchell lives Patrick Reardon, an Irishman by birth, who is now one hundred and ten years old. He is a wonderfully strong man for his age, having two years ago walked to town and back again. The other day he tried to repeat the same thing, but was so exhausted after walking a few miles that he had to be brought out in a sleigh.

A STRANGE CASE.—Eleven years ago, the then two year old child of Mr. Charles Krueger, of Carrick, Ont., complained of a great pain in the nose, of which she could not be relieved by the attending physicians. Since that time she had repeated attacks of pain. Lately she again complained and told her mother that some of the bones were coming down. The mother with the assistance of the inevitable hair pin brought down a besch nut. This produced immediate and permanent relief.

MARRIED INTO DEBT.—There has just been released from jail a man named Wm. O'Connors of Missouri, who got into difficulties in a somewhat peculiar manner. A short time ago Mrs. O'Connors had a disagreement with a neighbor of hers, and, on the small account for $20 was brought against the couple. The wife denied owing the amount, stating that she had paid her brother the amount long ago. Consequently her husband took no notice of the summons to appear at the Division Court. As a result he was committed to jail for twenty days, which term of imprisonment has just expired.

THE SCHOOL LAW.—The other day a school teacher in Nichol, Ont., laid a complaint of assault against a young man attending the school. The defendant pleaded that the assault did not occur within school hours, but on the schoolhouse, and that therefore he was not under the authority of the teacher. The Magistrate held that the school law expressly showed that the scholars were under the superintendence of the teacher from the time of leaving their home for school till their return after having been dismissed. They therefore ordered a fine, amounting with costs to $7 85, to be paid to the School Trustees.

FRIENDSHIP'S OFFERING.

Presentation to Miss Minnie O'Brien.

Our readers are aware that Miss Minnie O'Brien, daughter of P. O'Brien, Esq., of this city, took an active part in the late bazaar at Madoc, in aid of the new R. C. Church, which Rev. Father Davis is erecting there. Her valuable services have been handsomely acknowledged by the presentation of a beautiful and costly gold watch by the Rev. Father and his parishioners. The watch was purchased from Mr. Allan McFee, of this city, and is a momento of friendship and good will of which the recipient may well feel proud. The presentation was accompanied by the following letter:—

Belleville, March 10th, '81.

MY DEAR MINNIE.

As a very slight return for your great kindness during our late bazaar, in aid of our new church, please accept the accompanying small token of my appreciation. I can assure you I sincerely trust that as the hours of your life pass by, each succeeding one will be brighter and more happier for you than its predecessor. I thank you not only for myself, for your kindness, but also on the part of every Catholic in Madoc, who, one and all, have every reason to remember with gratitude the trouble you and your kind parents took to make the late contest in which you were engaged, financially successful, and thereby enable us to erect our much needed church, in which you can always say "I and my parents have put $238." Once more thanking you, and wishing you a loving and happy life, I remain,

Yours respectfully,
THOMAS DAVIS, Priest.

Miss Minnie O'Brien,
Belleville, Ont.

To this kind and affectionate epistle, Miss O'Brien replied as follows:—

Belleville, March 12th, 1881.

REV. FATHER DAVIS,
Madoc.

Your kind letter of the 10th inst., together with the beautiful gold watch, referred to by you as a "small token," &c., is to hand.

The fervent hope you express for my future happiness makes me feel quite thankful. The little part I took in the contest, to which you allude, was only a pleasure to me, and the cheerfulness with which my parents and friends contributed their donations and assistance, made my pleasure still greater; and I know that they and I will always feel more interest in the new church at Madoc than we would had we done nothing for it. And now, Reverend Father, accept my warmest thanks for your lovely and valuable present, and be assured I shall always prize, not for its value alone, but for the good will accompanying it.

Very truly yours,
MINNIE T. O'BRIEN.

HILLIER ITEMS.

A correspondent writes:—"A pleasing incident occurred on Wednesday last. At the close of the Ash Wednesday service, in Christ Church, Hillier, a number of the parishioners of the Rev. Mr. Halliwell, from the township of Ameliasburgh, remembering that Lent is well observed by those who "return and leave blessings behind them," adjourned from the church to the parsonage and cheered the family of their esteemed pastor by leaving a substantial blessing to the amount of $64, in money and substance, accompanied by the following brief, but sincere address:—

To the Rev. John Halliwell, Incumbent of the Parish of Hillier:

REV. DEAR SIR,—Allow me on behalf of your parishioners from Ameliasburgh, who, while admir ng your great abilities, are still more impressed with your earnestness and zeal in the cause of religion, not less among the sick and poor than in your public ministrations, to present you with the enclosed, as a slight evidence of our appreciation. Praying that you may be long spared to labor among us, and that you may see the consolidation of the work so well begun, we beg to express our esteem for yourself and your admirable spouse.

On behalf of you Ameliasburgh congregation.

WHAT THE MILLERS WANT.

At a meeting held in Toronto Wednesday afternoon the broken down Millers, Association of Ontario was re-organized, some thirty miles from all parts of the Province were present, Guelph, St. Catharines, Peterboro, Woodstock, Waterloo and Brantford being particularly well represented. A long discussion upon the question of grinding in bond took place, and the following resolution was adopted:—"That whereas there exists a demand for certain qualities of flour made from particular kinds of wheat that could only in a very limited degree, this meeting is of opinion that millers grinding wheat in bond should be allowed to export an equivalent in flour rather than the particular product of the wheat imported, and further that the proposed change should come into force on the 1st of June next, and that a delegation representing the milling interests of Ontario should wait upon the Government in the matter." A delegation was then appointed to take the resolution to Ottawa, and will do so on Monday next. It is claimed that under the present regulations Canadian millers can import flour at 20 cents cheaper per barrel, than they can import wheat, enough to make a barrel, and that, therefore, being obliged to export the product of imported wheat they have either got to make a dead loss or not grind upon the wheat at all. After the passage of the resolution the Association proceeded to the election of officers, and elected Mr. David Plewes, of Brantford, President, and Mr. McLaughlin, of Toronto Vice-President.

DR. WILD AND THE GUARDIAN.

The Reverend Editor Goes for the Prophet Preacher.

The Christian Guardian of this week replies to Dr. Wild's reference to that journal in his address of Sunday evening. It says:—"Dr. Wild knows very well that we were not discussing his standing at some former period, nor yet his personal character; but his ministerial standing, in virtue of his present position as pastor of the Bond street church. We felt then, and now, perfectly justified in saying that after its pastor's, the endorsement of this congregation did not count for very much in Toronto. Where are the untruths in our statement? As to our reference to his sensational tactics, if Dr. Wild supposes that his irreverent slang, and coarse pandering to the perverted tastes of the empty-headed and wonder-loving, are given in a church, and in the name of religion, the Guardian, when it deems proper, shall not dare to characterize those performances as such a travesty of religious teaching deserves, he is greatly mistaken. His weakly denunciations shall not prevent us calling things by their right names."

THE SUGAR BUSH.

SCENES THERE DAYS IN THE MAPLE WOODS —MAKING TAFFY FOR THE BOYS AND GIRLS.

The Toronto World has a chap on its staff who once knew how to get recreation and fun out of twelve months of a Canadian year in the country. In a late issue he discourses about the

SUGAR SEASON,

and says: "Those who have never gathered sap or beer a party to a sugaring off, have no conception of what it means. With the first warm flush of the spring sun that checkers the unbroken snow of the sugar bush with the broad shadows of the maple, the farmer's sons hitch up the team, load on the kettles, and start cheerily for the rendezvous. Away they go, as happy as if they were bound for a party, startling the red squirrels who have not seen them for months, and sending the woodchucks whimpering to their holes from the log where they have been sunning themselves for the first time since October. The shanty is put up, the kettles are hung, the sap troughs are upland, the trees are tapped, and soon the

SWEET LIFE BLOOD OF THE MAPLES

is leaking out into the receptacles below. Then the team goes galloping home for the girls, and they come out with their clouds tied around their heads, their dresses pinned up over their quilted petticoats, showing the red-stockinged ankles and feet bound in strong calf-skin boots. The elder sister bears in her lap a huge hamper filled with cold boiled pork and bread and butter, with a lot of pickles besides, while the younger sister sits between her brother's knees and drives the spanking team—the horses looking back at her out of their coal black eyes, proud of such a driver. Soon the sugar bush is reached, the sap is gathering in pails, and mutual hurrahing and laughter, the fire is roaring under the kettles, and the saccharine mixture is soon bubbling and leaping and settling down to something rich. It takes the girls all their time to watch the kettles and replenish them, while the boys are kept busy getting firewood and gathering the sap. And so the busy work goes on without stopping till the ground is dry and the sap, souring with the heat, is of no more use. But the season does not close without

THE GRAND SUGARING-OFF.

The boys from all around are invited. The neighborhood of the sugar shanty is all lit up with tiny flaming bush fires. Here come trooping in at dark from all directions, the lads whooping like Indians, and the girls laughing in chorus. Then begins the revelry. Singing, dancing and music while the hours away till the experienced eye and taste of the elder sister pronounces the boiling mixture of the right consistency for taffy. Then they strip the clean pink bark from the beech trees and the birches, lay on the hot liquid and dust it over with snow. They form it into letters and figures, and shape in every way. The little folks eat too much, and their elders can't eat for laughing and courting. Talk about apple-paring, corn-huskings, and pic-nics, why there are at a sugaring-off than at a dozen such. They pile up the sugar trougs in a pyramid and set the queen of the maples thereon, and dance around her flourishing torches snatched from the bonfires. But about twelve o'clock the "old man" drops in, and after saying that it was the way he carried on when he was young, kisses the queen of the maples, presents her with a big heart made of maple sugar, and brings the entertainment to a close. Then they wind away merrily, each young cavalier with his merry maiden, talking of things sweeter than that which makes their fingers cling together when they part.

THE LORD'S PRAYER.

HOW IT WILL READ IN THE REVISED TESTAMENT.

The changes in the Lord's prayer in the revised testament are considerable. In the 6th chapter of Matthew it will read: "Our Father which art in heaven. Hallowed be Thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, as in heaven, so on hearth. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our debts as we also have forgiven our debtors. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from the evil one." In Luke xi. it will stand: "Father, Hallowed be Thy name. Thy kingdom come. Give us day by day our daily bread, and forgive us our sins; for we ourselves also forgive every one that is indebted to us. And lead us not into temptation."

FORTY YEARS IN THE MINISTRY.

The Mount Elgin correspondence of the Woodstock Sentinel-Review contains the following with reference to a former citizen of Belleville:

"Rev. Dr. Gardiner, the veteran pastor of the M. E. Church, will celebrate the fortieth anniversary of his active ministry on Sunday, Feb. 27th. To his congregation on that day he gave a reminiscence of his labors during that time. Of the list of ministers who then composed the M. E. Church in Canada, among whom were such noted men as Bishops Reynolds, Smith and Richardson, only five are now living, and he is the only one engaged in active work. Truly he stands alone. His first circuit composed all the present country of Prince Edward, and involved a travel of 130 miles, preaching ten sermons per week. He was ordained as a minister by the first Bishop of the M. E. Church in Canada, who has long since been gathered to his fathers. For the first twenty years of his work he travelled five thousand miles a year, chiefly on horseback. His whole time has been devoted to the work of the ministry, and yet he is in as perfect health and as vigorous as in bygone days. A large number of the congregation met at the church in Newark, on Monday, Feb. 28th, to show their appreciation of his labours in a tangible way by making him the recipient of a purse of about $70, accompanied with an appropriate address, which he feelingly replied. Addresses were also delivered by Rev. Lounsbury, Shaw, Benson and others. Excellent music was furnished by Prof. Barker and choir. The whole proceedings passed off in the most pleasant manner."

MR GLADSTONE

No stronger evidence could be given of the great personal popularity of Mr Gladstone than the usual anxiety felt throughout the whole United Kingdom in regard to his health. That he is a real leader of the people is acknowledged on all hands and it would be, therefore, a calamity if he should be disabled at the present crisis in British political affairs. The Irish difficulty in particular Mr. Gladstone is peculiarly fitted to deal with successfully, since no other English statesmen of influence has so firmly established his position as a friend of the Irish people. In view of pending Irish legislation, therefore, it is to be hoped that the great leader of the British Liberals will soon be able to assume his position in the House of Commons.

FIXED PRICES.

BESIDES the advantage of Low Prices offered to customers through our system of trading wholly upon a Cash basis, there is this also that is worthy the attention of the pub namely, FIXED PRICES. We take it to b the only just and right way of doing business to mark goods at the lowest price we can afford to sell them and not ask more.

Though we are aware that a large number of people are taken by a practice in many stores of throwing something off the price asked, or professing to give something in, gratis, with a purchase, yet we have no hesitation in saying that the practice is a dishonest one and that little reliance is to be placed on stores which do this.

Where a second price is made, more than the just value is always asked, and the customer, after being put to the annoyance of haggling about the price, gets an abatement, often a very considerable one, and finds after all he has invariably paid more for his goods than we would have asked him in the first place.

THE BLOOD cannot properly perform its functions when loaded with impurities, because it is thick and sluggish; and every person needs at times something to cleanse and quicken the vital current. Dr. J. C. Ayer's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla meets this want perfectly, and his discovery of this compound ranks most highly in promoting the blood in a healthy condition as does that of Wm. Harvey in demonstrating its circulatory action. Nothing else vitalizes, purifies and enriches the blood as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is a perfect blood and nerve food. It never disturbs the stomach, but gradually assists and promotes the digestion and assimilation of all nutriments, and increases their power to sustain and invigorate body. In renovating the blood it clears and quickens the intellect, and thus gives to both mind and body the power of long sustained, arduous and successful effort. —Corning, N. Y. Journal.

—In Toronto society the custom is rapidly gaining ground of inviting guests at four in the afternoon, and have parties break up at about 10 or 11 p.m. The custom is a wholesome and sensible one.

—Mr. Harris Conger, mason employed by the Grand Trunk Railway Co., will move his family from Napanee to Belleville, as a residence here would be more convenient to his employment.

—Messrs C. J. Starling and P D Conger, of the old Hanlan Club, were invited to meet the champion and Mr. Whitefoot at a dinner given by the proprietors of the Queen's Hotel, Toronto, Thursday evening.

—Fall grain in Ameliasburgh is said to be in a promising condition. Having been covered with a large amount of snow all winter it has suffered none from frost, and should spring open early a large yield will be realized.

—The young woman, Annie Deal, who committed suicide by taking strychnine at the residence of Mr. C. F. Aylsworth, last Monday night, was an English immigrant, and was taken from Marchmont several years ago. Mr. Aylsworth gave her a good name.

—A huge bear, weighing over 400 lbs., was killed one day last week in the woods, in McNab township. The animal was discovered in his den, and after a desperate struggle was dispatched with a pick, handspike and an axe. The hide of Bruin was sold in Arnprior for $9.

—The sum of $25,000 was duly passed Thursday evening for the Murray Canal, after some discussion. It was stated that the estimated cost was about $700,000, including two locks, and something less if there was only one lock. We consider the estimate high. But what about the additional $25,000?

—Mrs. Fitzgerald, the present Matron of the Deaf and Dumb Institute, was presented with a handsome silver water tankard, goblet, salver drip, also a silver napkin ring, by the "employees" of the Lunatic Asylum Hamilton. Mrs. Keegan received a handsome finger ring from her friends amongst the employees here.

—The effect of Lent has been to decrease the sale of butchers' meat in the city nearly one-third. The religious influence of the church observance is no doubt the primary cause of this, but not the only cause. Many people are forced by other circumstances to fast from the frequent use of meat, as a long winter draws to a close.

—The Rev. Mr. Schuster has already accomplished a good deal in his mission work in this city. He makes a thorough, house-to-house canvass, and keeps a record of all the circumstances connected with each case. In this way he is able to materially help the different city pastors in looking after those of their congregations who have become indifferent to church services, as well as to influence others in choosing "the better part." Mr. Schuster deserves the hearty support of every citizen.

UNSURPASSED.—The old and well known remedy "Holden's Expectorant" (for coughs and colds) is still unsurpassed. More than 20 years it has now been in use and it still continues popular, while scores of medicines for the same purpose have flourished for a year or so and are forgotten. If you have a cough or a cold call at Geen's Drugstore and procure a bottle.

GARDEN SEEDS.—For good and reliable garden and field seeds go to Geen's Drugstore.

PROBS.—Easterly gales, cloudy weather with snow, possibly changing to rain before morning, followed by higher temperature.

FOR COLORADO.—On Monday morning next Mr. John Hant will leave Belleville for Colorado, and on the following Monday will be followed by three other mechanics, all of whom have sought in vain for the "bum."

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.—Don't forget the lecture in Metropolitan Hall on St. Patrick's Day by James Fahey, Esq., of Toronto, on "The School of Irish Eloquence." Mr. Fahey is a gifted speaker, and all who attend will be pleased with the time and money spent.

SOLD OUT.—Mr. A. J. Hopkins has sold the right for his double acting, anti-freezing force pump—to Messrs Haggard & Duffy, and he goes to Napanee on Monday next. We wish him success. There is plenty of money in his invention for the parties handling it.

STAMPING OUT CRIME.—Police Magistrate Holden seems to be determined to rid the city of criminals, as he has sent a number to Central Prison lately for apparently small offences. This morning another young man was sentenced to six months for stealing a sovereign.

POLICE COURT.—John Malcolm and Wm Bird, both charged with drunkenness, were disposed of by fining the former $1 and costs, and letting the latter off, it being his first offence. Russell Brown was sentenced to six months in Central Prison for stealing a sovereign from a young Englishman named Taylor.

NO. 1 COMPANY 15TH A. L. I.—There was a full attendance of the officers and men of the above Company at the meeting held last evening. They unanimously decided to hold together, providing the Government will furnish them with new arms, clothing, etc. In the meantime they will meet regularly, and, in a short time, they propose holding a musical and literary entertainment in order to raise some funds to help to recoup their loss.

CHRIST CHURCH TEA-MEETING.—On Tuesday evening next a tea- meeting and conversazione will be given in the City Hall by the ladies of Christ Church, after which there will be a good programme of readings, recitations, and music. We hope to see a large attendance.

BIBLE SOCIETY MEETING.—Our readers are asked to remember the annual meeting of the Belleville Branch Bible Society which is to be held in the City Hall on Monday evening next. It is to be hoped that all Christian denominations will unite in making the meeting of this year a great success.

VENNOR'S PREDICTIONS.—Writing to the Albany, (N. Y) Argus, he says : "The spring will be fairly early, hot and dry, and the midsummer cool and wet. The autumn promises to be open, dry and fine. There is likely to be a great deal of sickness during the year, but the weather—except in a few isolated sections—will be favorable to agricultural pursuits. The winter of 1882 bids fair to be open and generally mild, with but few, and those short-lived, storm periods."

OBIT.—A telegram from Shannonville this morning announced the death of Mr. Nathan Roblin, an old resident of that village, and one who had the respect of the community in which he lived. Deceased was a member of Quinte Lodge A. F. & A. M., of Shannonville, and has filled the office of Tyler in that Lodge since it was instituted, some ten years since. He will be buried with Masonic honors to-morrow (Sunday) afternoon at 1 o'clock. The deceased has been a life-long Reformer, and rendered yeoman service to the cause. He was 62 years of age, and leaves a wife and two children to mourn his loss.

THE ONTARIO MUTUAL. — In another column, will be found the rates of this Company for Life Assurance in sums as low as one hundred dollars, on the weekly and monthly plan. The directors have endeavored to supply one of the great needs of life assurance in Canada, by adapting it to the want of that class whose incomes are usually small, and are therefore unable to carry life policies or even make large payments at any one time. We think this plan should be well received by the public. S. Burrows is General Agent, F. M. Clarke Local Agent for this district, HYMENIAL.— Last evening our paper contained an announcement of the marriage of Edward George Ponton, Esq., of this city, to Miss Elizabeth Hannaford, daughter of E. P. Hannaford, Esq., of Montreal, Chief Engineer of the Grand Trunk Railway. The ceremony took place at Montreal, on Thursday last, and, we are informed, was witnessed by an immense assemblage of friends of the bride. We most sincerely congratulate Mr. Ponton on the choice he has made of a partner, as we are given to understand she is one of the most amiable of young ladies; and she, too, is to be congratulated on her union with a gentleman who has the good wishes of every one who knows him. We wish them all the happiness this life can afford them.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—The Madoc Review says :- On Thursday afternoon last, Mr. Charles O'Hara, who resides about two miles from this village, met with an accident which nearly cost him his life. While crossing a scaffold in his barn, on which was a light covering of straw, he accidentally slipped through and fell to the floor beneath, a distance of nearly twenty feet, striking on his head and shoulders. Some time elapsed before he was discovered, during the whole of which interval it is supposed he was insensible. Medical aid was summoned as soon as possible, and although it was at first reported his breast bone and one leg were broken we are glad to be able to state that such is not the case. His bruises, however, are severe, and although he is progressing as rapidly as could be expected, it will be some considerable time before he is like himself again. Mr. O'Hara had undoubtedly a close call.

THE M. E. SABBATH SCHOOL CONCERT.—The annual concert given by the pupils of the above school in the M. E. Tabernacle last night was one of the most, if not the most successful ever given in this city. There was over 400 people present, so that a good sum of money, (which is, after all, the main object) was realized. The programme throughout was of a most interesting character, and each piece called forth the hearty commendation of the audience, whether rendered by classes or by individuals. When all did so well it would be folly to particularize, but we cannot allow the opportunity to pass without complimenting Miss Donaldson on the violin solos rendered by her. In response to a hearty encore she gave the "Sweet Bye and Bye," in a manner that would have done credit to any violinist of much greater pretentions. The Colloquy, in which nine young ladies took part, was exceedingly well rendered, and each one who took part in it received hearty applause. The recitations of Miss Spafford and Miss Minnie Smith were exceedingly well rendered. Prof. Cline's cornet solos also added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening, the whole terminating at about 9.30 p. m.

INCENTIVES FOR INCREASING POPULATION. —Sir Leonard Tilley having clearly shown by his carefully prepared Budget statement that Canada is more prosperous under a protective duty, and that the N. P. has been a good boon to our manufacturers it is a little strange that the founders of this great policy should neglect the fountain head of all nations' wealth, and keep Babies on the free list. N. Davenport, Hatter and Furrier, being convinced that the party now in power will never give him great struggling industry the attention it deserves, will give prizes to every Baby born in the Counties of Hastings and Prince Edward during next December 1881, as follows :—

For every Girl Baby—1 handsome Fur Hood.
For every Boy Baby—One Fur Turban.
For every Pair of Twins—Two Silver Cups.
For Triplets—One twenty dollar gold piece.

A physician's certificate is expected with every application for a prize, and it is to be hoped that Babies will not be imported into Hastings and Prince Edward from Adjington, Lennox and Northumberland Counties. Please remember while waiting for the "Little Ones" that N. Davenport has the largest and finest stock of Hats and Caps in Central Canada.

Terrible Boiler Explosion.

Twenty-five Men Killed or Wounded at Buffalo Yesterday.

A FRIGHTFUL SPECTACLE.

BUFFALO, N.Y., March 11.—At ten minutes past four o'clock the inhabitants of the city in the vicinity of Donaldson & Patterson's boiler shop on Indiana-st. were suddenly startled by a terrific shock like an earthquake, and thousands of people immediately started in all directions, confused as to where the sound came from. It was discovered that the large buildings occupied by Donaldson & Patterson on Indiana-st. were completely levelled to the ground by a frightful explosion of a gigantic boiler. The wreck was complete, and many of the buildings near had been crushed into by the flying debris. Hundreds of laborers and ironworkers from Tift's foundries and other establishments rushed into the wreck, and began to pull away the mass of fallen walls, etc., to find those who might be injured or dead. Suddenly there was a cry of the discovery of an awful sight. Immediately across the street from the boiler-shop two bodies were found that had been blown entirely through a wooden shed, and torn into a terrible mass of mangled flesh. One portion was discovered to be the remains of Robert Patterson. For a time it was thought by the excited people that the other body so cruelly torn was that of the other partner, Mr. Donaldson, but it was subsequently discovered to be that of Wm. Gibson, a young boiler-maker, who lived on Hamburg street, between Perry and Fulton. Several more bodies are supposed to be under the debris, and the men who are pulling away the wreck momentarily expect to be horrified by the sight of some killed comrade. The firm of Donaldson & Patterson made a specialty of testing boilers by steam. Two pieces of the boiler were thrown crashing through the roof of the Wells Elevator. The shock of the explosion was felt as far north as Broadway, and occurred while a large boiler was being tested. John Forrest, a laborer, living near by, and whose house was wrecked by the explosion, says he heard first a hissing sound, as if steam had sprung a leak, and then a low, heavy rumbling as of an underground explosion, and then his house was shaken from the foundation to the roof, the windows driven in, and he was thrown violently to the ground. When he recovered the men were carrying the body of John Britz into his wondering, and an awful sight Britz was ; broken, blackened, gushing blood, and feebly moaning. Miss Fenton, who lives in the adjoining house, said the first sound heard was a hissing, then came a roar, and their house was covered with flying timber, which smashed every window and shattered the house. In Tifft's boiler shop, separated from the wrecked premises by a humble bear house, kept by John Bagley, the sky lights were blown in, and every window demolished, but no one was hurt. All concur that there were two distinct shocks, separated by a brief interval. An old lady, whose name could not be extracted from her, said she was passing along Ohio-street when she heard the explosion, and saw something fly across Indian-street amid a shower of timbers. She probably saw the bodies of the unhappy proprietor, Patterson, and Willie Gibson (the latter a handsome young Scotchman) being blown across the street and through the planking of the shed adjoining Deck Bros.' brass works. A most awful sight the body of Patterson presented as it lay there. The writer once saw the bodies of victims by the explosion of a caisson on the battle field, and Patterson's body could not have been worse mangled had he been in a powder explosion. He was a mass of torn flesh, entrails, brains hair, blood and blackened clothing. His head and his boots lay in a confused mass. An awful wreck of manhood. Willie Gibson lay on a heap of snow further inside the shed. He was not nearly so much mangled, nor had he, like Patterson, left a torn handful of his flesh upon the projecting splinter of the crashed planking. Crowds, mostly curious, whom a single policeman strove in vain to keep back, pressed around to feast on the hideous spectacle. The same thing was to be seen in the rear of Forrest's house, where John Britz was moaning his life away. Robert Patterson was blown across Indiana street through a shed, and is a mangled and confused mass of flesh. Wm. Gibson, a caulker, was blown across the street through the shed with Patterson. Engineer Chadwick was blown across the street. John Langefeld, boiler maker, and John Britz, boiler-maker are killed. A young man, short and stout, with black moustache, apparently 28 years of age, clothes torn of, unrecognized—killed. A boy, upper part of trunk and head crushed, unrecognized — killed. Bob Maxzech, blacksmith, shoulder and arm bruised. Eric Rupert, boiler-maker, leg broken. Carl O. Voltz's legs were blown off. He was removed to the hospital legless and shrieking, in most excruciating pain. Wm. Gnoor had his right foot smashed. The sheriff, coroners, chief of police, and firemen were on the scene at 4:20. The shock of the explosion released the horses of the steamer Perry, and they rushed pell mell to their position through the firemen sitting around, who were stunned by the shock and could not for a moment leave their chairs. The corpse and remains were sent to the Morgue at 4:15 p. m., and the injured taken to the General Hospital. The cries of the latter were heartrending. The engineer, Chadwick, lay on the floor of Deck's shop, rolling from side to side in mortal agony, till death relieved him, when he was removed. While at tention was being given to the dead, dying and wounded Mr. Donaldson appeared on the scene, and with tears streaming down his cheeks took a stand in a dazed manner in the centre of the ruins. About two hours before the explosion he went over to Somerville's livery stable on the Terrace, and was there when he heard of it. When he appeared on the grounds the sight that met his gaze almost distracted him. When questioned as to the cause, he was only able to say that an old boiler of the tug "Mary E. Pierce" was being tested, and that about twenty five boiler-makers were in the building.

The International Monetary Conference.

BERLIN, March 12.—The substance of the German note in reply to the invitation to attend the International Monetary Conference, says the Imperial Government in accepting the invitation presumes the respective negotiations will not aim at an arrangement or positive agreement to be ratified by the powers, but merely at deliberation and exchange of opinions for the elucidation of their relations bearing upon the question.

WHAT A LIBERAL CABINET IS DOING.

Opposition to Income Tax and British Influence.

LISBON, March 12.—The Liberal Cabinet, which took office eighteen months ago, has created an income tax, and now adds to the public condemnation by granting special jurisdictional and tariff rights to England. In the Courts of the Chambers of Deputies troops had to charge the mob, which uttered republican cries, and protested against the treaty and the Cabinet. Patrols cleared the streets. The garrison was kept under arms. Ministers carriages were hooted. Similar manifestations and monster meetings were held in Oporto, Faro, Coembera and other towns, to protest against the income tax and British influence. The fall of the Cabinet is probable.

CHILI and PERU.

The Present Situation at Lima.

PANAMA, Mich 2.—The situation at Lima is most disheartening, occupied by the hostile army. Public buildings are stripped of valuables. No Government in existence. President Pierolo is a fugitive, and public men are holding aloof from national affairs. The Chilians are extending their district of occupation, and the annexation of Peru to Chili is among the possibilities, unless peace negotiations are soon commenced. Pacrela after refusing to treat with the Chilians, now offers to return and open negotiations, but it is not known whether the Chilians will deal with him.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

For Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Erysipelas, Rose, or St. Anthony's Fire, Eruptions and Eruptive diseases of the skin, Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Blotches, Tumors, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers, Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa, arising from internal ulceration, and Uterine disease, Syphilitic and Mercurial disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, General Debility, and for Purifying the Blood.

This Sarsaparilla is a combination of the very best vegetable alteratives — Stillingia, Mandrake, Yellow Dock — with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, and is the most efficacious medicine yet known for the diseases it is intended to cure.

Its ingredients are so skilfully combined, that the full alterative effect of each is assured, and while it is so mild as to be harmless even to children, it is still so effectual as to purge out from the system those impurities and corruptions which develop into loathsome disease.

The reputation it enjoys is derived from its cures, and the confidence which prominent physicians all over the country repose in it, prove their experience of its usefulness.

Certificates attesting its virtues have accumulated, and are constantly being received, and as many of these cases are publicly known, they furnish convincing evidence of the superiority of this Sarsaparilla over every other alterative medicine. So generally is its superiority to any other medicine known, that we need do no more than to assure the public that the best qualities it has ever possessed are strictly maintained.

A Lecture to Young Men

MANHOOD

We have recently published a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical incapacity, Impediments to Marriage etc., resulting from excesses.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practise, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hand of every youth and every man in the land.

MARCH Winds! The sudden changes and high winds which prevail in March makes a bottle of Dow's ELIXIR always a necessity to have at hand. It is a sure cure for sudden colds and all lung diseases.

RAXTER'S MANDRAKE BITTERS will cure all bilious Diseases. Sold everywhere at 25 cts. per bottle. Try it.

The best remedy for strains and galls on horses is HENRY & JOHNSON'S ARNICA and OIL LINIMENT. Good for man and beast.

In the Fremont rank of Ame ican tonics and anti-periodics stands Northrop & Lyman's Quinine Wine. The weak, the nervous, the dyspeptic, never vainly seek its aid; sufferers from bilious, remittent, and intermittent fever, are surely rescued by it from the malaria of fever and ague. It is agreeable, its ingredients do not number one that is deleterious. The sherry which imparts to it an agreeable aroma and flavor is eminently pure, and serves to diffuse throughout the system its fine medicinal properties. It revives failing appetite, it solicits to sleep, and promotes regular secretion and evacuation. The nervous and dyspeptic, as it is well known, are often troubled with a sense of melancholy which in many cases reaches the stage of actual hypochondria. As the stomach regains its tone and the nerves recover their vigor, through the action of the Quinine Wine, this feeling gradually wears off, and cheerfulness resumes its sway. Persons who are convalescing after an exhausting disease, should take it in properly regulated doses, as it assists nature, thus aiding the restoration of vigor, which, without its aid might be tediously slow. Fever and ague and bilious remittent sufferers should take it only during the absence of the feverish symptoms. Lean persons, whose digestion is out of order, gain bodily substance as well as strength by its use. Use none but the Quinine Wine manufactured by Northrop & Lyman of Toronto, which can be procured of any druggist.

DAILY ONTARIO

SHE WASHED ON SUNDAY.

He only whispered to a lady friend who sat beside him in church, but it cost considerable trouble.

"There comes Mr. P's wife. Do you know she washes on Sunday? I've seen her do it," is what he said.

"Heavens! Can it be possible?" said the lady.

"Yes, but please don't say anything about it."

She didn't.

In exactly seven days by the clock everybody in the church knew it. It came to the ears of Mr. P, and he set about tracing the story to its origin. Mrs. P. was being snubbed by nearly everybody in the congregation. Even the minister forgot to take off his hat when he passed her in the street.

There was some talk of dropping Mrs. P's name from the roll of church membership.

Mr. P. became furious. He went around town with a pistol in his pocket. He finally found the lady who had started the report and asked her who her informant was. She referred him to the gentleman who mentioned it to her in church. Mr. P. jammed his hat over his eyes and sought the miscreant.

"Did you say that my wife washed on Sunday?" asked Mr. P. with murder in his eye.

"Certainly," responded the man without moving a muscle.

"I want you to take it back."

"I can't do it, for fact, and I don't see anything to get mad about. I wouldn't let a wife of mine come to church without washing, would you?"

WANTED IT JUST RIGHT.

"How much will this cost in your paper?" asked a quiet looking man, as he handed the following advertisement to the clerk at the Brooklyn Eagle counting room, yesterday?

Sarrr.—Dusted a trace in this city, Friday, just after dinner, Mary Smith, wife of the undersigned, and daughter of old Jim Pratt, the leading blacksmith of Denver, Colorado. She scrapes was highly respected by the hightoned families, but Death got the drop on her, and took the up bucket with perfect confidence that she would have a square show the other side of the divide. The plant transpires this after. noon at her boarding house on Willow Street. Come one, come all.

"Dearest Mary, thou has left us,
For you on earth there wasn't room;
But 'tis heaven that hath berft us,
And standeth waiting up the flume.
"Denver papers please copy and rend bill or draw on sight.
"By her late husband, P. Smith."

"I don't believe you want it in just that way, do you?" asked the clerk, rubbing his chin dubiously.

"Why not, stranger? asked the quiet man.

"I didn't read quite right, does it?" asked the clerk.

"Was you acquainted with the corpse, stranger?" said the quiet man. "Was you aware of the lamented while she was tuning around in society down at the boarding house?"

"I don't know that I ever met her," responded the clerk.

"So I reckoned jedge. You wasn't up to the deceased when she was in the living business. Now, jedge, the deceased wrote that creation herself she died, and I want it in. Do you hook on pardner?"

"But it isn't our style of notice," objected the clerk.

"Now, pardner, neither," acquesced the quiet man. „I was for having a picture and a lot more talk but she said she wanted it quiet and modest, so she whooped that up. Say, is it going into your valuable space without difficulty?"

"I don't know," said the clerk dolefully.

"I know pardner. This celebration comes off to-morrow afternoon, and that's going in the morning, if it goes in out of a cannon. I got grief enough on my hands now, stranger without erecting a fort on the sidewalks, but if you want to see I got the implements right in the back of these mourning clothes. What d'ye think, jedge?"

"Does it make any difference where it goes?" asked the clerk.

"I want it in the paper," said the mourner, "and it's going in if it takes a spile driver. Think you twig my racket, stranger?"

"All right," replied the clerk. "I'll put it in in the bind," among the other mournful remarks. Four dollars please."

"That's business," and the quiet man paid the money. "If you aint busy come around to-morrow. I'm going to give the old woman a send off, and if that apostler don't work up a pretty good programe before he gets to the doxology, his folks will think I'm off my base. I run a branch business with a saw mill. She was a good one, jedge, and was pious from the back of her neck to the bunion on her heel; you can put that from me, I notice," and the mourning widower wiped his eyes on the sly and later in the day was fined $10 for thrashing the undertaker who had put silver handles on the casket, instead of gold.

SNOW OUT WEST.

Detroit Free Press:—"Much snow—much snow out in Minnesota this winter!" he almost yelled in answer to the query—"well, we've had a few flakes, and don't you forget it!"

It was at the Union depot, and his loud voice soon drew a crowd around him.

"You Michiganders puff up and feel powerfully big over a fall of two feet of snow," he went on, "but you are a vain set. Do you know that the snow is in the bushy sy in Northern Minnesota?" Well, it's almost incredible, but it was the case last winter, and I'll tell you how we got at it. Made a tunnel and then another five feet have been added since I left home."

"Must be bad traveling," suggested an Eastern man.

"Probably it would be if anybody tried to travel," was the reply. "We don't go spooning around out there in the winter."

"Is twenty feet the deepest snow you've had?"

"Deepest! Why it's ten times deeper than that! That's what we call a flurry. On the 23d day of January we had nine feet of snow on a level. It then snowed for 98 hours without a stop. When it ceased we had 36 feet of snow on the ground. My house was at least 14 feet below the surface, and no building could be seen in any direction."

"And you dug your way out?"

"I did, eh? What for?"

"Why, didn't you?"

"No, sir! It was 20 days before the snow settled below the tops of the windows, but I was in no hurry."

"Lonesome?"

"Lonesome — humph! I had just brought home my second wife, and I had nine children in the house, and if you'd been within a mile and a half of the cabin you'd have been dead-beat to know which side to bet your money on! Lonesome! Well, I guess not!"

A NOBLE REVENGE.

The coffin was a plain one—a poor miserable, pine coffin. No flower on the top; no lining of white satin for the pale brow; no smooth ribbons about the coarse shroud. The brown hair was laid decently back, but there was no crimped cap with neat tie beneath the chain. The sufferer of cruel poverty smiled in her sleep; she had found bread, rest and health.

"I want to see my mother," sobbed a poor little child, as the undertaker screwed down the top.

"You cannot; get out of the way, boy; why don't some one take the brat?"

"Only let me see her one minute!" cried the helpless orphan, clutching at the side of the charity box, as he gazed upon the coffin, agonized tears streaming down the cheeks on which no childish bloom ever lingered. Oh! it was painful to hear him cry the words: "Only once; let me see mother, only once!"

Quickly and brutally the heartless monster struck the boy away, so that he reeled with the blow. For a moment the boy stood panting with grief and rage—his blue eyes distended, his lips sprung apart; fire glistened through his eyes as he raised his little arm with a most unchildish laugh, and screamed.

"When I'm a man I'll be revenged for that!"

There was a coffin and a heap of earth between the mother the poor forsaken child—a monument much stronger than granite built in the heart the memory of the heartless deed.

The Court House was crowded to suffocation.

"Does any one appear as this man's counsel?" asked the judge.

There was a silence when he had finished, when, with lips tightly pressed, an officer, a look of strange intelligence blended with a haughty reserve upon his handsome features, a young man stepped forward with a firm tread and finally eye to eye with the friendless one. He was a stranger, but at the first sentence there was silence. The splendor of his genius entranced—convinced.

The man who could not find a friend was acquitted.

"May God bless you, sir; I cannot!" he exclaimed.

"I want no thanks," replied the stranger.

"I—I—I believe you are unknown to me."

"Sir, I will refresh your memory. Twenty years ago this day you struck a broken-hearted little boy away from his dead mother's coffin. I was that boy."

"Have you rescued me, then, to take my life?"

"No, I have a sweeter revenge. I have saved the life of a man whose brutal conduct has rankled in my breast for the last twenty years. Go, then, and remember the tears of a friendless child."

The man bowed his head in shame, and went from the presence of magnanimity, as grand to him as it was incomprehensible.

A STRANGE CASE.

Suit of a Montreal Doctor to be Freed From his Wife—Counter Stories of Ill-usage and Female Hatred.

MONTREAL, March 9.—A peculiar case is before the courts here at present. Dr. W. H Hammond, of this city, asks separation as to bed and board from a women named Annie Grace Power, Minneapolis, Minn., whom he married in that city. He claims that since the first week of their marriage, on the 14 th of January last, she has inflicted upon him all kinds of cruel ill-usage, and grievous insults beating and striking him in the most brutal manner, and keeping him in perpetual fear of his life. They agreed to separate and defendant took away all their furniture, safe, and all it, although the plaintiff was paying her board at the time, and then persisted in persecuting him, visiting him against their agreement, and using him in the presence of strangers, and calling him a drunkard and an opium eater in consequence of excesses in the use of medicine both in Minneapolis and Montreal to which city she followed him. Plaintiff then took refuge in his mother's house in Lachine, where defendant followed him and behaved in such a rough and unbearable manner that he was forced to have his meals in his own room for fear of scandal, foul-dealing, or danger to his life. On the 6th of July she beat him brutally and on the 15th of September she inflicted a wound on his head, which left plaintiff unable to show himself for many days. At the same time she exclaimed that this would not be the last treatment of the kind he would receive from her. Since then plaintiff has not resided with her, but she has continued to harass and way-lay him, and threaten his life.

The wife maintains that she is sincerely and devotedly attached to her husband, and he to her but that the latter now shows up in the true light by the influence which has been exercised over him by his mother and two sisters, who have taken advantage of a passion for strong drink and opium, and of his enfeebled and dejected mind, to poison his feelings towards defendant, to slander her, and throw suspicion on her amongst all their acquaintances, and on plaintiff himself as being no bad drunkard before their marriage, although it was then unknown to defendant that he had graded himself up by the abuse of liquor and morphine, under which he lost all consciousness. He repeatedly had delirium tremens, and had been picked up by the police in the streets of St. Paul and Minneapolis, and carried by them sometimes to his home and sometimes to prison.

The testimony given by Mrs. Hammond, a lady 75 years old, in the case, was very strong against her son's wife, as also was that of both his sisters. Hammond, a wife, whom he complains of, is a determined-looking, and woman, not unpleasant looking, little as a beauty, and apparently possessed of great strength. Judge Papineau is the presiding judge.

The Pain-Killer is the well-tried and trusted friend of all who want a sure and safe medicine, which can be freely used internally without fear of harm, and with certainty of relief. Its price brings it within the reach of all; and it will annually save many times its cost in Doctor's bills.

ROMANCE OF THE PEERAGE.

Extraordinary Life of a Scotch Earl.—Curiosities of "High Life" in England.

By recent cable despatches our readers have been made aware of the decision of the House of Lords in the celebrated contested Dysart peerage case. Judgment is in favor of William John Manners, the issue of Lord Huntingtower's English marriage, as against Albert Edwin, the claimant under Lord Huntingtower's previous irregular Scotch marriage. The incidents of the case, which the Committee of Privileges has for six weeks been hearing, are common enough in plays and novels. In real life they are rare. As here narrated, they may be found in the columns of the London Times. The late Earl of Dysart, in the Peerage of Scotland, who died in 1872, survived by eight years his only child, William Lionel Felix, between whose two sons, genuine or putative, the present contest has arisen. William Lionel Felix, the late Lord Huntingtower, was born to a very doubtful heritage. Besides vast estates in several counties, he was heir apparent to one of the most interesting houses in Great Britain. Ham House has had its praises and glories chronicled by Evelyn and by Horace Walpole. Its solemn avenues, its Jacobean quaintnesses, its treasures of furniture and china and books, have inflamed the fancy and covetousness of innumerable connoisseurs and collectors. Lord Huntingtower and his fathers alike had only to choose their careers. The world, politics, and social, was open to them wherever it might have pleased them to take their place. His lordship selected his life after a singular fashion. After he succeeded his mother, who had been Countess of Dysart in her own right and had lived in state at Ham until her death at 96, he made his abode in a couple of rooms in a side street off the Strand. The son adopted a very different course. Perhaps it was that which determined the eccentric seclusion of the father. Before he was 20 years of age he had resuscitated the legend of the Mohocks who live in Addison's pages. There was nothing so extravagant, wild and outrageous that Lord Huntingtower was incapable of. The whole kingdom rang with the scandal of his license. He drank the cup of what he supposed to be enjoyment to the last dregs. Had he died at 23 it is not impossible he might have left the tradition of a life, if cruel and injurious to others, gay and brilliant and delightful to himself. But an indomitable constitution preserved him to be the gaunt, dismal, needy adventurer whom the existing generations can remember. Repudiated by his father, in constant strife with the cousin he had persuaded to marry him as a reformed rake, used in county courts and by parish guardians, shuffling about from one obscure lodging to another, chained to an illiterate woman he had seduced, and whom he did not know whether to cast adrift on a pittance which he did not regularly pay or, at the risk of the pains of felony, to own as his wife in order to spite her who bore the title, he illustrated the logical consequences of such a life. He had done all in his power before he was 30 to wreck the noble inheritance of his ancestors. He had sold every expectancy, contingency and reversion upon which he could induce a usurer to lend a pound. Though his father's forty years of hoarding secured riches to the grandson whom the family of Tollemache adopted freely, it is still a question under litigation how far the ancient possession of the house can be rescued from the inroads of the son's folly. Not satisfied with the ruin off an estate, clouded his lineage and descent by trying the revelled knot the law lords have been engaged in disentangling.

A SCOTCH MARRIAGE.

That Mrs. Elizabeth Tollemache, Tollemarsh, or Asford, or Ackland, the mother of the younger of the rival claimants to the Dysart peerage, lived with him at first as his mistress she herself does not deny. The difficulty lies in the question of the footing on which the two resided together during a brief subsequent residence in Scotland. Her account is that in July, 1844, in Scotland, whither she had followed him, he, in the presence of his valet, Spicer, went through a form sufficient in Scotch law to constitute a marriage. In 1847, at a dinner given by him at Greenwich, she appears to have been introduced as one or more of the guests as his wife under the name of Mrs. Tollemache. By 1848, however, if not earlier, he had discontinued that part of a husband's duty which consists in providing for his wife and children. In that and the following year county court actions for small sums were brought against him for her maintenance. An action was also brought for a larger sum which had been advanced to her by a Mr. Jarrett. It failed in consequence, she explains, of want of pecuniary means by Mr. Jarrett to obtain the evidence of the Scotch witnesses. In 1851 he married Miss Burke, the mother of the other claimant of the title. Mrs. Elizabeth Tollemache, or Acford, states that she did not interfere to prevent the marriage, "because it was Miss Burke's place to do so, not mine." In 1854 a deed was executed between them by which he settled upon her, under her unmarried, an annual allowance of £90. She brought an action in the same year as an unmarried woman to enforce that settlement. Her explanation of this practical surrender of her wedded status is that she "was penniless and wanted to get the money." About this period she seems to have made a living by letting lodgings near the Walworth road and in Islington. While residing in the latter quarter, in 1859, all the dressed letters of Lord Huntingtower and to a Spanish prima donna, demanding either £1,000 or £500 to help her to arrange a marriage with a nother man. Her excuse for a suggestion of willingness according to her present case, to commit bigamy is that it was simply a taunt and a repartee upon her husband for the offence of which he had already been guilty. During all this time it would seem that Lord Huntingtower had preserved an intermittent association with her, with the result that several children were born. The claimant was not born until 1863; and in 1865 Lord Huntingtower pleaded to a fresh action brought by her all the arcana at Maidstone on the settlement of 1854, that as his wife she was incompetent thus to sue him. She retorted by a plea that she was not his wife ; but a verdict was entered for him, though by consent it was afterwards set aside. In the present case there was an embarrassing absence of positive facts. Spicer, the valet, was dead. Several persons testified that Mrs Tollemache and Lord Huntingtower had been known by the nomes of Mr. and Mrs. Tollemache. One of the daughters, borne before 1863, deposed to allusion by Lord Huntingtower to her mother as his wife. But the committee was in possession of no evidence, either oral or in writting, by persons who in Scotland observed them acknowledging one another as husband and wife, and in the absence of such testimony it was bound to decide the case against the son who was born to them.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

Friday, Feb. 11th.

Routine Business occupied but little time yesterday. The House went into Committee of the Whole on a resolution increasing the salaries of Superior Court judges in Prince Edward Island, which was adopted, and a Bill founded thereon introduced. The Bill to amend the Petroleum Inspection Act of 1880 was advanced a couple of stages, after considerable discussion, during which Mr. Blake laid at the Government's door, as among the list of mal-legislation, the principal responsibility for the high price and inferior quality of the petroleum sold. Mr. Langevin announced that the Government had agreed to withdraw the monopoly clause in the Pacific Cable resolutions, and the same were then adopted in Committ, and a Bill embodying their principle introduced. After recess several private Bills were read the third time. The Bill respecting naturalization and Indians was read a second time, and passed through Committee. On motion to go into Committee of Supply Mr. Bourassa, Liberal, moved in amendment a copy of a motion moved by the Conservatives when in Opposition, declaring the importance of fostering the growth and manufacture of native tobacco by removing the excise duty upon the same. After a brief discussion, strange to say, although Sir John Macdonald and certain of his followers voted readily against a like motion a few years ago, to the habitants, votes, they now voted against it amidst derisive Opposition cheers. The amendment was carried on a vote of 41 yeas to 131 nays. The vote was not a party one. In Committee of Supply the votes were passed for the following services :—Indians, Excise Culling Timber, Weights and Measures, for Inspection, of Stades, Adulteration of Food Collection of Miner Revenues, Operation of Railways and Canals, Operation of Public Works, and Postoffice. The Committee reported, and the House adjourned at 1:45 a. m.

Throat & Lung
INSTITUTE,
M. HILTON WILLIAMS, M.D.
and S. L. NASH, M.D. } Prop's.
Permanently established at the
Dafoe House,
BELLEVILLE.
For the cure of all the various diseases of the Head, Throat and Chest, including the Eye, Ear and Heart.

But a few weeks or months are required to cure the most obstinate cases of Catarrh, Throat diseases, Asthma, Bronchitis, and the earlier stages of Consumption, when the treatment is conducted under the direct and own personal supervision. A word to the wise is therefore sufficient.
All diseases of the respiratory organs treated by medical inhalations.
Inhalations remove hepetitration by dissolving the hardened matter existing in the cells of the lungs, thus enabling the patient to expectorate it with ease, at the same time giving the diseased surface an opportunity to heal.
Inhalations scatter inflammation and soothe the inflamed surface, thus relieving a harrassing cough almost immediately.
Inhalations absorb the fleshy excrescences that exist upon the pharyngeal surface in cases of granulated throat, and restore the proper vitality of the parts, thus relieving the dryness of the throat and the sensation of lumps of mucus penetrating the mucous membrane of the pharynx.
Inhalations will cure the most obstinate cases of catarrh, where combined with a poor constitutional and other topical treatment.
In fact, Inhalations will cure thousands of cases of the breathing organs when all other means have failed.
Let there be no delay, then, in application to the treatment that has stood the test and proved again and again the only hope—the only reliable safeguard and means of restoration.
Consultation free and prices within the reach of all.
The very best of references given from all parts of Canada from those already cured. Remedies sent to any part of Ontario.
If possible, call personally at the office for consultation and examination, but if impossible to do so, write for "List of Questions" and "Medical Treatise." Address

NEW YORK BUTTER MARBET.
In reporting the market prices for butter, the New York Tribune, of May 20th, said, "Choice packages to the retail trade reach 19 to 20 cents, but light colored goods are hard to dispose of, and several lots were thought well sold at 8 to 10 cents. This stern logic of dollars and cents is rapidly convincing diarymen that they should use the Perfected Butter Color made by Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt. It gives diarymen that use it never send light colored goods to market.

TWENTY YEARS A SUFFERER.
DR. R. V. PIERCE :
Dear Sir.—Twenty years ago I was shipwrecked on the Atlantic Ocean, and the cold and exposure caused a large abscess to form on each leg, which kept continually discharging. After spending hundreds of dollars, with no benefit, I was persuaded to try your Golden Medical Discovery, and now, in less than three months after taking the first bottle, I am thankful to say I am completely cured, and for the first time in ten years can put my left heel to the ground.
I am, sir, yours respectfully,

MAN'S NOBLEST WORK.
This is an age of great work and wonderful invention. Steam, electricity, water, air, all are made to serve man, but unquestionably the greatest inventions are those which relieve pain and prolong the life, and among the greatest of these is Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Its effects are truly wonderful and hundreds are happy to-day, who once looked forward to an early grave. For Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Loss of voice, Hay Fever, Sore Throat, Croup, or any affections whatever of the Throat, Chest or Lungs, Dr. King's New Discovery will positively cure. We can cheerfully recommend it to all, and can unhesitatingly say it is the only sure cure for Throat and Lung Affections. Trial bottles ten cents ; regular size $1. For sale by Jas. Clarke & Co.

From Hon. W. H. Jones, of West Dover, Va.
"I have been troubled from my boyhood with chronic or hereditary lung complaint. Some years since, early in the winter, I took cold, which in my usual settled into a severe cough, which continued to increase as the season advanced, although I made use of all the cough remedies I had knowledge of. My family physician also prescribed for me, but I experienced no relief. During this time I was gradually running down, losing flesh and strength, until my friends as well as myself, became very much alarmed, thinking I should waste away in consumption. While in Boston during the spring following, I was induced to try Wister's Balsam of Wild Cherry. After one day's trial I was assured that it was relieving me ; in ten day's time my cough had nearly ceased, and I was soon restored to health and strength. I have ever since kept the Balsam in my house, and whenever any member of my family has a cough or cold, it is immediately resorted to. No family should be without it."

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

President Garfield thinks with Carlyle that "the United States has 50,000,000 people, mostly office seekers." The streets of Washington are black with them.

The Judges of Prince Edward Island are now happy. Their salaries have been made equal to those of the Judges of other Provinces, something they have long and earnestly contended for.

The Mail says "the feeling in the Commons is such that the amendment to the Scott Act, passed by the Senate is likely to be accepted." Just as we predicted. The Mail speaks by the book.

The monopoly clause of the Asiatic cable scheme has been withdrawn, and a bill founded on the resolutions thus amended read a first time. Mr. Fleming's company has a year to make arrangements.

It turns out that the Indians on the Sarnia Reserve are not quite so destitute and wretched as a London newspaper represented. They are not all happy, but none of them are dying of starvation and exposure.

The United States will be represented at the International Monetary Conference by Wm. M. Evarts, of New York, Allan G. Thurman of Ohio, and Timothy A. Howe of Wisconsin. This is considered a strong representation.

The Senate of Cambridge University has pronounced it to be the wish of the University that female students shall henceforth be admitted to the public examinations, and that they shall be allowed to take honors in much the same way as any other member of the University.

A gentleman who lately returned to London from Kansas City and the far West gives a discouraging report of the prospects in that region. He says hundreds of young men who went there from Canada and the Eastern States are glad to get one meal a day. They would return, but are not able to do so. Young man, don't go west.

A RUMOR having been circulated in New York to the effect that James Gordon Bennett, of the Herald, was ambitious to eclipse young Bartlett's matrimonial venture by seeking the heart and hand of the Queen's unmarried daughter. The Toronto World suggests that, in order to carry out the precedent set by his countrymen, Bennett should turn his attention to the Queen herself. Such an alliance would bear a resemblance to the Coutts-Bartlett union in respect to the ages of the contracting parties, and the New York journalist would be the envy of every man in America. James Gordon has demonstrated his great ambition whenever a favorable opportunity offered, and he possesses sufficient cheek to support him in such a desperate venture as we have mentioned. English bloods and aristocratic scions have not hesitated to lay seige to the hearts of America's fairest daughters, and it would be sweet revenge if Bennett could retaliate by carrying off the Queen of England. We would advise James Gordon to try. Faint heart never won fair lady.

THE National Debt of Canada is assuming collossal proportions. It now stands at $127,000,000, having nearly doubled since Confederation. This is a matter that should arrest public attention and direct efforts towards an improved state of affairs. The resources of the country do not warrant a reckless expenditure, which must end in increased taxation and debt. Ordinary development and public improvement necessarily entail a corresponding outlay of public funds, but the present Government at Ottawa has set an example in dealing with the Pacific Railway and other questions that give no hope for the near future. Millions are voted away with indifference, and monopolies are created that will drain the very life blood of the nation. There is every reason to predict that for the next decade or longer the debt that now bears such frightful proportions to the public resources will greatly increase. The return of a Liberal Government to power might arrest the tendency to extravagance, but contracts have been entered into and pledges given that cannot be conveniently set aside or cancelled.

THE journeymen carpenters of Toronto, being dissatisfied with the scale of wages observed by employers of such labor in that city, have agreed upon a course that must recommend itself to the approbation of the public. They ask for an increase from 17½ cents to 20 cents per hour, and allow their employers until the 2nd of May to consider the matter. This demand is made in accordance with the existing state of affairs generally, the carpenters finding that the wages they now receive will not enable them to live properly. The price of nearly all the necessaries of life has been increased by the National Policy tariff, and they insist that some one must be benefitted by this increase. The N. P. authors claimed that the tariff would foster home industries, thereby giving more employment and increased wages to mechanics and laboring men. If domestic industries are benefitted the carpenters of Toronto would like some proof, which has not yet been received. The benefit must be mutual to be fair and consistent. There is certainly an increase in the cost of living, but no increase in wages received for work done.

THE TORIES AND TEMPERANCE.

When in opposition the Tories professed to have much concern for the success of temperance legislation, and furiously attacked the Mackenzie Government for refusing to make the question a party issue. The Reform leaders expressed sympathy with the object aimed at, and were prepared to go as far as public opinion seemed to justify, legislating for the question. This did not suit the Tory Opposition, and more than one attempt was made to pass before the country as friends of prohibition. No sooner, however, were the party positions changed than the hypocrisy of the Tory professions were made manifest. The Scott Act, which the Mackenzie Government framed and placed on the Statute book, and which was heartily endorsed by all the advocates of temperance, has been repeatedly attacked since the present Government came into power by its supporters. Mr. Boultbee made two unsuccessful attempts to destroy its usefulness, and hence being convinced that the object could not be attained in the Commons, the tactics were removed to the Senate. Dr Almon, a representative Tory, moved in amendment to Senator Vidal's bill, which was intended to simplify some of the technicalities of the Act, to exempt ale, beer, lager beer, and light wines from the operation of the Act. This amendment was carried, and its effect, if sanctioned by the Commons, which is not improbable, will be to strike a deadly blow to the temperance cause. It will be observed that the divisions on this question, in both Houses, show an almost unanimous support of the Scott Act by Reform members. This assistance they have received from the Conservatives in the Commons has resulted hitherto in preserving the Act from mutilation, but the Senate may be made an excuse to cripple it after all. We shall see.

THE CZAR ASSASSINATED.

The Russian Nihilists have at last succeeded in their designs against their Emperor. Yesterday morning, when returning from parade with his brother, in a closed carriage, he was assassinated by means of an Orsini bomb, two of the deadly missiles being thrown by men standing behind a row of spectators. The particulars are published elsewhere. Alexander II was the eldest son of Nicholas I, and was born during the reign of his father's brother, Alexander I. His general home policy of government was in striking contrast to most of his predecessors, enlightened and liberal. It is therfore, a surprise that he, of all the Russian Emperors, should have been so ruthlessly hunted to death by those who profess to seek the amelioration of the masses. His wife, the late Empress Maria, was the daughter of Grand Duke Ludwig of Hesse-Darmstadt. They were married in 1841, and from this marriage there are four sons and one daughter living. The last is the Grand Duchess Maria, the wife of His Royal Highness the Duke of Edinburgh, and the eldest living son is the Grand Duke Alexander, who will become the next Czar of the Romanoff-Holstein line under the title of Alexander III. The Empress Maria died a few months ago, and shortly afterwards the Czar married the Princess Dolgorouki, with whom he had contracted a liaison of a scandalous character during the lifetime of the Empress.

PERSONAL ITEMS.

—Rev. B. Lane, M.A., will preach twice next Sunday in connection with the anniversary services of the M. E. Church, Kingston.

—The Hon. Mr. Blake has accepted the invitation of the Young Men's Reform Club of Montreal to a banquet to be given in his honor immediately on the close of the session.

—Mr. Thos. Barratt, of the 6th Concession of Camden, died on Saturday last at the advanced age of 102. He was born in Limerick, Ireland, in 1779. He survived his wife only three years. His oldest son is over 75 years of age.

—Captain T. Howard, superintendent of the Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Co., has been appointed Harbor Master at Montreal in succession to Captain Rudolf. The salary is $3,000 per annum, and the appointment gives satisfaction.

—Mr. D. Fraser, who has been one of the most successful farmers of Ernestown, leaves in about two weeks for a new home in the far west. About eighty of the leading farmers and agricultural men of Lennox County entertained him. Mr. Fraser was presented with a suitable address and a gold medal valued at $35.

—Toronto World of Saturday :—There was a wild report on the streets this forenoon that Dr. Wild had committed suicide and men's faces blanched as they heard of it. But the report was set at rest half an hour later by the rev. doctor himself, who was seen stroking his prophet-like beard on King street, clothed and in his right mind.

—Father Hyacinthe, the celebrated new Catholic priest, is carrying out his mission in Paris with vigour. He has hired the famous hall of the Rue d'Armes, in the most squalid part of the Capital, where he will address himself to the work of preaching faith in God and his Son, and will cease his attacks on Protestantism and Ultramontanism.

A HIGH-TONED ROW.—A despatch from Ottawa says:—Friday evening quite a sensation was created on Sparks street. A captain in the Civil Service was escorting a lady home, when another captain, also of the Service, came up and claimed that he had no right to walk with the lady. The result was that the lady went on, and the two captains engaged in a fisticuff encounter which lasted for a quarter of an hour. Both were pretty well bruised.

COST OF THE CANADA PACIFIC.

Item 1—Twenty-five millions acres of land.

Item 2—$28,000,000 worth of completed railway.

Item 3—$25,000,000 cash,

Item 4—An amount of money sufficient to bonus Canadian manufacturers of railway material to the extent that the articles furnished by them would pay duty if imported.

Item 5—To recompense Dr Schultz, who was favorable to the Howland Syndicate until he saw that the Government was bound to pass the Stephens bargain through, and who then turned around and voted with the majority—an extra 2,560 acres per mile for the Southwestern Railway.

Item 6—To recompense the men who, after Mr. Edgar's alliance with the Grand Trunk, organized an independent line from Toronto to Sault Ste Marie, and who then suddenly adopted the Pipestone route and amalgamated with the Canada Pacific Syndicate— X, an unknown quantity. Developments awaited.

"WHAT ARE THE WILD WINDS SAYING?"

The evolution theorists will be after Dr. Wild with a club, and not a ministerial "club" either. He dares to assert that out of a giant race have been evolved the present pigmy humanity, while evolution demands faith in the possibility of the greater evolving itself from the less. This is a severe blow to my revered progenitor, protoplasm. I plow about protoplasm because protoplasm blew me. Dr. Wild blows about giants. Intellectual giants may get wild by-and-by and blow upon him. Query: Is it all anything else but "blowing" anyhow?—Grip.

GEORGE ELIOT.

What Rev. Robert Collyer Thinks of Her and of Her After Life.

Rev. Robert Collyer, of New York, lectured on George Eliot last Sunday evening. It was said, he said, to see her drift from her old simple faith in the verities of religion as shown by herself in her own writing. It was the saddest and most cruel consummation possible to a woman of noble, delicate and sensitive soul. That's the pity of it, you know. As to her after life, it isn't a question of casting stones, but it is whether she did the best possible here with that fine spirit. When the news of her death came I said to a well-known editor, "I'm sorry ;" and he replied, "So am I." That was all, and I utter no condemnation beyond that. And so rest her soul. I believe that her soul is at rest. In the boundless bliss of heaven alone could such a soul find its place. Old Father Taylor, of Boston, said once to a Calvinist who was talking about Ralph Waldo Emerson's going to the bad place after he should die : "Well, if Emerson goes to hell he will change the climate." And so I say of George Eliot.

THE WAGES OF SIN.

A Beautiful New Brunswick Girl Finishes a bad Career at a New York Hospital.

NEW YORK, March 10.—The police were engaged to-day in an attempt to learn something of the history of a young woman, Mary Gross, alias Maud Threnholm, who died in Bellevue hospital on Tuesday of exhaustion due to acute mania. The death certificate stated that she was 21 years old, a native of Canada, and had been in this city two months. She was admitted to the hospital on Feb. 23rd, taken there by the landlord of the boarding-house.

SHE WAS VIOLENTLY INSANE, and force had to be used to prevent her injuring herself. She also imagined that some persons were pursuing her to kill her. She was a brunette, with expressive well - moulded features, graceful form and rich musical voice. Her dresses were of costly material, she wore expensive jewelry, and her manners indicated that she had moved in the best society. During her illness she was visited by several persons. A woman, who said she resided in Boston, and was her aunt, called at the hospital, but was not recognized by the sufferer. A gray-haired man called to see Mary one day. She appeared to recognize him, but his presence seemed to distress her. On Saturday a man who gave the name of Couch called and said he was acquainted with her relatives. He stated that her father was James White, proprietor of the Phœnix hotel, Moncton, N. B., and her father, hearing she was dying here, sent him to see he. Being unable to stay in the city, Couch arranged in case she should die to have the body sent to New Brunswick. Couch said Mary eloped four years ago with James P. Gross, a citizen of the United States spending a summer in New Brunswick. Gross took her to Washington, and after treating her cruelly for less than a year,

HE DESERTED HER.

Mary returned home, and remained there until a few months ago, when she went to Boston and obtained a position in a millinery store. A few weeks ago her father received a letter from her, stating that she was in this city and had the promise of a good position. The next news that he heard was that she was dying. On enquiring at her boarding-house it was learned that Mary was brought there two months ago by a gray-haired man, who gave the name of Jacobs, and who said she was his niece, Maud Trenholm. Jacobs seldom called, and she went out but little until seized with insanity. Jacobs is believed to be the gray-haired man who called on her at the hospital and whose presence distressed her. The detectives are looking for him. The body of the unfortunate young woman was sent to New Brunswick yesterday.

—The subscription started in aid of the new Manitoba College building reached in two days' canvass over $4,700.

—Seven Thousand pianos costing $2,200,000, and 15,000 organs worth $1,250,000, were sold in Chicago in 1880.

PROF. MACOUN'S LECTURE.

What he Knows About the North-West.

Professor Macoun delivered a lecture before the Ottawa Scientific Society Friday night. He declared that the summer climate of the Peace River region was similar to that of Ontario, and the same cereals that came to perfection in the latter place would do so in the former. Actual cultivation has proved the statement to be true. Amongst many illustrations he cited that of the cabbage, which being a seaside plant grew equally well in the North-West, as the soil contained much alkaline matter, although some people maintained that such soil was of no value. He referred to the law of production and showed that all plants produce more growth the nearer they approach their northern limit and demonstrated by various examples apparently satisfactory to the audience, that the same number of stalks to the acre in the North-West would produce double the quantity of grain as that of the best cultivated land in Ontario. After a lucid explanation of the grasses and their mode of growth as found in the North-West, he brought a lengthy lecture to a close by referring to the raising of stock, and showed great plains which supported the enormous herds of buffalo in the past would yet be the home of countless herds of cattle, and it was a well known fact that the buffalo never wintered in the forest, but always in the broken country, where high hills and deep valleys gave them better pasture and better shelter. Prof. Macoun was accorded a hearty vote of thanks at the close.

PARLIAMENTARY NOTES.

The bill providing for an increase in the salary of the Chief Justice of Prince Edward Island received its first reading in the House Friday.

The resolutions regarding a general increase of judges' salaries according to the population of their districts were laid over until next session, on account of the census being taken.

It is thought the Canada Temperance Amendments Bill will be left over till next session, unless the Government offers facilities to have it come up before prorogation. Sir Leonard Tilley has been telegraphed to by a leading temperance man, who asks for the honorable gentleman's views on the Scott Act amendments, whereby it is sought to kill the measure. Sir Leonard does not wish to commit himself to a given course just yet, but in all probability he will vote against the amendments, while the preponderating influence of the Government will be thrown in favor of Senator Almon's suggestions. Meanwhile the Government will likely attempt to get out of an awkward position by postponing the consideration of the Senate's amendments, as already hinted.

THIS AND THAT.

—The poor department in Rochester furnishes food and fuel to 700 families at a cost of about $3,500 a month. This would indicate that prosperity is not universal south of the line.

—When Mrs. P. T. Barnum was a baby Tom Thumb used to hold her on his knee.

—Canada Presbyterian : We could easily name some in Toronto, who hold their heads tolerably high, that have become bywords for offensively addressing ladies who may be on the streets alone after dark. Do these persons think they are not known, and that they have not been again and again recognized, sometimes by those who belong to the same church with themselves? If so, they are strangely mistaken.

—Jay Gould said about his relations with corporations : "I am a mere passenger," and Mr. Vanderbilt said : "The nicest thing in the world is to be satisfied with what you have, that's what I am." The Brooklyn Eagle noticing these humble and philosophial reflections remarks quietly : "The meek shall inherit the earth."

CENSUS DIFFICULTIES.—When the census enumerators get to work, their talk will not be the easiest. A correspondent writes to an eastern paper as follows: "Ten years ago the writer's nationality was, he believes, entered incorrectly by the census enumerator, and, as the matter is again up for discussion, he would kindly ask through your columns the opinion of census enumerators, as well as your intelligent readers, as to which nationality he properly belongs. The Government instructions to its officials are: The enumerator must endeavor, taking for his guide the spirit of the law, 1, not to omit anything of importance ; 2, not to record the same thing twice ; 3, not to exaggerate anything ; 4, not to understate anything. I want my nationality placed in the proper column. My father is a French Canadian, my mother a Scotch Canadian. my uncle is an Irishman, I was born in China, by adoption a son of the powerful Iroquois Confederation, the friendship of which was sought both by French and British colonists."

MARINE NOTES.

—Captain H. Zealand has commenced work on the "Calabria" at Port Dalhousie.

—The steamer Empress of India was sold in Toronto Saturday, to Mr. W. E. Smith, for $12,000.

—Lumber shippers have offered $1.25 per m. from Toronto to Oswego. Vessel men ask $1.50.

—The ice, it is said, will not be out of Toronto Bay before April 1st. It will be pretty safe to predict the same thing of Belleville harbor.

—The Chicago Tribune has come to the conclusion that Canadian vessels get over cereals that came to perfection in the latter place would do so in the former. Actual cultivation has proved the statement to be true. Amongst many illustrations he cited that of the cabbage, which being a seaside plant grew equally well in the North-West, as the soil contained much alkaline matter, although some people maintained that such soil was of no value. He referred to the law of production and showed that all plants produce more growth the nearer they approach their northern limit and demonstrated by various examples apparently satisfactory to the audience, that the same number of stalks to the acre in the North-West would produce double the quantity of grain as that of the best cultivated land in Ontario. After a lucid explanation of the grasses and their mode of growth as found in the North-West, he brought a lengthy lecture to a close by referring to the raising of stock, and showed great plains which supported the enormous herds of buffalo in the past would yet be the home of countless herds of cattle, and it was a well known fact that the buffalo never wintered in the forest, but always in the broken country, where high hills and deep valleys gave them better pasture and better shelter. Prof. Macoun was accorded a hearty vote of thanks at the close.

—The schooners "KatieEccles," "Jessie McDonald," "Caledonia," and "Mary Taylor" are at Brighton. There are no changes from last year except that the "Jessie McDonald," has been bought in Toronto.

—There are 964 noblemen and gentlemen being educated at Eton college. The list includes an Indian, a duke, twenty-one lords, three counts, five baronets, and forty-two honorables.

—Mr. Cockburn states that some 2,600 acres of excellent land was found in the township of Gibson, South Muskoka, last summer, which section was supposed to be unfit for settlement.

—Mrs. Mary B. Post has been re-elected town clerk and treasurer of Georgia, Vt. Her husband held these offices nearly thirty years. He died in 1878, and Mrs. Post has acceptably filled them since.

—Her Majesty has directed letters to be sent in her name to the near relatives of the officers who have lost their lives in action in the Transvaal, expressing her sympathy for them in the sad losses they have sustained.

—March Sales.—

OUR customers are generally aware that we receive our usual Spring assortment of STAPLE and FANCY DRY GOODS much earlier this year than usual; but our sales during the months of January and February were so satisfactory, that if the present months' sales prove large, we will be under the necessity of laying in a second supply in most lines. To ensure this we are marking our Spring goods as well as any Winter goods that are left over at an unusually low advance on cost, and we invite customers to compare our prices and value.

We invite special attention to

of which we have DOUBLE OUR USUAL STOCK and which we are selling at much lower prices than they are usually sold. During the month of March we will offer special inducements to purchasers, and hope to make proportionally large sales.

THE blood cannot properly perform its functions when loaded with impurities, because it is thick and sluggish ; and every person needs at times something to cleanse and quicken the vital current. Dr. J. C. Ayer's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla meets this want perfectly, and his discovery of this compound ranks as important in preserving the blood in a healthy condition as does that of Wm. Harvey in demonstrating its circulatory action. Nothing else so vitalizes, purifies and enriches the blood as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is a perfect blood and nerve food. It never distrubs the stomach, but greatly assists and promotes the digestion and assimilation of all nutriments, and increases their power to sustain and nourish the body. In removing the blood it clears and quickens the intellect, and thus gives to both mind and body the power of long sustained, arduous and successful effort. —Corning, N. Y., Journal.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Local Brevities.

—Delightful weather yesterday and to-day.

—Magnificent sleighing this morning, but sloppy this evening.

—Oceans of maple sap were gathered to-day. New sugar will soon sell for less than 20cts. a lb.

—Instead of saying a person "puts on too many airs," you should now say "he is too atmospheric."

—Remember the annual meeting of the Belleville Branch Bible Society in the City Hall this evening.

—The winter is hanging on well. It has been a glorious one from beginning to end—i. e., if this is the end.

—Thursday next will be the Anniversary of Ireland's Patron Saint, and don't forget the lecture by Mr. James Fahey.

—The fancy bread bakers of Toronto protest against the local law that compels them to put such bread in loaves of two and four pounds.

—Cattle are being brought in Frontenac by Americans at an average cost of $20 each. For horses the same parties pay an average of $70 each.

—Three prisoners and two tramps have occupied the cells since Saturday night. The prisoners have all been in since Saturday night.

—Kingston has not had a bite of new maple sugar yet this season. Belleville has had it in abundance for a week. We always did pity Kingston.

—The members of No. 1 Fire Company deny the assertion that they did not work well at Friday morning's Fire. They say they did the utmost in their power to stay the spread of the flames.

—Prof. Macoun, of Albert University, delivered an interesting lecture in Ottawa last Friday evening, on the plants of the North-west country.

—The ladies of Christ Church have completed their preparations for the annual tea-meeting to-morrow evening, and expect a generous response to there invitation.

—Dominion $1 notes, with the "one" erased and "four" substituted, are in circulation. The forgery is very clumsily done, and can be detected at a glance. Want's examination.

—Have patience all ye who have overcoats with torn lining, for there is now every indication that the day is near at hand when overcoats can be packed away for a season.

—There was the usual amount of snowballing to-day by the juveniles. They have a habit of pelting people passing in sleighs—a bad habit, that may get them into trouble.

—The manager of the Grand Opera House, Toronto, is flooded with letters and telegrams from all parts of the country asking to have seats reserved for the admirers of Sara Bernhardt. A number are from Belleville.

—A despatch from Ottawa says : "Advices from East Northumberland state that the Liberals are confident of success, and even the Conservatives admit that Mr. Crouter is an exceptionally strong man." Our advices tally with the above to a dot.

—We have received the third number of "Le Moniteur du Commerce, Revue des Marches, della Finance, del Industrii et des Assurances." It is published at Montreal, and looks like an excellent journal. We have not read it for a very good reason—we can't.

—The Kingston deputation that went to Ottawa in connection with the dry-dock scheme, have returned, and report progress. Sir John promised to do all he could to get his colleagues to favor the request of the deputation, but he has no love for Kingston, and will not go far to serve her interests.

—The plasterers of Toronto receive $2 a day, and with this sum they are dissatisfied, contending that they are out of employment for nearly five months in the year, and that for the balance of the season they are entitled to higher wages. They held a meeting this week to consider the matter.

—We do not consider, says the New York Sun, that anybody patronizes a newspaper when he buys it, or that the newspaper is under any obligation to any one who either purchases a copy or inserts an advertisement. If it is a wise and sound newspaper, the purchaser or the advertiser gets the full value for his money, and the account is even between them. These words will be endorsed by every journalist in the world.

UNSURPASSED.—The old and well known remedy "Holden's Expectorant" (for coughs and colds) is still unsurpassed. More than 20 years it has now been in use and it still continues popular, while scores of medicines for the same purpose have flourished for a year or so and are forgotten. If you have a cough or a cold call at Geen's Drugstore and procure a bottle.

GARDEN SEEDS.—For good and reliable garden and field seeds go to Geen's Drug-store.

TO-NIGHT.—Remember the meeting of the Bible Society this evening in the City Hall. Christian men and women of all denominations should endeavor to be present.

OUR NEW STORY.—We commence to-day the publication of our new story "The Leavenworth Case," a lawyer's story,—and recommend its perusal to all our readers. It will be found to be one of the most interesting tales ever published in these columns.

CORRECTION.—In our notice of the M. E. Sabbath School concert, on Saturday evening, the name of Miss Spafford appeared as having given a recitation. It was Miss French, of Alexandra College who gave a recitation and not Miss Spafford. Miss Smith also recited.

CHRIST CHURCH TEA-MEETING.—To-morrow evening the ladies of Christ Church will hold their annual tea-meeting and conversazione in the City Hall. As the proceeds are to be applied towards the payment of their new organ, we trust the attendance will be large. A good programme of entertainment will follow the tea.

TEA AND LECTURE.—On Tuesday evening, March 22nd, the young ladies of Mr. W. F. Jones Bible Class in connection with the Bridge Street C. M. Church will have a tea-meeting in the basement of the church, after which the Rev. Dr. Jeffers will deliver a lecture on "the Art of Conversation." The admission will be 25 cents, the proceeds to be applied partly for class purposes and partly for the alterations in the school room.

A DANGEROUS JOKE.—Yesterday afternoon a horse belonging to Mr R Elvins was let out of his stable for the purpose of getting a drink. On going into a heighbor's yard some boys tied a tin can attached to a long rope to his tail, and started the horse off. The animal becoming frightened at the rattle behind him, made off, and ran down Front Street at a terrible rate of speed, kicking at the pail as he ran. He fell in front of the City Hall, when the pail was removed. An effort will be made to find out the parties who perpetrated the joke, and we hope it will result in their being brought before the P. M. and a heavy fine inflicted.

MARRIAGE BELLS.—The Montreal Witness says of Mr. Ponton's marriage :—The Church of St. James the Apostle was yesterday morning the scene of an event which attracted a large representation of the elite of the city—the marriage of Miss (Elizabeth) Hannaford, daughter of E. P. Hannaford, Chief Engineer of the Grand Trunk Railway, and Mr. Edward G. Ponton, Barrister, of Belleville, Ont. The bride, who wore a remarkably handsome costume of white satin, trimmed with brocaded silk, white tulle veil and the conventional orange blossoms, was attended by five bridesmaids, Miss Mamie Muir, Miss Emeilie Ponton, sister of the groom, Miss Charlotte Lister, of Belleville, and Misses Mary R. Hannaford and Gracie Hannaford, sister of the bride. The groomsmen were Messrs. Archd. W. Ponton, brother of the bridegroom, who acted as best man, W. N. Ponton, his cousin, C. M. Mortimer, of Toronto, R. Maitland Hannaford and E. P. Hannaford, brothers of the bride. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Canon Ellegood, assisted by the Rev. Canon Norman, and Mr. Fisher, organist of St. George's Church, presided at the organ. The bridal pair left for New York by the afternoon train.

PROLS.—Moderate winds, fair weather, not much change in temperature.

The best bargain in the city is that suit of clothes at Hennessy's for $6.50. It is an all wool, Halifax Tweed, well lined and trimmed. See it.

POLICE COURT.—The three drunks who occupied the cells since Saturday night appeared before His Worship Mayor Patterson this morning and were let off, two of them promising to leave the city, forthwith.

DEPARTURE.—Wm. Evans and Colwell Arnold of Brighton obtained the necessary papers for emigration to Dakota this morning, Ryerson Vandewaters and ten other families from Sidney will follow them soon. People are getting tired waiting for the great things the N. P. promised us.

THE BABCOCKS AGAIN.—At noon to-day the Babcocks living on the east side of the river, in rear of Barrell's axe factory had a regular free fight, in which the old woman, sons and daughters took a hand. The row brought a large crowd around their doors, drawn thither by hearing loud yells and swearing.

A SHARPER BROUGHT TO JUSTICE.—Some time since a man named Pettit living in this city, took an organ from the house of a woman named Lambert, with whom he lived, and stored it in a grist mill in Trenton. Parties who had a claim upon it commenced to make a search. Pettit went to Trenton and took the organ to Cobourg, where it was again stored. From here he took it to one John Haight's, two miles north of Duffins Creek, and exchanged for a horse and $30 cash. He then returned to Belleville, and defied the parties who had a claim upon the organ to find it if they could, and then get it from them. A clue was obtained and one day last week Mr. Allan Frederick, who held a chattel mortgage on the organ, and who also was instructed by the company owning it to proceed to Duffins' Creek, in order to find it, started in company with Mr. Stephen Garratt, and they found the organ and brought it back. A warrant was then issued at Duffins' Creek for the arrest of Pettit and an officer came down, found his man, and took him up on the evening train.

INCENTIVES FOR INCREASING POPULATION.—Sir Leonard Tilley having clearly shown by his carefully prepared Budget statement that Canada is more prosperous under a protective duty, and that the N P. has been a great boon to our manufacturers it is a little strange that the founders of this great policy should neglect the fountain head of all nations' wealth, and keep Babies on the free list. N. Davenport, Hatter and Furrier, being convinced that the party now in power will never give this great struggling industry the attention it deserves, will give prizes to every Baby born in the Counties of Hastings and Prince Edward during next December (1881,) as follows :—

For every Baby—One Fur Turban.
For every Pair of Twins—Two Silver Cups.
For Triplets—One Handsome Collar gold piece.

A physician's certificate is expected with every application for a prize, and it is to be hoped that Babies will not be imported into Hastings and Prince Edward from Adjingdon, Lennox and Northumberland Counties. Please remember while waiting for the "Little Ones" that N. Davenport has the largest and finest stock of Hats and Caps in Central Canada.

—The revival services in Holloway St. Methodist Church, West Belleville, will be continued every night this week. All are earnestly invited to attend.

—When an elephant has a cold they give it five gallons of whiskey, and that's the reason why some men who have been to see the elephant carry such a peculiar odor about them.

—It will soon be necessary to carry high stools to places of amusement. A fashion authority says : "Among new spring bonnets, sixteen full blown poppies are seen on one and nine ostrich feathers on another."

—The man Fitch, arrested at Centreville a few days ago, charged with jumping bail at Collingwood, has proved other than the missing offender. Men don't like to be imprisoned in mistake, and of course Fitch was madder than if he had been the guilty party.—Whig.

—The Presbytery of Kingston meets to-morrow in St. Andrews' Hall, Kingston, when the selection of commissioners to General Assembly will take place, and other important business will be transacted.

—The noon prayer meeting in Bridge St. Church to-day was well attended. All the ministers in the city representing the Evangelical Alliance were present, as well as several from the country. Rev. A. T. Imbull presided, and the exercises were marked by variety, intensity of devotional feeling, and by heartfelt sympathy.

Robert Subbock, Cedar Rapids, writes : "I have used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil both for myself and family for Diphtheria with the very best results. I regard it as the best remedy for this disease, and would use no other.

RECENT EVENTS.

—Mayor Mackintosh, of Ottawa, has been sustained in his seat.

—Scarlet fever and diphtheria are still severely felt at St. Henri de Levis, Que.

—About a quarter of the Vermont towns have elected women as superintendents of schools.

—Mr. Simon Kelly, of Sebastopol, who left his family for Dakota, has returned minus the sum of $600. He does not speak highly of that country.

—A Detroit physician has published a treatise on delirium tremens, declaring death by that disease not to be painful but pleasant. His practice since has been enormous.

—Halliday, the Montague farmer, sentenced some years ago to the Kingston Penitentiary for manslaughter, has been released, on petition, before the expiration of his term.

—It is stated that Earl Derby will shortly take office in Mr. Gladstone's Cabinet.

—Five persons have died at Madrid of trichinosis, and the authorities are taking precautions against further cases.

Assassination of the Czar of Russia.

A DESPERATE NIHILIST SCHEME

"They have done for him at last."

ARREST OF THE ASSASSINS.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The World's London special says the town was startled by the announcement of the Czar's assassination. The Duchess of Edinburgh was at the Duke's seat in Kent, with her four children. Prayers were offered for the Duchess at afternoon service in the churches, and in the evening special reference was made to the murder from the pulpits of the principal churches. While there is great excitement in official circles, there is comparatively little on the streets. People had long expected as much. Great sympathy is expressed for the Duchess of Edinburgh, who is in a delicate condition.

Official despatches agree as to the following facts :—The Czar was returning in a covered carriage from the Michael Parade, about 11 a. m., with his brother, Grand Duke Michael. The escort consisted of quarter troops and Cossacks. Several officers of the household accompanied him in sleighs. As the carriage was passing along the banks of Ekaberenofsky Canal, immediately opposite the Imperial stables, a bomb was thrown from behind a knot of pedestrains, who had stopped to see the Emperor. It exploded right under the body of the carriage, the splinters flying across the street, but doing no injury beyond tearing away the back of the carriage. The driver discended from the box, and the Cossack escort, which was a few paces in the rear, at once galloped up. Not more than twenty persons were present. The Czar hearing the crash at once raised a window, opened a door and jumped out, and while drawing his ur oloak about him a second bomb from the knot of lookers-on exploded right at his feet. The smoke of the first explosion was still hanging about, and, when the second bomb struck the pavement a dense cloud enveloped the carriage. A howl of pain and anguish from the Cossacks, some of whom were killed, and more wounded by the splinters, and three or four lookers on, who fell at this crash, brought a squad of police on duty at the Imperial Stables. As the smoke lifted the Czar was seen lying on his back beside the wreck of the carriage. His legs were shattered, and blood poured from ghastly wounds in the thighs. His cloak and wearing apparel [illegible] His head was uncovered. He was deadly pale, and his cries to the officers of the household for help were soon audible. Colonel D'Jorgebky, of his suit, who was badly injured by the second explosion, raised the Emperor, and with the aid of the Cossack officers lifted him into a sleigh and conveyed him to the Winter Palace.

The bombs were thick glass balls, filled with dynamite. All this did not occupy three minutes, as the prisoner was thrown into a sled, and driven off under a strong guard. D'Jorgebky's sleigh bearing the wounded Emperor and two or three attendants, drove rapidly to the Winter Palace, where a mounted messenger had previously arrived, and by this time the story was known throughout the neighborhood, and as the sleigh drove through the gate the people stood by uncovered, while hundreds and thousands flocked to the scene. The alarm had been sounded in the military and police barracks, the guard ont he Winter Palace was doubled, and the streets lined with soldiers. The news soon reached the churches. Congregations rushed into the streets, and made for the Palace, where a squadron of Cossacks and regular cavalry kept them at bay.

Melikoff, military Governor, was on the spot in 10 minutes after the Czar's arrival. He called out a large detachments of cavalry and artillery, and telegraphed all commanders of the city and outlying posts to hold themselves in readiness at a moment's warning. No doubt the authorities half feared a general rising of Nihilists. The whole city was an armed camp before the clocks struck twelve. The firemen and fire police kept a sharp look-out for fires, and the principal Government and municipal buildings were put under a close guard.

Meanwhile the Cossacks and police had charged upon the people from which the two bombs were flung. Several persons pointed to a man in the rough looking garb of a peasant, and declared he had thrown the first shell. This was confirmed by Cossacks who saw him hurling it. As a Col. of police seized him the man struggled desperately, and as the dismounted escort closed upon him drew a revolver as though intending to shoot the Grand Duke Michael, whose escape from death by the second explosion was little short of miraculous. But his hand was struck down and in an instant he was thrown and securely pinioned, the police putting irons on him and the Cassacks binding him with ropes. A large body of military police gathered and active search was made for the other assassin.

The Czar was carried up stairs on a litter. Besides the surgeons in ordinary, the most skilled men in the city were present. His left leg was fearfully shattered, the greater portion of his foot and ankle being nearly blown off. The right leg was nearly torn from the body. He was sensible with brief intervals of unconsciousness to the last. At 1:30 the imperial family was summoned to the bedside. Prayers for the dying being said by the Greek Patriarch and clergy. Leave taking was said to be very touching. The Czar kissed them all, and gave them his blessing. He bore the agony with heroic fortitude, and said he trusted he was ready to die and that Russia would never forget he had been sacrificed for upholding her institutions and maintaining law and order within her borders. Towards 3 p.m. it was evident the end was near. At 3:30 he breathed his last. The first announcement that St. Petersburg had was the firing of minute guns, tolling of church bells, and the national flag at half mast upon the dome of the Winter Palace and the turrets of the principal public buildings. A minute later flags at half mast and reversed flags were drooping from the flag staffs on the houses of nobility and gentry, and court, government and municipal offices, and a long roll of kettle drums mustered the tale in every street. The wildest excitement prevailed in the neighborhood of the palace, but the people on the streets received the news in sullen silence. No weeping, except among the soldiers. In the lower quarters where Nihilists, are supposed to be the most numerous, crowds gathered on corners and discussed the tragedy, remarking as the police and military dispersed them : "They have done for him at last." The police agents arrested several persons overheard denouncing the Emperor, and applauding the murderer.

Ten minutes after first assassin was arrested, his fellow conspirator fell into the hands of the police. He had concealed himself in an old building in a lane near the Imperial stables. A cordon of police and Cossacks had been drawn around the stables. The police routed him out, when he was bound and sent to the dungeon. He admitted his guilt, and on being told his accomplice was also arrested, he said they were ready to die any moment. He inquired if the Czar was dead. On the police refusing to answer he gleefully exclaimed : "Ah ! I know by that we have succeeded. Long live the people!" The police refuse to give the names or any particulars relating to the prisoners. Both are young men, apparently of good birth and education.

THE NEW CZAR'S MANIFESTO.

Preparations for the Funeral.

ST. PESERSBURG, March 14.—The following imperial manifesto is promulgated :—We, by the grace of God, Alexander III, Emperor of and Autocrat of all the Russians, Czar of Poland, Grand Duke of Finland, &c., here make known to all our faithful subjects, that it pleased the Almighty, in his inerutable will, to visit Russia with a heavy blow of fate, and call her benfactor, Alexander, to himself. He fell by the hands of imperious murderers, who had repeatedly sought his precious life, and made their attempts because they saw in him a protector of Russia, the foundation of her greatness and promotor of the welfare of the Russian people. Let us bow to the unfathomable will of Divine Providence and offer up to the Almighty our prayers for the repose of the soul of our beloved father.

We second the throne which we inherit from our forefathers, the throne of the Russian Empire, and the Czardom and Grand Dukedom, inseparably connected with it. We assume a heavy burden, which God has imposed upon us, with firm reliance upon his Almighty help. May he bless our work to the welfare of our beloved fatherland, and guide our strength for the happiness of all our faithful subjects.

In repeating before Almighty God the sacred vow made by our father, to devote according to the testiment of our forefathers, the whole of our life to care for the welfare, and honor of Russia, we call upon all faithful subjects to offer before the altar of the Almighty their prayers with ours, and commend them to swear fidelity to us, and to our successor, his imperial Highness, the Hereditary Grand Duke Nicholas Alexander Oritch.

Given at St. Petersburg, anno domini, 1881, the first year of our reign.

The "Agence Russe" says the Grand Duke Michael was driving behind the Czar's sleigh with Col. D'Jongebky. When the second bomb was thrown he disappeared in the crowd and escaped. The troops have taken an oath of allegiance to the new Emperor. The royal family to-day swore allegiance to Alexander III. Court officials will swear their allegiance at one this afternoon.

The Nouvee remy states that the man arrested yesterday confessed he threw the first bomb, but denies any knowledge of the person who threw the second. In addition to a revolver, which the prisoner attempted to use, a dagger was found on him. The name he gave is believed to be false.

The Gatz says the prisoner is 21 years old, a native of Barovitshy, and Government of Norgorod. During the night a Cossack and civilian, who declined to give his name, died from injuries received by the bursting of the bombs. 20 persons were more or less injured : 13 are in the hospital. The whole city is deep in mourning. The sensation by the assassination is indescribe. The imperial princess remained until two this morning with the Emperor who is inconsolable. The Crown Prince Frederick William of Prussia, or Prince Frederick Charles, will attend the funeral.

LONDON, March 14.—The Prince and Princess of Wales, Prince and Princess Teck, whole staff of Russian Embassy, and other foreign representatives attended special service at Wallbeck St. Greek Chapel to-day. The Duke and Duchess of Edinburgh, who were staying at Clarence Hall, St. James, received the news of the Czar's death yesterday afternoon. The Duke immediately made arrangements for a special train to Dover and left with the Duchess and Russian Duke Alexis at 8 p. m. to go direct to St Petersburgh.

Protestants to be given Religious Liberty

MADRID, March 14.—The Sagasta Cabinet propose taking action to grant amnesty to Protestant clergymen suffering imprisonment for holding divine worship in Catalonia, without having complied with the stringent regulations of the late Cabinet against Protestant propoganda in Madrid. The Government has also instructed the authorities to abandon all fine prosecutions, so numerous under Canovas, against native Protestants and agents of Bible societies.

FOSTER & REID,

Ayer's

Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of foulling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous, and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

A Lecture to Young Men
ON THE LOSS OF

MANHOOD

We have recently published a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical incapacity, Impediments to Marriage etc., resulting from excesses.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cts. or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practise, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hand of every youth and every man in the land.

KNOW THYSELF.

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; or, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be recovered and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than fifty valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth, price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says, "No persons should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nerve-specialist, and therefore know where of he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon. P. A. BISSELL, M. D., President of the National Medical Association.

Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass. The author may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. HEAL THYSELF.

BAXTER'S MANDRAKE BITTERS will cure all bilious Diseases. Sold everywhere at 25 cts. per bottle. Try it.

The best remedy for strains and galls on horses is HENRY & JOHNSON'S ARNICA and OIL LINIMENT. Good for man and beast.

In the Foremost rank of Ague-lean tonics and antipreventics stands Northrop & Lyman's Quinine Wine. The weak, the nervous, the dyspeptic, never vainly seek its aid; sufferers from bilious, remittent, and intermittent fever, are surely rescued by it from the malarial scourge. Its taste is agreeable, its ingredients do not number one that is deleterious. The sherry which imparts to it an agreeable wine flavor, is eminently pure, and serves to diffuse throughout the system its fine medicinal properties. It revives failing appetite, is conducive of vigor, which, without its aid might be tediously slow. Fever and ague and the bilious, remittent sufferers should take it only during the absence of the feverish symptoms. Lean persons, whose digestion is out of order, gain bodily substance as well as strength by its use. Use none but the Quinine Wine manufactured by Northrop & Lyman of Toronto, which can be procured of any druggist.

DAILY ONTARIO

The Leavenworth Case:

A LAWYER'S STORY.

BY ANNA KATHARINE GREEN.

CHAPTER I.

'A GREAT CASE.'

A deed of dreadful note.
MACBETH.

I had been a junior partner in the firm of Veeley, Carr & Raymond, attorneys and counsellors at law, for about a year, when one morning, in the temporary absence of both Mr. Veeley and Carr, there came into our office a young man whose whole appearance was so indicative of haste and agitation that I involuntarily rose as he approached, and advanced to meet him.

'What is the matter, sir?' I inquired. 'You have no bad news to tell me, I hope.'

'I have come to see Mr. Veeley; is he in?'

'No,' I replied; 'he was unexpectedly called away this morning to Washington; cannot be back until to-morrow; but if you will make your business known to me—'

'To you, sir?' interrupted he, turning a very cold, but steady eye on mine; then seeming to be satisfied with his scrutiny, continued. 'There is no reason why I shouldn't; my business is no secret. I come to inform him that Mr. Leavenworth is dead.'

'Mr. Leavenworth!' I exclaimed, falling back a step. Mr. Leavenworth was an old client of our firm, to say nothing of his being the particular friend of Mr. Veeley.

'Yes, murdered; shot through the head by some unknown person while sitting at his library table.'

'Shot! murdered!' I could scarcely believe my ears. What! the genial, wholesouled old gentleman, who but a week before had stood in that very spot, twitting me with my bachelorhood, and asking me in the same breath to come to his house and see what he had there to show me! I stared at the man beside me, half incredulously.

'How? when?' I gasped.

'Last night. At least so we suppose. He was not found till this morning. I am Mr. Leavenworth's private secretary,' he explained, 'and live in the family. It was a dreadful shock,' he went on, especially to the ladies.'

'Dreadful!' I repeated. 'Mr. Veeley will be overwhelmed by it.'

'They are all alone,' continued he in a low, business-like way I afterwards found to be inseparable from the man; 'the Misses Leavenworth I mean—Mr. Leavenworth's nieces; and as an inquest is to be held there to-day, it is deemed proper they should have some one present capable of advising them. As Mr. Veeley was their uncle's best friend, they naturely sent me for him, but he being absent, I don't know what to do or where to go.'

'Well,' replied I, 'I am a stranger to the ladies, but if I can be of any assistance to them, my respect for their uncle is such—'

The expression of the secretary's eye stopped me. Without seeming to wander from my face, its pupil had suddenly dilated till it appeared to embrace my whole person within its scope.

'I don't know,' remarked he finally, a slight frown testifying to the fact that he was not altogether pleased at the turn affairs were taking. 'Perhaps it would be best. The ladies must not be left alone—'

'Say no more,' interrupted I; 'I will go.' And sitting down I despatched a hurried message to Mr. Veeley, after which, and the few other preparations necessary, I accompanied the secretary to the street.

'Now,' said I, 'tell me all you know of this frightful affair.'

'All I know? A few words will do that. I left him last night sitting as usual at his library table, and found him this morning, seated in the same place, almost in the same position, but with a bullet hole in his head as large as the end of my little finger.'

'Dead?'

'Stone dead.'

'Horrible!' I exclaimed. Then after a moment, 'Could it have been a suicide?'

'No. The pistol with which the deed was committed was not to be found.'

'But if it was a murder, there must have been some motive. Mr. Leavenworth was too benevolent a man to have enemies, and if robbery was intended—'

'There was no robbery. There is nothing missing,' he again interrupted. 'The whole affair is a mystery.'

'A mystery?'

'An utter mystery.'

Turning, I looked at my informant curiously. The inmate of a house in which a mysterious murder had occurred was rather an interesting object. But the good featured and yet totally unimpressive countenance of the man beside me, offered but little basis for even the wildest imagination to work upon, and glancing almost immediately away I asked,

'Are the ladies very much overcome?'

He took at least half a nozen steps before replying.

'It would be unnatural if they were not,' he said at last; and whether it was the expression of his face at the time or the nature of the reply itself, I felt that in speaking of these ladies to this uninteresting self-possessed secretary of the late Mr. Leavenworth, I was somehow treading upon dangerous ground. As I had heard they were very accomplished women, I was not altogether displeased at this discovery. It was, therefore, with a certain consciousness of relief that I saw a Fifth avenue stage approach.

'Will we defer our conversation,' said I, 'Here's the stage.'

But once seated within it, we soon discovered that all it intercourse upon such a subject was impossible. Employing the time, therefore, in running over in my mind what I knew of Mr. Leavenworth, I found that my knowledge was limited to bare fact of his being a retired merchant of great wealth and the social position, who in default of possessing children of his own, had taken into his home two nieces, one of whom had already been declared his heiress. To be sure I had heard Mr. Veeley speak of his eccentricities, giving as an instance this very fact of his making a will in favour of one niece to the utter exclusion of the other, but of his habits of life and connection with the world at large I knew little or nothing.

—FOR—

EMIGRANTS.

An Immense Area of Railroad and Government Lands, of great fertility, within easy reach of permanent market, at extremely low prices, is now offered for sale in Eastern Oregon and Eastern Washington Territory.

These lands form part of the great Grain Belt of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 250 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded for all parts of the world.

Grain at Portland, Oregon, commands a price equal to that obtained in Chicago.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R. R. is now assured, and guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the construction of the network of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R. & N. Co. in the valleys of the Great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the lands now open to purchase or pre-emption. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River regions in the immediate future.

Lands show an average yield of 40 bushels of wheat per acre. No failure of crops ever known.

Railroad Lands offered at the uniform rate of $2.50 an acre.

CAMPAGNE IN THE VESTRY.

Singular Divorce Case Brought by the Wife of an Archdeacon.

MYSTERIOUS VISITS PAID AT NIGHT TO THE CHURCH BY TWO LADIES—VERGERS AND WHISKEY.

There has been a sensation ease in the London Divorce Courts. A few days ago Mrs. Edith Wentworth Dunbar brought an action for judicial separation on the ground of the alleged adultery of her husband, the Venerable Archdeacon Charles Gordon Cuming Dunbar, formerly of St. Andrew's church, Tavistock place. The petition said that while the respondent was there to conduct service in a very ornate and highly ritualistic style he was frequently visited in the vestry by two ladies under very peculiar circumstances, and it was alleged that he was in the habit of visiting one of those ladies at her house in Gloucester place, Hyde Park. The London Daily News gives the following account of the first day's testimony.

Joseph Sharp was the first witness called. He said he was formerly the verger of St. Andrew's church, Tavistock place, and he used to sleep in the vestry; above the vestry was another room, nicely fitted up, called "the Venerable Archdeacon Dunbar's study;" it was occupied by the archdeacon, who occasionally slept there; some of the choir were in the habit of remaining after the services were over; they used to drink and smoke in the vestry, and frequently stopped until 11 o'clock at night; a Mrs. Blake frequently came into the vestry after the service to see the archdeacon, and sometimes she went into his studio and was with the archdeacon alone for an hour or an hour and a half; sometimes whiskey was ordered to tell her to remain in the church until the choir had left the vestry, and then to send her into the vestry to the archdeacon; witness was verger for about two years, and Mrs. Blake's visits were most frequent in 1879; the archdeacon used to send him to the Lord John Russell, the public house opposite, for spirits and beer; that was when Mrs. Blake was there; he had also seen a Mrs. Foote there, but that lady did not come so often as Mrs. Blake; he had known the archdeacon to be in the vestry with Mrs. Foote until 12 o'clock at night, and the archdeacon would bring champagne into the vestry for himself and Mrs Foote.

Cross-examined—Mrs. Blake visited the archdeacon in the vestry oftener than Mrs Foote; the drinking took place on the average three or four times a week after the services; he never saw a curate about the place; when witness gave his evidence to Mr. Deacon, a solicitor, he received a sovereign, and Mr. Wentworth, Mrs. Dunbar's brother, told him previously that he would be paid if he gave his evidence.

Re-examined—Mr. Deacon at the time was acting as Mr. Wentworth's solicitor; he received the usual fee with his summons, and that was all the money he got; he left the archdeacon's church some months ago; the gentleman who assisted the archdeacon with the services was Lord Theobald Butler.

Henry Tyson said that he was an acolyte in St. Andrew's church in 1878; he had seen drinking going on in the archdeacon's room late at night, and he had seen the archdeacon the worse for drink; he had seen Mrs. Blake very well; she came to the church nearly every afternoon; she was there when there were services and when there were no services; she often went up into the archdeacon's study, the door of which on one occasion he found locked; he waited for sometime, and when the door was opened Mrs. Blake was in it; he told the archdeacon came out; he had seen the archdeacon kiss several ladies as they were leaving church.

Cross-examined—He had seen Mrs. Blake in the church cleaning the brasswork and sweeping the carpets; witness had never been charged with pilfering money out of the offertory; the kissing he had spoken of took place in the porch, and the archdeacon kissed the ladies all round. (Laughter.)

William Kerr, the verger who succeeded Sharp, gave evidence as to the respondent and Mrs. Blake being frequently together in the vestry. He also stated that he had seen the archdeacon and Mrs. Blake the worse for drink upon several occasions.

Cross-examined—Witness was discharged for being drunk.

William George Bovlett said he formerly acted as verger and used to live at the church; he slept in the vestry; Mrs. Foote frequently gave him messages for the archdeacon, and on one occasion when she called there he put out the gas in the church, according to orders, and showed her up into the archdeacon's room, where they remained alone together for about twenty minute; this sort of thing happened almost every Wednesday evening; witness had seen the archdeacon kiss Mrs. Foote about six times; he had fetched whiskey from a public house for the archdeacon, and on one occasion, after Mrs. Foote left, he noticed that half a bottle of whiskey had been drunk; Mrs. Foote visited the archdeacon when he was ill in bed.

Mrs. Edith Wentworth Dunbar, a tall, ladylike person, was next called. She said she was the petitioner in this suit; they were married on the 17th of October, 1875, and they lived together until January, 1879; much against her wish her husband took the church at Tavistock place, in February, 1878; her husband had the entire control of her income up to a few months before the separation; he was in the habit of drinking a great deal, and upon one occasion he came home intoxicated; she had would not leave his church she went abroad in 1870, and she was not acquainted with the ladies whose names had been mentioned.

Cross-examined—In February, 1879, they separated; there was one child of the marriage named Beatrix, about five years old, of whom a petition was filed in the Rolls Court; it was heard in August last; the first person to tell her of the circumstances which resulted in this suit was her brother; an order was made by the Master of the Rolls that the custody of the child should be given absolutely to her husband; that was because an offer was made in court that her husband would live with her again.

Re-examined—At that time she made no charges against her husband; Dr. Allen said the archdeacon had told him every separate occasions that if the petitioner would allow him £500 a year he would give up the custody of the child, and that his wife could then go where she pleased and do what she liked.

This being the case for the petitioner, Mr. Waddy for the defence said that the respondent totally denied the charges alleged against him, which were false and wicked fabrications.

SENTENCES MAKING SENSE WHETHER READ BACKWARDS OR FORWARDS.

It has not been thought necessary to give the backward as well as the forward reading of the following sentences, save in those in which there seemed some special reason for putting the two versions. In going through the sentences backwards the requisite changes in the punctuation must be understood by the reader.

Dies slowly fading day; winds mournful sign:
Brightly stars are waking.
Flies swiftest, hooting, holding revel high,
Nightly silence bringing.

Breaking silence mightily,
High revel holding, hooting owlet flies.
Waking are stars brightly;
Sign mournful winds; day, fading slowly dies

A DOCTOR'S ADVICE TO A DYSPEPTIC.

Play with work blend, keep warmish feet,
Away drive trouble, slowly eat;

Exercise take, excess beware;

Bristol's Sarsaparilla and Pills.—The most powerful, yet the safest of all remedies. Under their penetrating, detergent influences, the foulest ulcer and the deepest gangrene are speedily changed in their character, and the most loathsome sores and eruptions are soothed and healed.

In refined and cultivated society it is recognized as the most refreshing and agreeable of perfumes for the handkerchief, the toilet, and the bath.

This Syrup is a scientific preparation of the Gum which exudes from the Red Spruce Tree, and holds a large quantity of the Gum in perfect solution, never separating. Its remarkable power in relieving certain forms of Bronchitis, and curing obstinate, hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large. Is health worth having? If it is, protect it. It is a jewel as easily lost as virtue, and as hard to regain. Like that jewel, it is in this climate, and more particularly at this season of the year, people are very apt to take cold and suffer from sore throat, coughs, spitting of blood, and pulmonary complaints generally, which if not checked immediately lead to serious consequences. The question arises, which is the quickest and most effectual remedy? Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers have been before the public for twenty years, have always given perfect satisfaction, and invariably effect permanent cures when taken in season. Sold by all patent medicine dealers and country stores at 25 cents a box.

The base burner stove, the telephone and other inventions of like kind have wrought a domestic and social revolution within the last few years. Among these improvements it is not unfair to include the "Myrtle Navy" tobacco. The great majority of men smoke tobacco; have done so for centuries past and will continue to do so, it is important, therefore, that they should smoke the best quality of the article. That is what they are supplied with in the "Myrtle Navy." All smokers who have used it know that its flavor cannot be surpassed, that its quality is always uniform and that the only care they have to exercise in its purchase is to see that the trade mark T. & B. is stamped on the plug.

MEDFORD, Mass., Sept. 18, 1877.
MRS. GILES—Dear Sir: I have used your Iodide Ammonia Ointment and find it the best remedy I ever used. For a sprain or callous there is nothing equal to it. My wife sprained her ankle last Saturday evening; I used the Liniment as per directions; the second application was a perfect cure. Some of my friends started last night for Johnson Co., Kentucky; they have taken several bottles with them. I have used it on my horses and it works like a charm. I am going to Kentucky next month—farming. I have had very much treating of horses and other animals, please send me two or three copies, and oblige

HOW TO GET RICH.

The greatest secret of obtaining riches, is first to practice economy, and as good "Deacon Snyder" says, "It used to worry the life out of me to pay enormous doctor's bills, but now I have 'struk it rich.' NEW YORK BUTTER MARBET.

In reporting the market prices for butter, the New York Tribune, of May 20th, said, "Choice packages to the retail trade reach 19 to 20 cents, but light colored goods are hard to dispose of, and several lots were thought well sold at 5 to 16 cents. This stern logic of dollars and cents is rapidly convincing diarymen that they should use the Perfected Butter Color made by Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt. It gives the perfect June color the year round and dairymen that use it never send light colored goods to market.

TWENTY YEARS A SUFFERER.

DR. R. V. PIERCE:
Dear Sir—Twenty years ago I was shipwrecked on the Atlantic Ocean, and the cold exposure caused a large abscess to form on each leg, which kept constantly discharging. After spending hundreds of dollars, with no benefit, I was persuaded to try your Golden Medical Discovery, and now, in less than three months after taking the first bottle, I am thankful to say I am completely cured, and for the first time in ten years can put my left heel to the ground.
I am, sir, yours respectfully,

For Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, loss of voice, Hay Fever, Hoarseness, Croup, or any affections whatever of the Throat, Chest or Lungs, Dr. king's New Discovery will positively cure. Clarke & Co.

From Hon. W. H. Jones, of West Dover, Vt.
"I have been troubled from my boyhood with chronic or hereditary lung complaint. Some years since, early in the winter, I took cold, which as usual settled into a severe cough, which continued to increase as the season advanced, although I made use of all the remedies I had knowledged of. My family physician also prescribed for me, but I experienced no relief. During this time I was gradually running down, losing flesh and strength, until my friends as well as myself, became very much alarmed, thinking I should fall a victim to consumption. While in Boston, during the spring following, I was induced to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. After one day's trial I was sensible that it was relieving me; in ten day's time my cough had entirely ceased, and I was soon restored to health and strength. I have ever since kept the Balsam in my house, and whenever any member of my family has a cough or cold, it is immediately resorted to. No family should be without it."

For the cure of all the various diseases of the Head, Throat and Chest, including the Eye, Ear and Heart.

But a few weeks or months are required to cure the most obstinate cases of Catarrh, Throat diseases, Asthma, Bronchitis, and the latter stages of Consumption. Every case in treatment is conducted under the Doctor's own personal supervision. A word to the wise is therefore sufficient.

All diseases of the respiratory organs treated by medical inhalations.

Inhalations denote inspiration by dissolving the hardened matter existing in the air cells of the lungs, thus enabling the patient to expectorate it with ease, at the same time giving the diseased surface an opportunity to heal.

Inhalations scatter inflammation and soothe the inflamed surface, thus relieving a harassing cough almost immediately.

Inhalations absorb the dusky excrescences that exist upon the pharyngeal surface in cases of granulated throat, and restore the proper vitality of the parts, thus relieving the hoarseness of the throat and the sensation as if needles were penetrating the sacred membrane of the pharynx.

Medicine is the most obstinate cases of catarrh when combined with proper constitutional and other topical treatment.

In fact, Inhalations will cure diseases of cases of the breathing organs when all other means have failed.

Let there be no delay, then, in application to the treatment that has stood the test and proved again and again the only hope—the only reliable safeguard and means of restoration.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

If the health of the Baroness Burdett-Coutts permits, she and her husband will visit America this spring.

The arrests in Ireland under the Coercion Act continue, and the Land League agitation seems to be much demoralized.

Parnell advised all Irish voters in Coventry to unite with the Conservatives. They took his advice, and the Liberal candidate was defeated. This is a Conservative gain.

So it turns out that the gay and festive young Bartlett, in order to marry the rich Baroness, jilted some other fair creature, who now threatens a suit for breach of promise. His wife will pay all damages, no doubt.

Greece is in a warlike mood, and has 75,000 men under arms and eager for the fray with Turkey. It will not require much persuasion to induce the Government to "cry havoc, and let slip the dogs of war."

If American sources of information are to be credited, there is intense opposition in Portugal to the treaty with England, ceding to the latter the right of passage for troops between the Transvaal territory and the Portuguese colonies on the west coast of Africa.

Mr. Bradlaugh will resign his seat in Parliament, in consequence of Mr. Justice Matthews' decision, and return to Northampton for re-election. He will surely be re-elected, and then, taking the oath in the prescribed form, be secure in his seat. This will be the wisest course for Mr. Bradlaugh.

Count Herbert is a dashing young German, the son of Prince Bismarck, and the heir to large fortunes and patronage. His name is just now prominent in social circles of Berlin and Paris, in connection with an affair of elopement. The lady is said to be a beautiful German princess, and the wife of a high court dignitary. The police have found the couple in Italy, where they are enjoying themselves. The young Count refuses to obey the commands of his august father and return home.

The Derby hat, so fashionable among ladies, is not in favor with Speaker Sharp of the New York State Assembly. He espied a lady sitting in the gallery the other day with a Derby on, and ordered her to take it off, on the ground that she was infringing upon the rules of the Assembly. Members looked up, saw the lady with the Derby and laughed. She did not take the hat off, nor did she leave the gallery. The Sergeant-at-Arms was not ordered to arrest her, and Mr. Speaker rapped the House to order in a sullen mood. He knows now that when a woman says she will, she will and you may depend on it; and when she says she won't, why she won't, and that's an end on it.

We have been publishing almost daily lately reports of the exodus of young men and families from this section to the United States and many more are preparing to go. A gentleman informed us yesterday that he is aware of a number of persons—mechanics, farmers, and laboring men—who are getting ready for a move to Dakota and other western States. The Census Enumerators should get to work as soon as possible, or there will be a still further decline in the population of this city and county to report.

THE Brighton Ensign, when referring to the Reform nomination in East Northumberland, gives Mr. Crouter the following certificate of character:—"From a personal acquaintance with him we can say that he is an honest, straightforward Christian man." The Ottawa Citizen remarks that "this is very good, but a more important certificate is the fact that Mr. Crouter is a good-sound Reformer." Of course he is. Does the Citizen suppose that the Reform party in that or any other constituency would choose a Tory for their candidate? They have entire confidence in Mr. Crouter's political principles.

DR. ORTON has a bill before Parliament to prevent agents of foreign railways from holding out inducements to persons to emigrate from Canada, by making it an offence punishable by imprisonment or fine. This movement has created a good deal of excitement and indignation among the agents of American Railways in Canada, who denounce the measure as despotic in its scope, and better fitted for being the instrument for carrying out the restrictive policy of Bismarck than for building up Canadian interests. Strong representations have been sent to the National Convention of the General Passenger and Ticket Agents, lately in session at New York, urging them to take action in the matter at once. The threat is held out that, in case Dr. Orton's bill becomes law in Canada, immediate steps will be taken in the United States to have the Hurd Bill passed in its most stringent aspect. It will be remembered that the Hurd Bill referred to was a measure brought up in the American Congress by which it was proposed to prevent the rolling stock of Canadian railways passing through American territory. The proposal gave rise to no little ill-feeling at the time, and was finally with drawn. The American agents contend that should the Orton Bill become law the American Congress would not hesitate to retaliate by reviving this measure.

THE BRAYING FOOL.

We are at last placed under obligations to the local Tory organ, for relieving us of the necessity of calling it by its true name. Yesterday it came down to an honest confession, and now there can be no further doubt about the matter. Certainly only a braying fool would so recklessly challenge public ridicule by a noisy attempt to advertise its own ignorance. We will try to tickle its catastrophe a little more. On Saturday, 5th inst., we were told that it was reported Mr. McCallum had retired from the contest in East Northumberland, owing to ill-health. This rumor was not authenticated, and we did not give it credence. The organ was in the same position, and made the announcement with the necessary reservation. On Monday its gentleman called and referred to the rumor. Again we expressed our doubts, but made no further enquiry. We learned the facts Monday night. The article in question was written on Saturday for Monday's edition, but did not appear until Tuesday. Most of our editorials are written the day previous to their appearance, for convenience sake. This is the case in a nutshell. Now the public knows who is convicted of ignorance and untruth, and where the braying fool may be found. We regret that the organ has found it necessary to show the long ears it would rather discreetly conceal. It was certainly not an exhilirating business.

THE MUNICIPAL ACT.

An imperiant case was decided in the York County Court one day last week. The plaintiff, Annie McKay, claimed damages from one Daniel Clarke, a tavern-keeper, for selling liquor to her husband, a habitual drunkard, after she had forbidden him to do so. The action was brought under the provision of Section 90, cap. 181, of the Municipal Act, relating to the sale of fermented or spirituous liquors. The Section in question sets out that the husband, wife, parent, brother, sister, guardian, or employer of any person who has the habit of drinking liquor to excess may give notice in writing, signed by him or her, to any person licensed to sell intoxicating liquor not to sell intoxicating liquor to the person having such habit; and if the notice is disregarded the person giving such notice may bring an action as for personal wrong, and recover from the person such sum not less than twenty, nor more than five hundred dollars, as may be assessed by the Court or jury as damages.

Mrs. Mackay testified that her husband was a laboring man. She had tried to restrain him from drinking to excess, and had frequently told the defendant not to give him any liquor. She was repelled with insults and jeers. On the 6th of August last she took the necessary legal step and served a notice on Clarke, of which the following is the copy:

"I hereby forbid you, Mr. Clarke, to supply my husband, George Mackay, with intoxicating liquors any more after this notice, or I will take legal proceedings against you to compel you to refrain from supplying him."

Clark was examined, and admitted giving Mackay liquor after receiving the notice, but said the latter had told him that he had been home and could get no dinner, and so came to him for a sandwich and some beer.

Defendant's counsel insisted that as the Act called for a notice "signed by the person" giving the notice, and Mrs. Mackay could not write, a non-suit should be entered. It was explained that she held the pen while the name attached to the notice had been written, and the Judge ruled that this was a signature sufficient in law.

Several witnesses were examined on both sides, and the jury finally returned a verdict for plaintiff with $60 damages. The Judge also allowed full County Court costs. This case should be regarded with considerable interest by the trade principally concerned.

HEAVY DAMAGES CLAIMED.—Action has been taken in the Superior Court of Montreal by Mr. Charles C. Gregory, by his counsel, Messrs. Trenholme and Taylor, for $100,000 damages, against the Canada Improvement Company and Sir Hugh Allen. Mr. Gregory was the late contractor for the construction of the Eastern Extension Railway, Nova Scotia, and the action is brought against the defendants for a breach of contract.

MR. O'LEARY AND THE PARADE.—Mr. Peter O'Leary in a letter to the Montreal Post urges that the usual St. Patrick's day parade be dispensed with. He says, "Looking at the above facts as they are, I most respectfully submit, sir, that a display of green ribbons and sashes, on mud daggled men, tramping through sloppy streets, would be entirely out of keeping with the present condition of Ireland and her people. * * * Montreal and her people have often done good things for poor suffering Ireland, and now I trust Irishmen will not parade in a children's way their country's weakness through the streets of the city, perhaps offending many who in a spirit of justice and fair play are becoming converted to the cause which has lived from the days of Laurence O'Toole to those of Parnell. Then in the name of manly dignity, good fellowship to all men, and solid work for Ireland, let the Irishmen of Montreal have no gewgaw parade, but give the money they would waste to a Davitt fund or to some equally beneficial work."

THE FINEST IN THE WORLD.

The New Senate Chamber at Albany.

The new Senate Buildings at Albany, which have been building for several years and which have cost an immense sum over and beyond the estimated amount, are now completed, and the State Senate moved into their new quarters last week. Of this chamber the Albany Press says:—

The senate chamber is, without exception, the finest single room in any building in the United States, if not in the world. The approaches convey a slight idea of the bewildering attractions to be met with. The corridors are hung with massive chandeliers of bronze, molded after original patterns, while the wainscotting of the walls are panels of marble, and the pavement is of tiles forming neat designs. All doors of the rooms facing these corridors are polished to a mirror-like degree. When the many powerful burners of the chandeliers are lighted, the scene will be most brilliant and picturesque. The elevators, which will be used by privileged parties, will be finished in the same style as those of the north section, but more much easier and without noise. The dimensions of the new senate chamber are 54 feet 6 inches by 97 feet 9 inches. The ceiling is 47 feet from the floor and covers a space of 95 feet by 57 feet 9 inches, with galleries on either side. The side walls of the chamber are of Knoxville marble, but their fine coloring and high polish is nearly hidden by the furniture. On the south side and also over the entrance from the corridors are panels of Mexican onyx between ribs of Sienna marble. These are of every conceivably color, and form one of the most attractive features. The eye never tires of gazing at the many wonderful combinations of delicate coloring, and the designs which they form. The arches of the gallery are Sienna marble, supported by triple columns of dark granite. The balustrades are of variegated shades of Sienna marble, and the hand-railing of Knoxville marble. The seats of the galleries and ceiling are of oak, the latter being carved after designs of that in the court of appeals room. The chamber floor is laid with carpets from Boston of a dull color, purposely selected as a contrast to the bright ornaments of the room. The furniture is from a factory at Elmira. The principal and most ornamented part thereof comprises eight settees of mahogany, with coats of armor and morocco, ornamented with nails of solid bronze imported from Paris. The heads of these settles are twelve feet high and from a wainscoting for the chamber. They are elegantly carved by hand; this work alone requiring the time of thirty expert carvers for five months. The chairs for senators are of mahogany and embossed morocco, the latter alone costing $500. The desks are also of solid mahogany. These will be arranged in half circles, the president's desk being in the south. Sixteen desks have been arranged for the "scribes," their chairs also being mahogany, but plain. The room is lighted by three chandeliers, in each gallery beside side lights in triplets, made of solid bronze, and of peculiar design.

THE NEW CZAR.

A description of His Person and Habits

The following description of the next candidate for Nihilist torpedoes and dynamite may at this moment prove interesting. A correspondent of the Philadelphia Times thus describes the heir to the Russian throne: The Czarwitch of Russia is hardly as tall as his father was in his best days, but he must be nearly, if not quite, six feet in height, and is remarkably deep-chested and broad-shouldered, with all the appearance of great strength. His light gray eyes resemble those of his mother's relations at Hesse Darmstadt more than his father, who has the dark blue eyes which are to be seen in the pictures of Alexander I., Paul, Peter the Great and several other members of the House of Romanoff. The shape of his head is rather peculiar; one of those, only fitted by a large hat, which, when worn, appears out of proportion to the comparatively small face below. This form of head may have been produced by several generations of despotic power, as Alexander II. has more of it than is generally seen, though not as much as his son. A small mouth with extremely good teeth, which he only shows when he laughs, is the Czarewich's best feature; his hair is auburn, and his complexion very fair. In St. Petersburg he usually appears most correctly attired in uniform; but when enjoying a holiday among his wife's relations, he may be seen in a very loose-waisted suit of shepherd's plaid, a black tie, a white hat, and with neither gloves, ring, nor watch. That he has been no carpet soldier is evident from the mark of frostbites on the third and fourth fingers of his left hand, and a slight scar on his temple, where a bullet grazed his head in one of the battles of the Turkish war.

IMPORTANT INSOLVENCY CASE.

Can a Woman Engage in Business, and not be Responsible for her Husband's Debts.

In the Court of Common Pleas Friday: Levine vs. Claflin.—Judgment. Rule absolute to enter verdict for defendants. The facts of this case are somewhat peculiar. The plaintiff, Mrs D. Levine, was married to her husband in Springfield, Ohio. Mr. Levine carried on business in Cincinnati as a dealer in dry goods, etc., and on the 1st of August, 1878, failed for $20,000, of which amount the claim of Claflin & Co., a large dry goods firm in New York, amounted to $1,400. Claflin & Co. had Levine indicted in New York for obtaining goods under false pretences, and a requisition for him was given by the Governor of Ohio. Levine, on hearing this, fled to Canada, and settled in Hamilton. In September last, Claflin & Co obtained a judgment there against Levine in respect of the debt owing them, with immediate execution. At this time the business was being carried on under the name of Mrs. B. Levine, and the sheriff levied on these goods on the execution obtained by Claflin & Co. Mrs. Levine claimed the goods her own property, and brought this action to recover the amount in the hands of the sheriff, contending that as her husband was not in any way interested in the business, but was working on his own account in another calling, she should not be held liable for his debts. The defence was that the business properly belonged to the husband, that Mrs. Levine could not in law carry on a business separate from her husband. The suit was tried before a judge without a jury, and a verdict was entered for plaintiff. This rule was then taken out on behalf of defendants for a new trial, and the argument was heard during last term and judgment was reserved until Friday, when it was given in favor of defendants.

THE INTERNATIONAL WALKING MATCH.

Easy Victory for the Englishman.

It is estimated that 3,000 witnessed the finish of the walking match at New York Saturday night. O'Leary retired with 450 miles shortly after 8 o'clock. He was badly used up, his feet being very sore. He declared the match square, notwithstanding all reports to the contrary, and attributed his defeat to anxiety over Albert's failure and the poor track. Vaughan walked till nearly ten o'clock and made 460 miles. Rowell appeared on the track twice to day, but attracted little attention. The total receipts were $33,000, expenses $16,000, leaving $17,000 to be divided among the pedestrians and the management. Precisely how much money will be divided is not definitely known, but the lion's share goes to the Englishmen, who also carry off between them the $10,000 stakes, said to have been put up before signing articles.

HANLAN'S FUTURE INTENTIONS.

He will row in no more Regattas.

In conversation on board the train on Saturday night the champion said he was very gratified and thankful for his welcome home. He felt that he had as many warm friends as ever, and that the people were still with him. His reception on returning from victory had always been enthusiastic, but Friday week's in his estimation excelled them all, and it would nerve him to strive in the future to do as he had done in the past—row his races to the best of his ability and try to merit the good opinion of his fellow-countrymen. He was also very proud of the welcome given to his friend, Mr. Whitefoot, speaking as much as it did for the hospitality of his native city. As to his future, Hanlan said he had registered a vow not to row in any more regattas, and that if anybody was ambitious to wrest his laurels from him they could only do so on Toronto bay. Of all his races his own people had only had an opportunity of seeing two, and he was determined that they should see him next. In the past he had been compelled to go abroad to row. His rivals would not come to him, and therefore, to gain their money and secure their titles he had to go to them. If they were any still wishing to meet him, he would be happy to give Courtney or Trickett fifteen seconds at the end of a five-mile race on Toronto bay, or he would give Wallace Ross or any other oarsman in the world ten seconds. He would give no man a start, and if a match is made it must be for Toronto bay.

PARLIAMENTARY NOTES.

—The Liberals expect to carry Belle chase by 100 of a majority, the reports being favorable.

—The date of the adjournment of the House is not yet fixed; but it is thought the session will run into next week, winding up on Tuesday.

—The banquet to the Hon. Edward Blake will likely take place on Tuesday evening of next week.

—The Government circulation and specie statement shews that there are $14,057,276 worth of Dominion notes in circulation, the excess of specie and debentures being $3,034,868.

—The coming contest in East Northumberland is exciting a good deal of interest among Parliamentarians.

—Mr. Johnson, late of the Kingston News, who is now on the staff of the Citizen, is to represent the Mail after the close of the session, and Mr. McCready, the Globe. The latter replaces Mr. Hawke, who has been granted four weeks leave of absence.

—Information received by the Department of the Interior through its agents show there is no destitution amongst the Indians on the Sarnia reserve as reported.

The best receipt for going through life in a commendable way is to feel that every body, no matter how rich or how poor, needs all the kindness they can get from others in the world. Let us remember this great truth, and commence with those around us. Let us be good and needy, and those who do not take the daily or weekly newspaper, be kindly informed. If in sickness, whether it be from coughs, lung diseases, asthma, or consumption, that by the use of N. H. Downs' Vegetable Balsamic Elixir they can be cured. Keep not the good news to ourselves, but spread the sunshine of hope around.

TO BE PARDONED.—It is said that Fred. Sturdy, who is now serving a ten years' sentence in the Kingston Penitentiary, is to be pardoned by the Governor-General in October next. In the spring of 1877 Sturdy, who was a painter at Guelph, abducted Miss Carr, of that place, carried her off in a carriage and brought her to Hamilton. He took the lady to a house on Locomotive street, and thence to the residence of a clergyman, where, under fear of Sturdy, the lady consented to a marriage. Sturdy was arrested here and taken to Guelph, where he was tried and sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary. Louise Sturdy, a daughter of the principal prisoner, was at the same time sentenced to two years' penitentiary for being accessory to the abduction, but was pardoned at the expiration of one year. Sturdy was a widower and had a large family of children, who are now pretty well scattered. He also had some property, but it was sold to defray the cost of his defence.—News.

THE blood cannot properly perform its functions when loaded with impurities, because it is thick and sluggish ; and every person needs at times something to cleanse and quicken the vital current. Dr. J. C. Ayer's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla meets this want perfectly, and his discovery of this compound ranks as important in preserving the blood in a healthy condition as does that of Wm. Harvey in demonstrating its circulatory action. Nothing else so vitalizes, purifies and enriches the blood as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is a perfect blood and nerve food. It never distrubs the stomach, but greatly assists and promotes the digestion and assimilation of all nutriments, and increases their power to sustain and nourish the body. In renovating the blood it clears and quickens the intellect, and thus gives to both mind and body the power of long sustained, arduous and successful effort. —Corning, N. Y., Journal.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Local Brevities.

—Sleighing is a thing of the past.

—There is now little apprehension of a freshet.

—Four persons in the cells last night— two prisoners and two trams.

—Tea-meeting to-night in the City Hall, in the interest of Christ Church.

—The work on the light house is progressing rapidly. The piers were sunk last week.

—The ice in the river is breaking up along the sides, and a strong current is running.

—The snow disappeared more rapidly under yesterday's sun than on any day of the season.

—That sidewalk on Bridge Street alongside of the St. Thomas Church property is still tottering.

—Better look after your cellars. Decaying vegetables this season of the year contain the germs of disease.

—Men are engaged under Street Inspector Taylor, in cutting away the ice from the piers of the lower bridge.

—Cookneys could almost have imagined they were in London this morning, on account of the density of the fog.

—Who is responsible for the ice on the sidewalk on Campbell Street between the Ridley Block and the corner ?

—The authorities are now admitting American coal oil that stands only 115 degrees flash. Formerly the test was 120 degrees.

—The bullet that pierced Albert Arkin, at Trout Lake, last August, and that remained in his body six months, is on exhibition at Kingston.

—The last snow fall is helping to take the foundation away. Sleighing is about "gone up" for the season. Most people will say it's time, after 120 days existence.

—A track has been cut for the street cars, and if the mild weather continues a few days longer the line will be in operation.

—There is no necessity of men wearing an old hat this spring, when Hyman has them in his door marked at 45, 50, and 75 cents. A very good hat can be purchased from him for these figures.

—Messrs. Foster & Reid call attention in our advertising column to their new stock of Tweeds &c. just to hand. This firm has the reputation of turning out clothes second to no other house in Ontario. They solicit an inspecton of their new stock.

—The streets to-day presented a decidedly spring-like appearance. The warm sun has cleared the sidewalks of the lingering remains of winter ; the small boys were playing marbles ; and the girls trundling hoops. Spring time has certainly come, gentle Annie.

—St. Thomas is now a full-blown city. We offer our congratulations, and wish her better luck under the new and enlarged status than Belleville has experienced. The N. P. has been the ruin of Belleville, but the Tories here would vote again for the fraud did a chance offer.

—The Toronto World is usually correct, but when it tries to make Mr. Herbert Burrows, lately appointed shorthand reporter for the counties of Lennox and Addington, a resident of that city, it blunders considerably. Mr. Burrows resides in Napanee, his father being Public School Inspector for the united counties.

—The Whig reports twelve persons—men, woman and children—all from the township of Bedford, who left Kingston yesterday for Minnesota. The Tory organ profess to know nothing about the exodus now going on "all along the line." Col. Prince is kept busy here issuing the necessary document for a transfer of allegiance.

—The Kingston "News" has a poor opinion of Christian politicians. The organ says "they don't wear well." We have a right to presume, therefore, that Sir John, Sir Charles, J. Burr Plumb, Boultbee, 'et hoc genus,' are not "Christian politicians." They wear well, in the News' estimation. Mr. Crouter is objected to on this account by all the Tory organs.

—It gives us pleasure to refer our readers to the announcement of a lecture to be delivered by Prof. Macoun on Tuesday 29th inst., under the auspices of the Young People's Aid Society of the John St. Presbyterian Church. Considering the warm esteem in which the Professor is held by his fellow citizens, the interest connected with his travels in the North West, and the important object which the Aid Society has in view of liquidating the debt on their church, we feel confident there will be an attendance worthy of the lecturer and the cause.

UNSURPASSED.—The old and well known remedy "Holden's Expectorant" (for coughs and colds) is still unsurpassed. More than 20 years it has now been in use and it still continues popular, while scores of medicines for the same purpose have flourished for a year or so and are forgotten. If you have a cough or a cold call at Geen's Drugstore and procure a bottle.

GARDEN SEEDS.—For good and reliable garden and field seeds go to Geen's Drugstore.

PROBS.—Winds mostly from the southeast and south-west ; fair, mild weather.

The best bargain in the city is that suit of clothes at Hennessy's for $6.50. It is an all wool, Canada Tweed, well lined and trimmed. See it.

LOOK OUR for the furniture sale at MRS. Johnston's, Woodley's Hill opposite Severn's Brewery, to-morrow, March 16th. A splendid tuned piano is to be sold.

TO-NIGHT.—Don't forget the tea-meeting of Christ Church in the City Hall to-night. There will be an abundance of good things supplied by the ladies, and an excellent programme of entertainment afterwards.

CHEESE BOARD.—A successful cheese fair has been held at Gananoque. The feeling manifested was that the establishment of a public market or cheese fair, in every cheese manufacturing centre, is the only way to obtain the highest price for cheese.

LECTURE AT ODDESSA.—Prof. Wright, Ph. D. of Albert College, lectured in the M. E. Church, Odessa, on Friday evening. The subject of the lecture was "Under the Lava," or "The Destruction of Pompeii." The lecture occupied one hour and a half in delivery, and was listened to with great interest. It was also learned and eloquent. Prof. Wright spoke from personal experience and inspection, having made a tour to Europe in 1874. Hearty votes of thanks were accorded at the close to the lecturer and chairman.

OBIT.—A letter received this morning by Mr. Hugh Walker announced the death of his brother, the Rev. Archibald Walker, which occurred in Glasgow, Scotland, on the 1st of March, from abscess of the thigh. The deceased gentleman was for 15 years pastor of the St. Andrew's Church in this city, and left in 1869 for Glasgow, Scotland, and for the past three years was assistant minister of the Presbyterian Church in Dunfermlin, Fifeshire. This announcement will be received with regret by the many friends of the deceased in this city, as he was cut off in the full vigor of his manhhood and usefulness, being only 58 years of age. He leaves a wife and three children.

INCENTIVES FOR INCREASING POPULATION.—Sir Leonard Tilley having clearly shown by his carefully prepared Budget statement that Canada is more prosperous under a protective duty, and that the N P. has been a great boon to our manufacturers it is a little strange that the founders of this great policy should neglect the fountain head of all nations' wealth, and keep Babies on the free list. N. Davenport, Halter and Farrier, being convinced that the party now in power will never give this great struggling industry the attention it deserves, will give prizes to every Baby born in the County of Hastings and Prince Edward during next December (1881,) as follows :—

For every Girl Baby—1 handsome Fur Hood.
For every Boy Baby—One Fur Turban.
For every Pair of Twins—Two Silver Cups.
For Triplets—One twenty dollar gold piece.

A physician's certificate is expected with every application for a prize, and it is to be hoped that Babies will not be imported into Hastings and Prince Edward from Adjington, Lennox and Northumberland Counties. Please remember while waiting for the "Little One" that N. Davenport has the largest and finest stock of Hats and Caps in Central Canada.

THE CAMPBELLFORD WOOLLEN MILL.—Mr. Thos. Russell, who has the contract for building the woollen mill for Galt Brothers, at Campbellford, was in the city to-day. He tells us that he intends to commence the work immediately, having the millpart ready for the machinery on the 1st of next August.

NO. 1 COMPANY 15TH A. L. I.—LT.-COL. Villiers, D. A. G., was in the city to-day looking into the requirements of the above company, who were burned out on Friday morning last. He inspected the premises proposed to be occupied by the company in the Carman Block, and expressed himself as being pleased with their adaptability for military purposes. The officers and men were assured that the Government would, at once, issue arms, clothing, &c., to replace those destroyed by fire.

WATER AND GAS COMMITTEE.—A meeting of the above committee of the City Council was held last evening for the purpose of considering the matter of a reduction of the gas lamps in the city. Very little, if any reduction was made in the number, as some have been recommended to be taken off and others put on. Among those to be taken off are one of the lamps in front of the City Hall, and those in front of Hugh Walker's, N. B. Falkiner's office, and Dr. Burdett's. Sundry accounts were recommended to be paid, and a motion was carried that hereafter this committee will meet on the Monday evening priorto the meeting of the Council.

ANNIVERSARY OF THE BELLEVILLE BRANCH BIBLE SOCIETY.

The 40th anniversary meeting of the above Society was held in the City Hall last night. The attendance while fair was not what it should have been. We can say to those who were absent that, apart from the duty of sustaining the Society, they missed a rich intellectual treat. We question whether the great meeting that is held in Shaftesbury Hall, Toronto, each year ever surpassed in the ability of its speaker that held here last evening.

The meeting was opened by reading a portion of scripture and prayer by the Rev. B. Lane, M. A., after which the President, Thos. Ritchie, Esq., delivered a learned and able speech on the revision of the Bible.

The Secretary then read the following

REPORT.

The present year will be specially interesting to those who regard the Bible as God's revelation, from the fact that it will witness the publication of the revised New Testament.

It seems to be universally acknowledged that a revision was desirable, and it is a most gratifying fact, and also a cause for devout thankfulness, that the work has been performed by men whose learning and piety eminently fitted them for the task.

Doubtless the demand for the New Testament will be greater than ever, and the largest agency for its dissemination will be the British and Foreign Bible Society, with which the branch is affiliated. To strengthen the Society's hands, by taking an active interest in its operations, and contributing to its funds, is the duty, and should be regarded as the privilege of every Christian.

The Committee of the Belleville Branch regret that the collections of the present year have not been so large as those of the preceding one, and in consequence the amounts contributed to the British and Foreign Bible Society and the Upper Canada Bible Society are diminished. But no steps will be taken during the coming year to make a more thorough canvass of the city, they confidently appeal to the liberality of the Christian public.

J. W. JOHNSON,
Secretary.

The report of the Depositor shows sales during the year $110.16, and donations $33.56.

The Treasurers report shows, collections for the past year $188.56, and the disbursements $70 each to the British and Foreign Bible Society and Upper Canada Bible Society.

The adoption of the report was moved by Rev. Dr. Clarke and seconded by R. Newbery, Esq.

OFFICERS.

The officers for the ensuing year are as follows :—

RESOLUTION.

Moved by Rev. A. Turabull, B. A., and seconded by R. C. Clute, Esq.,

"That the circulation of the Holy Scripture is of great importance as a sufficient means of suppressing vice, dispersing moral darkness, purifying thought, verifying virtue, and combating attempts to undermine our most holy Christian faith."

Moved by Rev. Dr. Jaques and second ed by Rev. D. Mitchell,

"That the British and Foreign Bible Society has established a strong claim upon the prayers, sympathy and benevolence of all Christian communities, societies, and individuals, by distributing more than one hundred millions of copies of the Sacred Word, by bringing the Holy Scriptures within the reach of all classes, and thus removing the dissemination of Divine revelation from the arena of commercial speculation, and by placing in the hands of the Christian missionary an assistance of inestimable value."

The choir of the Bridge Street Methodist Church contributed valuable aid to the meeting.

Resolutions of thanks to the choir of Christ Church for their services last year, and to the Bridge Street choir for this year's services, to the collectors and to the Chairman were passed.

The Rev. Mr. Forneri closed the meeting with the benediction.

Ample warning is given us by our lungs when they are in danger. If foot badly enough to neglect the warning signal, we incur imminent peril. Check a cough at the outset with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—which is a sovereign pulmonic—besides being a remedy for sorenes, lameness, abrasions of the skin, tumors, piles, rheumatism, etc.

THE CITY HOTEL.—This establishment which has been unoccupied for some time, has been leased for a term of years by Mr. D. Coyle, late of the Farmers Hotel. Mr. Coyle has entirely overhauled the house, and refurnished it thoroughly, making it one of the best in the city. His rooms are large and airy, his stable accommodations are second to none, and those who will put up at the City may depend on good treatment at the hands of the genial proprietor.

HOTEL ARRIVALS.—The following are the arrivals at the Dafoe House, for the 24 hours ending at noon to-day :—James way, Trenton ; J C Smart, Brockville ; R R Orr, Brighton ; Geo Moor, Chicago ; H Ricords, Samuel Gallagher, New York ; W W Copp, Hamilton ; Geo A Skinner, Stirling ; J V DeFoe, Michigan ; S Munson, R S Henderson, Madoc ; R J Broffle, Redneresville ; D R Marshall, Boston ; J Burnham, Cobourg ; J H Willoughby, Trenton ; R F Folger, J F Towsley Kingston ; J G Hay, Woodstock ; S Camp, Brooklyn, N. PERSONAL.

—Mr. P. Ryan, of Montreal, has been appointed Warden of St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary.

—MRS McIntyre, mother of Mr. Duncan McIntyre, contractor and railway man, died at Montreal on Thursday, after a brief illness.

—Sheriff White, of Sunbury county, N. B., has resigned in order to run for the vacant seat in the Local Legislature. He will be the Opposition candidate.

—The President and the members of the Cabinet cannot be said to be rich men. Mr. Blaine and Mr. MacVeagh have more of this world's goods than the others.

—A London special says Lord Derby's accession to office in the Liberal Ministry is merely a question of time, but there was never a time when changes are less likely than now.

—The Ontario Chess Association have elected the following officers :—President J. Schuli, Guelph ; Vice President, H F Lee, Brantford ; Secretary-Treasurer, R R Baldwin, Guelph.

—Mr. Gladstone's name has undergone a change within the last century like that of Wesley, now Wellesley. A century back, or less, it was spelt Gledstanes, or Gladstanes. Glad being the Lowland Scottish for a hawd, and stanes meaning rocks.

—Mr. Gladstone's wound, caused by his fall on the snowy ground, was rather an uncomfortable one. The scalp was cut clean through to the bone. The excitement in London could not have been much greater if he had broken his head. The Queen sent twice a day to inquire about him, and the Princess of Wales called upon him in person.

THIS AND THAT.

—There are not a few Communists, Nihilists, and Socialists in Toronto, who were elated at the assassination of the CZAR.

—Capt. Wickstead who assaulted Capt. Wadmore on the street at Ottawa on Friday evening as he was walking along with a lady with whom the first named was in love, was remanded to jail for three days, being considered a dangerous character.

—Two young ladies—daughters of well-to-do business men of Toronto—inserted an advertisement in the papers on Friday expressing a desire to meet with two tall young gentlemen at the corner of King and Toronto streets on Sunday evening. About eighty young men turned up and promenaded the street for awhile in mutual disgust. After they left, the two girls, who had watched the gathering from a neighboring window, also departed.

—The new Protestant Order is to be formed in Toronto next week. Among its members will be a number of the leading men of both political parties. The main object of the order is antagonism to the Catholic element, the members being bound by oath to vote against every member of that Church who comes out as a candidate for office. The work of the order will be entirely secret. Neither the membership nor will the officers be announced to the public.

WORLD'S END.

In a sermon, Sunday evening Dr. Wild, Toronto, said the world would end orderly. When it was complete, and the number destined to be saved were saved, symptoms of the destruction of the world would approach with the dawn of the millenium. When the intellect reached a certain point reproduction of the human species would stop. He supposed when the millenium comes births would become scarce or cease altogether, and a child would be a child still at the age of a hundred years. When all things were completed and when nobody was being born, then Christ would descend and end the economy by slaying the last enemy, which was death. The millions than living on earth would be transported from mortality to immortality, and then it would come to pass that "death is swallowed up in victory." That was the world would end, and whether they believed it now or not, when they died they would be compelled to witness to the coming of Christ by having their feet pointing towards the east.

MR. HENRY EATON, the Conservative candidate, has been returned to the British House of Commons for Coventry in the place of Sir Henry Jackson (Liberal), who has been raised to the bench.

MR. ALBERT HAGAR, who represented the county of Prescott continuously in the House of Commons from 1867 to 1878, has been nominated by a large and enthusiastic Convention of the Liberal party as their candidate in the approaching election for a successor to the late Dr Harkin in the Ontario Legislative Assembly. Mr. Hagar has accepted the nomination, and enters upon his canvass with good prospects of success.

IRON ORE MINING.—During the month of February Col. Robbins had between fifteen and sixteen hundred tons of iron ore taken out of the mine in Hull township. The quantity shipped by rail was small, only some 500 tons being exported. About 800 tons were deposited at the river bank, the balance being held at the mines. —Whig.

The Late Assassination.

CONDOLENCE CALLS IN LONDON

THE REVOLUTIONLITS REJOICING.

Welcoming a Socialist in Chicago.

A Warning for Vanderbilt and Gould

LODON, March 15.—There was a constant succession of callers at the Russian Embassy to-day, to express condolence. Among them were the Empress Eugene, the various Embassadors, Foreign Ministers in London, members of the Government, Lord Beaconsfield, Sir Alexander Galt, Cardinal Manning and Mr. Russell Lowell. The news of the assassination was received by the Russian revolutionary party in London at five o'clock yesterday afternoon from their friends in Paris, Geneva and St. Petersburgh. It was announced in social democratic halls, by the respective speakers later in the evening, and was greeted with loud and continued manifestation of satisfaction.

It is confidently expected that the new Czar would grant an amnesty to all persons lately transported to Siberia, and that he would consider some form of constitutional Government to the people of Russia.

The Nihilists say the names of the two men arrested are assumed, as they are unknown to the revolutionists here.

CHICAGO, March 15.—2,000 Socialists last evening welcomed Fretz Schen, a Socialist member of the Reischstag. Dr. Schmidt, leader of Socialists, commended the assassination of the Czar. Frotz Scke commended the Socialist methods in Germany, but said nothing very incendiary, because, as he announced, his utterances might subject him to imprisonment when he reached Germany.

The headquarters were lately removed from London to Paris, Hartmann, who was concerned in the Moscow attempt, left London last week.

A manifesto has been issued addressed to the revolutionists of both worlds and calling upon them to assemble at an International Socialist revolutionary congress, to be held in London on January 14th 1882.

NEW YORK, March 15.—The Russian Consul General here says the name of the Colonel injured by the bomb thrown at the Czar is Dsoretzky, not Dobryky as reported. The Emperor reviews each regiment of the guard in its turn Sunday, and upon the captain of the section devolves the duty of escorting him from the Winter Palace and back. This accounts for Dooritzky's presence in a sleigh behind the Imperial coach.

Henry Lonisat, a clock maker of this city, says he believes he made the machine with which the Winter Palace at St. Petersburg was partly blown up. He says a foreigner ordered the machine and subsequently other foreigners asked him to make another, but he declined.

Schwab, leader of New York socialists told a times reporter yesterday, there are those in the United States who should head the warning of Czar's death. He said he referred to the heads of American monopoly like Vanderbilt and Gould, who were oppressing the people.

RICHMOND, March 15. — In Grayson County recently at a dance, Noah Sprinkle shot Noah Hago for dancing with the former's mistress. Murderer arrested.

LONDON, March 12.—The announcement of the Czar's assassination in Social Democratic hall Sunday night was greeted with loud applause. Reported Russian Nihilists will shortly issue a statement of the whole affair, attempting to justify it.

AMERICAN.

The Milliner's Story.

SEAMEN FATALLY INJURED.

THE HUDSON RIVER BREAKING UP.

EDWARDS, Miss., March 15.—Mrs. Spoulding, milliner, shot a prominent young man, J. A. Maples, fatally Friday night, claiming she had mistaken him for a burglar. Believed Maples was intimate with her, and she invited him to her room, and killed him for refusing to marry her.

NEW YORK, March.—The Times Washington special says the opinion prevails, that the Democrats will permit the Republicans to organize the Senate. Stanley Matthew's chances for confirmation are believed to be poorer than before.

In a suit of Wm. B. Forrest, claiming to be second cousin to the tragedian, Edwin Forrest, to recover property in Yonkers bequeathed to the Home for Actors, the jury yesterday decided against the plaintiff, but Judge Dykeman set aside the verdict and granted a new trial.

Robert Shaw and John Murphy, seamen of steamship England, which arrived this morning after a stormy passage, were struck by a heavy sea and fatally hurt shortly after leaving.

PORTLAND, March 15.—The river Hudson has broken up from Hudson to New York. Boatmen are hurrying to get their craft rerdy. A boat can go through to Albany without much difficulty.

AFTERNOON.

THE LATE CZAR AND HIS SUCCESSOR

GREECE HAS A ZEALOUS CHAMPION.

The Decision on Mr. Gladstone's Motion

ST. PETERSBURG, March 15.—The Grand Duke Vlademer was yesterday appointed to the command of the Imperial guard and military district of St. Petersburg.

The remains of the Emperor will be removed at 8 this evening from the cabinet adjoining the reception hall to the chapel of the Palace. All members of Imperial family and dignataries and officials will be present. The body in accordance with the wish of deceased will be clad in the uniform of Preobrasheneski Regiment. Requiem was chanted at 9 last evening. At midnight the doctors made an examination which proved that all the internal organs were in a normal condition. The body has been embalmed.

PARIS, March 15.—The new Emperor of Russia is almost entirely ignorant of offices of state, and will probably speedily set aside his fathers advisers.

Neither the Czar's personal capacity nor friends and advisers, nor the circumstances of his accession warrant the expectation of his adoption of a more conciliitory or liberal course. The impressions are he will adopt repression. The Czar is said to be Anti-German but this is a vague expression. Greece has now unquestionably a zealous champion in the Empress of Russia.

LONDON, March 15.—In the Commons yesterday, when a division was called for on Gladstone's motion for urgency, more than fifty members quitted the House, including Conservatives and Liberals. Eleven Home Rulers were absent from voting, and those who voted were divided.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 15.—Russakoff, the thrower of first bomb, is a low-set, short-necked, repulsive looking, dark man very stubborn in his refusal to reply to questions. The man who threw the second bomb appears to have made his escape.

MARRIED.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Though not always, cured by its use, though ing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of soiling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous, and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

A Lecture to Young Men ON THE LOSS OF

MANHOOD

MARCH WINDS! The sudden changes and high winds, which prevail in March makes a bottle of DOWN'S ELIXIR always necessary to have at hand. It is a sure cure for sudden colds and all lung diseases.

BAXTER'S MANDRAKE BITTERS will cure all bilious Diseases. Sold everywhere at 25 cts. per bottle. Try it.

The best remedy for strains and galls on horses is HENRY & JOHNSON'S ARNICA and OIL LINIMENT. Good for man and beast.

In the Fremont rank of Anæmia tones and supersedes stands Northrop & Lyman's Quinine Wine. The weak, the nervous, and dyspeptic, never vainly seek its aid. Sufferers from fulness, remittent, and intermittent fever, or are surely rescued by it from the malarial securge. As a tonic it is agreeable, its ingredients do not number one that is objectionable. Cherry sherry which imparts to it an agreeable wine flavor, is eminently pure, and serves to diffuse flavor, is eminently pure, and serves to diffuse flavor, the system its fine medicinal properties. It revives failing appetite, it cures dyspepsia, and promotes regular secretion circulation, and promotes regular secretion and evacuation. The nervous and dyspeptic, as it is well known, are often troubled with a degree of melancholy which in many cases reaches the stage of actual hypochondria. As the stomach regains its tone and the nerves recover their vigor, through the action of the Quinine Wine, this failing gradually wears off, and cheerfulness resumes its sway. Persons who are convalescing after an exhausting disease, should take it in properly regulated doses, as it materially assists, thus taken, the restoration of vigor, which, without its aid might be tediously slow. Fever and ague and bilious, remittent sufferers should take it only during the absence of the feverish symptoms. Lean persons, whose digestion is out of order, gain bodily substance as well as strength by its use. Use none but the Quinine Wine manufactured by Northrop & Lyman of Toronto, which can be procured of any druggist.

DAILY ONTARIO

The Leavenworth Case :

A LAWYER'S STORY.

BY ANNA KATHARINE GREEN.

There was a great crowd in front of the house when we arrived there, and I had barely time to observe that it was a corner dwelling of unusual depths as well as width, when I was seized by the throng of curious and rushed to the foot of the broad stone steps. Extricating myself, though with some difficulty, owing to the impatience of a book-agent and butcher-boy, who seemed to think that by clinging to my arms they might be able to smuggle themselves into the very scene of the tragedy, I mounted the steps, and found the secretary by my side, hurriedly rang the bell. Immediately the door opened, and a face I recognized as that of one of our city detectives appeared in the gap.

'Mr. Gryce!' I exclaimed.

'The same,' replied he. 'Come in, Mr. Raymond.' And drawing us quietly into the house, he shut the door with a grim smile on the disappointed crowd without. 'I trust you are not surprised to see me here,' he, folding out his hand, with a side glance at my companion.

'No,' returned I. Then with a vague idea that I ought to introduce the young man at my side, continued, 'This is Mr. ——, Mr. ——,' excuse me, but I do not know your name,' I said turning with a glance of inquiry to my companion—the private secretary of the late Mr. Leavenworth,' I hastened to add.

'Oh,' returned he, 'the secretary! The coroner has been asking for you, sir.'

'The coroner is here then,' said I.

'Yes; the jury have gone up stairs to view the body; would you like to follow them?'

'No,' said I, 'it is not necessary. I have merely come in hope of being of some assistance to the young ladies. Mr. Veeley is away.'

'And you thought the opportunity too good to be lost,' he went on; 'just so. Still now that you are here and as the case promises to be a marked one, I should think that, as a rising young lawyer, you would wish to make yourself acquainted with it in all its details. But follow your own judgment.

I made an effort and overcame my repugnance. 'I will go,' said I.

'Very well, then,' he replied, 'follow me.'

But just as I set foot on the stairs I heard the jury descending, so drawing back with Mr. Gryce into the recess between the reception room and the parlour, I had time to remark.

'The young man says that it could not have been the work of a burglar.'

'Indeed!' fixing his eye on a door-knob near by.

'That nothing has been found missing —'

'And that the fastenings to the house were all found secure this morning; just so.'

'He did not tell me that. In that case' —and I shuddered—'the murderer must have been in the house all night.'

Mr. Gryce smiled darkly at the door-knob.

'It has a dreadful look!' exclaimed I.

Mr. Gryce immediately frowned at the door-knob.

And here let me say that Mr. Gryce, the detective, was not the thin, wiry individual with a shrewd eye that seems to plunge into the core of your being and pounce at once upon its hidden secret, that you are doubtless expecting to see. Mr. Gryce was a portly, comfortable personage with an eye that never pounced, that did not even rest—on you. If it rested anywhere, it was always on some insignificant object in your vicinity, some vase, inkstand, book or button. These things he would seem to take into confidence, make the repositories of his seclusions, but you, you might as well be the steeple of Trinity Church, for all the connection you ever appeared to have with him or his thoughts. At present then, Mr. Gryce was, as I have already suggested, on intimate terms with the door-knob.

'A dreadful look,' I repeated.

His eye shifted to the button on my sleeve.

'Come,' he said, 'the coast is clear at last.'

Leading the way, he mounted the stairs, but stopped on the upper landing. 'Mr. Raymond,' said he, 'I am not in the habit of talking much about the secrets of my profession, but in this case everything depends upon getting the right clew at the start. We have a common sense view to deal with here; genius has been at work. Now sometimes an absolutely uninitiated mind will intuitively catch at something which the most highly trained intellect will miss. If such a thing should occur, remember that I am your man. Don't go to round talking, but come to me. As this is going to be a great case, mind you, a great case. Now come on.

'But the ladies?'

'They are in the rooms above; in grief of course, but tolerably composed for all, I hear.' And advancing to a door he pushed it open and beckoned me in.

All was dark for a moment, but presently my eyes becoming accustomed to the place, I saw that we were in the library.

It was here that he was found,' said he; 'in this room, and in this very spot.' And advancing he laid his hand on the end of a large, baize covered table that, together with its attendant chairs, occupied the centre of the room. 'You see for yourself that it is directly opposite this door,' and crossing the floor, he paused in front of the threshold of a narrow passage-way, opening into a room beyond. 'As the murdered man was discovered in this chair, and consequently with his back towards the passage way, the assassin must have passed through this doorway to deliver his shot, pausing, let us say, about here.' And Mr. Gryce placed himself immediately upon a certain spot on the carpet, about a foot from the threshold before mentioned.

'But—' I hastened to interpose.

'There is no room for but,' he cried. 'We have studied the situation. And without deigning to delay upon the subject, he turned immediately about and stepping swiftly before me, led the way into the passage named. 'Wine closet, clothes closet, washing apparatus, lavatory,' explained he, waving his hand from side to side as we hurried through, finishing with 'Mr. Leavenworth's private apartments,' as that room in all its elegance opened upon us.

Mr. Leavenworth's private apartment! It was here then that if ought to be, the horrible blood-curdling at that yesterday was a breathing man. Advancing to the bed that was hung with heavy curtains, I raised my hand to put them back, when Mr. Gryce drawing them from my clasp, disclosed lying upon the pillow a cold, calm face looking so naturally, I involuntarily started.

'His death was too sudden to distort the features,' said he, turning the head to one side in a way to make visible the wound in the back of the cranium. 'Such a hole as that sends a man out of the world without much notice. The surgeon will confirm what you see that it could never have been inflicted by himself. It is a case of deliberate murder.'

—Mr. Ashmead Bartlett, husband of Baroness Burdett-Coutts is threatened, it is said, with an action for breach of promise of marriage by a disappointed fair one.

—It is stated that unless peace negotiations are shortly opened between Chili and Peru the annexation of the latter by the former is by no means improbable.

THE GREAT FEMALE REMEDY

MOSES' PILLS

This invaluable medicine is unfailing in the cure of all painful and dangerous diseases to which the female constitution is subject. It invigorates the debilitated and delicate, and by regulating and strengthening the system fortifies the youthful constitution for the duties of life. As a wine taken in addition or old age proves a real blessing; and on the approach of child birth those pills should be used two to three weeks previous to confinement; the benefits to be derived are invaluable; they fortify the constitution, prevent after pains, relieve labor, prevent weakness of the organs, and enable the mother to perform her duties with comparative ease and safety. In case of Nervous spinal Affections, Pains in the Back and Limbs, Dizziness on Sight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, &c., Whites and Blues, these pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed, and, although a powerful remedy do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or any thing hurtful to the constitution. Full directions in a pamphlet round each package. JOB MOSES NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR. Price $1 and $2 cents for postage enclosed to Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., general Agent for the Dominion, will insure a bottle containing over 30 pills, by return mail. The Best Field is now open.

—FOR—

An Immense Area of Railroad and Government Lands, of great fertility, within easy reach of every market at extremely low prices, is now offered for sale in Eastern Oregon and Eastern Washington Territory.

These lands form part of the great Grain Belt of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 200 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are constantly loaded for all parts of the world.

Grain at Portland, Oregon commands a price equal to that obtained in Chicago.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R. R. is now assured, and guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the construction of the network of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R. & N. Co. in the valleys of the Great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the lands now open to purchase pre-emption. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future.

Lands show an average yield of 40 bushels of wheat per acre. No failure of crops ever known.

Railroad Lands offered at the uniform rate of $2.50 an acre.

BUCHU-CUBEBS-JARSI

THE GREAT PACIFIC

DISEASES OF THE KIDNEYS URINARY ORGANS.

The Great American Remedy for COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, LOSS OF VOICE, HOARSENESS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS.

Prepared from the Sacred Red Spruce Gum (Abies rubra, Pinus) found in the Canadian Forests and Tonic Properties of the Jamaica Sarsaparilla, forming a scientific combination of Pectoral and Blood Purifying properties, without doubt the most valuable cures for Pulmonary purposes.

Every one knows the value of the Canadian Red Spruce and its properties in curing Lung Diseases. In Pectoral Syrup we have taken the purest and most valuable parts of the Spruce gum, and by combining it with other pectoral remedies, have produced a Syrup more effectual in curing Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Loss of Voice, Throat and Lung Affections, than any other remedy in use. In fact we have never known a case that it would not relieve at once, and in a few days cure entirely. In using this Syrup you are not experimenting with a new remedy, but one that has been tested for years by thousands, and has never failed to give perfect satisfaction. Its wonderful success in curing the most severe and dangerous Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Loss of Voice, Throat and Lung Affections, has caused many unprincipled dealers to attempt to counterfeit it, and sell worthless imitations on its reputation. To prevent this fraud we have adopted the Trade Mark shown in the engraving, and have our private stamp over the cork of every genuine bottle. None others are genuine.

GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM.

Its remarkable power in relieving certain forms of Bronchitis, and its almost specific effect in curing obstinate hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large.

Sold by all reputable chemists. Price, 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

The words "Syrup of Red Spruce Gum" engraved on our Registered Trade Mark, and our wrapper and labels are also registered.

A LETTER FROM PAUL BOYTON.

His Rough Experience in Peru—A Prisoner of War in the Hands of the Chilians.

From the Richmond Va. Dispatch, March 5.

A resident of Baltimore has received a letter from Paul Boyton, the noted swimmer, dated Lima, Peru, Feb. 7. Mr. Boyton had been in the employ of the Peruvian Government for several months, engaged in improving the torpedo service, and writes a graphic description of the disasters which befell the Peruvians at the hands of the Chilian forces. Mr. Boyton had some mechanical genius, and it quite cheered to abandon the torpedo business in that quarter for something that will pay better and at the same time prove less perilous. The following extract from Mr. Boyton's letter will be read with interest:

"One night I sailed across the Island of San Lorenzo and dropped anchor under the cliff at the head of it. The island was occupied by a small garrison of Chilians, and their fleet anchored at the other end during the day. Taking a torpedo and my dress I paddled ashore for the purpose of making a reconnoitre. Before leaving I ordered the men on the sloop not to move until I returned, which I said I would be in about one hour. I was detained for over three hours on account of a guard, which I had to flank, and when I did get back, to my horror and surprise I found the sloop had left me. At that time I could not start for the mainland, as daylight would reveal me to the enemy before I was three miles from the island, so I commenced to seek a hiding place, which I found in a cave under the cliff, which was well inhabited by sea lions, seals, and others. They raised a frightful row at my appearance among them, which caused my hair to stand as straight up on my head as it could get in my rubber suit. I succeeded in getting upon a piece of rock, where I held possession until brighter daylight showed me a better place. The sea-lions made no attempt to molest me, but the seals were more inquisitive, and more than once I had to knock them over the nose with my paddle. I sat there all day long without a mouthful to eat or a mouthful of water to drink. Night came at last, and then I started on my voyage home. I got to Callao a little before five o'clock in the morning, where I came near being shot full of holes by the guard on the mole. Thank Heaven they were not good marksmen, or I would not be now telling you my story. When I found the men on the sloop the only explanation they could give was that they thought I had been captured, and so concluded to get out of harm's way.

"We made attempt after attempt, but all ended in the same way. I proposed as an expedition to Pisco, where the enemy was about to land troops, but was ordered not to go by the chief. His order I had to obey, but he was the only man in Peru whose order I would obey. Well, we were driven from post to post as the Chilians closed in, until at last we had to take refuge under the guns at Callao. There, at the request of the chief, I took command of the submarine boat, but after three days' trial I went to Lima and informed the chief that it was a failure, and begged him to release me from its command. He declined, and asked me to stick by him, as she was the only hope. Soon after the Chilians landed at Luvin, and the chief immediately left for the front to superintend in person the disposition of the Peruvian army. At last, when things began to look serious, I abandoned the submarine boat and went to Chorrealos. That night I could not see Don Nicholas, and the next morning before daylight the Chilians had surprised, the town, and the battle of Jan. 13 commenced. It was fought to a finish by you. I was sure the chief had been captured until 11 o'clock, when I saw him and a few officers riding along the beach to Barance. I followed and stood by him the bal ance of the day. He exposed himself in the most reckless manner, and his example had a good effect upon the Chilcos. The Last day there was a truce to bury the dead. On Saturday, Jan. 15th, a flag of truce was brought into our camp, and an announcement was made to the effect that 12 o'clock that day for the purpose of having a meeting of the officers to see if terms of peace could be agreed on. The meeting took place about noon, and I sat in state; while the officers were still debating, a shell came flying over the camp. In an instant firing commenced all along the line, and in quicker time than it takes me to tell you the battle had begun. A more fierce and bloody one I never witnessed. Wellington must know by the papers long ere this how it ended. It proved to be the grave yard of Peru. That evening I saw the chief for the last time, as he rode past, blackened with smoke, on his way to the mountains. I followed the thoroughly disorganized army into Lima. Here we found the city in the hands of a mob, who plundered and burned to their hearts' content. Bullets flew through the streets as thick as hail; the yells of wounded men, the shrieks of frightened women, the red glare of a hundred fires, all went to form about as perfect a picture of hell as one could well imagine. On the night of the 17th you could not walk ten steps without stumbling over a dead man. At last the Chilians marched in, and order was to some extent restored. I hope it will never be my lot to witness such sights again.

"On the 22nd I was arrested by the Chilians as the "torpedo man," and after a little delay was released on parole, but not at liberty to leave Lima. So at present I am a prisoner of war. I was slightly wounded in two places, but they do not amount to anything. A week or two ago fell into the hands of the mob, but I was satisfied that anything was left me."

DOMINION PARLIAMENT

MONDAY, 14th.

Mr. Langevin announced that the Dominion and Quebec Governments had agreed to establish a railway ferry across the St. Lawrence at Quebec. Sir John Macdonald made the important statement that the Mennonite reserve near Emerson, Manitoba, would at an early day be sold by public auction. He also intimated that legislation affecting the Niagara Park would be brought into the Albany Legislature during the present or approaching session. Nine unopposed motions for returns were passed, after which the Government business was taken up, and an interesting discussion, in which the Opposition twitted the Government with their abandonment of the N. P., and their treatment of Canadian manufacturers of railroad supplies, took place on Sir Leonard Tilley's resolutions respecting the mode to be pursued in purchasing the said supplies imported by the Pacific Railway Syndicate. The resolutions were adopted in Committee, and reported. The Government Bill amending the Petroleum Inspection Act of last last year was read a third time, and finally passed. Several hours were occupied in discussing the Premier's Bill to amend the Dominion Lands Act, a measure which contains many objectionable features. The principal of these, according to the Opposition members, was the clause empowering the Government to dispose of large areas of land to other persons than actual settlers, the fear being expressed that this provision would be availed of to establish a system of landlordism and rack rents. Sir Richard Cartwright illustrated the Act now by saying that within the past few days he had been requested by an English gentleman, who desires to endow a god-son just entered into the world, to purchase a large track of land which the child was to have when he became of age. The Bill passed through Committee of the Whole. The Bill respecting naturalization and aliens, was advanced a stage, and that respecting the Andrew Mercer Ontario Reformatory for males and the Central Prison at Toronto was read a third time.

The house went into Committee of Supply, and after some discussion passed the votes for Dominion lands, etc., thus completing the original estimates for the fiscal year 1881-82. The Supplementary Estimates for the current year were then proceeded with, and a considerable portion thereof adopted. The Committe reported progress, and the House arose at two o'clock a. m.

The best receipt for going through life in a contented way is to feel that every one, no matter how rich or how poor, needs all the kindness they can get from others in the world. Let us remember this great truth, and commence with those around us. Let the poor and needy, and those who do not take the daily or weekly newspaper, be kindly informed, if in sickness, whether it be form-coughs, lung diseases, asthma, or consumption, that by the use of N. H. Downs' Vegetable Balsamic Elixir they can be cured. Keep not this good news to ourselves, but spread the sunshine of hope around.

MOTHERS! MOTHERS! MOTHERS!

Bristol's Sarsaparilla and Pills.—The most powerful, yet the safest of all remedies. Under their penetrating, detregent influences, the foulest ulcer and the deepest gangrenous sore changed in their character, and the most loathsome sores and eruptions are soothed and healed.

The uses to which Murray & Lanman's Florida Water is put may, without exaggeration, be said to be universal.

The well cultivated society it is recognized as the most refreshing and agreeable of perfumes for the handkerchief, the toilet, and the bath.

Consumption.—Many say that this disease cannot be cured, but the proprietors of Allen's Lung Balsam will satisfy any one that it has been cured in very many cases of the worst description. Persons who are very susceptible to sudden changes of weather would do well to keep a supply of Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum in the house. This Syrup is a scientific preparation of the Gum which exudes from the Red Spruce Tree, and holds a large quantity of the Gum in perfect solution, never separating. Its remarkable power in relieving certain forms of Bronchitis, and curing obstinate, hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large. No remedy can equal it as a safe and thoroughly reliable Cough Medical. Sold by all chemists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

Is health worth having? If it is, protect it. It is a jewel as easily lost as virtue, and in many cases as difficult to recover. In this climate, and more particularly at this season of the year, people are very apt to take cold and suffer from sore throat, coughs, spitting of blood, and pulmonary complaints generally, which if not checked immediately lead to serious consequences. The question arises, which is the quickest and most effectual remedy? Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers have been before the public for twenty years, have always given perfect satisfaction; have invariably given permanent cures when taken in season. Sold by all medicine dealers and country stores at 25 cents a box.

I have no hesitancy in recommending Dr Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry."—G. W. Searl, St. Catharines. "I would advise any one suffering from summer complaints to give Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry a fair trial."—Carman M. Gould M. D., Castleton. "Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry gives perfect satisfaction."—Thomas Douglas, Cambray. "Can recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry with confidence."—Judge S. S. Peck, Minden. "My customers bear high testimony to the virtues of Dr Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry."—T. Stevenson, Orangeville.

The base burner stove, the telephone and other improvements of a like kind have worked a domestic and social revolution within the last few years, and those improvements it is not unfair to include the "Myrtle Navy" tobacco. The great majority of men smoke tobacco; have done so for centuries past and will continue to do so. It is important, therefore, that they should smoke the best tobacco that can be had. Such they are supplied with in the "Myrtle Navy." All smokers who have used it know that its flavor cannot be surpassed, that its quality is always uniform and that the only care they have in exercise is its purchase is to see that the trade mark T. & B. is stamped on the plug.

MEDFORD, MASS., Sept. 18, 1877.
MESS. GRAY.—Dear Sir. I have used your Iodide Ammonia Diniment and find it the best remedy I ever used. For a sprain or bruise there is nothing equal to it. My wife sprained her ankle last Saturday evening; I used the Liniment as per directions; the second application was a perfect cure. Three of my friends started last night for Johnson Co., Kentucky; they have taken several bottles with them. I have used it on my horses and it works like a charm. I am going to Kentucky next month—farming. If you have any works treating of horses and other animals, please send me two or three copies and oblige
Yours respectfully,
CHAS. W. FERNUSH.

HOW TO GET RICH.

The greatest secret of obtaining riches, is first to practice economy, and as poor Richmond Snyder says, "It used to worry the life out of me to pay enormous doctor's bills, but now I have struck it rich." Health and happiness reigns supreme in our little household, and all simply because we use no other medicine but Electric Bitters and only costs fifty cents a bottle." Sold by Jas. Clarke & Co.

IT STANDS THE TEST OF TIME.

Mine fries all things, and few are the countries, lands, or points of life that are not swept away before its remorseless march.—Remedy after remedy for corns has been introduced, tested, and found wanting. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor alone holds undisturbed away, gathering new strength as years roll on, and holding it with the power that must be one can give. Take no substitute. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor never fails to make a complete cure. Sold Everywhere.

INFLAMED GUMS

are instantly relieved, and will be permanently cured by the use of SOZODONT. The wider is is known, the better it is liked. The history is one long, unbroken record of success as a beneficial and most fragrant wash. Other preparations for the teeth are suggested and passed away, but SOZODONT remains. Toys are easily mended, and strongly, by Spalding's Glue. It is always ready to be used, and may justly be termed "Semper paratus."

ENVIED BEAUTY.

What is more handsome than a nice bright clear complexion, showing the tokens of perfect health? All can enjoy these advantages by using Electric Bitters. Improve blood, and all diseases of the Stomach, Liver, Kidneys and Urinary Organs are speedily cured. For nervousness and all attendant ailments, they are a never failing remedy, and positively cure where all others fail. Try the Electric Bitters and be convinced of their wonderful merits. For sale by Jas. Clarke & Co.

NEW YORK BUTTER MARBET.

In reporting the market prices for butter, the New York Tribune, of May 20th, said, "Choice packages to the retail trade reach 19 to 20 cents, but light colored goods are hard to dispose of, and several lots were thought well sold at 8 to 10 cents. This stern logic of dollars and cents is rapidly convincing diarymen that they should use the Perfected Butter Color made by Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt. It gives the perfect June color the year round and dairymen that use it never send light colored goods to market.

TWENTY YEARS A SUFFERER.

DR. R. V. PIERCE:
Dear Sir.—Twenty years ago I was shipwrecked on the Atlantic Ocean, and the cold and exposure caused a large abscess to form on each leg, which kept continually discharging. After spending hundreds of dollars, with no benefit, I was persuaded to try your Golden Medical Discovery, and now, in less than three months after taking the first bottle, I am thankful to say I am completely cured, and for the first time in ten years can put my left heel to the ground.
I am, sir, yours respectfully,
WILLIAM ESTHER,
87 Jefferson Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

MAN'S NOBLEST WORK.

This is an age of great work and wonderful invention. Steam, electricity, water, air, all are made to serve man, but suggestionably the greatest inventions are those which preserve man's health and prolong his life, and among the greatest of these is Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Its effects are truly wonderful and hundreds are happy to-day, who once looked forward to an early grave. For Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, loss of voice, Hay Fever, Hoarseness, Croup, or any effections whatever of the Throat, Chest or Lungs, Dr. King's New Discovery will positively cure. We can cheerfully recommend it to all, and can unhesitatingly say it is the only sure cure for Throat and Lung Affections. Trial bottles ten cents; regular size $1. For sale by Jas. Clarke & Co.

From Hon. W. H. Jones, of West Dover, Vt.
"I have been troubled from my boyhood with chronic or hereditary lung complaint. Some years since, early in the winter, I took cold, which as usual settled into a severe cough, which continued to increase as the season advanced, although I made use of all the cough remedies I had knowledged of. My family physician also prescribed for me, but I experienced no relief. During this time I was gradually running down, losing flesh and strength, until my friends as well as myself, became very much alarmed, thinking I should waste away in consumption. While in Boston, during the spring following, I was induced to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. After one day's trial I was sensible that it was relieving me; in ten day's time my cough had entirely ceased, and I was soon restored to health and strength. I have ever since kept the Balsam in my house, and whenever any member of my family has a cough or cold, it is immediately resorted to. No family should be without it."

Permanently established at the
Dafoe House,
BELLEVILLE,
For the cure of all the various diseases of the Head, Throat and Chest, including the Eye, Ear and Heart.

But a few weeks or months are required to cure the most obstinate cases of Catarrh, Throat diseases, Asthma, Bronchitis, and the earlier stages of Consumption, when the treatment is conducted under the Doctor's own personal supervision. A word to the wise is therefore sufficient.
All diseases of the respiratory organs treated by medicinal inhalations.
Inhalations remove hepetization by dissolving the hardened matter existing in the air cells of the lungs, thus enabling the patient to expectorate it with ease, at the same time giving the diseased surface an opportunity to heal.
Inhalations scatter inflammation and soothe the inflamed surface, thus relieving a harassing cough almost immediately.
Inhalations absorb the fleshy excrescences that exist upon the pharyngeal surface in case of granulated throat, and restore the proper vitality of the parts, thus relieving the dryness of the throat and the sensation as if swollen were preventing the access of the membrane of the pharynx.
Inhalations will cure the most obstinate cases of bronchial inflammation. A word to the consumptional and other topical treatment.
In fact, Inhalations will cure thousands at cases of the breathing organs when all other means have failed.
Let there be no delay, then, in application in the treatment that has stood the test and proved again and again the only hope—the only reliable safeguard and means of restoration.
Consultation free and prices within the reach of all.
The very best of references given from all parts of Canada from those already cured. Remedies sent to any part of Ontario.
If possible, call personally at the office for consultation and examination, but if impossible to do so, write for "List of Questions" and "Medical Treatise." Address

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

The Pacific Syndicate have ordered $250,000 of railway cars, half a million ties, and made their first purchase of steel rails in England. This is the rumor in Montreal.

Mr. Gladstone has failed in passing one urgency motion, the Conservatives refusing to help him this time. The majority for the Government was 77, but not the necessary two-thirds.

Boyton, the Irishman who claims to be an American, has appealed to the Legation at London, but no action has yet been taken, and no representations have been made by the United States.

The "divine Sara" will appear at the Grand Opera House, Toronto, next Saturday afternoon and evening. She will act "Camille" and "Fron Frou." There will be a large attendance from a distance including a number from Belleville.

Two swindlers from Sherbrooke, brothers named Cole, have been arrested at Brockville for trying to negotiate a note fraudulently obtained from a farmer named Atcheson. It was the old trick of getting the farmer's signature to an agency agreement, and afterwards presenting a note duly signed. This time the victim kicked in time to disconcert the nicely laid scheme.

Mr. G. E. Foster, Secretary of the Ontario Alliance, wrote a long letter to the Mail the other day. Towards the close he used the word "Senators," and the printer made it "lunatics." Mr. Foster thought it an unhappy metamorphosis, and hastened to make a correction. The members of our "upper house" may be "old grannies, but they positively object to being called lunatics. Their votes this session would indicate that there is a method in their madness, anyway.

The American, published at Philadelphia, considers the selection of Mr. R T Lincoln as Secretary of War by President Garfield, the weakest of the seven selections made. It argues that it is not American, nor is it wise to give a man a place because his father was somebody, and says that, had Mr. Lincoln been anybody's son but President Lincoln's, he would never have been selected. While offering this protest, the American does not doubt that Mr. Lincoln is all that his friends claim for him. Then why object to his selection? He is untried, and in this respect does not differ much from most of the other members of President Garfield's Cabinet. If, as the American admits, "he is a man of excellent habits, industrious, and promising of a good record in his profession as a lawyer," what reason is there to doubt his capacity for the office he has been appointed to?

A CIRCULAR has been published showing the imports of barley from the Dominion of Canada into the United States since July, 1870, and up to the close of the crop of 1880. From it we learn that the total imports of barley during the last ten years aggregate 59,829,922 bushels, valued at the ports of exportation in Canada at $48,-412,655. The imports during the crop year 1879-80 were 7,096,503 bushels. This was the largest amount of any one year during the time mentioned, excepting 1875—76, when the total amount reached 10,262,541 bushels. Of the above imports the port of Oswego received 4,218,471 bushels in 1879-80, and 3,726,424 bushels in 1875-6. From July to January last year the total imports of barley into the U. S. from Canada reached 7,469,660 bushels.

SOME of the Opposition organs seem disposed to condemn the Government for the success of the Almon amendment in the Senate. The attempt is, of course, so manifestly unfair that it cannot be successful; but the attention of watchful friends of the Government may well be directed to the matter. In the dearth of other means of successfully assailing the Government, the Almon amendment to the Scott Act, of course, offers the factious Oppositionists a chance of making a favorite electioneering cry. The Mail is a little frightened. It begins to discover that a mistake has been made in so readily and enthusiastically endorsing the action of the majority in the Senate, when Dr. Almon's amendment to Mr. Vidal's motion was adopted. The chief Tory organ applauded the vote, and of course all the minor organs, parrot-like, repeated the verdict. The amendment was carried by Conservative votes, and if the Commons deals with the question this session, it will be sanctioned there by the vote of the same party. The Mail knows this, and so makes a weak attempt to turn the current of public opinion. "Too thin."

Sir Charles Gavan Duffy, in "Young Ireland," lately published, professes to tell the story of Ireland's sufferings under English rule. The picture he paints is a dark one, but we must not forget that the Hunter is not free from a charge of prejudice. We have not space to follow our author from the beginning of his story, which opens with the reign of James I. He recounts the revolutions and their effects that succeeded at certain intervals through this and subsequent reigns. Towards the close of the 18th. century, he tells us, all Europe was in a state of ferment. The successful revolutions in France and America gave Ireland the fever of discontent. She demanded the emancipation of the Roman Catholics; the right of free trade; the liberty to legislate in a Parliament of her own for her own interests. These demands were granted. For a few years Ireland enjoyed Home Rule, but it was a very imperfect as well as short-lived independence. We will let our author tell why :—

No Roman Catholics were admitted to Parliament, and the Roman Catholics were four-fifths of the population. The suffrage did not even include all Protestants. The State schools were still exclusively Protestant schools, in which a Protestant catechism was taught. The hedge school was the only resource of the poor Roman Catholic, where, with no shelter but a hedge, and no roof but the sky, and no text books but such as chance threw in the impoverished shreds could furnish, a self-denying "brother" taught a few ragged urchins the first principles of literature and the fundamental articles of their father's faith. But even this small measure of Home Rule was too much for the convenience of William Pitt. The man who fought out liberty on the continent brought out liberty in Ireland. The question whether Ireland would manage her own affairs or go into partnership with England and let an imperial Parliament manage them, was determined by an Irish Parliament, one-third of whose members were creatures of the British crown, one third the creatures of the landed proprietors living upon confiscated estates. To this body Ireland had never given authority to decide so important a question; but the protests of the people were ignored, and the assemblages of the people to make their protests more effective were broken up by the police. A million in money and a liberal distribution of pensions and peerages sufficed to buy a majority of one in the Irish Parliament in favor of union. If a large majority had been required it would have been purchased; if more money had been needed it would have been forthcoming. Pitt was not ingenerous—with public moneys.

This was effected in 1799. Ireland has therefore been united to England for about three quarters of a century. Sir Charles Duffy says the results of this union have not borne remarkably beneficial fruits on Irish soil. In 1850, according to his statement, nearly four millions of the population could neither read nor write; nearly a million and a half more could read but not write. More than a million and a half were in actual beggary, dependent for daily bread on public and private charity. Another quarter of a century has made some improvements in education, but none in material comfort, and none in prospect of prosperity. The great landed proprietors are a few hundred; the great mass of the country is owned by a few thousand men. Poverty is said to be the only protection of four-fifths of the tenants. De Beaumont, visiting Ireland in 1824, declared he had seen the Indian in his wigwam and the negro in his chains, but that the condition of the Irish tenantry was worse than either the savage or the slave. We have simply condensed from our author's statement. The following will answer by way of conclusion :—

But in this deep there is a lower depth. The tenant has a home, though it is not his own; the laborer has none. In his most prosperous condition he lives in a mud cabin, sleeps on a bed of straw upon the dirt floor, shares both bed and cabin with his pigs, works to-day, begs to-morrow, steals the day after, depends on charity for victuals and on earnings for whiskey, and brings up a group of ragged, unkempt children to inherit his animalism, imbibe his habits, and follow his profession. In his adversity he is a tramp, driven by famine from one district to invade another not picked quite so clean, carrying with him a shatterely wife and a group of ragged children, and in the hour of national distress, the first to lie down and die of poor food and worse drink under the nearest hedge.

PERSONALS.

—The new Mayor of Utica is pressman of the Utica Herald.

—Judge Ramsay, of Montreal, is seriously ill with erysipelas.

—The Kennedy family of vocalists, make a tour through Canada in August next.

—Mr. Goldwin Smith leaves for England in June. He will not return until next year.

—Somebody calls Rev. Dr. Wild "the Talmage of Toronto without Talmage's ability."

—Hanlan is spending a quiet day or two at Montreal. He leaves for Boston with Mr. Whitefoot on Thursday.

—Mr. J. H. Preston, of the Ottawa Free Press, leaves for Walkerton, Ont., to assume the management of the Telescope.

—The oldest member of the Ontario Legislature is Mr. D. D. Calvin, M. P. P. for Frontenac since Confederation. The hon. gentleman is 85 years of age.

—Mr. J. Murdock, editor of the Inverness Highlander, who visited Belleville last year, is offering his services to lecture for the Land League in America, and is expected to speak for the Kingston branch soon.

—Mr. David Jamieson, of Peterboro, assistant Grand Secretary of the Grand Lodge of Orange Young Britons, has been appointed Grand Secretary, vice E. Froland, deceased. Mr. Jamieson took all the Lodge papers and books with him to Peterboro on Saturday, after attending Froland's funeral.

THIS AND THAT.

There is something significant, to say the least, in the congratulary addresses, telegrams and orations immediately in by Communists, Socialists and Nihilists the world over, when news of the Czar's assassination became known. There is trouble brewing for other nations beside Russia, growing out of these revolutionary organizations.

—An unusual scene was lately witnessed in Montreal. Charles Shipley, aged 60, was sent to jail for six months for brutally beating his mother, aged 80.

—The sale of tickets for the Bernhardt performances in Toronto opened yesterday, and nearly all the reserved seats, at $5 each, went during the first two hours.

—The discussion over the proposed cotton mill at Kingston continues. A meeting will shortly be held when an expert from Montreal is expected to describe the modus operandi of the business.

OUR TABLE.

NEW YEAR'S SERMON.—We have on our table a printed copy of a sermon preached in John-st. Presbyterian Church, Jan. 2nd, ult., by Rev. David Mitchell, and which has been published in pamphlet form by members of the congregation. A large and attentive audience listened with pleasure to the delivery of this sermon, and wisely concluded that, by involving the aid of the press, a still larger congregation could be reached, and much more good be thereby accomplished. The sermon is from the text—"I seek not yours, but you"—2 Cor. xii, 14, and is an admirable introduction to the cares, responsibilities and obligations of the year. It will be read with pleasure and profit by many who did not hear it delivered; and many of those who listened attentively from its beginning to the close will find new beauties and fresh inspiration by reading it in print.

SCRIBNER FOR APRIL.—A prominent article in the April Scribner will be a paper by James C. Beard, entitled "Marine Forms as Applicable to Decoration," copiously illustrated by the writer. This will contain a number of novel suggestions of decorative effects to be drawn from forms occurring in nature. The drawings are from the life, and include some striking work of pencil and graver. "New York Attics and House-Tops" is the old title of an article by William H. Rideing, which will be printed in the April Scribner. There are hidden among the eves and chimney-stacks of a great city, many curious and unique phases of life. Mr. Rideing has recently made a tour of this comparatively unknown country, and with interesting results.

ST. NICHOLAS FOR APRIL.—Miss Lucretia P. Hale will tell in the April St. Nicholas how the Peterkins gave up their contemplated trip to Egypt, and, instead, went on a journey to a sugar camp. "Mary, Queen of Scotts," is the subject of the second of Mrs. Oliphant's stories of English queens in St. Nicholas. It will be begun in April and run through two numbers, and will rival in interest the article on Lady Jane Grey, so charmingly told in the March issue.

PARLIAMENTARY NOTES.

The impression prevails that Parliament will not prorogue until Tuesday or Thursday of next week.

It is the intention of the Government to offer the unsettled portion of the Mennonite reserve for general settlement.

There is no likelihood that Parliament will take any action this session upon the impeachment of Chief Justice Wood, of Manitoba.

Mr. Kirkpatrick, in the House to-day, will enquire of the Government as to the importation of military stores and why the same are not manufactured in Canada.

Mr. Ouimet will move to-day that the bill to amend the Canada Temperance Act be the first order of the day. This will bring on the discussion on the question, so that the matter will be settled before the close of the session.

Hon. Mr. Caron has introduced a bill to amend the Militia Act by extending the time for the enrolment of the reserve militia to 1883, the law as it at present stands providing that that work shall be done in February, 1881.

MARINE NOTES.

—Captain Carson has the contract for taking off the schooner Nellie Sherwood, ashore at Weller's Bay. He will commence work as soon as possible.

—Betting on the probable date of the opening of navigation through the lakes is becoming quite active. The earliest guess thus far, upon which a wager has been laid, is between the 19th and 21st of April.

—Vessel owners at Port Dalhousie are now commencing to charter their vessels For the coming season's business. Owing to plenty of snow in the woods this winter, it is expected that the demand for timber-vessels will bring out a large fleet. Several charters have already been made in grain from Chicago, although vessels lying at Port Colborne have a preference in being ready to leave early in the spring. The schooners Mystic Star and R T Merritt are both laden for Chicago, and the Pandora for Buffalo, with barley.

INTEREST ON NOTES.

The Monetary Times of last week gives some remarks on a recent decision of Judge Price of Kingston. It says :

A correspondent, N. H. T. of Millpoint, asks us to explain a recent decision, of which he sends a newspaper report in the following words :

"Judge Price, of Kingston, has rendered an important decision in a Division Court suit. It was contended by the defendant in a suit on a promissory note, that the plaintiff could not collect interest after maturity, as it was not so specified in the note. The Judge, after adjourning the case to look up the autaorities, sustained the objection."

We fancy the learned Judge has not been correctly reported. If he has, there can be no doubt that the decision is bad law, as by statute a promissory note bears interest from the date of its maturity, without any provision in the note to that effect.

The same correspondent asks whether the holder of a note payable at a particular place, say an agency of a bank, can retain it until the funds are forwarded to him to retire it. This depends upon the circumstances. In this Province, so far as the liability of the maker of a note is concerned, it is not necessary to present it at the place where it is made payable at all, unless the note is made in a particular form pointed out by statute, making it payable at a certain place, "and not otherwise or elsewhere." The decision of the Judge above alluded to only had reference to interests beyond the legal rate.

THE MURRAY CANAL.

We are pleased to observe that the Supplementary Estimates for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1882, which were brought down yesterday, contain an additional vote of $35,000 towards the construction of the Murray Canal. This is a fulfillment of the promise conditionally made to the deputation from this section, when in Ottawa, and ensures such a beginning of the work as will lead to a completion of the canal at an early day.

Ex-Minister Curtin's Opinion.

A GENERAL EUROPEAN WAR PROBABLE.

NEW YORK, March 16.

The Tribune reports an interview with Ex-Russian Minister Curtin. He expresses the opinion the Czar's death will hasten a general war in Europe, as the present Emperor is very bitter towards Germany. He says Russia and Germany sympathize with each other on Eastern Question, but never it will be but natural for the former to assist the King of Greece, because he is a brother of the Empress of Russia. If war is declared, it is probable France will immediately ally herself with Russia, as the entering wedge for declaring war against Germany.

LEGAL NOTES.

The following case was up in Common Law Chambers, Osgoode Hall, yesterday:

Way v. Trent Valley.—Mr. Aylesworth moved absolute a garnishee summons. Mr. G. T. Blackstock, for the Canadian Bank of Commerce, the garnishees. The amount due by the Bank, $5,000, is in court, and is claimed by E. O. Bickford. Recent legis lation has confirmed his title to the principal sum. Mr. Holman for the Trent Valley Railway, the judgment debtors. Mr. McPhillips for E. O. Bickford. Reserved.

RECENT EVENTS.

—Small-pox has entirely disappeared from Murray Bay.

—Tenders for the construction of public buildings in Manitoba are to be opened at Ottawa this afternoon.

—Mr. Wiser, M. P., will this season go into the cattle trade extensively. He intends to ship several thousand head.

—Mr. Bradlaugh has not been allowed to resign, probably on the ground that he had no title to the seat which he wishes to vacate.

—Taylor's Grand Trunk excursion party, numbering twenty-five souls, arrived at Winnipeg at an early hour on Saturday morning, having left Ottawa on the 3rd of March.

—The democrats have yielded in the matter of controlling the Senate committee, and have decided to prepare new lists on the basis of four Democrats to five Republicans.

—The law students of Winnipeg have presented Chief Justice Wood with a massive gold-headed ebony cane, valued at $35, and an address. His lordship made a feeling reply to the compliment.

—A Berlin newspaper states that the coming Monetary Conference is intended to establish a bi-metallic union, each of the contracting countries permitting the unlimited coinage of gold and silver in the proportionate value of 1 to 15½, under certain specified conditions.

A BAPTIST MINISTER'S EXPERIENCE

I am a Baptist Minister and before I even thought of being a clergyman graduated in medicine but left a lucrative practice for my present profession. 40 years ago, I was for many years a sufferer from quinsy. Thomas Eclectric Oil cured me.* I was also troubled with hoarseness and Thomas Eclectric Oil always relieved me. My wife and child had Diphtheria, and Thomas Eclectric Oil cured them" and if taken in time it will cure seven times out of ten. I am confident it is a cure for the most obstinate Cold, or Cough, and if any one will take a small teaspoon, and half fill it with the Oil and then place of the spoon in one nostril and draw the Oil out of the spoon into the head by sniffing as hard as they can until the Oil falls over into the throat and practice that twice a week, I don't care how offensive their hen dmay be, it will clean it out and cure their Catarrh. For Deafness and Earache it has done wonders in my certain knowledge. It is the only medicine dubbed patent medicine that I have ever felt like recommending and I am veryanxious to see it in every place, for I tell you that it would not be without it in my house for any consideration. I am now suffering with a pain like Rheumatism in my right limb and both relieves me like Thomas Eclectric Oil.

The Best Field
—FOR—
EMIGRANTS,

An Immense Area of Railroad and Government Lands, of great fertility, within easy reach of permanent market, at extremely low prices, is now offered for sale in Eastern Oregon and Eastern Washington Territory.

These lands form part of the great Grain Belt of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 250 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded for all parts of the world.

Grain at Portland, Oregon, commands a price equal to that obtained in Chicago.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific Railroad will give Portland, and our lands cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the construction of the network of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R. & N. Co. in the valleys of the Great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the lands now open to purchase pre-emption. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future.

Lands show an average yield of 40 bushels of wheat per acre. No failure of crops ever known.

Railroad Lands offered at the uniform rate of $2.50 an acre.

—March Sales.

Our customers are generally aware that we received our usual Spring assortment of STAPLE and FANCY DRY GOODS much earlier this year than usual; but our sales during the months of January and February were so satisfactory, that if the present month's sales prove large, we will be under the necessity of laying in a second supply in most lines. To ensure this we are marking our Spring goods as well as any Winter goods that are left over at an unusually low advance on cost, and we invite customers to compare our prices and value.

We invite special attention to

of which we have SOMELS OUR USUAL STOCK and which we are selling at much lower prices than they are usually sold. During the month of March we will offer special inducements to purchasers, and hope to make proportionally large sales.

THE blood cannot properly perform its functions when loaded with impurities, because it is thick and sluggish; and every person needs at times something to cleanse and quicken the vital current. Dr. J. C. Ayer's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla meets this want perfectly, and his Recovery of this compound ranks as important in preserving the blood in a healthy condition as does that of Wm. Harvey in demonstrating his circulatory action. Nothing else so vitalizes, purifies and enriches the blood as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is a perfect blood and nerve food. It never disturbs the stomach, but greatly assists and promotes the digestion and assimilation of all nutritious meats, and increases their power to sustain and nourish the body. In renovating the blood it clears and quickens the intellect, and thus gives to both mind and body the power of long sustained, arduous and successful effort. —Corning, N. Y., Journal.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Local Brevities.

—Get your shamrock ready for to-morrow morning.

—This is splendid sugar weather, and the farmers are taking advantage of it.

—One prisoner and two tramps in the cells last night. The prisoner was a woman charged with drunkenness.

—Capt. Forte will have the Varuna painted throughout at once in Trenton. Mr. Freeland has received the job.

—To-morrow will be St. Patrick's Day. Vennor has promised a snow storm as part of the programme of entertainment.

—The Derby, as a ladies walking hat, promises to be more fashionable this year than ever. The milliners have them.

—No one would have known that they were newly married had they not promenaded the street with arms linked in broad daylight.

—Two boys were locked up in the cells for a short time last night, on account of disorderly conduct around the door of the City Hall.

—Blue veils have been brought out by the female portion of our population to save their complexion from March winds and the sun.

—A statement is going the rounds that aCape Vincent girl received 900 valentines. If true,she is the feminine that Forepaugh offers $10,000 for.

—The Printing Committee of the City Council met yesterday afternoon. The only business done was the passage of an account of the ONTARIO office.

—An early walk over the crisp snow these mornings has more of the life-giving elements about it than a hundred saunters up Front-st. in the afternoon.

—The farmers have large quantities of potatoes on hand this spring, and as a consequence prices are low. The poor man with a large family is not sorry.

Don't stand around the corners, boys,
Or loaf upon the street;
Nor puff the smoke of bad cigars
In the face of those you meet.

—Among the shops on Front Street that have received a new dress this spring, we notice that of Mr. W. Latimer's shaving and hair-dressing parlor. It now rands Al.

—Young women are sold by auction in the west. The sales are made at social gatherings for charitable purposes, and the proprietorship does not extend beyond the occasion.

—That the dispute between the City and the Grand Junction has at last been settled no person will regret. The City Clerk says that since 1875 this matter has been under discussion by the Council.

—Reports from East Northumberland continue to favor Mr Crouter's canvass. He is meeting with the most encouraging receptions, and his opponents do not question his strength and popularity.

—Rev. Mr. Potter, of Ameliasburgh, will assist at the revival services in Holloway Street Church for a few days. The interest in the meetings is increasing. Childrens' meetings are now held every afternoon at four o'clock.

—The Ottawa Citizen says it is expected that the disaster of Friday night (the burning of the Custom and Inland Revenue offices here) will hasten the carrying out of the work of erecting new buildings by the Government.

—Two women were recently fined by Justice Wallace, of Chicago, for smoking on the street, though they were neither drunk nor disorderly. Here is a most rascally attempt to take from woman her rights to do as she pleases. Where are the defenders of woman's rights?

—Early last June a young man named Barrett, employed by Messrs. Rathbun, of Mill Point, was drowned while engaged in running a raft down Depot Creek in the Township of Portland. Jas. Wilson, jr., of Stratford, is now enquiring about the drowned man, whom he believes to have been his brother-in-law.

—It still travels. The following is the experience of the Quiz poet:—

A kiss, yes I remember,
A kiss and nothing more—
I found it last December
Behind the kitchen door;
My wife she heard the clatter
Of lips that met my own—
Result:—assault and battery,
And now—I live alone.

—The Tamworth Echo man is on the war path. He is madder than a March hare because the Ontario Government refused to help the N. P. & Q. Railway, and declares if Mowat or Meredith or Pardee or any of the present Ministers ever come to Lennox or Addington to speak at any political or other demonstrations the electors should set their dogs on them and hunt them out of the riding.

She modestly averts her eyes:
She hides the blush that will not come,
She gives the most heart-rendering sighs;
She giggles, and she bites her thumb,
She wears bright colors, not a few,
The charming girl of—fifty-two.

She still has hopes that some fine day
A man to claim her heart will kneel;
And often thinks just what she'll say
Before she faints, and how she'll feel
When kissed—for that's entirely new
To this old girl of—fifty-two.

—He entered the city editor's room very mad. "You printed the statement that I was drunk yesterday, cut up rough, and made a beast of myself and got run in." "Yes," replied the editor, "are you displeased with the article?" "I am, sir, fearfully displeased with it." "Well, we have to give the news." "Yes, I don't mind you doing that. But by the great sub-tailed bull dog, sir, I want you to understand that my name is Smyth, with a y, and if you spell it with an i again I'll wreck your old office! I want a correction published." He got it.

UNSURPASSED.—The old and well known remedy "Hodd's Expectorant" (for coughs and colds) is still unsurpassed. More than 20 years it has now been in use and it still continues popular, while scores of medicines for the same purpose have flourished for a year or so and are forgotten. If you have a cough or a cold call at Geen's Drugstore and procure a bottle.

GARDEN SEEDS.—For good and reliable garden and field seeds go to Geen's Drugstore.

NO.1 COMPANY.—A meeting of this company will be held in Carman's Block to-morrow (Thursday)evening,at 7:30 p. m. Let every member be present.

THE ASSIZES.—The Court of Assizes will open on Monday next, before Mr. Justice Osler. The criminal docket will be very light, there being only a couple of cases, charged with minor offences.

SPECIAL SERVICES.—Meetings will be held in the Baptist Church every night this week, except Saturday. Rev. A Schaster, City Missionary, will preach this evening. Service at half past seven o'clock. All are cordially invited to attend.

CENSUS ENUMERATORS.—The following are the appointments for West Hastings:—Belleville—Messrs Andrew Cowie, W H Scholes, Daniel Colling, Wm Blaind, C V Bogart, Robert Wallbridge and P P Lynch Sidney—Messrs. Wellington Crouter, Jas D Fairfield, Morden Bird and James Bird. Thurlow—Messrs Charles Pelletier and Robert Loughead.

THE HARBOR IMPROVEMENT.—Persons who take the trouble of visiting the works now in progress in the harbor cannot fail to be struck with the great improvement the new docks will be to its appearance. The work of filling in with stone is being pushed, as a continuance of the present fine weather will render the ice unsafe. The trame work is very nearly completed, and the present week will see the filling in pretty well done, both on the Grand Junction and Rathbun's docks. The light-house piers are also pretty well filled in, and only four more lits of cedar have to be added.

PROBS.—Winds mostly from the north-east and south-east; fair to cloudy mild weather, followed by rain.

FRAZER AXLE GREASE.—The Frazer Axle Grease is the Standard Grease of the world. Use it and save your horses and wagons. One greasing will last two weeks.

THE SONS OF ST. PATRICK.—After the lecture to-morrow evening a supper will be given at O'Brien's Hotel in honor of Mr. Falsey, by the members of the above Society.

THE NEW ELEVATOR.—Yesterday Mr. Ellis, Grand Junction Railway Engineer was in the city for the purpose of selecting a site on the new dock for the erection of an elevator.

THE STREET CARS.—The removing of snow and ice from the street railway track was finished yesterday, and the cars have been running to-day with a tolerably smooth track. Had they received a new coat of paint during the winter they would have been the better for it.

LARGE OATS.—Samuel D. Farley, Esq., of this city, to-day brought to our office a sample of the largest oats we have ever seen. He came across them done up in a parcel in his house, labelled "Provincial Exhibition 1876." Beyond this he knows nothing about them as to where they were grown, or what variety they are.

PERSONAL.—Mr. William N. Ponton,son of J. W. Ponton, Esq., has concluded to settle amongst us for the practice of his profession as barrister, attorney-at-law,&c., and with this end in view has opened an office in the Post Office Block. Mr. Ponton being an old Belleville boy, and one who has graduated in his profession with honor to himself, has our very best wishes for his success.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.—To-morrow will be the anniversary of Ireland's Patron Saint, and the sons of the Emerald Isle throughout Canada, with few exceptions, have wisely concluded to abandon the usual street parade, and to celebrate the day either by holding concerts or lectures. Here a lecture will be given by Mr. James Fahey, in the Metropolitan Hall, and we are pretty certain there will be a very large attendance.

POLICE COURT.—Margaret Oakley, an habitue of the above court, and who has resided in Peterboro' for some time, was found wandering around the street yesterday bareheaded and o'er fu' o' whiskey. She was run in by Officer Downs, and this morning was interviewed by the P. M., who decided to ship her to th etown from whence she came, at the end of the G. J. R. line. No other prisoners appeared at the levee.

POOR JOHN.—John Watson was charged at the Kingston Police Court yesterday with drunkenness and disorderly conduct. He said he had left Prince Edward County for Belleville Monday morning and promised his employer, a farmer, to return in the evening. In Belleville he imbibed and knew nothing more until Tuesday morning, when he awoke in the police station. He was in a destitute condition. The Magistrate inflicted a fine of $1, but John pleaded so hard that he was finally dismissed. He thanked the Magistrate a thousand times and left per the great shoe line for Prince Edward.

SUCCESSFUL TEA-MEETING.—The tea-meeting given by the ladies of Christ Church last evening, at the City Hall, was one of the most successful, financially and otherwise, ever held in the city. The attendance was so large that the tables spread in the butter market had to be laid a second time. The supper was an excellent one, and there was an abundance of it. The entertainment which followed was first-class in every respect, consisting of vocal and instrumental music, readings, recitations, &c. The amount of money realized will be almost sufficient to pay the expenses of putting in the new organ.

A VICTIM OF WHISKEY AND OPIUM.—Yesterday morning about six o'clock a man named Napier Maybee was discovered lying on the sidewalk at Campbellford. On being examined he was found to be breathing heavily, and death followed in a few minutes. He had stopped at a hotel all night, and had gone out early, apparently in his usual health, and was found in this condition shortly after. He had been addicted to strong drink and opium-eating for several years. It is supposed death resulted from the excessive use of the above, though no inquest was held, there being no coroner there. Deceased was educated at Victoria College, and was about 20 years of age. The body was removed to Stirling by deceased's friends.

The best bargain in the city is that suit of clothes at Heunessy's for $6.50. It is an all wool, Halifax Tweed, well lined and trimmed. See it.

INCENTIVES FOR INCREASING POPULATION.—Sir Leonard Tilley having clearly shown by his carefully prepared Budget statement that Canada is more prosperous under a protective policy, and that the N. P. has been a great boon to our manufacturers it is a little strange that the founders of this prosperous policy should neglect the fountain head of all nations' wealth, and viz:—Babies on the free list. N. Davenport, Hatter and Furrier, being convinced that this party now in power have done give this great struggling industry the attention it deserves, will give prizes to every Baby born in the Counties of Hastings and Prince Edward during next December (1881,) as follows:—

For every Girl Baby—1 handsome Fur Hood.
For every Boy Baby—One Fur Turban.
For every Pair of Twins—Two Silver Cups.
For Triplets—One twenty dollar gold piece.

A physician's certificate is expected with every application for a prize, and it is to be hoped that Babies will not be imported into Hastings and Prince Edward from Adjington, Lennox and Northumberland Counties. Please remember while waiting for the "Little Ones" that N. Davenport has the largest and finest stock of Hats and Caps in Central Canada.

—The census returns show a decrease in population in Jefferson county, N. Y., since the census of 1860, of 3,719, but an increase of 691 over 1870. Watertown has a population of 10,697.

GRAND JUNCTION VS. THE CITY.

The Dispute again Before the Council—Is the Road Completed to Peterboro'?—How the Council Settled the matter

On the 10th of January last a resolution passed the Council authorizing the Mayor and Solicitor to settle the dispute between the City and Grand Junction Railway Company, by the payment of $8,500 in lieu of the $9,000 due. This was the offer of the latter. It was subsequently thought, however, that an objection might be taken to this settlement, on the ground that the Grand Junction Railway Company had not technically completed their road to Peterboro' in accordance with the specifications of the By-law passed by the ratepayers of the city, and to avoid this difficulty, Mayor Patterson called a special meeting of the City Council yesterday afternoon at four o'clock. The position of affairs may be stated as follows: The Grand Junction is at present using 2,000 feet of railway in Peterboro' that they have no legal claim upon, the court having forbidden both the Midland and Grand Junction railways from using it,and which is at present in litigation. Should the coming suit in Chancery be adverse to the latter railway, they have laid out another line along the main one now in use from Ashburnham station to Peterboro', (2,000 feet) and which they have until the 1st of June next to complete. This proposed side line met the approval of the Government, and they granted the usual subsidy. Hence the object of the Mayor in calling the special meeting.

At a few minutes past four twelve Aldermen and the Mayor were present in the Police Court Room,(the Women's Christian Association being in session in the Council Chamber,) and the meeting was called to order.

His Worship explained the object of the meeting. He said the Spring Courts were now close at hand, and some immediate steps should be taken, either to settle the difficulty or fight the pending law suit in Chancery. He had recently visited Peterboro' in company with the Solicitor, and had learned all the information that might be required by the Aldermen.

Ald. Diamond—I understood this matter was settled by the Council last January.

The Mayor made a satisfactory reply.

The Solicitor said he had asked Mr. Bickford for a certificate that the road was completed to Peterboro', which he had received, together with one from the Government Engineer, notwithstanding that a portion of the Grand Junction line between Ashburnham Station and Peterboro' is claimed by the Midland Railway, and the matter is now in litigation. It might, therefore, be claimed that the Grand Junction Company had not technically completed their road to Peterboro', in compliance with the requirements of the by-law. If this be the case, the city cannot be legally compelled to pay the amount asked by the G. J. Co., until the road is completed.

Ald. Petrie—It appears that we have always been in the dark in regard to the transaction between the city and the Grand Junction. Recently the Council visited Peterboro' and they then were well pleased with the road. Now, it transpires, that there are 2,000 feet of road unbuilt, and over this a heavy lawsuit is pending. I favored the settlement in January, according to Mr. Bickford's terms, and I have not changed my opinion since. We should avoid litigation in the matter if possible.

Ald. Vandusen—I presume that if this road is completed to Ashburnham station, it is completed to Peterboro,and we should consider it as such.

Ald. Jellett—I think it advisable that this matter should be settled at once, therefore I move that the Council go into Committee of the Whole on Ways and Means.

On this motion being put to the Council, Ald. Dickson raised a point of order. He thought the notice given was not sufficient to discuss properly so important a matter as this one before the Council.

The Mayor retorted that he understood the matter must be settled at this meeting. If not, the suit now in Chancery would be called on by the Grand Junction.

Ald. Dickson—How do you know this? The Mayor—I have no written document to that effect, but I have been verbally informed that a settlement must be brought about at this meeting.

Ald. Dickson moved in amendmet that whereas the amount involved in the question before the Council is very large, be it therefore resolved that the consideration of this matter be deferred until the next regular meeting of the Council, to enable the members to obtain more definite information on the subject.

In speaking to his amendment Ald. Dickson objected to the Council being bulldozed by these railway men,and urged that the Aldermen be given more time to consider a matter involving so much of the peoples' money as the present one did. The question could not receive the consideration that,should be given it at this meeting. The road, he said, was not completed to Peterboro' according to the Court of Chancery, nor could it be legally completed,until "one more river was crossed." (Laughter). While he was at Ottawa he said he never heard a road before receive such abuse as did the Grand Junction, even worse than that heaped upon the Grey and Bruce railroad by Forbes.

Ald. Jellet objected to the discussion by Ald. Dickson, on the ground that it was out of order.

Ald. Diamond raised another point of order—that Ald. Dickson's amendment was not an amendment to Ald. Jellett's motion, which was ruled by the Mayor as being well taken.

The Council went into Committee of the Whole on Ways and Means, Ald. Lingham in the chair.

The original amendment of Ald. Dickson was read as a motion to extend the time.

Ald. Jellett favored the immediate settlement of the difficulty between the city and the Grand Junction, and concluded by charging Ald. Dickson with endeavoring to throw the Council into a litigation with the railway company.

Ald. Dickson—I emphatically repudiate the charge; but I do object to a "threat-settlement which the Council is about to make.

Ald. Frost—I hold that the road should be considered as built to Peterboro'. If it had not been satisfactorily completed, the Government would not have granted their subsidy. I am opposed, nevertheless, to a "threat settlement," but I think it would be well to settle the matter at present and avoid litigation.

The Mayor wished,to correct a false impression that had gained credence. He said it was not Mr. Bickford that had threatened him with a suit; but the trustees of the road had urged the immediate settlement of the claim.

Ald. Dickson—Mr. Bickford threatens them, which means the same thing in the end.

Ald. Diamond—It is my belief that the station of Ashburnham is nearer the centre of the town of Peterboro' than it would be, were the 2,000 feet added to the road.

We can get to Peterboro' by the Grand Junction now, and because this railway and the Midland are fighting over a portion of track, it was no reason why we should object to the settlement offered by the Company. I object to extending the the time for considering this matter, as it has already been thoroughly discussed.

Ald. Ostrom favored the settlement of the claim, as was decided in January last by the Council.

On a vote being asked, Ald. Dickson's motion was lost.

Ald. Jellett moved, seconded by Ald. Dunnett, that in view of what has been represented by the Mayor and Solicitor, with respect to the position of the Grand Junction Railway, the report of the Government engineer, and payment by the Government of certain subsidies; knowing all the facts, it is the opinion of this Council that the terms of settlement arranged upon at the meeting of the Council in January last be carried out.—Carried.

Committee rose and reported; report received and adapted.

Council adjourned.

SAD ACCIDENT.—A very sad accident occurred in one of Mr. Meehey's shanties on the Madawaska recently. It appears that while Mr. John Toolan and Mr. D. McDonald, of Fitzroy, were scoring, McDonald having finished stepped off and when about seven feet distant from the log of timber Toolan's axe accidentally slipped from his hand striking his comrade on the thigh and leaving a severe wound, from which he died in about three hours afterwards. Deceased was about 19 years af age.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Washington specials to the Herald say Gen. Schneck's health is again precarious. Garfield visited him Sunday.

The Tribune says the two polar expeditions to be sent North this summer, one to Lady Franklin Bay, the other to the north coast of Alaska, are part of the polar observation enterprise in which several European nations are participants. Russia promises to occupy two stations, one at the mouth of the Lena in Eastern Siberia, the other on New Siberian Island. Sweden promises to occupy North Cape in Finland. Denmark will establish a station at Upernavik, in Greenland. Germany is expected to send an expedition to the Island of Jan Mayen, east of Greenland. REFORMS PROMISED IN RUSSIA

The Terms of the Boers.

PARIS, March 16.—Intransigant publishes a letter to Rochefort by a Russian refugee of Geneva, stating the Nihilists Committee had warned the Czar on 3rd inst., of the peril he would incur if freedom was not granted to the people, and asserting that the bombs thrown Sunday were manufactured at St. Petersburg by women.

DURBAN, March 16.—The armistice with the Boers has been extended four days, during which more provisions can be sent to the English garrisons.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 16.—It is thought necessary to follow the proclamation of Alexander III, by a special ukase summoning the peasants to join allegiance with other faithful subjects.

The Gales says the late Czar's reforms has not attained their end, because the cooperation of the Government and society was necessary. The state lately invited society to assist in struggling against the appellate faction. The question of form, in which the co-operation is to express itself, lately became matured. No doubt that had a sacrilegious hand not ended the life of the Czar he would have decided the question in the interest of his people. The Strara says there is no other issue than to diminish the responsibilities of the head of the Government, thus lessening the dangers personally threatening him from fanatical evil-doers.

NEWCASTLE, March 16.—Paul Kesger, in his letter to the President of Orange Free State, says the Boers long for peace, but must hold to the offer of a Republic under a British protectorate.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color, with the glow and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous, and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

A Lecture to Young Men
ON THE LOSS OF

MANHOOD

We have recently published a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacities, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6cts. or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞ The Lecture should be in the hand of every youth and every man in the land.

Address,

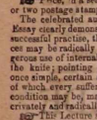
KNOW THYSELF.



THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; or, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be recovered and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than fifty valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth, price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says, "No persons should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nervo-specialist, and therefore knows where of he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon P. A. BISSELL, M. D., President of the National Medical Association.

Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, No. 4 Bulfinch St., Boston, Mass. The author HEAL THYSELF. may be consulted on all diseases skill and experience.

MARCH WINDS! The sudden changes and high winds which prevail in March makes a bottle of DOWN'S ELIXIR always necessary to have at hand. It is a sure cure for sudden colds and all lung diseases.

BAXTER'S MANDRAKE BITTERS will cure all bilious Diseases. Sold everywhere at 25 cts. per bottle. Try it.

The best remedy for strains and galls on horses is HENRY & JOHNSON'S ARNICA and OIL LINIMENT. Good for man and beast.

In the Foremost rank of Ame lean tonics and anti-periodics stands Northrop & Lyman's Quinine Wine. The weak, the nervous, the dyspeptic, never vainly seek its aid; sufferers from bilious, remittent, and intermittent fever, are surely rescued by it from the malarial scourge. Its taste is agreeable, its ingredients do not number one that is deleterious. The sherry which imparts to it an agreeable medicated flavor is eminently pure, and serves to diffuse throughout the system its fine medicinal properties. It revives failing appetite, is good save to sleep, and promotes regular secretion and evacuation. The nervous and dyspeptic, as it is well known, are often troubled with a degree of melancholy which in many cases reaches the stage of actual hypochondria. As the stomach regains its tone and the nerves recover their vigor, through the action of the Quinine Wine, this failing gradually wears off, and cheerfulness resumes its sway. Persons who are convalescing after an exhausting disease, should take it in properly regulated doses, as it will materially assist, thus taken, the restoration of vigor, which, without its aid might be tediously slow. Fever and ague and bilious remittent sufferers should take it only during the absence of the feverish symptoms. Lean persons, whose digestion is out of order, gain bodily substance as well as strength by its use. Use none but the Quinine Wine manufactured by Northrop & Lyman of Toronto, which can be procured of any druggist.

DAILY ONTARIO

The Leavenworth Case:

A LAWYER'S STORY.

BY ANNA KATHARINE GREEN.

Horrified I drew hastily back, when my glance fell upon a door situated directly opposite me in the side of the wall toward the hall. It appeared to be the only outlet from the room with the exception of the passage through which we had entered, and I could not help wondering if it was through there the assassin had come on his roundabout course to the library. But Mr. Gryce seemingly ignoring my glance, though his own was fixed upon the chandelier, made haste to remark, as if in reply to the inquiry in my face:

"Found locked on the inside; may have come that way and may not; we don't pretend to say."

Observing now that the bed was undisturbed in its arrangement, I remarked: "He had not retired then?"

"No; the tragedy must be ten hours old. Time for the murderer to have studied the situation and provided for all contingencies."

"The murder? Whom do you suspect?" I whispered.

He looked impassively at the ring on my finger.

"Everyone and nobody." And dropping the curtain into its former position he led me from the room.

The corner's inquest being now in session, I felt a strong desire to be present, so requesting Mr. Gryce to inform the ladies that Mr. Valley being absent from town, I had come as one of his partners, to render them any assistance they might require on so melancholy and occasion, I proceeded to the large parlour below and took my seat among the various persons there assembled.

CHAPTER II.

THE CORONER'S INQUEST.

The baby figure of the giant mass
Of things to come.
THOILUS AND CRESSIDA.

For a few minutes I sat dazed by the sudden flood of light that greeted me from the many open windows, then as the strangely contrasting features of the scene before me began to impress themselves upon my consciousness, I found myself experiencing something of the same sensation of double personality, which years before had followed an enforced use of ether. As at that time it appeared to me that I was living two lives at once, in two distinct places, with two separate sets of incidents going on, so now did I seem to be divided between two irreconcilable trains of thought; the gorgeous house, its elaborate furnishing, the little glimpses of yesterday's life as seen in the open piano with its sheet of music held in place by a lady's dainty fan, occupying my attention fully as much as the aspect of the throng of incongruous and impatient people, huddled about me.

Perhaps one reason of this lay in the extraordinary splendour of the room I was in; the glow of satin, glitter of bronze and glimmer, meeting the eye at every turn. But I am rather inclined to think that it was mainly due to the force and eloquence of a certain picture that confronted me from the opposite wall. A sweet picture—sweet enough and poetic enough to have been conceived by the most idealistic of artists; simple too—the vision of a young, golden-haired, blue-eyed coquette, dressed in the costume of the First Empire, standing in a wood path, looking back over her shoulder as if at some one following—yet with such a dash of something not altogether saintlike in the corners of her meek eyes and baby-like lips, that it impressed me with the individuality of life. Had it not been for the open dress with its waist almost beneath the armpits, the hair cut short on the forehead and the perfection of the neck and shoulders, I could have taken it for a literal portrait of one of the ladies of the house. As it was, I could not rid myself of the idea that one, if not both of Mr. Leavenworth's nieces, looked down upon me from the eyes of the entrancing beauty, with the beckoning glance and forbidding hand. So vividly did this fancy impress me, that I half shuddered as I looked, wondering if this sweet creature did not know what had occurred in the house since the unhappy yesterday, that she should stand there smiling so invitingly—when suddenly I became aware that I had been watching the little crowd of men about me with as complete attention as if there were nothing else in the room but themselves. That the face of the coroner, sternly intelligent and attentive, was as distinctly imprinted upon my mind as that of the lovely picture, or the clear cut and more visible features of the sculptured Psyche, shining in mellow beauty from the crimson-hung window at his right. Yes, even then the various countenances of the jury-men clustered about me, commonplace and insignificant as most of them were, the trembling forms of the excited servants crowded into a far corner, and still more agreeable aspect of the pale-faced, steely reporter, seated at a small table and writing with a ghoul-like avidity that made my flesh creep, were each and all as fixed as an element in the remarkable scene before me, as the splendour of the surroundings which made their presence such a night-mare of discord and unreality.

I have spoken of the coroner. As fortune would have it, he was no stranger to me. I had not only seen him before, but had had frequent conversation with him—in fact knew him. His name was Hammond, and he was universally regarded as a man of more than ordinary acuteness, fully capable of conducting an important examination with the necessary skill and address. Interested as I was, or rather was likely to be, in this particular inquiry, I could not but congratulate myself upon our good fortune in having so intelligent a coroner.

As for his jurymen, they were, as I have intimated, very much like all other bodies of a similar character picked up at random from the streets, but from within sight of the Fifth and Sixth avenues, they presented much the same appearance of average intelligence and refinement as might be seen in the chance occupants of one of our city stages rolling down Broadway, with its quota of business men. Indeed, I marked but one amongst them all who seemed to take any interest in the enquiry, as an enquiry; all the rest appearing to be actuated in the fulfillment of their duty, by the commoner instincts of apathy and indigestion.

Dr. Maynard, the well-known surgeon of Thirty-Sixth street, was the first witness called. His testimony was mainly concerning the nature of the wound found in the murdered man's head. As some of the facts presented by him are likely to be of importance to us in our narrative, I will proceed to give a synopsis of what he said.

To be continued.

The Great American Remedy for COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, LOSS OF VOICE, HOARSENESS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS.

Prepared from the finest Red Spruce Gum. (Delicious to the taste). Immediate, Soothing, Expectorant and above Superior to any medicine offered for all the above complaints. A scientific discovery of the Gum which exudes from the Red Spruce tree—without doubt the most valuable healing Gum for medicinal purposes.

Every one who has used the well-known and favorite "Pine Balsam" will find these properties and their expectoration qualities in the pine, in a greatly increased degree from the Spruce.

In these days of Pulmonary Consumption, no remedy can be relied on that does not contain the healing properties of the Spruce Gum. In fact, no remedy can be relied on that does not contain a large quantity of the Red Spruce Gum, as a large majority of the so-called Pine Balsams are made from the White Spruce.

In this we claim to have discovered a remedy that will relieve the most distressing cough in a few hours, and cure in a few days, and that will cure Consumption in its first stages, and relieve in the most distressing cases.

It is remarkable power in relieving certain forms of Bronchitis, and its almost specific effect in curing obstinate hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large.

Sold by all respectable chemists. Price, 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

DAILY ONTARIO

WINTER'S AWFUL SEVERITY.

Stories of Almost Incredible Hardships in the West—Fears that the Spring will Reveal that Many Persons have Perished in Inaccessible Regions—Cattle Dying by the Thousand.

A representative of the Chicago Times who has just returned from a tour through cattle ranges lying between the Missouri River and the Rocky Mountains reports that the winter in that section has been the severest ever experienced, and that the loss of cattle will exceed 400,000 head, valued at from $8,000,000 to $10,000,000. The poor brutes had died in myriads, whole herds being wiped out in a night. He says the death rate among the cattle in that tract, which is embraced within lines extending north and south through Sidney and Ninth Platte, towns on the Union Pacific railroad, in Nebraska, 125 miles apart, is in all probability larger than anywhere else in the entire grazing country. The cattle men have designated this and the dry belt in Colorado as the "burnt district." The Nebreska burnt district is 200 miles one way by 125 miles across on the south, and 170 on the north. There is an immense number of cattle in this area — a half a million or more. There is a succession of mammoth herds on the North Platte, Loup, and Niobrara rivers, and the mortality among them is believed to be between 25 and 40 per cent., according to location. West of the Black Hills stage route from Sidney the loss will not be great, but east of that line they have died by the thousands. On the Niobrara ranges, east of Antelope Creek, owners themselves admit a loss of 50 per cent., and south of that there is a bovine cemetery until the Platte is crossed. The great loss in this particular region is due to the heavy snow storms, which were preceded by sleet and rain, that encrusted the earth's surface in a sheet of ice. Even had there been no snow the cattle could not have gotten at the grass, which was under a coat of ice, but the snow aggravated the trouble somewhat, and for weeks the cattle endured the horrible torture of slow starvation. Thousands upon thousands drifted down upon the South Platte after grass and water, but, as the river was frozen, they could get neither. The recent heavy snow storms which visited Eastern Nebraska and the Northwest did not trouble the burnt district, kindly nestling in under protection, and so there is a prospect of brighter days. Thousands of dead cattle cover the ground between Sydney and North Platte within sight of the railroad track. Many of them have been killed by the cars, but by far the larger number died of cold and starvation. They were massed between the two forks of the Platte which come together at North Platte, and the suffering of the poor brutes is said by those who saw them to have been frightful. They filled the air with their cries of agony, and wandered about until so weak that when they lay down to rest they could not get up again. Nothing could be done for their relief. It would have been a hopeless task to have tried to feed them. A thousand tons of hay would not have gone around. The poor things, overcome by the cold, could not be driven back on the snowy ranges. They resisted force by sullen refusal to budge, preferring to remain where they were and die than to move. They devoured every vestige of grass that could be found, and even chewed the hair on their tails and in some cases that were witnessed by literalists are described as having eaten one another. The losses in other districts, while not so heavy, are very severe. Over-production is one cause of calamity which has been dwelt upon time and again. The limited resources of the country having for some years been taxed to the utmost by the enormous herds which have roamed over the Western plains, the foolish cupidity of ranching has also taken place among the settlers, and it is feared that many in back settlements have perished through eo'd and hunger.

Consumption Cured.
An old physician, retired from practice having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt in his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relief human suffering I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using in German, French or English. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 149 powers Block rochester, N.Y.

THE HAPPIEST WOMAN.

Olive Logan's Washington Letter:—All eyes were turned upon the mother of Gen. Garfield as she entered and took her place in the gallery reserved for distinguished persons, on the left hand of Mrs. Hayes, the youngest Mrs. Garfield sitting on the right hand of the wife of the retiring president. The beautiful, little venerable mother reminds one of some of those sweet aged Primroses one still meets in the streets of Philadelphia, tiny creatures who seem so fragile one would think a rough gust of wind would blow them away, and yet whose features betoken such firmness and decision of character as unmistakably indicate a forceful mind. Clad all in black, a snug little Quakerish bonnet neatly fitting her small head, a long, comfortable black cloak enwrapping her slender form, the aged mother of the president attracted more attention than the greatest beauty present.

Beside such small ladies as the two Mrs. Garfields, Mrs. Hayes looked like a woman of almost colossal stature. Over a handsome dress of black brocade she wore a large sealskin cloak which reached to the bottom of her skirt, and widened her bulk, while her stature was increased by a white bonnet, upon which was fastened a waving white feather of that kind sometimes sentimentally called the "weeping willow," though the professional French milliner name for it is simply "torn feather." She carried an exquisite bouquet of lilies of the valley, those sweet little harbingers of the lovely spring which, along with the proverbial good time, is coming, though the train is sadly delayed.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

TUESDAY 15th.

Further Supplementary Estimates for the current fiscal year, and Supplementary Estimates for the next fiscal year, were brought down by Governor-General's message. Sir Leonard Tilley's resolution reducing the rate of interest payable on the Harbor Commissioners of Montreal was passed in committee, and a subsidying bill to same introduced. The Bill respecting naturalization and aliens were read a second time. In consequence of the opposition manifested, even on the Ministerial benches, the Government Bill to amend the Act relating to inspection of steamboats was withdrawn. The Bill to amend the Consolidated Railway Act by defining the word capital was advanced a couple of stages. The Bill to establish a marine telegraph between the Pacific coast of Canada and Asia was advanced to the second reading and through Committee. The House resolved itself into a Committee of the whole in consideration of the supplementary estimates for the current fiscal year, which were adopted. On motion for the third reading of the Dominion Lands Act, amendments were offered by Messrs. Mills, Charlton, Holton, and Blake, respectively, all of them with a view to the prevention of monopoly in the North West lands, and to better ensure actual settlement by purchasers. The amendments were all declared lost on division. Concurrence in supply was then taken up and all but a few items on which there will be some discussion were disposed of. The House adjourned at 1.15.

The best receipt for going through life in a commendable way is to feel that every body, no matter how rich or how poor, needs all the kindness they can get from others in the world. Let us remember this great truth, and commence with those around us. Let the poor and needy, and those who do not take the daily or weekly newspaper be kindly informed if in sickness, whether it be form coughs, lung diseases, asthma, or consumption, that by the use of R. L. Dosms' Vegetable Balsamic Elixir they can be cured. Keep not this good news to ourselves, but spread the sunshine of hope around.

Is health worth having? If it is, protect it. It is as well as easily lost and wrinen, and in many cross as difficult to recover. In this climate, and more particularly at this season of the year, people are very apt to take cold and suffer from sore throat, coughs, spitting of blood, and pulmonary complaints generally, which if not checked immediately lead to serious consequences. The question arises, which is the quickest and most effectual remedy? Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers have been before the public for twenty years, have always given perfect satisfaction, and invariably effect permanent cures when taken in season. Sold by all medicine dealers and country stores at 25 cents a box.

The buss turner stove, the telephone and electric improvements are but the outward signs of a domestic and social revolution within the last few years. Among these improvements is of not small importance the use of pure tobacco. The great majority of men smoke tobacco; have done so for centuries past and will continue to do so. It is important, therefore, that they should smoke the best quality of the article. That is what they are supplied with in the "Myrtle Navy." Try a sample and have it said it knew that its flavor cannot be surpassed, that its quality is always uniform and that the only care they have to exercise in its purchase is to see that the trade mark T. & B. is stamped on the plug.

MEDFORD, Mass., Sept. 18, 1877.
MR. GILES—Dear Sir: I have used your Pebble Amonia Liniment and find it the best remedy I ever used. For a sprain or gallons there is nothing qualito it. My wife rejoiced also after the first Sunday of using it. I used the Liniment as per directions; the second application was a perfect cure. Some of my friends sanied last night for Johnson Co., Kentucky; they have also several bottles with them. I have used it on my horses and it works like a charm. I am going to Kentucky next month—farming. You may say we like treating of horses and other animals, please send me two or three copies, and oblige

NEW YORK BUTTER MARBET.

In reporting the market prices for butter, the New York Tribune, of May 20th, said, "Choice packages to the retail trade bring 19 to 20 cents, but light colored goods are hard to dispose of, and several lots were thought well sold at 16 to 19 cents. This stern logic of dollars and cents is rapidly convincing diarymen that they should use the Perfected Butter Color made by Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt. It gives the prettest June color the year round and can also that is better sold at better retail colored goods to market.

TWENTY YEARS A SUFFERER.

DR. H. V. PIERCE
Dear Sir—Twenty years ago I was shipwrecked on the Atlantic Ocean, and the cold and exposure caused a large abscess to form on each leg, which kept continually discharging. After spending hundreds of dollars, with no benefit, I was persuaded to try your Golden Medical Discovery, and now, in less than three months after taking the first bottle, I am thankful to say I am completely cured, and for the first time in ten years can put my left foot to the ground.
I am, sir, yours respectfully,

MAN'S NOBLEST WORK.

Steam, electricity, water, air, all are made to ferve man, but unquestionably the greatest inventions are those which benefit man's health and prolong his life, and among the greatest of these is Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Its effects are truly wonderful and hundreds are happy to-day, who once looked forward to an early grave. For Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Loss of Voice, Hay Fever, Hoarseness, Croup, or any effections whatever of the Throat, Chest or Lungs, Dr. king's New Discovery will positively cure. We can cheerfully recommend it to all, ad can unhesitatingly say it is the only sure cure for Throat and Lung affections. Trial bottles ten cents; regular size $1. For sale by Jas. Clarke & Co.
From Hon. W. H. Jones, of West Dover, Vt.
"I have been troubled from my boyhood with chronic or bronchitic lung complaint. Some three years ago, settling in the winter, I took cold, which as usual settled into a severe cough, which continued to increase as the season advanced, although I made use of all the cough remedies I had knowledged of. My family physician also prescribed for me, but I experienced no relief. During this time I was gradually running down, losing flesh and strength, until my friends as well as myself, plainly saw that unless some change should waste away in consumption. While in Boston, during the spring following, I was induced to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. After one day's trial I was sensible that it was relieving me; in ten day's time my cough had entirely ceased, and I was soon restored to health and strength. I have ever since kept the Balsam in my house, and whenever any member of my family has a cough or cold, it is immediately resorted to. No family should be without it."

for the cure of all the various diseases of the Head, Throat and Chest, including the Eye, Ear and Heart.
But a few weeks or months are required to cure the most obstinate cases of Catarrh, Throat diseases, Asthma, Bronchitis, and the earlier stages of Consumption when the treatment is conducted under the Doctors own personal supervision. A week to the wise is therefore sufficient.
All diseases of the respiratory organs treated by medical inhalations.
Inhalations remove impurities by distributing the medicinal matter existing in the air cells of the lungs, thus enabling the patient to expectorate it with ease, at the same time giving the diseased surface an opportunity to heal.
Inhalations scatter inflammation and soothe the inflamed surface, thus relieving a distressing cough almost immediately.
Inhalations absorb the fleshy excrescences that exist upon the pharyngeal surface in cases of granulated throat, and restore the proper vitality of the parts, thus relieving the hoarseness of the worst case of the clergyman as if needles were penetrating the mucous membrane of the pharynx.
Inhalations will cure the most stubborn cases of Catarrh when combined with proper constitutional and other topical treatment.
In fact, Inhalations will cure disease in every instance that has stood the test and proved again and again the only logical and means of treatment.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

The Home Rule members of the Imperial Parliament are not offering so much obstruction to the Government measures lately, and as a consequence public business is much facilitated.

Hon. Mr. Huntington's libel suit against the Montreal Gazette has already convinced Conservative journals with a like tendency for defamation, that the characters of public men, who happen to be political opponents, cannot be maligned with impunity.

The impression seems to prevail quite extensively that a general European war is imminent, as a consequence of the changes in Russia. The present Czar is known to be anti-German in sympathy, and will not be slow to resent any interference from that quarter.

The elopement of Count Herbert, son of Prince Bismarck, with the Princess Elizabeth, wife of Prince Charles of Carolath-Benthen, is confirmed. It is said this domestic calamity is the chief cause of Prince Bismarck's recent irritability and bad humor.

The evidence of Mr. Wickers, the head teacher of the Blind Institute at Brantford, in the investigation still pending, though guarded, bears hard upon the Principal. Enough has now been learned to justify the conclusion that Mr. Hunter is arbitrary, tyrannical and vindictive in his treatment of teachers and pupils, and that the moral tone of the Institution is in a demoralized state.

We congratulated Mr. E. J. B. Pense, of the Whig, when he was declared elected Mayor of the City of Kingston, but perhaps our congratulations were premature. Dr. Stewart, who was a candidate for the same office in opposition to Mr. Pense, and who received about three dozen votes is after the young Mayor with a ponderous legal shillalah. He wants the election declared null and void, on the ground that bribery was resorted to by Mr. Pense to secure his election. The Dr. has not yet made out his case, but he has the documents. We are sorry for Mr. Pense.

ANOTHER HOLE IN THE N. P.

The Conservatives will not admit that the N. P. is a failure, nor that its defects are ruinous to Canada. The Opposition contend, and furnish proof to sustain their contention, that, instead of fostering and encouraging Canadian industries, it is driving hundreds who would engage in certain branches of trade or employment to the United States. The raw material, which is necessary for the establishment of many of these industries, and which cannot be procured in Canada, is so heavily taxed as to prevent its being imported with profit to the manufacturer, &c. We have a point in illustration of this, which, though referring to cattle raising, involves the same principles.

Mr. Wiser, M. P., and Senator Cochrane, want to establish extensive cattle ranches in the North West. In order to make a beginning, they must have a herd of the proper breed of cattle. The N. P. tariff places a duty of 20 per cent. upon animals of all kinds except those brought into Canada temporarily for exhibition purposes. Messrs. Wiser and Cochrane find this tax too much of a charge upon their enterprise at the outset, and conclude that it will be much more to their interest to establish their ranches in the United States, than import cattle under such disadvantages. These circumstances having been placed before the Government, the Premier takes the responsibility of driving a coach and four right through the N. P., much to the horror of the Finance Minister and the Tories generally. He graciously informed Messrs. Wiser and Cochrane that their herds would be admitted from the United States free of duty, provided that a guarantee should be given that the cattle would actually be used to start a ranch, and not sold as merchandise after their importation. In this case, the cattle are, as it were, the raw material of a new industry, which it is desirable to encourage. If the N. P. can be so easily set aside in order to concede free importation, what objections can be urged to similar applications for free trade from those placed under like circumstances? By degrees the Tories themselves will expose the fraud, by way of circumvention and evasion.

AN ORANGEMAN ON ORANGE INCORPORATION.

Mr. Peck, an Orangemen and a member of the Local Legislature, made an admirable address on the Orange Incorporation question, which it was before the House, which has attracted considerable attraction. He gave it as his firm conviction that the agitation by certain leaders of the Orange Order in Ontario, for incorporation under a special act, had a political object, and that the rank and file of the Order were opposed to such action. If the Conservative party returned to power immediately nothing more would be heard about Orange Incorporation; and Mr. Peck had no more hope that they would pass an Act of Incorporation for the Orange Association than he could have of going to heaven without repentance. He called attention to the pledge exacted from Hon. P. Vankoughnet, Commissioner of Crown Lands in the Tory Government of 1868, by the Roman Catholic Bishops, when arranging for the vote of their religious followers in Ottawa. Hon. Mr. Cayley, Finance Minister, had been defeated in two western constituences, and as a last resort appealed to the electors of Renfrew, which had been made vacant for him by the resignation of the sitting member. His election in this constituency was doubtful, unless the entire Roman Catholic vote could be obtained for him, and this the Hon. P. Vankoughnet engaged to get. A meeting of the leading Roman Catholics was held and the desired help was agreed to be given, provided Mr. Vankoughnet would give a written pledge that the Government would pass such a Separate School Bill as the Bishops of the Roman Catholic Church should desire, and oppose Orange Incorporation. The pledge was given in writing, and the Roman Catholics voted to a man for Mr. Cayley. Mr. Peck said he had yet to learn that the Conservative party had ever done one thing to show that they did not consider the bargain and sale of the Orangemen in 1868 as binding now as when the contract was entered into. He concluded as follows :—

He would not speak for the leaders of the Order, that was for themselves to say, but he believed that the time was not far distant when the rank and file of the Orange Order would call to account their leaders for making political capital out of the agitation—if they were guilty of such an action. While he, as an Orangeman, was not satisfied with the present Government for withholding the Special Act of Incorporation, yet they had given the Orangemen, through the General Act, the only recognition they ever had, and he was not disposed to exchange them for a party who, for political pur poses, deliberately sold them.

WHERE THE MONEY GOES.

The Toronto World rises to remark that offices and salaries are not standing still at Ottawa. They are increasing at a rate that bids fair to keep pace with the increase of the revenue. In 1878 there were twenty-nine clerks in the department of state, who were paid $38,990; last year there were thirty-nine, who were paid $40,035—an increase of ten clerks and $6,045 in salaries. In the department of the interior during the same time the number of clerks was increased by thirty-one and the salaries by $24,270, and in the public works department (including railways) there was an increase of fifteen clerks and $20,180 in salaries. This makes a total increase in the three departments named of fifty-six men and $50,495 in salaries, which is not a bad record for the friends of economy and retrenchment.

FIFTY YEARS MARRIED.

A Double Anniversary for Mr. and Mrs. J. Traver.

To-day is not only the anniversary of Ireland's Patron Saint, but it is a double anniversary for Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Traver of this city. Eighty years ago to-day Mr. Traver was born in the State of New York, and when about twenty years of age came with his father—an officer in the British army of the American revolution and a U. E. Loyalist—to Canada. A few log and frame houses of primitive construction, upon what is now known as the "Plains," constituted the embryo city of Belleville. Mr. Traver settled on a farm in the woods, eight miles from Belleville, on the front of Sidney, and there he lived until about three years ago, when he removed to the city. Fifty years ago to-day he was married to Annie Weeks, a native of the Green Mountain State, who is still hale and hearty, though 72 years of age. They were made man and wife by the Rev. Mr. Campbell, one of the first Church of England ministers of Belleville, and who then had a monopoly of the matrimonial business in this section of the country, as Dissenters were not permitted to perform such ceremonies. A family of eight children—six of whom are now living—increased their cares and multiplied their joys. Mr. and Mrs. Traver have both passed the allotted period of human existence, but are still in full possession of all their faculties, and remarkably strong and active. Twice every Sunday, weather permitting, the old gentleman walks from his residence near the Baptist Church, to John-st. Presbyterian Church, to attend divine service. Mrs. T., also, can get about with as much dexterity as the majority of women of half her age. The venerable people live alone, having a comfortable home, and attend to all their own wants. Though they did not celebrate the 50th anniversary of their married life by a golden wedding, they were made the recipients of many kind wishes and hearty congratulations. They are looking towards the setting sun with a firm trust in the goodness and mercy of that God who has been with them and blessed them during so many years of mutual joy and sorrow.

PERSONAL.

—Mr. J. G. Moylan, Inspector of Prisons, has recovered from a protracted and serious attack of inflammatory rheumatism.

—G. A. Sala says the negro dialect in the South was the only original tongue he heard during his recent visit to America.

—Buffalo Bill is said to be worth $100,000, and he has made it all by war whoops and tomahawk flourishes on the variety stage.

—Mr. James Fahey, who lectures in the Metropolitan Hall this evening, under the auspices of the St. Patrick's Society, is not only an eloquent and talented speaker, but a prominent and honored member of the Fourth Estate. He is at present one of the editors of the Mail, where his daily contributions of sound Tory philosophy is appreciated even by those who do not agree with him. His Irish wit serves a good purpose in smoothing over objectionable political points of discussion. We bid him welcome to Belleville, and bespeak for him a cordial reception this evening.

THE SOCIALIST CREED.

Nihilism, Communism and Socialism all mean the same thing. In different countries the same organization of revolutionary spirits assumes a different name, but the principles that actuate each are almost identical. There is a strong sympathy existing between the Nihilists of Russia, the Socialists of Germany, the Communists of France and the revolutionists of other countries. We quote from the new 'gospel' of the Nihilists a clause which will show the object these societies have in view :—

"The old world must be destroyed and replaced by a new one. The lie must be stamped out and give way to truth. It is our mission to destroy the lie, and to effect this we must begin at the very commencement. Now the beginning of all those lies which have ground down this poor world in slavery is God. Tear out of your hearts the belief in the existence of God, for as long as an atom of that silly superstition remains in your minds you will never know what freedom is. When you have got rid of the belief in this priest-begotten God, and when, moreover, you are convinced that your existence and that of the surrounding world is due to the conglomeration of atems in accordance with the laws of gravity and attraction, then and then only you will have accomplished the first step toward liberty, and you will experience less difficulty in ridding your minds of that second lie which tyranny has invented. The first lie is God, the second lie is right. Might invented the fiction of right in order to insure and strenghten her reign. Might, my friends, forms the sole groundwork of society. Might makes and unmakes laws, and that might should be in the hands of the majority."

The revolutionist next counsels those he addresses to let their own happiness be their only law, and to snap asunder the remaining chains that bind them—" called "science, civilization, property, marriage, "morality and justice." Summing up his creed, he says :

"Our first work must be distruction and annihilation of everything as it now exists. You must accustom yourselves to destroy everything—the good with the bad. For if an atom of this old world remains the new will never be created. Take heed that no ark be allowed to rescue any atom of this old world which we consecrate to destruction."

A SHARP RETORT.

Rev. Dr. Wild, of Bond-St. Congregational Church, Toronto, has a letter in yesterday's Globe, replying to one from Rev Dr Dewart, editor of the Christian Guardian, that appeared in the same paper on Tuesday. After detailing all the circumstances of the trouble between them he says :—

Dr. Dewart says, "I may be all that can be desired in personal character." I answer that I am more than "may be." The public who have known me the past twenty five years I call as a witness. And for "piety, faith and life" in the past I have more than the pledge and official assurance of Bond-street. I have a good conscience, the good Lord, and the public before whom I have gone out and in as a minister for more than a quarter of a century. I am clear on the books. Not one of the churches over which I have been a pastor but what will say Amen to this. I call Hamilton, Goderich, Orona, Belleville, Brooklyn, N. Y., and Bond-street in testimony of what I say.

I cannot help thinking that the Rev. Dr. Dewart would have acted more wisely if he had let this matter alone. I called to see him when his first article appeared. Not finding him I then wrote him a note, informing him of my standing. To the note or information he paid no attention. I was then, after waiting three weeks, obliged to explain matters to my church. On this explanation he writes another editorial in the Christian Guardian abusing me, and calling my congregation and church vile names. Then yesterday, he sallies forth through the Globe. I think it would be more becoming the good Doctor to pray for me and my people, than scourge us with vile epithets. I hope he and all the ministers of Toronto will pray for Bond-street Church and its Pastor.

Taking it for granted that Bond-street Church has done wrong; what is there wrong in trying to get right, and wherein do I do wrong as a minister of the Gospel in coming to their rescue? Souls are being converted, the church built up, Heaven is kindly smiling upon church congregation and pastor. What I ask is, that those who do not feel like helping us, let us alone. I am a Christian, a Minister, a Canadian citizen, and a British subject, all of which I hope to remain through good or evil report. I do sincerely pray that God will bless us all with a brotherly spirit.

QUEEN'S COLLEGE.

Principal Grant and the Registrar of the University Council, Mr. A. P. Knight, yesterday morning counted the voting papers sent in for the election of the seven members of the Council who retire annually. The following is the result :

Rev. M. W. McLean, M. A., of Belleville.
John A. Mudie, B. A., of Kingston.
James McCammon, M. D., of Kingston.
Rev. D. Fraser, M. A., of Mount Forest.
Thos. H. Dennis, M. D., Kingston.
D. B. McTavish, M. A., Ottawa.
F. C. Crysler, B. A., Ottawa.

The following stood next those elected : Rev. H. Cameron, W. A. Lang, and G. M. Milligan ; Messrs. W. Henderson, M. D., J. B. Dow, B. A., George R. Webster, B. A., Donald McIntyre, M. A., and Rev. Mr. Ferguson, M. A., B. D. Votes were cast for thirty-one different persons.

WAS HE POISONED ?.—In November last Isaac Waters died suddenly at his home in Copenhagen, near Alymer. The doctors were of the opinion that the symptoms pointed to death from poison, but although there was some talk of an inquest none was held. After the lapse of some weeks the neighbors began to whisper of foul play and a Government detective was sent in to investigate the case. On the sixth of January it was decided to exhume the body, and the stomach was sent to Toronto for analysis. The result is not yet reported, but suspicion of the old man, who was married to a young wife, being put out of the way is rife.

The best bargain in the city is that suit of clothes at Hennessy's for $6.50. It is an all wool, Halifax Tweed, well lined and trimmed. See it.

PARLIAMENTARY NOTES.

Quite a number of M. P.'s left for their homes last night and this morning. It seems now to be pretty generally understood that prorogation will take place on Tuesday next.

Among the items in the supplementary estimates is one of $10,000 for the erection of the monument to Sir George E. Cartier, the location of which has not yet been decided upon.

The training ship Charybdis is to be sailed across the "ocean blue," and so five thousand dollars will be saved in the transport of the gift of Her Majesty. The vessel is to be used as a training ship for naval service.

Dr. Orton's bill in relation to foreign railway agents encouraging emigration from Canada contains some queer clauses. One is to prohibit any railway agent from granting free passes and reduced rates to parties going to the States. The bill will likely be laughed out of the House should it come up this session, which is scarcely likely.

The Public Accounts Committee met yesterday when the Plumb speech matter was again discussed, a resolution being moved by Mr. Ross to the effect that the publication of private members' speeches at the public expense was wrong. An amendment was introduced by Hon. Mr. Tilley staying a division in the committee over until Monday, which means that nothing further will be done in regard to the matter."

—According to a St. Petersburg despatch, the Czar last week received a box from abroad containing some pills and a letter. When the box was opened a slight explosion occurred, and the pills were found to contain enough of a highly explosive substance to kill three persons.

STARTLING AN EXTENSIVE STOCK FARM.—Mr. J. P. Wiser, M. P., proprietor of Rysdyk stock farm, at Prescott, and owner of the large distillery at that place, left for New York to-day. He will return on Friday, and at the close of the session will proceed to Kentucky to purchase horses, after which he will go to Kansas and start a 40,000-acre cattle ranche, for which he has already made arrangements. It is Mr. Wiser's intention to start a cattle ranche at Wood Mountain, in the Northwest, and stock it with between 3,000 and 5,000 head of cattle.

—Bussakoff, who was arrested immediately after throwing the bomb which burst under the Czar's carriage, stated that a dead body found near the spot was that of the man who threw the fatal explosive. The police also discovered the house where the explosive missiles had been obtained. A male occupant of the house committed suicide, but a woman was arrested. The police found a number of grenades, and other murderous missiles in the house. A young man entered, but when the police attempted to arrest him he fired upon them and killed a policeman. Other arrests have also been made.

The Best Field FOR EMIGRANTS,

An Immense Area of Railroad and Government Lands, of great fertility, within easy reach of permanent market, at extremely low prices, is now offered for sale in Eastern Oregon and Eastern Washington Territory.

These lands form part of the great Grain Belt of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 250 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded for all parts of the world.

Grain at Portland, Oregon, commands a price equal to that obtained in Chicago.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R. R. is now assured, and guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the construction of the network of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R. & N. Co. in the valleys of the Great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the lands now open to purchase or pre-emption. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future.

Lands show an average yield of 40 bushels of wheat per acre. No failure of crops ever known.

Railroad Lands offered at the uniform rate of $2.50 an acre.

March Sales.

OUR customers are generally aware that we received our usual Spring assortment of STAPLE and FANCY DRY GOODS much earlier this year than usual; but our sales during the months of January and February so satisfactory, that if the present months' sales prove large, we will be under the necessity of laying in a second supply in most lines. To ensure this we are marking our Spring goods as well as any Winter goods that are left over at an unusually low advance on cost, and we invite customers to compare our prices and value.

We invite special attention to

The blood cannot properly perform its functions when loaded with impurities, because it is thick and sluggish; and every person needs at times something to cleanse and quicken the vital current. Dr. J. C. Ayer's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla meets this want perfectly, and this discovery of this eminent chemist ranks as important in preserving the blood in a healthy condition as does that of Wm. Harvey in demonstrating its circulatory action. Nothing else so vitalizes, purifies and enriches the blood as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is a perfect blood and nerve food. It tones the stomach, but greatly assists and promotes the digestion and assimilation of all nutriments, and increases their power to sustain and nourish the body. In renovating the blood it cleans and quickens the intellect, and thus gives it both mind and body the power of long sustained, arduous and successful effort. —Corning, N. Y., Journal.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Local Brevities.

—The shamrock was the favorite emblem to-day.

—The spring cleaning should begin at once and be prosecuted energetically.

—When you confer a benefit on a man you spoil it if you ever afterward speak of it.

—If clothes are absolutely dry before they are folded and laid away, they will not mildew.

—A young lady at a ball called her beau an Indian, because he was on her trail all the time.

—It is said that if you take a sufficiently large dose of morphine it will cure you of all your bad habits at once.

—"Spring will be backward," predicted Vennor, as he was about to apply a red hot poker to the cat's nose.

—"A babe," says a writer, "is a mother's anchor." We have often heard that the first thing they do is to weigh it.

—Appearances are nothing if you are in the right; but if you are in the wrong you must pay especial attention to them.

—The wise man as well as the fool makes blunders. The wise man, however, never makes the same blunder twice.

—One neglected sewer is more dangerous to the health of a vicinity than a hundred thousand dogs, taking the ordinary chances of Hydrophobia.

—The old question, "What is love?" is again being agitated. Let's see. Love is what you don't get when you marry for money. Sometimes you don't get the money either and then you find yourself in a warm fix.

—We learn that one end of the new swing-bridge at Trenton has shown signs of an imperfect foundation, and has sunk about four inches. If this is the case, considerable more expense will be incurred in making the structure substantial and safe.

—The shamrock was drowned to-day.

—One prisoner was sole occupant of the cells last night.

—The Custom Office is located temporarily in the Robertson Block.

—And now a pin factory is talked of in Kingston. Better get the cotton factory first.

—Vennor's snow storm for to-day got caught in a warm current and turned to rain.

—Open water is seen in the vicinity of "The Brothers," near the foot of Amherst Island.

—The market to-day was rather slimly attended, owing, no doubt, to the appearance of rain.

—The skipping rope is again in use. The Board of Education at Sprinfield, Ohio, has condemned the practice by little girls.

—The Toronto World calls Dr. Stewart of Kingston "the man from Shropshire." The venerable Dr. won't stand such nonsence, that's boy.

—A market wagon with a number of beautiful flowers was parading the streets today. The best and most agreeable sign of spring we have met with so far this season.

—The temperance people of Picton held a mass meeting Tuesday night and passed resolutions condemning the action of the Senate in passing the amendment to the Scott Act.

—City scavengers were at work to-day cleaning the bridges. The winter's accumulation of filth is very objectionable to the sight and smell. A little more thawing will give them a big job on Front-St.

—Be sure and hear Mr. James Fahey on "The Irish School of Eloquence" in the Metropolitan Hall to-night. He is a gifted speaker as well as a writer, and all who attend will be well pleased with the time spent.

—The system of Vandalism, of which we have so frequently complained, continues in this city. No sooner is a house vacated than boys make targets of the windows at which to shy snow balls and stones, and in a few days every pane of glass is broken. This kind of sport costs many people large sums yearly. It is a pity that the police cannot ferrit out and punish some of the young Vandals who take pleasure in destroying other people's property.

—A New York letter says: "Ladies come lugging dogs down Broadway or Fifth avenue as large as a 5-yearold child. Some are cruel enough to let the dog walk, but he is well covered with either a sealskin coat or a plush jacket, and led by the loveliest gold or silver chain. I have seen only one industrious dog since I have been here. He was a noble Newfoundland, and was shaved a la lion, and was carrying his howling swell of a master's cane. It is needless to say the dog had the advantage in point of intellect, at least to all appearance."

—The old and well known remedy "Holden's Expectorant" (for coughs and colds) is still unsurpassed. More than 20 years it has now been in use and it still continues popular, while scores of medicines for the same purpose have flourished for a year or so and are forgotten. If you have a cough or a cold call at Geen's Drugstore and procure a bottle.

GARDEN SEEDS.—For good and reliable garden and field seeds go to Geen's Drugstore.

PROBS.—Moderate to fresh winds, cloudy to fair weather, possibly light rain in some localities.

REMINDER.—Remember the meeting tonight in Bethel Hall at 7:45 p. m. You are invited.

FOR MANITOBA.—Two trains filled with passengers for Manitoba passed west last night, or rather this morning early.

TRAIN LATE.—The train from the west left Toronto two hours behind time this morning. We have not learned the cause of the delay.

No. 1 COMPANY A. L. I.—This company will meet for squad drill in their new armory, Carman's Block, to-night. Both officers and men are bound to hold together.

BIRTH ON THE RAIL.—A lady on one of the Manitoba specials going west this morning gave birth to a child. She was taken off at a station near where the birth occurred.

SALE OF HORSES.—The Messrs. Grand, of Toronto, have announced a sale of upwards of 400 horses, at Toronto, for Tuesday, April 19th. Parties requiring horses will do well to make a note of the day and date.

THE RIVER.—The ice in the river is disappearing very rapidly, and for some distance below the lower dam it is out altogether. A few days of fine weather will, in all probability, see it clear.

THE SNOW BY-LAW.—That clause of the snow by-law, providing for the removal of snow and ice from sidewalks in front of vacant premises is not carried out, and citizens living on either sides of such places have just cause for complaint. If they are compelled to remove the snow or else suffer the penalty, why should theirly officials whose duty it is to look after this matter, be allowed to escape? is the question asked by many ratepayers.

INCENTIVES FOR INCREASING POPULATION.—Sir Leonard Tilley having clearly shown by his carefully prepared Budget statement that Canada is more prosperous under a protective duty, and that the N. P. has been a great boon to our manufacturers, it is a little strange that the founders of this great policy should neglect the fountain head of all nations' wealth, and keep Babies on the free list. N. Davenport, Hatter and Furrier, being convinced that the party now in power will never give this great struggling industry the attention it deserves, will give prizes to every Baby born in the Counties of Hastings and Prince Edward during next December (1881), as follows:—

For every Girl Baby—1 handsome Fur Hood.
For every Boy Baby—One Fur Turban.
For every Pair of Twins—Two Silver Cups.
For Triplets—One twenty dollar gold piece.

A physician's certificate is expected with every application for a prize, and it is to be hoped that Babies will not be imported into Hastings and Prince Edward from Adpington, Lennox and Northumberland Counties. Please remember while waiting for the "Little Ones" that N. Davenport has the largest and finest stock of Hats and Caps in Central Canada.

SURE TO BE HERE.—Owing to the delay of the express from the west to-day, a rumor has been circulated in the city that Mr. Fahey would not be here to keep his engagement with the St. Patrick's Society. This is not true. He will surely be here on the mixed train.

REMOVAL.—As will be seen by advertisement elsewhere the millinery establishment of S. Eustace has been removed to the premises formerly occupied by Mr. Robinson, as a book store. Mr. Eustace has added gents furnishings to the business formerly conducted by his wife, and in their new premises with a large and well selected stock of millinery, we have no doubt the business of the firm will be largely increased.

ANOTHER VICTIM.—At Napanee Tuesday night a young man named T. Heliper, stopping at the Campbell House, retired to bed about ten o'clock. About seven o'clock yesterday morning the chambermaid rapped at his door, getting no response and smelling escaping gas had the door broken in when the young man was found insensible. Dr. Leonard was summoned and administered proper restoratives, and succeeded in reviving him. A few more minutes exposure to the gas would have been fatal as he was already frothing at the mouth. This is the second case of gas poisoning lately from share stupidity.

"WHEN ROUGHS FALL OUT."—The following regarding two athletes will well known in Belleville, will be read with interest: "E. W. Johnson, having dissolved partnership with D. C. Ross, has been opening out to a Providence reporter. He declares that all the recent contests in which Ross has figured have been put up jobs, that the reported rows and disputes were all pre-arranged to draw crowds, that the championship belt which Ross shows was purchased for $80, and that most of his medals were bought. When rogues fall out if honest men don't exactly get their dues they at any rate learn enough to warn them against being duped again"

HOTEL ARRIVALS.—The following are the arrivals at the Dafoe House for the 24 hours ending noon to-day:—Wm Cross, Madoc; W Bensley and wife, Warkworth; Geo H Gorden, Trenton; A J Weir, New York; H W Delaney, Trenton; A Oppenheimer, New York; T Mottashed, Picton; W Biggar, New York; J O Kerry, Bracebridge; John Peters, Hastings; John B Reid, Brockville; Chas C Clark, Hamilton; D P Meade, Algiers; A C Anderson, Hamilton; Wm C Moran, Detroit; S G Beatty, City; J F Tesker, James M Marshall, C F Grover, D A Inglis, J P Townsend, Chas S Landan, C Brassier, Geo Leigh, Toronto; Thomas Frazer, E J McArno, Montreal.

The Hamilton Times remarks: "Torontonians recognize the bewitching, fascinating overwhelmingness of Hamilton girls, and say they are to sweet that young men from that 'provincial town,' when in Hamilton, are compelled to carry photographs of their sweethearts in order to reinvigorate their affections." To this the World replies: "This is rich, but there's too much of it. You'll see more pretty girls on King street in an afternoon than you'll meet in the Ambitious City in a month." We heard a gentleman, who had just returned from Toronto, say he could see more pretty girls and women on Front street, Belleville, any fine afternoon than he ever found in Toronto. Next.

LEGAL NOTES.

The following case was before Justice Barton at Osgoode Hall, Tuesday:—

RE LEWIS.—An insolvency appeal from the judge of the County Court, county of Hastings, Kerr, Q. C., and Holden (Belleville) for appellant. Macleman, Q. C., and Patterson (Belleville) for respondent. In this case an order had been made for the assignee to pay the respondent his share of money received by assignee in Chancery proceedings, instituted by assignee on behalf of five creditors. The question arose as to the basis of distribution. The County Court judge held the amounts appearing in dividend sheet should be taken as basis. Appellant disputes the judgment. Reserved.

A regular meeting of the Presbytery of Kingston was held in St. Andrew's Hall, Kingston, Tuesday and yesterday. Among those present were Rev. Messrs. McLean and Mitchell, Belleville; Craig, Mill Point; Wishart, Madoc; Gray, Stirling; Kelso, Roslin; &c.

It was reported that missionary meetings had been held in almost all the congregations.

The Committee appointed to visit certain stations in North Hastings reported that, on account of the state of the weather, roads, &c., they had not been able to effect anything definite.

A conference on the state of religion was held Tuesday evening, at which Rev. Mr. McLean was one of the three speakers appointed to make addresses.

The following ministers were appointed by rotation commissioners to the General Assembly, viz.: Messrs. R. J. Craig, M.A., James Cormack, B.A., Donald Kelso, and James Somberland, M.A. In addition to the above, the Revs. David Mitchell, Finlay McCuaig, and Principal Grant, D. D., were chosen by ballot to fill up the number required.

The following elders were elected by ballot viz:—Messrs. Wm. Coverdale, Walter Cuthrie, George Gillies, Wm. Beatty, Walter Mackenzie, G. S. Hobart and Geo. Davidson.

The congregation of Trenton asked permission to mortgage their church for the sum of ($3,000) three thousand dollars, to be expended on the new church in process of erection. The request was granted. The Presbytery took up the resignation of the Rev. Mr. Turnbull, which, after ample discussion, was accepted. During the discussion Rev. Dr. Jackson, being present, was invited to sit and deliberate.

Rev. Mr. Mitchell was appointed to declare Mr. Turnbull's charge at Lonsdale vacant on the first Sabbath in June. He was also appointed interim moderator of session.

GREAT BRITAIN.

THE MONETARY CONFERENCE.

LONDON, March 17.—The Cuckoo, the new evening paper, speaking of the Monetary Conference, hopes that it is not Mr. Gladstone's intention to follow Bismarck's lead, since to India the question of a dual standard is simply everything.

The Times says:—"Cannot our statesmen see the importance of the silver standard to our Indian Empire."

RUSSIA.

NEW YORK, March 17.—Washington specials to the Tribune report the American Charge at Berne complains of the exportation of Swiss paupers and criminals to the United States. He shows by official tables the proportion of blind, insane criminals and other persons receiving public support in the United States is greater among foreign born than native population, and the proportion of Swiss is greater than other European nations. The average cost of assisting an emigrant to the United States is $33.68, while the cost of maintenance at home, if a pauper is $19.80.

The Herald says Blaine received a dispatch that dissatisfaction exists in England in regard to invitation to monetary conference, which, it is alleged, commits delegates to bi-metallism. Blaine will communicate a proper interpretation to Minister Lowell.

Malione has distinctly caused the Republicans to understand he asks no favors, and does not commit himself irrevocably to them. He wants to see what their course of administration towards the South will be, and means to support it in all just and wise measures, and none other.

NEW YORK, March 17.—The report that Frank Wright, a young man residing in Newark, had been lynched while visiting Colorado, on a charge that he stole a horse, proves unfounded.

A number of prominent bankers left for Washington yesterday for the purpose of conferring with Garfield and Windom relative to the general financial affairs of the nation, and concerning the disposal of the balance of the 104,000,000 of 4 per cent. bonds, which the Treasury is authorized to issue.

PHILADELPHIA, March 17.—It is stated that on a slate in the cell in which the prisoners McBride and P. Fieffer were found dead yesterday, was found written: 'This is the third man I have killed." No signature followed.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17.—The Greenback Central Club, composed of Greenback ward presidents and leading Greenbackers of this city adopted resolutions endorsing the assassination of the Czar.

NIHILISM IN LONDON.

Attempt to Destroy the Lord Mayor's Residence.

LONDON, March 17.—At midnight a policeman observed a fire on the ground near the wall of the Lord Mayor's official residence, and found a wooden box with fuse connected, to which some lighted paper had been recently applied. The officer extinguished the fire. The box contained forty pounds of gunpowder.

The most conclusive testimony, repeatedly laid before the public in the columns of the daily press, proves that Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—an absolutely pure combination of six of the finest remedial oils in existence—remedies rheumatic pain, crudicate affections of the throat and lungs, and cures pales, wounds, sores, lameness, tumors, burns, and injuries of horses and cattle.

AFTERNOON.

WHAT WAS FOUND ON THE ASSASSIN

Another Discovery in St. Petersburg

ST. PETERSBURG, March 17.—The bomb found in a pocket of the assassin Rousikoff, made in a zinc case, contained glass tubes, two filled with vitriol, two with barthodly salts, the India rubber tubes with fulminating mercury, and a box holding nitro-glycerine and pyrotyle, the whole weighing six pounds and three-quarters.

NEWCASTLE, March 17.—With reference to resumption of operations by the British troops its stated operations have been delayed by rains, and are permitted under conditions of armestice.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 17.—A revolutionary proclamation discovered at Rousakaff's domicile declares the Nihilists will continue their work and warns the new Emperor to beware of his father's fate.

Gen. Melikoff sent warning to Golos, and Strana for articles in reference to accession of Alexander III.

The excavation of the mine near the residence of the new Emperor was continued to-day. The gallery leads from the small shop to the middle of the street. Telegraph wires along the gallery, and elements for an electric battery, were found in the shop. The mine will be flooded and removed. The shop was taken in January by a peasant named Baronega, and a man and wife named Rosiloff, who disappeared. Suspicions against them were aroused by seeing Rosiloff's wife smoking cigarettes, a custom unusual in the peasant class.

Ayer's

Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once a preserver, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently from baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous, and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

A Lecture to Young Men

ON THE LOSS OF

MANHOOD

We have recently published a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Spermatorrhœa or Seminal Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage etc., resulting from excesses.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cts. or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hand of every youth and every man in the land.

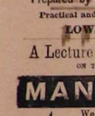
Address,

The CULVERWELL MEDICAL Co.

41 Ann St., w Yk

or Office Box 4586.

KNOW THYSELF.



THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be radically cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; or, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be recovered and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than fifty valuable prescriptions, all of which are of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth, price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The Boston Herald says, "No persons should fail to consult this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with the nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nervo-specialist of the highest order, and where of the writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon. P. A. HISSELL, M. D., President of the National Medical Association.

Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass. The author HEAL THYSELF. may be consulted, and all diseases requiring skill and experience.

MARCH WINDS! The sudden changes and high winds which prevail in March makes a bottle of Dowe's Elixir always necessary to have at hand. It is a sure cure for sudden colds and all lung diseases.

BAXTER'S MANDRAKE BITTERS will cure all bilious Diseases. Sold everywhere at 25 cts. per bottle. Try it.

The best remedy for strains and galls on horses is HENRY & JOHNSON'S ARNICA and OIL LINIMENT. Good for man and beast.

In the Foremost rank of Ague tean tonics and anti-periodics stands Northrop & Lyman's Quinine Wine. The weak, the nervous, the dyspeptic, never vainly seek its aid; sufferers from bilious, remittent, and intermittent fevers, are surely rescued by it from the malarial scourge. Its taste is agreeable, its ingredients do not nauseate one that is delicious. To the stomach regains its tone and the nerves recover their vigor, through the action of the Quinine Wine, this failing gradually wears off, and cheerfulness resumes its sway. Persons who are convalescing after an exhausting disease, should take it in properly regulated doses, as it materially assists, thus taken, the restoration of vigor, which, without its aid might be tediously slow. Fever and ague and bilious remittent sufferers should take it only during the absence of the feverish symptoms. Lean persons, whose digestion is out of order, gain bodily substance as well as strength by its use. Use none but the Quinine Wine manufactured by Northrop & Lyman of Toronto, which can be procured of any druggist.

DAILY ONTARIO

The Leavenworth Case ;

A LAWYER'S STORY.

BY ANNA KATHARINE GREEN.

Prefacing his remarks with some account of himself, and the manner in which he had been summoned to the house by one of the servants, he went on to state that upon his arrival, he found the deceased lying upon a bed in the second-story front room, with the blood clotted about a pistol wound in the back of the head; Having evidently been carried there from the sitting apartment some hours after death. It was the only wound discovered on the body, and having probed it, he had found and extracted the bullet, which he now handed to the jury. It was lying in the brain, having entered at the base of the skull, passed obliquely upward, and at the suture of the sutura lambdoidea, causing instant death. The fact of the ball having entered the brain in this peculiar manner, he deemed worthy of notice, since it would not only produce instantaneous death, but an utterly motionless one. Further, from the position of the bullet hole and the direction taken by the bullet, it was manifestly impossible that the shot should have been fired by the man himself, even if the condition of the hair about the wound did not completely demonstrate the fact; that the shot was fired from a point some three or four feet distant. Still further, considering the angle at which the bullet had entered the skull, it was evident that the deceased must only have been seated at the time, a fact about which there could be no dispute, but he must also have been engaged in some occupation which drew his head forward. For, in order that a ball should enter the head of a man sitting erect, at the angle seen here, of 48°, it would be necessary not only for the pistol to be held very low down, but in a perpendicular position; while if the head had been bent forward, as in the act of writing, a man holding a pistol naturally with the elbow bent, might very easily fire a ball into the brain at the angle observed.

Upon being questioned in regard to the bodily health of Mr. Leavenworth, he replied that the deceased appeared to have been in good condition at the time of his death, but that not being his attendant physician, he could not speak conclusively upon the subject without further examination; and to the remark of a juryman, observed that he had not seen pistol or weapon lying upon the floor, or indeed anywhere else in either of the above-mentioned rooms.

I might as well add here what he afterwards stated, that from the position of the table, the chair and the door behind it, the murderer, in order to satisfy all the conditions imposed by the situation, must have stood upon or just within the threshold of the passage way leading from the room beyond. Also, that as the ball was small and from a rifled barrel, and thus especially liable to deflections while passing through bones and integuments, it seemed to him evident, that the victim had made no effort to raise or turn his head when advanced upon by his destroyer; the fearful condition being, from the footstep was an accustomed one, and the presence of its possessor in the room either known or expected.

The physician's testimony being ended, the coroner picked up the bullet which had been laid on the table before him and for a moment rolled it contemplatively between his fingers, then drawing a pencil from his pocket, hastily scrawled a line or two on a piece of paper, and calling an officer to his side, delivered some command in a low tone. The officer taking up the slip, looked at it for an instant knowingly, then catching up his hat left the room. Another moment I, and the front door closed on him, and a wild hallo from the crowd of urchins without, told of his appearance in the street. Sitting where I did I had a full view from the window of the corner. Looking out, I saw the officer stop there, hail a cab, hastily enter it and disappear in the direction of Broadway.

CHAPTER III.

FACTS AND DEDUCTIONS.

Confusion now hath made his master-piece; Most savage-like murder hath broke open The Lord's appointed temple and stolen thence The life of the building.

MACBETH.

Turning my attention back into the room where I was, I found the coroner consulting a memorandum, through a very impressive pair of gold eye-glasses.

"Is the butler here?" he asked.

Immediately there was a stir among the group of servants in the corner, and an intelligent-looking though somewhat pompous Irishman stepped out from their midst and confronted the jury. 'Ah,' thought I to myself as my glance encountered his precise whiskers, steady eye, and respectively attentive though by no means humble expression, 'here is a model servant who is likely to prove a model witness.' And I was not mistaken. Thomas, the butler, was in all respects one in a thousand—and he knew it.

The coroner, upon whom, as upon all others in the room, he seemed to have made the like favorable impression, proceeded without hesitation to interrogate him.

'Your name, I am told, is Thomas Dougherty?'

'Yes, sir;'

'Well, Thomas, how long have you been employed in your present situation?'

'It must be a matter of two years now, sir,'

'You are the person who first discovered the body of Mr. Leavenworth?'

'Yes, sir; I and Mr. Harwell.'

'And who is Mr. Harwell?'

'Mr. Harwell is Mr. Leavenworth's private secretary, sir; the one who did his writing.'

'Very good. Now, what time of the day or night was it that you made this discovery?'

'It was early, sir; early this morning, about eight.'

'And where?'

'In the library, sir, off Mr. Leavenworth's bedroom. We had forced our way in, feeling anxious about his not coming to breakfast.'

'You forced your way in; the door then was locked?'

'Yes, sir.'

'On the inside?'

'That I cannot tell; there was no key in the door.'

'Where was Mr. Leavenworth lying when you first found him?'

'He was not lying, sir. He was seated at a large table in the centre of the room, his back to the bedroom door; leaning forward, his head on his hands.'

'How was he dressed?'

'In his dinner suit, sir, just as he came from the table that night.'

'Were there any evidences in the room that a struggle had taken place?'

'No, sir.'

'Any pistol on the floor or table?'

'No, sir.'

'Any reason to suppose that robbery had been attempted?'

'No, sir. Mr. Leavenworth's watch and purse were both in his pockets.'

To be continued.

DAILY ONTARIO
THE WORK OF THE ASSASSIN.
The stroke of destiny which Sunday laid low one of the world's great monarchs, revives interests in the thrilling history of the many desperate blows, successful and unsuccessful, which, during the last half century, have been leveled by the assassin at the heads of rulers and crown sovereigns. The dead czar of late years has figured most prominently in the sensational accounts of regicides called to us from across the Atlantic, but it will be seen by the record that power in Europe gives sensational security anywhere. The Emperor William, then Prince of Prussia, was attacked in June, 1848. Four years later his brother, Frederick William IV., the late king of Prussia, narrowly escaped death by assassination.
Napoleon III., during his reign, was more than once the chosen victim of conspirators. In 1852 an infernal machine was discovered at Marseilles placed there for the contemplated destruction of the French emperor, on a visit to the city. In 1855 he was fired at in the Champs Elysees by a man named Pianori. He was again attacked in Paris opposite the Opera Comique in 1865. In 1857 a conspiracy against his life was discovered and three Italians from London were arrested. The celebrated Orsini plot against him culminated in the bomb-explosion of 1858, and another conspiracy in 1869.
In 1863, Francis Joseph, the Austrian emperor, was slightly wounded by the Hungarian Libenyi, and the same year witnessed the attack on king Victor Emanuel of Italy. Three years later a soldier named Milano stabbed Ferdinand of Naples (Bomba), but not fatally. A policeman arrested a man named Fuentes while about to fire on Queen Isabella of Spain in 1856. The king of Prussia was twice fired at by the student Beker in 1861, neither shot taking effect. The student Brusios fired at the queen of Greece in 1862.
Queen Victoria, although her occupation of the throne has not been attended by the exploits of plotters which dot the earlier history of England, nevertheless has been three times waylaid by the assassin. One of these attempts occured in 1840 for which a crazy lad named Oxford was arrested, and in 1842 two men named Francis and Bean, at different times aimed at her life, King Amadeus of Spain, was attacked in 1871. The dead Czar was attacked in Spain in 1856, and the year following in Paris. The present emperor of Germany escaped two deadly attempts against him in 1878, and since then similar schemes against the lives of the Italian and Spanish kings have been foiled.
On this side of the Atlantic the work of the assassin has been more skillfully and successfully done. In 1865 Lincoln was killed and during the years from 1872 to '77 inclusive, the presidents of Peru, Bolivia, Ecuador and Paraguay fell at the hands of conspirators. Among the other notable cases of assassination Europe has seen was the murder in 1870 of Prim, the head of the Spanish cabinet and the great force in the government of the nation, who was literally riddled by bullets in the streets of Madrid.

"SWAPPING" WIVES TWICE
Mount Vernon, O., dispatch to Cleveland Leader:—About three months since an article was published in our columns from this city about the elopement of John Sells with Mrs. Jacob Carpenter, wife of Mrs. John Sells taking up her bed and bound with Jacob Carpenter, of Butler township. The whereabouts of the runaway lovers had never been ascertained until yesterday, when they put in an appearance at their old quarters, and, to the horror of all, each with their own wife and his own wife to the bosom of his family, and now all is running swimingly as smooth as ever. The actions of all four created much excitement when the first change was made and since the second swap has taken place the main subject of the society in their neighborhood has been

JOHNNY SKAE'S BIG CHANGE.
Worth $10,000,000 two years ago—today working for a good living.
The following particulars relating to the recent loss of Johnny Skae, a former Oshawa boy, is copied from the Carson City (Nevada) Saul Francisco:—
A little more than two years since Johnny Skae, whom everybody knew, would visit Carson several times a month, and as he passed down the streets from the railway depot, with an independent swagger and a more independent look in his eye, men would enviously gaze after him and express their conviction that he would soon outstrip any single member of the Bonaza firm in the possession of millions. This when Sierra Nevada and Union were selling at from $260 to $600 per share, and Skae was supposed to hold 50,000 shares of the stock of these two mines. At that period he would have no difficulty in realizing $10,000,000 in cool gold coin for his stock; but no, he was ambitious, and desired no longer to play second fiddle even to such a colossal financial power as the Bonaza firm. He fancied that the prospective dividends of the Sierra Nevada and Union Consolidated mines would be greater by forfold than those paid by the California and Consolidated Virginia mines. Johnny was over-sanguine; he imagined himself a hundred times a millionaire, and whose millions were safely deposited in the bowels of the earth. Of that he felt certain. In the meantime he entertained his friends in regal style. He invited them to San Francisco to participate in princely fish and champagne suppers, which were spread near the reservoir of the Virginia and Gold Hill Water-Works, from which the luscious trout were taken, and in various other ways extended his hospitality to friends in such a manner that they privately called him "Prince John."
In the midst of this, however, he did one prudent thing, and that was to invest $250,000 in bonds upon his wife. Believing that the stock of the mines which he was so heavy a holder of was sure to reach at least $1,000 per share, he hypothecated the same to the Nevada Bank, and purchased several thousand shares on a margin. Soon thereafter the market crashed, and it was not long before his stock was quoted at $50 and $60 per share. Of course that nearly ruined Skae; but being a man of nerve and desirous of retrieving his lost opportunity, he went on dabbling in stocks which at one time might have placed him in an enviable independent position, until he lost all that he had saved from the first blow; and it is even said that the $250,000 which he settled on his wife went the way of the rest. Now Johnny Skae is in Arizona, in place of living in luxury and superlative elegance, seeking a bonanza, which he probably will never find. It is only once in a lifetime that one man in a million is so enchanting he smiled upon by fortune as Johnny Skae was two and a half years ago.

A BAPTIST MINISTER'S EXPERIENCE
I am a Baptist Minister and before I even thought of being a clergyman graduated in medicine but left a lucrative practice for my present profession. 40 years ago, I was for many years a sufferer from quinsy. "Thomas Eclectric Oil cured me." I was also troubled with hoarseness and Thomas Eclectric Oil always relieved me. My wife and children had Diphtheria and "Thomas Eclectric Oil cured them" and it taken in time it will cure seven times out of ten. I am confident it is a cure for the worst Diphtheria, of Croup and I feel any one will take a small teaspoon, and half fill it with the Oil and then place of the mouth of the bottle and draw the Oil out of the spoon into the head by sniffing as hard as they can until the Oil falls over into the throat and practice this twice a day. I don't care how offensive their breadmay be, it will clean it out and cure their Catarrh. For Deafness and Earache it has always proved to my certain knowledge. It is the only medicine dubbed patent medicine that I have ever felt like recommending and I am very anxious to see it in every body's house for I tell you that I would not be without it in my house for any consideration, I am now suffering with a pain like Rheumatism in my right hand and both relaxes me like Thomas Eclectric Oil.

Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam is composed of the most healing balsams and gums. The Balsams, which enter into its composition, were used by the natives when America was first discovered, and are combined with other vegetable tonics, so blended together, that it is a specific for all affections of the throat and lungs. Thousands of bottles are used annually, and it is considered one of the standard preparations of the day.
Dr. Harris, of Middlebury, Vt., says: "I had been troubled with Bronchitis for two years, so suffering the organs of speech that I could not speak aloud for six weeks. I had with it a severe cough and cold night sweats. I took two bottles of Allen's Lung Balsam and am entirely cured."
Faded Complexions.—How many thousands of ladies there are who look wan and faded, while yet in early life; to all such I us whisper a word. You have in Bristol's Sarsaparilla and Pills the means of restoring your color, brightening your eyes, sweetening your breath, and giving you sound general health.
A Word of Warning. To protect the public, and prevent them from being imposed upon by the worthless counterfeits and imitations of our Murray & Lanman's Florida Water, we have prepared paper in which the words "Lanman & Kemp, New York," appear in pale letters when a leaf of the blue pamphlet is held up to the light; and whenever Florida Water is offered for sale wrapped in a pamphlet that does not have this water-mark or stamp in it, then it is counterfeit, and should be rejected.
In cases of Chronic disease which doctors have failed to cure, Burdock Blood Bitters has achieved its greatest triumph. All diseases of the Blood, Liver and Kidneys, Scrofula, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, Rheumatism, Piles, Female Complaints and all forms of Impurity are promptly cured by this great renovating Tonic. Trial bottles only cost 10 Cents.
It always gives us pleasure to draw attention to articles which are deserving of public patronage. Probably no article ever before the public has met with the same success as Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum. Thousands of families in the Dominion have found it invaluable as the standard Cough Remedy. The sale of that article has assumed enormous proportions. Our advice to the public is to give it a trial, for virtues if they should at any time unfortunately contract either Coughs or Colds. It is sold by all druggists.
BE WISE.—Too often a cold or slight cough is considered a very ordinary, trifling affair, just as well left to go as it came, and hence unfortunately neglected until a more serious affection is converted into a serious pulmonary disease. The more prudent, aware that a cough or cold should never be trifled with, promptly use "Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers," which have sustained their reputation for over twenty years. They are always efficacious, and exert a most beneficial influence on all the bronchial and pulmonary organs. Sold by all druggists and country merchants at 25 cents a box.

R. V. PIERCE:
Dear Sir,—I feel that I should be neglecting my duty were I to fail in giving my testimony as to the value of your medicines. For years I have been a great sufferer from a complication of diseases originating in what physicians treated in vain. I am now using your Favorite Prescription and find myself almost well. Your medicines have done me more good than anything I have ever used.

WM. M. GILES, ESQ.—DEAR SIR: I have been suffering for the past four months with a terrible attack of rheumatism in my back and hips; I could not move; I thought I should never get well, as I had used most every known remedy. I purchased a bottle of one of your circulars, and thought I would try it; not having any faith in it, or anything else. But was not a little astonished after one application, I got instant relief, and now, after using it one week, I am nearly well. I have bought one dozen bottles of the same, and intend to by without it. I have also used it with great benefit on pretending piles. I shall try to tell all of the people in this section about your remedy, but most of them know of it, as they used to come to see me when I could not move in bed. You will please to send me by express, as it is my first letter in four months. I hope I do not intrude on your time, but, my dear sir, I owe you a debt of gratitude which I can never repay. Wishing you every success in the introduction of your medicine, I am, dear sir,
Yours sincerely,

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

King Oscar II has been suffering from a slight attack of fever, and there are symptoms of consumption.

The Afghan war has cost England £5,000,000, and there is nothing to show for all this outlay, to say nothing of the lives lost.

They do such things better in New York. A brutal wife-beater has been sent to the workhouse for one year, on complaint of the unfortunate victim.

Another Orange relief has been sent to Balanakill, to assist Canon Fleming, whose laborers have refused to do his work. A conflict is reported, and a strong police force has been ordered to the scene of dispute.

Mrs. Langtry, it is reported, is selling all her effects in London. This, with the presence of her husband in America, would seem to confirm what gossip has circulated. There may not be much harmony in the family relations.

An Oneida Indian preached in New York last Sunday, and quaintly rebuked the sin of profanity by remarking that he was thankful that the Creator did not give the Indian enough language to allow him to profane, without first learning English.

THE St. Cathrines News boldly asserts that we may say what we will in regard to the Socialism of Germany, the Liberalism of Italy, the Nihilism of Russia, the Communism or Atheism of France, and the anti-nonianism so prevalent throughout the world Agnosticism or the spirit of "I don't know anything about the Divine revelation," is at the bottom of the whole. These violent outbursts against social claims and established usages can only come from a single source — the defiance of religious authority and the denial of revelation.

We have received a copy of the Criminal Statistics of 1879, which contains much interesting information concerning the criminal records of the various Provinces of the Dominion for the year mentioned. The number of convictions for offences against the person is given as follows: Ontario, 3,094; Quebec, 1,070; New Brunswick, 250: and Nova Scotia, 272. These figures give Ontario more than twice as many convictions, according to population. This unenviable distinction is attributed to a more rapid increase of population in Ontario and larger immigration. We would also attribute it largely to a better enforcement of the law in such cases. Pat sustains his pugnacious distinction by heading the list of foreigners convicted in Ontario, the list standing: 207 Irishmen, 160 Englishmen, 56 Scotchmen, 88 from the United States, 29 from other foreign countries, and 2 from other British possessions.

THE VOTE ON THE ALMON AMENDMENT.

Senator Flint is solicitous for the honor of the Conservative members of the Senate, and so publishes the several divisions on the Almon amendment to Senator Vidal's bill to further amend the Canada Temperance Act. He says some of the "Grit" papers charge that the amendment was carried in the Senate by the Tories, and he "thought it but right in the interest of common justice to set the matter in its proper light before the temperance people as well as others." Very kind of Senator Flint. But let us examine his figures. The first vote on the amendment stood as follows :—

For the amendment—24 Conservatives and 4 Reformers or "Grits."

Against the amendment—12 Conservatives and 14 Reformers or "Grits."

Senator Flint asks : "Now, is not one party as much to blame as the other for the amendment which destroys what is called the Scott Act?" Most decidedly not. Twice as many Conservatives voted for the amendment as against it, but only one-third as many Reformers, or "Grits," as Senator Flint prefers to call them.

On the motion for third reading of the bill, as amended, the vote stood as follows :

"For third reading, 22 Conservatives and 8 "Grits." Against third reading, 8 Conservatives and 13 "Grits."

Senator Flint sagely remarks :—"If the three "Grits" had voted that way, the Bill would have been thrown out by a majority of 24 to 23, or two for throwing the bill overboard to get rid of the ale, &c., clause."

It will strike most persons as a curious kind of logic that can hold three "Grits" responsible for what twenty-two Conservatives helped them to do. The venerable Senator pretends to argue that the very small minority of "Grits" who voted for the amendment must be blamed for the result, and not the large majority of Conservatives. We accept his figures and maintain our position.

INCREASE OF FEES.—By an act of the late session of the Ontario Legislature, the fee for recording Chattel Mortages, Bills of Sale and assignments of the same, has been increased from 25 to 50 cents.

THE N. P. AND THE SHIPPING TRADE.

We must repeat again that the National Policy was ordained for the special purpose of benefitting Canadian industries. "Canada for the Canadians," was the Tory shibboleth when appealing to the country for a verdict on the new tariff. Some figures furnished by the Navigation Returns show that protection has accomplished more than was expected of it in one direction. The shipping industry is the third greatest industry of the Dominion. This is how it has been fostered under the N. P.—

SHIPS BUILT, REGISTERED, AND SOLD TO OTHER COUNTRIES.

	1880. Tons.	1879. Tons.	1878. Tons.
Ships built.....	63,716	103,451	106,976
Ships registered...	64,939	94,829	100,089
Ships sold to other countries.....	16,303	19,316	35,939

The decline is suggestive when it is contemplated that the year 1878 was wholly under a revenue tariff, 1879 partly so, and 1880 wholly under the protective tariff. Again, as to the

VALUE OF THE SHIPS SOLD TO OTHER COUNTRIES.

1879.....	$1,256,148
1880.....	464,327
Decrease.....	$ 771,821

Mechanics and laboring men shared in the decline. See the following

TABLE SHOWING DECREASE IN SHIPBUILDING IN 1880.

	1878.	1880.	Decrease.
Tons built...	106,976	68,756	38,220
Value at $29 per ton...	$3,102,304	$1,993,924	$1,108,380

A loss of $1,108,380 to our shipwrights and ship-laborers is bagatelle for one year's operations of the "beneficient" tariff. It would be strange indeed if the publication of official reports like the above did not convince the public that the tariff now in force is a stupendous fraud.

We commend the figures here quoted to to the electors of East Northumberland, who vote on this question next Friday, the nomination taking place to-day. The issue before them is composed of the tariff and Syndicate contract. Minor questions, of more or less importance, there certainly are, but the two we have mentioned will answer for the present contest.

PERSONAL.

—Rev. Simeon Parmelee, of Oswego, N. Y., is in the 100th year of his age, and is probably the eldest Congregational minister in the country.

Rev. Septimus Jones, of Toronto, formerly of Belleville, has been confined to his room with severe inflammation of the eyes, but is now improving.

—Michael Boyton, the Land-Leaguer now notorious through England and Ireland, is a brother of Paul Boyton, the swimmer, and was once the owner of a Japanese curiosity shop in New York.

—Capt. Howard, of the Richelieu Navigation Co., has been appointed Harbor Master of Montreal. There is a strong opposition to the appointment, but the Capt. had Sir John to back him, and he won.

—Mr. Alex. Fraser, who has been a resident of Wolfe Island for thirty years, has moved with his family to Iowa, where he has entered upon farming on an extensive scale. His neighbors gave him a parting salutation.

—Mr. W. H. Howland has received a letter containing $100 toward the building fund of the Protestant Episcopal Divinity School, Toronto, as well as the promise of a further sum from the same unknown contributor.

—When Elizabeth, the Austrian Empress, is not hunting she practices in the gymnasium or goes to the stables. She is always schooling her horses. When she tires one she mounts another, feeling no fatigue and taking very little refreshment. Every morning she takes a cold sea-water bath and practices for an hour and a half on the trapeze and bar in a loose costume; then she breakfasts.

—The death of Mr. W. H. Weller, of Cobourg, will be an unusually wide cause of regret, since he is the Most Worshipful the Immediate Past Grand Master of the Masons of Canada. He was very highly regarded in the craft, and made an excellent Grand Master, an office held in the greatest regard and considered equal in distinction to the highest offices of political favour in the province.

—Sara Bernhardt—the "divine Sara," as she is called by her admirers—appears in Toronto to-morrow afternoon and evening. The Rev. Mr. Rainsford has, by a communication to the "Mail," given the fragile genius the usual advertisement, by forcibly denouncing the moral principle represented by this gifted actress. He asks the fathers and mothers, scoustomed to bow before God, to keep themselves and their children from her presence. Mr. Rainsford's protest may have some effect, but doubtful.

A HISTORY OF THE SIEGE OF QUEBEC.—Colonel Walkam, of the militia department, who has a good store of materials, proposes compiling from original sources and publishing a history of the siege of Quebec under Wolfe, with illustrated plates. Mr. Walkem's long experience in the royal engineer's staff in Canada eminently fits him for the task. It is understood he has also materials of more than ordinary interest for compiling o similiar work in connection with the old castle of St. Louis at Quebec, St. Helen's Island, and the barons of Longueuil.

A PEN PICTURE OF CARLYLE.—Rev. R. Heber Newton, of New York, preached a sermon on Thomas Carlyle last Sunday. The speaker gave the following pen picture of Carlyle: "He was tall, gaunt, elastic, and as eccntric in his motions as in the abrupt spirit within. His face was long and thin, his nose strong, his lips decisive, his eyes dark, deep set, sad, and searching, looking out from under bushy eyebrows. His brow was massive and crowned with a shaggy, lion-like head of hair. He looked as though he had come from heaven by way of hell, and while the joy of heaven's hope laughed in his face, far back in him he was scorched with sorrow's secret.

KINGSTON PRESBYTERY.

Continuation of the Session at Kingston.

Mr. Matthews, of Lansdowne and Fairfax, tendered his resignation on the grounds of inadequate support. Mr. Beatty, elder, presented a written statement from the congregation that they were not able to raise the amount promised. The clerk was ordered to cite the Kirk session of Lansdowne to meet on the 29th inst., at 3 o'clock.

A CALL REFORMED.

A circular was read from the Peterboro Presbytery, intimating that they intended asking the General Assembly to permit them to call Mr. Peter Fleming, of the M. E. Church, United States, to the Presbyterian ministry.

Owing to the great amount of work that has devolved upon Rev. Dr. Smith, Convener of the Home Mission Committee, a joint Convener was appointed, Rev. M. W. McLean, of Belleville. The work will be divided and a lighter burdern placed upon the pastor of St. Andrew's Church.

A Committee was appointed to prepare a programme for a conference on the state of religion, to be held on the Wednesday evening of the Presbytery's meeting in Belleville.

Rev. Mr. Mitchell was appointed Moderator of the Kirks of St. Colomba and St. Paul, and Rev. Mr. McCuaig for the parish of Glenvale, Harrowsmith and Wilton.

A few matters of routine having been gone through with, the Presbytery adjourned to meet in Belleville on Tuesday, July 5th, at 7:30 p.m.

THE CENSUS.

The law Bearing on the Subject.

As the enumerators begin their work on the 4th of April, the following clause in the Act will be interesting : Section 16—Every person who wilfully or without lawful excuse refuses or neglects to fill up to the best of his knowledge and belief any schedule which he shall have been required to fill up by any enumerator or other person employed in the execution of this Act, and refuses or neglects to sign and deliver back or otherwise return the same when so required, or makes, signs, delivers or returns, or causes to be made, signed, delivered or returned any wilfully false answer or statement as to any matter specified in such schedule, shall thereby incur a penalty of not less than one or more than forty dollars. Section 16—Every person, who, without lawful excuse, refuses or neglects to answer, or who wilfully answers falsely any question requisite for obtaining any information sought by the census or pertinent thereto which shall have been asked of him by any enumerator or other person employed in the execution of this Act, shall for every such refusal or neglect, or wilfully false answer, incur a penalty of not less than five nor more than forty dollars.

PARLIAMENTARY NOTES.

—The House of Commons will hold a Saturday session, sitting at noon.

—A caucus of the Conservative party was held yesterday morning, but what transpired is not known.

—Mr. Rykert will probably pay a visit to East Northumberland in the Conservative interest with has scrap book.

—The name of Mr. C. J. Campbell is now mentioned in connection with the Toronto collectorship of customs.

—Hon. Messrs. Laurier, Anglin and other leading Liberals will be present at the Blake banquet at Montreal and give addresses.

—It is generally understood that the session will come to an end on Tuesday of next week. Quite a number of members are already leaving for home.

—The Almon amendment to destroy the Scott Act is killed for the present, the Government not caring to defy the friends of total prohibition throughout the Dominion. The fight is once more transferred to the constituencies.

The Debates Committee met yesterday and considered whether it would not be advisable to have the debates published in the form of the Congressional Globe. In such a change it is thought the expense might be readuced and the printers will be asked for an estimate. It was decided to provide an amanuensis for each of the Hansard staff providing that the cost shall not exceed more than $20 per week each.

MARINE NOTES.

—Folger Bros. have purchased from Mr. A. J. Dewey of Chamount, his interest in the schooners "Watertown" and "A. J. Dewey." These vessels, with the "H. Folger" compose the sailing fleet owned by this Kingston firm.

—The law regarding life boats is to be strictly enforced, and in consequence Captains are looking around for life boats of suitable dimensions. McKelvey & Birch have orders now for galvanized boats for Capt. Patterson, of the prop. "Africa," and Capt. Fairgraves of Collingwood.

—It is proposed to place three steamboats on the line between Alexandria Bay and Montreal, one of which will leave the former place early every morning and arrive in Montreal the same evening.

DESTITUTION.—A terrible case of destitution has just came to light at No. 466 St. Dominique street, Montreal, where on a filthy bed was found a woman named Ann McGarren, wife of John Johnston, lying drunk, with a dying infant on her breast and two other young children five and three years old respectively in the house. Pieces of raw sausages were all the articles of food visible. Policemen removed the children and drunken mother to the police cells, and upon emptying the bed-tick found $45 in gold and 35 cents in silver concealed in the straw. It is reported that she drew $190 from the Peoples Bank a short time ago. Her husband has left her. Whiskey is the cause of the destitution.

OTTAWA'S BOLD MILITIAMEN.

The Lady to the Case the Daughter of a Well-Known Senator.

As announced on Wednesday, the Ottawa captains who pounded each other on the street had the matter settled by the police magistrate. The following is the account sent to the Chicago Times, which is much fuller than that which was sent to the Canadian papers : "The upper crust of Ottawa society is enjoying a choice morceau of sensational excitement, caused by a street fight on Saturday between Capt Wadmore and Capt. Wicksteed, members of the civil service, and well known in the best coteries of society there. Capt. Wadmore is a recent importation from England, and is a favorite in the higher circles. While promenading Wellington street with Miss Skead, the eldest daughter of Senator Skead, of Ottawa, the couple were accosted by Captain Wicksteed, who shook hands with the lady, and nodded pleasantly to her escort, and then very rudely intimated his displeasure at Captain Wadmore's attention to Miss Skead and threatened to chastise him. Hot words followed, when Miss Skead made a hurried departure from the unpleasant scene. Captain Wicksteed, who is a native of this section, knocked down with a well-directed blow his antagonist, whose nose was broken thereby. Captain Wadmore, with true British bravery, recovered his equilibrium and came to the scratch, and did not retreat until he artistically closed Captain Wicksteed's left optic. Mutual friends at this point interfered and the combatants retired. Both claimed to have got the better of the encounter, and a hostile meeting was regarded as inevitable, but up to the present no arrangements for it have been made. The matter was brought up in the police court, Captain Wadmore having preferred a complaint against Wicksteed for assault. The latter called on Captain Wadmore with a view of endeavoring to settle the case without further publicity, but he was not in at the time the former called. Captain Wicksteed left his card, which Captain Wadmore, whether correctly or not, concluded was intended for a challenge and determined, upon consultation with his friends, to accept the defy. An explanation, however, set matters right. Captain Wadmore testified in court that the defendant assaulted him without any provocation."

PRINCE EDWARD ITEMS.

(From the Times.)

The quo warranto case respecting the right of Mr. Knox to sit as Warden came up before Judge Jellett in chambers on Tuesday last, Mr. Gilbert appearing for the relator, Mr. Sprague, and Mr. Allison for the respondent, Mr. Knox. The affidavits on both sides were read and the case argued at some length, but no witnesses called. An adjournment was then made till Monday next at 10 o'clock.

—On Saturday, 5th inst., Mr. Conrad Branscombe, an old resident of Hallowell, died suddenly. He had been in Picton during the day, and on his way home stopped at a friend's house to get Mrs. Branscombe. The people of the house wished them to stay to tea, and Mr. Branscombe went out for the purpose of putting up his horse, when he was seized with a fit of apoplexy it is supposed. One of the children saw him fall and ran for help. He was taken into the house and medical aid sent for, but he never spoke, and died in about an hour. He was 63 years of age.

ANOTHER ELOPEMENT.—A despatch from Montreal on the 17th, said :—A sensation was created here to day among the best society by the elopement of a married lady who leaves a husband and two children behind. It is believed that she has gone to Chicago to obtain a divorce.

ELECTION OF BENCHERS.—A requisition numerously signed by the profession will be presented to the following gentlemen asking them to come forward as candidates at the ensuing election of Benchers:—Messrs. J. B. Rose, Hon. R. M. Wells, W. R. Mulock, C. R. W. Biggar, and W. A. Reeve, of Napanee.

SOCIAL FLUTTER IN OTTAWA.—A rumor is current in Ottawa that a member of Parliament and a married lady holding a good position in society and boarding at a prominent city hotel were caught in the act of violating the marriage vows. It is said by some that there is no foundation whatever for the story, whilst others state that the matter has been hushed up, the enraged husband being quieted by a money subsidy and a promise from the disgraced wife to consent to a divorce.

A DISCUSSION.—Shaftesbury Hall Toronto, was crowded Tuesday night at Hammond's revival meeting, as it was understood that a number of the Free Thinkers in the city had accepted Hammond's challenge to discuss orthodoxy with him. W. B. Cooke, Vice-President of the Free Thought Association, spoke at some length, showing the difficulties attendant upon the belief in the inspiration of the bible. Hammond replied with an appeal to believe in Christ. No others spoke. The meeting was of course overwhelmingly with the revivalists.

—The new French loan is said to have been subscribed for twice over in London and several times over in France.

—The Government has consented to give $6,000 per annum extra to the Ottawa water works department for increased water supply.

—A kleptomaniac, occupying a good position in social circles at Ottawa, has been committed for two weeks for appropriating other peoples' property.

—It is reported from Constantinople that the ambassadors have accepted the frontier line proposed in the Porte's note of October 3rd, and substituting Crete for Epirus.

—The European, American, and Asiatic Submarine Telegraph Company, whose prospectus is to issue next week, is expected to charge only a shilling per word over all its lines.

—March Sales.—

OUR customers are generally aware that we received our usual Spring assortment of STAPLE and FANCY DRY GOODS much earlier this year than usual; but our sales during the months of January and February were so satisfactory, that if the present months' sales prove large, we will be under the necessity of laying in a second supply in most lines. To ensure this we are marking our Spring goods as well as any Winter goods that are left over at an unusually low advance on cost, and we invite customers to compare our prices and value.

We invite special attention to

of which we have DOUBLE OUR USUAL STOCKS and which we are selling at much lower prices than they are usually sold. During the month of March we will offer special inducements to purchasers, and hope to make proportionally large sales.

The blood cannot properly perform its function when loaded with impurities, because it is thick and sluggish; and every person needs at times something to cleanse and quicken the vital current. Dr. J. C. Ayer's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla meets this want perfectly, and his discovery of this compound ranks as important in preserving the blood in a healthy condition as does that of Wm. Harvey in demonstrating its circulatory action. Nothing else so vitalizes, purifies and enriches the blood as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is a perfect blood and nerve food. It never disturbs the stomach, greatly assists and promotes the digestion and assimilation of all nutriments, and increases their power to sustain and nourish the body. In renovating the blood it clears and quickens the intellect, and thus gives to both mind and body the power of long sustained, ardent and successful effort. —Coming, N. Y., Journal.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Local Brevities.

—A contemporary reminds us that 'April Fool's day will soon be here.' That's so. We will keep an eye on the calendar.

—Mr. Geo. A. Simpson, formerly of this city, is superintending the building of a bridge over Battle River, N. W. T., this winter.

—Rev. Mr. Hammond, the evangelist, takes horseback exercise in Toronto as he did here. He finds it a life-giving pleasure.

—The Picton Times says:—"We understand bee keepers are losing large numbers of hives from a kind of distemper. This is specially the case about Bloomfield.

—Mr. Marcus Sprague, of Ameliasburgh is getting his cheese and butter dairy ready for the coming season. He is proprietor of the only establishment of the kind in the county.

—The nomination in East Northumberland took place to day. The candidates are Messrs. Crouter and Kennedy, Reform and Conservative respectively. Polling on the 25th inst.

—The cost of living is getting so high young married people are giving up housekeeping and trying boarding. That blessed N.P. is making Canada such a cheap country to live in.

—A philosophical exchange says: "The man that will take a newspaper for a length of time, and then send it back 'refused' and unpaid for, would swallow a blind dog's dinner, and then stone the dog for being blind."

—Rev. Mr. Potter, of Ameliasburgh, intends preaching a sermon on dancing on the 20th inst. and gives all dancers a cordial invitation to attend, and all members that have danced to look out for next quarterly meeting.

—Two prisoners in the cells last night.

—The street cars are now running to the docks.

—Meeting of the Finance Committee this evening.

—The roads are in a bad condition for travel at present.

—The flooring on the lower bridge is worn very thin in places.

—With such fine weather as to-day the ice in the river and bay must soon disappear.

—Liverymen are at present engaged in storing away their cutters and dusting off the wheeled vehicles.

—The Whig of Thursday says:—"A gentleman from Belleville was to-day prospecting here for a sash and blind factory." Who is he? and why does he prospect in Kingston for such a factory when the facilities are better here?

—The proceedings which were being taken to unseat Mr. Beech as Deputy-Reeve for Ameliasburgh have been stopped, and he has been allowed to retain his seat. The parties who had taken proceedings found that if he were unseated he would be re-elected, so they concluded to proceed no further.

—Vennor sticks to it that we are to have another snow fall this month, which will be heavy at Montreal. He also professes to see indications of the approach of another "cold wave" from the west. Rain, sleet or snow, from Montreal to Washington, is his published prediction for the 16th and 17th this year.

Three women went sailing out into the street,
To the red brick front where the red flag hung
They jostled the crowd all day on their feet,
While "going and going and gone" was sung.
For women must go where bargains are had,
And buy old trash, if never so bad,
And husbands must ever be groaning.

Three husbands, all hungry, went homeward to dine,
But when they arrived, there was nothing to eat.
Three women, all crazy and feeling so fine,
Were gabbling of bargains along on the street.
For women must talk of bargains they buy,
And homes must suffer, and babies must cry,
And husbands must ever be groaning.

Three women were showing their husbands with glee
Their bargains at prices that never were beat.
Three husbands, all starving and mad as could be,
Were losing the bargains out into the street.
For men don't know when bargains are cheap,
And women, poor creatures, do nothing but weep,
And husbands must ever be groaning.

Unsurpassed.—The old and well known remedy "Holden's Expectorant" (for coughs and colds) is still unsurpassed. More than 20 years it has now been in use and it still continues popular, while scores of medicines for the same purpose have flourished for a year or so and are forgotten. If you have a cough or a cold call at Geen's Drugstore and procure a bottle.

Garden Seeds.—For good and reliable garden and field seeds go to Geen's Drugstore.

Frosts.—Moderate winds, cloudy to fair weather, not much change in temperature.

The Corporation Teams.—The new contractors (the Messrs. McCoy) are not ready to commence the work of drawing the fire engines this week, but will be on Monday next.

Missionary Meeting.—The annual missionary meeting of Bleecker Street Church was held last evening, the attendance being fair. Addresses were delivered by several local clergymen.

Not Running.—Owing to the bad condition of the roads in Ameliasburgh, the stage which daily plies between that township and this city, has been forced to cease running. By Monday next it is thought the stage communication will be resumed.

Police Court.—There were three offenders before the Magistrate this morning. Ira Sparrow and David Pringle, the latter up on a remand of one week, were discharged. Joseph Gibson charged Henry Morris with assaulting him one day this week. Fined $2 and costs.

'Twas ever Thus.—Now, that the city has been compelled to pay damages to the tune of $250 for an accident, which befell Mr. Horne through a defective sidewalk at the corner of Campbell and Pinnacle Streets, men have been engaged to repair the defect. This is what they call "locking the stable door after the horse was stolen."

Coming Lectures.—On Tuesday evening next two lectures will be delivered in the city, one by Prof. Macoun in the City Hall under the auspices of the Young People's Aid Society of John St. Presbyterian Church, and the other in connection with a tea by Rev. Dr. Jeffers in Bridge St. Church. Both promise to be well attended. You pays your money and you takes your choice. See advertisements.

In their New Rooms.—No. 1 Company, 15th Battalion, commenced drill last evening in their new rooms, Carman Block, under command of Capt. Biggar. In future this company purpose drilling every Tuesday night, commencing at 7:30 sharp. After drill the members will each evening have a debate for an hour. The new rooms are handsome and commodious, and when finished will be superior to those recently destroyed by fire.

Incentives for Increasing Population.—Sir Leonard Tilley having clearly shown by his carefully prepared Budget statement that Canada is more prosperous under a protective duty, and that the N P. has been a great boon to our manufacturers it is a little strange that the founders of this great policy should neglect the fountain head of all nations wealth, and keep Babies on the free list. The founders of Hatter and Furrier, being convinced that the party now in power will never give this great struggling industry the attention it deserves, will give prizes to every Baby born in the Counties of Hastings and Prince Edward during next December (1881), as follows:—

For every Girl Baby—1 handsome Fur Hood.
For every Boy Baby—One Fur Turban.
For every Pair of Twins—Two Silver Cups.
For Triplets—One twenty dollar gold piece.

A physician's certificate is expected with every application for a prize, and it is to be hoped that Babies will not be imported into Hastings and Prince Edward from Adpington, Lennox and Northumberland Counties. Please remember while waiting for the "Little Ones" that N. Davenport has the largest and finest stock of Hats and Caps in Central Canada.

Cleaning Up.—A force of corporation men were at work to-day in cleaning the street crossings, bridges, &c. With such mild weather as the present the roads will soon become free of mud and slush.

The City Churches.—In several of the churches of the city special revival services are now being held, in which much interest is being manifested. At the M. H. Tabernacle several persons have confessed a change of heart, and the good work is still progressing. The attendance of Rev. Mr. Potter, at Holloway Street Church, is fraught with much good, as the basement of the church barely accomodates the large number in attendance each evening, and where also a number have been converted.

The best bargain in the city is that suit of clothes at Hennesy's for $6,50. It is an all wool, Halifax Tweed, well lined and trimmed. See it.

"IRISH SCHOOL OF ELOQUENCE."

Mr. Jas. Fahey in Metropolitan Hall last Night.

In the absence of any ostentatious demonstration by the Irishmen of the city yesterday, in honor of the anniversary of St. Patrick, the Society of the I. C. B. U., No. 21, deemed it prudent, as they have during the past few years, to celebrate the memorable 17th of March by giving a musical or literary entertainment in the evening. This year they adopted the same course, and secured the attendance of Mr. James Fahey, of the editorial staff of the Toronto Mail, who delivered a lecture in the Metropolitan Hall last evening on the subject which forms the caption of this article. A large representation of the Irishmen of the city, together with a number of their friends, numbering upwards of 200, were present to hear, for the second time in this city, a lecture by this young Irish orator. Shortly after 8 o'clock, and previous to the speaker being introduced the 15th Battalion Band played a beautiful selection on the platform, which was vociferously applauded at the close. Among others whom we noticed on the platform, in addition to the officers of the society, were Rev. Dr. Clarke, of Christ Church, and Mr. Mathieson, Principal of the Deaf and Dumb Institute. Mr. Fahey, on coming to the front was warmly applauded, and the subject of his lecture was ably and interestingly handled throughout. It would be impossible, with our limited space, to do more than notice the effort, which was a rare intellectual treat. He digressed somewhat from the "Irish School of Eloquence" to the modern questions of the day, which fell with no less salutation upon the ears of his hearers, than did his remarks confined strictly to the subject of his discourse. He paid a fitting tribute to the old members and masters of the "School," among whom he cherished the name of Daniel O'Connell, as being one of the most gifted and eloquent of Irish orators, and who succeeded during his brilliant career in gaining a patient hearing in the British House of Commons, which was something unusual and remarkable for Irish leaders in his day to command. With this name, Mr. Fahey thought it might be said that the "Irish School of Eloquence" ceased, though Irishmen have still at the present day a very popular leader in the person of Mr. Parnell; but he is not possessed of those elements which constitute a true orator, such as O'Connell possessed. He hoped that the agitation now going on in Ireland would result in the British Parliament granting them once more Home Rule. If so, he pictured in glowing terms what he believed would be the result of having the representative men of Ireland meet on Dublin Green, where they would have power to legislate for their own affairs. And then, if ever England were again involved in war and required the services of the sons of Erin, as she had in the past, she could call upon some eight millions of subjects with confidence in their loyalty and fidelity. The lecture occupied about one hour and a half, and was frequently and enthusiastically applauded. At the close Rev. Dr. Clarke moved a vote of thanks, seconded by Mr. Mathison, which was unanimously adopted. Both the mover and seconder testified to the pleasure and profit derived from Mr. Fahey's admirable lecture, which had afforded all present a treat seldom enjoyed.

Immediately after the close of the lecture (about 10.20) the members of the Society entertained Mr. Fahey at a sumptuous supper at O'Brien's Hotel, where a couple of hours were pleasantly and sociably spent around the festive board, discussing the excellent bill of fare furnished by the genial proprietor, Mr. P. O'Brien.

EAST NORTHUMBERLAND.

To the Editor of the Ontario.

The campaign is fairly opened in East Northumberland. Cochrane and Kennedy are going the rounds amongst the electors of Seymour cheek-by-jowl, Cochrane wearing a huge pair of green goggles that have done service at many a threshing bee. The object in view is to get the Orangemen to vote for Kennedy. The Lord deliver us from such like hypocrisy!

Yours, &c.,
Orangeman.

At Osgoode Hall on Wednesday the following local cases were heard:—

Deloro v. Prince Edward Fire Ins. Co.—Mr. Munson (G. H. Watson) moved for an order to have a suggestion of the plaintiff's death entered by his executors upon the roll. Summons granted.

Reddick v. Bleecker.—W. C. Cassels for plaintiff; Bethune, Q. C., and Henderson for defendant. Order made, this cause to the Queen's Bench and for trial, and for the trial of this and two other causes together at the next Assizes at Belleville.

Yesterday the following case was heard:

Way v. Trent Valley Railway.—Judgment. Garnishee summons discharged without costs, but no direction as to the attaching order. This was a motion agreed on Tuesday. G. T. Blackstock appeared for the garnishees (The Bank of Commerce.) Holman for defendants. McPhillips for Mr. Bickford, and Aylesworth for plaintiff. The moneys sought to be garnisheed by plaintiff were deposited in the Canadian Bank of Commerce (Belleville) by the Trent Valley Railway Co. An Act having been passed by the Ontario Legislature, granting payment of $5,000 out of this sum to Mr. Bickford, Mr. Dalton, in giving judgment yesterday on this application, said that this Act made it impossible for him to make any order, as it disposed of the fund sought to be attached, and he therefore discharged the summons.

NIHILISM IN ENGLAND.

Further Report of the Attempt to Destroy the Lord Mayor's Residence.

London, March 17.—At a meeting of the Commen Council to-day the Lord Mayor said the explosion would probably not have injured the Mansion House but it would have damaged the Egyptian Hall and adjacent private houses, and entailed a serious loss of life. He was not at home at the time. One account says an Irish newspaper was found amongst the packings of of powder.

London, March 17.—The official report regarding the attempt to explode gunpowder says the policeman found a box in the recess of a window facing the end of George Stander's (Lord Mayor's) private apartments. The brown paper in which the box was wrapped was smouldering. The box contained 15 lbs. of course gunpowder, with fuse through the box, and the end of the fuse close to the smouldering paper. An explosion would have occurred very soon.

Later.

New York, March 18.—The World's London correspondent says he sees no reason why the Fenians should desire the death of the Lord Mayor, and intimates the police themselves put up the job of the Mansion House explosion.

"Hurrah for Old Ireland."

A DRUNKEN RIOT AT ALDERSHOT.

Arrests made with fixed Bayonets.

London, March 18.—The riot at Aldershot yesterday occurred about 5 in the afternoon, when the soldiers belonging to Eighteenth Royal Irish, together with Irishmen belonging to other corps commenced a disturbance in Short Street, a disreputable place. They shouted in loud tones — "Hurrah for old Ireland," and were soon joined by large numbers. The day Provosts tried to arrest the leading rioters, but were driven from one end of the street to the other. Mounted police galloped to the scene, and the First and Second Brigades immediately marched into town with fixed bayonets, and attacked the rioters. Every public house and dancing saloons were and cleared, the rioters taken prisoners in great number. The Provosts were sadly treated. Some prisoners were rescued. The town was in an uproar. The riot lasted nearly three hours. Attributed to drunkenness.

Shokmeel, N. C., March 18.—W. D. Baldwer, prominent merchant, returning home on horseback recently at night, was attacked by a pack of 15 or 20 village dogs. They were so furious the citizens were aroused and military aid called out. The dogs were hunted down and killed.

Denver, March 18. — Reported the slaughter of whites by Apache renegades in south western New Mexico, states 11 men, 3 women and a boy were killed. They were accompanying a wagon-train from New Mexico, and had passed on ahead of the train, when they were set upon by the Indians, a boy only escaping. Telegrams say 30 were killed and several wagons burned. It seems probable there was a subsequent attack on the train and the Indians killed those who had been next after the first slaughter.

The Brig "Gypsy" fitted out in this city, and sent to Venezuela in search of a large treasure, but lost 60 years ago, off the Island of Coche has been wrecked off the coast of mainland. The crew barely escaped. The brig is a total loss.

AFTERNOON.

LATEST EVENTS AT ST. PETERSBURG.

DEATHS FROM THE PLAGUE.

Directions to Russian Ministers Abroad.

St. Petersburg, 18.—The ground dug up where the mine was discovered has been refilled. Doors of the shop in which the mouth of the mine was situated are sealed up, and guards are stationed at the premises. It has been decided to erect a religious memento on the spot where the Czar fell.

A revolutionary chief captured two days before the assassination confessed after the deed was accomplished, and so deeply incriminated Russakoff that he also confessed, and denounced his accomplices, hence the arrests on Monday and Tuesday, and the discovery of the mine. Many revolutionary proclamations were found pasted inside and outside various public buildings. The authorities were advised several months ago that Nihilists from Chicago had re-entered the country.

Constantinople, March 18.—Five deaths from the plague at Nedjeff, between 6th and 11th inst; 11 at D'Jagara.

St. Petersburg, March 18. — Giers, Minister of Foreign Affairs, addressed the following, March 16th, to Russian Representatives abroad: "His Majesty, the Emperor, on ascending the Throne of his ancester assumes as an inheritage the traditions consecrated by time and their acts. Russia has now attained a full development. The feelings of jealousy and discontent are equally foreign to her. The Emperor will first give attention to international development of state. The Emperor's foreign policy will be entirely pacific. Russia will remain faithful to her friends. Reciprocate the friendleness of all states, and act in common with other Governments in the maintenance of general peace. The only duty of protecting her honor or security may divert her from international development. The Emperor will endeavor to strengthen her power, advance her welfare, and secure her prosperity without causing detriment to others. These are the principles by which the policy of the Emperor will invariably be guided. The Emperor charges you to bring these declarations to the knowledge of the Government to which you are accredited, and communicate this despatch to the Minister of Foreign Affairs."

BURNED IN ITS CRADLE.

Sad Fate of a Baby in Annapolis County, Nova Scotia.

Halifax, March 17.—The house of Wm. Clevecey, at Faulkland Bridge, Annapolis county, was burned to the ground with all its contents. His youngest, an infant of eighteen months old, perished in the flames. Mr. Clevecey and his wife had gone to a neighbor's for a short time, leaving their three children in the house. When the parents returned they found the house in flames. The two eldest children, one five and the other three, were safe, but their grief knew no bounds on finding that their baby, whom they had left quietly sleeping in its cradle, was in the burning building, and beyond hope of rescue.

The most conclusive testimony, repeatedly laid before the public in the columns of the daily press, proves that Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—an absolutely pure combination of six of the finest remedial oils in existence—remedies rheumatic pain, eradicates affections of the throat and lungs, and cures piles, wounds, sores, lameness, tumors, burns, and injuries of horses and cattle.

Good Light and Experienced Workmen are very necessary in a Photograph Gallery. Both of these we claim to have. Our light is the largest and best in this part of the country and our Operator is a man of experience whom we believe has been long enough here to establish a reputation, and is an Operator who has for many years commanded some of the best situations in the country. We have had no change of Operator since last summer, and the one who made our specimens is the man who is now doing our work daily. We guarantee satisfaction, and make every effort to please our customers. Our Studio has been refitted with new scenery and new instruments. A trial solicited.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous, and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

A Lecture to Young Men
ON THE LOSS OF

MANHOOD

We have recently published a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical incapacity, Impediments to Marriage etc., resulting from excesses.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cts. or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay clearly demonstrates, from thirty years successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hand of every youth and every man in the land.

The London Lancet says, "No persons should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nervo-specialist, and therefore knows where of he writes with such power and ability."

MARCH WINDS! The sudden changes and high winds which prevail in March makes a bottle of Dows's Elixir always necessary to have at hand. It is a sure cure for sudden colds and all lung diseases.

RAYER'S MANDRAKE BITTERS will cure all bilious Diseases. Sold everywhere at 25 cts. per bottle. Try it.

The best remedy for strains and galls on horses is HENRY & JOHNSON'S ARNICA and OIL LINIMENT. Good for man and beast.

In the foremost rank of Anæsthetics and anti-periodics stands Northrop & Lyman's Quinine Wine. The weak, the nervous, the dyspeptic, never vainly seek its aid; sufferers from bilious, remittent, and intermittent fever, are sure speedily to get relief from the masterful influence. Its taste is agreeable, its ingredients do not number one that is deleterious. The sherry wine base in it an agreeable stimulative; is eminently pure, and serves to diffuse throughout the system its fine medicinal properties. It revives failing appetite, is conducive to sleep, and promotes regular secretion and evacuation. The nervous and dyspeptic, it is most known, are often troubled with a degree of melancholy which in many cases reaches the stage of actual hypochondria. As the stomach regains its tone and the nerves recover their vigor, through the action of the Quinine Wine, this failing gradually wears off, and cheerfulness reassumes its sway. Persons who are convalescing after an exhausting disease, should take it in properly regulated doses, as it is master of the malady, thus paves the restoration of vigor, which, without its aid might be tediously slow. Fever and ague and bilious, remittent and intermittent fevers often leave

DAILY ONTARIO
POETRY.
CHRIST'S LOVE.
Grander than ocean's story,
Or the songs of forest trees,
Purer than dew of morning
Or evening's gentle breez ;
Clearer than mountain echoes
Ring out from peaks above,
Rolls on the glorious anthem
Of God's eternal love.
Dearer than any lovings
The trump-friends bestow ;
Stronger than all the yearnings
A mother's heart can know ;
Deeper than earth's foundations,
And far above all things ;
Broader than heaven's high arches
The love that Christ has brought.
Richer than all earth's treasure
The wealth my soul receives ;
Brighter than royal jewels
The crown that Jesus gives.
Wonderous the condescension
And grand beyond degree !
I would be ever singing
The love of Christ to me.
LOOK UP—NOT DOWN.
Life to some is full of sorrow—
Half is real, half they borrow ;
Full of rocks and full of ledges,
Corners sharp and cutting edges,
Though the joy bells are ringing,
Not a song you'll hear them singing ;
Seeing never makes them wise,
Looking out from downcast eyes.
All in vain the sun is shining,
Waters sparkling, blossoms twining ;
They but see through these same sorrow,
Sad to-days and worse to-morrows ;
See the clouds that must pass over,
See the weeds among the clover—
Everything and anything
But the gold the sunbeams bring.
Drinking from the bitter fountain,
Let your noble-hill seem a mountain,
Drops of dew and drops of rain
Swell into the mighty main.
All in vain the blessings scatter,
And the mercies fall together,
Gathering sheaf, ye tread the wheat,
Rich and royal heath your feet.
Let it not be so, my neighbor ;
Look up across love and labor,
Not for one alone whose vials
Every one has cares and trials,
Any and pain are twined together,
Like the fair and cloudy weather,
May we have, oh, let us pray,
Faith and patience for to-day.

SUNDAY READING.
FOR SUNDAY REFLECTION.
No man has ever yet reached to perfection ; but no man has ever yet been rendered any the worse by striving after it.
Human nature is so constituted that all see and judge better in the affairs of other men than in their own.
Every man has three characters—that which he exhibits, that which he has and that which he thinks he has.
The seat of knowledge is in the head ; of wisdom, in the heart. Let us be sure to judge wrong if we do not feel right.
Reason is the glory of human nature, and one of the chief eminences whereby we are raised above the beasts is the lower world —Watts.
Let wickedness escape, as it may as the sar. It never fails of doing justice upon itself, for every guilty person is his own hangman. —Seneca.
Unbridled zeal, will not shine in the dark; no more can reason, however refined and adjusted, shine efficaciously but as it reflects the light of divine truth shed from heaven.—John Foster.
We are always more disposed to laugh at nonsense than at genuine wit, because the former is by nature more obvious, and more conformable to our natures; fools love folly and wise men wisdom.—Marguerite de Valois.
A TRUE INCIDENT.
On board the ill-fated steamer Swanhake was a young Irish lad, twenty years of age. Before leaving the burning steamer and committing himself to the merciless waves, he carefully fastened upon himself and wife life-preservers. Some one nearly dragged away that of the wife, leaving her without hope, except as she could cling to her husband. This also did, placing her hands firmly on his shoulders, and resting there until her strength becoming exhausted, she said, "I can hold on no longer." "Try a little longer," was the response of the wearied and agonized husband; "let us sing 'Rock of Ages.'" And as these sweet strains floated over those troubled waters, reaching the ears of the sinking and dying, little did they know those sweet singers of Israel, whom they comforted.
But lo! as they sang, one after another of those exhausted ones were seen raising their heads above the overwhelming waves, joining with a last effort in this sweet, dying, pleading prayer:
"Rock of Ages, cleft for me,
Let me hide myself in Thee."
With the song seemed to come strength; another and yet another was encouraged to renewed effort. Soon in the distance a boat was seen approaching! Singing still, they tried, and soon with superhuman strength laid hold of the life-boat, upon which they were born in safety to land. This is no fiction; it was related by the singer himself, who said he believed Topsail's gospel "Book of Ages" saved many another besides himself and wife.—Western.

SHOWING CHRIST'S DEATH
The writer, travelling at the west some time ago, met a lady in the cars, who said to him, "I heard one of your ministers preach the other Sunday and it was as good a Unitarian sermon as one would wish to hear." "Ah ! indeed, what did he say ?" "Well, he said he wished people would not make so much of Christ's life."
It is true that we make too much of Christ's death ? His life was grand, and demands our admiration ; but it was not his life that saves us. The life and the death go together. Some would represent that we pattern after the life, and save ourselves. But the life graded the way to the cross on Calvary. Christ's death is the pivotal point of the plan of redemption. The Jewish types prefigured the greater sacrifice, "the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world." Jesus knew that he came to die. He had a "baptism ;" he was to be "straitened up ;" and at the transfiguration the subject of discourse was the "decease which he should accomplish at Jerusalem."
In the epistles with what frequency is Christ's death referred to as the great fact of redemption : "It is Christ that died ; " "Christ died for the ungodly ;" "Christ died for our sins ;" " who died for us." What was the theme of the great Apostle's boasting ? "I determined not to know anything among you, save Jesus Christ and him crucified." "God forbid that I should glory save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ." What moreover is the theme and the joy of the glorified ? "And they sung a new song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the book, and to open the seals thereof : for thou wast slain, and hast redeemed us to God by thy blood."
We do not, then, make too much of Christ's death. It is Christ's appointment that we shall "show his death till he come." The Lord's Supper is a solemn proclamation, a divine exhibit. It ought to be publicly celebrated, in the sight of children and of the entire congregation. Nor is it strange that so much of our psalmody should emphasize Christ's death. We must sing :—
"Tis by thy death we live, O Lord ;"
"Christ and his cross is all our theme ;"
"In the cross of Christ I glory ;"
"Worthy the Lamb that died, they cry."
But though it is a death that the Lord's Supper shows, it is not properly a mournful ordinance. Humiliation and repentance should belong to the preparatory service. At the table we should know the sweetness of communion with Christ, and have foretastes of heavenly joy. It was required by the early Christians, in the celebration of the Lord's Supper, and each communicant should sing a song in his place, or if he were not able to sing, that he should repeat a passage of Scripture. Have you a song to sing? What is the precious word that touches your heart ?—American Messenger.

EFFICIENT CHRISTIAN LIFE.
The secret of success in the training of young people to an efficient Christian life is in giving them something to do, and keeping it before minds and hands busy in doing it. It is too often the case, that when a child has united with the Church, this is considered the end sought, rather than a means to the end, which ought always to be kept in mind. It is of little use for a person to enter a gymnasium, and stand or sit as spectators to others in the efforts of others. This will neither strengthen the muscles nor quicken the blood. To insure vigor, health and growth, one must diligently use the various appliances for giving play to the muscles. So with the soul. What the gymnasium is for the body, the Church of Christ is for the soul. It is divinely appointed as a training school for the higher nature, and all who enter it should keep themselves, or be kept, busy in the use of those means of grace which are specially appointed for its development. The young people in our churches would be less likely to be carried away with the love of frivolous and vicious amusements, if they were kept busy about something better. It is a mistake in nature and established Christians to discourage or oppose the efforts of the young to exercise the gifts of the young in pleasant and instructive entertainments, because they seem to be childish.
A PRETTY MAY CUSTOM.
A pretty May custom still obtains in the more primitive villages of Suabia, Bavaria, and Tyrol, distant from the great railway routes and comparatively untouched by the artificial tempor of contemporary German culture. On the first Sunday of the flowery month the unmarried girls of the hamlet, armed with leafy boughs, visit in succession the houses where new ones have been wed during the past year, and make formal inquiry, in certain set phrases handed down by custom, with respect to their health and happiness. The answer generally is that each married woman thus distinguished should receive her maiden visitors with the outer door of her house closed, which they take up their stand in double line, after handing them for their kind inquiries, the gates slowly between their ranks, once during their progress to be closed and inflicted with the green branches as a mark of maidenly disapproval of her faithlessness to the virginal estate. So long as this ancient dis gentle discipline, she is expected, according to her husband's means, to make a pecuniary offering to the vestal band; and the total amount of the gifts on the May day collection is expended by the village girls in an evening festivity to which they invite the married women of the whole of the village. At this merry-making all the outlay for musicians and refreshments is defrayed by the youthful hostesses, who, however, reserve to themselves the privilege of "engaging partners."
Among German peasants the practices and observances of their ancestors are even to this day faithfully observed. They are not nearly so cosmopolitan as their English and French neighbors, and later day innovations are usually entirely disregarded.

Mrs. E. H. Perkins, Creek Centre, Warren Co., N. Y., writes : "She has been troubled with Asthma for four years, had to sit up night after night with it. She has taken two bottles of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil and is perfectly cured. She strongly recommends it, and wishes to not be sent among her neighbors."

Those are the best Christians who are more careful to reform themselves than to censure others.—Fuller.
A man must stand erect, not kept erect by others.—Marcus Aurelius Antonius.
Prefer truth before the maintaining of an opinion.
To exercise spiritual power is to develop and strengthen it. To disuse it is to repress and extinguish it. Your spiritual faculties being uneducated, you are disqualified from apprehending truth by means of powers you have atrophied by disuse.—Elizabeth Stuart Phelps.
It is most certain that ill tongues would be silent if ill ears were not open ; and hence it was an appesite saying of the ancients, that the utter and hearer of slander should both be hanged—the one by the tongue, and the other by the ears.—Robert South.

WHY MEN ARE LOST.
I remember very well, when I first went out to Australia, that one fine evening a little bird was seen to be following the ship, evidently a land bird driven out to sea. When the little thing got tired out, it tried to alight on some of the rigging, though it seemed afraid to do so. On one occasion the captain streached forth his hand, and tried to take hold of the little bird, but excluded his grasp and went back far away into the darkness of the night, falling upon the waves without the hope of rescue.
I have thought what a picture this is of a sinner who has been flying over the waste of waters without finding rest for the sole of his foot, when at last comes to the understand that no rest can be found except in Jesus, and trembkingly comes to him. Then the gospel Captain reaches forth his hand wishes that it would rest within his bosom ; but no, it is too timid, too fearful. Back it goes, to death and doom, to rise no more forever.—Thomas Spurgeon.

A TOUCHING STORY.
This touching story is from the Youth's Companion. It is told of a poor Hindoo mother of Kedgeree, in India :
This woman lived on the Ganges, near Sanger Island, and she had a pair of beautiful twin babies. But one of them was a girl, and blind, and the benighted mother on that account supposed herself favored by "Gunga's" curse for some offence she had done.
A missionary wife found her lamenting, and heard the story of her grief. The God must be appeased the woman said. He was certainly angry, or the children would not have been boys, and with clear eyes. She would have to make a sacrifice to soothe his wrath. The Christian lady tried what she could to impress her with better teachings, but with little effect. She left her sadly, but not dreaming what the wretched mother meditated doing.
A day or two later she called again. As before, the mother sat beside the little basket-cradle weeping—but there was but one babe in the cradle. It was the blind girl. The other had been drowned in the Ganges !
The Christian lady was horror struck when she knew the truth.
"Unhappy woman !" she exclaimed ; then after a silence, she added with something more like pity : "If you were driven to this, why did you destroy the one you loved, and spare the one you hated ?"
The woman sobbed, and beat her breast. "O, it is that that breaks my heart," she said. "The good must have the best. When I had a perfect one he would not take the other. Alas, my boy, my boy !"

FASHIONABLE AFFECTION.
There is occasionally a good deal of mutuality in people not wanting to see each other. Yesterpay a handsomely-dressed lady dalled at a fashionable residence. There was the inevitable small boy lounging in the front yard.
"Your mother is not in, is she?" asked the visitor.
"Yes, she is in the parlor."
"I thought she always went out about this time in the afternoon."
"Maybe she would have gone out if she had known you was coming : she said so the other day."
Just then the front door opened and the lady of the house appeared. They rushed into each other's arms—smack ! smack !—how glad I am to see you ! You—you have not been to see me for an age. I have been wanting to see you so bad ! &c., &c.

A BAPTIST MINISTER'S EXPERIENCE
I am a Baptist Minister and before I even thought of being a clergyman graduated in medicine but left a lucrative practice for my present profession. 40 years ago, I was for many years a sufferer from quinsy, "Thomas Eclectric Oil cured me." I am also troubled with rheumatism and Thomas Eclectric Oil always released me. My wife and child had Diphtheria, and "Thomas Eclectric Oil cured them." I have used it in time it will cure seven times out of ten. I am confident it is a cure for the most obstinate Cold, or Cough and if used according to small teaspoon, at half fill it with the Oil and then place of the spoon in one nostril and draw the Oil out of the mouth into the head by sniffing the hard as they can until the Oil falls over into the throat and practice that twice a week, I defy little girl in a fair way of recovery, and you must bear in mind, that this was a very bad case, and I do believe that if I had had it sooner, or to her, she would have been dead ere this, now she eats hearty and is gaining in flesh, the fits are pretty much at an end, and the heart is less terrible : Sam, my 7 years are respectfully.

HAGYARD'S PECTORAL BALSAM
Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam is composed of the most healing balsams and gums. The Balsams, which enter into its composition, were used by the natives when America was first discovered, and are combined with other vegetable tonics, so blended together, that it is a specific for all affections of the throat and lungs. Thousands of bottles are used annually, and it is considered one of the standard preparations of the day.
Dr. Harris, of Middlebury, Vt., says : "I had been troubled with Bronchitis for two years, so affecting the organs of speech that I could not speak aloud for six weeks. I had with it a sever cough and cold in the head. I took two bottles of Allen's Lung Balsam and am entirely cured."
Facial Complexions.—How many thousands of ladies there are who look wan and faded, while yet in early life ; to all such let us whisper a word. You have in Bristol's Sarsaparilla and Pills the means of restoring your color, brightening your eyes, sweetening your breath, and giving you sound general health.
A Word of Warning. To protect the public, and prevent them from being imposed upon by the worthless counterfeits and imitations of Dr. Murray & Lanman's Florida Water, we have prepared paper in which the words "Lanman & Kemp, New York," appear in pale letters when a leaf of the little pamphlet is held up to the light ; and whenever Florida Water is offered for sale wrapped in a pamphlet that does not have this water-mark or stamp in it, then it is counterfeit, and should be rejected.
In cases of Chronic disease which doctors have failed to cure, Burdock Blood Bitters has achieved its greatest triumphs. All diseases of the blood, Liver and Kidneys, Scrofula, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, Rheumatism, Piles, Female Complaints and all forms of Impurity are promptly cured by this great renovating Tonic. Trial bottles only cost 10 Cents.
It always gives us pleasure to draw attention to articles which deserving of public patronage. Probably no article ever offered to the public has met with the same success as Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum. Thousands of families in the Dominion keep it in their houses as the standard Cough Remedy. The sale of this article has assumed enormous proportions. Our advice to all is to get a large bottle and try its virtues if they should at any time unfortunately contract either Coughs or Colds. It is sold by all chemists.
Dr Wise.—Too often a cold or slight cough is considered a very ordinary, trifling affair, just as well left to go as it came, and hence the constantly neglected until a more serious affection is converted into a serious pulmonary disease. The more prudent, aware that a cough or cold should never be trifled with, promptly use "Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers," which have sustained their reputation for over twenty years. They are always reliable, and exert a most beneficial influence on all the bronchial and pulmonary organs. Sold by all druggists and country merchants at 25 cents a box.

Wm. M. Giles, Esq.—Dear Sir : I have been suffering for the past four months with a terrible attack of rheumatism in my left arm and hand. I could not move ; I thought I should never get well, as I had used most every known remedy. Your circular came to hand, I procured a bottle of your Pain Destroyer and thought I would try it—not having any faith in it, or anything else—but what was my astonishment after the first application, I got instant relief, and now, after using it one week, I am nearly well. I have bought one dozen bottles of it, and never failed to by without it. I have also used it with great benefit on protruding piles. I shall try to tell all of the people in this section about your remedy, but most of them know of it, as they used to come to see me when I could not move in bed. You will please to excuse this writing, as it is my first letter in four months. I hope I do not intrude on your time, but, my dear sir, I owe you a debt of gratitude which I can never repay. Wishing you every success in the introduction of your medicine, I am, dear sir,
Yours discerely,

DAILY ONTARIO

SATURDAY, MARCH 19, 1881.

It is a well-known fact that the German Chancellor has exhausted his means of preventing emigration from Germany to America, and his failure is one cause of his recent ill-temper. A gentleman lately connected with the Canadian Emigration Commission tells a story about Bismarck that we do not remember seeing anywhere in print. Being annoyed at the large number of persons leaving for the Dominion he resorted to a curious means of stopping the exodus. He found that certain laws of Canada prohibited music and the sale of beer on Sunday; and knowing the Teutonic disposition to make Sunday a holiday Bismarck caused abstracts of those laws to be scattered broadcast over the Empire. The result was that emigrants turned toward the more liberal States of the North west.

THE Cornwall Freeholder knows something about the workings of the N. P. In a recent issue it says:—"The National Policy which was not only to keep our men in the country, but was to attract countless thousands from other countries is working in a charm fereabouts. Time and again we have chronicled the departure of squads of our young men—the flower of the land—for the United States, not to seek work only, but also a permanent home. Often did we hope that the exodus had ceased; but the longer the N. P. is in force the greater the stampede for the States. This week no less than thirteen fine young men from the Township of Charlottenburgh have gone to Dakota and New Mexico to find work and a new home. They say it is impossible to live in this country. Everything is subject to such a high tax under the National Policy and wages are so low that they cannot make ends meet, and therefore they are obliged to seek a home in another country. That is one of the many evil fruits of the N. P. which was designed solely for the manufacturers and not in the interest of the consumer or of the farmer."

THE PUBLIC EXPENSES.

Mr. Blake has placed the following resolutions on the records of the House, to which we invite the serious attention of the electors of East Northumberland:—

"The leaders of the present Government during the general election of 1878, declared, that if restored to power, they would readjust, but not increase the tariff.

"That in 1879 they so increased the tariff, that the average rate of taxation has been raised, according to the Trade and Navigation Returns from 14.03 per cent. in 1877-78 to 19.70 per cent. in 1879-80, or over 40 per cent.

"That the reason given for this departure from their election pledges, was that the increase was required, in order to balance the public revenue and expenditure.

"That the Government estimates the expenditure for the current fiscal year at $25,578,000, being $2,070,000 in excess of that for 1877-78 and the revenue for the current year at $27,686,000, being $2,013,000 in excess of the expenditure for the year, and $4,267,000 in excess of the expenditure for 1877-78.

"That the Government estimates the expenditure for 1881-82 at $26,389,000, being $816,000 in excess of that for the current year, and $2,886,000 in excess of that for 1877-78; and the revenue at $27,806,000, being $1,411,000 in excess of the expenditure for the year, and $4,277,000 in excess of the expenditure for 1877-78.

"That it is thus proposed to raise for the current and the next fiscal years a revenue of $55,486,000, being $3,424,000 in excess of the expenditure for those years, and $11,800,000 in excess of the expenditure, according to the scale of 1877-78.

That the rate of taxation is excessive and should be reduced: and in effecting such reduction regard should be had to those taxes, which press most severly on large masses of the population, which bear most unequally on different parts of the Dominion, and which, while most oppressive to the consumer, are least productive of revenue."

It will be observed that the ordinary expenditure of the country has been raised from $22,500,000 under Mr. Mackenzie's Administration to $26,389,000, estimated for the current year, a difference of no less than $3,889,000. This, too, in the face of the statement that Mr. Cartwright, in 1877-8, had asked for more money than was necessary to carry on the Government. We must conclude, therefore, that Mr. Tilley has changed his mind with regard to the expenses of the country. His own figures lead to no other conclusion. He professed to stand amazed at Mr. Cartwright's demand for $23,800,000 in 1877-8, but complacently and indifferently views his own demand for $26,389,000 in 1881-2.

In reply to Mr. Blake the Finance Minister pointed to excessive payments for running Government railways, especially referring to the Pembina Branch. He found it convenient, however, to avoid any reference to the Intercolonial Railway, which he and his colleagues boasted was being managed upon an economical basis, thereby effecting an immense saving to the department. As is well known, the cost of running the Intercolonial Railway has been much greater under the present Administration than before, while the general efficiency of the road has been lessened.

The facts brought out by Mr. Blake should attract public attention. There is no excuse for this extraordinary way in which the public expenditures are being increased. In order to meet these expenses, the revenue is made more productive by means of a protective tariff, and the poor man, who buys tea, sugar, fuel, &c., must pay the piper. The Finance Minister fondly imagines that the electors will overlook this fact, but he is estimating their ability to judge for themselves at too low a rate.

They will understand the situation and will show that their own interests as well as the interests of the public generally, must be placed before the party. If the expenditures of the country were kept within the limits adopted by the Mackenzie Government, many of the burdensome and unprofitable taxes that now oppress the people could be removed. But the Government must purchase popularity from the politicians and office-seekers who feed at the public crib, and the taxpayer is made supply the needful. Mr. Mackenzie refused to honor unjust claims and fee greedy hangers-on. The result was unpopularity among a powerful class, and opposition from those whose political opinions are as unstable as water.

PERSONALS.

—Mr. T. S. Henry, brother of Mayor Henry, the former proprietor, has purchased the Napanee Standard.

—Mr. J. T. Hawke, Ottawa correspondent of the Globe, left yesterday for Europe, having four weeks' holidays.

—Princess Louise was 33 years old yesterday, and flags were flying from the Parliament towers in honor of the event.

—Prof. Macoun, of this city, lectured in Hamilton, Thursday night, and the Times says his lecture was one of the best ever delivered in that city.

—According to recent accounts the Princess Louise is still suffering from the effects of the runaway accident, and will not return to Canada for some time yet.

—Mr. Herbert Mottashed, who has been in the employ of Dr. Parker, of Stirling, as assistant druggist for some time, will leave next week for Dundas, where he has accepted a similar situation.

—Some days ago we stated that Mr. James Johnson, late of the Kingston News, and brother of Messrs. W. and J. W. Johnston, of this city, would soon take charge of the editorial management of the Ottawa Citizen. At a meeting of the Publishing Co., held this week, the appointment was duly made. Mr. McIntosh is President of the Co., but will hereafter have little to do with the editorial work. Mr. Johnson will improve the tone of the Citizen's political articles.

PARLIAMENTARY NOTES.

There will be no new business brought before the House after the session of yesterday. The sjournment is fixed for Monday next.

It seems that no reports exist in regard to the question of the navigation of Hudson Bay, nor in relation to the Vancouver Island railway

In regard to the duty on pig iron the Finance Minister has promised that the Government will consider the question of increased duty between this and next session.

The cost of maintaining the fish-breeding establishment at Newcastle, Ont, in round figures, was $3,916 in 1876; $5,269 in 1877; $2,324 in 1878; $4,171 in 1879; and $2,359 in 1880.

In the House to-day Dr. McInnes will move that the full sessional allowance be paid to Mr. Bernard and Capt. Scott, who were unable to be present at the beginning of the session owing to illness. The resolution will likely pass without any opposition.

At the St. Patrick's concert at the Grand Opera House, Hon. Mr. Anglin stated in his remarks that "Irishmen were aliens in their native land, and had never received justice at the hands of the British Government, being treated like vermin, and thought worthy only to be got rid of." Mr. Bunster made a speech, having China men, Irishmen, Ed. Hanlan and the ladies all mixed up together.

MARINE NOTES.

—The Canadian shipping fell off in 1880 for the first time since the confedration. The falling of last year was ninety-four vessels representing 20,870 tons.

Kirkpatrick and McCuaig. The bill gives the Department authority at discretion to dispense with a portion of the life-saving appliances on steam vessels plying on rivers.

The best form in which electricity is embodied in Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, a sovereign and highly sanctioned specific for rheumatic pains, and a thoroughly reliable remedy for all affections of the throat and lungs, used externally and internally.

—The Parliament of New South Wales has voted £40,000 to assist emigrants from the United Kingdom who are willing to pay half their passage money.

East Northumberland.

THE NOMINATION YESTERDAY.

Colborne Crowded with People.

The nomination to fill the vacancy in the representation of the above Riding in the House of Commons, caused by the death of Mr. Keeler, took place at Colborne yesterday. From an early hour in the morning people from all parts of the riding were thronging into the village which is in the extreme southern part of the county, and the different trains on the Grand Trunk brought others from surrounding places, who feel interested in the election.

The great guns of the day, Mr. Rykert in the interest of the Government candidate, and Mr. Charlton in the interest of the Reformers were each to have spoken at separate meetings, commencing at two o'clock in the afternoon, but as to this arrangement an understanding was arrived at by which the electors were to have the benefit of hearing both sides, the speaking to take place in the Opera House. At the hour of two o'clock the hall, a large one, was literally packed, it being estimated that not less than 700 people were in it.

Dr. Willoughby, Reeve of Colborne, was chosen as Chairman, and announced that each of the candidates would speak for half an hour, Mr. Charlton to follow for an hour and a half, and Mr. Rykert also for an hour and a half, Mr. Charlton to have five minutes to reply to Mr. Rykert if he chose to do so.

On the platform besides the gentlemen who were to speak, we observed Wm. Kerr, Q. C., ex-M. P., Mr. D. Murphy, of Trenton, E. B. Fralick and W. H. Biggar, of this city, Rev. Thos. Cullen, of Brighton, and many others.

Mr. Kennedy was the first speaker, and on taking the stand met with a good deal of applause. He said that for the past five years he had taken an active interest, and he now asked their suffrages, not in his own behalf, but in behalf of the Government, a more worthy one than which Canada never had before. Under their management the country was prospering; they had a large surplus, and were not obliged to go elsewhere to seek money. If he was elected he would give the Government his unqualified support, and would use his utmost endeavors to advance the Murray and Trent Valley Canal schemes. He did not appear before the electors as an advocate of any creed or class, but the people generally, and if elected would do nothing to bring a stain or blot upon the constituency. His principles were Conservative, and as such he wanted every honest voter to give him their support. In any emergency he would support the Government of Sir John. He then retired amid applause.

Mr. Crouter was then introduced, and like the former speaker was received with great applause. He appeared, he said, as the nominee of the Reform convention; not a position of his own seeking. Whatever Government was in power, a great deal of responsibility rested on them, and few could get behind the scenes to see how the machinery moved, but a great deal came from them that was in the interest of the public. He thought it well for every intelligent man to look into the different measures of any Government, and do what he could to have bad measures rectified. That man who went to Parliament should go untrammelled, and not bound hand and foot by cast iron rules, such as Mr. Kennedy had given utterance to. If he (Mr. C.) were elected he would claim the right to sustain measures emanating from either party, that were in the interest of the people. In connection with the routine of the Government he said that the Mackenzie Gov't, and that of Sir. John had done a good deal to advance the interests of the country. The Murray Canal was an historical thing of that Riding, and if elected that scheme would have his support, more particularly as to the first survey. This canal was an actual demand, and he was glad to see that the Government had placed a sum in the estimates for its construction. He believed the Government would carry out the scheme; and the late member, Mr. Keeler, had received his (Mr. Crouter's) support in his endeavors to push forward that enterprise. This canal would benefit the whole Province, and he hoped to see the day when the trade of the west would pass through the Murray Canal on its way to the markets in the east. He concluded amid a perfect storm of applause.

Mr. Charlton, on taking the floor, created loud and continued applause. Before entering upon his speech proper, he paid a graceful tribute to the memory of the late member. By his death the electors of that Riding were called upon to elect a member in his stead. The right of citizenship was one of the greatest rights a man can have, and as it has been truthfully said the kingliest act of freedom was a free man's vote. As far as East Northumberland was concerned, the Government of the day was on its trial, and it devolved upon the people of that Riding to pronounce their verdict. He proposed to lay before the meeting some statements which would go to show that the Government of Sir John A. Macdonald did not deserve the support of the people. He would not enter minutely into the different measures of the Government, but would touch upon a few of them. The first of these was the taxation of the many for the benefit of a few; the second, their land policy of the Northwest; the third, the policy of the Government in regard to the Pacific Railway, and the fourth the increase of the public debt. He then proceeded to speak on the first of these points, and showed the difference between a revenue and a protective tariff. The present tariff was then compared with the past, showing that implements used by farmers cost more now than formerly, that people were paying some $750,000 more in a year for their sugar than under the old system. These were features of the present Governments tariff that the Reformers objected to. This tarif injured the farmer, manufacturers of raw material, and almost every other manufacturer. The only parties benefitted were the manufacturers of sugar, wool and cotton. If a surplus of grain was raised it was governed by market quotations in Liverpool and the markets of the world. He then read from a daily paper [illegible] quotation, showing that oats could be bought ten cents cheaper on the bushel in Toledo than in Toronto. The same was the case in the price of barley, rye, wheat, etc. Mr. Tilley, he said, a few days ago, admitted in his place in the House of Commons, that the duty did not raise the price as long as we had grain to sell, but, when we had grain to buy, if we happened to get short we had to pay more on account of the tariff. The present Government excluded corn from the country by means of their tariff. To-day, if we could buy corn without duty, it would be laid down at 50 cents per bushel. The policy of the Government in interfering with the importation of coarse grains was an absurd one. He then went on to show what we had exported during the past year, and sarcastically remarked that he was afraid we would not find from such statement as this, a home market. The people of the United States had paid for a home market that they had not got $12,000,000 a year, and the farmers had not received any better price for their grains than they would have under a free trade policy. The United States was more prosperous under their system of a revenue tariff than it is under the present. The effect of protection in that country was to reduce the amount of prosperity it would otherwise have enjoyed. He then compared the exports of the country under Mr. McKenzie's regime and that of the present Government. Our good times are accounted for by a bountiful harvest and the increase in price for our products. As to the land policy of the present government, they were selling to speculators instead of to the settlers. The system adopted by the Government in giving away lands to the railway syndicate would tend to work against the settlement of the country. The man who speculates in land was one who was a great injury to the country, and should not be countenanced. There was nothing more essential to the welfare of this country than a proper land policy, and in this respect the present Government deserved the censure of the people. The Pacific Railway syndicate was then dealt with, in which the Speaker explained the different propositions that had been made from time to time. 25,000,000 acres the best of lands, worth more than the whole amount of lands granted by the Mackenzie Government, was granted. The Government hands over, completed, 600 miles of the most difficult portion of the route, and $25,000 in cash to build a second class road. In all, $104,000,000 for $48,000,000 worth of work The fact that these lands were exempted from taxation was an injury to the country. Not only was their lands exempted forever, but their warehouses rolling stock, etc. This exemption would be worth an enormous sum, and gave the company an enormous monopoly and no greater injustice would be perpetrated. R. W. Phppis calculated that these exemptions were worth the sum of $350,000,000. If that company would build a thousand other roads the material used in their construction would be admitted free. They are to have no other line within 15 miles of the main line to the south. There was not a farmer present who did not owe the Government, in the shape of a first mortgage, $9,49 on every acre of improved land in the Province, in order to pay for this railway contract. The Government had acted in such a manner that they should not receive the support of the people, and he trusted the electors of East Northumberland would record their verdict against them. He then retired amid loud applause.

Mr. Rykert was the next speaker, and on taking the platform also referred to the late member for the Riding, Mr. Keeler. He proposed to bring Mr. Charlton to prove that he and his party were advocating, when in power, measures that they were now opposing. He stated that the Mackenzie Government, although only five years in power, increased the public debt by $40,000,000. This year there was a balance in favor of the present Government of over $1,000,000. He further went into the relative expenditure of the Mackenzie and Macdonald Governements, and endeavored to show that the former was the most extravagant. The speaker then went into the imports and exports of the country at great length and stated that the balance of trade was in favor of the present Government, the exports being greater than the imports by about $17 000,000. He then referred to the Murray Canal scheme and stated that in the five years the Mackenzie Government was in power not a word was said about this enterprise. The Pacific Railway scheme was next dealt with. The speaker commenced by saying that all persons in this country, Conservatives and Reformers, were interested in the construction of this road. He charged the Reform leaders with dishonesty of purpose in statements made by them. He said that no later than eight months ago the Opposition said the whole of the territory in the North-West was not sufficient to build the Pacific Railway, and now they are crying out against the terms made by the Government.

His speech throughout was of a very personal nature, as far as Mr. Charlton was concerned.

Mr. Charlton in his five minute speech in reply to Mr. Rykert, completely upset the arguments advanced by him, and, in fact, it had a more telling effect on the audience than all the time spentin speaking. He dealt with the question of the second syndicate, which Mr. Rykert had dubbed as "bogus" and stated that their deposit of $1,400,080 was a bona-fide guarantee of their sincerity. The gentlemen who made that offer were wealthy and were quite able to build the road, but notwithstanding their offer of many millions less, the Government awarded the contract to the first syndicate. He had been charged by Mr. Rykert with being a protectionist, but the extent of his protection principles was a revenue duty of 17½ per cent. and no more.

The meeting then broke up, after cheers had been given for the Queen and the candidates.

As far as we could ascertain the feeling of those present, Mr. Crouter seemed to have the meeting, and his friends are pretty confident of victory.

TRY BLOOD cannot properly perform its functions when loaded with impurities, because it is thick and sluggish ; and every person needs at times something to cleanse and quicken the vital current. DR. J. C. AYER'S Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla meets this want perfectly, and his discovery of this compound ranks as important in preserving the blood in a healthy condition as does that of Wm. Harvey in demonstrating its circulatory action. Nothing else so vitalizes, purifies and enriches the blood as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is a perfect blood and nerve food. It never disturbs the stomach, but greatly assists and promotes the digestion and assimilation of all nutriments, and increases their power to sustain and nourish the body. In renovating the blood it clears and quickens the intellect, and thus gives to both mind and body the power of long continued, arduous and successful effort. —Dominion, N. Y., Journal.

—Frankford, too, is ambitious. The village has organized an amateur dramatic association, the object of which is to raise funds to provide instruments for a local brass band. An entertainment has been given under favorable auspices.

—The Trenton Courier has not a very high opinion of Mr. Kennedy, the Conservative Candidate for East Northumberland and says the party in that Riding cannot be coerced into voting for a man whose antecedents do not place him in the list of loyal men.

—The local Tory organ rejoices that its pet tariff is driving the beggars from the city. Having reduced many to poverty, it says the community will feel a sensible relief "if the N. P. or any other cause will remove them from our midst." This is what might be called doubly-distilled meanness.

—Mr. Albert Wensley, the popular tenor singer of Bridge Street Church choir will sing in the Metropolitan Church, Toronto, to-morrow, he having received an invitation from the leader of the latter church choir. We understand the Metropolitan people are endeavoring to secure Mr. Wensley's permanent services.

—Mr. J. M. Mastin. of Picton, has a coin dated 1812. We are disposed to doubt the figures. Should they not be 1812 ? It is not likely that a coin 569 years old would contain on one side an Indian in costume, and about the edge the words "Penny Token." America had not been discovered in 1812, and the Indians were then an unknown race.

—Now does the housewife arise in the early morning, envelope herself in her seal-skin sacque and saunter out to inspect her neighbor's furniture, under the plea that she is house hunting, when she knows full well that she will not move, because the house in which she resideth belongeth to her husband, and hath a mortgage on it as voluminous as an elephant's ear.

UNSURPASSED.—The old and well known remedy "Holden's Expectorant" (for coughs and colds) is still unsurpassed. More than 30 years it has now been in use and it still continues popular, while scores of medicines for the same purpose have flourished for a year or so and are forgotten. If you have a cough or a cold call at Geen's Drugstore and procure a bottle.

GARDEN SEEDS.—For good and reliable garden and field seeds go to Geen's Drugstore.

TO NIGHT.—This evening there will be a Meeting in Bethel Hall to which you are earnestly invited.

PRESENTATION.—Mr. A. M. Peterson, M. A., was on Tuesday evening presented with an address and elegant Tea Server, by the members of the Bridge St. Church Choir, in recognition of his valuable services on the renowned Organ Committee.;

SPRING OPENING.—Owing to the delay in transit, Messrs. Holton, Bottoms & Co. will not be able to show their full line in Tweeds, Coatings, &c., before the beginning of next week, when they expect to exhibit one of the choicest stocks in the city.

APOPLECTIC FIT.—During the usual revival services in the Holloway-st. Methodist Church last night, Mr. Hector Howell was seized with an apoplectic fit, falling insensible from his seat. For a short time there was considerable commotion, but the services were uninterrupted. Mr. Howell was taken to his home and Dr. Wilson summoned. The letting of some blood relieved the sufferer, and he soon after recovered.

THE LITTA COMPANY.—Mr. Reynolds received a telegram from the manager of the Litta Company, at St. Thomas, where their first concert was held on the 17th, reading as follows:—"House packed ; most flattering success ; strong company ; impossible to over-praise them." He is meeting with great success in Belleville. Parties who have not signed the guarantee list will do well to call at once and do so. It will ensure them a good seat on the opening of the plan.

ACCIDENT.—Last night Messrs. E. B. Fralick of this city, J. D. Macaulay of Trenton, and Mr. Weller of Brighton, left Colborne for the purpose of attending a political meeting at Brighton. As the night was dark they had not gone far on their way when their vehicle collided with another, throwing them all out on the road. Their horse then ran away, taking a portion of the carriage with him. Messrs. Fralick and Macaulay were both injured, but neither of them very seriously.

PROBS.—High winds and gales from the east, cloudy weather, with rain this morning in the western part of Ontario, and before evening in the eastern. Possibly light snow at some places to-morrow.

THE CITY AND GRAND JUNCTION.—To-day the difficulty between the city and Grand Junction Railway was settled, the debentures being handed over to the Trustees. This ends the matter, we hope forever.

SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT.—The entertainment given at Rossmore last night for the benefit of the Sunday School was a success. Messrs. Johnson and Northrup, of Belleville, were present and gave short addresses. The recitations by the scholars were well rendered, especially those of the younger ones.

WHAT AN ATTRACTION!—A lecture by Rev. Dr. Jeffers on the "Art of Conversation," and a tea provided by over one hundred young ladies. Who can refuse to avail himself or herself (especially himself) of such a treat. We expect to see the Sunday School Rooms of Bridge-st. Church crowded on Tuesday evening.

THE WILLARD HOUSE, LYTLE.—As this scheme is presented in our regular advertising columns it offers a very tempting array of prizes to be disposed of by lot 7th April next. This is authorized by law and is under the management of disinterested commissioners appointed by the Legislature of Kentucky. As the drawing takes place April 7th, parties desiring tickets will have to order at once.

THE ICE BRIDGE.—Residents of Prince Edward County who visited the city to-day state that the ice in many places is fast honey-combing, and lessening in thickness and strength. In eastern parts is is dangerous, as currents have impaired the strength of the ice, and therefore extra caution should be exercised by those who may have occasion to cross the bay.

FINE CARRIAGES.—Our attention has recently been directed to some carriages manufactured by Mr. Geo. Brown, at his premises, west side of the upper bridge. Among the finest of these is a park phaeton, a ladies' phaeton, and a canopy top Brewster. All the above are very handsomely finished and upholstered in leather, making the buggies as fine as are manufactured anywhere in Canada.

A NUISANCE.—A new refuse depository has been created on the river bank opposite the residence of the Hon. Lewis Wallbridge. There garbage and filth are deposited, and the heap made to glisten by a liberal sprinkling of tin cans. This is an annoyance to the residents of the locality, and should receive the attention of the health authorities of the city, so that the stench and foul air already prevalent there may not be added to.

THANKFUL.—This is to certify that I have used the Manitoban Food for Cows for some time, and find it a beneficial both for milk and fattening, if given to them regularly.

INCENTIVES FOR INCREASING POPULATION.—Sir Leonard Tilley having clearly shown by his carefully prepared Budget statement that Canada is more prosperous under a protective duty, and that the N P. has been a great boon to our manufacturers it is a little strange also that the founders of this great policy should neglect the foundation head of all nations' wealth, and keep Babies on the free list. N. Davenport, Hatter and Furrier, being convinced that the party now in power will never give this great struggling industry the attention it deserves, will give prizes to every Baby born in the Counties of Hastings and Prince Edward during next December (1881,) as follows :—

For every Girl-Baby—1 handsome Fur Hood.
For every Boy-Baby—One Fur Turban.
For every Pair of Twins—Two Silver Cups.
For Triplets—One twenty dollar gold piece.

A physician's certificate is expected with every application for a prize, and it is to be hoped that Babies will not be imported into Hastings and Prince Edward from Addington, Lennox and Northumberland Counties. Please remember while waiting for the "Little Ones" that N. Davenport has the largest and finest stock of Hats and Caps in Central Canada.

—Disastrous fires are reported from Inkerbol, in Asia Minor, and Velden, in Austria.

—The Boers now admit that they lost fifty men in the battle on Majuba Mountain.

—On Wednesday last a man named Curry, employed in Messrs. Barnett & McKay's shanty on the Bonnechere was instantly killed by a tree falling on him. His brother passed through Eganville with his remains yesterday morning.

—The Ontario Government will shortly erect a slaughter house with improved sanitary arrangements, where animals will be killed to supply the Lunatic Asylum, Mercer Reformatory and Central Prison, with meat. Since the meat contract was cancelled a better quality has been supplied to the prisons.

MEETING OF FINANCE COMMITTEE.

An Important Session—$300 Granted to the Home for the Friendless—the Police Force—Petitions for the Reduction of Taxes.

At a regular meeting of the Finance Committee last evening a formidable deputation from the Women's Christian Association was present to urge the annual grant of $300 to the "Home for the Friendless. Ald. Jellett favored the grant; but Ald. Dunnett urged that this Association be entrusted with the care of the poor entirely, under the supervision of the Chairman of Poor and Sanitary. Mrs. N. Jones, President of the Association, urged the granting of the $300 for the absolute use of the "Home for the Friendless," and as for the amount required for the sustenance of the entire poor of the city who depend upon the charity of the corporation for a livelihood, she could not give a decided answer at present. Ald. Dunnett was in favor of granting this Society a certain amount per month for the support of the poor. Ald. Ostrom stated that it cost the city $3,303.21 for supporting the paupers of the city during 1880, but added that a reduction was being made in the expenditure this year. He objected to the W. C. A. having full power to provide for the poor out of the city's finances ; but he would sanction the scheme of a co-operation of this Association with the Poor and Sanitary Committee. If this were done he thought a nominal saving would be effected. Ald. Niles moved that $300 be granted the Society for expenditure for the "Home for the Friendless," which was carried ; also a motion of Ald. Dunnett's, to the effect that the Association meet with the P. & S. Committee and endeavour to devise some means by which the granting of support to the poor could be done by the Association, under the supervision of the Chairman of the P. & S. Committee. Ald. Ostrom, Jellett and the Mayor favored the above motions, the former gentleman adding that he thought the services of a Poor Inspector could be dispensed with when the two bodies combined. The deputation of ladies having thanked the Aldermen for their kindness, withdrew, and a couple of petitions for were considered. That of Mr. W. J. Taylor was referred to the Assessors, to report upon at next meeting of the Council. Geo, E. J. Hanwell asked a reduction of taxes on the Opera House property for 1879-80. On motion of Ald. Ostrom the taxes on this property was recommended to be reduced for 1879 the same as in 1878, and one half to be deducted for 1880.

THE POLICE FORCE.

The Chairman said that as the Ontario Legislature had empowered the Police Commissioners to assume full control of the police forces, the petition of John Bell, Esq., and others could not be considered. He had been informed by the Commissioners that no further reduction in the force was contemplated at present, and that the salaries would not be reduced.

A motion was passed that the balance of the petitions be allowed to remain over until next meeting. After considering some reports of a number of other Committees relative to accounts, the Committee Adjourned.

ODDFELLOWS' BAND.

The members of the band were taken quite by surprise last evening, upon finding a couple of framed pictures added to their collection, one being an enlarged picture of the band in full dress, presented to them by the President, A. McFee, Esq. Mr. McFee said he had taken a great deal of interest in the band since its organization, and he thought he should present them with something. He could think of nothing that they would appreciate more than their own picture. He hoped they would accept it not on account of its value but as a small token of the high esteem in which he held the band.

The second was a very pretty piece of needlework presented by Mr. Carrol Straum, a member of the band. This elegant piece of handiwork consists of the words "Friendship, Love and Truth," worked in an oval, in the centre of which is a wreath of flowers containing the symbol of the Order.

Mr. McDonald in tendering the thanks of the band, said they had been taken quite by surprise. The President could have presented them with nothing that would have been valued more, than a picture of their own band. He was sure the members would never forget this mark of kindness from him.

Turning to Mr. Straum, he said the handsome piece of work given them by him would be valued highly, but more on account of its coming from one of their own members. It was appropriate, and would be prized much by all the members.—COM.—

THE NEW SOCIETY.—The new Protestant secret society, formed in Toronto, to which we have referred, is composed of members from all sections of the Province and of both political parties. Every member is sworn to never vote for a Roman Catholic for office, either civil, Provincial, or Dominion, and all the energies of the Order are to be devoted to the abolition of separate schools, convents and nunneries. The Order claims all connection with Orangeism. An organizer was appointed at a salary of $1,200 per annum to visit the various cities and towns of the Dominion to open branches.

PLAIN SPEAKING.—The American pulpit has been found fault with for speaking severely of Sara Bernhardt. But while she was in London, Canon Wilberforce, son of the Bishop of Oxford, in a sermon in Westminster Abbey, described her as having "dared to come to London, bringing her illegitimate children with her, and flaunting her sins in the very face of royalty." Then, turning on the Prince of Wales he said :—"It is the nation's disgrace that Britian's future King should so far forget what belongs to the dignity of his station that he should visit this woman in the theatre green-room and speak face to face to her in flattering words." Then, in closing, the Canon said :—"O how deeply virtuous England regrets the premature death of the good Prince Consort! Had he been living to-day, this could never have happened."

SOPHIASBURGH ITEMS.

Spring birds of all kinds have made their appearance in this vicinity.

Sleighing has been suspended here for the past few days. The roads are drying in some places.

We are glad to report that Mrs. Wellington Boulter, who sometime ago slipped and broke her leg, is getting along as well as can be expected.

The Rev. J. B. Wass is carrying on revival services at the Union School, Grassy Point.

Owing to the warm spell of the past few days, some of our sportsmen have been making their fur amongst the muskrats, which are so plentiful in the marsh this season.

A tea-meeting is talked of to take place in the Solme's Neighborhood in the C. M. Church on Tuesday evening next.

The Rev. Mr. Burns, of Demorestville, delivered a very interesting sermon on dancing, in the C.M. Church at Demorestville, on Sunday evening last, to a large audience.

Quite a surprise party of about 20 from Picton came to the residence of Mr. Wm. R. Rankins, Big Island, on Tuesday evening last, where quite a jovial time was spent, the party breaking up about 2 o'clock in the morning, being well pleased with the evening's entertainment.

CURE FOR SMALL-POX.

An article which will prevent and cure small-pox is said to be in the possession of Mother Gonzaga, of St. Joseph's Orphan Asylum, Philadelphia. She disclaims all credit for the discovery, but says the receipt was given her some ten years ago by Father Kenrick, of Germantown, who received it from a French physician, who discovered it in Paris during the epidemic there. The physicians of this country did not interest themselves in this article, but when the prescription came into Mother Gonzaga's hands she gave it to the public. The principal ingredients of the remedy are digitalis, or extract of fox glove, and sulphate of zinc. Each is dissolved separately and then mixed together and one grain in solution added. The mixture is transluscent, slightly fragrant and of a greenish hue. It is sweet and pleasant to the taste. In using, a teaspoonful is taken every hour for twelve consecutive hours. Marvellous cures are reported to have been made through the instrumentality of the medicine.

ANOTHER SENSATION.

Now, we have a bear story at last—a real live bear story. Here it is, fresh from the Teeswater News, and we give it as we got it :

"On Friday, Feb. 25th, a large black bear was discovered by a little blue dog in his den on Mr. Wm. Brown's farm in Bentick. Mr. Brown went in and killed the bear with an axe. Who will affirm that our stock is degenerating or that the race of forces are extinct in Canada ?"

Now we give this bear story, which we have no reason to doubt, word for word as we got it from the News, with the exception of the color of the "little dog." The News omitted the color, and seeing that the bear was black, and the man brown, we thought it might not be amiss if we made the little dog blue. These colors are fashionable and very much worn now, especially in ladies' hats and dress trimmings. Besides, we think our readers will "bear" us out in the idea, from the fact that the bear must have felt blue when the little dog, and man, axe in hand, advanced on him. We have no fault to find with the description ; it is short, succint and to the point, without any attempt at coloring or exaggeration. The man and dog did their sexing nipping and basking with celerity and despatch, and it was all U. P. with poor Bruin evidently inside of five minutes. Had the same episode cropped up on the Indian Reserve at Sarnia, or the sixth line of Biddulph, no doubt a special reporter would have been rushed up, and one of the most terrific man-bear-and-dog contests ever heard of, or listened to, would have been flashed and detailed for the edification of sensation seekers. The man would have fired and missed. The bear would have advanced. The man would then again, fall back, and prepare to receive cavalry. The bear, would come now in the snout, would shake the part indicated, the little dog nibbling the while at his tail. The man would then fetch a blow with the axe, which the bear would receive on his left, and send the axe flying aloft, and while the weapon was describing a parabola, he would close on the man. Here is where the graphic, thrilling and terrific comes in. The bear hugs the man stabs ; the dog nibbles. This programme is repeated four or five times. In the meantime things begin to get weaker. The bear has been stabbed five times ; the dog has had three ribs and a back-bone smashed ; the man has had his head, legs and arms crunched to a jelly. It's all up, apparently, with every body. The bear is taking the man's head, for another crunch when, pop goes a rifle ; the bear drops, and an emaciated big Injun appears on the scene. Minnehaha and Pan-Pak-Keria arriving with bruised corn, from a hollow stump, and other necessaries, and the curtain drops to the tune of "We Won't go Home till Morning."

—Geo. Sicily, Thos. Boon, Wm. Oday, and Geo. Feeney, who were arrested at London for burglarizing the store of R. Gurd, at Petersville, were honorably acquitted yesterday.

—The despatches concerning the Greek negotiations are confusing. On the one hand it is said that the ambassadors acceded to the Porte's proposal of October 8, and on the other that the offer to cede Crete and part of Thessaly, instead of the prescribed territory, has been rejected.

—Lord Kimberley has telegraphed that he is unable to accept the Boers' proposals, and the armistice has been prolonged. General Wood is making strenuous efforts to obtain peace, but the result is yet doubtful. The British troops are moving towards Prospect Hill, and the Boers are strengthening their position.

A five-story building on Broadway was damaged by fire last night. Loss $15,000.

The Times says at Trunk Line Joint Executive Committee meeting recently so flagrent were the violation of pool agreement reported that the Trunk line managers formerly resolved to withhold from subordinates hereafter power to make rates, thus placing the entire responsibility upon the Presidents of the various roads, and should a cut be reported, a general and open reduction to the level with the cut rate will be at once ordered.

ANOTHER SNOW STORM.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 19.—The following proposals are said to be under consideration :—Imperial Ukases on Emperor's sole initiative, thus giving evidence of a firm purpose of His own will, firstly to promote inter-colonization for migration peasants to the rich unoccupied lands, funds being provided for that purpose, secondly, to give more land to peasants generally, and thirdly to liberate peasants from the expensive regime of passport.

VIENNA, March 19.—The Emperor and the court are painfully affected by the Reicharth not voting resolutions of condolence on the death of the Czar.

ROME, March 19.—The Pope has written to the Catholic and united Greek Bishops of Russia instructing them to order requiem masses in all churches for the late Czar, and requesting them to issue a pastorate requiring loyalty to the new Czar The Pope announces the freedom of the Catholic Church in Russia, agreed upon by the late Emperor, will be maintained.

LONDON, March 19.—Joseph Brooke, of Ellington, failed. Liabilities upwards of $50,000. He was a director of limited cotton spinning of Brooke, Swyndlis & Co, which recently suspended. Failure caused by guarantees for that company.

The Standard announces it has the unpleasant duty to state that telegraph despatches affirming the acceptance by ambassadors of Porte's proposals are altogether inaccurate. These proposals are altogether inadequate. The cession of Crete is the only substantial feature. The Ambassadors will make a counter proposal That the Porte shall cede not only Crete, but perhaps a strip of Epir. War is almost inevitable in consequence of indifferent attitude of Austria and Germany. There is reasons to believe the powers will informally notify Greece and Turkey, that the latter will not be permitted to send a ship to Greek waters.

CHICAGO, March 19.—One of the worst storms of the season began here to-day with rain, quickly turning to snow. The streets are almost impassible. Traffic is terribly embarrassed. The extent of the storm not known, as it interferes with telegraphic communication in all directions.

Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the Hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the roots are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of defiling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those injurious substances which make some preparations dangerous, and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

MARCH WINDS! The sudden changes and high winds prevail in March makes a bottle of Down's Elixin always necessary to have at hand. It is a sure cure for sudden colds and all lung diseases.

BAXTER'S MANDRAKE BITTERS will cure all bilious Diseases. Sold everywhere at 25 cts. per bottle. Try it.

The best remedy for strains and galls on horses is HENRY & JOHNSON'S ARNICA and OIL LINIMENT. Good for man and beast.

In the Form of rank of Anæmia Simmons' Liver Regulator stands Northrop & Lyman's anti-dyspeptic tonic. The weak, the nervous, the dyspeptic, never vainly seek its aid; sufferers from languor, nausea and intermittent fever, are surely rescued by it from the malarious scourge. Its taste is agreeable, its ingredients do not contain one that is deleterious. The sherry which imparts to it an agreeable, wine-like flavor, is eminently pure, and serves to diffuse through the system its fine medicinal properties. It revives failing appetite, is exhilarating to sleep, and promotes regular secretion and evacuation. The nervous and dyspeptic will find in it a friend, and the victim of malaria as it is well known, are often troubled with a degree of melancholy which in many cases reaches the stage of actual hypochondria. As the stomach regains its tone and the liver serves the office of vigor; through the action of the Quinine Wine, this failing gradually wears off, and cheerfulness resumes its sway. Persons who are convalescing after an exhausting disease, should take it in properly regulated doses, as it materially assists, thus taken, the restoration of vigor. Sold by druggists, without its aid might be tediously slow. Fever and ague and bilious remittent sufferers should lose no time in using the absolute of the feverish symptoms. Lone persons, whose digestion is out of order, gain bodily substance as well as strength by its use. Use none but the Quinine Wine manufactured by Northrop & Lyman of Toronto, which can be procured of any druggist.

DAILY ONTARIO

CHURN SLOWLY.

A little maid maid in the morning sun
Stood merrily singing and churning—
"Oh, how I wish this butter was done,
Then off to the field I'd go running!"
So she hurried the dasher up and down,
Till the farmer called, with a half-made frown,
"Churn slowly!"

"Don't play the dasher so fast, my dear,
It's not so good for the butter,
And will make your arms ache, too, I fear,
And put you all in a flutter."
For this is the rule, wherever you turn,
Don't be in haste whenever you churn—
"Churn slowly!"

"If you'd see your butter come nice and sweet,
Don't churn with a nervous jerking,
But pity the dasher slowly and neat—
You'll hardly know you're working;
And when the butter has come, you'll say,
'Yes, this is surely the very best way—
Churn slowly!"

Now, little folks do you think that you
A lesson can find in butter?
Don't be in haste, whatever you do,
Or get yourself in a flutter;
And while you stand at life's great churn,
Let the farmer's words to you return,
"Churn slowly!"

WHAT THE BELL SAID, AND WHAT THE PEOPLE SAID.

The quiet of a Sunday morning was broken by the tones of a church bell. Over the town floated its full, rich music, and it came back again in faint echoes.

The bell seemed charged with a message to the people, which it was tolling with all its might; and the message ran thus: "Come—come. Come—come. Come—come."

But, although well understood, it was not heeded by many; and this is what the people said who did not heed it, and what conscience said to them:

Bell—"Come—come."

People—"We do not feel very well today."

Conscience—"Isn't it strange there are so many sick people on Sundays? Many who are well enough on Saturday night are unable to get out on Sunday, and those who are sick on Sunday recover when Monday morning comes. It might seem as if some weekly epidemic visited the town with a full supply of headaches, colds, fevers and other disorders.

Bell—"Come—come."

People—"The weather is too unpleasant to-day.

Conscience—"Yes; the weather on Sunday is always wrong—too hot, too cold, too wet, too cloudy' or too windy. Sometimes heats are so exhausting, Sunday rains are so penetrative, Sunday colds so piercing, that no one but the minister and sexton should go out to church!"

Bell—"Come—come."

People—"We have company."

Conscience—"Isn't there something said about the stranger within thy gates keeping the Sabbath holy?"

Bell—"Come—come."

People—"Our garments are not good enough."

Conscience—"There are a great many directions in the Bible about how we shall come before our Lord, but the style and quality of clothes are not mentioned. The church is not a millinery establishment or a show-room. In old times the rich and poor came together, for the Lord is the Maker of them all."

Bell—"Come—come."

People—"We are better than some who go to church."

Conscience—"You may be much better than some, but are you satisfied with that? Will it do to tell the Lord so? There is something in the parable of the Pharisee and Publican bearing upon this point."

Bell—"Come—come."

People—"We haven't any seats in church."

Conscience—"Yes, there are always seats there for all who come. There need be no fear of intruding, for all are welcome; and there need be no fear of wearing out your welcome, for you are urged to come every Sunday."

And so the church bell kept ringing out its message, "Come—come." And some heeded the message, came, thanked God for the privilege of coming, and resolved to come always. Others still refused. But Conscience went to sleep, murmuring ere it slept, "What shall it profit a man, if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul ?"—Christian Colonist.

SENTENCES MADE SENSE WHEN READ BACKWARDS OR FORWARDS.

It has not been thought necessary to give the backward as well as the forward reading of the following sentences, save in those in which there seemed some special reason for printing the two versions. In going through the sentences backwards the requisite changes in the punctuation must be understood by the reader.

Dies slowly fading the moon recalls mournful sign
Brightly stars are waking.
Flies owlet, hooting, holding revel high,
Nightly silence breaking.

Breaking silence nightly,
High revel holding, hooting owlet flies.
Waking are stars brightly;
Sign mournful winds recall, day fading slowly dies

Adieu, love. Part we must. Stay, oh stay, said she, weeping piteously. Now, indeed, sorrow is mine. Alas!

TO LAY DYSPEPSIA

Play with your blood, keep warmth in feet,
Away drive the cobbs, stool out;
Air your bedclothes, and early rise;
Beware of ozone, take exercise.

Exercise, take exercise beware;
Rise early and breathe the pure air;
Eat slowly, trouble drive away;
Let warmish keep, blood work with play.

Panning, fearing, doubting never;
Lauding, singing, on they glide

THE ROYAL PEOPLE THEY MET.

INTERESTING CONVERSATION OF THE PAT AND THIN PASSENGERS.

(From the Burlington Hawkeye.)

"One time," the man on the wood-box said, "I met three kings. I had only two little jacks and two queens with me, and I was compelled to entertain those monarchs at an expense of $172 right on the spot."

"Not a count under some what similar circumstances," said the fat passenger; "it was at a royal assemblage; Dom Pedro was present and I had only a few royal personages to set off a whole cluster of plebeian ten spots and the count alone cost me $11."

"I was at Booking 'em point one night," remarked the tall, thin passenger, "in Denver. I bucked against the royal Bengal tiger until 3 o'clock in the morning, and his majesty cost me everything I had, even down to the boots on my feet, so I went to my hotel in my stocking feet."

"So much for bucking 'em," said the cross passenger.

"I don't know the prints?" queried the man on the wood box.

"What prince?" asked the tall, thin passenger.

"The prints on the cards," was the reply.

"No," said the tall, thin passenger, "but I know the man who sat next to me every time."

"It isn't so exciting, but it is much cheaper and safer," said the sad passenger, "to sit down at a beer table and enjoy a little dominoe with the duchess."

"You have met the duchess frequently, then?" asked the cross passenger.

"Thousands of times," said the sad one.

"I never sit down at a euchre party," remarked the fat passenger, "without meeting queens."

"No, indeed," they all murmured.

"The counters duke three games out of five away from me last night," said the passenger with the sandy goatee.

That was czar luck," remarked the sad passenger.

"That's what made you rejah 'round so when you came in this morning," said the man on the wood-box. "I heard you mention the Shah, too."

"I was mad," replied the passenger with the sandy goatee, "I had met with the coolest insultin'."

"The cool what?" inquired the cross passenger.

"Eastern Sultan," replied the passenger with the sandy goatee.

And then the fat passenger groaned the sad he gave up hope for such a man. And the woman who talks bass suddenly looked up from under her black glovs and wanted to know what made the sun shey were talking about "Royal people we have met," timidly said the bashful passenger who got in at the last station.

The woman who talks bass snarled under her breath.

"You rile everybody you meet," she said and the discussion went out like a kerosene lamp in a breezy hallway.

A REPRESENTATIVE CONSTITUENT.

He gave all the backmen at the Union depot a stand off, brushed the boot blacks right and left, and shouldered his sixty pounds of baggage and started up Jefferson avenue in search of a tavern. He was a right up and down man, and he wanted to strike a tavern where they had an old-fashioned boiled dinner.

"Just come in from Lansing," he observed as he fell in with a pedestrian.

"Did, eh? Been out to the Legislature?"

"You bet I have. I'm not a member, but I made things hum out there all the same."

"Is that so?"

"Not exactly. I came down from county to take the kinks out of our member. He was sailing in with a high head, and if I'd waited two days longer he'd have been hosing the whole State What d'ye think?"

"I dunno."

"He wouldn't speak to me when I first got there! Think of that! Up home there we rated him about No. 4, and sent him down to get something more because some of the rest of us could leave, and he wanted to cut me colder'n a wedge! What d'ye think?"

"Matter of manners."

"You bet! But I lowered his nose a bit. We heard how he was prancing around and putting on airs and his head got so big in our county, and a few of us got together and wrote him a letter. It didn't seem to us any good, and we got together again and they sent me down to put on the curryomb."

"And you did?"

"Didn't I? He put in about a dozen bills affecting our county, and I mashed all but two. He had laid himself out for six or seven speeches and I mashed all but one. The first day I got there he was supporting motions to amend and strike out, but I mighty soon let him understand that no such chaff passed for currency with us. He tried to bulldoze me at first, but when he found that his constituency got after him he calmed down. He'd been feeling that the game law and had got mixed up with a dog-tax bill, and a saw log law and a bill about inland fishing, and I don't know what else. I took him out behind the State House and says I. 'Now, boy; yen squat! Your constituents demand that you calm right down. We don't want no Cicero in ours, and we won't have it. We sent you down here to do a little quiet work, and not to prance around and imagine you've got Patrick Henry's hat on. We are a humble people, taking kindly to log-houses and johnny cake and we don't want a cent on big words and long flourishes.' That's what I told him, and he calmed."

"Did, sh?"

"You bet he did! and if we hear anything more about his rising to explain his vote on the dog-tax, or moving to recommit the muskrat bill or anything of that sort we'll send him back to return to. This is the place, eh? Well, I'll fodder up and then take the train for home."—Detroit Free Press.

An Immense Area of Railroad and Government Lands, of great fertility, within reach of permanent market at extreme low prices, is now offered for sale in Oregon and Eastern Washington Territory.

These lands form part of the great Belt of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 250 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded for all parts of the world.

Grain at Portland, Oregon, commands a price equal to that obtained in Chicago.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R. R. is now assured, guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the construction of the network of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R. & N. Co. in the valleys of the Great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders a rapid increase in the value of the lands now open to purchase inevitable. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future.

Lands show an average yield of 40 bushels of wheat per acre. No failure of crops ever known.

Railroad Lands offered at the uniform rate of $2.50 an acre.

DAILY ONTARIO

To the Editor of the ONTARIO.

THE MURRAY CANAL.

DEAR SIR.—The project of constructing a canal across the neck of land between Lake Ontario and the head of the Bay of Quinte, seems to have been suggested by Lieut.-Governor Hunter, at an early period in the history of the Province of Ont and in the original survey of the township of Murray, about 5,000 acres of land were set apart for that purpose. These lands were, however, for the most part, sold to settlers.
In 1825 the Commissioners of Navigation showed the advantages to be derived from a navigable canal, connecting Lake Ontario with the head of the Bay of Quinte, across the isthmus, as consisting principally on the avoidance of the dangerous navigation of the vicinity of Long Point, Lake Ontario, during periods of stormy weather. The route they recommended was between Presqu' Ile Harbour and the Bay of Quinte, a distance of upwards of five miles. We would remark that this route is really through the main land, as the isthmus is between Weller's Bay and the Bay of Quinte, as any one on looking at a map of Ontario would plainly see that such is the case.
In 1838, Mr. N. H. Baird, C. E., in his report on the Murray Canal, however, strongly recommended that a connection should be made with Weller's Bay instead of Presqu' Ile Harbour, which would reduce its length to only 2½ miles. He also stated that a canal could afterwards be made, if desired, from Weller's Bay to Presqu' Ile Harbor, a distance of 2½ miles. We leave out his estimate of the cost of constructing the canal, but we call the attention of your readers to his suggestion that a channel be cut through Weller's Beach, to form a passage into Lake Ontario. We may explain that until the year 1855, Weller's Bay was not known to be a harbor, there being a ridge of sand banks in evening between Lake Ontario and Weller's Bay; in that year the North West end of this ridge was fortunately washed away, and an opening made between these waters; thus, rendering it unnecessary to carry out his suggestion now.
In 1840 Lieut.-Col. Phillips, R. E., made an estimate of Mr. Baird's route into Weller's Bay, (if deepened to 10 feet water), at £60,000 Stg., and if a similar draught were adopted for the other into Presqu' Ile Harbor, he estimated its cost at £90,000 Stg.
In 1864 Mr. Lyons made a survey for the Murray Canal from the mouth of Dead Creek, on the Bay of Quinte, to Wesse's Creek at Presqu' Ile Harbor.
In 1867, James H. Rowan, C. E., completed the examination and survey of the several routes for the Murray Canal, under the instruction of the Government. He made a very careful report thereon, and Mr. John Page, Chief Engineer of Public Works also published a very elaborate one; both are very good, but too long to be copied in this paper. We will therefore confine ourselves to the merits and advantages between Presqu' Ile Harbor and Weller's Bay respectively.

PRESQU' ILE HARBOR.

Mr. Page, C. E., states that a vessel in Lake Ontario approaching Presqu' Ile harbor, must, before getting in range of the inner light, with a view to entering the harbor, change its course fully 270 degrees, which in certain winds is not barely possible to do. When up with Salt Point upon which there is a light, and behind it about 1,000 feet distant a range light) the course must again be changed to north westerly, so as to clear "Calf Pasture Shoal," and enter the wider portion of the harbor; in fact the direction of the entrance, crookedness and insufficient width of the channel are found by masters of vessels to prove serious obstacles to its being used either as a harbor of refuge or for commercial purposes. Professor G. P. GIRDWOOD McGill Uni versity, Montreal, says:—"I can strongly recommend its use to the public as supplying in the most easily digested form all the materials necessary FOR RENEWING THE TISSUES WASTED BY DISEASE."
Dr. E. D. WORTHINGTON says:—"It is the most perfect food I know of for invalids, being serviceable in general debility from whatever cause, AND IS ESPECIALLY USEFUL IN THE DIARRHŒA OF CHILDREN."
Dr. NICHOLS, 631 Spruce street, Phila. says:—"I have used it in a case of a child suffering from extreme debility after an attack of cholera infantum, the child began to improve immediately."

THE undersigned has leased the store formerly occupied by F. Ellis, east of the Post Office, which he has fitted up with all modern conveniences, being now second to none in this City. He will keep constantly on hand the best assortment of fresh and salt meats at the very lowest prices. Also fresh sausages, bologne, vegetables and poultry. Shop open from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m.
G. T. THOMAS.

Pope & Bulan, druggists, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, write: "We have never sold any medicine that gives such satisfaction to the customer and pleasure to the seller as Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. We can refer you to numbers that have used it for Diphtheria with entire satisfaction and success."

owing to shoals and bars of sand and gravel, and in some places is extremely narrow. He was informed by Captain Quirk and others that it is decreasing in width every year. With the view of forming quarantine and blowing a gale, it is almost, if not altogether, impossible to enter.

WELLER'S BAY.

Mr. Page, C. E., describes this sheet of water as being south of a deep inlet or bay of Lake Ontario, off which is the entrance to Presqu' Ile Harbor, and that it was formerly separated from the Lake by a continuous range of narrow sand banks through which there was only a small outlet for a creek, but about twenty six years ago the upper part of a large portion of the North West end of this dividing ridge was washed off and an opening made between Lake Ontario and Weller's Bay. This opening is now fully 4 of a mile in width, but the channel is about its centre with a width of 300 feet and 14 feet in depth. There has been something singular about the action of the lake, which has been such as to carry the sand of which the ridge was originally composed, from its original position and deposit it in such a manner as to increase the width of the bank without materially encroaching upon the area of the bay, as Mr. Page reports that the material in the bottom consisting of clay with no stratum of sand over it was an evidence of such action.

Mrs. E. H. Perkins, Creek Centre, Warren Co., N. Y., writes: "She has been troubled with Asthma for four years, had to sit up night after night with it. She has taken two bottles of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil and is perfectly cured. She strongly recommends it, and wishes to act as agent among her neighbors."

The best receipt for going through life in a commendable way is to feel that every body no matter how rich or how poor, needs all the kindness they can get from others in the world. Let us remember this great truth, and commence with those around us. Let the poor and needy, and those who do not take the daily or weekly newspaper, be kindly informed, if in sickness, whether it be form coughs, lung diseases, asthma, or consumption, that by the use of M. H. Downs' Vegetable Balsamic Elixir they can be cured. Keep not the good news to ourselves, but spread the sunshine of hope around.

EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFULEND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.—Sold only in Packets labelled "JAMES EPPS & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London, Eng." Also makers of Epps's Chocolate Essence for afternoon use.

BAPTIST MINISTER'S EXPERIENCE

I am a Baptist Minister and before I even thought of being an clergyman graduated in medicine but left a lucrative practice for my present profession. 49 years ago, I was for many years a sufferer from quinsy. "Thomas Eclectric Oil cured me." I was also troubled with hoarseness and Thomas Eclectric Oil always relieved me. My wife and child had Diphtheria, and "Thomas Eclectric Oil cured them" and if taken in time it will cure seven times out of ten. I am confident it is a cure for the most obstinate Cold, or Cough, and any one will take a small teaspoon, and half fill it with the Oil and, then place of the spoon in one ear and draw the Oil out of the spoon into the head by sniffing as hard as they can until the Oil falls over into the throat and practice that twice a week, I don't care how offensive their head may be, it will clean it out and cure their Catarrh. For Deafness and Earache it has done wonders to my certain knowledge. It is the only medicine dubbed patent medicine that I have ever felt like recommending and I am veryanxious to have it in every place, for I tell you that I would not be without it in my house for any consideration, I am now suffering with a pain like Rheumatism in my right limb and both relieves me like Thomas Eclectric Oil.
Dr. E. F. CRANE.

The most conclusive testimony, repeatedly laid before the public in the columns of the press, is that which Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—an absolutely pure combination of six of the finest remedial oils in existence—remedies the most obstinate affections of the throat and lungs, and cures piles, wounds, sores, lameness, tumors, burns, and injuries of horses and cattle.

MANUFACTURERS of Reapers, Mowers and Threshing Machines prefer CASTORINE Machine Oil to any other. It will outwear Lard, Seal or Elephant, and is warranted not to gum.

USE CASTORINE MACHINE OIL for all kinds of Machinery. It is also so excellent for Harness and Leather, makes it softer and weather proof. For sale by dealers.

TORONTO OIL COMPANY are sole manufactures of CASTORINE Machine Oil. Infringements will be prosecuted.

ASK your dealer for CASTORINE Machine Oil and see that the Barrel is branded Castorine as none other is genuine.

Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam is composed of the most healing balsams and gums. The Balsams, which enter into its composition, were used by the natives when America was first discovered, and are combined with other vegetable tonics, so blended together, that it is a specific for all affections of the throat and lungs. Thousands of bottles are used annually, and it is considered one of the standard preparations of the day.

Dr. Harris, of Middlebury, Vt., says: "I had been troubled with Bronchitis for two years, so affecting the organs of speech that I could not speak aloud for six weeks. I had with it a severe cough and cold night sweats. I took two bottles of Allen's Lung Balsam and am entirely cured."

Faded Complexions.—How many thousands of ladies there are who look wan and faded, while yet in early life; to all such let us whisper a word. You have in Burdock Sarsaparilla and Pills the means of restoring your color, brightening your eyes, sweetening your breath, and giving you sound general health.

A Word of Warning. To protect the public, and prevent them from being imposed upon by the worthless counterfeit imitations of dear Murray & Lanman's Florida Water, we have prepared paper in which the words "Lanman & Kemp, New York," appear in pale letters when a leaf of the little pamphlet is held up to the light; and whenever Florida Water is offered for sale wrapped in a pamphlet that does not have this water-mark or stamp in it, then it is counterfeit, and should be rejected.

In cases of Chronic disease which doctors have failed to cure, Burdock Blood Bitters has achieved its greatest triumph. All diseases of the Blood, Liver and Kidneys, Scrofula, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, Rheumatism, Piles, Female Complaints and all forms of lost Vitality are promptly cured by this great renovating Tonic. Trial bottles only cost 10 Cents.

It always gives us pleasure to draw attention to articles which are deserving of public patronage. Probably no article ever offered to the public has met with the same success as Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum. Thousands of families in the Dominion keep it in their house as the standard Cough Remedy. The sale of this article has assumed enormous proportions, and ever to those in all large is to try its virtues if they should at any time unfortunately contract either Coughs or Colds. It is sold by all druggists.

LAME BACK.—Too often a cold or slight cough is considered a very ordinary, trifling affair, just as well left to go as it came, and hence systematically neglected until a simple curable affection is converted into a serious pulmonary disease. The more prudent, aware that a cough or cold should never be trifled with, promptly use "Hyan's Pectoral Wafers," which have sustained their reputation for over twenty years. They are always efficacious, and exert a most beneficial influence on all the bronchial and pulmonary organs. Sold by all druggists and country merchants at 25 cents a box.

I have sold your Pain-Killer ever since I commenced business and I still continue to sell more of it than of all the other proprietary medicines put together. This I consider the best recommendation I can give you.

R. V. PIERCE:
Dear Sir—I feel that I should be neglecting my duty were I to fail in giving my testimony as to the value of your medicines. For years I have been a great sufferer from a complication of chronic diseases which our physicians pronounced incurable. I am now using your Favorite Prescription and find myself almost well. Your medicines have done me more good than anything I have ever used.
I remain, gratefully yours,

AICOLA, Port Bend Co., TEXAS, August 27, 1877.
WM. M. GILES, ESQ.—DEAR SIR: I have been suffering for the past four months with a terrible attack of rheumatism in my back and hips; I could not move; I thought I should never get well, as I had used most every known remedy. By chance I got hold of one of your circulars, and thought I would try it—not having any faith in it, or anything else—but what was my astonishment after one application, I got instant relief, and now, after using it one week, I am nearly well. I have bought one dozen bottles of it, and never intend to be without it. I have also used it with great benefit on protruding piles. I shall try to tell all of the people in this section about your remedy, but most of them know of it, as they used to come to see me when I could not move in bed. You will please to excuse this writing, as it is my first letter in this manner. I hope I do not intrude on your time, but, my dear sir, I owe you a debt of gratitude which I can never repay. EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

A tribe of black savages on the coast of Liberia plundered a German merchant ship, and for doing so have been punished in regular civilized style, by having their village destroyed. A German man-of-war did it.

The body of the late Emperor of Russia was conveyed to a fortress on Saturday, all the buildings along the route being draped in black and white. Extra precautions were taken to guard against Nihilists plots and attacks.

The Austrian and Hungarian Diets have refused to pass a vote of condolence on the occasion of the death of the Czar, and the Emperor is greatly distressed thereat. The cause for this unfriendly act has not yet been revealed.

The Lord Mayor of London has been congratulated from all quarters on his escape from the recent "gunpowder plot." He has also received a number of threatening letters. Why do the disaffected spirits single him out for attack?

It is doubtful after all that has been done on both sides whether the prolonged armistice in the Transvaal will lead to peace. The Boer terms cannot be accepted by the British, and both sides are preparing for a renewal of hostilities. Every effort possible will be made to avoid further bloodshed.

A scheme has been inaugurated in Montreal to buy a homestead in Canada for Davitt, the Irish State prisoner; then to petition the British Government for his relief. Mr. McNamee says the free air of the Dominion would soon convert him into a loyal British subject. Several handsome subscriptions were handed in for this purpose.

The Mail will better serve its reputation by discontinuing the foolish and inconsistent statement that Reformers denounce the Canadian North-West as unfit for settlement. The public know that such an imputation is absurdly false. Reformers have done quite as much to advertise the resources of that region as the party responsible for the Syndicate monopoly.

MR. JOHNSON'S SUGGESTION

Elsewhere Mr. J. W. Johnson repeats the suggestion offered at a meeting of citizens some time ago, relative to the best means to be employed in trying to induce manufacturers to locate in Belleville. He has confidence in the potency of printers' ink, and believes a few dollars wisely expended in advertising the inducements Belleville offers for manufacturing purposes would result in something more substantial than vague promises. We approve of the suggestion, because we are convinced that if anything is to be done to save our city from financial ruin it must be done immediately. All about us there is a keen competition for the capital that awaits investment in manufacturing industries, and unless we are able to offer equal or superior inducements, the future of our city will be gloomy enough. We cannot commend the action of our civic authorities in the past. There has been too much of a dog in the manger spirit manifested when dealing with those who have industries established, or who purposed establishing such industries. Had the Messrs. Rathbun been dealt with judiciously some of the manufacturing establishments that have built up the flourishing village of Deseronto would have been located here. Whether Mr. Johnson's suggestion is acted on or not, we hope it will result in something being done for Belleville.

EAST NORTHUMBERLAND.

We started the other day that the issue now before the electors of East Northumberland might be said to consist of two planks of huge dimensions—the Tariff and the Syndicate Contract. The speakers at the nomination on Friday confirmed this. They respectively attacked and defended the record of the present and late Government on those scores. The electors are not to be hoodwinked by certain local issues, magnified to serve the interests of the Conservative candidate. Mr. Rykert wanted his hearers to give the Government a great deal of credit for voting $50,000 towards the construction of the Murray Canal. He asked what the Mackenzie Government had done or offered to do in this direction during the five years they were in power. Why did not Mr. Rykert explain what the Conservatives had done in the same direction during the many times five years they controlled the Government purse. As our correspondent shows in an article on first page to-day the construction of this work was agitated more than eighty years ago, and has been more or less prominently before the public since. The Conservative party, of which Mr. Rykert with his ponderous scrap-book is such an important factor (in his own estimation) have been in power nally two-thirds of the time since 1790, and have, therefore, had superior opportunities to show their interest in this and other public matters. We now give them credit for sincerity in making a movement, but we do not doubt that, had there been no vacancy in East Northumberland this year, the Murray Canal would have received no passistance from the public treasury. A test of the popularity of the Government's fiscal policy in an Ontario constituency has been a standing challenge from the Opposition for nearly a year, and when one was forced upon the Ministers, by the death of Mr. Keeler, advantage was taken of whatever promised to help the party of protection. The sum of $50,000 (a small part of the estimated cost of the canal) has been voted, or will be, towards the construction of the work, and a close watch will be kept upon the progress that is made during the next two or five years.

With regard to the tariff, it has been shown that it injures the farmer, the lumberman the shipowner and the fisherman. By means of the coal duty, and that on various raw materials, it also weighs heavily upon numerous manufacturing industries. The farmer's support of the National Policy was secured by delusive promises. He was told that duties upon grain would be a protection to him, and would raise the value of his crops. The absurdity of this promise, in view of the fact that the country exports a large surplus of all grains except corn, is clearly shown by quotations in Canadian and American market reports daily. It has also been shown that a protective tariff has caused the consumers of Canada to pay $7,000,000 more in one year for their goods manufactured in the country, than they would have paid for the same under the revenue tariff of 1878. It is, therefore, perfectly absurd to say that such a taxation has increased our prosperity. What improvement there is in certain branches is entirely due to three good harvests in succession, and a more active demand for our surplus produce from Europe. Better times in the United States, too, have given our lumber a more buoyant market there.

The bargain with the Pacific Railway Syndicate, which the Government ratified by a vote of the majority in Parliament, is another and equally important matter for the consideration of the electors of East Northumberland. We cannot do better than quote from Mr. Charlton's nomination speech in respect to this matter.

He contrasted the scheme of 1874 with the present one, and proceeded to show what the Syndicate were to get and what they were given. They were to construct less than 2,000 miles of road, which it was estimated would cost not more than $30,000,000. They were to receive 607 miles completed road, costing probably $29,000,000; cash $25,000,000, and 25,000,000 acres of selected lands, worth at least $50,000,000; total, $104,000,000, for an outlay of $50,000,000. And in addition to this, their material was to be admitted duty free for the main line and all branches they might build; their lands were to be exempt from taxation for twenty years; their main line and branches were to be exempt from taxation for ever, and they were to have a transportation monopoly of the whole North-West for twenty years. The value of these advantages it was impossible to calculate accurately but they were undoubtedly immense. He showed that for the private section of 900 miles a subsidy of $9,000,000 was given, which was sufficient to build it, and in addition a land subsidy of 11,000,000 acres, which would be more than double the cost of the section. The relative merits of the line north of Lake Superior and the Sault Ste. Marie route south of the lake were dwelt upon at length. It was shown that the line south of Lake Superior while serving the purposes of the entire North-West just as well as the other line would do, would also draw to Montreal the trade of a large portion of the American North-West, and that while the line north of the lake would cost the country $10,000,000 and 6,250,000 acres of land, the line south of the lake, which was a better commercial line than the other, could be had seven years sooner, and at a cost of $2,000,000. In conclusion Mr. Charlton pointed out that the debt now amounted to $17 28 per acre on all the improved land in the Dominion, and would be largely increased should the Syndicate bargain that at least three-fifths of this debt had to be borne by Ontario, while that Province would receive but trifling benefit from the outlay; and he asked the intelligent electors of East Nortumberland to consider whether a Government which obtained power by fraudulent promises in 1878, and which was guilty of the scandalous legislation of 1881, was worthy of their confidence and support.

PROROGATION.

The Parliament of Canada was prorogued at Ottawa this afternoon with the usual ceremonies. There was a slim attendance of members and but few spectators. His Excellency the Gov.-General delivered the customary "Speech from the Throne," which consisted of a few platitudes and congratulations. He referred to the "laborious work of the session," and mentioned the principal measures that had been adopted, devoting the major portion the Syndicate Contract and its probable results. The Government has adopted this course to offer some kind of an explanation that has not been offered before. The Speech concluded as follows:—

Hon. Gentlemen of the Senate; Gentlemen of the House of Commons—I bid you now farewell, and trust that when Parliament reassembles, we shall be able to congratulate ourselves on Canada having meanwhile enjoyed a season of peace and prosperity.

OUR TABLE.

NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW.—In the North American Review for April is a noteworthy article by Judge A. W. Tourgee, in which professed reformers of the civil service are put on the defensive and their schemes of reform pronounced to be incompatible with American ideas of Self-Government, and on direct, other grounds inadmissible and impracticable. The same number of the Review contains, under the fanciful title, "The thing that Might Be," a profoundly philosophical study of the laws and conditions of human progress, by the Rev. Mark Pattison, Rector of Lincoln College, Oxford. The third article is a strong defense of the Roman Catholic side of the controversy about religion in the Public Schools, from the pen of Bishop McQuaid, of Rochester. Mr. John Fiske has an article on The Historic Genesis of Protestantism, and Mr. Anthony Trollope, an essay on the Post Longfellow. Mr. Desire Charnay the author of the series of the ruined cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the one last preceding it contains any contribution from him. In the May number, however, will be published another of his very instructive papers.

JOSH BILLINGS' COOK BOOK.—The Toronto News Company have published Josh Billings' last humorous book, solemnly dedicated to a firm of chemists in the Queen city. "The little volume," says Josh, "contains plain direkshuns for the prevenshun and kure of common complaints." The cartoons, and the dry sayings of the philosopher, will amuse and interest the reader.

PERSONAL.

—Rev. B. Lane, M. A., of the Tabernacle, preached two anniversary sermons in the M. E. Church, Kingston yesterday.

—Mr. Thomas Alexander, late of Kingston, and well known in Belleville, has been promoted to the Collectorship of Inland Revenue at London, vice Mr. John Spence resigned.

—Lieut.-Col. Van Straubenzie has been transferred from the New Brunswick District to that of Montreal. The Colonel is much pleased at the change, as it places him near to his old home. Col. Osborne Smith, of Manitoba, has refused to go to Montreal, hence Col. Straubenzie's transfer.

—Mr John Hamilton, the junior partner of the firm of Shelby, Pullman & Hamilton, who are this year coming out with a "monster aggregation," has arrived in the city to commence preparations for the tenting season. John was the recipient of many warm shakes of the hand yesterday and to-day.

—All the Evangelical Protestant ministers of Toronto exchanged pulpits yesterday. We observe that the Rev Jno. Burton, B. D., lately pastor of John-st. Presbyterian Church, and now of the Northern Congregational Church, Toronto, was appointed to preach in the Metropolitan Methodist Church. This is only an indication of the high position occupied by Mr. Burton among the ministers of the Queen City.

A GOOD SUGGESTION.

To the Editor of the ONTARIO.

SIR,—At a public meeting called to discuss what steps should be taken to induce manufacturers to locate in Belleville, I ventured to suggest that $100, spent in advertising our facilities &c., in such papers as the Industrial World the Iron Age and other trade journals, as well as in the metropolitan dailies, would be a sensible and business like effort in that direction.

Although the suggestion was not acted on, I am still of the opinion that it would be worth trying. I have great faith in printers' ink, because I know its value in connection with Ontario Commercial College. If the worth of an educational institution, by being made known through the medium of the press, can bring so many young men from all over the continent to Belleville, I argue that the city's manufacturing facilities, if such paper as the Industrial World the Iron Age and other trade journals, as well as in the metropolitan dailies, would be a sensible and business like effort in that direction.

Although the suggestion was not acted on, I am still of the opinion that it would be worth trying. I have great faith in printers' ink, because I know its value in connection with Ontario Commercial College. If the worth of an educational institution, by being made known through the medium of the press, can bring so many young men from all over the continent to Belleville, I argue that the city's manufacturing facilities, if made known in the same way, would have the effect of attracting capitalists here. Let us venture $100 in trying it.

I am prompted to write this by seeing an advertisement of the town of Cobourg in the Toronto papers to-day, offering inducements to manufacturers to come there.

Yours faithfully,

J. W. JOHNSON.

AN INDIGNANT PROTEST.

To the Editor of the Daily ONTARIO.

DEAR SIR.—We find in the Intelligencer of the 17th inst., the following slur on the Irish of this city. In the absence of more important news, the writer, no doubt, intended to be funny, but the funny part is too flat and too vicious to be appreciated except by the most vulgar and ignorant of its readers, to whose tastes, unfortunately, the said paper caters not unfrequently:—"Ah, the Seventeenth isn't what it used to be," remarked one old Irishman to another on the market this morning. "We use to all get drunk on St. Patrick's Day, and now they bring a man to lecture us! Ah, the honor of old Ireland isn't thought of now like it used to be!" No such sentence ever escaped the lips of any Irishman on the market on the day mentioned, or on any other day; and further, as is evident to the older inhabitants of this city, no occasion ever arose on the anniversary of Ireland's Patron Saint to brand the Irish as a set of drunkards. True, in former times, they were in the habit of walking in procession to the church to attend High Mass, where the Rev. Gentleman of the day (peace be to his ashes) met them with open arms, pronounced a eulogy on their Patron Saint, and bid them God speed. It is also true that they met in the evening to spend a short time together in mutual exchange of good feeling, surrounded by many of Belleville's best citizens as guests, who can, even now, testify to their temperate habits.

The writer surely must have been thinking of the 12th of July when he penned that article, he having just returned from the Grand Orange Lodge of Eastern Ontario, where, amongst several important resolutions passed, was one of sympathy with their brethren in Ireland, (the landlords and their agents, poor fellows,) who were being persecuted at the hands of the Land League, and expressed admiration of the Ulster men, who went to Loughmask with malice in their hearts and death-dealing instruments in their pockets, surrounded by British bayonets, as it were to assist Captain Boycott, whilst everybody knows full well what the brave fellows' intentions were towards their less favored country-men had a favorable opportunity occurred.

And now, Mr. Editor, as I have travelled so far out of the way, you will please allow me a little more space whilst I ask, Who is this Captain Boycott, that has been instrumental in adding another verb to the English language? In the words of the Fireman's Journal and New York Herald's correspondents, who accompanied Captain Maxwell and Mr. Goddard, he is described as exacting the last farthing for everything eaten by the relieving force. The Inspectors of Police, whose men have been guarding Boycott for some months, say the latter charged them three half-pence for a cup of buttermilk, and four pence per stone for potatoes, which they had to dig themselves. He makes eccentric rules in dealing with his laborers. Instead of summoning them he used to fine them himself one penny a fowl for every hen that trespassed on his grass or farm; a man was fined if he left a spade or shovel in the wrong place; fined if he left a gate open; fined if he took a short cut across a field; fined if he were two minutes behind the ringing of the bell. The result was that a man employed at nine shillings a week sometimes found himself only entitled to seven shillings after his week's labor. His dogmatic, domineering tone has been another great cause of enmity against him. He treated his cattle better than he did his laborers, having never anything but curses for them.

This, Mr. Editor, is no isolated case of ingrained tyranny of the Landlords of Ireland. What a subject for sympathy from the Orange Emergency Committee of Ireland! What a farce to send a telegram to the Grand Master of Canada asking the aid of their brethren of the Dominion to further oppose the Land League, and assist the persecuted Landlords!!

Yours, &c.,
A FRIEND TO IRELAND.

March 19th, 1881.

PARLIAMENTARY NOTES.

A number of Parliamentary guests at the Grand Union presented Mr. Wells, the manager, with an address and a purse of money Friday evening.

There was a large attendance in all the galleries of the House of Commons Friday night, inasmuch as it was the last evening sitting of the session.

The House was prorogued this afternoon at three o'clock. The Foot Guards furnished the guard of honor, and the Dragoon Guards the escort for His Excelency.

During the session of Parliament now closing the twenty messengers employed have been kept busy. The number of messages taken was 9,000, and bell calls answered 14,700.

The Tories tried to make a great deal of capital Friday night in the House on the objection taken by the Hon. Mr. Blake in regard to the item of $10,000 for a monument to Sir G. Cartier. If the precedent now established is kept up J. Burr Plumb may finally secure a monument after he is dead at the expense of the country.

The Post-Office Savings Bank account for the month of February, published to-day, shows as follows: Balance in hands of Minister of Finance on 31st January, 1881, $5,125,135.11; deposits in Post-Office Savings Bank, during month, $866,292; interest allowed to depositors on accounts closed during month $1,696.41. Total, $5,463,123.52.. Repayments at Post-Office Savings Banks during month, $162,199.35; balance due to depositors, $5,330,914.17. Total, $5,493,123.52.

—Mr. McDonagh, who so ably defended the fenit rioters in the State trials, is now asking the Orange Relief Committee for aid against his striking tenants.

THE blood cannot properly perform its functions when loaded with impurities, because it is thick and sluggish; and every person needs at times something to cleanse and quicken the vital current. Dr. J. C. Ayer's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla meets this want perfectly, and his discovery of this compound ranks as important in preserving the blood in a healthy condition as does that of Wm. Harvey in demonstrating its circulatory action. Nothing else so vitalizes, purifies and enriches the blood as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is a perfect blood and nerve food. It never disturbs the stomach, but greatly assists and promotes the digestion and assimilation of nutriments, and increases their power to sustain and nourish the body. In renovating the blood it cleans and quickens the intellect, and thus gives to both mind and body the power of long sustained, arduous and successful effort. —Corning, N. Y., Journal.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Local Brevities.

—Conncil meeting to-night.

—The Assizes opened at 1 o'clock to-day.

—The Board of Education meets tomorrow evening at the usual hour.

—Teams are still crossing the bay, although the ice is somewhat unsafe.

—One year ago to-day Hon. Mr. Justice Osler was presiding at the Assize Court in this city.

—Men have commenced tearing down the burned building on the corner of Bridge and Pinnacle Streets.

—There is bad news for the young folks. The market is said to be stocked with adulterated taffy. Don't touch it for your life.

—Five tramps on Saturday night, and three last night, in the Police Cells. One prisoner, a drunk, was also sheltered from the storm.

—An occasional "Tam O'Shanter" may be seen still, but there seems to be a strong leaning towards the "Turkish Fez" as an article of gear.

—The Rev. Dr. Jeffers will, D.V., talk about "The Art of Conversation," after a sumptuous tea, in the basement of Bridge st. Church to-morrow evening.

—The rain storm that visited this section Saturday afternoon and night, was the soft endof the blizzard reported from Chicago and other western cities.

—Professor Macoun's lecture to-morrow evening in the City Hall, under the auspices of the Young People's Aid Society of Johnst. Presbyterian Church, promises to be largely attended.

—The Cotton Mill project at Kingston is now in a fair way of being a success. Stock is being liberally subscribed, and a site has been selected. Here is an example for Belleville to follow. Who will take the initiative? We want iron factories—or any other kind of factories we can get.

—The typographical union of Toronto have issued a circular in regard to the injury done to the craft by reason of the great increase of unfledged printers—young men and boys "having some knowledge of the printing business." The remedy proposed is a uniform apprenticeship of five years and an indenture system.

—The Christian Guardian of last week contained a well-written, courteous criticism of Mr. Allan Pringle's "Defence of Ingersoll." The same number has an interesting letter from Rev. Hugh Johnston, who has been visiting the wonders of London and Paris, and who has joined an excursion party to the Holy Land.

—Rathbun & Son, of Deseronto, (Mill Point) offered the Kingston City Council to build a sash, blind and door mill on their property (the old Morton Wharf,) King street, providing the city collect taxes on the lot only. The matter will be discussed in the Council to-night. Belleville should and could have had this. Perhaps some of our readers know the reason why.

—The weekly noon prayer meeting in Bridge St. Methodist Church to-day, was one peculiar and refreshing. The services were not broken by any long pause, and there was a due proportion of praise, prayer, and remarks. This was the general remark, though the attendance was smaller than usual. In the absence of the gentleman who was to preside, Rev. D. Mitchell took the chair.

UNSURPASSED.—The old and well known remedy "Holden's Expectorant" (for coughs and colds) is still unsurpassed. More than 20 years it has now been in use and it still continues popular, while scores have flourished for a year or so and are forgotten. If you have a cough or a cold call at Geen's Drugstore and procure a bottle.

GARDEN SEEDS.—For good and reliable garden and field seeds go to Gee n's Drug store.

☞ For a clean and comfortable Bath, either hot or cold, go to the Metropolitan Shaving Parlor.

FROSS.—Moderate to fresh winds, mostly from the south-west and north-west, partially clearing weather. Not much change in temperature.

ATTENTION.—We direct attention to Mr. W. Davenport's advertisement in these columns. Mr. D. has a good stock of goods, and he is taking the right course to let the public know it. Call and see his stock, and be convinced.

TEA-MEETING AND LECTURE.—Remember the tea-meeting and lecture in the basement of the Bridge Street Church tomorrow evening. The young ladies of Mr. Jones' Bible-Class will provide an excellent tea, and Rev. Dr. Jeffers' lecture on the "Art of Conversation" will be well worth hearing.

☞ Try Deacon's Up-Town Shaving Parlor for an easy Shave and stylish Hair Cut.

POLICE COURT.—John Whitton charged with fraud in purchasing a bull on a bank cheque, where he had no funds, was found guilty, but having paid over the money was let off, to appear for sentence when called upon. George Chrysalis was fined $2 for using abusive language to a married lady. A charge preferred by Dunham Ockerman against Mrs. Creeper, for obstructing a bailiff was enlarged until to-morrow.

THE ENGINE HORSES.—The new engine teams took possession of their stables to-day and will hereafter be used for drawing the engines to and from fires. Mr. Robert McCoy, Jr. who draws No. 1 engine, has purchased a large and powerful team from Nelson Lingham, which look as though they would do their work well. His horse to be employed on the horse carts is also a good one. Mr. McCoy, sr. uses his own team on No. 2 engine, and they also are a powerful team, and will, doubtless, do their work well.

LOSS OF A VALUABLE DOG.—Yesterday Mr. Earle, Secretary of the Gas Company, lost a valuable Newfoundland dog, by being carried under the ice near the railway bridge. Mr. Earle was in company with some other gentlemen, and was throwing chips in the open water for his dog to follow. The poor animal, which was a great water dog, went after the chip, and on turning to come back to his master got caught in the current and was carried under the ice. His owner feels the loss very keenly, as the dog was a faithful one, and there was none better for watching in the city.

See our windows for beautiful prints, handsome Cretonnes, choice Embroideries, and nobby Tweeds. The cheapest dry goods house in the city. James Hennessy.

Mosso et Profcio.—The public have been so often deceived by representations made through the advertising columns, that if an announcement is made offering unusual inducements, it is donsidered at once as a "blow" and no further attention paid to it. I believe it pays to advertise providing the truth is told. If the advertiser is not able to carry out the inducements offered to the public it is but a waste of money and printer's ink. I have this season endeavored to secure goods suitable for a first-class trade and I think an examination will bear me out in asserting that I have a stock of hats for style, finish and price second to none in the Province. I have imported this spring direct from two of the largest hat dealers in the States, (Clarke Bros., New York, and John B. Stetson & Co. Philadelphia) all the new American styles in soft and stiff hats. I have the spring styles in silk and pull over hats made expressly for my trade.

The best form in which electricity is embodied is Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil,a sovereign and highly sanctioned specific for rheumatic pains, and a thoroughly reliable remedy for all affections of the throat and lungs, used externally and internally.

ANOTHER FLOOD.

The Result of Recent Warm Weather and Heavy Rains.

THE MOIRA ON THE RAMPAGE.

The warm weather of last week played havoc with the snow banks, and sent a thousand rivulets flowing into the Moira, all along the route from its source to its outlet. Saturday's rain, which culminated in a regular down-pour during the night, augmented the volume of water that had been accumulating on the big flat between the G. T. Railway track and West Moira-st., until a tolerable ocean spread itself over several acres, and overflowed all the surroundings on the south side. When morning dawned the people living on Moira-st., and between Coleman and Cedar Streets, West Belleville, found themselves surrounded by water. Torrents were rushing across Moira-st. from the commons, carrying away sidewalks in some places, and lifting them from their foundation in others. Cellars were flooded, yards submerged, and not a few found communication with rear premises entirely cut off until temporary bridges could be constructed. Even wood-sheds were invaded, and kindling wood, that had been carefully prepared Saturday evening for lighting fires Sunday morning, was found floating about in a condition next to dry for the match. This state of affairs caused much inconvenience and some loss, but the rain having ceased before daylight, the flood soon subsided. As might be expected, the rush of water towards the river augmented the volume that was making war upon the thick ice, and the probability of a "shove" was increased. It was not long before the broken ice between Coleman's Dam and the Lower Bridge gave way and was tumbled and mashed until pilled upon and driven under the solid part near the harbor.

The ice in the river was observed to be on the rise on Saturday night, and about midnight it broke in many places, but it was not until about three o'clock Sunday night that the policemen on night duty gave the alarm. They passed up Front Street on both sides and aroused the people from their comfortable beds to set their places in order, as a "shove" was momentarily expected. This, however, did not occur until about noon, by which time the water had risen to a great height. The shove was not of as serious a nature as was at first thought it would be, and beyond the flooding of some cellars along Front Street but little other damage was done. From Coleman's Dam to a very few feet above the lower bridge the ice was cleared out entirely, and at the time of writing it remains piled up from this point to the mouth of the harbor where the ice is still firm. Below the upper bridge to the dam the ice remains firm, but a second shove is hourly expected as it is piled up above the bridge from Burrel's Dam down and crowds are watching the progress of events. From Burrell's Dam to the railway bridge the same state of things exists, and when this ice comes down the probability is that considerable damage will be done. Lumber piles and moveable materials generally along the sides of the river have been touched, and their owners are removing them as speedily as possible.

THE GRAND JURY:

B G Gilbert	J J Haines

Wm Lang, jr	Geo Munro

J MacFarlain.

B M Britton, Esq., Q C, will be present to-morrow morning for the purpose of conducting the Crown business.

The Grand Jury being sworn in His Lordship addressed them, in substance as follows :

They had been called to-gether to take that part in carrying out the laws of the land that had been assigned to Grand Juries for many years. He then referred to the effort that had been made to do away with Grand Juries, and the change that had been made in the law reducing the number to fifteen. Thisfiaw, however, had never came into effect. He sometimes thought that the Grand Juries themselves, composed, as they were, of the wealth and intelligence of the country, should express an opinion on the change proposed. His own opinion was that this was an institution which should be continued. He was pleased to be able to say that their duties at this court would be comparatively light. There were two cases where parties were charged with attempting to do grievous bodily harm. Another was a case of false pretence, and the difference between this and a charge of larceny was explained. There was a charge of larceny of timber from a farm, which constituted the criminal docket. Their other duties would be to visit the jail and other public institutions in the city.

From our own Correspondent.

CAMPBELLFORD JOTTINGS.

Our Grand Junction, now a grand fact, puts our northern country in easy and constant communication with your good city. I had occasion to take the cars the other day and was delighted with my ride The road is in fair condition and the cars are superb. These splendid coaches are made at the factory of Mr. Crossen, Cobourg, and are certainly a credit to his establishment; and the Company deserve credit for their enterprise in putting on two daily trains of such coaches. An old joker on the train praised the coaches, snuffed with satisfaction,and exclaimed "Humph ! National Policy !" He seemed to think the Protective Tariff did it and thought he had found the "hum." Anyway this enterprise must do Belleville good, if the men of capital and trade take anvantage of it, as well as develop the region north.

I confess I wonder a little that the road which is established for the business of all kinds of people, seems to have taken upon itself a certain religious and political stripe. A certain church railroad, or a Grit or Tory railroad might be a good thing ; but it would certainly be a novelty under the sun. It may have been all an accident, but a man on my day could'nt buy a Globe or ONTARIO on the train. The impressible newsboy trumpeted only the Mail and the Intelligencer, and, by the way, a N.Y. Clipper. Perhaps your paper is'nt good enough to to sell ; or perhaps you havn't grit enough to push it ; or perhaps you Grits are down and are not popular. Any way,one would suppose that once in a while a stray Grit would escape and get a chance to ride, or perhaps there is coming to pass in Canada what certain prominent Senators in the United States are attempting to organize even the Government to resist by the formation of the Anti-Monopoly Association, whereby it is hoped to resist the power of the great railway autocrats. They say there are some half dozen of these gentlemen that could direct the channels of trade and plant cities along the seaboard almost at their pleasure. They evidently love power and are grasping to get and keep it. They are seeking the control of the telegraph lines and now own more than half the newspapers. So they give the people just what news, and what kind of news and doctrine pleases themselves.It may be that to the papers already named on the Grand Junction, the True Witness will soon be added, and the circle completed.

This Campbellford of ours is bound to be a town. At the junction of the river and the railway, midway between Belleville and Peterboro, with the grandest water power in the country,we must grow unless we throw away every chance to improve. Two large establishments are going up this summer that must tell upon our prosperity. The Gault Bros., Montreal, are to erect a large cotton and woollen mill,and a gentleman from Warkworth is putting up a factory for Shoddy Cloth. We are expecting great things.

Our chief excitement is of course the election. Mr. Crouter is busy and receives much encouragement .It is evident he expects to go to Parliament. Mr. Kennedy's friends seem to think their man is sure to win. And so the battle goes. So far as I can see Mr. Crouter is safe unless King William of immortal memory and His Holiness, the Pope join hands to oppose him. When these two dignitaries lock arms and whisper and smile as they often do, they generally walk the course, and would make a hard time for friend Crouter in Northumberland. I have long though it strange that the people cannot see through this thing, and stand straight up against such combinations, serving political tricksters and making sport of our liberties. Not one alone, but ten momentous instances could be given when the welfare of the people has been sacrificed to this unnatural and astounding alliance.

LONDON, March 21.—Several Land meetings were held in Ireland, yesterday. Dillon at a meeting at Woodford, Co. Galway, strongly asperned the Irish judges.

PROSPECT HILL, March 21.—One of the great reasons why the Boers object to dispersa is because they fear a considerable portion of the population cannot be depended upon to accept the existing Government of the country.

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 21.—Saturday Turkish delegates submitted the new proposal suggested by the Ambassadors, by which the Turks make additional concessions in Thessaly and cede Crete instead of Epirus. This is probably the extreme limit Turkey will cede to Greece.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair if thickened, falling though checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by its application. Instead of foully lining the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous, and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

MARCH WINDS. The sudden changes and high winds which prevail in March make a bottle of Down's Elixir always necessary to have at hand. It is a sure cure for sudden colds and all lung diseases.

BAXTER'S MANDRAKE BITTERS will cure all bilious Diseases. Sold everywhere at 25 cts. per bottle. Try it.

The best remedy for strains and galls on horses is HENRY & JOHNSON'S ARNICA and OIL LINIMENT. Good for man and beast.

In the Paris bank of Anne Jean bonne and superintendent stands Northrop & Lyman's Quinine Wine. The weak, the nervous, the dyspeptic, never surely seek its aid; sufferers from fallen, transient, and intermittent fever, are surely rescued by it from the malarial scourge. Its taste is agreeable, its ingredients the most popular one that is celebrated. The sherry which imparts to it an agreeable wine-flavor, is eminently pure, and serves to diffuse throughout the system its fine medicinal properties. It revives failing appetite, is genial to sleep, and promotes regular secretion and evacuation. The nervous and dyspeptic, as it is well known, are often troubled with a degree of melancholy which in many cases reaches the stage of actual hypochondria. As the stomach regains its tone and the nerves recover their vigor, through the action of the Quinine Wine, this failing gradually wears off, and cheerfulness resumes its sway. Persons who are convalescing after an unsatisfactory illness should take it in properly regulated doses, as it is after all by acids, thus taken, the restoration of vigor, which, without its aid might be tediously slow. Fever and ague and bilious remittent sufferers should take it only during the absence of the feverish symptoms. Such persons, whose digestion is out of order, gain bodily substance as well as strength by its use. Can none but the Quinine Wine manufactured by Northrop & Lyman of Toronto, which can be procured of any druggist.

DAILY ONTARIO

The Leavenworth Case :

A LAWYER'S STORY.

BY ANNA KATHARINE GREEN.

'The young ladies were attached to their uncle?'

'O yes, sir.

'And to each other?'

'Well, yes, I suppose so; its not for me to say.'

'You suppose so. Have you any reason to think otherwise?' And he doubled the watch-chain about his fingers as if he would double its attention as well as his own.

Thomas hesitated a moment. But just as his interlocutor was about to repeat his question, he drew himself up into a rather stiff and formal attitude and replied,

'Well, sir, no.'

The juryman for all his self-assertion seemed to respect the reticence of a servant who declined to give his opinion in regard to such a matter, and drawing complacently back, signified with a wave of his hand that he had no more to say.

Immediately the excitable little man, before mentioned, slipped forward to the edge of his chair and asked this time without hesitation, 'At what time did you unfasten the house this morning?'

'About six, sir.'

'Now could any one leave the house after that time without your knowledge?'

Thomas glanced a trifle uneasily at his fellow-servants, but answered up promptly and as if without reserve.

'I don't think it would be possible for anybody to leave this house after six in the morning without either myself or the cook's knowing of it. Folks don't jump from second story windows in broad daylight, and as to leaving by the doors, the front door closes with such a slam all the house can hear it from top to bottom, and as for the back door, no one that goes out of that can get clear of the yard without going by the kitchen window, and no one could go by the kitchen window without the cook's observing them. that I can swear to.' And he cast a half quizzing, half malicious look at the round, red-faced individual in question, strongly suggestive of late and unforgotten lickerings over the kitchen coffee urn and castor.

This reply, which was of a nature calculated to deepen the forebodings which had already settled upon the minds of those present, produced a visible effect. The house found locked, and no one seen to leave it! Evidently, then, we had not far to look for the assassin.

Shifting on his chair with increased fervor, if I may so speak, the juryman glanced sharply around. But perceiving the renewed interest on the faces about him, he declined to weaken the effect of the last admission, by any further questions. Settling therefore, comfortably back, he left the field open for any other juror who might choose to press the inquiry. But no one seeming to be ready to do this, Thomas in his turn evinced impatience, and at last looking respectfully around inquired,

'Would any other gentleman like to ask me anything?'

No one replying, he threw a hurried glance of relief towards the servants at his side, then while each one marveled at the sudden change that had taken place in his countenance, withdrew with an eager alacrity and evident satisfaction for which I could not at the moment account.

But the next witness proving to be none other than my acquaintance of the morning, Mr. Harwell, I soon forgot both Thomas and the doubts his last movements had awakened in the interest which the examination of so important a person as the secretary and right-hand man of Mr. Leavenworth, was likely to create.

Advancing with the calm and determined air of one who realizes that life and death might hang upon the words he would be called upon to utter, Mr. Harwell took his stand before the jury with a degree of dignity that was not only highly prepossessing in itself, but to me who had not been over and above pleased with him, on our first interview, admirable and surprising. Lacking, as I have said, any distinctive style of face or form, agreeable or otherwise—being what you might call an appearance a negative sort of person, his pale regular features, and well smoothed hair and simple whiskers, all belonged to a recognized type and very commonplace—there was still visible, on this occasion at least, a certain self-possession in his carriage which went far toward making up for the want of impressiveness in his countenance and expression. Not that this was in any way remarkable. Indeed, there was nothing remarkable about the man, any more than there is about a thousand others you meet every day on Broadway, unless you except the look of concentration and solemnity which pervaded his whole person, a solemnity which at this time would not have been noticeable, perhaps, if it had not appeared to be the habitual expression of one who in the short life had seen more of sorrow than joy, less of pleasure than care and anxiety.

The coroner, to whom his appearance one way or the other seemed to be a matter of no moment, addressed him immediately and without reserve.

'Your name?'

'James Trueman Harwell.'

'Your business?'

'I have occupied the position of private secretary and amanuensis to Mr. Leavenworth for the past eight months.'

'You are the person who last saw Mr. Leavenworth alive, are you not?'

The young man raised his head with a haughty gesture that well nigh transfigured it.

'Certainly not; as I am not the man who killed him.'

This answer, which seemed to introduce something akin to levity or badinage into an examination the seriousness of which we were all beginning to realize, produced a sensible movement of feeling toward the man who in face of facts revealed and to be revealed, could so calmly make use of it. A hum of disapproval swept through the room, and in the curt remark, James Harwell lost all that he had previously won by the self possession of his bearing and the unflinching regard of his eye. He seemed himself to realize this, for he lifted his head still higher, though his general aspect remained unchanged.

'I mean,' the coroner exclaimed evidently nettled that the young man had been able to draw such a conclusion from his words, 'that you were the last one to see him previous to his assassination by some unknown individual?' ☞

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice having had placed in his hands by an East Indian missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt in his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French or English. THE GREAT FEMALE REMEDY

BUCHU PILLS

This invaluable medicine is unfailing in the cure of those painful and dangerous ailments to which the female constitution is subject. It invigorates the debilitated and delicate, and by regularly strengthening the system fortifies the youthful constitution for the duties of life, and when taken in middle or old age proves a real blessing; and on the approach of child birth those pills should be used two or three weeks previous to confinement; the benefits to be derived are inestimable; they fortify the constitution against the suffering during labor, prevent weakness of the organs, and enable the mother to perform her duties with comfort to herself and child. In all cases of Nervous Spinal Affections, Pains in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, or Whites and Blues, those pills will effect a cure when all otherwards have failed, and, although a powerful remedy do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or any thing hurtful to the constitution. Full directions in the pamphlet round each package. JOB MOSES NEW YORK, SOLE AGENT. Price $1 per box and 15 cents for postage enclosed to Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., general agents for the Dominion, will insure a bottle containing over 50 pills, by return mail. The Best Field
—FOR—
EMIGRANTS,

An Immense Area of Railroad and Government Lands, of great fertility, within easy reach of permanent market, at extremely low prices, is now offered for sale in Eastern Oregon and Eastern Washington Territory.

These lands form part of the great Grain Belt of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 250 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded for all parts of the world.

Grain at Portland, Oregon, commands a price equal to that obtained in Chicago.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R. R. is now assured, and guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the construction of the network of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R. & N. Co. in the valleys of the Great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the lands now open to purchase and pre-emption. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future.

Lands show an average yield of 40 bushels of wheat per acre. No failure of crops ever known.

Railroad Lands offered at the uniform rate of $2.50 an acre.

DAILY ONTARIO

To the Editor of the ONTARIO.
THE MURRAY CANAL.
The area of Weller's Bay proper, is about 6 square miles, and over half of which has a depth at ordinary water level of from 14 to 30 feet, shoaling gradually towards the shore. This bay is connected by a channel of 9 feet water, with a large bay called Consecon Bay.
Mr. Page, C. E., expressly declares that Weller's Bay lies in the direct line of navigation, and has now 14 feet depth required, 14 feet in the entrance thereto and close to the shore around the bay, and from 20 to 30 feet depth through the centre of the bay ; whereas the distance to Presqu' Ile Harbor lies entirely out of that line, and can only be approached by a circuitous channel to be dredged through Presqu' Ile Harbor. It therefore appears that the distance from the mouth of the latter to the Bay of Quinte should be compared with that from Weller's Bay entrance to the Bay of Quinte. This would show the length of the former route to be almost three times greater than the other via Weller's Bay, that is to say the former is 7½ miles long while the latter is only 2½ miles, in order to reach either Cobourg or the Bay of Quinte,as the case may be.
On the whole, his opinion is decidedly in favor of the entrance by the route known as No. 2," on the plan annexed to his report, at Stoneburgh's cove, which is at the North Eastern angle of Weller's Bay. It is easy of access, being nearly on the direct line of the channel into the bay and deep water is found nearer the shore than at any other place.
Now, we turn to the report of Mr. Rowan, C.E. He speaks of there being in Weller's Bay good anchorage for vessels, and a depth of water over a considerable area of not less than 18 or 20 feet (and upwards). It is favorably situated as a harbour of refuge for vessels caught in a South Westerly gale on Lake Ontario, if means were only taken to indicate by range lights or otherwise the entrance leading into the bay.
He also alluded to a work of the late Edward M. Hodder, M. D., Commodore of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club, which states that the vicinity off Presqu' Ile Harbour and Weller's Bay is exposed to the full sweep of Lake Ontario, during a South or South West wind—the very wind which would render it necessary to run into Weller's Bay (and not Presqu' Ile Harbour) for shelter.
Mr. John Page, Chief Engineer of Public Works, is widely known through Canada as a gentleman of great intellectual attainments, ability and experience, and Mr. John H. Rowan is the Civil Engineer who made the most extensive and thorough examination and survey of both Presqu'Ile Harbour and Weller's Bay, the three proposed routes for the Murray Canal, the Bay of Quinte from its head down to Mill Point, and also that portion of Lake Ontario in front of the two harbours and test the existence of a shoal, which he proved to be a myth ; he is therefore an authority on the subject. These gentlemen did not own any property or interest in that vicinity to prejudice them in favor of either Presqu' Ile Harbour or Weller's Bay, therefore their evidence is absolutely nothing to detract from the credibility and impartiality of their respective reports.
The conclusion they came to was the same, which was that Weller's Bay is the only harbour of refuge for vessels caught in a storm from the South West, which is the very wind, to use the language of the late Commodore, Edward M. Hodder, M. D., that would render it necessary for vessels to run into Weller's Bay for shelter, or, and also that the outlet of the Murray Canal must be at Weller's Bay.
WINDS.
The winds from certain quarters referred to in the reports are those from the West, South and South West, the very worst and last which blows down the whole length of Lake Ontario, gathering force and raising heavy seas, which every captain dreads when he finds the vessel under the lee of mainland and the peninsula of Prince Edward County. If the winds increase to a gale or storm, where will he seek for refuge ? The idea of getting into Presqu' Ile Harbour is quite hopeless, owing to the peculiar position of its entrance and the sinuosity of the channel through the sand bar. However, let us suppose he finds his vessel off that entrance, he will be obliged to turn her bow right ahead against both the storm and the waves in order to reach the harbour, but it is not possible to make head way in the face of the fearful elements. While, on the other side, if any vessel caught in a storm, seek for shelter in Weller's Bay, she may sail before the wind right into Weller's Bay without any difficulty, and that with the utmost safety ; the bay being so easy of access and on the line of navigation from Lake Ontario. In this case, suppose the outlet of the Murray Canal be at Presqu' Ile Harbour, she, being storm bound, will have no means of getting into the Bay of Quinte, although only two miles from it and one mile from the Murray Canal, meandering four miles further west to its outlet at Presqu' Ile Harbor.
Weller's Bay is considered the best and safest harbor of refuge on Lake Ontario, if the Dominion Government would only place lighthouses or ships in their proper positions at its entrance.
Are the saving of life, of vessel property and the reduction of insurance to be wholly disregarded by the adoption of the longest and most expensive route which leads to Presqu' Ile Harbor ? Is the Murray Canal to be built for the sole benefit of Presqu' Ile Harbor, and not in the interests of river and lake navigation ? Indeed statistics show that 4 of all the marine losses occur along the coast in that vicinity, between the peninsula of Prince Edward County and the mainland ; how was it that not one of them could manage to get into Presqu' Ile Harbor for refuge, although there were three lighthouses to guide them ? The great storm in November last speaks volumes for the worthlessness of Presqu' Ile Harbor as a harbor of refuge.
Again, any vessel in Presqu'Ile Harbor, whose entrance is only one mile from Weller's Bay, may safely sail for Weller's Bay, as she will only run before the same wind, so Brighton can send her vessels there at any time and in any wind !
Even under the circumstances, from the interest of her sister village of Colborne in common with other towns and cities, is to have the outlet of the Murray Canal at Weller's Bay.
On another occasion we may speak of the length, cost and utility of each route proposed for the Murray Canal. There are three of them : one leads to Presqu' Ile Harbor and the other two to Weller's Bay.

FIGHTING FOR PARNELL.

THE TERRIFIC BATTLE WITNESSED ON A STATEN ISLAND FERRYBOAT.

While the Staten Island ferryboat Middleton was making its five o'clock trip on Friday evening, a dispute which, although it may not engender any international difficulty, will at least be got much bad feeling, occurred between a staunch son of the Emerald Isle and a dignified representative of the German Empire. Among the passengers on the boat were Mr. James McCarthy, a custom house officer, and Mr. George Bechter a broker. The two gentlemen got into a heated argument over the merits of Parnell and the cause he represents, which finally ended in a lively scrimmage, McCarthy planted his right hand on Bechter's left eye, severely cutting it and drawing the claret freely. The latter countered on McCarthy's nasal organ, and received in return a backhand blow which sent his silk hat into the waters of the bay. Mutual friends interfered at this point and separated the irate contestants.
The Teutonic blood of the valiant Bechter cried for revenge, however, and the upshot was that Mr. McCarthy was consigned to the majesty of the law, represented in the person of Special Policeman Dunk. At the point another scene occurred. McCarthy's friends insisted that he should be brought before W. P. Casey, a fellow-countryman and Justice of the Peace for Castleton. This, they urged, should be done, as he was arrested in the vicinity of Castleton Hill. The German friends of Mr. Bechter insisted that McCarthy should go brought before the German justice, Mr. Kullman. The officer awed by the preponderance of the German element by which he was surrounded, said he guessed the German Justice, was the nearest, and accordingly took his prisoner there accompanied by the friends of both parties. Justice Kullman considerately released Mr. McCarthy on his own recognizance until Wednesday next, when he will be placed on trial. In the meantime it is said that McCarthy will sue out a counter warrant before Justice Casey.
Feeling runs high on both sides, and it is expected that there will be many more bloody noses before the matter is settled.—N. Y. Star.

The best receipt for going through life in a commendable way is to feel that every body, no matter how rich or how poor, needs all the kindness they can get from others in the world. Let us remember this great truth, and commence with those around us. Be kind to poor and needy, and those who do not take the daily or weekly newspaper,be kindly informed, if by sickness, whether it be from coughs, lung diseases, asthma, or consumption, that by the use of N. H. Downs' Vegetable Balsamic Elixir they can be cured. Keep not the good news be ourselves, but spread the sunshine of hope around.

A BAPTIST MINISTER'S EXPERIENCE
I am a Baptist Minister and before I even thought of being a clergyman graduated in medicine but it is a positive pleasure for my present profession, 40 years ago, I was for many years a sufferer from quinsy. "Thomas Eclectric Oil cured me." I was also troubled with headaches. Thomas Eclectric Oil always relieved me. My wife and child has Diphtheria, and "Thomas Eclectric Oil cured them" and I take to time it will cure any ailments out of ten, I am confident it is a cure for the most obstinate Cold, or Cough and if any one will take a small teaspoon, and rub it in with the Oil and then place of the spoon in one nostril and draw the Oil out of the spoon into the head by sniffing as hard as they can until the Oil falls into the throat and practice that twice a week, I don't care how offensive their hea dmay be, it will clean it out and cure their Catarah. For Deafness and Earache it has done wonders to my certain knowledge. It is the only medicine I ever used in practice that I can honestly felt like recommending and I am veryanxious to see it in every place, for I tell you that I would not be without it if it were a matter of consideration, I am now suffering with a pain like Rheumatism in my right limb and noth relieves me like Thomas Eclectric Oil.

Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam is composed of the most healing balsams and gums. The Balsams, which enter into its composition, were used by the natives when America was first discovered, and are combined with other vegetable tonics, so blended together, that it is a specific for all affections of the throat and lungs. Thousands of bottles are used annually, and it is considered one of the standard preparations of the day.

Dr. Harris, of Middlebury, Vt., says: "I had been troubled with Bronchitis for two years, so affecting the organs of speech that I could not speak aloud for six weeks. I had with it severe cough and cold night sweats. I took two bottles of Allen's Lung Balsam and am entirely cured."

Faded Complexions.—How many thousands of ladies there are who look wan and faded, while yet in early life ; to all such let us whisper a word. You have in Bristol's Sarsaparilla and Pills the means of restoring your color, brightening your eyes, sweetening your breath, and giving you sound general health.

A Word of Warning. To protect the public, and prevent them from being imposed upon by the worthless counterfeits and imitations of dor Murray & Lanman's Florida Water, we have prepared paper in which the words "Lanman & Kemp, New York," appear in pale letters when a leaf of the little pamphlet is held up to the light ; and whenever Florida Water is offered for sale wrapped in a pamphlet that does not have this water-mark in it, then it is counterfeit, and should be rejected.

In cases of Chronic disease which doctors have failed to cure, Burdock Blood Bitters has achieved its greatest triumph. All diseases of the Blood, Liver and Kidneys, Scrofula, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, Rheumatism, Piles, Female Complaints and all forms of lost Vitality are promptly cured by this great renovating Tonic. Trial bottles only cost 10 Cents.

It is ways gives us pleasure to draw attention to article which are deserving of public patronage. Probably no article ever offered to the public has met with the same success as Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum. Thousands of families in the Dominion keep it in their homes as the standard Cough Remedy. The sale of this article has assumed enormous proportions. Our advice to the public at large is to try its virtues if they should at any time unfortunately contract either Coughs or Colds. It is sold by all chemists.

BA WISE.—Too often a cold or slight cough is considered a very ordinary, trifling affair, just as well left to go as it came, and hence bad consequences result until a single curable affection is converted into a serious pulmonary disease. The more prudent, aware that a cough or cold should never be trifled with, promptly use "Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers," which have sustained their reputation for over fifty years. They are always efficacious, and exert a most beneficial influence on all the bronchial and pulmonary organs. Sold by all druggists and country merchants at 25 cents a box.

BRISTOL, ONT., 10th March, 1880.
Messrs. Perry Davis & Son & Lawrence, Montreal:
I have sold your Pain-Killer ever since I commenced business and I still continue to sell more of it than of all the other proprietary medicines put together. This can safely be said of Dr. Bechter insisted that McCarthy should go brought before the German justice, Mr. Kullman. The officer awed by the preponderance of the German element by which he was surrounded, said he guessed the German Justice, was the nearest, and accordingly took his prisoner there accompanied by the friends of both parties. Justice Kullman considerately released Mr. McCarthy on his own recognizance until Wednesday next, when he will be placed on trial. In the meantime it is said that McCarthy will sue out a counter warrant before Justice Casey.

For years I have been a great sufferer from a complication of chronic diseases which our physicians treated in vain. I am now using your Favorite Prescription and find myself almost well. Your medicines have done me more good than anything I have ever used.

WM. M. GILES, Esq.—Dear Sir : I have been suffering for the past four months with a terrible attack of rheumatism in my back and hips ; I could not move : I thought I should never get well, as I had used most every kind of liniment, but by chance I got hold of one of your circulars, and thought I would try it—not having any faith in it, or anything else—but from the very first application after one application, I got instant relief, and now after us ng it one week, I am nearly well. I have bought one dozen bottles of it, and never intend to be without it. I have also used it with great benefit on protruding piles. I shall try to tell all of the people in this section about your remedy, but not one half of it, as they used to come to see me when I could not move in bed. You will please to excuse this writing, as it is my first letter to for months. I hope I do not intrude on your time, but, my dear sir, I owe you a debt of gratitude which I can never repay. For the cure of all the various diseases of the Head, Throat and Chest, including the Eye, Ear and Heart.
But a few weeks or months are required to cure the most obstinate cases of Catarrh, Throat diseases, Asthma, Bronchitis and the earlier stages of Consumption, when the treatment is conducted under the Doctor's personal supervision. A ward to the wise is therefore sufficient.
All diseases of the respiratory organs treated by medical inhalations.
Inhalations prevent the expectoration by disolving the hardened matter existing in the air cells of the lungs, thus enabling the patient to expectorate it with ease, at the same time giving the diseased surface an opportunity to heal.
Inhalations scatter inflammation and soothe the inflamed surface, thus relieving a harassing cough almost immediately.
Inhalations prevent the foul exhalations that exist upon the pharyngeal surface in cases of granulated throat, and restore the natural healthy secretions, thus relieving the dryness of the throat and the annoyance as if needles were penetrating the mucous membranes of the pharynx.
Inhalations will cure the most obstinate cases of catarrh when combined with proper constitutional and other topical treatment.
In fact, Inhalations will cure a majority of cases of the breathing organs when all other means have failed.
Let there be no delay, then, in application to the treatment that has stood the test and proved again and again the only hope—the only reliable safeguard and means of restoration.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

Mr. Gladstone, instead of being in failing health as reported, is in the highest spirits and vigor.

The Nihilists now say that the intention was to assassinate the Czarewich with the Czar, but his return to the palace on the 13th saved him.

The Lawson-Labouchere case, now on trial in England, is causing a good deal of amusement in legal circles. Both men are witty and reckless.

If the law, with regard to newspaper correspondents, that prevails in Pennsylvania, was observed here, the Mail's Ottawa reports would have been cut short early in the session.

Mr. Cowan, the Radical Home Rule member for Newcastle, in the Imperial Commons, has been one of the most persistent obstructionists during the present session. His constituents have warned him of the error in his ways.

A young French Canadian has been arrested in Montreal charged with shooting the bullets among the St. Patrick's processionists, and who with having fired the bullet into Nordheimer's Hall on the night of Mrs. O'Donovan Rossa's lecture.

Bob Donnelly has been "blue mouldin' for a batin'," and has, metamorphically speaking, stepped on Carroll's coat tails until the latter sought the power and majesty of the law to protect him. Donnelly is now under arrest. The Biddulph war will break out again with all the old fury.

Turkey has approached the limit of her concessions in the Greek border dispute, and it now remains to be seen whether the powers can prevent hostilities. The accession of Alexander III has inspired Greece with fresh courage, and she is now disposed to exact the fullest measure.

The Rev. Mr. Rainsford made a strong appeal to the citizens of Toronto not to countenance the French actress, whom he denounced as unworthy the patronage of moral men and women. The Mail says the theatre in the evening was "nearly filled by one of the best audiences, socially speaking, Toronto has ever turned out." At the matinee, the same paper says, several of the leading citizens were present with their families. We would like to know what Mr. Rainsford thinks about it.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Globe is convinced that Bat Portage, situated on the Canada Pacific Railway, between Prince Arthur's Landing and Selkirk, is destined to become a great manufacturing centre. Its water-power is unsurpassed, and its location will make it the Minneapolis of the Dominion, as the grain from the fruitful prairies of Manitoba will be brought there to be converted into flour, and then shipped to the markets of the world.

THE temperance people all over Canada are indignantly protesting against the action of the Senate in passing the Albion amendment to Senator Vidal's motion. They seem to regard this last prominent act by the "Tories" of Canada as the very straw that will break the camel's back, and seal the fate of that branch of the Dominion Parliament. At the next general election, the abolition of the Senate will be made a prominent plank in the Opposition platform, and will be supported by the temperance people who place principle before party.

MR. BLAKE, last Friday evening, objected to the vote of a sum of money for the erection of a monument to the memory of the late Sir George Cartier, and the Mail's Ottawa correspondent employs strong language to express his opinion of the great blunder. Mr. Blake does not question the services of the person whose memory it is proposed to honor by this measure, but he does question the justice of using the public funds for what may be regarded as a political object. We believe in his objection the member for west Durham represents the views of the Reform party.

WHEN the articles of impeachment, prepared by certain parties in Manitoba in the case of Chief Justice Wood, and presented to Parliament last week, were made public, there was an immediate revulsion of feeling. Those who had previously condemned the intemperate habits of the Chief Justice, knew that the parties whose names were attached to that impeachment were in no wise concerned about the proper administration of justice in the Prairie Province, as to their political and personal dislike of Mr. Wood. They all admit the superior ability of the Chief Justice, but regret his failings. Perhaps the present action may result in arousing the Chief Justice to a sense of his danger.

THE Mackenzie Government passed a stringent liquor law for the Province of Keewatin and adjoining territories. This was absolutely necessary to protect settlers from the consequences of illegal traffic in whisky by American traders. The result of such a law was most beneficial. The present Government dare not revoke the law, because its provisions were supported by all classes interested, irrespective of politics, if we except the traders themselves. Permits, however, were granted to almost everybody who applied, enabling them to bring liquor into the country. By this means the good results of the law have been almost entirely nullified, the Government permits being made to serve the dishonest purposes of those engaged in the illegal trade.

THE engagements entered into by those who transport emigrants from Ontario to the North-West do not seem to be strictly observed on one side, if reports are to be credited. For instance, a party writes that the agreement be made at the point of embarkation was that his effects were to be carried to Emerson at the rate of $2 per 100 lbs, and $20 for each horse. Upon the arrival of his baggage and stock at that station, however, he was charged $3 per 100 lbs. for the former and $47 per head for the latter. This was a gross violation of the contract, and protests from the victim have been disregarded. The majority of those emigrating to Manitoba and other North-Western Provinces have no money to spend unnecessarily, and can ill afford to meet such extortionate demands as we mention above. Either the contractor or the railway authorities are to blame for such a breach of contract, and it will be in the interest of all concerned to correct the abuse.

—It is considered pretty certain that Hon. Mr. Paton will get the Customs Collectorship of Toronto.

—Mr. M. P. Ryan, M. P., denies having received the appointment of Warden of St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary.

—All the M. P.'s and Senators residing in this vicinity have returned home, glad, no doubt, that another session's work is over.

—Mr. Hammond's meetings in Toronto continue to attract a large share of public attention. Between 400 and 500 have professed conversion.

—The Rev. P. Tocque, a superannuated English minister of Toronto, claims Sarah Bernhardt as his cousin. His daughter resembles the great actress very much.

—The wife of Secretary Windom is the daughter of a Congregational clergyman in Massachusetts. In her youth she was a teacher in Ohio, and she now teaches her own children.

—Lord George Campbell—a cousin of the Marquis of Lorne—is now, with his wife, staying at the British Legation in Washington. Many entertainments are being given in their honor.

—Rev. Dr. Wild is not crushed by the opposition of the Toronto Ministerial Association. The World remarks:—Bond-st. church stock is still rising. Forty-eight sitting were let out Wednesday night and sixty-eight the week previous. The weekly collections average over $140.

—Handford, the notorious, is on a lecturing tour through the country his theme being "A King without a Crown." As an inducement to the public, we suppose, a likeness of the "Rev." lecturer accompanies his advertisement. Handford is a handsome man, and also a talented man, but he is a fraud all the same.

—The late General Colley, killed by the Boers in South Africa, was in Toronto three years ago. He came in search of information respecting a brother who had settled in Aurora, and found that he had gone to California. The gallant officer followed up the clue only to discover than his brother had died on the Pacific slope.

MARINE NOTES.

—There is not a single crack in the ice in Toronto harbour.

—Open water can be seen off the Penitentiary Bar at Kingston.

—The sailors do not give any sign of what wages they expect this year.

—The steam barge "Norman" has been purchased by the Deseronto Navigation Company.

—There are few vessels wintering here, and hence the preparations for the opening of navigation are of little account.

—The steam barge "Niagara" has a seven cent freight on grain from Toledo to Kingston. Other vessels have similar rates to Port Colborne and Buffalo.

—The Oswego Sailors' Union has chosen the following officers: President, A. Skillen; Vice-President, Patrick McDonald; Secretary, Martin Cummings.

—The suit of the owner of the prop. "Alpena" against the schooner "Hyderabad" for salvage, $15,000, will be concluded at Milwaukee in a day or two. No one entertains the thought for a moment that any such amount as asked will be allowed.

—Nearly all timber vessels have been engaged, but still there is a large amount of pine and oak yet to come forward (more of the former.) This makes it probable that timber vessel accommodation will be short this season. The season of 1879 opened something similar to this—the vessels were all chartered with a few exceptions for rates $80 to $90 but the vessels that hung back secured rates as high as $105. The Edward Blake got $150 and the China $155. Experts in the business state that it is altogether likely that those who hold back this season for late charters will reap the harvest. Offers have been made of $100 for oak, first trip, from Bear Creek and $120 for elm from Teddington. Thus far there have been no charters made for elm.

—The Right Honorable the Minister of Justice in the Dominion Parliament called an opponent "A fool, false, malicious and convicted slanderer and liar." That man ought to be a mate on a lake steamer.

—There is no benefit to be obtained by sending freight, either grain or lumber, to Oswego until the canal is open. It is altogether probable that sailing on Lake Ontario will not be general until the middle of April.

THE FRESHET.

Second Shove Yesterday and a Greater one To-day.

DAMAGE RATHER LIGHT.

The second "shove" in the ice took place about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, it being started by some blasting in the vicinity of the upper bridge. Crowds gathered along the banks and on the bridges watching the ice as it moved down to the harbor at railway speed, and the sight was one well worth seeing. No harm was done, but as the broken cakes anchored below the lower bridge, and an immense volume of water was coming down, fears were entained of an inundation, which were, to some extent, verified to-day.

At about 10:30 this morning all the ice lodged near the railway bridge commenced to move, and soon it went sweeping down over Lazier's dam, starting what remained between that and Burrell's dam, and the whole came with such force that about 30 feet of the latter dam on the west side of the river was carried away. Continuing on down the river, very little damage was done until the harbor was reached. Here the first thing to go down with the huge cakes of ice which came down was Carter's boat shed, scarcely a board of which was left together. Other boat houses along the wharves escaped with a board or two torn off. The yachts "Katie Gray" and "Dauntless," both of which have laid in the water all winter, and got a shaken up by yesterday's shove, are badly damaged. They are filled with water and huge cakes of ice are thrown upon and around them.

Very fortunately the main body, of the ice and water found an outlet in the western channel, else the damage would have been far more serious. As it now is, there is but little more ice to come down and no further danger is anticipated.

AMELIASBURGH ITEMS.

Mrs. James Redner ran a narrow escape of being seriously injured a few days ago. While out for a drive her horse became frightened and ran away, throwing her from the cutter. She escaped uninjured, but the cutter was damaged considerably.

Quite a good deal of sickness prevails throughout the Township at present. Mrs A. C. Parks and Mrs. G. Roblin have been under the doctor's treatment for some time.

The people in this neighborhood enjoyed quite a treat on Friday and Saturday evenings last. The entertainment was furnished by a telephone, battery and talking machines. The workings of each of these instruments were made very plain. A boy was sent out doors with one wire of the telephone and carried on quite a conversation with those in the house. A great amount of interest was manifested in the battery. Hardly a person present but had his nerves strengthened. A good deal of fun was experienced by one gentleman getting his battery charged" pair of slippers. The talking machine, which is very simple in construction, repeats everything said to it distictly and in full. The operator said, to speak to it and not move it in any way, that it would repeat what was said to it after 20 years. It certainly is a very useful instrument to leave in the house when people go out. On their return, by turning a crank, they learn everything that has been said in their absence. Those who have a bad memory would profit much by owning one. They could tell their promises and engagements to the machine and turn them out whenever they were needed. We understand the proprietor of this interesting show intends exhibiting at Rednerville. The talking machine will not be much of a treat there; they have already a few in working order.

The ice is falling fast, but many will feel inclined to think it safe for some time yet, on account of its great thickness. This is a delusion, as it may be very poor and still measure a foot in thickness.

Those interested in the completion of the road through the woods adjoining the Marsh-road, turned out and drew gravel last week, throwing it in heaps convenient for spreading in the spring.

The "Mary Ethel," is being painted and will be ready at the breaking up of the ice.

It is rumored a few changes will take place among the officers in the Township when the Council assembles next. A tax upon dogs would be generally approved of here. Those having good dogs would not object paying a reasonable tax, and it would be the means of putting a great many curs out of the way. It is very often the case that the more the family is in need, the more dogs there are about the premises.

—The young men of Scarboro' had a debate recently on the question "Would annexation to the United States be injurious to Canada?" and the chairman decided in the affirmative.

—Captain Mainwaring and Mr. Thomas Boylan, the Globe's doubleheaded commissioners to investigate and report on the working of the Maine liquor law, start for the pine tree state in a day or two.

PORK AND BEANS FOR ONE.

A day or two ago a lady on a G. W. R. train after depositing numerous bundles in the rack overhead the seat, hung her umbrella on the cord connecting with the air-brakes. A newsboy passed through the car noticed the suspended gingham and politely informed the innocent owner that she must remove it. What's that string for if it ain't to hang things on?" inquired the old lady, as she dropped the umbrella into the seat. The boy answered in all earnestness, "It's to call a waiter when you're hungry," and passed on. Sometime after there was a vigorous pulling of the air-broke cord and the train came to a standstill. The conductor rushed up to the old lady and in a tone of amazement exclaimed, "What's the matter?" Bring me a plate of pork and beans," drawled the ancient female with the umbrella, not in the least aware that she had stopped the train. An explanation followed and the joking newsboy did not venture forth from the baggage car during the remainder of the trip.

SPORTING NOTES.

—Donald Dinnie and George Davidson, the famous Scotch athletes, are announced as contemplating a visit to America this summer.

—Friday, April 8th, has been definitely fixed as the day for the Oxford-Cambridge race in England. The odds are 1½ to 1 in favour of the Oxonians.

—The twenty-mile walk at Ottawa on Saturday night between Stone, of Toronto, and Jessie Morshan, of Montreal, resulted in a victory for the former, by one lap; time, three hours forty-five minutes.

—On Friday Courtney was asked if he would be willing to row Hanlan with a start of fifteen seconds. He replied, "I never thought of rowing with a start of fifteen seconds, but after I row my other matches I will pull Hanlan on Toronto Bay. I cannot row him for a large sum, as I will have to put up my own money." Courtney added that he could not pull him before the fall—not until September anyway and possibly latter.

SHIPMENT OF ORE.—The proprietors of the Mississippi iron mine shipped by rail yesterday, for Erie, Penn., over 100 tons of ore, of which there is a scarcity in that city.

FLOWERY.—Mr. James Vick says a man may be happy without a garden; he may have a home without a tree, or shrub, or flower; yet when the Creator prepared a home for man, made in his own image. He planted a garden, and in this pinced the noblest specimen of creative power to dress and to keep it, and there he remained during his life of innocence and happiness. And, in all parts of the civilized world, the refinement and innocence and happiness of the people may be measured by the flowers they cultivate. The love and care of flowers is one of the few pleasures that improve alike the head and the heart. It is a pleasure that brings no pain, a sweet without a snare.

RECENT EVENTS.

—Pressed hay is being shipped from Iroquois by the Grand Trunk at the rate of 100 tons per week.

—Small-pox has gained a foothold in New York city, and many people are dying from the loathsome disease.

—Forepaugh has received 600 photographs in answer to his offer of $10,000 for the prettiest woman in America.

—The members of the Methodist congregation at Devizes are boycotting their minister. They stuck the cushion of the pulpit seat full of pins with the points upwards.

—A blind peddler named Sparks, of Port Hope, is at Ottawa looking for his wife, who recently, during his absence, sold all their household effects, and is supposed to have fled to the capital.

—A large frog yesterday found its way to the water motor attached to the organ in the Metropolitan Church, Toronto, and stopped short one of Mr. Torrington's finest voluntaries Sunday.

—A pension of £400 was granted in 1790 by the British Parliament to the heirs and descendants of William Penn, in consideration of his meritorious services, and of the losses which his family sustained in consequence of the American war. It is now paid to Col. Wm. Stuart, a descendant.

THE LIGHT HOUSE.—The frame work of the light house was commenced this morning, the piers being finished yesterday.

ANOTHER CLAIM SETTLED.—The City Solicitor has settled the claim for damages brought by Frank Flynn against the city, by paying Mr. F., $70 in cash.

NOTICE.—These will be a meeting of the By-laws Committee of No. 1 Company, at their new rooms, Carman's Block, Wednesday evening, 23rd inst., at 7 o'clock.

A JUVENILE FIGHT.—A couple of youngsters, engaged in a fight on front-st. this morning, drew quite a crowd of people together. The smaller of the two vanquished his opponent.

ILL.—We regret to hear that Ald. Costello has been confined to his bed for several days from a severe illness. It is not, however, of a serious nature, and we hope soon to see him about again.

SOMETHING NEW.—A Toronto firm have recently invented a street scraper which is a great saving in labor, and does its work much better than it can be done by hand. They have offered to the city the use of one on trial, and their offer has been accepted.

THE ICE BRIDGE.—In many places on the bay the crossing is considered unsafe, as the ice is fast becoming honey-combed. To day a team driven by Mr. W. F. Weese broke through about a mile and a half above Redmerville, but were got out without much difficulty.

THE FERRY LANDING.—The Council have three places under consideration at which to have the Prince Edward ferry land. These places are Bushy Island the foot of Wharf Street, and Mill Island. If at the latter place connection with the main land would be made by a roadway.

KICKED BY A HORSE.—On Monday afternoon, 14th inst., a little daughter of Mr. James Broad, farmer, living near Massassaga Point, was kicked by a horse on her left side, causing serious internal injuries. She remained insensible for some time, and her life was despaired of. Dr. Willson was called in, and under his treatment the child is considered out of danger.

THE LATEST.—In New York and other large cities, a custom has been in vogue among ladies to carry about their persons a small but peculiar whistle, by means of which they convey to their better halves when going into or out of places they should not visit, notice that they are seen. The idea is a good one, and if the ladies of this city should adopt this plan wouldn't there be a good deal of dodging?

UNSEATED.—Yesterday at Picton Mr. S. B. Burdett, of this city, on behalf of the relator, Mr. Sprague, succeeded in unseating Mr. Knox, Warden of Prince Edward. The case was laid before Judge Jellett. The grounds upon which the protest was made were that the election, which took place by ballot was illegal, the respondent having received eight out of seventeen votes. A new election of Warden was ordered by the learned Judge. Mr. H. H. Allison appeared on behalf of the respondent.

A CORRECTION.—The report of the drowning of Mr. Earle's dog, that appeared in the ONTARIO yesterday, was slightly misleading, in making it appear that Mr. Earle sent the dog into the water himself. Several boys, knowing the animal's passion for the water, coaxed him away from his master by making motions to throw something into the river. Mr. Earle tried to prevent the dog from going, and repeatedly asked the boys to desist, but they seemed to enjoy their success, and threw a piece of wood out into the current. Mr. Earle hurried after the brute, which was bounding towards the river, but arrived upon the bank in time to see him plunge into the water. As stated yesterday the swift current caught him and carried him beneath the solid ice. The dog was a present to Mr. E.' boy baby, and his former master had refused $60 for him. The noble brute was a great favorite, being very docile and intelligent.

TOO VENTURESOME BY HALF. — This morning a young disciple of Blackstock and a vendor of sewing machines were among the crowd at the lower end of Front Street who were viewing the ice as it ploughed its way into the harbor. As soon as it had become settled, the limb-of-the-law proposed to his swelfish companion a trip over the mountains of ice for the purpose of inspecting the yachts "Katie Gray" and "Dauntless." No sooner said than away they went, following a crowd of wharf rats. The law clerk skipped as nimbly over the cakes as though he had been brought up to river driving, but his taller companion, in an unguarded moment stepped into a hole and down he went. The former, startled by loud yells, turned around and the woeful sight of the sewing machine man with silk hat supported upon his upraised hair, upon the back of his head, and clinging for dear life to a huge boulder of ice was observed. He hastened to his assistance and dragged him out a wetter but wiser man. They returned to their hotel where pledges of secrecy were given and received over a glass of good lager.

Museo et Proficio.—The public have been so often deceived by representations made through the advertising columns, that if an announcement is made offering unusual inducements, it is considered at once as a "blow" and no further attention paid to it. I believe it pays to advertise providing the truth is told. If the advertiser is not able to carry out the inducements offered to the public it is but a waste of money and printer's ink. I have this season endeavored to secure goods suitable for a first-class trade and I think an examination will bear me out in asserting that I have a stock of hats for style, finish and price second to none in the Province. I have imported this spring direct from two of the largest hat dealers in the States, (Clarke Bros., New York, and John B. Stetson & Co. Philadelphia) all the new American styles in soft and stiff hats. I have the spring styles in silk and pull overs hats made expressly for my trade.

Ald. Dickson gave notice that he will move to inquire in what way the solicitor arrived at his decision in the recent claims for damages.

Ald. Ostrom gave notice of motion in re the poor of the city.

Ald. Farley came in.

Ald. Vandusen gave notice for the appointment of a Pound-keeper in Murney Ward.

BY-LAWS.

Ald. Diamond introduced a By-law for the appointment of Health Officers.

MOTIONS.

Moved by Ald. Niles, seconded by Ald. Frost, that the Ferry Committee ascertain if it is possible to have the ferry land at Mill Island.—Carried.

Moved by Ald. Niles that the Mayor communicate with the Manager of the Grand Trunk Railway asking that the station accommodation here be improved.—Carried.

Ald. Ostrom moved that the Tax Collector be authorized to stay proceedings for the collection of taxes from poor families unable to pay.

Moved by Ald. Diamond, seconded by Ald. McIninch, that the expenditures of recent delegations be laid before the Council.

Ald. Dickson moved that the Police Commissioners be asked to regulate the number and pay of the police force by the By-law that recently passed the Council. He quoted statistics showing that the force of this city was much larger than that of other cities of similar size.

Ald. Diamond thought that it was child's play for the Council to ask the Commissioners to observe their by-law in preference to the Act passed by the Ontario Legislature.

Ald. Farley objected to the resolution.

Ald. Starling thought that there was no harm in asking the Commissioners to be guided by the by-law.

The matter was allowed to drop.

On motion the deputation of the Women's Christian Association present were called on to explain their mission.

Ald. Ostrom—They do not wish to make any remarks, further than see that their grant of $300 is passed.

Ald. Dickson moved, seconded by Ald. St. Charles that the Council go into Committee of the Whole on Ways and Means.—Carried.

WAYS AND MEANS.

Ald. Dunnet in the chair.

The report of the Finance Committee was read.

To the clause of the report relating to the grant of $300 to the W. C. A., Ald. Diamond moved in amendment, seconded by Ald. McInnich, that it be struck out, and be left in abeyance until the estimates are brought down.

Ald. Diamond spoke at some length in support of his amendment, showing that the expenditure under this head was rapidly increasing of late years. He also objected to the W. C. A. co-operating with the Chairman of the Poor & Sanitary Committee in furnishing the poor with support out of the city's funds.

Ald. Ostrom replied to Ald. Diomond. He quoted statistics to show that the expenditure had increased no small amount since the appointment of a Poor Inspector. He thought that the proper course for expending the city's funds for supporting the poor was through the Women's Christian Association. They knew better than any other persons who are our deserving poor. This Association, he, said, were doing a good work, and should receive encouragement from the Council rather than discouragement.

Ald. Petrie retorted that he was somewhat deceived in the present Chairman of Poor and Sanitary. He thought he would have exceeded the expenditure rather than decrease it. He spoke at some length in favor of granting the $300.

Ald. Holden favored the grant.

Ald. Dickson was in favor of the report of the Finance Committee. He thought that heretofore the management of the Poor & Sanitary Committee was to make paupers rather than diminish them. He concluded a neat little speech in favor of having the W. C. A. manage the city appropriation for the maintenance of our poor.

Ald. Vandusen thought that the lengthy discussion that had just been entered into was out of place. It must necessarily come before the Poor & Sanitary Committee, and when their report is submitted, a discussion of the co-operation of the two bodies would then be in order. The question to decide now is, will we grant the $300.

Ald. Henderson came in.

Ald. Niles spoke in favor of the grant.

Ald. McInnich moved that Mr. Ross be heard.

Ald. Vandusen—Mr. Ross will be heard at the proper time.

Ald. Henderson favored the grant of $300 to this Association free of any control of the Poor and Sanitary Committee. He would bring a suggestion upon the council in reference to the better management of the Poor and Sanitary funds at some future time.

The amendment to the grant was lost.

Ald. Diamond moved that Mr. Ross be heard.

Ald. Frost made reference to some remarks of Ald Diamond's in regard to private charity, in which he blamed the W. C. A. for assisting parties who were not deserving of charity. He thought it ungentlemanly of Ald. Diamond to make this reference.

Ald. Diamond's motion was lost.

Ald. St. Charles—I move Mr. Schuster be heard.

An amendment was passed that both Mr. Ross and Mr. Schuster be heard.

Mr. Ross, Poor Inspector, said he wished to correct a statement that had been made in reference to the expenditure increasing since he became Inspector. This he denied, and quoted statistics in proof of his assertion. He numerated several persons and families that were receiving aid from the city. He thought the report of the Finance Committee was, good one. By having the P. and S. Committee, and W. C. A. co-operate they would have before them a detailed statement of those who receive support from the city, and would be able to guage by that how the money shall be expended, and how much there would be required each week.

Ald. Diamond—It is true that the Treasurer pays cash on orders issued by the Chairman of Poor and Sanitary?

Mr. Ross—I believe it is.

Ald. Henderson—I have been told that such is the case. If it is, it should be stopped.

Ald. Ostrom explained that when this was done it was only in cases of emergency and when it was previously sanctioned by the Committee. He said that if they had not confidence in the Chairman of Poor and Sanitary, they should discharge him.

Mr. Schuster was heard. He said he was acquainted with parties who would rather accept work than support. If the Council would assist him in this matter he thought there could be a nominal saving effected.

The clause of the report of the Finance Committee relating to the co-operation of the W. C. A. and the P. and S. was sustained.

That clause relative to the reduction of Geo. E. J. Hanwell's taxes in 1879, was struck out.

The balance of the report was received and adopted.

Committee rose and reported, report adopted.

Ald. Dickson moved that the time be extended (now eleven) for two hours.—Carried.

Committee resumed.

The reports of several of the Committees were considered and adopted.

On motion Mr. Stephen White was heard on behalf of Messrs. Penniek & Son, as to the purchase of a street scraper.

Ald. Lingham moved that the offer of Mr. White be accepted.—Carried.

Ald. St. Charles moved, seconded by Ald. Niles, that the account of Miles E. Rankin, presented by his Assignee, Mr. M. B. Koblin, amounting to $21.21 be paid.—Referred to Finance Committee.

The Committee rose and reported. Received and adopted.

Ald. Henderson asked that he be allowed to submit the resolution, of which he gave notice at last meeting, in re a better water supply for domestic and fire purposes.

There being no objection, he moved that the following Aldermen be a committee to devise a scheme for supplying the water:—The Mayor, Ald. St. Charles, McIninch, Holden, Jellett, Frost, Smith, Starling, Petrie, Diamond and the mover, they to report at an early day to the Council.—Carried.

Moved by Ald. Holden, seconded by Ald Dunnet, that the Ferry Committee consider the propriety of locating the ferry at Bush Island.—Carried.

Ald. Dickson's motion relative to the police was carried.

Ald. Petrie moved that the clerk furnish the Council with the number of dogs registered and revenue from this source since 1875 to 1880.—Carried.

The Mayor called the attention of the Council to the fact that a committee should be appointed to confer with that of the County Council in reference to Administration of Justice Accounts.

In the absence of the Chairman of Finance, the matter was left in abeyance at present.

Ald. Dickson moved that the Treasurer submit a statement of the uncollected taxes during the years from 1875 to 1878.—Carried.

BY LAWS.

Council went into Committee on By-laws, Ald. Niles in the chair.

Ald. Diamond submitted a by-law for the appointment of Health Officers, naming the following gentlemen: Dr. Carlett, Jas. Ross and Ald. Jas. Smith, the former to receive a salary of $100.

The By-law was read a second and third time, and numbered 472.

Council adjourned.

THE G. T. R.—The Manager of the Grand Trunk Railway is to be asked, on behalf of the city, to give us increased station accommodation here. The move is one in the right direction, and we trust it will result in the building such a station here as the importance of the place deserves.

UNSURPASSED.—The old and well known remedy "Holden's Expectorant" (for coughs and colds) is still unsurpassed. More than 20 years it has now been in use and it still continues popular, while scores of medicines for the same purpose have flourished for a year or so and are forgotten. If you have a cough or a cold call at Geen's Drugstore and procure a bottle.

GARDEN SEEDS.—For good and reliable garden and field seeds go to Geen's Drug-store.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is always a great comfort, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the roots are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and from producing premature baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous, and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

A Lecture to Young Men ON THE LOSS OF

We have recently published a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage etc., resulting from excesses.

Price, a sealed envelope, only 6 cts. or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hand of every youth and every man in the land.

Address, The CULVERWELL MEDICAL Co. 41 ANN ST. N Y.

Post Office Box 4586

KNOW THYSELF.

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; or, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. The weak, the nervous, the dyspeptic, never valid nor invalid, suffering from fullness, remittent, and intermittent fever, or are surely relieved by it from the malarial scourge. Its taste is agreeable, its ingredients are the best that is obtainable. The Quinine Wine, this tasteless, colorless, and delicate sherry which imparts to it an agreeable wine flavor, is eminently pure, and retains the diffusible principle of the cinchona in its fine medicinal properties. The nervous and dyspeptic, and convalescent should take it only during meals, as it is well known, are often troubled with a degree of melancholy which in many cases amounts to the stage of actual hypochondria. As the stomach regains its tone and the nervous power their proper energy, through the action of this Quinine Wine, this failing gradually wears off, and cheerfulness resumes its sway. Persons who are overworking after an exhausting disease, should take it in properly regulated doses, as it is master ally assists, thus taken, the restoration of vigor, which, without its aid might be seriously slow. Fever and ague and bilious remittent sufferers should take it only during the absence of the feverish symptoms. Lean and nervous, whose digestion is out of order, gain bodily substance as well as strength by its use. DAILY ONTARIO

The Leavenworth Case :

A LAWYER'S STORY.

BY ANNA KATHARINE GREEN.

The secretary folded his arms, whether to hide a certain trembla that had seized him or by that simple action to gain time for a moment's further thought, I could not determine. 'Sir,' he replied at last then determine. 'Sir,' he replied at length, 'I cannot answer yes or no to that question. In all probability I was the question. In all probability I was the last to see him, but in a house as large as this I cannot be sure of even so simple a fact as that.' Then observing the unsatisfied look on the faces around added slowly, fied look on the faces around added slowly, 'It is my business to see him late.'

'Your business, oh, as his secretary, I suppose?'

He gravely nodded.

'Mr. Harwell,' the coroner went on, 'the office of private secretary in this country is not a common one. Will you explain to us what your duties were in that capacity; in short, what use Mr. Leavenworth had for such an assistant and how he employed you?'

'Certainly. Mr. Leavenworth was, as you perhaps know, a man of great wealth. Connected with various societies, religious institutions, etc. besides being known far and near as a giving man, he was accustomed every day of his life to receive numerous letters, begging and otherwise, which it was my business to open and answer. His private correspondence always bearing a mark upon it which distinguished it from the rest. But this was not all I was expected to do. Having in his early life been engaged in the tea trade, he had made more than one voyage to China, and was consequently much interested in the question of international communication between that country and our own. Thinking that in his various visits there he had learned much which if known to the American people would conduce to our better understanding of the nation, its peculiarities, and the best manner of dealing with it, he has been engaged for some time in writing a book on the subject which same it has been my business for the last eight months to assist him in preparing by writing at his dictation, three hours out of every twenty-four, the last hour being commonly taken from the evening, say from half-past nine to half-past ten; Mr. Leavenworth being a methodical man was accustomed to regulate his own life and that of those about him, with almost mathematical precision.'

'You say that you were accustomed to write at his dictation evenings? Did you do this as usual last evening?'

'I did, sir.'

'What can you tell us of his manner and appearance at the time. Were they in any way unusual?'

A frown crossed the secretary's brow.

'As he probably had no premonition of his doom, how should there have been any change in his manner?'

This giving the coroner an opportunity to revenge himself for his discomforture of a moment before, he said somewhat severely,

'It is the business of a witness to answer questions, not to put them.'

The secretary flushed and the account stood even.

'Very well then, sir; if Mr. Leavenworth felt any forebodings of his end, he did not reveal them to me. On the contrary, he seemed to be more absorbed in his work than usual. One of the last words he said to me was, "In a month we will have this book in press, eh, Trueman?" I remember this particularly, as I was filling his wine-glass at the time. He always drank one glass of wine before retiring, it being my duty to bring the decanter of sherry from the closet the last thing before leaving him. I was standing with my hand on the knob of the hall door, but advanced as he said this and replied, "I hope so indeed, Mr. Leavenworth." Then join me in drinking a glass of sherry," he cried, motioning me to procure another glass from the closet. I did so and his decanter and the wine with his own hand. I am not especially fond of sherry, but the occasion was a pleasant one and I drained my glass. My manner being slightly ashamed of doing so, for Mr. Leavenworth set his own down half full. It was full when we found him this morning.'

Do what he would, and being a reserved man, he appeared anxious to control his emotion, the horror of his first shock seemed to overwhelm him here. Pulling his handkerchief from his pocket he wiped his forehead. 'Gentlemen, that is the last action of Mr. Leavenworth I ever saw. As he set the glass down on the table I said good-night and left the room.'

The coroner, with a characteristic impertinousness to all expressions of emotions, leaned back and surveyed the young man with a scrutinizing glance. 'And where did you go then?' he asked

'To my own room.'

'Did you meet any one on the way?'

'No, sir.'

'Hear or see anything unusual?'

The secretary's voice fell a trifle. 'No, sir.'

'Mr. Harwell, think again. Are you ready to swear that you neither met anybody, heard anybody nor saw anything which lingers yet in your memory as unusual?'

His face grew quite distressed. Twice he opened his lips to speak, and as often closed them without doing so. At last with an effort he replied.

'I saw one thing, a little thing, too slight to mention, but it was unusual, and I could not help thinking of it when you spoke.'

'What was it?'

'Only a door half open.'

'Whose door?'

'Miss Eleanore Leavenworth's.' His voice was almost a whisper now.

'Where were you when you observed this fact?'

'I cannot say exactly. Probably at my own door, as I did not stop on the way. If this frightful occurrence had not taken place I should never have thought of it again.'

'When you went into your room did you close your door?'

'I did, sir.'

'How soon all you retire?'

'Immediately.'

'Did you lie or nothing before you fell asleep?'

Again that indefinable hesitation.

'Heavy nothing.'

'Not a footstep in the hall?'

'I might have heard a footstep.'

'Did you?'

'I cannot swear I did.'

'Do you think you did?'

'Yes, I think I did. To tell the whole truth, I remember hearing, just as I was falling into a doze, a rustle and a footstep in the hall, but it made no impression upon me and I dropped asleep.'

'Well?'

An Immense Area of Railroad and Government Lands, of great fertility, within easy reach of permanent market, at extremely low prices, is now offered for sale in Eastern Oregon and Eastern Washington Territory.

These lands form part of the great Grain Belt of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 250 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded for all parts of the world.

MARRIAGE MADE EASY.

THE OLD SCOTCH SYSTEM ESTABISHED IN NEW YORK STATE.

Marriage is easy of accomplishment in New York State. In a recent judgment Chief Justice Folger, of the State Court of Appeal, defined the marriage contract as follows: "By the law of this state a man and woman who are competent to marry each other, without going before a minister or magistrate, without any form of ceremony, religious and with no record evidence of the act kept, and merely by words of present contract between them, may take upon themselves the relation of husband and wife, and be bound to themselves, to the state and society, as such; and if, after that, that marriage is denied, proof of actual cohabitation as husband and wife, acknowledgment and recognition of each other to friends and acquaintances and the public as such, and the general reputation thereof, will enable a court to presume that there was in the beginning an actual bona fide marriage." So that, according to New York law, all a man and woman have to do is to agree to live man and wife, and the deed is done—they are joined in marriage, and if they purchase for all time. Niagara Falls will become an excellent second edition of Gretna Green.

The best receipt for going through life in a commendable way is to feel that every body, no matter how rich or how poor, needs all the kindness that can be extended from others in the world. Let us remember this great truth, and commence with those around us. Let the poor and needy, and those who do not take the daily or weekly newspaper, be kindly informed, if in sickness, whether it be form coughs, lung disease, asthma, or consumption, that by the use of R. H. Downs' Vegetable Balsamic Elixir they can be cured. Keep not the good news to ourselves, but spread the sunshine of hope around.

A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Neglect speedily follows in an incurable lung disease or consumption. BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritations, giving relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the throat troubles which Singers and public speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's Bronchial Troches have been recommended by physicians, and always given satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well merited rank among the staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25c a box everywhere.

A BAPTIST MINISTER'S EXPERIENCE

I am a Baptist Minister and before I even thought of being a clergyman graduated in medicine but left a lucrative practice for my present profession. 46 years ago, I was for many years a sufferer from dyspepsy, "Thomas Eclectric Oil cured me," I was also troubled with hoarseness and Thomas Eclectric Oil always relieved me. My wife and child has Diphtheria, and "Thomas Eclectric Oil cured them" and it taken in time it will cure seven times out of ten. I can confidently say it is a cure for the most obstinate Cold, or Cough and if any one will take a small teaspoon, and half fill it with the Oil and then place of the spoon into the head by sniffing as hard as they can until the Oil falls over into the throat and practice this twice a week, I don't care how offensive their hea dmay be, it will clean it out and cure their Catarrh. For Deafness and Earache it has done wonders to my certain knowledge. It is the only medicine dubbed patent medicine that I have ever taken in my practice and I am overconscious to see it in every place, for I tell you that I would not be without it in my house for any price and consider, I am not suffering with a pain like Rheumatism in my right limb and noth relieves me like Thomas Eclectric Oil.

Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam is composed of the most healing balsams and gums. The Balsams, which enter into its composition, were used by the natives when America was first discovered, and are combined with other vegetable tonics, so blended together, that it is a specific for all affections of the throat and lungs. Thousands of bottles are used annually, and it is considered one of the standard preparations of the day.
Dr. Harris, of Middlebury, Vt., says: "I had been troubled with Bronchitis for two years, so affecting the organs of speech that I could not speak aloud for six months. I had with it a severe cough and cold night sweats. I took two bottles of Allen's Lung Balsam and am entirely cured."
Faded Complexions, who look wan and hands of ladies there are none, to sad and faded, while yet in early bloom when Hagyard's Sarsaparilla and pure blood is the means of restoring your energy, brightening your eyes, sweetening your breath, and giving you sound general health.
A Word of Warning. To protect the public, and prevent them from being imposed upon by the worthless counterfeits and imitations of our Murray & Lanman's Florida Water, we have prepared paper in which the words "Lanman & Kemp, New York," appear in open letters when a leaf of the little pamphlet is held up to the light; and whenever Florida Water is offered for sale wrapped in a pamphlet that does not have this water-mark or stamp in it, then it is counterfeit, and should be rejected.
In cases of Chronic disease which doctors have failed to cure, Burdock Blood Bitters will achieved its greatest triumph. All diseases of the Blood, Liver and Kidneys, Scrofula, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, Rheumatism, Piles, Female Complaints and all forms of lost Vitality are promptly cured by this great renovating Tonic. Trial bottles only cent 10 Cents.
It al ways gives us pleasure to draw attention to articles which are deserving of public patronage. Probably no article ever offered to the public has met with the same success as Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum. Thousands of families in the Dominion keep it in their homes as a standard Cough Remedy. The sale of this article has assumed enormous proportions. Our advice to the public at large is to try its virtues if they should at any time unfortunately contract either Coughs or Colds. It is sold by all chemists.
BE WISE.—Too often a cold or slight cough is considered a very ordinary, trifling affair, but as well left to go as it may, and home neglected systematically neglected until a simple curable affection is converted into a serious pulmonary disease. The more prudent, aware that a cough or cold should never be trified with, promptly use "Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers," which have attained their reputation for over twenty years. They are always effiendous, and exert a most beneficial influence on all the bronchial and pulmonary organs. Sold by all druggists and country merchants at 25 cents a box.

R. V. PIERCE:
Dear Sir—I feel that I should be neglecting my duty were I to fail in giving my testimony to the value of your medicines. For years I have been a great sufferer from a complication of chronic diseases which our physicians treated in vain. I am now using your Favorite Prescription and find myself almost well. Your medicines have done me more good than anything I have ever used.
I remain, gratefully yours,
August 27, 1877.
WM. M. GILES, Esq.—Dear Sir: I have been suffering for the past four months with a terrible attack of rheumatism in my left side and I could not move; I thought I should never get well, as I had used most every known remedy. By chance I got hold of one of your circulars, and thought I would try it—not having any faith in it, or anything else—but what was my astonishment after one application, I got instant relief, and now, after using it one week, I am nearly well. I have bought one dozen bottles of it, and never intend to be without it. I have also used it with great benefit on protruding piles. I shall try to tell all of the people in this section about your remedy, but most of them know of it already, and need to come to see me when I could not move in bed. You will please to excuse this writing, as it is my first effort in four months. Yours I do not intende on your time, but, my dear sir, I owe you a debt of gratitude which I can never repay. Wishing you every success in the introduction of your medicine, I am, dear sir,
Yours sincerely,

JAMES I. ROLOWS, Esq.
DEAR SIR,—I have deferred writing to you are this that I might be able to give an account of the effect of your medicine. I can now safely say that it is working well. I had not been tried as there can be no doubt that my little girl is in a fair way of recovery, and you must bear with me, this time was a very severe one and I do honestly believe that had I not given it to her, she would have been dead ere this, now she says, hearty and full of play. Fits are only partial and the action of the heart is less terrible: I am, sir yours very respectfully.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

The city of New York is filled with sick people, principally children. The doctors people, principally children. The doctors say the streets are the cause. This may be a hint for us.

King Alfonso is uneasy and unhappy. He fears the designs of fanatical Republicans. His ministers do not attach so much importance to what transpires of an objectionable nature.

The present firement of the White House at Washington was appointed to his office under President Fillmore's Administration, and like Massachusetts Governor he stands! Who will now say that tenure of office in the United States is uncertain.

Judge Squier, of Huron County, has been charged with drunkenness and other faults, and a Commissioner has been investigating these charges. If he is convicted and dismissed, proceedings are to be taken against six other County Judges, on similar charges.

—France assisted the United States in gaining her independence, and she will also assist in the celebration of the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown. Among the French notabilities who will be specially invited, Oscar Lafayette and his family, descendants of the famous Gen. Lafayette, who was with Washington, will be prominent.

The new prohibition law of Kansas absolutely forbids the use of wine in the Sacrement, the punishment upon ministers who violate it being very severe. Last Sunday the Rev. Dr. Beatty, rector of the Episcopal Church at Lawrence administered the Sacrament as usual, regardless of the consequences. He said: "We are willing to render unto Cesar the things which are Cesar's, but we will still give to God the things that are His. I say, as did Peter, Judge ye whether we should obey men rather than God." Of one thing you may be assured, we shall never recognize for a moment the attempts of human legislation to destroy the great sacrament of the Christian church.".

The project for holding a World's fair at New York in 1883 will probably collapse. Gen. Grant was made Chairman of the Commission, to give the affair as much social eclat as possible, but resigns because sufficient funds are not subscribed to ensure a successful inauguration. It will be Philadelphia's chance to laugh at her rival now.

An exchange refers to our criticisms of Senator Flint's figures, anent the divisions on the Almon Amendment to the Scott Act, and remarks:—

He argues if these three Reform Senators had voted with the minority, the Almon amendment would, therefore, be thrown out. Senator Flint, Conservative, voted with the majority. We like his voting better than his logic.

Protection in the United States is undoubtedly making the monopolists rich, but the laboring class do not seem to benefit much by its operations. At Fall River and other large manufacturing centres the workmen are discontented and threatening strikes. They declare the scale of wages allowed them is disproportionately low, and that while they have to pay more for goods that could be imported at a small cost, did not the tariff prohibit such importation, the remuneration they receive for labor performed is being decreased.

Sir John Macdonald facetiously remarked, when reading to the House on Monday telegrams from constituencies in Quebec where elections were held on Saturday, that the Government in order to rule must be strong. He can be recklessly happy now, with such a large majority at his back; but Ontario has a bone to pick with him at the next general election, when not only the tariff anomalies and Syndicate surrender, but the robbery of her territory, in settling the Manitoba boundary, must be taken into consideration.

In a recent address at Toronto Mr. Charles Durand said:

I am not a Socialist in any respect. I believe in the rights of property—in respecting vested rights—in upholding well established laws; but I claim I believe in protecting the people against the wicked, grasping combinations of capitalists, who raise the prices of wheat, bread, oil, food, coal, railway charges, freights, and who pocket the fruits of poor men's toil, and oppress children who cry for reasonable prices. I believe that all Governments should lay upon such combinations the iron hand of the law and stop them. I believe it is the right of Parliament of 1883-4, if they can find wicked combinations fostered away openings by corrupt legislation, popular rights—landed rights—great tracts of country—granting unheard of privileges to a foreign Company, to step in and annul such Acts.

The total population of the United States is put down by statistics from the State Department at 50,152,866. Of this number, 42,404,877 are white, and 9,677,151 colored. The statistics show that the blacks increased more rapidly than the whites. This fact induces the New York Tribune to remark:—

"The theory which used to be so fashionable in old times among people who were anxious to shirk the moral responsibilities of the slavery question, that the blacks would die off and the slavery question would disappear with them—was not verified then, and is far from likely to be verified now. The negroes will hardly grow so fast in number that they will rise up and possess the land, but it is plain that they will continue to hold their share of it.

Mr. Blaine, the new Secretary of State, told a friend the other day that for more than a week he has been able to do little else than read applications for office. When the friend took his leave of the Secretary, he found a Western member of Congress standing on the steps of his office wiping the perspiration from his brow and looking desperate. Being interrogated as to his trouble the member replied:—

"Partly in the language of the prayer book let me exclaim: From sudden death and from a reelection to Congress good Lord deliver me!" I got up this morning and found thirty-eight letters in my mail. Thirty-three of these were applications for office. They want anything, from the Russian Mission down to a watchman's place in the Department. One colored man in the Department of Agriculture is working in the Treasury Department to secure him a position as stable-boy to take care of a gentleman's horse."

The United States is a great country, but it produces nothing bigger than the national appetite for office.

During the Mackenzie Administration the Tories made the welkin ring with their shouts of extravagance in the expenditure of the public funds. They insisted that the outlay was not in proportion to the requirements of the country, and hence official corruption, incapacity, &c. were freely charged. The following figures show the yearly expenditure since Confederation, and also how much economy has been practised since the Tories got back into power.

CHEAP MONEY AND TRAMPS.

The Montreal Witness disapproved of the terms of the Syndicate contract, and did not hesitate to express its disapproval ably and forcibly. It happens that the Witness has a large circulation among Conservatives, and a number of these have refused to renew their subscriptions, alleging dissatisfaction with the articles on the Syndicate. In response to an invitation by the editor for objections duly formulated, a number of letters have been received, some of which appear in the Witness. We make a short extract from one:

In regard to protection, I am not going to say much about it, but there is one thing: Now money is plenty and interest low, and the beggars that used to travel the roads in dozens are all gone—at least only one called at my door last year; but when Mr. Mackenzie was in power there was as many as three at my doors at one time begging for something to eat, or work if he could get it.

We admit that money is plenty and can be had at a low rate of interest, but is this what the promoters of the N.P. promised? The main object of a protective tariff, we were told three years ago, was to encourage home manufactures, and keep Canada for the Canadians. Capitalists, instead of investing their means in manufacturing industries of any kind, prefer to let it go begging in the loan market for a very small percentage of profit. They have no confidence in the N. P. as a promoter and protector of home industries. We do not think that cheap money is a safe sign of national prosperity.

There may be less tramps on the road now than when Mr. Mackenzie was in power, but the reason is evident enough, without crediting the N. P. with anything. Then the depression in the United States was at its height, and as a consequence thousands of the destitute class of that country crossed the border in search of employment and food. The same state of affairs existed south of the line, only on a much more extensive scale. Whole armies of beggars infested the highways and carried consternation into many neighborhoods. The return of better times has lessened the tramp nuisance in the States, and consequently here. Political prejudice will lead some people into very foolish and inconsistent positions.

PERSONALS.

—Sara Bernhardt has five different ways of dying.

—Hon. A. Mackenzie is confined to his house owing to a feverish cold.

—Princess Louise has been greatly enjoying her visit in Paris. She likes its liveliness and its art treasures. She has been regretting that the fine arts are so poorly developed in Canada.

—The Princess of Wales has been so pleased with Mr. Burnand's new play, Ici, telling the esthetic craze, that she requested to have a copy to read—the "prompt" if she could get no other. So, as the play isn't printed, a special copy was made for her.

—Vennor seems to be recognized at last as the champion long distance weather prognosticator in the United States. A great deal of ridicule has been hurled at him, for occasional failures, but he has again in his storm predictions for Sunday and Monday, carried off the honors and won over his critics.

—Hon. Mr. Blake will be entertained at dinner by the Young Men's Reform Club of Montreal on the 29th. inst. One of the reasons for meeting at so early a date after the prorogation of the House is a desire on the part of many who have recently joined the ranks of the Reform Club to become personally acquainted with the leader of the Opposition.

—President Garfield, at his reception the other day gave the most vigorous handshaking to an elderly, plainly-dressed motherly-looking woman wearing a grey woolen shall and an old-time bonnet, innocent of feather or flower. She said but a few words, and was evidently a stranger; but perhaps the honest face and almost homespun attire spoke to his heart, for his face beamed with the kindest of smiles and he received the heartiest greeting of any one.

THE NIHILISTS' CREED.

What the Russian Socialists Believe and Demand.

The "Executive Committee of St. Petersburg" has published in the Narodnaya Volya a code of the Nihilists, of which the following is a copy:—

A. We are Socialists and champions of the people. We hold that Socialism alone can insure to humanity the blessings of liberty equality, and fraternity. We hold that the will of the people can alone sanction and remove the social reforms we contemplate. No idea or social institution can [illegible] it is impossible to impose on the people B. In this paragraph the miserly and sufferings of the Russian working class, resulting from exorbitant taxation and arbitrary administration are exposed.]

C—1. We hold, therefore, the overthrow of the present Government to be our first and foremost duty. By this revolution our nation shall attain—1, the faculty of an independent development of all its forces, according to its own will and conloms; 2, the possibility of the further growth of the Socialistic institutions, forming a part of our national life, such as the artel (workmen associations), the obschtchina (land commune), etc.

2. We hold that the will of the people may be clearly expressed in a national assembly, elected by universal suffrage, which, though not by any means an ideal form of expression is nevertheless the only one possible under the present circumstances.

3. It is, therefore, our intention to take the State power from the hands of the present Government and confer it on a national assembly, which is to decide as to the future constitutitution of our country.

D.—Therefore we demand:

1. A regular representative Assembly elected by universal suffrage.

2. A full local self-government of all provinces, districts, and townships.

3. The village commune an independant, economical, and administrative unity.

4. The land to be declared State property.

5. A system of measures aiming at the transmission of all factories and workshops to co-operative associations among workingmen.

6. Full liberty of conscience, of speech, of the press, of associations and meetings.

7. Universal suffrage, without limitation as to class or property.

8. Abolition of the standing army, and institution of a national militia.

E.—In view of the above stated principles our action comprehends:—

1. Propaganda and agitation. Our propaganda expresses to diffuse among all classes of our people the idea of a democratic political revolution as the only means for attaining a better social condition.

2. Destructive and terroristic action. Our terroristic action consists in the destruction of the most pernicious agents of the government, of spies, agents of the third section, etc. The purpose of these violent acts is to rob the Government of the Czar of its prestige in the eyes of the people, to show the latter the possibility of a struggle with the Government, and to foment thus the revolutionary spirit in the ranks of the people.

3. Organization of secret societies.

4. Secret agencies in the ministries, in the army, in society, and so forth, have been instituted in all parts of the empire. New agencies are yet to be opened.

5. Organization and outbreak of the revolution. The people being oppressed and the Government yet too strong, the party must take upon itself the initiative of the revolutionary outbreak. When and how, can, of course, not be published.

Rather Warm.—The hottest climate in the world probably occurs in the desert interior of Australia. Captain Sturt hung a thermometer on a tree, sheltered both from the sun and the wind. It was graduated to 127 degrees Fahrenheit, yet so great was the heat of the air that the mercury rose till it burst the tube, and the temperature must have thus been at least 128 degrees, apparently the highest ever recorded in any part of the world. Nevertheless, in the Southern mountains and table lands three feet of snow sometimes fall in a day.

A Dutiful Son.—President Garfield is quoted by The Cleveland Leader as saying that for twenty years after her husband died his mother scarcely ever had the comforts much less the luxuries of life. "And now," added the President, "it has been my study to promote, her happiness and make up for the privation she suffered during my boyhood. She has the best room in my house, and there is nothing she wants but what she always has. Whenever I go to Mentor she always accompanies me. When I return to Washington she always comes back with me. Whenever she wishes to go to New-Hampshire to visit her relatives she goes and I always go with her. In that manner I am trying to make up to her what she was deprived of during the days of her sore poverty."

—The Irish Arms Bill has become law.

—The Prefect of St. Petersburg has been suspended, because he failed to unravel the fatal plot of the Nihilists.

—A twelve-year-old boy named Bolston, belonging to Eldon township, committed suicide by hanging on Saturday. No reason can be assigned for his act.

—Many more arrests of Nihilists are reported from St. Petersburg, and in connection therewith the discovery of money and store of dynamite.

A HIGH EULOGIUM.

Col. Ingersoll, in his speech of congratulation to Robert T. Lincoln, when the latter was visited recently by a delegation of Illinois citizens in Washington, said that "Abraham Lincoln was the most essentially the greatest man America had ever produced, and the greatest and grandest man of the age. He had held more hearts in the hollow of his hand than any other in the world's great philanthropists and deliverers, and his son was canopied by the most sacred recollections. He could not fail to be otherwise than worthy of his lineage."

In connection with this we may remark that there is a pleasant coincidence recorded in Washington that just one hundred years ago the first Secretary of War was appointed, and that that Secretary, like the present one, bore the name of "Lincoln." General Benjamin Lincoln's portrait hangs upon the walls of the Department, and Robert Lincoln's is to be placed beside it.

MARINE NOTES.

—The water is unusually low at Cleveland.

—Captains crossing Lake Michigan report the ice twenty-five miles wide.

—The new steamship Iron Duke was launched at the Detroit dry-dock yesterday.

—The freight on corn and wheat at Toledo the coming season is expected to be 7½ and 8 cents respectively. That's encouraging.

—Mr. Jas. Swift, of Kingston, will have two steam tugs and four ordinary barges engaged in the iron ore trade on the Rideau Canal during the coming season.

—A stock company has been formed at Cleveland to construct an iron propellor for the iron ore trade of the following dimensions: Length of keel, 283 feet; beam, 39 feet; depth of hold, 23 feet; tonnage, 5,000 net.

—The season of the Cleveland and Montreal line will begin with one boat a week about May 1st. The boat will run from Cleveland direct to the canal, connecting with the boat from Hamilton. She will take the Canadian channel of the St. Lawrence to Montreal. All the freight room of the entire line is chartered except the deck.

The blood cannot properly perform its functions when loaded with impurities, because it is thick and sluggish; and every person needs at times something to cleanse and quicken the vital current. Dr. J. C. Ayer's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla meets this want perfectly, and his discovery of this compound ranks as important in preserving the blood in a healthy condition as does that of Wm. Harvey in demonstrating its circulatory action. Nothing else so vitalizes, purifies and enriches the blood as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is a perfect blood and nerve food. It never disturbs the stomach, but greatly assists and promotes the digestion and assimilation of all nutriments, and increases their power to sustain and nourish the body. In renovating the blood it clears and quickens the intellect, and thus gives to both mind and body the power of long sustained, arduous and successful effort. Commerce, N. Y. Journal.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Local Brevities.

—The roads are fast drying up.

—The ice has been again hardened and strengthened.

—One tramp had sole possession of the Police Cells last night.

—At the outer end of the G. J. R. dock there is fifteen feet of water.

—Work on the G. J. R. dock extension ceased to-day, the work being finished.

—The water in the river continues high, and small quantities of ice are constantly coming down.

—"The Pirates of the Moira" have reaped a rich harvest since the breaking up of the ice.

—There is not much frost in the ground this spring, owing to a constant covering of snow all winter.

—It is about time some attention was paid to the back yards, where the winter's accumulation of filth offends the olfactories.

—The housewives are getting ready for spring cleaning, and this accounts for the serious look they wear. They mean business.

—If the Moira would only retain its present volume of water the year round, there could be no excuse for not making Belleville a great manufacturing centre.

—Kingston papers accuse their municipal legislators with spending too much time in discussing trifles in the Council. We would like some of our city dads to put this shoe on if its suits them.

—We were mistaken yesterday. The citizens of Kingston have not yet subscribed $100,000 towards the proposed cotton mill. Up to last night the amount subscribed was $91,200. But that's creditable.

—Why not offer the Messrs. Rathbun an inducement to locate their proposed sash and blind factory on Mill Island, or somewhere else in this city? A reasonable offer, we believe, would not go without the desired effect.

—Rev. Father Casey, of Campbellford, preached a brilliant sermon at the celebration of Grand Mass at Brockville, on St. Patrick's Day. It was a sermon creditable to his head and heart, and every way worthy of the occasion.

—The view from Mill Island towards the lower bridge is not void of the picturesque. The cakes of ice are piled in every conceivable position, and present an appearance not much unlike that of Niagara in the vicinity of Goat Island.

—The Messrs. Tisdale Bros. did not experience much damage by the ice shove yesterday. They made the necessary preparations for the spring movement, by putting their boats and other destructable property out of harm's reach. A stitch in time always saves nine stitches.

—Ottawa is about moving towards encouraging manufactures by a money grant and exemption from taxation. Here is another hint for Belleville. Instead of waiting, Macawber like, for something to turn up, we would better act our part by trying to turn something up ourselves. But we thought the N.P. was to encourage manufactures without the assistance of money grants and exemption from taxation.

UNSURPASSED.—The old and well known remedy "Holden's Expectorant" (for coughs and colds) is still unsurpassed. More than 20 years it has now been in use and it still continues popular, while scores of medicines for the same purpose have flourished for a year or so and are forgotten. If you have a cough or a cold call on Geen's Drugstore and procure a bottle.

GARDEN SEEDS.—For good and reliable garden and field seeds go to Geen's Drug-store.

PROBS.—Moderate to fresh south-westerly to westerly winds, fair warmer weather.

WALKING MATCH.—A four hour go-as-you-please walking match will take place in Madoc on Friday evening, for a purse of $20.

PERSONAL.—W. Patterson, Esq., M. P. for Brant, and Ald. Ryan, of Toronto, both of whom spoke in the interest of Mr. Crouter at Campbellford last night were in the city yesterday and to-day.

FINE CATTLE.—This morning Mr. Elias Wallbridge, of Ameliasburgh, brought to the city a couple of beeves bought by Charles Green, butcher, which turned the scales at 3,500 pounds. They were as fine looking a pair of steers as we have seen in some time.

PARALYSIS.—On Saturday morning last an old man named Joseph Marcotte was attacked with paralysis while sweeping out the hotel kept by A. Dulmage. He was removed to his home at the lower end of Front Street, since which time he has laid in a critical condition.

THE TEA MEETING AND LECTURE.—The tea meeting and lecture in the Sunday School Rooms of Bridge-st. Church last night, were an unqualified success. Nearly five hundred persons were present, and if they did not enjoy themselves, no audience ever did. The tea served by nearly a hundred young ladies, was all that the most fastidious could desire, while Dr. Jeffers was in one of his best moods, and delivered a lecture which for practical common sense, diction, and eloquence, it would be difficult to equal, much less excel. We congratulate all concerned on the very satisfactory result of their effort to benefit the church financially, and the public socially and intellectually.

OUR SHOW.—The firm of Shelby, Pull, man & Hamilton are now busily engaged in getting their show in readiness for the approaching season's campaign. The stock which wintered in the vicinity of Trenton, is in good condition, and has now been taken in hand to receive the necessary fitting for the road. Several new waggons have been built for the firm and a number of those in use last year have received a complete overhauling at the hands of the blacksmith and painter. The harness and trappings are also receiving that attention which will present them for use and ornament in acceptable shape, whilst the general paraphernalia is being carefully looked after. Mr. Hamilton is supervising the present requirements, and in a few days he will have the assistance of Mr. Henry Pullman. Early in the coming month the menagerie portion of the exhibition will be forwarded from Buffalo, N. Y. to this city, and the ring stock from New York. New tents for the circus, museum and menagerie will be provided, and are now in course of construction. The show will be a large one. The exhibition will be first-class in all respects, and the amusement loving public may rest assured of having presented to them an attractive entertainment worthy of their patronage and support.

LITTA.—From the St. Thomas correspondence of the London Free Press of Saturday, March 19th :—"The largest and most fashionable audience—comprising the very elite of the city—that has ever greeted a company here, assembled last evening on the occasion of the Litta Concert. Litta fully sustained her reputation, and received a perfect ovation. She possesses a singularly clear, flexible voice. She was enthusiastically encored at every appearance, and her "Miserere" song, with Mr. Skelton's cornet obligato, was delightful. Miss Zeline Manley created an excellent impression as a violinist of great merit, and was recalled. Miss Hattie McLain achieved a triumph upon the rendition of "My Love and I." In response to an enthusiastic encore she gave "We'd better bide a wee" in splendid style. The pianist, Miss Nellie Bangs, performed her duties in a finished manner, evincing a most exquisite touch and power, which was especially noticeable in "The Wearing of the Green." Mr. Cleveland, the tenor, rendered several solos in a brilliant and finished style, which proved very acceptable. The cornet solos of Mr. John Skelton were loudly applauded, especially his execution of the ringing notes of "Killarney," with the beautiful echo accompaniments, and in fact the entire entertainment was the most enjoyable of that high class ever heard here." Litta appears in Belleville Monday, April 4th.

A STIRLING SENSATION.—For several days past the inhabitants of Stirling have been enjoying a choice bit of local scandal, caused by the elopement—or rather attempted elopement—of a married man, in business, with one of his servants. The whole trouble was caused by the wife of the man in question threatening to discharge the girl, she having good reason to be suspicious of her conduct. This the husband protested against, saying that it the girl was sent away he would go with her. The girl, however, was discharged, and, true to his promise, the man went out, and, in company with the girl went one afternoon. Time they returned, on a short tour. In the meantime, very naturally wished to know where he had been, and all about it. This created distrust. Instance No. 2, and the injured (?) man wanted to have revenge, and so sought out his partner in his recent trip and endeavored to induce her to share his fortunes for life, in pastures new, but this proposition was declined with thanks. Now that husband mourneth in silence all the day long.

LEGAL.—At Osgoode Hall, Toronto, yesterday—Re John Lewis & Co.—An insolvency appeal. Judgment. Appeal dismissed. Mr. J. K. Kerr, Q. C., for appeal; Mr. J. Maclennan, Q. C., contra.

CHEESE FACTORY BURNED.—On Saturday night the cheese factory belonging to Thos H. Young, East Lake was burned. The cause of the fire is unknown. Loss about $3,000; insured in the Standard, of Hamilton, the building for $700, and the contents for $700.

THE FRESHET.—Between 12 and 1 o'clock to-day the broken particles of ice in the river below the lower bridge shoved down to-wards the harbor, where there is a jam. This jam has caused the water to rise and a portion of the street at Wallbringe's Corner is submerged. People in that vicinity are anticipating trouble on account of flooding.

THAT BILLIARD ROOM ROW.—In reference to the item which appeared in last night's paper, that a disturbance had taken place the night previous in a billiard room in the city, we wish to say, out of deference to Mr. Henderson, of the Dafoe House, that it did not occur there. We have since learned that the trouble amounted to nothing, and was more in jest than otherwise.

PROF. MACOUN'S LECTURE.—The lecture by Prof. Macoun at the City Hall last night, in behalf of the Young People's Association of the John St. Presbyterian Church, was poorly attended, owing, no doubt, to various other attractions. The subject, "Travels in the North-West in 1878-79," proved to be of a most interesting nature, the learned lecturer giving the result of his own experience while in the North-West.

See our windows for beautiful prints, handsome Cretonnes, choice Embroideries, and nobby Tweeds. The cheapest dry goods house in the city. James Hennessy.

Moveo et Proficio.—The public have been so often deceived by representations made through the advertising columns, that if an announcement is made offering unusual inducements, it is considered at once as a "blow" and no further attention paid to it. I believe it pays to advertise providing the truth is told. If the advertiser is not able to carry out the inducements offered to the public it is but a waste of money and printer's ink. I have this season endeavored to secure goods suitable for a first-class trade and I think an examination will bear me out in asserting that I have a stock of hats for style, finish and price second to none in the Province. I have imported this spring direct from two of the largest hat dealers in the States, (Clarke Bros., New York, and John B. Stetson & Co., Philadelphia) all the new American styles in soft and stiff hats. I have the spring styles in silk and pull over hats made expressly for my trade.

SPORTING NOTES.

—The Carver-Scott glass ball match terminated Saturday, the scores standing—Carver 9,787, Scott 9,785.

—A sufficient number of entries have been received to ensure the success of the proposed stallion race at Rochester, N. Y., on July 4th. The purse of $10,000 will be divided as follows: First money, $5,000; second money, $2,500; third money, $1,500; fourth money, $1,000.

—"Forest and Stream," published at New York, and representing the better class of sporting men, refers to Capt. Cuthbert's intentions to build a yacht here for competition with the New York flyers for the coveted America Cup, and highly commends his spirit. It says :—We learn that an official challenge is to be issued for the new craft in the name of the Bay of Quinte Yacht Club, of Belleville, Ont., one of the most spirited and flourishing of the clubs of the great fresh water lakes. With heavy odds in our favour in the way of greater experience, a course in well-known home waters and weather, and the prestige of previous battles won, the enterprise displayed by our Canadian cousins is certain to meet with hearty commendation.

CONDENSED TELEGRAMS.

—Gen. Grant expresses satisfaction with Garfield's nominations.

—Coal Companies have reduced prices for April from 10 to 25 cts. per ton.

—Mr. & Mrs. McVicar of Chicago have gone to Europe to attend the bed-side of their daughter, Mrs. Edwin Booth, who is dangerously ill in London.

—Manager Abby is more than satisfied with the Bernhardt venture. "Sara" opens again in New York Easter Monday, for two weeks, and sails for France May 4th.

—Harvey J. Roberts, the missing marine reporter at Hell Gate, is said to be keeping out of the way of pilots, who have threatened to murder him for adverse criticisms.

—Geo. Parrott, the Elk Mountain murderer, in jail at Rawlings, under sentence of death, attacked the jailor last night when the latter entered his cell to lock him up. He was subsequently taken out by a mob and hung to a lamp post.

DIOCESE OF ONTARIO.—The discrepancy in the funds of the Diocese of Ontario, the Ottawa Free Press is informed, amounts to about $20,000, and an investigation is to be instituted at the next meeting to be held in Kingston shortly. Rev. Archdeacon Lauder, who is Chairman of the Managing Committee, states that while he does not believe there is anything wrong so far as the Clerical Secretary is concerned, the condition of the books show very bad keeping.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

An adjourned meeting of the Board of Education was held last evening at the usual time and place.

Present—The Chairman, Messrs. Richards, Vanallen, I. Diamond, Wensley, Tonnant, Moore, W. J. Diamond, Johnson, Wills, Hayes, Northcott, McGinnis, Burke and Newbery.

Mr. Johnson presented the report of the Finance Committee, also the requisition and By-law covering the estimates for the present year.

The report was, on motion, received.

The Board then went into Committee of the Whole on the above, Mr. Newbery in the chair.

The report which was as follows, was adopted.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON FINANCE AND ASSESSMENT.

To the Chairman and members of the Board of Education :

GENTLEMEN,—Your Committee on Finance and Assessment beg leave to submit the following report :

1st. We submit the estimates for the year (see statement A) and with this report we append statements B and C, statement C showing the several amounts estimated for last year and the actual expenditure, statement B showing the balances unexpended of last year's estimate and the estimated sources of revenue for this year. Should these estimates meet with your approval, the amount required from the ratepayers to efficiently carry on the High and Public Schools of our city will be less than has been required since 1875, the requisitions on the city for the several years since then having been :—

1876	$13,000
1877	12,800
1878	14,425
1879	12,750
1880	13,190,

while for this year we will require only $11,415.

2nd. In preparing statement B your Committee have made enquiries relative to the assessment of those portions of the Township of Thurlow which have been annexed to the City for school purposes, also as to the amounts paid by the Treasurer of that municipality to your Secretary-Treasurer. So that the statement might be all the more satisfactory we have obtained copies of the assessment rolls for the years 1879 and 1880, and these rolls show the names of the persons assessed, the amount of their assessment, and the amounts paid by each person for school purposes.

According to the rolls of 1880, the amount of assessed property in that portion of Thurlow, known as School Section 13, was $18,075, and in that part comprising lots Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6, $73,920, making a total of $87,025.

School Section No. 13 was annexed to Belleville in 1875, and that part comprising lots Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and part of 6 in 1878.

The payments received from the Treasury of Thurlow on account of school taxes have been :

1876	$74 87
1877	40 21
1878	00 00
1879	286 20
1880	370 19
Total	$821 47

We do not think that the way in which payments are received from that Township are satisfactory. Only once has a statement been sent and that a very meagre one. In our opinion, a copy of the rolls should be forwarded to your Secretary-Treasurer and when the collection rolls are completed, a statement showing the amount of the assessment, the amounts paid, amounts remitted or collectable and amounts paid on account to your Secretary-Treasurer, and a balance struck.

In our next report we hope to give you further information about the past years, and why no payment was made in 1878.

3rd. Your Committee have had under consideration the amounts paid to the caretakers of the various schools, and in the opinion of your Committee it would be much more satisfactory to pay the caretakers a fixed amount, that amount to include all cleaning that the school may require, also the removal of snow from the walks inside and outside the school premises, and would suggest that the amounts to be paid should be :

Station Road School	$ 45 00
Canifton Road "	45 00
Pinnacle St. "	60 00
Octavia St. "	80 00
Central and High "	250 00

You will observe by referring to statement C, that these amounts are about what was paid last year including "extras," excepting in Pinnacle-st. School, where we believe an additional amount should be paid to that previously given.

4th. In accordance with the new By-laws Rule No. 45, the moneys coming into the hands of the Secretary-Treasurer are to be deposited in some bank to the credit of the Board, and the Board is to name the Bank. We therefore recommend that the Merchants' Bank of Canada be named as the Bank at which the account of the Board shall be kept.

5th. We recommend the payment of the following accounts :

No.	1. Robert Sullivan, wood	$55 32
"	2. Wm. Monahan, "	2 50
"	3. Mm. Monahan, "	21 25
"	4. Inspector Johnston, attending High School exam's	25 00
"	5. John Latta, wood	8 31
"	6. E. L. Palen, repairs	6 97
"	7. Paul Smith, cutting wood	2 00
"	8. Intelligencer printing and publishing Co. printing	32 50

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is not once a preeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness, often though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of feeling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous, and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

A Lecture to Young Men

ON THE LOSS OF

We have recently published a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacities, Impediments to Marriage etc., resulting from excesses.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cts. or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practise, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hand of every youth and every man in the land.

KNOW THYSELF.

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated, but not cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; or, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be recovered and health regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than fifty valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing diseases, the results of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth, price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says, "No persons should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had no precedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nervo-specialist, and therefore know whereof he writes with such power and ability."

The best remedy for strains and galls on horses is HENRY & JOHNSON'S ARNICA AND OIL LINIMENT Good for man and beast.

In the P ions at sank of American Soci ety an investigation showe Northrop & Lyman Quinine Wine. The weak, the nervous, the dyspeptic, never vainly seek its aid; sufferers from bilious, remittent, and intermittent fever, are surely restored by its use. the material sewage. Its taste is agreeable, its ingredients do not number less than its efficiency. The sherry which imparts to it an agreeable wine flavor is eminently pure, and serves to diffuse this throughout the system its fine medicinal properties. It revives failing appetite, is conducive to sleep, and promotes regular secretion and evacuation. The nervous and dyspeptic, as it is well known, are often troubled with a degree of melancholy which in many cases is the forerunner of actual hypochondria. As the stomach regains its tone and the nerves recover their vigor, through the action of the Quinine Wine, this feeling gradually wears off, and cheerfulness resumes its sway. Persons who are exposed to the effects of exhaustive disease, should take it in properly regulated doses, as it master ally assists, thus taken, the restoration of vigor, which, without its aid might be a fellow-ly slow. Fever and ague and bilious remittent sufferers should take it only during the absence of the feverish symptoms. Iosin persons, whose digestion is out of order, gain bodily substance as well as strength by its use. Use none but the Quinine Wine manufactured by Northrop & Lyman of Toronto, which can be procured of any druggist.

DAILY ONTARIO

The Leavenworth Case :

A LAWYER'S STORY.

BY ANNA KATHARINE GREEN.

'Sometime later, I woke suddenly, as if something had startled me, but think no noise or move, I cannot say. I remember rising up in my bed and looking around, but hearing nothing further, soon yielded to the drowsiness which possessed me and fell into a deep sleep. I did not awake again till morning.'

Here requested to relate how and when he became acquainted with the fact of the murder, he substantiated,in all particulars, the account of the matter already given by the butler; which subject being examined, the coroner went on to ask if he had noted the condition of the library table after the body had been removed.

'Somewhat, yes, sir.'

'What was on it?'

'The usual properties sir, books, paper, a pen with the ink dried on it, besides the decanter and the wineglass from which he drank the night before.

'Nothing more?'

'I remember nothing more,'

'In regard to that decanter and glass, broke in the juryman of the watch and chain, 'did you not say that the latter was found in the same condition in which it was at the time you left Mr. Leavenworth sitting in his library?'

'Yes, sir, very much.'

'Yet he was in the habit of drinking a full glass?'

'Yes, sir.'

'An interruption must then have ensued very close upon your departure, Mr. Harwell.'

A cold blush pallor suddenly broke out upon the young man's face. He started and for a moment looked as if struck by some horrible thought. 'That does not follow, sir,' he articulated with some difficulty. 'Mr. Leavenworth might have but suddenly stopped as if too much distressed to proceed.

'Go on, Mr. Harwell, let us hear what you have to say.'

'There is nothing,' he returned faintly as if battling with some strong emotion.

As he had been answering a question, only volunteering an explanation, the coroner let it pass, but I saw more than one pair of eyes roll suspiciously from side to side as if many there felt they had at last found some sort of a clew in this man's emotion. The coroner, ignoring in his easy way both the emotion and the universal excitement it had produced, now proceeded to ask,—'Do you know whether the key to the library was in its place or not when you left the room last night?'

'No, sir; I did not notice.'

'The presumption is, it was?'

'I suppose so.'

'At all events the door was locked in the morning and the key gone?'

'Yes, sir.'

'Then whoever committed this murder locked the do or on passing out and took away the key?'

'I would seem so.'

The coroner turning, faced the jury with an earnest look. 'Gentlemen,' said he, 'there seems to be a mystery in regard to this key which must be looked into.'

Immediately a universal murmur swept through the room, testifying to the acquiescence of all present. The little juryman rising hastily proposed that an instant search should be made for it, but the coroner, turning upon him with what I should denominate as a quelling look, decided that the inquest should proceed in the usual manner, till the verbal testimany was all in.

'Then allow me to ask a question,' said the irrepressible. 'Mr. Harwell, we are told that upon the breaking in of the library door this morning, Mr. Leavenworth's two nieces followed you into the room.'

'One of them, sir, Miss Eleanore.'

'Is Miss Eleanore the one who is said to be Mr. Leaven worth's sole heiress?' the coroner here interposed.

'No sir, that is Miss Mary.'

'That she gave orders,' pursued the juryman, 'for the removal of the body into the other room?'

'Yes, sir.'

'And that you obeyed her by helping to carry it in?'

'Yes, sir.'

'Now in thus passing through the rooms did you observe anything to lead you to form a suspicion of the murderer?'

The secretary shook his head. 'I have no suspicion,' he said, emphatically.

Somehow I did not believe him. Whether it was the tone of his voice, the clutch of his hand on his sleeve—and the hand will often reveal more than the countenance—I felt that this man was not to be relied upon in making this assertion.

'I would like to ask Mr. Harwell a question,' said a juryman who had not yet spoken. 'We have had a detailed account of what looks like the discovery of a murdered man. Now murder is never committed without some motive. Does the secretary know whether Mr. Leavenworth had any secret enemy?'

'I do not.'

'Everyone in the house seemed to be on good terms with him?'

'Yes, sir,' with a little quaver of dissent in the assertion, however.

'Not a shadow lay between him and any other member of his household, as far as you know?'

'I am not ready to say that,' he returned quite distressed. 'A shadow in a very slight thing. There might have been a shadow——'

'Between him and whom?'

A long hesitation. 'One of his nieces, sir.

'Which one?'

Again that evident effort. Curiously. 'Miss Eleanore.'

How long have this shadow been observable?'

'I cannot——'

'Year?'

'I——'

'Month?'

'No——'

'Week?'

'Yes, sir.'

'Not more than a week?'

'No, sir.'

To be continued.

The Best Field
—FOR—
EMIGRANTS,

An Immense Area of Railroad and Government Lands, of great fertility, within easy reach of permanent market, at extremely low prices, is now offered for sale in Eastern Oregon and Eastern Washington Territory.

These lands form part of the great Grain Belt of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 250 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded for all parts of the world.

Grain is at Portland, Oregon, commands a price equal to that obtained in Chicago.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R. R. is now assured, and guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the construction of the network of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R. & N. Co. in the valleys of the Grand Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the lands now open to purchase pre-emption. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future.

Lands show an average yield of 40 bushels of wheat per acre. No failure of crops ever known.

Railroad Lands offered at the uniform rate of $2.50 an acre.

The Great American Remedy for COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, LOSS OF VOICE, HOARSENESS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS.

Prepared from the Purest Balsamic Gums (Delicious Flavor) Balsamic, Soothing, Expectorant and Healing. Superior to any medicine offered for all of these complaints. A scientific combination of the Gums of Canada Pine and Balm of Gilead trees, forms the most valuable native Gum for Medicinal purposes.

Every one knows the healing virtues of the unrefined Gum from the trees of the forests and the Pines to cases of Lung Disease. To frame the pleasant, effective, healthy and delightful Syrup of Gum, we boil the gums in pure spring water, and then add the proper quantity of the finest sugar to form a syrup. This Syrup is perfectly pure, as no alcohol or other ingredient is used to destroy its healing properties. It is a remedy that is safe to take, and will cure. In fact the Gum from the trees is Nature's own remedy for all throat and lung diseases.

DAILY ONTARIO

ENGLAND'S GIFT.

An Old Hulk Presented to Canada.

The followiog is taken from Tuesday night's Parliamentary proceedings;
On the item to cover expenses connection with bringing out the screw corvette Charybdis $10,000.
Sir John Macdonland in reply to Sir Richard Cartwright, said this was the first vote asked on this account, and the Finance Minister proposed to reduce it to $5,000, as it would be more economical to sail the vessel across from England in the summer and man her here than to engage a staff of engineers in the old country.
Mr. Mills—Scuttle her.
Sir Richard Cartwright asked if this was to be the flagship of the fleet.—(Laughter.)
Sir John Macdonald said she was to be used as a training ship for boys.
Mr. Mills—How many guns has she?
Sir John Macdonald—I don't think she has any.—(Laughter.)
Sir R. Cartwright asked how many boys were to be put on this ship, and how much a training school would cost. In England these training ships were used as schools of correction and training for unfortunate lads found in the slums of large cities. He presumed the leader of the Government did not propose to make a training ship on this plan—that this training would be for a different class of people. But no estimate had been given of the work to be done and of the cost of it.
Sir John Macdonald said it was not intended to make this a training school for young castaways, but for those who wished to learn the naval profession. Before this attempt was made to establish this training school Parliament would be fully advised as to the scheme and cost of it.
Mr. Mackenzie—Has the leader of the Government in his mind to assure the United States of our pacific intentions? (Laughter.)
Sir John Macdonald—No; our attentions are confined to the Atlantic. (Renewed laughter.)
Mr. Mackenzie—I wish they were.
Mr. Charlton suggested that the ship should be rechristened the Flying Dutchman, a Lord High Admiral should be appointed, and he should ask the members of the Ministry to take a trip to China. This was merely a suggestion he wished to throw out.
Sir John Macdonald said the hon. gentleman was wrong in his lore. The Flying Dutchman was a vessel destined to beat about the Cape of Good Hope to the end of time. This vessel had rounded the Cape, and would not be a Flying Dutchman but a stationary Englishman. (Hear, hear.)
Mr. Charlton replied that the Flying Dutchman was a phantom ship and he believed it would not be very long after this vessel got to sea before she would be little more than a phantom. (Cheers and laughter.)
Sir Richard Cartwright said if the leader of the Government desired to made a trip in this vessel to see his constituents there could be no objection. (Hear, hear.)
Mr. Anglin pointed out that great expenses would be required to fit this vessel for the work she had to do, and thought the Government should give some idea of the amount to be spent.
Mr. Killam asked how old this vessel was.
Sir John Macdonald—I really do not know. I never examined her teeth. (Laughter.)
Mr. Killam, while believing that some means of training young men for the merchant service was necessary, thought that a vessel quite unfit for the purpose of sailing could be bought on this side, at less than repairs to the Charybdis would cost.
The item passed.

The bleed cannot properly perform its functions when loaded with impurities, because it is thick and sluggish; and every person needs at times something to cleanse and quicken the vital current. Dr. J. C. Ayer's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla meets this want perfectly, and this discovery of this compound was an important in preserving the blood in a healthy condition as does that of Wm. Harvey in demonstrating the circulatory action. Nothing else so vitalizes, purifies and enriches the blood as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is a perfect blood and nerve food. It never disturbs the stomach, but greatly assists and promotes the digestion and assimilation of all nutriments, and increases their power to sustain and nourish the body. In removing the blood it clears and quickens the intellect, and thus gives to both mind and body the power of long sustained, arduous and successful effort. —Corning, N. Y., Journal.

STARTLING SCENE IN A GRAVEYARD.

A Kentucky Widow Found Embracing a Corpse.

A few evenings ago a gentleman of Somerset, Ky., was returning home from a ride in the country, when on passing a graveyard, his horse became scared at a white looking object among the graves. Dismounting and tying his horse, he opened the gate and started on a voyage of discovery towards the cause of his horse's fright, which turned out to be a woman sitting by the side of a grave with a corpse in her arms. Retracing his steps, the gentleman remounted and soon raised the alarm. Returning in a short time with a couple of citizens, the woman was found still sitting on the damp ground, at the mouth of the grave, singing a low lullaby and supporting the head of the dead man on her bosom. The men recognized her immediately as the daughter of a neighbor. On the approach of the party she raised her hand and motioned them to be quiet, and said "John was sleeping and not to wake him," and when the men attempted to move her from the loathsome place, exclaimed in the most heart-rending and piteous manner to be left alone, "that John would get cold out in the night, that he was sleeping now, but would awake in a short time and talk to her." The young lady is the daughter of James Bradley. She is a beautiful and intelligent young lady, and was married ten days ago to a young man of this county by the name of Hinds, who fell a victim to consumption a week after the wedding. The young lady was very deeply affected by the loss of her young husband, and it was feared that a mental derangement would be the result of her suffering. The crisis came at last. She escaped from her room and stealing across the fields, entered the graveyard, and engaged by some means to disinter the body of her husband.

CHARGED WITH AN ATROCIOUS CRIME.

A Man Accused of a Diabolical Attack on His Wife.

A despatch from Baltimore says:—Great excitement was caused in northwest Baltimore early this morning by the sudden and startling appearance on the street of a woman wrapped in a blaze of fire and screaming loudly. By the time assistance reached the woman her scant clothing was well nigh destroyed by the fire, and she was terribly burned about the chest, face and arms. She was carried back to her house utterly prostrated with pain and fright, and it was ten minutes before she began to recover from the shock. Her husband, Benjamin Dutton, stood by a lounge on which she was lying, and fanning, he was asked for an explanation failed to make any. In the meantime police officers arrived, when the woman saw them she also pointed to her husband and demanded his arrest. She said that he had quarrelled with her only a few hours before, and before retiring had threatened to kill her. She went up stairs to sleep, and she stretched herself on a lounge on the lower floor. She could not close her eyes until after midnight, so frightened was she by the threats of her husband, and she asserts that she had hardly fallen into a slight slumber when she awoke to find her husband pouring coal oil over her clothing. Before she could move he set fire to the saturated fabric and then threw a lamp into the street. This part of the woman's story was verified by finding the lamp in the street shattered into pieces. Dutton claimed that his wife went to sleep with a lighted coal oil lamp on a chair by the lounge and that in her sleep she threw out her arms and caused the lamp to explode. He furthermore stated that he did what he could to extinguish the flames and to save his wife's life. The circumstances of the case do not bear him out in his statement that the lamp was by her side and exploded is the house, since there was no coal oil on the floor and not a single fragment of the broken lamp in the room. Dutton was committed for the Criminal Court. The injuries of the womau may not prove fatal.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 5th, 1879.
WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION:
Gentlemen—For years I have been a great sufferer. My trouble first started with terrible ague chills and constipations. This left me with a hard, racking cough and frequent bleedings from the lungs. Since this time I have been continually doctoring, consulting physicians without number, none of whom received no benefit or encouragement. The most noted physicians of our city who last visited me expressed their opinions in the hearing of my family, "that no good care of yourself the few days you have to live, we cannot help you." I grew steadily worse under their treatment. Got so far through reading your Memarandum Book I learned of the Golden Medical Discovery. Will but little hope of relief, I purchased a bottle and took it. To my surprise and satisfaction it did me more good than all the drugs I had taken the year around. I am now attending with the benefit and recommend it to all to be just what it is advertised.
Sincerely yours, JAS. P. McGRATH,
50 Wight Street.

DAILY ONTARIO

THURSDAY, MARCH 23, 1881.

FRANK HURD, of Toledo, Ohio, is the author of that Bill, introduced into the U. S. House of Representatives some time ago, which threatened the annihilation of our international Railway traffic. He is not so dangerous to our well-being now for he is said to be actively engaged in New York organizing Free Trade leagues, with a view of making the movement national. Frank may be famous yet. He is certainly improving.

THE Irish Land Bill of the British Government has not yet been laid before the House, but it is intimated that it will recommend the purchase, by Government, of 1,000,000 acres of waste land in Ireland best adapted to be reclaimed, and the expenditure of $1,500,000 in the improvement of the same. This being accomplished, farms of 30 acres will be distributed among peasants. The purchase is to be compulsory. This appears to us a very liberal and generous policy. It is doubtful if the House of Lords would accept such a proposition.

THE announcement that Gen. Sir Evelyn Wood has concluded his peace negotiations with the Boers, and that the British terms have been accepted, must be gratifying to the Home Government and every lover of justice the world over. The "Jingo" party may prate about a loss of prestige and revenge for the English dead, but sensible people will accept the result of the negotiations as reflecting more honor upon the prowess of British arms than a hundred victories over a weak, though brave and skilful foe. No one could reasonably doubt the end of a conflict, with the forces and appliances at the command of the British General in the Transvaal. It is therefore, true magnanimity on the part of so powerful a military nation to offer to the Boers of South Africa terms that satisfy their demands and leave England's prestige unsullied.

THE FERRY AGAIN.

At the meeting of the City Council last Monday evening, the ferry question was again prominent. We do not intend to waste words on the subject, but simply repeat what we have said before. There can be no justifiable reason for a change of dock at present. The city has spent considerable money in providing accommodation for the ferry, and the finances are not so flourishing as to warrant the expenditure of as much more when no necessity exists. Whether Bushy Island or Mill Island is selected as a landing place, docks, bridges and roadways must be built, entailing a large outlay of money. The landing now in use answers all necessary purposes. When the harbor is properly dredged it may be moved nearer to the market instead of a half mile further away. Those members of the Council who amuse themselves by talking about Bushy Island, &c., had better look after our manufactures. We warn them in time. The ratepayers of the city are in no humor to be trifled with.

CHARLEVOIX AND BELLECHASSE.

Tory organs are singing "hallelujah" over the result of the elections in Charlevoix and Bellechasse. They claim that both are a direct endorsation of the Government policy, and the latter a gain from the "Grit." Let us see how the records stand. In Charlevoix the contest was between the unseated Tory member, Mr. Ferrault, and an Innependent Conservative, Mr. Cimon, who was the petitioner in the case. The latter was endorsed by the Liberals, and received the entire support of the party. Ferrault was the special nominee of the Government. Under these circumstances, there does not appear to be so much to crow over as the organs pretend to find. The Liberals of Charlevoix are perfectly satisfied with the election of M. Cimon, and they should be in a position to judge their interests.

With regard to Bellechasse, we admit that the seat has been won from the Liberals, but not by such a majority and with such an effect as to justify the shouting from the Tory camp. At the last general election Mr. Larue was returned by a majority of six over Mr. Amyot. Being unseated, and disqualified by the Supreme Court, Mr. Larue could not again contest the election with his former nearly successful opponent, and in a constituency where he is so popular and influential. The consequence was, Mr. Amyot defeated his opponent by the narrow majority of 33. All things considered, therefore, where is the ground for all the Tory hallelujahs?

"BENEFITS OF THE N. P."

The Peterborough Examiner reports the following results of the present tariff operations in that locality. Tory organs generally, and the local luminary particularly, should copy forthwith:—

Mr. Toole's factory, which used to employ forty-five men, has been closed. Mr. R. Lundy, who used to employ from eighteen to twenty-five hands, now runs with two or three. Mr. Lundy, who used to buy hides and skins from our own farmers, under the N. P. finds it more profitable to bring in his raw material from Chicago. The woods made up at the Auburn Factory are brought in from Australia and the Cape of Good Hope. Messrs. Douglas & Logan, who used to employ forty to fifty hands, now manage to meet the demands of the N. P. with an apprentice. Holm's foundry has been closed, and though a house was granted to encourage the establishment of a sewing machine factory at these works, no one has been found with sufficient confidence in the N. P. to take advantage of it. Mr. A. Sawer's woollen factory is running with a reduced staff of employees. Mr. Hilliard's own mills are running for grinding purposes, and make no pretence at manufacturing. Messrs. Deane & Sperry's fine flouring mills are practically debarred from manufacturing, by the peculiar method in which the N. P. is manipulated for the benefit of a few monopolists in their trade. The brisk factory town has its awful drop aloft at the south end of the town, a forbidding reproach to journalistic boasters, and a standing rebuke to the ante-election promises of Mr. Hilliard.

Says the World, from which we get a good many similar items:—Messrs. Folger & Hanley have ticketed through to Fisher's Landing, Kalamazoo, and Bay City a large number of persons who have resided along the line of K. & P. RR. The same firm have also arranged for the passage west of a large party from Odessa, Sydenham and Earnestown. So they go, composing a portion of the 55,000 which the Detroit Free Press says leave Canada for the United States yearly.

And again:—One hundred French Canadians from the parishes between South Quebec and River du Loup left yesterday to obtain work in the Maine factories; one hundred settlers from the vicinity of Lucknow left for Dakota. What now of the N. P. as an exodus destroyer?

NEW MEDICOES.

More Disciples of Esculapius Ready

The final and primary examinations in connection with the medical department of Queen's University, Kingston, were completed yesterday. A number of candidates passed with honors, among whom we will mention the following from this and adjoining counties:—

J. S. McGurn, Belleville.
J. F. O'Shea, Hastings.
A. W. Herrington, Amelias burgh.
D. A. Johnston, Consecon.

Each of the above gentlemen received the degrees of Doctor of Medicine and Master of Surgery. We congratulate them, and trust the future may open for them an active and useful sphere of labor in a noble profession. There is plenty room up stairs for those who will have quarters nowhere else. What we know of the graduates whose names appear above induces us to predict for them a successful and honorable practice.

The following passed their primary examination with credit:—

D. B. Rutherford, Belleville.
— Denike, Thurlow.

Mr. W. J. Gibson, of Kingston, had the highest aggregate number of marks, taking first place in the examinations. Mr. McGurn stood next, and only a few figures below:

PERSONALS.

—Hon Mr. Mackenzie is getting better.

—Dr. Holland has disposed of his interest in Scribner's Magazine for $150,000. He will, at Alexandria Bay, during the summer, write a novel.

—Dr. Whiteford, formerly of this city, has been entertained to a complimentary dinner by the Masonic brethren of Ottawa, prior to his departure for the North-West.

The Princess Louise will remain abroad for two months, during which time she will visit Florence, Naples and Vienna. Her Royal Highness will probably return to Canada on May 24.

—Mr. Archibald Forbes has a high opinion of the late Emperor of Russia. He says he should characterize him in brief as the only honest Russian he ever knew. "He had the unhappiness," says Mr. Forbes, "of being better than his race. He was a good man who honestly strove for a long time to make his people purer and better, and who lived long enough to come sadly to the conclusion that it was impossible, and finally to become, in a shadowy way, perhaps, tainted with the universal corruption around him."

DEATH IN CAMP.—Mr. Bush, of Watertown, N. Y., foreman on the K. & P. Railway extension, died in camp near Clyde River Monday evening of Pneumonia. He arrived in Kingston three weeks ago, and had been ill but a few days. Wm. Neilson, of Ailmonte, is also very ill at the same camp.

UNPOPULAR SCHOOL INSPECTOR.—Petitions are circulated in Carleton asking the Council to dismiss Rev. John May, county inspector of schools, for neglect of duty in not visiting the schools and in not issuing cheques for municipal grants. The letter recently written by Mr. May, attacking the Methodist body, will affect him in his present position.

HUSBAND AND WIFE DYING AT THE SAME MOMENT.—Mr. Anthony Hughes, formerly a shoe-lace manufacturer, of Paterson, N. J., died in his residence, in Lakeview, on Thursday afternoon. At almost precisely the same moment his wife died. Mr. Hughes had been a sufferer from hemorrhage of the lungs for twenty-five years, and he disproved the predictions of the doctors for a quarter of a century that he would not live another year. For sometime past he had been getting worse, and when his wife leaned over him on Thursday afternoon she saw that he was dying. Although expected, this gave her a shock, and she was immediately seized with a severe hemorrhage of the lungs. She ran into another room and told a female attendant that her husband was dying in the other room. The attendant ran to Mr. Hughes and found him dead. She went back to tell Mrs. Hughes, and found her dead also.

—Mr. Fairbairn, Montreal, a small dealer in provisions, has called a meeting of his creditors and asked for an extension of six months which they declined to grant. The liabilities are between $3,000 and $4,000.

MILLENNIUM COMING.

MR. EDITOR,—The Millennium is close at hand. The lion and the lamb will soon lie down together.

The Grand Master of the Orange Society (from Belleville) and the Pope met at the York Road School House last evening, shook hands and embraced each other with a kiss.

The meeting was a dead failure; only about twenty-five present. After the meeting was over a number were heard to say: "Can't pull the wool over my eyes; that Hugh Mac can't be an Orangeman and a Catholic, too."

Yours, &c.,
OBSERVER.

A CORRECTION.

To the Editor of the ONTARIO.

DEAR SIR,—Allow me to correct the statement which I find in your issue of yesterday, made on the authority of the Ottawa Free Press, to the effect that the discrepancies of the late Clerical Secretary's account "amount to about $80,000." At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Diocese, held on the 15th February, his ascertained liabilities to the Synod of Ontario were shown to be about $10,000 The matter is to be thoroughly investigated immediately before a Commission duly constituted according to canon, and until their report is made public, unauthorized statements should be received with great caution.

Yours very truly,
E. H. M. BAKER.
Rural Dean.

BEET SUGAR.

WINDSOR HOTEL, Montreal.

Mr. Editor,—L'Union Suciere Franco-Canadienne is now duly constituted with a capital of 10,000,000 francs, of which 1,000,000 francs is already paid up for the immediate construction of the Berthier, cuhaut, factory. The work of building is under way and sugar will be produced by next fall. The board of directors is composed of the following gentlemen: MM. Chopin, Masson, Schacher, Lafreniere, Tranchemontagne, Mauger, Macherez, Legru, technical council with right to participate in the debates of the board.

The Union Suciere, if the working of the first factory turns out satisfactorily, intends not only to build and work other sugar houses but also to help other parties to engage in the same business, lending its capital to sugar factories independent from its control and taking an interest in enterprises connected with the sugar interest.

So much is said about the formation of new sugar companies in the Province of Ontario as well as in Quebec, that I think proper to warn people against inconsiderately engaging in this essentially French industry.

Though introduced into the United States more than 15 years ago, the Beet Sugar industry has progressed very little; eleven or twelve small factories are in existence; they are far from being prosperous and yet they had the same advantages to be met in Canada; protection and good quality of the produce, the only difference being in a soil not so favorable to the beet root. I believe their indifferent success to be the consequence of insufficiency of capital and too much reliance on imaginary profits based on theoritical deductions. These profits were not earned, because the small capital prevented the purchase of perfect and costly machinery, or because the men at the head of the enterprise, though fully competent, lacked the necessary experience. Perhaps, unforseen causes or even well understood causes which were thought to be easily managed have prevented success. This industry to become prosperous, requires large capital pecuniary sacrifices for some years till the harmonious working of the sugar house is well regulated. It requires besides a prudent and careful management. In many countries, from the start, this industry has been endangered because people were too sanguine or too precipitate in their expectations. The Sugar Factories lately established in Roumania, are as well as those in the United States a striking example of this tendency.

In closing this letter, I have pleasure in saying that the Union Suciere will furnish interested parties will all the information they may require on the Beet Sugar industry. The business connections and the experience of the Company are such as to permit them to fully answer any question on the subject.

LEGRU,
Representative of l' Union Suciere Franco-Canadienne.

BROCKVILLE SENSATION.—Brockville has a sensation in another much married man, who, however, has suddenly left the limits. He is the son of an English member of Parliament and went by the name of Marsden. The Recorder published particulars, but fails to give the fellow's right name. It seems he ran away with another woman from the old country, and on reaching Montreal started out as proprietor of a "Manhattan feed" for horses and cattle. Afterwards he removed to Brockville where he had lived for about a year. The much married man has gone west, and has been followed by wife No. 2.

KILLED AND BURIED BY LIGHTNING.—As James Best, of Florence, S. C., was ploughing a field on his farm last Friday, he was instantly killed by a stroke of lightning, which tore up the ground where he had stood, and buried him from sight. Mr. Best was seen just before the fatal stroke, and his disappearance produced great consternation among those persons who were watching him from their windows, and several ran out to fathom the mystery. They found a large hole, surrounded by heaps of dirt, but not a vestige of Mr. Best. After two hours' hard work with shovels, his dead body was found at the bottom of the hole. The case is producing a sort of religious terror among the more ignorant and superstitious countrymen, and they look upon it as an omen of some terrible calamity. But to irreverent minds, on the other hand, it suggests a theory of the death and burial of Moses.

E. Downs' Vegetable Balsamic Elixir they can be cured. Keep not the good news to ourselves, but spread the sunshine of hope around.

It cannot refer to farmers in this vicinity:—The farmers of Canada are scarcely less astute in money-making devices than the Yankee peddlers whose wooden nutmegs have become historic. —Our local contemporary has some N. P. "facts." The proprietor of this paper is fitting up an office in his unoccupied block for Messrs. Downey & Preston, and the organ thinks this "fact" should silence our anti-N. P. crusade. The proprietor is thankful for a chance to rent a part of his building, the taxes on which are equal to the profits, but he cannot credit the N. P. with his good luck. Messrs. Downey & Preston find the present quarters too small for the proper accommodation of their business, and seek a more suitable office. When they move there will be an empty shop to take the place of the one they occupy. That's all.

UNSURPASSED.—The old and well known remedy "Holden's Expectorant" (for coughs, colds) is still unsurpassed. More than 20 years it has now been in use and it still continues popular, while scores of medicines for the same purpose have flourished for a year or so and are forgotten. If you have a cough or a cold call at Geen's Drugstore and procure a bottle.

GARDEN SEEDS.—For good and reliable garden and field seeds go to Geen's Drugstore.

REMINDER.—Do not forget the meeting to night in Bethel Hall at 7:45. You are invited.

PROBS.—Moderate to fresh westerly to northerly winds, cloudy to fair weather, with light rain or snow in some localities. Not much change in temperature.

IMPORTANT SALE.—To-morrow there will be sold by public auction at the Court House in this city some valuable properties in the Township of Sidney and also in the city. Intending purchasers will do well to make note of this sale.

ENTERTAINMENT.—The second entertainment under the auspices of the Women's Christian Association will be given in the Workingmen's Temperance Association Hall this evening. There will be a good programme of entertainment.

THE GRAND JUNCTION DOCK.—The work of filling in and grading the dock extension commenced this morning, a large force of men being employed. Ties and rails for the purpose of laying a temporary track on the piers were brought in last evening and the work will be hurried forward to completion. It will take an immense amount of material to fill in, but three or four loads will be brought in each day by the construction train.

POLICE COURT.—Five cases were tried and disposed of before the P. M. this morning. William Bass, (out of season,) and Wm. Reddy, drunks, were each fined $2 or 30 days. Wm. Bradden, vagrant, was dismissed. John Cahill was fined $2 or 30 days for an assault on Post Guy. A charge against John Miller for infringement of market by-law was dismissed.

COMING.—The Peterborough Fire Brigade Band will have an excursion to this city on Good Friday, April 15th, over the Grand Junction Railway. They expect to have 200 or 300 excursionists.

ATTENTION.—We direct attention to the advertisement of Messrs. Holton & Bottoms in another column. They have received and opened out their new stock of spring tweeds, one of the finest ever shown in Belleville. Give them a call.

See our windows for beautiful prints, handsome Crestonnes, choice Embroideries, and nobby Tweeds. The cheapest dry goods house in the city. James Hennessy.

Mocco et Proficio.—The public have been so often deceived by representations made through the advertising columns, that if an announcement is made offering unusual inducements, it is considered at once as a "blow" and no further attention paid to it. I believe it payf to advertise providing the truth is told. If the advertiser is not able to carry out the inducements offered to the public it is but a waste of money and printer's ink. I have this season endeavored to secure goods suitable for a first-class trade and I think an examination will bear me out in asserting that I have a stock of hats for style, finish and price second to none in the Province. I have imported this spring direct from two of the largest hat dealers in the Sates, (Clarke Bros., New York, and John B. Stetson & Co. Philadelphia) all the new American styles in soft and stiff hats. I have the spring styles in silk and pull over hats made expressly for my trade.

AMERICAN.

THE RESULT OF A POLITICAL FEUD.

PRESIDENT GARFIELD'S RESOLUTE POLICY.

It will be a Garfield Administration

TOLEDO, Ark., March 24.—John Dixon, a prominent Democrat, was mortally shot by Frank Foster, a leading Greenbacker, yesterday, as the result of a political feud.

SANTA DOMINGO, March 24.—It is reported that the agent of a powerful European Government recently inspected Samana Bay, with the intention of securing a 99 years lease.

NEW YORK, March 24.—Washington specials to the Sun say yesterday Corkling was looked upon as a master of New York appointments. To-day his friends are indignant. He is morose. Everybody is astonished.

The Tribune says the President decided to make no effort to please one element of Republican party at the expense of another. His recent appointments are said to be in pursuance of a well considered policy. The President has decided to make no change in commissioners of ship patents at present.

NEW YORK, March 24.—Post master Gen. James declined a banquet tendered by leading merchants, because he says he is still untried in his new position, and cannot appreciate compliments not yet earned.

Geo. Wm Curtis said last evening: "All nominations made in this state thus far show what I call great political skall upon the part of the President. They show he proposes to make his a Garfield Administration in the sense that he will not put himself into the hands of any body or clique of politicians in the party.

Wm. Evarts, president of People's line of steamers to Albany was yesterday elected a member of World's Fair Executive Committee.

Many merchants called on Collector Merril yesterday to express regret at his retirement.

THE TRANSVAAL WAR.

Boers Attacked and Defeated by the British.

DURBAN, March 24.—The Boers recently occupied the prison at Pulchefstroom, 70 miles from the first and by the 21st regt of the British. The commander determined to dislodge them because they annoyed the garrison. 11 soldiers charged the prison, entered it and killed 3 Boers. The remainder tried to escape, but the men in the fort shot 18. The British lost 3 killed.

TURKEY AND GREECE.

The Conference at an end.

ENGLAND CANNOT HELP GREECE.

The Standard says the conference of ambassadors at Constantinople may be considered ended. The Porte's repeated delays and systematic renewal of schemes already pronounced impracticable, left the ambassadors no alternative. Commenting on the declaration in Greek Chambers of Deputies that England would support Greece, the Standard says the Government knows that if they were to dream of embroiling England in the struggle for the aggrandizement of Greece their term of office would be at an end.

A TERRIBLE CALAMITY.

BURNING OF A THEATRE AT NICE.

Fifty-nine Bodies Recovered from Ruins.

NICE, March 24, 3 a. m.—Fifty-nine bodies have been recovered from the ruins of the Italian Opera. It is feared many more were lost. The fire commenced soon after the curtain had risen for the performance of "Lucia D'Lamamoore." Subscribers for the orchestra stalls and boxes, and the grand tier had mostly not arrived. Most of the victims belonged to the working class. Shortly after the fire began the gas exploded, and the house was plunged into complete darkness. The scene of terror and dismay was fearful. A detachment of soldiers and sailors from the squadron in the harbor with pumps displayed great gallantry, saving the people, and combating the flames which were subdued towards ten o'clock. Strokisch Impresario, slightly hurt; Signora Bionconoradia, one of the leading artists, made his way from the stage to the street safely. One whole family of five persons and another of three perished. Relief subscriptions have been opened throughout Nice. The regatta here has been countermanded. Valuable prizes will be contributed towards the relief of distress.

A BAPTIST MINISTER'S EXPERIENCE

I am a Baptist Minister and before I even thought of being a clergyman graduated in medicine but left a lucrative practice for my present profession, 49 years ago, I was for many years a sufferer from quinsy, "Thomas Eclectric Oil cured me," I was also troubled with hoarseness and Thomas Eclectric Oil always relieved me. My wife and child had Diphtheria, and "Thomas Eclectric Oil cured them" and if taken in time it will cure seven times out of ten, I am confident it is a cure for the most obstinate Cold, or Cough and if any one will take a small teaspoon, and half fill it with the Oil and then place of the spoon in one nostril and draw the Oil out of the spoon into the head by sniffing as hard as they can until the Oil falls over into the throat and relieves that, twice a week, I don't care how offensive their headmay be, it will clean it out and cure their Catarrh. For Deafness and Earache it has done wonders to my certain knowledge. It is the only medicine dubbed patent medicine that I have ever felt like recommending and I am verpanxious to see it in every place, for I tell you that I would not be without it in my house for any consideration, I am now suffering with a pain like Rheumatism in my right limb and none relieves me like Thomas Eclectric Oil.

DR. E. F. CRANE,

THE GREATEST REMEDY KNOWN.

Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is certainly the greatest medical remedy ever placed within the reach of suffering humanity. Thousands of once hopeless sufferers, now loudly proclaim their praises for this wonderful Discovery to which they owe their lives. Not only does it positively cure Consumption, but Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Hay Fever, Hoarseness and all affections of the Throat, Chest and Lungs yield at once to its wonderful curative powers as if by magic. We do not ask you to buy a large bottle until you know what you are getting. We therefore earnestly request you to call on your druggist Jas. Clark & Co, and get a trial bottle for ten cents which will convince the most skeptical of its wonderful merits; and show you what a regular one dollar size bottle will do. For sale by Jas. Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the glands of the skin are destroyed, or the glands obliterated and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of foulening the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous, and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

A Lecture to Young Men

ON THE LOSS OF

We have recently published a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage etc., resulting from excesses.

Price only 6 cts., or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practise, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hand of every youth and every man in the land.

Address,
The CULVERWELL MEDICAL Co.

KNOW THYSELF.

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; or, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be recovered and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal of the National Medical Association. It is now and very expedient for every man to read. Whether Bulwer's two hundred pages, more than selected as a portions for all forms of and roadways is the result of many years successful practice, either large or only ten times the price of a shilling in French cloth, price only one hundred post-paid.

The Medical Lancet says, "No persons should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its effects, whether due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nervo-specialist, and therefore know where of he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon. P. A. BISSELL, M. D., President of the National Medical Association.

Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass. The author HEAL THYSELF may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience.

MARCH WINDS! The sudden changes and high winds which prevail in March makes a bottle of Down's Elixir always necessary to have at hand. It is a sure cure for sudden colds and all lung diseases.

RAXTER'S MANDRAKE BITTERS will cure all Bilious Diseases. Sold everywhere at 25 cts. per bottle. Try it.

The best remedy for strains and galls on horses is HENRY & JOHNSON'S ARNICA and OIL LINIMENT. Good for man and beast.

In the foremost rank of Ague tean tonics and anti-periodics stands Northrop & Lyman's Quinine Wine. The weak, the nervous, the dyspeptic, never vainly seek its aid; sufferers from bilious, remittent, and intermittent fevers, or are surely rescued by it from the malarial scourge. Its taste is agreeable, its ingredients do not number one that is deleterious. The sherry which imparts to it an agreeable wineness, is eminently pure, and serves to diffuse throughout the system its fine medicinal properties. It revives failing appetite, is conducive to sleep, and promotes regular secretion and evacuation. The nervous and dyspeptic, as it is well known, are often troubled with a degree of melancholy which in many cases reaches the stage of actual hypochondria. As the stomach regains its tone and the nerves recover their vigor, through the action of the Quinine Wine, this failing gradually wears off, and cheerfulness resumes its sway. Persons who are convalescing after an exhaustive disease, should take it in properly regulated doses, case, should take it in properly regulated doses, as it masters all asiats, thus taken, the restoration of vigor, which, without its aid might be tedious slow. Fever and ague and bilious, remittent sufferers should take it only during the absence of the feverish symptoms. Less than a wineglassful at the end of meals, during the course of one, gain Quinine Wine, unadulterated. Use none but the Quinine Wine manufactured by Northrop & Lyman of Toronto, which can be procured of any druggist.

DAILY ONTARIO

The Leavenworth Case:

A LAWYER'S STORY.

BY ANNA KATHARINE GREEN.

It actually seemed as if he never would answer. Was he simply pondering over his reply or was the man turned to stone?

'Mr. Harwell, did you hear the jury-man?' inquired the coroner.

'Yes, sir; I was thinking.

'Very well, now answer.

'Sir,' he replied, turning and looking the juryman full in the face, and in that way revealing his unguarded left hand to my gaze, "I have opened Mr. Leverenworth's letters as usual for the last two weeks and I can think of nothing in them bearing in the least upon this tragedy.'

The man lied; I knew it instantly. The clenched hand pausing irresolute, then making up its mind to go through with the lie firmly, was enough for me.

'Mr. Harwell, this is undoubtedly true according to your judgment, said the coroner; 'but Mr. Leavenworth's correspondence will have to be searched for all that.'

'Of course,' he replied carelessly, 'that is only right.'

This remark ended Mr. Harwell's examination for the time. As he sat down I made note of four things.

That Mr. Hartwell himself, for some reason not given, was conscious of a suspicion which he was anxious to suppress even from his own mind.

That a woman was in some way connected with it, a rustle as well as a footstep having been heard by him on the stairs.

That a letter had arrived at that house and not long since, which if found would be likely to throw some light upon this subject.

That Eleanore Leavenworth's name came with difficulty from his lips—this evidently unimpressible man, manifesting more or less emotion whenever he was called upon to utter it.

CHAPTER IV.

A CLEW.

Something is rotten in the State of Denmark. HAMLET.

The cook of the establishment being now called, that portly, ruddy-faced individual stepped forward with alacrity, displaying upon her good-humored countenance such an expression of mingled eagerness and anxiety that more than one person present found it difficult to restrain a smile at her appearance. Observing this and taking it as a compliment, being a woman as well a cook, she immediately dropped a courtesy, and opening her lips was about to speak when the coroner, rising impatiently in his seat, took the words from her mouth by saying sternly,

'Your name?'

'Katherine Malone, sir.'

'Well, Katherine, how long have you been in Mr. Leavenworth's service?

'Shure, it is a good twelvemonth, now, sir, since I came, on Mrs. Wilson's recommindation, to that very front door, and—

'Never mind the front door, but tell us why you left this Mrs. Wilson?'

'Shure, and it was she as left me, being as she went sailing to the ould country the same day when on her ricommundation I came to this very front door—'

'Well, well; no matter about that. You have been in Mr. Leavenworth's family a year?'

'Yes, sir.'

'And liked it?—found him a good master?'

'Ooh, sir, niver have I found a better, worse luck to the villain as killed him. He was that brave and generous, sir, that many's the time I have said to Hannah—' She stopped with a sudden comical gasp of terror, looking at her fellow-servants like one who had unanimously made a slip. The coroner, observing this, inquired hastily:

'Hannah! who is Hannah?'

The cook, drawing her roly-poly figure up into some sort of shape in her efforts to appear unconcerned, exclaimed boldly, 'She ? O, only the ladies' maid, sir.'

'But I don't see any one here answering to that description. You don't speak of any one by the name of Hannah, as belonging to the house,' said he, turning to Thomas.

'No, sir,' the latter replied with a bow and a side-long look at the red cheeked girl at his side. 'You are one who were in the house at the time the murder was discovered, and I told you.

'O,' cried the coroner, saturically, 'used to police courts, I see.' Then turning back to the cook, who had all this while been rolling her eyes in a vague fright about the room, inquired, 'And where is this Hannah?'

'Shure, sir, she's gone.'

'How long since?'

The cook caught her breath hysterically.

'Since last night?'

'What time last night?'

'Troth, sir, and I don't know. I don't know anything about it.'

'Was she dismissed?'

'Not as I knows on; her clothes is here.'

'Oh, her clothes are here. At what time did you miss her?'

'I didn't miss her. She was here last night, and she isn't here this morning, and so I say she's gone.'

'Humph!' cried the coroner, casting a slow glance down the room, while every one looked about him as if he had suddenly stumbled upon a door in a closed wall. 'Where did this girl sleep?'

The cook, who had been fumbling uneasily with her apron, looked up.

'Shure, we all sleeps at the top of the house, sir.'

'In one room?'

Slowly. 'Yes, sir.'

'Did she come up to the room last night?'

'Yes, sir.'

'At what hour?'

'Shure, it was ten when we all came up. I heard the clock a-striking.'

'Did you observe anything unusual in her appearance?'

'She had a toothache, sir.'

'Oh, a toothache; what then? Tell me all she did.'

An Immense Area of Railroad and Government Lands, of great fertility, within easy reach of permanent market, at extremely low prices, is now offered for sale in Eastern Oregon and Eastern Washington Territory.

These lands form part of the great Grain Belt of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 250 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded for all parts of the world.

Grain at Portland, Oregon, commands a price equal to that obtained in Chicago.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R. R. is now assured, and guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the continuation of the network of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R. & N. Co. in the valleys of the Great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the lands now open to purchase pre-emption. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future.

Lands show an average yield of 40 bushels of wheat per acre. No failure of crops ever known.

Railroad Lands offered at the uniform rate of $2.50 an acre.

DAILY ONTARIO

POETRY.

AFTER THE FEAST.

BY EMILY HUNTINGTON MILLER.

The bells chime softly in the gloom;
The guests are gone; the fire is low!
I wait within the echoing room
To greet mine own before I go.
Mine own for whom, beside the board,
No empty chair was set;
For whom the silent pledge was poured
While trembling tears the eyelids wet.

No foot-fall echoes on the stair,
No indoor step across the light,
No whisper fills the happy air
With the lost music of delight;
Yet all my restless thoughts are stilled,
And waiting, by the hearth alone,
My longing heart is warmed and filled
With the dear presence of its own.

Beloved Jesus, finally set
In below of my hungered thought;
Immortal eyes, whose radiance yet
With yearning human love is fraught;
Dear lips, whose kisses, sweet and slow,
Drop like a balm, on mortal pain;
Dear hand, whose every touch I know,
Yet may not hope to clasp again.

I know not to what clearer height
In that sweet heaven their thought has grown,
Or what new fountains of delight,
Unlisted, flow for them to drink;
But since through changing years I keep
Their precious memory green and fair,
I can not doubt the worship as it rose,
Or cease its tender vigils there.

O unforgetting souls that swell
The swift, exulting host above,
Where face to face with Him ye dwell
Whose endless years are your new love,
To-night, by some celestial air,
The cloudy curtain wide is blown;
Guests of my heart, but grown more fair,
I see you, greet you, claim mine own!

THE SINGER OF HEAVEN.

BY THE IVIAN.

As I sit with my silent sorrow,
I sing the sad song of my soul,
Oh will she soon cease to be sorrow,
The love of my secret soul?

My Lulu, the white armed, the bright eyed,
My Lulu, the yearned for and young,
Who sings with the angels—for early
She learned all the pearly tongue.

For one of them stole her and brought her
Up to the star-kissed skies,
And there mid the maidens he taught her
The song that heavenward rise.

She needed no harp in her white hands,
For her voice was the harp of God;
And they gave her no crown but the daisies,
That sprang from the sacred sod.

And they taught her no songs but the sweet ones
They sang when our Saviour is sad,
As He turns His dear eyes on our people,
When none in his glory are glad.

All sandalless, bright-eyed and beaming,
The pure becomed, sacred, and sweet,
She comes to me through the daisies
And lays it with smiles at His feet.

Then she clasps her white fingers and sings
Him
A trilling of sweetness and love,
While on her bright shoulders comes perching,
A gift from great Gabriel—a dove.

Her voice goes stealing an l pealing
All over the city of God,
Stilling His sorrow as when He
The waves of old Galilee trod.

And I that am listening cannot
Hear that that's she's singing, but I,
As her voice from planet to planet,
Drops simple adorning through the sky,

Am laden with love and crushed down,
By weight of that echo of song—
How long will my Lulu be coming,
How long? Oh! my Lulu, how long?

SUNDAY READING.

If the emblem of grief is to be placed on any door-bell, it should be on that one which is to be rung by an intemperate father or son as he comes home intoxicated to abuse his family.

God's fatherly eye is upon us every hour, and He is daily laboring to bring us up to His mind, to make us such as he wants us to have us be. He continues and talks all manner of ways by His Spirit; and by His providences, and by His word, to make us more serious, spiritual and Heavenly, more humble, weaned from the world and devoted to God.—Bellamy.

A FULL CUP.

When the saintly Payson was dying, he exclaimed, "I long to hand a full cup of happiness to every human being." This was the language of a heart thoroughly purged of all selfish affection, and filled with the spirit of that love, which led our adorable Jesus to give His life for human redemption. If every Christian would go out daily sowing men, filled with such longing for human happiness, what marvelous changes would soon be wrought in human society! The selfish element would soon be eliminated from the dealings of the Christian business man. Not justice merely, but benevolence, would enter into his every day trade. The same spirit would rule his home and church life. He would become an incarnation of good-will toward all, and would so preach the Gospel by his deeds, that men would see his good works, and glorify his Heavenly Father. The spirit of Payson, is worthy of every man's imitation. Happy is he who can truthfully say, "I long to hand a cup of happiness to every human being."—Zion's Herald.

A SENSIBLE MOTHER.

It is really pitiful to see a good, conscientious little mother resolutely shutting herself away from so much that is best and sweetest in her children's lives, for the sake of tucking their dresses and ruffling their petticoates. How surprised and grieved she will be to find that her boys and girls, at sixteen, regard "mother" chiefly as a most excellent person to keep shirts in order and to make new dresses, and not as one to whom they care to go for social companionship! Yet before they are snubbed out of it by repeated rebuffs, such as, "Run away, I'm too busy to listen to your nonsense," children naturally go to their mothers with all their sorrows and pleasures; and if "mother" can only enter into all their little plans, how pleased they are to be. Such a shout of delight as heard last summer from Mrs. Friendly's croquet ground, where her two little girls were playing! "Oh, good, good; mamma is coming to play with us!" She was a busy mother too, and I know would much have preferred to use what few moments of recreation she could snatch, for something more interesting than playing croquet with little children, not much taller than their mallets. She had often said to me, "I cannot let my children grow away from me; I must keep right along with all the time, and whether it is croquet with the little ones, or a game of cards, or a game of ball with the boys, or French dictation and cash ribbons with the girls, I must be 'in it,' as far as I can."—Anon.

THE MODEL GUEST.

There comes to our home sometimes a friend whom we might all call the model guest. He always writes in advance, in time for us to reply. He always comes on the day set, in time for the regular tea hour. He enters at once into the life of the family, for the absent ones he never fails to inquire. If the house-mother has had a tired day he sees it, and knows how to toss a baby or help entertain two different sets of callers at once, or even, if there is a hiatus in the kitchen, to lit a coal-hod. He has a pleasant word (neither patronizing nor fulsome) for the servants, whom he remembers if he has seen them before, and who look pleased when his coming is announced. His sympathy in the work and life of the family is so genuine and hearty that his visits are counted on as part of the yearly cheer, like Thanksgiving and Christmas. In the morning, when he leaves, he does it skilfully, saying very much But since through changing years I keep

To greet mine own before I go.
Mine own for whom, beside the board,
No empty chair was set;
For whom the silent pledge was poured
While trembling tears the eyelids wet.

No foot-fall echoes on the stair,
No indoor step across the light,
No whisper fills the happy air
With the lost music of delight;
Yet all my restless thoughts are stilled,
And waiting, by the hearth alone,
My longing heart is warmed and filled
With the dear presence of its own.

Beloved Jesus, finally set
In below of my hungered thought;
Immortal eyes, whose radiance yet
With yearning human love is fraught;
Dear lips, whose kisses, sweet and slow,
Drop like a balm, on mortal pain;
Dear hand, whose every touch I know,
Yet may not hope to clasp again.

I know not to what clearer height
In that sweet heaven their thought has grown,
Or what new fountains of delight,
Unlisted, flow for them to drink;
But since through changing years I keep
Their precious memory green and fair,
I can not doubt the worship as it rose,
Or cease its tender vigils there.

O unforgetting souls that swell
The swift, exulting host above,
Where face to face with Him ye dwell
Whose endless years are your new love,
To-night, by some celestial air,
The cloudy curtain wide is blown;
Guests of my heart, but grown more fair,
I see you, greet you, claim mine own!

THE SINGER OF HEAVEN.

BY THE IVIAN,

As I sit with my silent sorrow,
I sing the sad song of my soul,
Oh will she soon cease to be sorrow,
The love of my secret soul?

My Lulu, the white armed, the bright eyed,
My Lulu, the yearned for and young,
Who sings with the angels—for early
She learned all the pearly tongue.

For one of them stole her and brought her
Up to the star-kissed skies,
And there mid the maidens he taught her
The song that heavenward rise.

She needed no harp in her white hands,
For her voice was the harp of God;
And they gave her no crown but the daisies,
That sprang from the sacred sod.

And they taught her no songs but the sweet ones
They sang when our Saviour is sad,
As He turns His dear eyes on our people,
When none in his glory are glad.

All sandalless, bright-eyed and beaming,
The pure becomed, sacred, and sweet,
She comes to me through the daisies
And lays it with smiles at His feet.

Then she clasps her white fingers and sings
Him
A trilling of sweetness and love,
While on her bright shoulders comes perching,
A gift from great Gabriel—a dove.

Her voice goes stealing an l pealing
All over the city of God,
Stilling His sorrow as when He
The waves of old Galilee trod.

And I that am listening cannot
Hear that that's she's singing, but I,
As her voice from planet to planet,
Drops simple adorning through the sky,

Am laden with love and crushed down,
By weight of that echo of song—
How long will my Lulu be coming,
How long? Oh! my Lulu, how long?

SUNDAY READING.

If the emblem of grief is to be placed on any door-bell, it should be on that one which is to be rung by an intemperate father or son as he comes home intoxicated to abuse his family.

God's fatherly eye is upon us every hour, and He is daily laboring to bring us up to His mind, to make us such as he wants us to have us be. He continues and talks all manner of ways by His Spirit; and by His providences, and by His word, to make us more serious, spiritual and Heavenly, more humble, weaned from the world and devoted to God.—Bellamy.

A FULL CUP.

When the saintly Payson was dying, he exclaimed, "I long to hand a full cup of happiness to every human being." This was the language of a heart thoroughly purged of all selfish affection, and filled with the spirit of that love, which led our adorable Jesus to give His life for human redemption. If every Christian would go out daily sowing men, filled with such longing for human happiness, what marvelous changes would soon be wrought in human society! The selfish element would soon be eliminated from the dealings of the Christian business man. Not justice merely, but benevolence, would enter into his every day trade. The same spirit would rule his home and church life. He would become an incarnation of good-will toward all, and would so preach the Gospel by his deeds, that men would see his good works, and glorify his Heavenly Father. The spirit of Payson, is worthy of every man's imitation. Happy is he who can truthfully say, "I long to hand a cup of happiness to every human being."—Zion's Herald.

A SENSIBLE MOTHER.

It is really pitiful to see a good, conscientious little mother resolutely shutting herself away from so much that is best and sweetest in her children's lives, for the sake of tucking their dresses and ruffling their petticoates. How surprised and grieved she will be to find that her boys and girls, at sixteen, regard "mother" chiefly as a most excellent person to keep shirts in order and to make new dresses, and not as one to whom they care to go for social companionship! Yet before they are snubbed out of it by repeated rebuffs, such as, "Run away, I'm too busy to listen to your nonsense," children naturally go to their mothers with all their sorrows and pleasures; and if "mother" can only enter into all their little plans, how pleased they are to be. Such a shout of delight as heard last summer from Mrs. Friendly's croquet ground, where her two little girls were playing! "Oh, good, good; mamma is coming to play with us!" She was a busy mother too, and I know would much have preferred to use what few moments of recreation she could snatch, for something more interesting than playing croquet with little children, not much taller than their mallets. She had often said to me, "I cannot let my children grow away from me; I must keep right along with all the time, and whether it is croquet with the little ones, or a game of cards, or a game of ball with the boys, or French dictation and cash ribbons with the girls, I must be 'in it,' as far as I can."—Anon.

THE MODEL GUEST.

There comes to our home sometimes a friend whom we might all call the model guest. He always writes in advance, in time for us to reply. He always comes on the day set, in time for the regular tea hour. He enters at once into the life of the family, for the absent ones he never fails to inquire. If the house-mother has had a tired day he sees it, and knows how to toss a baby or help entertain two different sets of callers at once, or even, if there is a h

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

The evacuation of Cavilahar has made a direct vote of want of confidence in the Gladstone Government.

Mr. Dillon has been transgressing the rule laid down by the Coercion Act, and will probably be arrested.

Labouchere says he is not sorry for what he said about Lawson of the London Telegraph, whom he calls a journalistic quack.

The first act of the new Czar was to recall Gen. Skobeloff, and stop the advance on Merv. That was a favorable introduction.

Three Irishmen are suspected of having perpetrated the Mansion House outrage, and a reward is offered for their apprehension, or the discovery of the real culprits.

Two editors, a Grit and a Tory, had a battle at fisticuffs in the streets of Montreal. The Grit "licked," but the Mail says the Tory had more sympathizers in the crowd. The dog that's under dog generally get more pity. He is entitled to it, too.

There is no little speculation in political circles anent the sickness, recovery and European voyage of Sir Charles Tupper. It is hinted by those who profess to know some things not yet made public, that Sir Charles will not again sit in the Canadian House of Commons; that he has timed his trip to England so as to be present when the general meeting of the Syndicate shareholders takes place in London; and that he has an object in view that promises to relieve him from the harassing cares of political life. But this is all speculation, and will probably end in smoke. We do not credit the rumors about his illness having less serious than represented, nor the insinuation that the strain of the Syndicate business had proven too much for him, and that his mental vigor would never again be the same as it was before. This is speculation with a vengeance.

The decline of ship-building in Canada since the National Policy began to exercise its "beneficent" influence was a bitter pill for the Tories to swallow. A puerile effort has been made to account for the falling-off without charging it to the tariff. A few of the party organs, we observe, and among them the local luminary, have ventured to advance the argument that the substitution of iron for wooden ships has led to such a result, the former being constructed abroad. A few sentences will suffice to dispose of this silly plea. Newfoundland is not a part of the Dominion, and consequently not under the operations of the N.P. Last year, while our ship-building industry was stagnant, 102 vessels were being built in "old Prima Vista." This number represented an aggregate of 4,993 tons, and received a bounty of $14,896 from the Provincial Government. So Newfoundland without the N. P. can produce something else beside cod fish and fogs.

TORY ECONOMY.

The present Tory Government took office with pledges, duly recorded, not only to revolutionize the industries of the country by means of a protective tariff, but to reduce the public expenditure by means of a rigid system of political economy. We have shown quite conclusively, we think, that the first pledge was a fraud, conceived for the sole purpose of deceiving the electorate, and obtaining office. We have also furnished sufficient evidence to prove to the satisfaction of most people that the economy cry is as big a fraud as the protection cry. But, supposing that there are a few who still refuse to be convinced, we append the following additional facts for their benefit:—

During the five years of Mr. Mackenzie's administration the cost of ministerial missions to England was $6,358. During sixteen months of the present administration—from 1st November, 1878, to 16th February, 1881—the cost of these missions has been $8,565. When last year's extension is added, including the services of our high commissioner who was to transact government business in London, it will be seen that the expenses of the first sixteen months have been more than trebled up to the present time. Were we told in Mr. Mackenzie's time that there was a needless waste of money under the head of missions to England.

The above is clipped from an exchange, and is just about as eloquent as a few figures can make it. Another paragraph that witnesses in the same direction and with equal force, reads as follows:—

During the six years that the Conservative party held office, from 1867 to 1878, the annual expenditure of Canada on consolidated revenue account was increased by ten millions of dollars. During the five years that the Reform party held office, from 1873 to 1878, it was increased by only two hundred thousand dollars. The Conservatives are again in office, and in spite of their professions of economy they are doing just as they did in 1867-73. In 1879 the expenditure was $23,503,158; in 1880 it was $24,350,694, and for 1882 they purpose to expend $26,475,650—or $2,963,492 more than the expenditure for all purposes in 1878.

East Northumberland.

THE N. P. AND SYNDICATE CONTRACT KNOCKED INTO FLITHERTEENS.

Mr. Crouter elected by 192 majority.

We did not boast of what was to be done in East Northumberland by our party, but, nevertheless, we had a "power" of confidence in the righteousness of our cause and the merits of our candidate. All the blowing was done by the Tory organs—our local contemporary, especially. Nearly every evening during the past week it had something to say about the cause of the Government candidate being strengthened," and the cheering prospects of the canvass generally. Thursday evening it concluded the series of boastful predictions as follows:

The polling will take place to-morrow, when we confidently anticipate a considerable majority in favor of Mr. Kennedy, the Conservative candidate. The majority in favor of the late Mr. Keeler in September, 1878, was but 63, and Mr. Kennedy should have a majority at least twice as large to-morrow.

The result must be a "cooler" for our neighbor. Mr. Crouter, the Reform nominee, is elected by the handsome majority of 192. Now for an explanation. Our contemporary is used to the business of explaining defeats and defects, and will make out a case of some kind. We will anticipate its plea. Mr. Crouter, the organ will say, pored as an Independent candidate, and by this means obtained the support of a large number of Conservatives. On Wednesday last the organ said:—

Mr. Crouter is the nominee of the Grit party, and as such he is bound to follow in the wake of his leaders and consequently to oppose every measure which the Government introduces, regardless of its merits. Therefore, let there be no mistake about the matter; every vote recorded in favor of Mr. Crouter is a vote against the Government.

The fact is, the vote in East Northumberland yesterday is indicative of the state of public opinion in Ontario on the tariff and Pacific Railway Bill. The candidates, themselves, but represented the respective policies of the Government and the Opposition in respect to these two important public questions. In the same article from which we quote the organ said:—

The Parliamentary election which will occur in East Northumberland on Friday next will be an important one, as being the first to occur in Ontario since the passage of the Pacific Railway bill. As the constituency is a very close one, the result will be to a considerable extent indicative of public opinion on that most important subject. Both parties have chosen good candidates, and the policy of the administration has been fully discussed before the people.

Exactly. And now please tell us what the result does indicate. We accepted the issue as presented, and stated at the outset that local questions had noting to do with the contest. Ontario is against the Government on its general policy, and if Sir John is not satisfied let him open another constituency for a further test.

The following is the state of the poll:—

	GROUTER.	KENNEDY.
Brighton Village	48	—
Colborne "	16	—
Brighton Township	186	—
Cramahe "	42	—
Murray "	7	—
Seymour & Campbellford	55	—
Hastings Village	—	30
Percy Township	—	133
	355	163
	163
Maj. for Crouter	192

It will be interesting to compare the above with the returns from the general election of 1878, which were as follows, the majorities only being given in each case:—

	BIGGAR.	KEELER.
Brighton Village	—	16
Colborne "	—	21
Brighton Township	86	—
Cramahe "	—	196
Murray "	26	—
Seymour "	—	12
Campbellford Village	—	54
Hastings "	7	—
Percy Township	—	12
	189	252

Majority for Keeler, 63.

Mr. Crouter has fully vindicated his popularity, especially in Brighton where he resides and is best known. We heartily congratulate him on the position he occupies, having the honor of redeeming the first constituency in Ontario since the N. P. first turned the heads of so many Reformers in 1878. He has given the country an example of what can and will be done when the battle opens all along the line.

The gentlemen who so ably presented the issue to the electors in the interest of the Opposition are also entitled to a good share of praise. The Biggar Bros., of this city, devoted their time and ability to the contest, and to-day have the satisfaction of knowing that they did not labor in vain. But especially are the yeomanry of East Northumberland to be congratulated on their prompt and effective action in reversing the decision of 1878 and placing their noble riding again in the Reform phalanx, where it rightly belongs. They were deceived by specious ante-election promises, and have taken the first opportunity to express their disapproval of such deception and the party employing it. The handwriting is on the wall, and the political Belshazzar of the day trembles at the sight.

—The Indian budget shows a deficit of £1,183,000 for 1879-80. £6,269,000 for 1880-81, and an estimated surplus of £955 000 for 1881-82.

NO MORE HONEY AND GALL.

The St. Catharines Journal admits that business of all kinds is exceedingly dull in that city, but professes to see a silver lining to the dark cloud, and tries to cheer the citizens with the following:—

"Next year will, therefore be better times than this, and the succeeding one still more so, until, in time, our fondest hopes are realized."

The News replies as follows:—

This is more than we can bear. The National Policy was merciful compared to this mockery! The N. P. promised without halting. Here is a promise crippled with an age of belabored doubts. Good, kind, friends, we implore more consistent assurance; we plead for prosperity or the dagger—hope or dissolution. No more honey and gall in ours, please. Give us something straight, something unadulterated—something that we can relish or repulse. Don't leave us hanging on the ragged edge for an indefinite period.

OUR TABLE.

HEALTH AND FOOD.—This excellent publication, edited by Mrs. Amelia Lewis, and published in New York, continues to reach us. It should have a large circulation.

THE MILLING WORLD.—This is a large publication of over 40 pages, admirably printed and illustrated and filled with information of interest to millers. It is a model publication of the kind. Printed at Buffalo, N. Y. $1.00 a year, postage prepaid.

"A FAIR BARBARIAN."—The public need little information as to the author of this work. There have been few more striking successes in literature than that achieved by Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett, an English lady, who had early made America her home. The editor of Scribner's Monthly early discerned her talent. Her reputation was made by her first novel in that magazine. "That Lass o' Lowries," fairly electrified the reading world. It was received with enthusiasm in both continents, and English critics have vied with America in its praises, while edition after edition has been absorbed by an eager public. "Haworth's" followed, and fully sustained its author's reputation. "Louisiana," which came next, presented her in a new and entirely different field; but it was, if anything, even a greater literary success than its predecessors. In her latest novel, "A Fair Barbarian," we find Mrs. Burnett amid still other scenes and characters, and here she seems likely to eclipse, at least as far as popularity is concerned, all her earlier triumphs. The title of the story is in itself a most happy conception. The "Fair Barbarian" is a young American lady who has lived in Nevada, and who comes upon an English country town, with the suggestive name of "Slowbridge," to astonish its inhabitants by an individuality of character wholly unique. James R. Osgoode & Co., 211 Tremont-st. Boston, publishers.

GONE ON BEFORE O'ER THE RIVER OF TIME.—We have just received a copy of a most touchingly beautiful Song and Chorus called, "Gone on Before O'er the River of Time," composed by P. O. Hudson. The melody is charming and the words are well adapted. No home or Sunday School should be without it. Children can readily sing the Chorus as it is especially arranged easy for that purpose. Don't fail to buy a copy; tell your neighbor of it. The title page contains an excellent lithograph.

FIRST VERSE.

Lov'd ones are passing from shore to shore,
One more has been called and has gone on before,
Gone to his home in that beautiful land,
Where angels stand watching its magical strand,
We know he was welcomed by friends o'er the stream,
When mortal we oft sang as "only a dream,"
Now a bright spirit in splendor is seen,
In his new home of emerald, lily and green.

CHORUS.

Gone on before o'er the river of time,
Beautiful thought and subject sublime
To know that our friends reach the heavenly goal,
Find rest from the mortal and peace for the soul.

On motion it was ordered that Mr. Dempsey, President of the Fruit Growers Association of Ontario, be paid his expenses for attending at last year's exhibition.

THE NEXT EXHIBITION.

The council then proceeded to make the arrangements and revise the prize list for the exhibition at London next fall. Mr. Ryker said the local committees were too large, and getting to be an intolerable nuisance. He moved that the number be limited to twenty, which was carried. Wednesday, September 21st, was fixed as the day of opening, and the exhibition will remain open till Thursday, 29th. Septem ber. On motion of Mr. Young, the president and Mr. Rykert were deputed to invite the governor general and the Princess Louise to formally open the exhibition on the second day. The council occupied the remainder of the session in revising the prize list.

The best receipt for going through life in a commendable way is to feel that every body, no matter how rich or how poor, needs all the kindness they can get from others in the world. Let us remember this great truth, and commence with those around us. Let the poor and needy, and those who do not take the daily or weekly newspaper,be kindly informed if in sickness, whether it be form coughs, lung diseases, asthma, or consumption, that by the use of N. H. Downs' Vegetable Balsamic Elixir they can be cured. Keep not the good news in ourselves, but spread the sunshine of hope around.

A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Neglect speedily follows in an incurable lung disease or consumption. BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritations, giving relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the throat troubles which Singers and public speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's Bronchial Troches have been recommended by physicians, and always give satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have obtained well merited rank among the triple remedies of the age. Sold at 25c a box everywhere.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Local Brevities.

—Crossing on the bay is reported a being good.

—The best sign of spring may be seen in the milliners' windows.

—Did you hear anything drop in East Northumberland yesterday?

—The water in the river is fully three lower than during neap tide.

—The bay is nearly clear of ice from Telegraph Light to Deseronto.

—The weather continues raw, with indications of another snow storm.

—There will be a snow-fall after this cold weather; and then April showers will bring forth May flowers.

—Two tramps lodged in the Police Station last night. One of the two has been a regular lodger for a week.

—Workmen on the Grand Junction Docks have no difficulty in keeping cool. They find it more difficult to keep warm.

—Somebody in Hillier reports having seen a snake last week. This is considered a sign of spring, as infallible as Vennor.

—Trenton has no Reeve, and feels restless under the loss. A live town with a Mayor should be able to get along without a Reeve for a time.

—A number of our business men are making a "big push" in the Stirling News-Argus. Their advertisements bring out an extra to our contemporary.

—The Napanee firemen had two streams of water playing on the Twomey fire twelve minutes after the alarm bell sounded. What do our "boys" think of that?

—We understand a couple of gentlemen in this city are about commencing the manufacture of "Depew's Medical Victory", the supply of which, now in Canada, has almost run out.

—The Whig asks: "Who was the Belleville physician who was thrown off an ice boat and received a ducking in our harbor?" Don't know. They all deny the ducking, sir.

—We regret to learn of the sickness of Mrs. A. C. Parks, daughter of Jacob Tice, Esq., of Amelissburgh. We are informed that she is in a very low state, at her father's residence.

—By an act of the late session of the Ontario Legislature, the fee for recording in Chattel Mortgage, Bills of Sale, and assignments of the same has been increased from 25 to 50 cents.

—Wellington having secured a grant of $2,000 for the improvement of the harbor, the owners of the P. E. Co. Railway are asked to consider the propriety of making that port the shipping point for the ore they contemplate bringing from the Marmora and Madoc mines.

—A correspondent writes:—Three cheers for the young people of Pleasant Valley for showing their ability in getting up penny readings whereby enough money has been raised to build a side walk across the river. They calculate to extend it about a mile west. Now talk of Consecon.

—Do not forget the meeting to-night in Bethel Hall. The public—men women and children, invited.—

"Trim your feeble lamp, my brother,
Some poor seamen, tempest tossed,
Trying now to make the harbour
In the darkness, may be lost."

—Here is a despatch from Cincinnati O., which ought to prove a warning to parents never to allow their offspring to play with small coin: A ten-year-old son of John Schroder, of this city, accidentally swallowed a silver quarter last night. He was stricken with paralysis an hour later and died at 4 this morning.

—Stirling News-Argus:—On Tuesday evening last, while Mr. and Mrs. T. Chard were absent from home, one of the children threw a lighted match on a stand cloth, which became ignited, the flames spreading to a quantity of clothing which hung in the room, which was destroyed, and the near furniture and woodwork badly scorched. At this point the child gave the alarm, having presence of mind sufficient for that, and the incipient fire was hastily extinguished.

—The office of our local contemporary was brilliantly lighted last night, and a large crowd gathered there to "hear the news" from East Northumberland. Feet were elevated, pipes filled and lighted, and then "jokes went round with harmless chat." In due time the telegraph conveyed some figures from the polling places, and down came the feet, pipes were knocked out and poked into the big coat pocket, collars turned up, and each Tory present said he had a bad cold, and was troubled with the neuralgia in his head. The weather was so miserable they all concluded to adjourn to the bosom of their families. This morning they came down to business late and looking sick. The neuralgia was worse.

UNSURPASSED.—The old and well known remedy "Holden's Expectorant" (for coughs and colds) is still unsurpassed. More than 20 years it has now been in use and it still continues popular, while scores of medicines for the same purpose have flourished for a year or so and are forgotten. If you have a cough or a cold call at Geen's Drugstore and procure a bottle.

GARDEN SEEDS.—For good and reliable garden and field seeds go to Geen's, Drugstore.

POLICE COURT.—There was no business before the Cadi this morning.

PROPS.—Fresh to strong westerly, northerly winds, continued fair cold weather.

PARLOR CONCERT.—A parlor concert in aid of the Organ Fund of Christ Church, will be given at the residence of J. W. Dunnet, Esq., on Tuesday the 5th of April.

LITTA.—The plan will be open at Reynold's at 10 a. m. on Monday next, March 28th. Parties who have signed the guarantee list will please take notice, in order to secure good location.

CLEAN UP.—Now is the time when every house-keeper should see to it that his back yards and premises are thoroughly cleansed. By doing this a great deal of trouble may be saved, and doctors bills avoided.

THE MARKET.—The attendance at the market to day was not as large as it usually is on Saturdays. The price of butter is still high, with appearance of a decline. Eggs are lower, selling at from 11 to 13 cents. Vegetables and meats were unchanged.

THE MADOC TRAIN SERVICE.—It is expected that about the middle of next month there will be two trains a day between Madoc and this city, and other points on the line of the Grand Junction. Connection will be made at the Madoc Junction, where the turn-table is now being put in.

A WANT.—The following from an exchange is given a local application by changing one word: About seventy-nine young men of all shapes and sizes, from the tall graceful dandy with the baseball moustache (one on a side) down to the little hump-backed, carroty-headed, weasel-eyed upstart. The object is to form a Gaping Corps to be in attendance at the church doors on each Sabbath before the commencement of divine service to stare at the females as they enter and to make delicate and gentlemanly remarks on their person and dress. All who wish to enlist in the above corps will appear at the various church doors next Sabbath morning, where they will be duly inspected and their names, personal appearance and quantity of brains registered in a book kept for that purpose, and published in THE ONTARIO. To prevent a general rush it will be well to state that none will be enlisted possessing intellectual capacity superior to that of a well-bred donkey.

—Verdi's new opera., "Simon Boccanegra," is reported to have met with grand success at Milan, where it was produced on Thursday night.

From our own Correspondent.

NOTES FROM DESERONTO.

Rural Dean Baker is in Belleville.

Mr. Davis has full charge of boats, mills, and shops.

The concert Thursday night, in aid of Presbyterian building fund—a success.

Rathbun has pressed five hundred tons of hay for home and American markets.

The flour mill is running over time, and cannot fill orders in time, having so much to do.

Mr. Garrison will complete his contract on the English church as soon as weather settles.

Hay clear of ice from lighthouse to wharf. If it keeps fine weather for ten days, mills will be running.

There is talk of running the sash factory night and day, to catch up, being over crowded with work.

Dr. Newton talks of going to the Old Country in the fall, for a few months, to practice in the Hospitals.

Messrs. Wager & Conger, of Napanee, have contracted with Messrs. Rathbun & Son to build five houses in 12 weeks, for the sum of twenty-five hundred dollars.

John Silor, late foreman of the machine shop, has gone to Kingston. J. Whitton has taken his place. Mr. Johnson of Kingston, takes Whitton's place in the big mill.

Yours &c.
BLACK WALNUT.

From our own Correspondent.

STIRLING ITEMS.

A public market place is absolutely necessary here to keep pace with other city-like institutions which our village is rapidly inaugurating.

Dr. Faulkiner, one of the best financiers in the North Riding, is about starting a branch bank in connection with the Bank of Commerce. This will supply a want long felt by business men in these parts. Business will commence Monday 28th inst.

The roads are drying up finely, and every indication is favorable for farmers to commence their work very soon.

Dr. (?) Campbell, well known throughout Seymour Township and this vicinity, dame rumor says, is practising medicine across the line. The exact locality of his station is evidently not disturbed by the invasions of his old enemies, the spice of the College of Physicians & Surgeons.

I, some few months ago, in one of my contributions, mentioned a few wants of our town, and two of there wants are today supplied. I will repeat the remaining ones, viz: One or two woollen factories, a butcher shop, car shops, and machine shops of every description; for if the water privilege of Rawdon Creek is not sufficient, I am assured that a supply from Oak Hill pond (or lake) would afford an immense and permanent power to any such factory or shop. Since it is positive that we are to have a railway from Trenton to bisect the Grand Junction near our station, I cannot see why our town does not possess equal advantages to Campbellford, whose factories are its pride.

There are four applications for tavern and two for shop licenses. The number is the same as for last year. McCormick, late of Harold Hotel, Marmora Road, is contemplating the purchase of Forest House, Springbrook, Marmora Road.

Five of the best scholars of our Public School are studying Latin and advanced studies, with the intention of matriculating in Medicine. Their zeal and scholary attainments are decidedly praiseworthy, and their future alma mater will justly be proud of them.

Our village has sustained a loss in the departure of Mr. Herbert Mottashed, for several years with Dr. Parker in the drug business. Mr. M. is a brother to Hugh Mottashed, of the Dafoe House. He goes to Dundas.

We do want here, in addition to the necessities above enumerated (shops, furnaces, factories, &c.) a few superfluities, such as a lodge of Oddfellows, a society of the Ancient Order of Foresters, Knights of Pythias, Ancient Order of United Workmen, St. George's, St. Andrew's and St. Patrick's Societies, and not least a Mechanics' Institute. Can not some high and exalted, puissant Knight of one of the above conclaves come up to survey the field?

The late Napier Mayhew, who died recently at Campbellford from exposure and the effects of the prolonged use of intoxicants, and who led a wandering life, earning a poor living by selling pills of his own make, was some 15 years ago in the same class (Sophomore) at Victoria College with the writer of this article. In just praise to his merits it must be said that he ranked very high as a brilliant scholar, having only one superior to him.—G. W. Bigger, M. A., a very prominent barrister of Toronto. Our class was also composed of two gentlemen who are now barristers of Belleville.

For variety and style and price, there is not a House in the country to compare with James Hennessy for Tweeds and Coatings in Scotch, English, French and Canadian. He has stocks of them ranging in price from 25c. to $5 per yard. It is the cheapest Dry Goods and Clothing House in this city.

Mores et Proficio.—The public have been so often deceived by representations made through the advertising columns, that if an announcement is made offering unusual inducements, it is considered at once as a "blow" and no further attention paid to it. I believe it pays to advertise providing the truth is told. If the advertiser is not able to carry out the inducements offered to the public it is but a waste of money and printer's ink. I have this season endeavored to secure goods suitable for a first-class trade and I think an examination will bear me out in asserting that I have a stock of hats for style, finish, and price second to none in the Province. I have imported this spring direct from two of the largest hat dealers in the States, (Clarks Bros., New York, and John B. Stetson & Co. Philadelphia) all the new American styles in soft and stiff hats. I have the spring styles in silk and pull over hats made expressly for my trade.

IRELAND.

The Land League Condemned at Home.

NEW YORK, March 26.—The World's London special says the Poor Law Guardian elections, just held throughout Ireland, resulted disastrously for the Land League. Its candidates were defeated almost everywhere.

AMERICAN.

A PARTY COMPROMISE OFFERED.

Resisting the Raising of Rents.

A CANOE CRUISE OF 3,000 MILES.

Disagreement at a Land League Meeting.

NEW YORK, March 26.—Washington specials to the Sun say it was announced last night that the Republicans intimated their willingness to abandon the effort to elect officers of the Senate if the Democrats will give assurance that they will not oppose a change next December.

The Times finds a law, passed in 1862 and repeatedly amended and enlarged thereafter, gives the Secretary of Treasury authority to borrow $150,000,000 on certificates of deposit, as a temporary loan. The Times says this authority, with the ability to redeem $150,000,000 of maturing bonds within the coming ten months, from available funds, and anticipated revenue, nearly half of aggregate maturing bonds can be taken care of without additional legislation, and in a manner profitable to the Government without issuing the remainder of 4 per cents.

NEW YORK, March 26.—Charles Y. Chandler, while driving a spirited horse near Central Park yesterday was thrown from the carriage by a runaway and suffered very serious injuries. Officer Troy stopped the runaway heorically, though dragged and kicked until unconscious.

A meeting of 2,000 persons, a large proportion Germans, was held last evening to take measures to prevent the raising of rents. A committee was selected to devise plans for resisting the landlords. The committee will probably seek to co-operate with the Irish Land Leaguers.

Ex-Governor William Beach Lawrence died early this morning.

Charles E. Chase left New York yesterday for a canoe cruise of 3,000 miles. The route embraces the Alleghany, Ohio, Mississippi and Rockey Rivers to Pewaunkee, railroad to Milwaukee, canoe across Lake Michigan, steamer to Kingston, canoe down the St. Lawrence and Richelieu Rivers, Lakes Champlain and George, reaching New York by way of Hudson River.

At the sale of Moore & Curtis' collection of pictures last night, 82 pictures brought $27,400. Sarah Bernhardt's "Spanish Girl" was started at a dollar, and sold for thirty-five dollars.

An excitement was created at Cadet Whitaker's trial yesterday by a decided disagreement of experts, Southworth and Hagan, regarding the pencil marks on note of warning. Their tracings were radically different.

The Tribune says a general meeting of city delegates of the Irish National Land League was held last evening for the purpose of adopting a new constitution. Michael Bresten presided. The document submitted by the committee as a constitution, developed a bitter feeling and resulted in the greatest confusion. The Chairman came and tore the proposed instrument into bits, denounced the meeting and resigned. The scene ended by an adjournment.

40 YEARS

PERRY DAVIS'

PAIN-KILLER

HAS ACTED THE

GOOD PHYSICIAN

In Curing Cholera
and all Summer Complaints,
Cramps and Pains in the Stomach,
Sudden Colds, also for Scalds, Burns,
Bruises, Sprains, Chilblains, Boils, Rheumatic Affections, Neuralgia, Toothache, Pains in the Joints or Limbs, Stings of Insects, &c., &c., &c.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS!

The Pain-Killer is recommended by Physicians, Ministers, Missionaries, Managers of Factories, Workshops, Plantations, Nurses in Hospitals,—in short, by everybody everywhere who has ever given it a trial.

The Pain-Killer is prepared from the best and purest materials with the most approved appliances that can be had for money, and a care that insures the most perfect uniformity. No expense is spared to make it what it is, superior to all would-be competitors, a thoroughly reliable killer of pain. Instantaneous in action, harmless and one of the most unskilful hands.

SUBSTITUTES.

The public are cautioned against a custom which is growing quite common of late among a certain class of medicine dealers, and which is this: When asked for a bottle of Pain-Killer, they suddenly discover that they are "sold out," "but have another article just as good, if not better," which they will supply at the same price. The object of this deception is transparent. These substitutes are made up to sell on the great reputation of the Pain-Killer; and being compounded of the vilest and cheapest Drugs, are bought by the dealer at about half what he pays for the genuine Pain-Killer, which enables him therefore to realize a few cents more profit per bottle upon the imitation article than he can on the genuine.

BEWARE OF SUBSTITUTES!

FOR CHOLERA, CHOLERA MORBUS,

As well as all Summer Complaints of a similar nature, the Pain-Killer acts with wonderful rapidity and never fails when taken at the commencement of an attack, and often cures after every other remedy has failed. If you reside in a country place far from a physician, the Pain-Killer can be relied upon; it never fails.

FOR SUDDEN COLDS, SORE THROAT, &c.

The proverb "A stitch in time saves nine," is never so well illustrated as in the treatment of these complaints. A teaspoonful of Pain-Killer taken at the beginning of an attack will prove a certain cure and save much suffering.

TOOTHACHE, BURNS, SCALDS, CUTS, BRUISES, &c.

The Pain-Killer will be found a willing physician, ready and able to relieve your suffering without delay, and at a very insignificant cost.

GOOD FOR MAN AND BEAST.

For Colic, Cramps and Dysentery in horses, the Pain-Killer has no equal, and it has never been known to fail to effect a cure in a single instance. It is used in some of the largest livery stables and horse infirmaries in the world. To resuscitate young lambs or other stock chilled and dying from cold, a little Pain-Killer mixed with milk will restore them to health very quickly.

The Pain-Killer is for sale by Druggists, Apothecaries, Grocers and Medicine Dealers throughout the world.

The Pain-Killer is put up in 2 oz. and 5 oz. bottles, retailing at 25 and 50 cents respectively,—large bottles are therefore cheapest.

Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once a great and healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of foul-ing the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. An occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous, and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not hurt it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white, canbric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

A GREAT CAUSE OF HUMAN MISERY

IS THE LOSS OF

MANHOOD

We have recently published a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage etc., resulting from excesses.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cts. or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practise, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

The Lecture should be in the hand of every youth and every man in the land.

Address,

KNOW THYSELF.

THE untold miseries that a result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; or, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than fifty valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practise, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth, price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says, "No persons should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nervo-specialist, and therefore knew where of he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon. P. A. BISSELL, M. D., President of the National Medical Association.

Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass. The author HEAL THYSELF may be consulted, on all diseases requiring skill and experience.

MARCH WINDS. The sudden changes and high winds which, prevail in March makes a bottle of Down's Elixir always necessary to have at hand. It is a sure cure for sudden colds and all lung diseases.

BAXTER'S MANDRAKE BITTERS will cure all bilious Diseases. Sold everywhere at 25 cts. per bottle. Try it.

The best remedy for strains and galls on horses is HENRY & JOHNSON'S ARNICA and OIL LINIMENT. Good for man and beast.

In the French rank of Anæmia tonics and anti-periodics stands Northrop & Lyman's Quinine Wine. The weak, the nervous, the dyspeptic, never vainly seek its aid; sufferers from bilious, remittent, and intermittent fever, are surely rescued by it from the malarial scourge. Its taste is agreeable, its ingredients do not number one that is deleterious. The sherry which imparts to it an agreeable wine-flavor, is eminently pure, and serves to diffuse throughout the system its fine medicinal properties. It revives failing appetite, is conducive to sleep, and promotes regular secretion and evacuation. The nervous and dyspeptic, as it is well known, are often troubled with a degree of melancholy which in many cases reaches the stage of actual hypochondria. As the stomach regains its tone and the nerves recover their vigor, through the action of the Quinine Wine, this failing gradually wears off, and cheerfulness resumes its sway. Persons who are convalescing after an exhausting disease, should take it in properly regulated doses, as it is master ally assists, thus taken, the restoration of vigor, which, without its rid might be tediously slow. Fever and ague and bilious, remittent sufferers should take it only during the absence of the feverish symptoms. Such persons, whose digestion is out of order, gain bodily substance as well as strength by its use. Use none but the Quinine Wine manufactured by Northrop & Lyman of Toronto, which can be procured of any druggist.

DAILY ONTARIO

OF COURSE SHE FAILED.

"So she's all broken up, eh?" replied a Detroit landlady when she heard of the failure of another woman in the same business in Toledo. "Well, I knew it was only a question of time. I was in her house for a week, and I saw plainly that she had no economy about her. I tell you, a landlady must think and plan."

"Yes."

"Not only in great things, but in small. There's philosophy in running a boarding house."

"How?"

"Well, I can't stop to tell you more than one instance. I have buckwheat pancakes every morning for fourteen boarders. They use butter on their cakes. I keep the butter on ice until it is as hard as a rock. The cakes are all placed on the table, not smoking hot, but mildly warm—just warm enough to soften the outside of a lump of butter. In this way I make a saving of two pounds of butter per week over the usual way of cooking on cold cakes. That's only 52 pounds in a hundred, but the landlady who doesn't play more or less of them must ultimately come to grief."

"BY EXPRESS."

Says the Portland Oregonian: He came into the telegraph-office with streaks of tobacco juice running from each corner of his mouth, making amber-colored divisions through his grizzled, dirty beard. It was evident from his dress and demeanor that he was unused to city life, and that he was a stranger. Approaching the counter, he asked;

"Is this the express-office?"

Manager Thatcher, with customary suavity, replied:

"No, sir. You will find the express-office right next door."

The old man left, but returned in a minute or two, and said:

"Them fellows in yonder are mistaken, or else you are. I want to express a few words to Seio."

Thatcher replied, "You want to telegraph, don't you?"

Bringing his fist to the counter with a force that shook it, he joyfully exclaimed, "Yes, that's it. Telegraph! Hang me, I didn't think of that word!"

GETTING SQUARE WITH A BURSTED BANK.

During the bank mania in the West, when every little village and hamlet boasted its bank, one of these public "accommodations" sprung up in Mount Vernon, Ohio, under the cognomen of "Owl Creek Bank," taking its name from a small but beautiful stream passing through the village.

The affairs of the institution went on swimmingly for a short time, but a short time only. Like all its kindred of money representation, it was destined inevitable. A morning or two after this impression had come to light, a mysterious-looking person, wrapped up to his eyes in a cloak, presented himself at the counter of the bank, tendering some of their bills, and demanded, in a serious manner, their redemption in gold or silver. He was told the bank had neither. He then demanded Eastern funds.

"No funds on hand," was the brief reply.

"Can you," said the mysterious person, "give me a few tolerably well executed counterfeit notes on solvent banks? I would prefer them to this trash."

This was a home-thrust not to be submitted to.

"Out of the bank you insulting puppy?"

"Hold! I may have made some mistake. Am I right in supposing myself in the office of the Owl Creek Bank?"

"Yes, sir."

"I have then my revenge for the loss of my money—I have just shot your president"—at the same time throwing on the counter, from under his cloak, a large hooting owl.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice having had placed in his hands by an East Indian missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt in his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relief human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French or English. BAPTIST MINISTER'S EXPERIENCE

I am a Baptist Minister and before I even thought of being a clergyman graduated in medicine but left a lucrative practice for my present profession, 40 years ago. I was for many years a sufferer from quinsy, "Thomas Eclectric Oil cured me," I was also troubled with hoarseness and Thomas Eclectric Oil always relieved me. My wife and child had Diphtheria, and "Thomas Eclectric Oil cured them" and if asked in time it will cure every time out of ten. I am confident it is a cure for the most obstinate Cold, or Cough and if any one will take a small teaspoon, and half fill it with the Oil and then place of the spoon in one nostril and draw the Oil out of the spoon into the head by sniffing as hard as they can until the Oil falls over into the throat and practice that twice a week, I don't care how offensive their hen cramp is, it will clean it out and cure their Catarrh. For Deafness and Earache it has done wonders to my certain knowledge. It is the only medicine dubbed patent medicine that I have ever felt like recommending and I am veryanxious to see it in every place, and tell you that I would not be without it in my house for any consideration, I am now suffering with a pain like Sciatica in my right limb and soth releaves me like Thomas Eclectric Oil.

—FOR—

EMIGRANTS,

An Immense Area of Railroad and Government Lands, of great fertility, within easy reach of permanent markets at extremely low prices, is now offered for sale in Eastern Oregon and Eastern Washington Territory.

These lands form part of the great Grain Belt of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 250 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded for all parts of the world.

Grain at Portland, Oregon, commands a price equal to that obtained in Chicago.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R. R. is now assured, and guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the construction of the network of Railroads of railroad by the O. R. & N. Co., in the valleys of the Great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the lands now open to purchase or preemption. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future.

Lands show an average yield of 40 bushels of wheat per acre. No failure of crops ever known.

Railroad Lands offered at the uniform rate of $2.50 an acre.

67th & Woodland Ave., Philadelphia, Pa. Jan. 22, 1877.
Wm. M. Giles, Esq.—Dear Sir: Your favor of Jan. 20th, 77, just received, and I thank you for the information therein. I have been giving the mare a tonic powder in the morning and a little salt petre, pulverized in a mash, at night, and using Liniment freely over her back, loins and limbs. I procured the quart bottle from Johnson, Holloway & Co., and am satisfied that the trouble across the loins and kidneys is fast disappearing. The stifle lameness, I am pretty well satisfied, has been done for sometime. I intend to give her the nitre trial, when I know how to do), and then with the powders put her in good condition—meanwhile trying your Liniment on the stifle joint, or in the loins and hip, whichever it may be. To prove that your Liniment and the rest are doing good—broke one shoe she was on, and I don't think you will get that mare all right, and if you do, why, I'm stuck!" Again thanking you for your prompt reply,
I am respectfully yours,
Geo. K. Cavmkaux.

P. S.—If the mare gets all right, you will hear from you.—G. K. C.

Ryan's Cocoa.—Grateful and Comforting.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. Throat & Lung INSTITUTE,
M. HILTON WILLIAMS, M.D. and S. L. NASH, M.D. Prop's.
Permanently established at the
Dafoe House, BELLEVILLE,
For the cure of all the various diseases of the Head, Throat and Chest, including the Eye, Ear and Heart.

But a few weeks or months are required to cure the most obstinate cases of Catarrh, Throat diseases, Asthma, Bronchitis, and the Consumption. Consumption when the treatment is conducted under the Doctor's own personal supervision. A word to the wise is sufficient—Call early.
All diseases of the respiratory organs treated by medical inhalations.
Inhalations consist in hepetization by dissolving the hardened matter existing in the air cells of the lungs, thus enabling the patient to expectorate it with ease, at the same time giving the diseased surface an opportunity to heal.
Inhalations scatter inflammation and soothe the inflamed surface, thus relieving a harassing cough almost immediately.
Inhalations absorb the fleshy excrescences that exist upon the pharyngeal surface in cases of granulated throat, and restore the proper vitality of the parts, thus relieving the process of the throat and the sensation as if needles were penetrating the mucous membrane of the pharynx.
Inhalations cure the most obstinate cases of catarrh when combined with proper constitutional and other topical treatment.
In fact, Inhalations will cure thousands of cases of the breathing organs when all other means have failed.
Let there be no delay, then, in application for the treatment that has stood the test and proved again and again the only hope—the only reliable safeguard and means of restoration.
Consultation free and prices within the reach of all.
The very best of references given from all parts of Canada from those already cured. Remedies sent to any part of Ontario.
If possible, call personally at the office for consultation and examination, but if impossible to do so, write for "List of Questions" and "Medical Treatise." Address

Curious Modes of Agriculture.—Mines and Mining.—A Brilliant Letter from Our Western Correspondent.

MESILLA, NEW MEXICO,
March 7, 1881.

The denizens of this strange city and the surrounding country are a curious study. This letter will be devoted to giving your readers some idea of their habits in the matter of modes of agriculture. The Mesilla valley from which this city takes its name in one of the most famous in New Mexico for its agricultural products. It extends along the Rio Grande for seventy-five miles and having an elevation of near 4000 feet the air is permeated with electricity and ozone making it a sanitarium which is visited by thousands affected with asthma bronchial and pulmonary diseases. The climate is superb, the thermometer never reaching zero. Snow economically never falls. Such are general views. But he thought it would be advisable to amalgamate with the Womenhood Christian Association.
Ald. Petrie having retired from the meeting, there was no quorum present.
The Chairman—It's too bad; we'll report the proceedings of the minority of the Committee.
Ald. Vandusen—No; we must have a quorum, and I am sorry that we have not had to treating the ladies unfairly as this Committee does not make a report to the Council on Monday evening next.
After some irregular discussions, it was decided to adjourn the meeting until in... morrow (Wednesday) evening.

THE LITTA CONCERTS.

Lovers of music who did not attend the Litta concerts at the Grand Opera House on Saturday have reason to regret that absence. A more judicious selection ... artists for a company of the kind is ... ge often made, and for many years past ... has rarely had a combination of male ... cal talent that gave as much general satisfaction as did this company on Saturday ... ng. Carbonero's were Mlle. Marie Le... to the time of monotonous music. We approach and in our "half-grown Spanish" ask why this merry-making, and are told that it is "the harvest festival." The God of the Aztecs has smiled upon the cereals and the harvest has been abundant. At a little distance we have left the process of threshing out the grain is going on. Shades of Coronado! How antiquated! A circular enclosure is made by driving poles side by side and tied together into the earth. The hard ground has been swept clean and the wheat to be threshed is spread upon it. Within are a dozen goats and as many children who are dancing and laughing and driving the frightened animals round and round the arena, while now and then a halt is made to allow the young people to feed the animals on the straw, when off again scamper the goats and children. This is kept up for several days when the straw is removed and the plump grain gathered into bowl-shaped grass, baskets, to be picked over, winnowed and cleaned by the women. The harvest time is always a gay season, and all the young people join in the festivities. Now let me show you one of their agricultural implements. You will, I fear laugh but you must not let them see you. Here are a pair of ponies of our city who first visited me expressed their opinions in the brief but hopeless words, "Take good care of yourself for a few days you'll be sick." Now we consider them help "you." A grow steadily worse under their treatment. One day, through reading your Monumental Book, I learned of the Golden Medical Discovery. With but little hope of relief, I purchased a bottle and took it. To my surprise and delight I found it helped me from the first, and by the time I had taken the year around. I am now steadily using it with benefit and recommend it to all to be just what it is advertised,
Sincerely yours, JAS. P. McGRATH,
50 Wight Street.

Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam is composed of the most healing balsams and gums. Balsams, which enter into its composition, were used by the natives when America was discovered, and are combined with a vegetable tonice, so blended together, that it is a specific for all affections of the throat and lungs. Thousands of bottles are used annually, and it is considered one of the standard preparations of the day.

Ask Fifty Ladies in succession what Forfeens they consider the most delicate, the most pure and salubrious, the most permanent, and in all respects the most desirable, and Forty-nine of them will answer, Murray & Lanman's Florida Water.

Allen's Lung Balsam—Is warranted to break up the most troublesome cough in an incredible short time. There is no remedy that can show more evidence of real merit than this Balsam for curing Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Croup, &c.

Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam; a few doses relieves the most distressing cough, and a twenty-five cent bottle has cured many a sufferer from Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, Influenza, Hoarseness and soreness of the Chest. It is the great specific for all throat and lung complaints leading to Consumption.

Since vitality or nervous strength is engendered most speedily be the use of Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites, it is the remedy calculated not only to mitigate the violence of wasting diseases, and induce a rapid recovery, but to heal those such as we ... it from being attacked by epidemic maladies.

For the cure of Rheumatism and kindred affections, we are satisfied that there is no medicine or treatment equal to the use of Bristol's Sarsaparilla and Pills. The cures performed by those two remedies have astonished even us, with all our knowledge of their virtues, and we venture nothing in saying that they are absolute specifics in this class of diseases.

"Hall beautcous, bounteous, gladsome"—this was Mark Twain's prize poem—but the dire diseases incident to Spring, spoil the romance. Burdock Blood Bitters is the only remedy, the remedy prized. All those who have tried it as the best Blood Purifying Tonic and System Regulator in the market. It cures all Blood Humors from the worst Scrofula to a common Pimple. Sample Bottles 10 Cents, for sale by all dealers in medicine.

Farmers and Mechanics.—Provide yourselves with a bottle of Pain-Killer at this season of the year, when summer complaints are so prevalent; it is a prompt, safe, and sure cure. Bodfish, Esq., of Wareham, Mass: "As a remedy for lung affections, I consider Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry the per excellence of all the numerous patent medicines, and would be foremost in recommending it to my friends who may be afflicted. My mother and sister have both made use of the Balsam, and with effect has far exceeded our most sanguine expectations, completely restoring the former, to the surprise of her numerous friends, of a hard, dry cough which had nearly broken her down. Spalding's Glue is like this smart girl; bring it home and it sticks forever.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

And now it is Mr. Parnell, the boss agitator, that is to marry an American heiress. He is a bachelor, but has found his affinity.

Oscar de Lafayette, grandson of General Lafayette, who was expected to be one of the French representatives at the Yorktown centenary, is dead.

The Globe's commissioners to enquire into the working of the Maine Law where in operation, have made their first report. It is interesting reading, anyway.

Toronto firemen are reported to have been on the street with their reel thirteen seconds after the first stroke of the bell. That is almost equal to the performances of the New York experts.

Mr. Asmead Bartlett-Coutts, husband of the Baroness Burdett-Coutts, will, it is said, oppose Mr. Bradlaugh's second election in Northampton, on the high Tory Ticket. He will be beaten.

Mr. Joseph Arch, well-known for his connection with the agricultural laborer unions, is assisting Parnell in his organization of Land Leagues in England. The movement is not popular there.

The Rev. H. S. Baldwin, of Toronto, and formerly of Belleville, has been offered a salary double that he is now receiving to induce him to retire from his present charge. He has refused the tempting offer.

There are indications of a split in the Republican ranks that may give President Garfield some trouble. The Grant or Conkling faction is dissatisfied with the appointments that have been made, and threaten to raise a big row.

The Lawson-Labouchere libel suit has brought out the interesting fact that the Daily Telegraph has a circulation of 220,000 copies; that its advertising produces from £500 to £600 daily; its sales over £600; and that its paper mills, besides what they save to the proprietors, make a profit of £10,000 yearly.

The British authorities are making a great effort to capture the three Irish Americans, suspected of complicity in the Mansion House outrage. Two of them are on the continent, and the third is supposed to be a passenger on board the steamship Australasian, en route to New York. Another effort will be made to intercept her before she reaches her destination.

PRESIDENT GARFIED'S views on the Mormon question are emphatic and unequivical. He is reported to have said within a day or two to a Senator:—"Polygamy must end—shall be stamped out. This plague spot on our institutions must be banished. I ask you, as my friend, to take your stand in the Senate and fight this evil until it is crushed out of existence. We must, however, save from illegitimacy the 70,000 children born in Utah of polygamous parents. I feel bound to do this because two of my predecessors (Buchanan and Fillmore) saw fit to recognize the institution by the appointment of Brigham Young, the head of the church, Governor of the territory." If the President succeeds in stamping out this disgrace to the American people he will have achieved glory enough for one Administration.

THE REV. JOHN MAY, M. A., Inspector of Public Schools in Carleton County, has got himself into hot water by writing for the press an injudicious article attacking the Methodist denomination. He seems to hold the ministers and adherents of this body in a very low estimation, and expresses his deep regret that there are so many people in the rural sections of this country who have never even seen a surplice, much less a regular service in the Church. At an anniversary meeting of the British and Foreign Bible Society, held a few years ago in Exter Hall, the Earl of Shaftesbury, who presided, when introducing one of the leading Methodist ministers, spoke in the most complimentary manner of the good that that church was effecting, and deeply regretted he said that a separation from the Established Church had been considered necessary. The noble Bishop of London who subsequently spoke, dissented from the Earl's opinion on the question of separation, and said that he believed the establishment of the Methodist Church was the work of Divine Providence, and had been made a blessing both to the English Church and to the world. Mr. May does not agree with Professor Goldwin Smith in his estimate of the power of Methodism, and in his views as to the possible destiny he believes to be before her. How great-fallen the Editor of the Bystander will feel when he reads the eloquent and Christ-like language of the man to whom the Ontario Government engrusts the educational interests of Carleton.

—The sloop John Wesley, of this port, is having a new mainmast and jib made at Kingston.

THE EXODUS.

As with the tariff so with the exodus question, figures are against the Government. The following returns, sent to the U. S. Treasury Department by Customs Collectors at border ports, represent the number of persons entering the United States from Canada during each of the ten years mentioned:

1871	3,284
1872	3,176
1873	2,700
1874	2,700
1875	2,280
1876	2,000

It will be observed that for 1875-6-7 and 8—four years entirely under a Reform Government—the emigration was smaller than before or since, during the period mentioned. In 1879 the number went up to 38,768, being 5,000 in excess of previous year. But it remained for 1880, when the N. P. began to be felt throughout the country, to roll up an exodus of 103,120—more than three times the number that left Canada for the United States during either of the four years of Reform rule. The Tories wince under this exhibition, but insist that the above figures do not properly represent the number of Canadians that left the country in 1880. We have no objection to their contention, inasmuch as whatever rule is applied to that year's returns must be equally applicable to the preceding years. If a certain per centage of the emigrants from Canada to the States in 1880 were foreigners, the same percentage will hold good for 1875-8. We repeat what a contemporary has said—manipulate the figures as the Tories please, the fact remains that the exodus during the regime of the Mackenzie Government was not what it was before, and has been since. The local Tory organ is requested to deal with the above figures.

QUEBEC AND LIBERALISM.

The elect ors of certain Quebec constituencies have voted support to the Government, and we suppose, so far as they understood the matter, the Pacific Syndicate contract. No so Ontario.

The above are introductory sentences to an article in the Montreal Witness on the East Northumberland election. They serve as a text for us to further refer to the Mail's boast of the redemption of certain constituencies in Quebec. The political elements in our sistar province are subject to influences that are directly antagonistic to the spirit and teaching of Liberalism. Ultramontanism, which has been and is now a power not to be despised, is yoked with Conservatism in Quebec, and is employed to the fullest extent when an election is pending. The province has been strongly Conservative for many years, and the verdict of constituencies during by-elections cannot be taken as an unbiased expression of public opinion, so far as any great political question is concerned. Mr. Joly had a temporary lease of power in the Local Legislature, but this was owing more to the public disapproval of the corruption and incapacity of the De Boucherville Government, than to any party changes. The mass of the voters in Quebec do not study politics with as much intelligence and independence as do those of Ontario and the Maritime Provinces. They submit to be influenced by their spiritual advisers, who for the most part are in sympathy with Conservatism. We readily admit that there are worthy exceptions to this rule, and many of the Quebec Liberals have won honorable distinction as champions of civil and religious liberty. Liberalism, however, has doughty opponents among the Ultramontanes, and we have lost but little ground since 1876, when they took a decided stand in shaping the political destinies of the Province of Quebec. A general election, with all the constituencies open at the same time, and a concentration of public opinion on the leading questions of the day, would show a different result from that of isolated by-contests. The Mail is welcome to all the consolation it can extract from the success of its party in Agenteuil, Charlevoix, Brome and Bellechasse. When Ontario, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and Prince Edward Island pass judgment upon the general policy of the present Government the organ will understand the situation exactly. Reformers are willing to abide by the result of a general election, which is not far off.

MR. CROUTER NOT AN ORANGEMAN

Conservative papers try hard to account for the crushing defeat of their candidate in East Northumberland. The local party organ repeats the silly references to the Irish Canadian, and others back up its assertions by making Mr. Crouter, the member elect, an Orangeman. We have the authority of a gentleman who lives a near neighbor to Mr. C. for stating that the latter is not an Orangeman, nor is he a member of any secret society. It will not require much time to expose all the ridiculous positions the Tories have placed themselves in, and the utter humiliation endured under the defeat they experienced. Herculean efforts were put forth to save East Northumberland, as the Opposition had urged on the contest and challenged a verdict on the Government policy. The result of the voting was such a disappointment as to stagger the whole party. "Under the circumstances," therefore, as the Mail would say, we are prepared for preposterous statements.

DEATH OF A FAMOUS DWARF.—The funeral of John Lewis, the famous dwarf, occurred at Watertown, Wis., on Friday. He died on Monday of congestion of the stomach, aged 24. His height was twenty-seven inches, average weight nineteen pounds. He was a perfect little man in every respect. He was born at Ixonia, near there, of Welsh parents, and was the eldest of seven children, all the others being of ordinary size. He spoke both English and Welsh fluently, and was a good scholar.

UNIFORM PROMOTION EXAMINATIONS IN NORTH HASTINGS.

The following conclusions have been arrived at by the Committee of the Teachers' Association appointed to make arrangements for establishing uniform promotion examinations:

1. Written examinations shall be held to test fitness for promotion to the Junior Third, Senior Third, Fourth and Fifth classes.

2. The necessary examination papers (with the exception mentioned below) shall be prepared by the inspector, or by persons (not connected with the schools) whom he may appoint.

3. For promotion to the Fifth class, the papers prepared by the Educational Department for the High School Entrance Examination, shall, as in the past, be used.

4. The examinations for promotion to the Fifth and Fourth classes shall be held in Madoc, Stirling and Marmora, on the days set for the High School Entrance Examination, and shall be conducted by a Committee to be appointed by the Association.

The examinations for promotion to the Junior and Senior Third classes shall be held in each school house, one week before the examinations for the higher classes, and shall be conducted by the teacher of the school.

5. To defray expenses connected with the printing of the examination questions, &c., each teacher shall be expected to remit, at least six weeks before the examinations, fifty cents to the Treasurer of the Association (Miss Riddell, Madoc). This sum should, of course, be procured from the School Trustees.

6. No pupil shall be promoted to the Junior Third, Senior Third or Fourth class who does not obtain 50 per cent. of the total marks attainable and 25 per cent. of the marks assigned to each subject. For promotion to the Fifth class, 50 and 33⅓ will be the per centages required, in accordance with the Departmental regulations for the High School examination.

7. Trustees are particularly requested to make arrangements for one, or more, of their number being present during the examinations for the promotion to the Third classes.

PERSONALS.

—The Prince of Wales has been re-elected Grand Master of the Freemasons of England.

—Mr. J. W. Johnson, we regret to learn, is confined to his bed by illness. He is the victim of a severe cold.

—Mr. T. J. Shanks, managing editor of the New York Witness, is visiting friends in this city and Kingston.

—Alexander McConnell has been appointed a License Commissioner for Addington in place of Michael McConnell, resigned.

—Ald Costello, who has been ill for some time with a severe bilious attack, is able to be out again, but not yet entirely recovered.

—Rev. E. P. Hammond is carrying Toronto by storm. He has even attacked the students of University College, and received an attentive hearing.

—Mr. Henry Pellman, of Shelby, Pellman & Hamilton arrived in the city from Buffalo yesterday. He with Mr. Hamilton will superintend the arrangements for their show.

—Mr. Hubbell, of Kingston, was in the city on Saturday, and visited the new yacht being built by Capt. Cuthbert. He thinks the frame indicates a good model and a fast sailer.

—Mr. Henderson, photographer of Kingston, who is in regular communication with the Kennedy family, does not credit the report that a son and two daughters perished in the opera house fire at Nice. He says the Kennedys were studying music at Milan and was not at Nice.

—Mr. Bodkin, the Irish giant from Kilcooney in the County of Galway, who is now the hero of Toronto society, says he doesn't fancy being shot; and so has left Ireland for his own good. He is represented as being a splendid specimen of "the human form divine," standing nearly seven feet in his stockings, and well proportioned. Mr. Bodkin has visited all the British colonies, and like Canada last, but objects to our winters, as being too much of the good thing.

AFTER A GLORIOUS VICTORY.

To the Editor of the ONTARIO,

Well, Mr. Editor,—the lion and the lamb will not lie down together just yet. The battle has been fought, and notwithstanding the strength of the opposing army, such as Grand Master Cochrane, Grand Master Bowell, Tom White, John White, and the notorious Rykert, a grand, triumphant victory has been gained by the Reform party in East Northumberland.

This attempt to bulldoze the Orangemen and Catholics has failed, not only in the present election, but I am safe in saying in all time to come in East Northumberland.

The day the polling took place our friend Mac could be seen walking up and down the streets of Trenton, occasionally smiling as he would meet one of his Tory friends, and then again a gloom would seem to come over him as though something was pressing heavily upon his mind.

When the news came pouring in of his utter defeat, some one said he was seen going in the direction of the City of Frankford, and thence through the county home. In fact, Mr. Editor, by 9 o'clock not a Tory could be found on the streets. Next morning a few of them could be seen with their hats pulled down over their eyes, and all they could say was, "Well, if it had not been for a number of Conservatives voting for Crouter he never would have gained the election." For this we feel very much obliged, and hope it is true.

A good story is being told (and for truth) of our friend Cochrane, who has been going the rounds arm and arm with Mr. Kennedy. Bright and early Mr. C. was on hand, and as soon as the polls were open he was the first man to record his vote. The returning officer being somewhat anxious to know how Mr. C. would vote, examined very closely the ballots, and to his surprise found the first one dropped in to be a blank, he not voting at all. Our Catholic friends are feeling very indignant about the matter, and so they may.

Now, Mr. Editor, what does all this prove? It simply confesses the truth of the statements that have often been made, that John A. and his party would deceive their very best friends, in order to carry the day.

A number of Tories have already been heard to remark, "Mr. C. need never show himself again on any political platform in Northumberland. If he does, he will be denounced by both Reformers and Conservatives.

I again repeat what I have already said. This election has been one of the grandest efforts towards strengthening the Reform cause that has ever taken place in any constituency. Yours &c.,

A VOTER.

Again there are times when it is prudent to leave her at the street corner.

UNSURPASSED.—The old and well known remedy "Holden's Expectorant" (for coughs and colds) is still unsurpassed. More than 20 years it has now been in use and it still continues popular, while reores of medicines for the same purpose have flourished for a year or so and are forgotten. If you have a cough or a cold call at Geen's Drugstore and procure a bottle.

GARDEN SEEDS.—For good and reliable garden and field seeds go to Geen's Drugstore.

PROBS.—Fresh to strong north easterly to north westerly winds, fair, continued cool weather.

VANDALISM.— Some time during last night a large portion of the fence on St. Thomas Church lot, Bridge Street, was knocked down and badly broken up.Sever. al times of late we have had occasion to call attention to acts of a similar kind, and we hope soon to hear of the arrest of the guilty parties.

MILLINERY OPENINGS.—To-morrow and Thursday Messrs. Brignall & Thompson will have their spring opening of millinery, mantles, &c., they being the first of the season. The other dry goods firms have been preparing for some time, and their announcements will be made in due season.

FIRE IN TORONTO.—Early yesterday morning a fire broke out in Meredith's stables, Front st., Toronto, which were consumed, and six fine horses smothered in their stalls. Loss over $2,000. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. Two cottages on Chesnutt. were also burned soon after.

RECOMENDED FOR POSITIONS.—On Wednesday last the officers of the 16th Battalion, Picton, held a meeting, and the matter of filling vacancies was discussed. Capt. J. R. Cunningham, of No. 8 Company, Amelisburgh, was recommended as junior Maior, and M. D. Strachan, late Sergeant-Major of the 47th Regiment, as Adjutant. It is altogether likely the bat talion will be ordered into brigade camp next summer.

WELCH COAL.—Some five years ago Col. Growski and Senator Macpherson, of Toronto, imported a quantity of Welsh anthracite coal, which was brought out by timber vessels as ballast, the freight being very light. It was then laid down in their yards a dollar cheaper than they could have bought it wholesale at the wharves. It gave a clear heat, lasted longer, and was cleaner than any other coal. There was no flint in it,and a furnace full burned away to a mere handful of white ashes. The Allan line steamships frequently bring it out in ballast, and lay it down in Montreal for $4 a ton. Should there be any demand for it, the masters of Canadian timber vessels will be only too glad to make a home cargo of it.

THE NEW BOATS.—This morning we paid a visit to Capt. Cuthbert's ship yard at the lower end of James street and were agreably surprised at seeing the progress made in the new steamer, now in course of erection for Mr. Wallace Crawford, of Bowmanville. The planking is all done, and the cabin will be on in a few days. The model is a very handsome one, and we have no doubt whatever the little steamer will be what she was built for, a fast sailer. Capt. Cuthbert will have his part of the work done in a couple of weeks from now, and the Martin Bros., of this city, who are building her machinery, will be ready by the time he is done, so that the new boat will be ready for the opening of navigation. Her dimensions are 80 feet long, 14 ft. beam, and she will have a draught of 4½ feet of water. She will have a general cabin, ladies cabin, and state-rooms, all of which will be nicely finished and upholstered. The upper deck will be covered with an awning, with seats around the side. The whole of the work thus far is as clean as a whistle, and we have no hesitator a saying that the craft will be equal, if not superior to any other of the kind on fresh water. As soon as the steamer is finished, the work on the large yacht, now well under way, will be hurried forward to completion. The frame work is nearly all up, 30 of the ribs being now in place, and the builder expects to have her completed by 1st of June. She will be the largest sloop-rigged yacht on fresh water,being 94 tons burthen, and the celebrated yachtsman anticipates a good record from her.

THE MARKET.—There was a fair attendance at the market this morning. Prices were about the same as for the past week.

HAY.—A very large quantity of hay was exposed for sale on the market this morning, more than on any day for some time previously. The price was about the same as for some weeks past.

THE CROSSING.—Prince Edward people who crossed the ice to-day report it as being perfectly safe. It is decaying rapidly, however, and a few days will make it dangerous.

AND STILL ANOTHER.—Mr. T. Muir announces his millinery opening for Wednesday, April 6th. Miss Lawrence has been unsparing in her efforts to secure a fine stock for the season's trade.

SPECIAL SERVICES.—The special services at the Baptist Church will be continued during this week. Rev. Geo. Richardson, of Haldimand, will preach this evening. Service at 7:30. All are cordially invited.

ATTENTION.—We direct attention to the advertisement of Geo. Ritchie & Co., in another column. They announce their spring opening of millinery mantles, feathers, &c., for Wednesday, April 6th. The ladies will be sure to remember the day and date.

IMPROVING.—We are glad to be able to announce that Mr. Monaghan, of whose illness we spoke yesterday,is improving. Last evening for some time, his friends were momentarily expecting his death, but it appears that the crisis was reached, and speech was restored to him. He is still very low, however.

RENOVATED.—Mr. H. McIntosh has just turned out from his establishment a 'bus for Messrs. Lake & Jenkins, which has the appearance of a new one, although in use for many yeas. Some new wood work has been put in, and Mr. Wm. Stott has succeeded in finishing the whole in such a manner that it would readily pass for new.

LITTA.—On the opening of the plan at Reynolds' yesterday nearly 200 seats were secured. Arrangements have been made to have passengers carried at reduced rates on the Prince Edward and Grand Junction Railways. Mr. Reynolds is determined to make this the concert of the season. Parties who have not secured their seats should do so at once.

INLAND REVENUE.—The following changes have taken place in the staff of the Belleville Division:—A. McAllister,Deputy Collector, resumes his duties in the office; Mr. Charles Gerald,from the Perth Division, takes charge of Corby's distillery, vice McAllister; Mr. Baby is transferred to Paris Division; and Mr. Breeze goes to Corby's distillery with Mr. Gerald.

For variety and style and price, there is not a House in the country to compare with James Hennessy for Tweeds and Coatings in Scotch, English, French and Canadian. He has cords of them ranging in price from 25c. to $5 per yard. It is the cheapest Dry Goods and Clothing House in this city.

Mocco at Proficio.—The public have been so often deceived by representations made through the advertising columns, that if an announcement is made offering unusual inducements, it is considered at once as a "blow" and no further attention paid to it. I believe it pays to advertise providing the truth is told. If the advertiser is not able to carry out the inducements offered to the public it is but a waste of money and printer's ink. I have this season ends voted to secure goods suitable for a first-class trade and I think no disappointation will bear me out in asserting that I have a stock of hats for style, finish and price second to none in the Province. I have imported this spring direct from two of the largest hat dealers in the Sates, (Clarke Bros., New York, and John B. Stetson & Co., Philadelphia) all the new American styles in soft and stiff hats. I have the spring styles in silk and pull over hats made expressly for my trade.

POOR AND SANITARY COMMITTEE

Accounts—The Amalgamation with the W. C. A. Discussed.

Last evening a meeting of the Poor and Sanitary Committee was held to consider the advisability of amalgamating with the Women's Christian Association for the distribution of this Committee's funds, for the support of our indigent population. The only absent members were Ald. Costello and McIntech.

An account of $14 was presented by W. Powell for livery service to Dr. Potts while attending the small-pox patients at the Island last year.

A motion was passed that $11 be recommended to be paid in settlement of the above account.

The Messrs. Conger Bros. presented an account for groceries to the amount of $7, which was recommended to be paid; also one from Geo. E. J. Wilkins for wood, $37.93½, and another from E. Newman, also for wood, $39.19.

The Chairman said the principal object he had in calling this meeting was to consider the scheme of having the Women's Christian Association co-operate with this Committee in the distribution of its funds. The ladies he said were willing to accept something, say $200 a month, as a beginning, this amount to be drawn on the City Treasury by order of the Chairman and sanctioned by both the Committee and the Council. The Association was willing to make a detailed statement to the Council once a month, on what monies they had expended of the city.

Ald. Vandusen said he would earnestly favor the appropriation of a certain amount, as an experiment, to the Association, and have them make a monthly statement to this Committee, which we can examine to our satisfaction. I believe the ladies could expend the appropriation more judiciously than the Committee. I am in favor of trying to give my opinion as to dispensing with the services of the Poor Inspector, as I have not given the matter any consideration.

The Chairman—We won't require the services of the Poor Inspector if the Association assume the management. It's economy we are after.

Ald. Smith—The ladies clearly stated at the meeting last Tuesday that they did not ask for the management of this Committee's funds.

In answer to a question, the Chairman said that he would issue no orders independent of the Association, should they assume the management.

Ald. Petrie—I am opposed to the amalgamation of the two bodies. I believe that the funds can be as judiciously managed by this Committee as by the ladies, and we are the body who are held responsible by the Council; therefore we should retain the management of this department.

Ald. Smith—As this Committee was appointed by the Council, it is held responsible for the proper management of the business entrusted to it. If the ladies were appointed at the commencement of the year by the Council, why then it would be all right; but, as it is now, I think it would be advisable to continue the present management.

The Chairman said he had accepted the position he now held with the determination of carrying out the business connected with the Committee properly and economically, and he had not changed his views. But he thought it would be advisable to amalgamate with the Women's Christian Association.

Ald. Petrie having retired from the meeting, there was no quorum present.

The Chairman—It's too bad; we'll report the proceedings of the minority of the Committee.

Ald. Vandusen—No; we must have a quorum, and I am sorry that we have not. It would be treating the ladies unfairly it this Committee does not make a report to the Council on Monday evening next.

After some irregular discussion, it was decided to adjourn the meeting until tomorrow (Wednesday) evening.

THE LITTA CONCERTS.

Lovers of music who did not attend the Litta concerts at the Grand Opera House on Saturday have reason to regret their absence. A more judicious selection of artists for a company of the kind is not often made, and for many years past Toronto has rarely had a combination of musical talent that gave as much general satisfaction as did this company on Saturday. The performers were Mlle. Marie Litta, soprano; Miss Hattie McLain, contralto; Mr. H. L. Cleveland, tenor; Mr. John Skelton, cornetist; Miss Lalime Mantey, violinist; Miss Nellie P. Bangs, pianiste. The programme at the afternoon performance consisted of thirteen pieces,and when we say nine of these were encored it is ample proof as to the success of the entertainment. The good nature of the artists in responding was also apparent,no withholding the work they were to do in return for the evening concert. So much has been said on former occasions about Mlle. Litta that there is little left for us to add. Her intonation was always singularly accurate, and it now appears to be more exact than ever. Her pronunciation of the English language(so difficult in singing) is next to perfect. This was manifest in the piece with cornet obligato, "Silence, sweet Silence," which every word was distinctly heard, also in one of her encore songs, "Let me dream of my life's happy spring." Mlle. Litta's voice is essentially soprano, and accordingly her high notes and upper part of the middle register give most satisfaction. The duett between Mlle. Litta and Mr. Cleveland, "A Night in Venice," was most enjoyable, the voices being well balanced, and harmonising thoroughly, especially in the latter part of the composition where the waltz time time comes in. Her last appearance at the matinee was with Miss McLain in the duo, "Quis est Homo." Miss McLain is possessed of a fine contralto voice, but lacks animation, the nearest approach to which was evidenced in her encore song in the second part. Mr. Cleveland, the tenor, has a voice of good quality, and in Arditi's "Alice, where art thou?" he displayed it to advantage. Mr. Skelton, the cornetist, proved himself to be a brilliant executant, and the producer of a fine tone, His double and triple tonguing was equal to anything we have been treated to. The pianiste, Miss Bangs, is a player of great taste, and her selections were very cleverly played. Miss Mantey's selections for the violin were thoroughly appreciated by the audience. She has a good round tone, and her execution is neat. The evening concert wrs well attended, and was carried out with equal success.—Mail, March 19th.

MARINE NOTES.

—Toronto marine men incline to the opinion that the rate on grain will probably be 2¢. or 3c. to Oswego and Kingston.

—Capt. Courson, of the Jessie Macdonald, is in Kingston making arrangements for the hauling off of the schooner Nellie Sherwood, ashore at Weller's Bay.

—At Napanee the schooners Bullock, Nellie P. Downey and sloop Pioneer are all loaded with barley. The schooner Flight was slightly damaged by floe ice,but she has been overhauled and a new hurricane dook put on her.

—The ice in South Bay and out as far as Timber Island is about eighteen inches thick, and solid enough to enable teams to cross it at any place. The schrs. Gearing, Kate, British Queen, Gazelle and scow Pearl are undergoing repairs in the harbor.

The Desoronto has been entirely rebuilt from the deck down, having a bran new hull throughout, and is also lengthened eighteen feet, which makes her a very neat boat. —The first train of Taylor's Grand Trunk party from Ottawa and Montreal arrived at Winnipeg at two o'clock Sunday morning, being nearly twelve days on the journey. The delay was caused partly by the snow blockade, but more through mismanagement. The passengers, a great number of whom were women and children, are terribly fatigued, and attribute the sickness prevailing to having been left three days inhaling the stench of the stock yards in Chicago. The second train arrived two hours after the first, and the other two are expected to-day. Over half of the passengers went to Dakota, it is thought by mistake, and the passengers altogether complain of the want of light water, and wood on the trains.

LONDON, March 29.—Arrived out,Gibert and State of Pennsylvania.

The Catholic Bishop of Raphoe claims the Government could easily provide for the reclamation of waste lands of Ireland and thus scatter the people abroad from the over-crowded districts and obviate the necessity of emigration for less than an extensive scheme of Government emigration would cost.

DUBLIN, March 29.—A correspondent says it is remarkable that despite the advice of the Land League to tenant farmers not to leave the country, emigration returns give 95,857 persons emigrated last year, an increase of 48,493 over previous year.

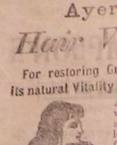
Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.



A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of foulening the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. From these deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous, and injurious to the hair, this Vigor can only benefit, but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

A GREAT CAUSE OF HUMAN MISERY

IS THE LOSS OF

MANHOOD

We have recently published a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage etc., resulting from excesses.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cts. or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practise, that alarming consequence may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hand of every youth and every man in the land.

KNOW THYSELF.

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the HUMBODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; or, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be recovered and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than fifty valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years experience and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth, price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says, "No persons should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Bijou says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or otherwise. He is a Nervo-specialist, and therefore know where of he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 5 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon. P. A. BISSELL, M. D., President of the National Medical Association,

MARCH WINDS! The sudden changes and high winds which prevail in March makes a bottle of Dows's ELIXIR always necessary to have at hand. It is a sure cure for sudden colds and all lung diseases.

BAXTER'S MANDRAKE BITTERS will cure all bilious Diseases. Sold everywhere at 25 cts. per bottle. Try it.

The best remedy for strains and galls on horses is HENRY & JOHNSON'S ARNICA AND OIL LINIMENT. Good for man and beast.

In the front rank of American tonics and anti-periodics stands Northrop & Lyman's Quinine Wine. The weak, the nervous, the dyspeptic, never vainly seek its aid; sufferers from bilious, remittent, and intermittent fevers are surely rescued by it from the malarial scourge. Its taste is agreeable, its ingredients do not number one that is deleterious. The sherry which imparts to it an agreeable wine flavor, is eminently pure, and serves to diffuse throughout the system its fine medicinal properties. It revives failing appetite, is sedative to sleep, and promotes regular secretion and evacuation. The nervous and dyspeptic, as it is well known, are often troubled with a degree of melancholy which in many cases reaches the stage of actual hypochondria. As the stomach regains its tone and the nerves recover their vigor, through the action of this Quinine Wine, this failing gradually wears off, and cheerfulness resumes its sway. Persons who are convalescing after an exhausting disease, should take it in properly regulated doses, as it materially assists, thus taken, the restoration of vigor, which, without its aid might be tardously slow. Fever and ague and bilious, remittent sufferers should take it only during the absence of the feverish symptoms. Lean persons, whose digestion is out of order, gain bodily substance as well as strength by its use. Use none but the Quinine Wine manufactured by Northrop & Lyman of Toronto, which can be procured of any druggist.

DAILY ONTARIO

The Leavenworth Case:

A LAWYER'S STORY.

BY ANNA KATHARINE GREEN.

The clerk from Bohn's, taking out the cylinder, held it up. 'There are seven chambers here, and they are all loaded.'

A murmur of disappointment followed this assertion.

'But,' he quietly said after a momentary examination of the face of the cylinder, 'they have not all been loaded long. A bullet has been recently shot from one of these chambers.

'How do you know?' cried one of the jury.

'How do I know? sir,' said he, turning to the coroner, 'will you be kind enough to examine the condition of this pistol?' and he handed it over to that gentleman. 'Look first at the barrel; it is clean and bright, I will say, and shows no trace of excess of a bullet having passed out lately; that is because it has been cleaned. But now observe the face of the cylinder, what do you discover?'

'I see a faint line of smut near one of the chambers.'

'Just so; allow it to the gentleman.'

It was immediately handed down.

'That faint line of smut on the edge of one of the chambers, is the tell-tale, sirs. A bullet passing out always leaves a mark behind. The man who fired this, remembering the fact, cleaned the barrel, but forgot the cylinder.' And stepping aside he folded his arms.

'Jerusalem!' spoke out a rough, hearty voice, 'isn't that wonderful?' It was a countryman who had stepped in from the street, and now stood all agape in the doorway.

It was a rough but not altogether unwelcome interruption. A smile passed round the room, and each man seemed to breathe easier. Order being at last restored, the officer was requested to direct the position of the stand, and its distance from the library table.

'The library table is in one room and the stand in another,' he said. 'In order to see from the latter, one would be obliged to cross Mr. Leavenworth's bed-room in a diagonal direction, pass through the hall separating the one apartment from the other, and—'

'Wait a moment; how does this table stand in regard to the door which leads from the bed-room into the hall?'

'One might enter that door, pass directly round the foot of the bed to the stand, procure the pistol, and cross half way over to the passage way, without being seen by any one sitting or standing in the library beyond.'

'Holy Virgin!' exclaimed the horrified cook throwing her apron over her head as if to shut out some dreadful vision. 'Hannah never would have the pluck for that, never, never!' But Mr. Gryce laying a heavy hand on the woman, forced her back into her seat, reproving and calming her at the same time, with a dexterity that was marvellous to behold. 'I beg your pardons,' she cried deprecatingly to those around, 'but it niver was Hannah, niver.'

'The clerk from Bohn's here being dismissed, Rose assembled took the opportunity of making some change in their position, after which the name of Mr. Harwell was again called. This person was with manifest reluctance. Evidently the preceding testimony had either upset some theory of his, or indubitably strengthened some unpleasant suspicion.

'Mr. Harwell, the coroner began, 'we are told of the existence of a pistol belonging to Mr. Leavenworth, and upon searching, we discover it in his room. Did you know of his possessing such an instrument?'

'I did.'

'Was it a fact generally known in the house?'

'So it would seem.'

'How was that? Was he in the habit of leaving it around where any one could see it?'

'I cannot say: I can only acquaint you with the manner in which I myself became cognizant of its existence.'

'Very well do so.'

'We were once taking about fire-arms. I have some taste that way, and have always been anxious to possess a pocket pistol. Saying something of the kind to him one day, he rose from his seat and bringing this from its place in his stand, showed it to me.'

'How long ago was this?'

'Some few months since.'

'He has owned this pistol then for some time?'

'Yes, sir.'

'Is that the only occasion upon which you have ever seen it.'

'No,' sir,—the secretary blushed—'I have seen it once since.'

'When?'

'About three weeks ago.'

'Under what circumstances?'

The secretary dropped his head, a certain drawn look making itself suddenly visible on his countenance. He even unfolded his arms and pressed his hands together, looking all the while into the coroner's face, from under his half closed lids, with an expression that was almost like an appeal.

EMIGRANTS.

An Immense Area of Railroad and Government Lands, of great fertility, within easy reach of permanent markets at extremely low prices, is now offered for sale in Eastern Oregon and Eastern Washington Territory.

These lands form part of the great Grain Belt of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 250 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded for all parts of the world.

Grain at Portland, Oregon commands a price equal to that obtained in Chicago.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R. R. is now assured, and guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation to good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the construction of the network of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R. & N. Co. in the valleys of the Great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the lands now open to purchase pre-emption. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future.

Lands show an average yield of 40 bushels of wheat per acre. No failure of crops ever known.

Railroad Lands offered at the uniform rate of $2.50 an acre.

DEATH OF LADY BLANCHE MURPHY.

The Romance and the Pathos of her Eventful Life.

(New York Graphic.)

A very sad Old World romance ended yesterday in the village of North Conway, N. H. The ending was the death of the Lady Blanche Murphy. The lady's name is known in the country through the medium of periodicals, magazines and newspapers. She wrote, and wrote much. What she wrote was of the necessary transient character that attaches to magazine and newspaper work. This sort of literature outcome pays for the time being and ends with the time being. The Lady Blanche Murphy's writings will probably never be collected into a volume. Even if they may be, they will never exact or attact the world to any great extent. They were not so intended. They were written by a highly educated and naturally clever woman to support life, to bring in so much money. They were the productions of the eldest daughter of an English earl, the Earl of Gainsborough. The fact of her being an earl's daughter did not necessarily increase their value, and no one probably was more alive to this fact than the gentle lady whose death is recorded in the morning papers to-day. It is needless to say that a lady of her natural position in Roman society and of her exceptional literary power and ability shrank from the thought of "trading" on the marketable value of her name and the fame that was attached to it. She simply wrote, as most of us write, to "make" a living. That was the only occasion that her marriage and all that its consequences entailed opened before her. Poor girl, she wrote conscientiously and well, and in this harness she died.

Those who happened to be in London about twelve years ago will remember the "sensation" which they experienced at reading one day in their morning's paper the startling rumor of the elopement of the eldest daughter of one of England's early with the family organist or music teacher. The gentleman's name was Murphy. Mr. Murphy (clarum et verserable nomen) was a good looking and amiable young man. He was taken into the Gainsborough House to teach music. Being an Irishman, or the son of an Irishman, he was a good deal more than a musician—a magician, in fact so far as the daughter of the family went. He captured her heart almost before knowing it. The daughter of the family had a will of her own, and having a will of her own combined with a love for Mr. Murphy, she resolved that the best thing to do under such circumstances was to elope. Mr. Murphy objected to the scandal of the earl's daughter. They fled to London. London, in these days of telegraphy, was speedily apprised of the fact, and waited with the patience exacted by the public at large on such interesting occasions future developments. The developments soon came. The unhappy pair, in spite of all efforts to prevent it, were made one in lawful wedlock, according to the rites of the Catholic Church, to which both belonged, the Gainsborough being con verts to the Cold faith, and the Murphys being constitutionally Catholics. One shrinks from prying in public into painful family secrets. All that could be done, even on the part of the priest who married them, was done to prevent the match. It was useless. The end was achieved, and there was an end. The eldest daughter of the Earl of Gainsborough became the lady Blanche Murphy.

"Marry in haste, repent at leisure." It was never truer than in this case. After all caste, where it prevails by historic tradition and custom, holds its own away. There was complete separation between the lady and her family. She had chosen her own path in life. She was of an age and mind to know what she was doing. The "happy pair"—how drear it sounds here—had to depend henceforth on themselves chiefly for their daily bread.

To omit everything save the bare narrative—for what has the simply curious to do here?—they cut their moorings and left England. They came to this country literally to "seek their fortunes," as the fairy stories have it. Mr. Murphy could teach music and play. So can ten thousand others. Mr. Murphy was one of the failures; so are more than ten thousand others. The husband failing, the wife came to the front. It is by no means an uncommon occurrence, though perhaps, not so common in an earl's daughter, who is taught to be nothing but an earl's daughter. This young girl was gifted by nature. In her business she transacted much, seen much, observed keenly and read everywhere and anywhere. She gave the world what talent she had acquired from her observation and knowledge. She put it down on paper and gave it here, there and everywhere. Her writings were accepted; publishers can best say why. They were of their nature ephemeral and so will perish. But the best of them were very good and showed signs of marked individuality and power, helped out often by the natural associations that attended her earlier position and rank in society. Quite apart from the accidents of birth and early association, she was a woman of great character and exceptional power. Her best writings are in the Catholic World magazine, unsigned for the most part. She had the rare endowment of a masculine style, with a feminine keenness of perception. She was at her best, perhaps, in subjects of current social topics, and admirably the condenser of a work, and at times a capital teller of weird stories. As a woman and a wife she was under the very saddest conditions of her changed circumstances, a most admirable example of Christian heroism. Her marriage was doubtless a terrible mistake; her early death a relief. She had no children. She never saw her kinsfolk from the day she left them. The general public can have little further interest in a brave and noble woman. In person she was small, delicate of figure, with Saxon fair hair, complexion, and bright blue eyes, and a sweet voice that yet had always in it an accent of the positiveness of a concealed power that might be wrongly exercised, but still was power. She was not, what is called a beauty, but even in her simple, often shabby dress among us, a stranger could not help being struck by the refinement and soft resolution of the fair, sweet face lit up by the wonderfully bright blue eyes, and enframed in a sometimes straggling mass of pure gold hair.

—It is said that decision in the Argenteuil election case will be given on the 15th of April. The evidence consisted of over two million words, and the judge read it all over carefully; hence the delay.

JOSEPH ROBAN, PERCY, WRITES:—"I was induced to try Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lameness which troubled me for three or four years, and I found it the best article I ever tried. It has been a great blessing to me."

THE blood cannot properly perform its functions when loaded with impurities, because it is thick and sluggish; and every person needs at times something to cleanse and quicken the vital current. Dr. J. C. Ayer's Sarsaparilla meets this want perfectly, and his discovery of this compound ranks as important in preserving the blood in a healthy condition as does that of Wm. Harvey in demonstrating its circulatory action. Nothing else so vitalizes, purifies and enriches the blood as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is a perfect blood and nerve food. It never disturbs the stomach, but greatly assists and promotes the digestion and assimilation of all nutriments, and increases their power to sustain and nourish the body. In renovating the blood it clears and quickens the intellect, and thus gives to both mind and body the power of long sustained, arduous and successful effort. —Corning, N. Y., Journal.

BAPTIST MINISTER'S EXPERIENCE.

I am a Baptist Minister and before I even thought of being a clergyman graduated in Liver the Liver and Kidneys as a successful practice for my present profession. 40 years ago. I was for many years a sufferer from quinsy, "Thomas Eclectric Oil cured me." I was also troubled with hoarseness and "Thomas Eclectric Oil" always released me. My wife and child has Diphtheria, and "Thomas Eclectric Oil cured them" and I have used it in all the skirmishacks, mentions a remarkable cure from treatment of this nature. Every one afflicted with pulmonary disease cannot make it convenient to come to us, but it is nevertheless a fact that the benefits of the treatment are procurable by using Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum, a seaside pulmonic preparation, which is a concentrated and agreeable form, all the virtue of this native medicinal gum. As a cure for Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat and Hoarseness, For Deafness and Earache it has done wonders to my certain knowledge. It is the only medicine dubbed patent medicine that I have ever felt like recommending and I am very anxious to see it in every place, for I tell you that I would not be without it in my house for any consideration, I am now suffering with a pain like Rheumatism in my right limb and noth relieves me like Thomas Eclectric Oil.
Dr. E. F. CRANE,

NO CURE NO PAY.

Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines are guaranteed to cure, for particulars see wrappers and pamphlets. They are reliable, have not sprung into popularity in a week or a month and gone out of favor as rapidly. But being sustained by merit, have won a world-wide reputation, constituting a branch in London, to supply foreign countries, while the home sales are enormous throughout the United States. Dr. Pierce's Medical Discovery, purifies and enriches the blood, prevents fevers, and curing all skin and scrofulous affections, stimulating the liver to action, relieving biliousness, and curing consumption, which is scrofula of the lungs. CHICAGO, Ill., May 5th, 1879.
WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION:
Gentlemen—For years I have been a great sufferer. My trouble first started with terrible ague chills and constipation. This left me in 1878 with a racking cough and frequent bleedings from the lungs. Since this time I have been steadily doctoring, consulting physicians without number. From them I received no benefit or encouragement. The most skilful physicians of our city have last visited me expressed their opinions in the brief but hopeless words, "Take good care of yourself the few days you have to live, we cannot help you." I grew steadily worse under their treatment. One day, through reading your Memorandum Book I learned of the Golden Medical Discovery. With but little hope of relief, I purchased a bottle and took it. To my surprise and gratification I did not seem good than all the drugs I had taken the year around. I am now steadily using it with benefit and recommend it to all to be just what it is advertised.
Sincerely yours, JAS. P. McGRATH,

How often have we longed for perfect enjoyment and how seldom found it. Misfortune has come, or ill health overtaken us. Perhaps a cough has come upon us which threatens that dreadful of all diseases, consumption, and we feel that death is near. PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 22, 1877.
WM. M. GILES, Esq.—Dear Sir:—Your favor of Jan. 20th, '77, just received, and I thank you for the information therein. I have been giving the Emulsion a tenie powder in the morning and a little salt petre, pulverized in a mash, at night, and using Liniment freely down her back, loins and limbs. I procured the quart bottle from Johnson, Holloway & Co., and am satisfied that the trouble across the loins and kidneys is fast disappearing. The stifle lameness, I am pretty well satisfied, has been done by rheumatism. I shall give her the purge-ball, (which I know how to do), and then with the powders put her in good condition—meanwhile trying your Liniment on the stifle trouble, or in the loins and hip, wherever it may be. To prove that your Liniment and the rest are doing her good—a week ago she was "all gone" behind on Saturday night, when eating her, she broke away, took a trot up and down a large lot, equal to about a three-mile trot, and then entered a box stall for her own home. Her former owner was surprised on Sunday to see how she had improved, and said:—"Darned if I don't believe you will get that mare all right, and if you do, why I'm stuck!" Again thanking you for your prompt reply,
I am respectfully yours,
JNO. K. CAUBACK.

OF THE DETROIT
Throat & Lung
INSTITUTE,
M. HILTON WILLIAMS, M.D.

Permanently established at the
Dafoe House,
BELLEVILLE,
For the cure of all the various diseases of the Head, Throat and Chest, including the Eye, Ear and Heart.

But a few weeks or months are required to cure the most obstinate cases of Catarrh, Throat diseases, Asthma, Bronchitis, and the earlier stages of Consumption, when the treatment is conducted under the Doctor's own personal supervision. A word to the wise is therefore sufficient.
All diseases of the respiratory organs treated by medical inhalations.
Inhalations remove hepetization by dissolving the hardened matter existing in the air cells of the lungs, thus enabling the patient to expectorate it with ease, at the same time giving the diseased surface an opportunity to heal.
Inhalations scatter inflammation and soothe the inflamed surface, thus relieving a harassing cough almost immediately.
Inhalations absorb the fleshy excrescences that exist upon the pharyngeal surface in cases of granulated throat, and restore the proper vitality of the parts, thus relieving the dryness of the throat and the sensation as if needles were penetrating the mucous membrane of the pharynx.
Inhalations will cure the most obstinate cases of catarrh when combined with proper constitutional and other local treatment.
In fact, inhalations will cure thousands of cases of the breathing organs when all other means have failed.
Let there be no delay, then, in application to the treatment that has stood the test and proved again and again the only hope—the only reliable safeguard and means of restoration.
Consultation free and prices within the reach of all.
The very best of references given from all parts of Canada from those already cured. Remedies sent to any part of Ontario.
If possible, call personally at the office for consultation and examination, but if impossible to do so, write for "List of Questions" and "Medical Treatise."

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

It is early in the season for forest fires, but extensive ones are reported from Massachussetts and Pennsylvania.

The jury in the Lawson-Labouchere libel case have disagreed and been discharged. Being a criminal case, it will be tried over again.

Afganistan is again the scene of a civil war, and Ayoub Khan is an exile or a prisoner. It does not matter much who the leaders in the rebellion are.

The remarkable report is made public that the Pope has been warned by a lady that the day and hour has been fixed for the murder of himself and Cardinal Jacci.

The Nihilists vow that if Sophi Perowsky, arrested for complicity in the assassination of the Czar, is condemned and executed, the present Czar will surely perish.

The Crown Prince of Germany, who will soon be Emperor, has been telling the German residents of Moscow that the friendship existing between Germany and Russia will be lasting.

The Crown Princess Victoria, of Germany, has received an anonymous letter declaring that her husband, who is in St. Petersburg, will be murdered during the funeral ceremonies there.

Hamilton has a wife-beater. His name is Nixon and he keeps a temperance hotel. He broke a few chairs over her, and then used the poker. We hope the Hamilton authorities will mete out New York justice.

The letters that have appeared in the Mail, pretending to be written by women and defending Mlle. Bernhardt against the "assault" made by Rev. Mr. Bainsford, have excited curiosity and we may say consternation. The sentiments expressed by some were nothing short of scandalous, and a disgrace to womanhood. We are pleased to see, therefore, that yesterday's edition contained two letters, signed respectively "Clew" and "D. J. Macdonnell," which express an opinion that will meet with public approbation. The Mail has pandered to a taste that few thought could obtain such a recognition in Canada.

MR. CROUTER obtained majorities last Friday in every locality where the Conservatives had the advantage in the general election of 1878. This fact is proof of such a reaction as the Government party are unwilling to acknowledge. Mr. Kennedy's majorities were confined to Percy and Hastings, two strong Catholic neighborhoods.

THOSE who argue that protection is justifiable on the ground that bad laws keep the people of England so poor that they can always undersell us, and therefore we must prohibit their goods coming into the country, overlook the fact that there are worse laws in Africa, Turkey and Persia, and yet nobody dreams of their underselling us. The truth is that the nations having the best laws and oppress the poor the least, constantly undersell those in which oppression and tyranny run rampant. Righteousness exalts a nation; and the more righteous a nation is the cheaper, other things being equal, it can sell its goods. It is because the laws of England, defective though they may be, are so far above the average of the world in equity, that England is able to prosper as she does. It is because America has such enormous natural advantages that she is able to endure the monstrous protective tariff. Such a tariff would ruin England in two years. A somewhat similar tariff did bring her to the verge of ruin between 1816 and 1841. In the latter year one-third the houses in some of her large manufacturing towns stood empty. Has Canada sufficient natural advantages to endure her present tariff? or will her experience be that of England under a similar tariff?

We have seen it asserted as a self-evident truth that taxation is the great source of national prosperity. That is logical protectionism, but few protectionists are logical. Mr. Thos. G. Shearman, in the Christian Union of recent date, answers such assertions as follows:—Taxation is the taking money out of our own pockets to give it to other men to spend for us in their discretion; they first paying themselves for their trouble, at rates which they, and not we, fix. If this is the main source of our prosperity, let my good friend turn over all his income to me to spend for his good in such way as I think fit. I will give him such security for honesty and benevolent regard for his interest as no government officer gives. I will give him security in ten times the amount of his income that it shall be spent in good faith, with an honest purpose to benefit him; provided, of course, that he will allow me the same proportion of his income which is taken out of the taxes for current salaries of government officers. Perhaps he does not know me well enough. Will he make the same arrangement with President Hayes or General Grant? Will he get his neighbors to join him in such a plan? I will guarantee him a first class man and first-class security for $100,000 a year on those terms. Of course he will do nothing of the sort. He would be crazy if he did. And yet that is all that there is of the benefits to be derived from taxation, with the difference that the money is not used with one-fourth of the care which would be given under my proposition, and that the tax payer has no security worth talking about.

We stated a few days ago that protection in the United States, while enriching the monopolists, did not benefit the laboring classes or mechanics, and hence strikes were common in all the manufacturing districts. The following by Secretary Howard, when issuing a call for the spinners' meeting at Fall River, Mass. sustains what we have asserted:—

Corporation representatives, not satisfied with allowing the lowest possible wages commensurate with living purposes, irrespective of excessive toil, through high speeded machinery, had material and the many indirect disadvantages, have now commenced a system which had almost become obsolete, and which we thought had departed for ever, of marking a man who may have the courage to express his convictions upon any grievances that may be existing. Seven of our members have been discharged within a very short time without any reason being assigned. No valid complaints could be lodged against them. They were admitted to be good and competent workmen, but for reasons not yet explained but easily to be guessed at, they have been singled out like sheep for the slaughter-house and informed that their services were no longer required. Shall we stand by with cool indifference and witness the victimizing of our best men without retaliatory measures being resorted to? Your committee are unanimous in saying we shall not. If worst has to come, let it come. We cannot be treated much more un-Christianlike or cruel than we are at present treated in many mills in this city. Let our hall be crowded on meeting night. Every spinner in the city should be present, and steps should be taken to provide for the spinners now on strike at the Chace mill.

—Several married gentlemen have been made the victims of a system of black mail, now being carried on in the city. It is their intention to "stand fire," as the word of a person who would be guilty of black mailing would be of little avail one way or the other.—News.

SOPHIASBURGH ITEMS.

A daughter of James Crawford, of this place, died of diphtheria one day last week.

A new shed is being erected at the M. E. Church, along the marsh front on Big Island.

The tea-meeting which took place at the C. M. Church, Solmes neighborhood, was a grand success. A very pleasant time was spent by those present.

Venner's cold dip has came, which was predicted for this month, and is doing considerable damage to the fall grain and clover here. Some we are informed have already been heaved out and killed.

Two barns and a shed belonging to S. Smith, ex-Warder, of this place, were totally consumed by fire on Tuesday evening of last week, about 11 o'clock. Had the wind been a little more south, everything including the grist mill, would have been destroyed. A number of farming implements, 150 bushels of wheat, and 200 of rye, with two buggies and three cutters were destroyed. Fully insured in the Lancashire for $1,650.

MARINE NOTES.

—Mr. Blound, of Port Hope, offers the Elisa Quinlan, now lying at Kingston, for sale for $2,000.

—Mariners have no hope of navigation opening before May 1st. The ice remains remarkably firm.

—The steamer City of Belleville will commence running as a ferry boat between Prescott and Ogdensburg on Friday next.

—The Kingston News records this for our special benefit:—"The California is one of the two propellors that form the new line between Montreal and Cleveland.' Thanks.

—The yacht Lizzie made a trip from Alexandra Bay to Morristown on Saturday afternoon. The American channel is said to be clear to the Cape. The yachtmen aforesaid are hunting ducks on Chimney and Grenadier Islands.

—The Collinsby Rafting Company have the prospect of such a press of business that they will be compelled to withdraw the McArthur from Detroit, where she has been employed as a wrecking tug. She will tow the rafts from Collinsby to Quebec, but will return to the west in time for service on the upper lakes.

—Captain Frank Jackman, jr., has won the harbor master's hat at Toronto, having been the first to enter the harbor this season. On Saturday afternoon he brought in the tug Golden City, from Oakville, and her arrival presented the novel sight of ice boats scudding about at one end of the harbor and a tug entering clear water at the other.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

The Liability of Counties for Ditches is Affirmed—The County of York Mulcted for Improper Ditching.

Isaac Walton and his wife were travelling with a horse and buggy on the Kingston road in October, 1879, when the horse shied and ran into the ditch on the south side of the road, upsetting the buggy, which over-turned upon Walton and broke his leg. Two actions were thereupon brought on the advice of Mr. A Jos. Donovan by Walton and his wife against the county of York for negligence, in that the ditch was too deep; that it went down on the side next the road too perpendicular; and that it was not properly located. The cases were tried at the York Assizes in March, 1880, and verdics for $500 rendered for the plaintiffs. In Term rules were granted the defendants by the Courts of Queen's Bench and Common Pleas to set aside the verdicts, and enter non-suits for the defendants on the grounds that roads cannot be maintained without ditches; and that it was not properly located. The cases were tried at the York Assizes in March, 1880, and verdics for $500 rendered for the plaintiffs. In Term rules were granted the defendants by the Courts of Queen's Bench and Common Pleas to set aside the verdicts, and enter non-suits for the defendants on the grounds that roads cannot be maintained without ditches; and that therefore that their existence on a highway is no evidence of negligence. The cases were argued by J. K. Kerr, Q. C., for the county, and by Mr. Donovan for the plaintiffs. Chief Justice Wilson delivered the judgment of the Courts, deciding that there was no evidence of negligence by the County of York, that the verdict was contrary to law, and directed the verdicts to be reversed, and non-suits entered for the defendants. Against this decision the plaintiffs appealed, and judgment was on Saturday pronounced by the Court of Appeal, reversing the judgment of the Courts of Queen's Bench and Common Pleas, and restoring the verdicts in favour of the plaintiffs, thereby affirming that it is the province of the jury to determine whether ditches are a necessary adjunct of a highway, whether they are properly constructed, and whether they are rightly located—regard being had to the public safety. It would be impossible to overestimate the importance of this decision on the liability of counties. It is the first time it has been judicially determined that municipalities are liable for injuries occurring in consequence of the existence of ditches on the highway, it having been hitherto generally assumed, both in the profession and out of it, that no such liability existed. Mr. Walton deserves credit for his spirit in fighting his case up to the highest Court, and obtaining so important a decision.

DEATH FROM DIPHTHERIA.—The number of deaths from diphtheria at the Desert on the Gatineau is alarming. In many instances the aged people are suffering, and many of them dying. Hardly a day passes without witnessing one or two interments, and very often more deaths are reported. Four dead bodies were carried out of one house a few days ago. The present death rate of children is assuming alarming proportions.

INCOME TAX.—An important decision in regard to income tax was given on Monday by Judge Rose at Ottawa. A civil service man brought an action in the Division Court to recover from the city corporation the amount of income tax paid in during recent years prior to the decision being given on the point, whether civil servants were compelled to pay income tax or not. The case was tried before a jury and judgment was given in favor of the corporation.

PRAYER FOR HUMILITY.—The following prayer, printed on little slips, was distributed among the pews in Holy Trinity church Toronto, Sunday. "Almighty God, who art the author of peace and lover of concord, look down in mercy on this congregation who are suffering under great trouble and distress. Save us from all pride and prejudice, and whatsoever else may hinder us from goodly union and concord; make us to both perceive and know what things we ought to do, and give us grace and power faithfully to fulfil the same through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

A GIGANTIC SCHEME.

A Company Organized to Drain the Everglades of Florida and reclaim 12,—000,000 Acres of the Richest Land in the World.

(Phil. Despatch to the Chicago Tribune.) Now that the Philadelphia capitalists who were about to reclaim the submerse tracts of lands in the state of Florida, known as the "Everglades," have completed their contract with that state, it is no longer a secret that one of the main features of the gigantic scheme is the building of a ship-canal across the state of Florida. This project almost equals in importance that of reclaiming 13,000,000 acres of the richest land in the world south of the frost belt. A ship-canal across the state of Florida has been the dream of engineers for many years. It would not only shorten the distance between the American ports on the Atlantic coast and all European ports to New Orleans, Mobile and all shipping points on the Gulf of Mexico, but it would avoid the dangers to navigation which are experienced in the countless keys and coral reefs off the southern and south western coast of Florida. All ship captains know of this danger, which is often aggravated by hurricanes which are common to the southward of Florida, but which are comparatively unknown on the west coast in the region of Tampa Bay. It is well known that a number of New York capitalists have been endeavouring for some years to get a charter from the state of Florida to build a ship canal, but the Philadelphia company with a great deal of shrewdness, have got ahead of them. It is believed that in connection with the Isthumus Canal, now in course of construction under M. Ferdinand de Lesseps, the Florida Canal must at once attract the attention of the capitalists not only of America but of Europe. As to the feasibility, not of building a ship canal, but of draining the "Everglades," the opinion of eminent engineers and army officers of the last generation are quoted by those who have this work in charge.

The best receipt for going through life in a commendable way is to feel that every body, no matter how rich or how poor, needs all the kindness they can get from others in the world. Let us remember this great truth, and commence with those around us. Let the poor and needy, and those who do not take the daily or weekly newspaper, be kindly informed. If in sickness, whether it be form coughs, lung diseases, asthma, or consumption, that by the use of N. H. Downs' Vegetable Balsamic Elixir they can be cured. Keep not the good news to ourselves, but spread the sunshine of hope around.

A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Neglect speedily follows in an incurable lung disease or consumption. Brown's Bronchial Troches do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritations, giving relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the throat troubles which Singers and public speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's Bronchial Troches have been recommended by physicians, and always give satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well merited rank among the staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25c a box everywhere.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Local Brevities.

—March is going out like a roaring lion.

—The Fire and Sanitary and Fire Committees will meet this evening.

—The Court of Assizes closed the work of the session yesterday afternoon.

—There were two occupants of the cells last night—a tramp and a prisoner.

—The dust is bothersome. Is there no relief short of a rain or snow storm?

—As predicted, the recent cold weather is damaging the fall wheat and clover.

—On Monday next Mr. Justice Osler will open the Spring Assizes in Napanee.

—The citizens of Kingston have subscribed $40,000 towards the establishment of charcoal works there.

—"The Syndicate Store" may be seen on the windows of Mr. Patterson's establishment in staring letters.

—A piece of iron ore, weighing over a ton and a half, has been brought into Kingston from the Mississippi mine.

—Mr. Grant has his name in letters large enough that he who runs may read, and then call at his boot and shoe store.

—Dr. Eakins is excavating for a fine residence on the corner lot at the intersection of Hotel and Church Streets. It is one of the finest sites in the city.

—The Whig notices our local contemporary's lament over the want of encouragement for manufactures here, and remarks:—"What more encouragement does the place want? Hasn't it got the N.P.?"

—We regret to learn of the death of the wife of Prof. Cline, musician, which occurred at her father's residence in Barrie, last Friday. Mr. Cline was married last May, and will have the sympathy of many in this great bereavement.

—The sidewalks this morning were liberally lettered with Scriptural quotations. We respect the motive, but object to the system. To have the sacred injunctions of the Bible placed in the same category with notices of rat poison and other trade advertisements, under the feet of the multitude, is not calculated to beget respect, or lead to conviction.

We have received from the Superintendent the annual report of the Ontario Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, which, as usual, contains valuable information. On the 30th Sept., 1880, there were 16 pupils in the Institution from Hastings, 6 from Frontenac, 4 from Lennox and Addington, 10 from Northumberland, 3 from Peterborough, and 2 from Prince Edward. Without mentioning other counties, it is evident that there are many mutes who have not had the benefit of the instruction imparted to this class at the Deaf and Dumb Institution.

—The ladies will rally in force to inspect the variety and beauty of English, French and American head-gear that will be shown at the different millinery openings advertised in our columns. We observe that the French "bonnets," as they are called, are in colors of straw and garnet. The English hats and bonnets are of unique design, and trimmed with beautifully shaded light velvets, straw lace, &c. The American styles are somewhat more jaunty than the others, and the trimmings hardly so profuse. All the styles, however, are "just lovely."

UNSURPASSED.—The old and well known remedy "Holden's Expectorant" (for coughs and colds) is still unsurpassed. More than 20 years it has now been in use and it still continues popular, while scores of medicines for the same purpose have flourished for a year or so and are forgotten. If you have a cough or a cold call at Geen's Drugstore and procure a bottle.

GARDEN SEEDS.—For good and reliable garden and field seeds go to Geen's Drug-store.

TO-MORROW.—Messrs. Foster & Reid's announcement for opening day will appear in to-morrow's issue.

FROST.—High winds and gales from the east and north, cloudy weather, with tolerably heavy snow in the southern portion, and light snow in the northern.

MILLINERY OPENING.—Mrs. Horne announces her millinery opening, to continue during the season. She has made an unusual preparations, and is selling at extraordinarily low prices. We would advise those who wish to test her promises to call and be convinced.

THE FIRE BRIGADE.—That some dissatisfaction exists among the members of the fire brigade there appears to be no doubt. A meeting was called for the three companies to attend last evening, but owing to there not being a sufficient number present, it was postponed until Friday evening next.

OPENING DAY. — Messrs. Brignall & Thompson had their season opening to-day, and the patterns and quality of goods displayed in their show rooms were even better than that of former years, which is saying a good deal. The attendance of visitors and purchasers was good, but will doubtless be larger to-morrow, as their spring opening this season is announced for two days.

THE FERRY QUESTION.—A joint meeting of the Public Works and Ferry Committee will be held to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock to discuss the advisability or necessity of having the railway siding removed from the foot of Front street, in compliance with the request of Captain Jelfett. Should there be no definite action taken at that meeting the latter committee will be called together to consider a proposal that will be made to charge the present ferry landing.

SPECIAL LITERARY NOTE.—A paper by R. W. Emerson, on his personal impressions of Thomas Carlyle, made up from his unpublished letters written at the time of his first visit to England, will appear in Scribner for May. The publication is made by special arrangement with Mr. Emerson and the Massachussets Historical Society, before which the paper was read, and in the minutes of which is to be printed after its appearance in Scribner.

Sarah Bernhardt.—Just received a beautiful assortment of the celebrated Bernhardt checks in Sky-blue, Cardinal, Old Gold, Navy, Seal Brown, Pink, Salmon, Green, Myrtle, &c., suitable for dresses and trimmings. James Hennessy.

W. M. T. ASSOCIATION.

Officers Elected for Next Term.

At a regular meeting of the Workingmens Temperance Association, held last Tuesday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term:—

President,	Bro. Hugh Walker

2nd Vice.	" John Vanorman

Fin. Sec.	" Joseph Maiden
Conductor,	" P. Murphy
Assist. do	" Jas. Hall

This Association was organized more than twenty year ago, and has lost none of its vitality and usefulness. It is now doing a good work in our midst.

—On Friday, on the borders of King's county, Ireland, who took a farm from which a tenant has been evicted, has been dangerously shot.

—The London Morning Post says that Archbishop McCabe will shortly be appointed Papal Legate in Ireland.

—A New York despatch states that the Earl of Caithness died in a hotel in that city on Monday of paralysis of the heart.

POLICE COURT.

(Before Thos. Holden, Esq., P. M.)

WEDNESDAY, March 30.

The attendance at this court to-day almost filled the auditory, and was composed principally of railway men. His Worship the Mayor occupied a seat on the platform with the Magistrate.

ASSAULT.

George Belcher was charged by Catharine Fitzgerald alias Kate Nugent, with having on the 26th inst., assaulted and beaten her, thereby inflicting grievous bodily injury. Both parties reside in the "Grove." The prosecutrix alleged that on the day in question the prisoner kicked her on the leg in her own house without any provocation. He also attempted to choke her, but in order to frustrate his designs she testified she bit his finger.

The defence was that she went to the house of his mother after her child, and when ordered to leave, used abusive language to him. After going home, she dispatched her child to request Belcher to bring back the overcoat she bought him last winter. This, it appears riled the prisoner to such a degree that he sought revenge and visited Kate's house to find it. The prisoner and his brother were sworn, and the evidence given went to show that Fitzgerald had provoked the former to such an extent, by using insulting language, that he could not control his anger. The Magistrate, however, objected to the conduct of prisoner in entering the woman's house, and fined him $10 and costs; in default 30 days in jail. One week was allowed the prisoner to pay his fine.

ALLEGED HOUSE BREAKING.

Louisa Cullen charged a couple of Grand Trunk Railway men with breaking in her door on North Front-street last Friday night. A number of witnesses were called the evidence of whom proved beyond a doubt to the court that the prosecutrix was mistaken in the parties accused. The Magistrate dismissed the case without costs.

THIS AND THAT.

Coal is now selling in Buffalo at $5.98. In Toronto it sells at $8. Now will our neighbor tell us who pays the duty?

The deficiency in the accounts of the late clerical secretary, in connection with the Diocese of Ontario, is said to be some $13,000.

Election in Carleton, N. B., to-day. The constituency is Conservative, and the Government candidate is a brother of the late (deceased) member.

It is stated that 2,000 applications have already been received by the Government for positions as gumpliers in the Census Department, which is to be formed.

Rumor has it that Mr. John O'Donohue will succeed Hon. John O'Connor in the Cabinet, provided the County of Russell will favor him with a seat in the House of Commons.

Is it true that Sir Leonard Tilley has been offered the Governorship of the Fiji Islands? If so, by all means let him go there and experiment with his patent nostrums on the cannibals of that famous island. We have had enough of him.

AMERICAN NOTES.

Out in Leadville when one is introduced to a stranger the polite thing is to ask, "What was your name before you came here?" The next question, according to rules of etiquette, is "How did you manage to escape?"

That Kalloch murdered DeYoung in cold blood and after mature deliberation is as certain as that Kalloch lives and that DeYoung is dead: yet a San Francisco jury declares Kalloch not guilty. We shall not be surprised if San Francisco has cause to regret this vindication of assassination.

This is General Gordon's playful account of the way he fared at Antietam: "I was shot through the calf of the leg early in the day, and, although it did not pain me, it gave me the impression of having torn my whole leg off my body, such was the shock. Then I got a hole further up the leg, and was next shot in the arm, and then nearly had my shoulder torn off. I felt as if I had gone to pieces then, and thought they were putting it all together rather hard on me when I got this ball in my face, and it broke me all up, and came out below my ear—and that was all I knew for some time."

RECENT EVENTS.

—The East Middlesex License Commissioners have resolved to issue no shop license this year.

—A re-count of the ballot in the Bellechasse elections has been demanded, and will be held before Judge Casault, at Quebec, on Thursday.

—Five new clerks from the provinces of Quebec, Ontario, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, and Prince Edward Island have been appointed to the Post-office Department at Ottawa.

—The Recorder of Montreal states that every prisoner brought before him on Monday, for being drunk on Sunday, will have to inform on the saloon keeper from whom he got the liquor.

—Mr. Donaldson, immigration agent Toronto, says the immigration will be very large especially for the North-West this year. During his fifty years stay in Canada he has never known the general outlook to be so bright.

—Several cases of country postmasters using cancelled stamps have been reported in the Ottawa district, and their resignations are demanded. The inspector is paying considerable attention to this mode of defrauding the revenue, which has already assumed great proportions.

—The Bill providing for the punishment of persons who treat or allow themselves to be treated has become law in Wisconsin. It was not expected to pass.

Telegraphic Despatches.

GREAT BRITAIN.

An Insurrectionary Outbreak Feared—Land League Subscriptions Last Week.

LONDON, March 30.—It is reported the Cabinet was suddenly called together yesterday on account of the alarming intelligence from Ireland. An insurrectionary out-break is expected any moment.

DUBLIN, March 30.—The Land League subscriptions last week were £2,399; all but 100 from America.

FRANCE.

Funeral of Oscar de Lafayette—Oration at the tomb by Gen. Noyes.

PARIS, March 30.—The funeral of Oscar de Lafayette was celebrated with great pomp at St. Clothelde to-day. It was attened by several ministers and a number of prominent members of the Legislature. The President of the Chamber of Deputies was present at the ceremony. General Noyes, who was one of the pall bearers, made a brief but affecting speech at the tomb in Pierre La Chase. In a few well chosen phrases he recalled the many personal virtues of the deceased Senator, and the never to-be-forgotten services rendered to America by his great progenetor.

AMERICAN.

Winter wheat killed in Ohio.

WHAT CONKLING WILL PROBABLY DO.

The President and His Nominations

COLUMBUS, O., March 30. — Much winter wheat in Ohio is reported killed. Estimated the yield will not exceed seventy per cent. of last year's production.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 30.—In Hancock county, W. Va., 60 miles from Pittsburg, paupers are sold every March to the man who will keep them for the lowest amount Horrible cruelties by their purchasers are reported. An effort is making to abate this in humanity.

NEW YORK, March 30.—Washington specials to the Sun say it is generally believed the Senate is on the eve of a long political debate, and that before a deadlock is broken, Conkling will spring the "Iocain" for free ballot and an honest count. His friends expect the response that will come up from stalwart Republicans all over the country will not be pleasing to the President or Blaine.

The Tribune says James is the happiest man in the Cabinet, finding plenty of work and despatching it readily. He put a stop to an abuse of old date, as soon as he entered the apartment, by ordering no increase of service on compensation on any mail routes without his sanction.

The Herald says opposition to Chandler's confirmation has gathered strength the last few days, and includes nearly all the Democrats and enough Republicans to make his case hopeless, unless some new complications arise to save him.

Garfield's friends, with whom he has freely conversed, say there was no agreement between him and Conkling or Platt, that he would not make nominations in New York without consulting them; that concerning certain nominations pleasing the stalwart wing, he had intended to take Platt, and would have waited before sending them to the Senate for Platt's return from N. Y., had not Conkling on Sunday night told him that as he and Platt were entirely agreed about the names, it was not necessary to delay the nominations. It is asserted further that in this conversation Conkling was told the President intended soon to make certain nominations for the anti-Conkling wing. The manner in which this information was received did not encourage confidence in that direction, even had the President intended them, but having consulted Conkling as to the nominations intended to be pleasing to his wing, it was not thought necessary he should also be consulted as to those which were intended to please the other wing. Robertson's nomination was determined upon before the cabinet was formed, and was known to Platt before he became Senator. Platt pledging at his support.

AFTERNOON.

Beaconsfield Better this Morning.

EMIGRATION FROM BOHEMIA

THE MOREY LETTER AGAIN.

BOSTON, March 30.—The House defeated by a vote of 122 to 76 the Bill to give municipal suffrage to women.

LONDON, March 30.—The Bank of France in cashing its notes pays three-fourths in gold, and the remainder in silver. The privilege of redeeming its notes either in gold or silver is constantly exercised by the bank.

Beaconsfield passed a good night, and was somewhat improved this morning. There is still some danger.

VIENNA, March 30.—From the mountain districts of Bohemia, the emigration of grown population to America has began to assume large proportions. The principal cause is the intolerable political tyranny of the Czechs who form the majority.

NEW YORK, March 30.—At the trial of U. S. local inspectors, Mathews & Jayne, yesterday, for manslaughter in connection with Seawantaka disaster, an expert testified the Seawantaka's boilers were in a dangerous condition six months preceding the disaster.

The Morey letter case, it, is reported, will be brought up soon, and criminal proceedings against the solicitor and publishers of Truth be abandoned, as it is proven the forged letter did not originate with them.

—General Roberts will start for home again on the 7th April.

From our own Correspondent.

AMELIASBURG ITEMS.

There is very little to note from here this week. Everything is quiet, and people are waiting patiently for the opening of the bay, which can not be very far off.

There are some who venture to cross on the ice without fear, but the majority feel inclined to keep off it, until the ferries run.

The ice measures some 15 or 16 inches in thickness in many places, and is reported to be quite heavy about the ferry steamer "Mary Ethel." The company will spare no trouble in getting her loose and ready to run as soon as they possibly can do so, and her running becomes a necessity. She has been under repairs during the winter, and has been placed in first class order.

The quarterly review of the Sabbath Schools of the Township was held at the Union Church on Sunday afternoon. The interest is growing stronger in Sabbath School work, most of the schools being in a promising condition. A great amount of the success of the schools depend upon the interest manifested in them by parents. It's just as necessary that parents should attend the Sabbath School, to make it a success, as the attendance of scholar.

The appointment of Capt. Cunningham to the office of Junior Major of the 16th Battalion is heartily approved of by all. We know of no one who is better fitted for that position than he. The vacancy caused by his resignation in No. 8 Company will be hard to fill,

Mr. John Peck and family, well known throghout this place, left for the States today.

—The Hochelaga depot of the Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa, & Occidental Railway was destroye t by fire this morning, shortly after midnight, the fire being aided by the explosion of a quantity of gunpowder stored in the freight sheds. Loss between $20,000 and $30,000. One man was killed and another seriously injured.

Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for the purpose of restoring the color of gray hair is soon needed by all who regard the original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of foul-ing the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous, and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

CAUSE OF HUMAN MISERY

THE LOSS OF

MANHOOD

We have recently published a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Seminal Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage etc., resulting from excesses.

Price 25 cents, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cts. or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practise, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hand of every youth and every man in the land.

Address, The CULVERWELL MEDICAL Co. 41 Ann St. N Y k

KNOW THYSELF.

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; or, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be recovered and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than fifty valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth, price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says, "No persons should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and affections of a similar nature due to pernicious habits or inherited. He is a Nervo-specialist, and therefore know where of he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon P. A. BISSELL, M. D., President of the National Medical Association.

Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass. The author may be consulted on all diseases dull and sperience. HEAL THYSELF.

At that name, so uttered, every one started but Mr. Gryce; he was engaged in holding a close and confidential conlab with his finger tips, and did not appear to notice.

"Surely it is contrary to the rules of decorum and the respect we all feel for the lady herself, to introduce her name into this discussion," Mr. Harwell went on hurriedly. But the coroner still insisting upon an answer he relolded his arms, a movement indicative of resolution with him, and began in a low forced tone to say,

"It is only this, gentleman. One afternoon about three weeks since, I had occasion to go into the library at an usual hour. Crossing over to the mantel-piece for the purpose of procuring a penknife which I had carelessly left there in the morning, I heard a noise in the adjoining room. Knowing that Mr. Leavenworth was out and supposing that the ladies had gone with him, I took the liberty of looking to see who was there; when what was my astobishment to behold Miss Eleanore Leavenworth standing at the side of her uncle's bed with this pistol at her hand. Confused at my indigestion, I attempted to escape without being observed, but, in vain, for just as I set foot on the threshold of the door, she turned around and, detecting me, called me by name, and upon my advancing, asked me if I would not explain the pistol to her. Gentlemen, in order to do so, I was obliged to take it in my hand; and that, sirs, is the only other occasion upon which I ever saw or handled the pistol of Mr. Leaveworth.' Drooping his head he waited in indescribable agitation for the next puestion.

"She asked you to explain the pistol to her; what do you mean by that?

"I mean,' continued he faintly, catching his breath in a vain effort to appear calm, 'how to load, sim and fire it.'

A flash like the glare of lightning shot across the face of all present. Even the coroner showed sudden signs of emotion, and sat staring at the bowed form and pale countenance of the man before him with a peculiar look of surprised compassion, that could not fail of producing its effect; not only upon the young man himself, but upon all who saw him.

"Mr. Harwell," he inquired at length, "have you anything to add to the statement you have just made?"

The secretary sadly shook his head.

"Mr. Gryce," here whispered, clutching that person by the arm and dragging him down to my side: 'assure me, I entreat you— but he would not let me finish.

"The coroner is about to ask for the young ladies,' he quickly interposed. 'If you desire to fulfil your duty towards them, be ready, that's all.'

To fulfil my duty! The simple words recalled me to myself. What had I been talking of; was I mad? Instantly the oppressed, with its doubt and horror rolled away from me like a scroll, leaving only a tender picture of the lovely cousins bowed in anguish over the remains of one who had been dear as a father to them. As this vision deepened and impressed itself upon me, I slowly rose, and upon demand being made for Miss Mary and Miss Eleanore Leaven worth, advanved and said that, as a friend of the family—a pretty lie, which I hope will not be laid up against me—I begged the privilege of going for the ladies and escorting them down.

Instantly a dozen eyes flashed upon me, and I experienced the embarrassment of one who, by some unexpected word or action, has drawn upon himself the concentrated attention of a whole room.

But permission sought, being almost immediately accorded, I was speedily enabled to withdraw from my rather trying position, finding myself almost before I knew it in the hall; my face aflame, my heart beating with excitement, and these words of Mr. Gryce's ringing in my ears:

'Third floor, rear room, first door at the head of the stairs. You will find the young ladies expecting you.'

CHAPTER VI.

SIDE-LIGHTS.

Oh! the has learnt that might ensnare A coward's soul, and make him leave his crown At random, to be scuffled for by slav e OTWAY.

Third floor, rear room, first door at the head of the stairs! What was I about to see there?

Mounting the lower flight and shuddering by the library wall, that to my troubled fancy seemed written all over with horrible suggestions, I took my way slowly up stairs, revelving in my mind many things, among which an admonition uttered long ago by my mother, occupied a prominent place.

'My son, remember that a woman with a secret may be a fascinating study, but she can never be a safe nor even a satisfactory companion.'

A sentence, wise no doubt, but wholly uncalled for under the circumstances, for certainly I had no intention of especially interesting myself in these women. Yet, notwithstanding all my efforts to elude it, it continued to haunt me, and as I stood at the door to which I had been directed, put every other thought to flight save this, that I was about to meet the stricken mourners of the family and loved ones.

Pausing only long enough on the threshold to compose myself for the interview, I lifted my hand to knock, when a sweet, clear voice rose from within, and I distinctly uttered these ominous words—'I do not receive your lords, though one of none other, when I do this; but your heart, your body will, those I do and I command you, secret mind at least, and is is well that you should know it.

FOR

EMIGRANTS.

An Immense Area of Railroad and Government Lands, of great fertility, within easy reach of permanent market at extremely low prices, now offered for sale in Eastern Oregon and Eastern Washington Territory.

These lands form part of the great Grain Belt of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 250 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are constantly loaded for all parts of the world.

Grain at Portland, Oregon, commands a price equal to that obtained in Chicago.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R. R. is now assured, and guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation to good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the construction of the new route of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R. & N. Co. in the valleys of the Great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the lands now open to purchase and settlement. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future. Fields show an average yield of 40 bushels of wheat per acre. No failure of crops ever known.

Railroad Lands offered at the uniform rate of $2.50 an acre.

DAILY ONTARIO
MR. BLAKE IN MONTREAL.
An Enthusiastic Reception and Stirring Speeches.

Hon. Edward Blake was entertained at a Banquet at the Windsor Hotel, Montreal, Tuesday evening. There was a large gathering and much enthusiasm. In response to the toast "Our Guest," Mr. Blake spoke as follows:

Hon. Mr. Blake said he would return his sincere thanks for the great kindness extended to him since his arrival among his friends in Montreal, and for the manner in which his health had been drunk. He believed it was a good omen for the future of their cause that they should have been gathered together, and was aware that it was more the pleasure they had at stake than from a desire to do him personal honor that they were met. It had been his fortune to deal to some extent with the questions before the country at the meeting he attended during the afternoon in the Mechanics' Hall, therefore he would allude more briefly to these topics at the present time. He congratulated them that they had met to organize, and had succeeded so well. (Cheers.) He referred to his last visit to Montreal, and reviewed the features that then had arisen of the Pacific contract. At the time he had promised them all that could be done by himself and colleagues to place the matter before Parliament and the country, and have it discussed and reviewed in all its aspects, would be done. (Cheers.) That pledge had been kept by the Liberal party. All the information at their command in their power had been availed of. He weighed his words well when he said it was his belief that there had been atone time not only outside but within the walls of Parliament an opinion adverse to that contract. By what process of reasoning or under what circumstances—he would attribute no baseness or improper motive to any one—that opinion was shocked, and Parliament led to adopt the contract, it was not for him to say, but it was for the country, which would soon pronounce and the time for the general election have plenty of time to think over it, to weigh the action of the parties, to decide who were in the right. (Loud and prolonged cheering.) The hon. gentleman at same length explained the position of the Liberals with regard to completing the Pacific road as occasion required, and by this means enhancing the value of the land to such a degree as would compensate the country for building the unprofitable ends. He contended this to be a better policy than that of the present Government in declaring the land almost worthless, and thus being compelled to pay so largely for the construction of the road. Touching upon the patriotic offer of the Canadians who offered a much better bargain than the first, he said that even it was not all they could have desired. It was, however, free from a great many objectionable features of the original contract. That the Government had refused to entertain it was not because they were compelled by circumstances to do so. It turned out that there was no agreement made with the Syndicate which forced Parliament or people of Canada to the provisions as each of the clauses were subject to the approval of Parliament, and could have been set aside had that body so willed. He had no doubt what the verdict would be when the electors came to pass upon the conduct of the Government at the general elections. (Applause.) He then alluded to the reckless manner in which the Government raised the public expenditure, calculating upon a continued series of prosperous years instead of profiting by the lessons of the past to practice rigid economy. It had been the misfortune of the Liberal party to come into office a time of great financial depression. They had, however, the Government of the day in 1878 of the fallacy of calculating upon continued prosperity, pointing out that Canada no more than any other country could go on, and that words were true, as he said, when the Liberals came into power at a time of depression, and those on the opposite side of the House began to count their chickens. They did not, however, profit by experience, for because there was a full treasury they were going on increasing large additions to the public expenditure. He was not one of those who said that expenditure did not increase with the growth of the country from year to year, but he thought that the country should watch and scrutinize well every addition to the public charge with the utmost carefulness, inasmuch as they had engagements in the future which must tax the resources of the Dominion to their utmost. (Loud cheers.) Much credit had been taken in Parliament by the gentlemen in the Government for the prosperity which existed, but when he had asked them in the House if they meant to tell him that they gave to the country a present of it, they were obliged to acknowledge that they had taken the money out of the pockets of the electors—that they found out a process whereby with a few strokes of the pen they could take more money out of the pockets of the electors. (Laughter and cheers.) He made some laughable allusions to the protective policy of the Government, showing that because a neighboring country had put a tariff on which took so much out of the pockets of those who sent goods into that country the present Ministry said, "Very well, we will put on a tariff that will take as much more out of our own pockets." (Laughter.) To take credit for such action seemed to him to be the height of audacity. He asked with what face a Government could come in 1881, and say they required seventy-seven millions or twenty-eight millions for the public service when it had condemned the Reform Government as corrupt for the few years previously for having desired to expend twenty-three and a half millions. (Cheers.) He passed on with a reference to the twenty years' struggle in Canada for responsible government, and said that while the Tories of to-day had so much to say in eulogy of Baldwin and Lafontaine, he could recollect, though a lad at the time, that that party had given them very little help to carry the day. In fact the men who raised the standard of responsible government were the followers of the principles of those gentlemen, most evidently opposed from their antecedents to democratic government. Instead they sole government only 2 Nos. There was as they know, matters of which they had no power or control in the disposition. They knew that with reference to their foreign relations, with reference to commercial treaties, with reference to all these things which were matters of Imperial concern, it was not the Empire that decided them; it was the Ministers of the Queen. It was not the Queen's subjects in Canada that had a voice in these matters in which they were deeply interested. It was the Queen's advisers in England. In these particulars we were in a subordinate position. We were not merely the subjects of the Queen as they were, but we were the subjects of the Queen's subjects (hear, hear), and for his part he did not feel comfortable as long as that state of things existed. (Hear, hear, and applause.) He quite agreed with the suggestion made by the Hon. Mr. Mercier that we ought to have a voice in the making of commercial treaties which affect ourselves. He thought in all those matters in which we had a common interest with the Empire we, as four millions of Britons on this side of the Atlantic, ought to have some voice in their disposition. It was a long time since he pointed out the direction in which they were drifting in this matter. He then pointed out that there was danger in drifting, and he belief was that they ought to take up this subject as one of vital and pressing importance—(applause)—that they ought to direct their best energies and best efforts to reach a solution of the question. Year after year something was now being done in the direction of the severance of our united interests in those things which the people of Canada desired to submit to exclusive government by the other. He thought the story of the Sibyl and her books would be repeated in regard to this question if statesmen on both sides of the water did not undertake to consider this subject in another spirit from that in which it had hitherto been considered. (Hear, hear, and applause.) He spoke of the idea of a confederated empire, disposing of all these matters each by its local Parliament, which are admitted to be separate in in interest, and united inseparably always and forever in the matter of common defence. (Applause.) Such a confederation would be a good omen for the future of the empire, and for the peace, progress and prosperity of the world. This question, however, was to be reached. The policy of drifting upon this question was, he affirmed, a pusillanimous and disastrous solution of it. Now, as to the negotiation of our treaties what were we told last session? We were told we were on the eve of obtaining a most advantageous commercial treaty with France, that forty eight hours consideration was required in the Foreign Office. The critical moment passed, the opportunity was gone, and the treaty lost. He never heard an argument more strong in favour of the management of our affairs in this particular. Our Ambassador was on the spot, had made the necessary arrangement, but he had not the power to close the bargain at the time when the bargain could be closed, and the favorable moment having passed, they were awaiting the recurrence of that favorable opportunity. The hon. gentleman then referred to the House of Commons, and contended that the House of Commons should not be asked to pass upon any question of policy or treaty without information being furnished, and a full discussion had. He contended that the present system of secrecy was wrong, and that the sentiments of sound constitutional writers was in favor of a responsible ministry. The present system of secrecy and the sentiments of sound constitutional writers which it was said responsible should be represented in Parliament. He also spoke in favor of the following on the power of the executive, and said the Government should be compelled to bring down measures at such a period of the session that they could be fully discussed, and in order that the popular view upon the measure could be obtained. He asked his auditors to seriously consider these points, and concluded by speaking of the necessity of organization in order to ensure the success of the Reform party.

FORGETFULNESS OF PEOPLE.
We would not, by calling headings and other devices lead you into reading of the virtues possessed by Pierce's Celebrated Medicines were it not that we are aware of the forgetfulness of people, and that must, for this excuse, dear reader, for again telling you that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is without an equal as a blood-purifier. It cures all tumors from the common blotch, pimple, or eruption, to the worst scrofula, fever sore or ulcer. Dr. Pierce's bottle is now a household edifice to many. Sold by druggists.

St. CLOUD HOUSE, Chicago, Ill., Jan. 25, '79.
Hon. R. V. Pierce:
Dear Doctor—I have been using your Golden Medical Discovery and Pellets for liver complaint and general debility. It is impossible to express the gratitude I feel. It is simply wonderful the effect your medicines have had upon me. I am in every way a thousand per cent. better.
Yours truly, CHARLES DUNLEAVY.

Extract of a Letter from Mr. Richard Hoyt, of Hoyt, Hoyt & Co., Importers and Jobbers of Dry Goods, Cincinnati, Ohio:
"I have used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and believe it to be the best blood purifier in the world. I was troubled with a humor in the blood, which appeared in the form of pimples on my face, and which grew worse until I had a large sore on my upper lip. I tried many remedies, but found no relief until I commenced using the 'Discovery.' Before I had used one bottle there was a decided change for the better, and by the time I had used six bottles my face was entirely free from pimples, and my blood was in a healthy condition. I have also used the 'Discovery' in my family for coughs, colds, and lung troubles, and find it the best medicine in the world for such complaints. I have recommended it to many others, and shall always do so."

S. E. BURWELL, of Pingall, Ont., writes:—Last autumn I was suffering from a severe cold which settled on my lungs and produced a distressing cough, for which I gave trial to a number of Cough Medicines, but without any benefit. I at last tried one bottle of Allen's Lung Balsam, which I am happy to be able to state gave almost immediate relief, and performed a perfect cure in a short time.

"Hail beauteous, bounteous, gladsome!"—that is Mark Twain's prize poem—but the dire diseases incident to Spring, spoil the romance. Burdock Blood Bitters is the prize remedy. The remedy prized by all who have tried it as the best Blood Purifying Tonic and System Regulator in the market. It cures all Blood Humors from the worst Scrofula to a common Pimple. Sample Bottles 10 Cents, for sale by all dealers in medicine.

For the cure of all the various diseases of the Head, Throat and Chest, including the Ear, Eye and Heart.

But a few weeks or months are required to cure the most obstinate cases of Catarrh, Throat diseases, Asthma, Bronchitis, and the earlier stages of Consumption, when the treatment is conducted under the Doctor's own personal supervision. A word to the wise is therefore sufficient.

All diseases of the respiratory organs treated by medicated inhalations.

Inhalations remove hepetration by dissolving the hardened matter existing in the air cells of the lungs, thus enabling the patient to expectorate it with ease, at the same time giving the diseased surface an opportunity to heal.

Inhalations scatter inflammation and soothe the inflamed surface, thus relieving a harassing cough almost immediately.

Inhalations absorb the fleshy excrescences that exist upon the pharyngeal surface in cases of granulated throat, and restore the proper vitality of the parts, thus relieving the dryness of the throat and the sensation as if needles were penetrating the mucous membrane of the pharynx.

Inhalations will cure the most obstinate cases of catarrh when combined with proper constitutional and other topical treatment.

In fact, Inhalations will cure thousands of cases of the breathing organs when all other remedies fail.

Let there be no delay, then, in application to the treatment that has stood the best and severest test for nearly a quarter of a century—the only reliable safeguard and means of restoration.

Consultation free and prices within the reach of all.

The very best of references given from all parts of Canada from those already cured. Remedies sent to any part of Ontario.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

There has been much excitement in London over the illness of Lord Beaconsfield. Mr. Gladstone has been a frequent caller on his invalid friend and political opponent.

The Porte has agreed to a boundary line that seems to satisfy the powers; and Greece will have to submit. England has officially notified the latter that she will not assist her in case of war.

The report that the British Government is about to prosecute a paper for articles approving of regicide will excite some comment. The name of the paper is Die Freiheit—German, we suspect.

Despatches yesterday would indicate that the state of affairs in Ireland are not so assuring as we had imagined. There is thought to be only a calm before the storm. Insurrectionary manifestations are expected, and the British Government is on the alert to frustrate the first open movement.

Mr. Pritties, the emigration contractor, is being severely overhauled by a number who have been victimized by him or the Railway authorities. The trouble seems to be that he does not take sufficient care in looking after the freight that was entrusted to his keeping, and hence emigrants to Manitoba have to wait for weeks and even months for their goods, after arriving at Emerson or Winnipeg. This is a serious matter to those who have neither time nor money to spare.

The Hamilton Times is about right in the following:—Mr. Crooker's return for East Northumberland has had a demoralizing effect upon the Tories. The Montreal Gazette says that the Protestant cry defeated Mr. Kennedy. Mr. Thomas White worked in the campaign and he ought to know. The Belleville Intelligencer attributes the defeat of the Tory Candidate to the exertions of the Irish Canadian in his behalf. Hon. Mackenzie Bowell was in the riding and he ought to know. The truth is that East Northumberland, like the rest of Ontario, desired to express disapproval of the reckless waste of Dominion resources perpetrated during the last session.

The organs of the Government have framed some remarkable excuses for the result of the polling in East Northumberland, but it remained for the Minerve, of Montreal, to settle the dispute. This sage Tory authority gravely asserts that, whereas the election was held on a fete day, it is illegal, and therefore void. The electors of the neighboring constituency will no doubt be grievously effected by the Minerve's philosophy, and will begin to put their house in order for another contest. It may turn out that fete days are not observed in Ontario so religiously as in Quebec, and that politicians, especially, observe only legal holidays here, which are not numerous, nor governed by church canons.

"A Country Magistrate furnished the Yorkshire Post with the dates of the several wars in which the British have been concerned since 1834, with the political party then in power. According to his showing, the Liberals were controlling the Government during the existence of twenty wars, great and small, since the above mentioned date, and the Conservatives during only six. From this exhibit he argues that the present Liberal contention for "peace, retrenchment and reform" is inconsistent with the party record. The Ottawa Citizen copies the statement and adds:

"In some respects the English Liberals resemble our own "Reformers." One is this: their practice does not invariably conform with their preaching."

Before attempting to make a point our contemporary should consult the history of the wars mentioned and ascertain the causes and political influences (if any) leading thereto. The Liberals, for instance, are charged with the Basuto and Boer wars, such as they have been, when every same person knows that both were only part of the legacy the Gladstone Government inherited from their predecessors in office.

Advocates of protection in Canada point to what they call a conclusive argument that the people of the United States have prospered under protection, and, therefore, per se, the principle must be sound. We quote again from Mr. Shearman, himself a manufacturer and large employer of labor: "They overlook the all-important consideration that we have, in a measure unknown to other nations, the combined advantages of liberty, orderly government, peace, freedom from dangerous neighbors and cheap land. England has the first two advantages, part of the third and fourth and none of the fifth. The rest of Europe has, for the most part, only orderly government; for the "peace" which exists on the continent is almost as disastrous as war, from the constant dread that it will not last. As for cheap and fertile land, that is a blessing which outweighs all that could be gained from protection or free trade, three over, no matter which of us is right. With such enormous advantages in the result is to our disredit that we have not prospered more. We have flourished under protection, it is true. So we did under slavery. So we did under the rotten system of banking which existed before the war, when workingmen were systematically swindled out of a part of their wages by payment in depreciated bills or credits on the employer's own store. So we did under a long war, even when it was most disastrous. Cheap land has carried us through. But is that any reason for throwing away one fourth of all the advantages which it gives us?

We publish a synopsis of the speech delivered by Hon. Edward Blake at the Montreal Banquet last Tuesday evening, on the first page of this issue. It will be observed that he trenchantly reviewed the political situation of the present, and successfully defended the Reform party from the charges of insincerity and incapacity. His reception in the commercial metropolis clearly indicates the growth of Reform views in the Province of Quebec.

PERSONALS.

—Lord Colin Campbell, brother of the Marquis of Lorne, who went to South Africa for his health, has returned rather worse.

—Mr. D. Wylie is about to resume control of the Brockville Recorder. The veteran editor will be welcomed to the profession again.

—Sir William Howland has consented to preside at the banquet to be given the Hon. Edward Blake in Toronto on the evening of the 21st April.

—Mrs. G. E. Casey, wife of the member for West Elgin, and sister of the Messrs. Bigger of this city, who has been ill at Ottawa since prorogation, is now quite recovered.

—Messrs. J. M. Stewart and A. P. Cornell have been appointed Demonstrators of Anatomy at the Medical College Kingston, and Messrs. D. B. Rutherford and R. W. Garratt have been appointed Hospital House Surgeons.

—Dr. Dupuis, of Kingston, presided at the late anniversary of the M. E. Church in that city, and in his opening remarks said he regarded Col. R. G. Ingersoll, the infidel champion, as a Christian. For this assertion the Dr. is being severely criticised.

FREE TRADE AND NO MONOPOLY.

1. We believe that a protective tariff, like slavery, is a relic of a barbarous age, and is a positive injury to all classes.

2. We believe that it is the inalienable right of every man to exchange the products of his toil wherever and with whom ever he can do so to the best advantage. To buy in the cheapest and sell in the dearest market he can find is the natural right of every man.

3. A civilized society cannot exist without exchange; we believe that all laws that are calculated to prevent or restrict exchanges are an impediment to civilization and should be repealed as soon as possible.

4. We believe that protective tariffs retard the material development of a country by diverting the capital and labor of the nation from profitable into unprofitable pursuits.

5. We believe that the aggregate production of wealth in the nation would be largely increased by free trade.

6. We believe that free trade would benefit a large majority of manufacturers by reducing the cost of their materials which would enable them to compete more successfully in the markets of the world.

7. We believe that the Government should interfere as little as possible with the private business of its citizens, and that every department of the Government should be conducted on sound economic principles.

8 We believe that the growing power of monopolies is the most serious danger which threatens our republic and as most monopolies owe their existence directly or indirectly to our protective system the most effectual means to overthrow them is free trade.

9. We believe that the time has come when a distinctly free trade party may with propriety and success be organized.—Detroit News.

AMERICAN NOTES.

—Postmaster General James has received a letter of congratulation from the postmaster of the German empire. The letter refers to the high reputation of the New York post office under Mr. James's management

—A very ugly woman of Leavenworth obtained a very handsome man for a husband; but her success was not a source of happiness. She repeatedly heard people's expressions of wonder that so attractive a man had married so unattractive a woman, and finally became furiously angry, throwing crockery and furniture at his fine head, and eventually giving him legal grounds for divorce.

—Chicago is brought face to face with the alarming increase of the divorce business in her borders by the figures of the Rev. Charles Cowley, who shows that in 1880 the ratio of divorce suits entered to marriage licenses granted was 1 to 7.5. The whole number of suits in the year was 332—an average of 6¾ per month and 2¼ per day. The ratio of divorces to marriage in Boston, by the last reports, was 1 to 21.4; in the state of Vermont, 1 to 17; in Rhode Island 1 to 14; in Connecticut, 1 to 11.

Mocco et Proficio.—The public have been so often deceived by representations made through the advertising columns, that if an announcement is made offering unusual inducements, it is considered at once as a "blow" and no further attention paid to it. I believe it pays to advertise providing the truth is told. If the advertiser is not able to carry out the inducements offered to the public it is but a waste of money and printer's ink. I have this season endeavored to secure goods suitable for a first class trade and I think an examination will bear me out in asserting that I have a stock of hats for style, finish and price second to none in the Province. I have imported this spring direct from two of the largest hat dealers in the States, (Clarke Bros., New York, and John B. Stetson & Co. Philadelphia) all the new American styles in soft and stiff hats. I have the spring styles in silk and pull over hats made expressly for my trade.

And now it's Carleton!

ANOTHER REFORM GAIN, AND ANOTHER KICK AT THE GOVERNMENT POLICY.

Mr. Irvine elected by 47 Majority.

An election for the House of Commons took place in Carleton, N. B., yesterday. The candidates were Mr. Irvine, Reformer, and Mr. Connell, brother of the late member. At the last general election the Conservative majority was 310. Yesterday the Reformers elected their man by a majority of 47. Is there any reaction in Carleton?

Following are the returns. Mr. Connell had majorities as follows:—

Woodstock	143
Richmond	44
Wakefield	24
Simonds	24
Aberdeen	10
Wilmot	9

Irvine's majorities were:—

Wicklow	108
Kent	137
Brighton	54
Northampton	1
Peel	1

Irvine's net majority is 47. About 3,000 votes were cast. The Liberals are triumphant, and have three bonfires going in Woodstock. They say with a little more time for preparation they could have given Irvine 500 majority.

One was tall and slim and the other short and thick. They were bosom friends. In a lumber yard of the same city worked two young men, one tall and the other short, and also bosom friends. The short young man formed the acquaintance of the tall young woman, proposed, was accepted and they were duly married. The tall young man kept bachelor's hall, was lonesome, told his happy married friend, was introduced to the short Irish girl, liked her, told his trouble, was accepted, had no money, the bride loaned him $4, the married couple went with them to the same minister, the knot was tied, and now there are two happy families on Ontario-st in the Limestone City.

Commendable.—An unusual event took place last week in St. James' Episcopal church, in Biddulph. A child of Mr. George Porte, of Clandeboye, having died, was interred in St. James' burial ground. Rev. Mr. McGatey, incumbent of the church, being unwell the service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Russell, Methodist minister, who not only officiated at the grave, but preached a funeral sermon in the church.

The Green-eyed Monster.—Jessie Adams is a pretty blonde of 17, and who lately moved to Chicago from Canada with her parents. There she met Chas. Young, a reckless youth, and against the advice of her friends married him. They went to an aristocratic hotel to spend their honeymoon. Jessie's beauty and vivacity attracted attention, Young became jealous, and without any cause shot his wife. She is dangerously wounded. Young was arrested.

The Queen's Own.—A despatch from Toronto says:—At a meeting last night of company A, Q. O. R., Captain Allan and Lieut. Wilkeson were made the recipients of handsome testimonials at the hands of the company. The cup given to the regiment for services at Belleville in 1878, won by company A at the annual match of that season, was given to the captain, and the Hanlan cup, given in 1879 to the regiment by the champion oarsman, and won by company A at the annual match of the same season, was given to the lieutenant.

The deceased gentleman occupied a prominent place in his profession, being President of the Bathurst and Rideau Medical Association at the time of his death. He was also for a time connected with politics, representing North Lanark in the Ontario Legislature from 1875 to 1879. He indentified himself with the Opposition. In 1879 he was defeated by Mr. Caldwell who was his unsuccessful opponent in 1875.

—The wharves in England at which foreign cattle arrive are to be divided into sections to facilitate the isolation of diseased animals. Earl Granville is urging foreign Governments to prevent the exportation of infected cattle.

—Rev. Dr. Cochrane, of Brantford, has been handed a list of young men of his church who frequent houses of questionable repute, and he threatens to expose them if they do not reform.

—A suit is on trial in the Superior Court of Chicago, in which Miss Ida Bates claims $5,000 of McChesney Brothers, alleging that when she ordered three teeth extracted they administered gas and to k out all the teeth in her upper jaw.

—It is reported that J. G. Haggart, M. P., of Perth, and James Shields, of Toronto, have acquired a square mile of timber limits at Daisy Lake by private bargain with the Dominion Government. Daisy Lake is in the territory in dispute between the Dominion and the Province of Ontario.

Let us remember this great truth, and commence with those around us. Let the poor and needy, and those who do not take the daily or weekly newspaper,be kindly informed, if in sickness, whether it be form coughs, lung diseases, asthma, or consumption, that he was of N. H. Downs' Vegetable Balsamic Elixir they can be cured. Keep not the good news to ourselves, but spread the sunshine of hope around.

Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an generation, they have attained well merited rank among the stple remedies of the age. Sold at 25c a box everywhere.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Local Brevities.

—To-morrow will be April Fool's Day.

—The atmosphere was quite balmy this morning.

—The dust is effectually laid without the aid of the watering cart.

—The Fire Committee did not have a meeting last night, as only three members were present.

—The millinery display in the various establishments is very fine. The styles for the coming spring and summer are elaborate.

—If a young man sees a bug on his girl's new spring hat he must not attempt to brush it off. It's put on to stick, and "don't you forget it."

—Those wanting licenses to sell liquor during the ensuing year should consult the Inspectors' notices in our columns, and govern themselves accordingly.

—The Toronto World settles the dispute over the East Northumberland election by declaring that Mr. Kennedy wasn't elected because he didn't get votes enough.

—Will the Belleville Intelligencer tell us how much its influence was estimated in the East Northumberlandelection ? Judging by the verdict of the electors, it ranged low enough, indeed.

—The citizens should assist by every means in their power to have a complete and correct census taken on Monday. The Enumerators will be dependent in a great measure upon the reception they receive.

—Will the Intelligencer state how much Messrs. Bowell, White, Merrick,Coughlin, Bykert, Plumb, et hoc genus, counted for in the East Northumberland contest ? By its own showing, they were treated with utter contempt by the electors.

—The election of benchers is just now engaging the attention of the legal fraternity. We have not heard of any particular action by the members of the bar in this city. There should be good candidates here for both the senior and junior tickets.

—Diphtheria of the worst type is prevalent in several localities not very far from Belleville. This is the season when great care should be taken to have pure water and wholesome air. Bad ventilation and the existence of decaying vegetables are very dangerous to health.

—It is a cherished conviction with the clumsy-footed man who are unable to dance that "the best dancers have the least brains." Perhaps a growing suspicion that there is some truth in this injurious theory has some effect to do with this increasing scarcity of dancing men in the eastern cities. In Washington seeiely dancing men have almost disappeared.

With her chin upon her hand,
And her elbow on her knee ;
I'm not hard to understand

What the maiden's thoughts must be :
With her face with rapture beaming,
And her eyes upon the floor,
She is thinking, she is dreaming
Of the man she does adore.

Then she lifts her eyes of blue
To a dress upon a chair ;
But, although that dress be new,

Sure her thoughts cannot be there :
Ah, a smile of pleasure flutters
Gently o'er that face so pure,
And her thought she softly utters :
"I will eat it Pompadour."

—It is about time the Tory organs, including our neighbor, of course, ceased whining over the defeat they experienced in East Northumberland. The religious cry, backed as it is pretended to be by the Mail's circular, is so ridiculously absurd and false that its agitation can only excite contempt in the minds of sensible people. The Reform party of that riding, as a party, is no more responsible for the acts of individuals, than for the war in South Africa. If an attempt was made to prejudice Protestants against Mr. Kennedy, a half dozen or more Orange leaders were sent there to counteract such influence. By accusing the Reformers of having successfully traded on the religious cry, the organs admit that their Orange missionaries "counted for nothing in the contest."

UNSURPASSED.—The old and well known remedy "Holden's Expectorant" (for coughs and colds) is still unsurpassed. More than 20 years it has now been in use and it still continues popular, while scores of medicines for the same purpose have flourished for a year or so and are forgotten. If you have a cough or a cold call at Geen's Drugstore and procure a bottle.

GARDEN SEEDS.—For good and reliable garden and field seeds go to Geen's Drugstore.

POLICE MATTERS.—Three prisoners were lodged in the police cells last night, the first for several days. Two of them were drunks, and one a vagrant.

IN MOURNING.—The ball of No. 2 Fire Company was to-day draped in mourning, out of respect to their deceased member, Richard B. Hudson. They will attend his funeral in a body to-morrow.

HISTRONIC ASSOCIATION.—The friends of the above society will be pleased to learn that on the night of Easter Monday, April 18th, they will appear at the Metropolitan Hall in " The Ticket-of-Leave-Man."

A TRENTON ENTERPRISE.—A few gentlemen in Trenton have built a large house or refrigerator, in which they intend storing fruit, eggs, butter, etc., for selling purposes. They claim that strawberries and other fruits can be kept fresh the year round, and just as good as when first picked. Good for Trenton.

FOR MANITOBA.—Mr. W. H. Marsh, of this city, leaves on Monday morning next for Winnipeg, Manitoba, for the purpose of opening a wholesale establishment there. His stock-in-trade will be sold about the middle of May, and will be removed to Winnipeg, where Mr. Marsh will also have the superintendence of the road.

POLICE COURT.—Three prisoners were before the Cadi this morning,charged with minor offences. James Curry, drunk, paid $2, Weller Johnston was sent to jail for one week, and Bridget Beatty was let off. A charge of assault preferred by John Bryson against Richard Waterhouse was dismissed, complainant to pay costs.

SNOW STORM.—One of the most severe snow storms of the season set in about 4:30 yesterday afternoon, and continued nearly all night. Although the snow fell to a depth of about two inches, it had nearly all disappeared before noon. It was generally thought that this would be the last of the season, but the indications at time of writing are that we are to have more.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Richard Hudson, who has been well known in Belleville for years on account of his drinking proclivities, died this morning at the residence of his brother-in-law. He had only been ill for a few days. Deceased was for years a member of No. 2 Fire Company, and was probably one of the most daring firemen in the city. He has rendered good service at many fires, and on this account, if for no other, his comrades will feel sorrow because of his loss. The unfortunate man was very respectably connected, but on account of his wildness was an exile from his home in England.

HE WASN'T SATISFIED.—A few days since a large sale of farm stock and implements took place in the Township of Murray, at which there was a large attendance of buyers and spectators. Among the great bargains obtained was a vehicle, the purchaser of which had been befriended on many occasions, by the man whose goods were being sold. After the purchase was made the original owner of the vehicle approached its new owner, and after reminding him of favors in days gone by, and telling him that he wanted it himself, the new purchaser refused, stating that he had been in search of such a vehicle for a long time. Five dollars was offered him for his bargain, but it was no temptation, and he coolly asked the late owner if there was not a wrench that belonged to it. Late owner left in disgust.

FROST.—High winds and gales from the north and northwest,cloudy colder weather with snow flurries.

ALBERT COLLEGE.—Hilary term closes on April 6th. The terminal examinations in the University and Grammar School began to-day. The annual matriculants exhibition will be given on the last day of the term. The class is larger than usual and an increased interest is manifested.

RAN AWAY.—A deaf mute named James Stewart, about 16 years of age, ran away from the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb yesterday morning. His bad on a light tweed suit and a black cap; his hair was cut short. He lives in the County of Renfrew, and he is supposed to be travelling in that direction. The authorities of the Institution would be glad to hear of his whereabouts.

MARCHMONT HOME.—Miss Bilbrough informs us that a party of sixty boys leaves Glasgow to-day for Halifax from Mr. Quarrier's Scotch homes. They are coming out rather earlier than usual so as to be ready for the spring's work. There are a larger number of applications than usual this spring, perhaps owing to families and young men going to the North-West. Apply with reference from ministers to E. A. Bilbrough, Belleville.

Sarah Bernhardt.—Just received a beautiful assortment of the celebrated Bernhardt checks in Sky-blue, Cardinal, Old Gold, Navy, Seal Brown, Pink, Salmon, Green, Myrtle, &c., suitable for dresses and trimmings. James Hennessy.

THE TRENTON IRON BRIDGE.—The new iron bridge at Trenton, completed last fall, is said to be in a dilapidated state, and will not answer the purpose for which it was constructed, viz., a swing bridge. This is in consequence of the piers having settled considerably, they not having been put in as originally agreed upon. How it is to be remedied, is a question in which the people of Trenton are very much interested just now, as the upper part of their harbor will be closed to vessels. One thing is certain it will cause a considerable outlay of money to put it in proper shape.

—During this week services are being every night held in the lecture room of John St. Presbyterian Church. The attendance is very large and encouraging. Rev. D. Mitchell gives a short discourse each evening, which is preceded and followed with pointed prayers by a number of those present. The object of these meetings is partly as a preparation for the Sacrament to be dispensed on Sabbath next, and also to meet a felt want at a time when many are enquiring their way to salvation. It is intended to continue these meetings next week, but on the somewhat different plan of the addresses being given by several of the city pastors.

LITTA.—St. Louis Globe Democrat:—Litta sang beautifully last night. The auditorium was thronged, and the performance was a glorious triumph. The music of the composer rose from her lips in silver tones, and was characterized with the earnest soul and noble feeling of genuine art. She charmed the audience into admiration in the very start, and carried it with her to the close of her part Every solo was enthusiastically encored. The New Orleans Times says:—All admit that the role she interprets is fascinatingly melodious, and that in the higher registers she has absolutely no limit. We can say this of her singing that under its magic influence one is irresistibly carried away into a sensuous dream, that, under its spell, the impressible auditor finds oblivion, and if this is not art, we fail to recognize it. Litta has sung in Cleveland repeated y, and received a benefit at the Tabernacle, where she appeared before 5,000 people. Secure your seats at Reynold's; cushion seats on side will be reserved.

NOTICE.—To the merchants, lawyers and business men of the City of Belleville.—Having been on a short visit to New York, to see my relatives, in my absence rumors have been circulated that I have retired from business here and given up Bill Posting, and left Belleville for good. It is a false report, circulated to injure my business and reputation. I have done my work honestly and faithfully in the past, no matter how cold and severe the weather has been, and hope to gain the public patronage in future. I return many thanks to the merchants, lawyers and business men for the work entrusted to me in the past, and hope I have given satisfaction, which I will strive to do in the future.

Yours, very respectfully,
JOHN J. SHEA,
Original City Bill Poster.

SPRING FASHIONS.

Brignall & Thompson's Opening Days.

Yesterday and to-day the ladies of the city have been in an unusual flurry of excitement over the millinery opening at Messrs. Brignall & Thompson's store, and their large and beautiful establishment has been literally crowded from morning until night.

THE MAIN STORE

is trimmed in a manner that we have never before seen equalled in this city,and their new goods are laid out in such a way that the scene presented is very attractive one. The show windows are beautifully dressed, with dress goods and other showy fabrics, that cannot fail to attract the attention and admiration of pedestrians. On entering the shop, the visitor is at once struck with the decorations overhead, of laces, ribbons, etc., while on the floor and behind the counters is ranged tier upon tier of all manner of staple and fancy dry goods. Between the two doors is a pile of carpets, and beyond are tables filled with prints and dress goods, of the newest patterns and leading fabrics. Immediately under the sky light is a table on which is shown a number of beautiful embroidered silk and brocade mantles, together with a full range of colored silks, brocades and satins. Just behind these samples of parasols and sun umbrellas are displayed, of which the firm's importations this year are much larger than ever before. The greater part of the parasols this season are trimmed with lace. At the left of the entrance to the millinery show room is a magnificent display of cretonnes, and on the opposite side cottons and linens, the back ground on each side being filled in with bordered carpets, cretonne and lace curtains, and house furnishing goods. As we enter the scene there presented is one which almost baffles our descriptive powers, so rich and beautiful is the display made. Hats and bonnets have always formed an important part of a lady's attire, and this season they become more prominent and interesting than usual, on account of the very decided change which has taken place in the shapes worn and the materials of which they are made. As usual, the variety of shapes is very great but in bonnets there are two leading and distinctive shapes, quite different and even opposite in character. One is the "Poke Bonnet," an unmistakable relic of the past, but modified to suit the tastes and requirements of the present. History is said to repeat itself,and so undoubtedly does fashion. This large bonnet, in its more extreme developments is called by various names, such as "The Granny," "The Antique," and "The Mother Hubbard." The "Mother Shipton" was introduced,but as her predictions for this year of grace point rather to the extinction of all fashion, it was considered undesirable for anyone to have "Mother Shipton" on the brain, and the shape was therefore withdrawn from the list of fashions.

THE MILLINERY SHOW ROOM,

There are many smaller bonnets of this renaissance character, but all having a "poke front" to them. They are worn well forward on the head, and have a shirred lining inside, the front of satin merveilleux, serge, or satin, in some becoming color to suit, and, if possible, improve the face of the fair wearer.

In hats there is a variety of styles, some of which can be worn either as a hat or a bonnet,according to the taste of the wearer. They are principally large, with the brim turned up on one side and down on the other, and some still retain the names of the various celebrated characters, such as are the Lorraine, Reckless, Melrose, Rubens, &c., &c. There are also sailor hats, both for girls and boys; they are trimmed ready for wear and some at very reasonable prices. The material of which the newest hats and bonnets are made are quite new, or rather, like the shapes themselves, they are an old fashion revived. Fancy Italian straws,and Tuscan lace braids are the latest fashion, and many of those goods are remarkable for their light and very effective.

Chips and straws and imitation chips will also be largely used by those who do not follow the fashion so closely and who have less expensive goods.

The trimmings are soft silk and satin materials of a surat character; they are bright and soft, and rich looking, and the colors are straw, or maize, cardinal, sky-blue, coral, cream ; but cardinal and various shades of red decidedly prevail, as they contrast so effectively with the tuscan and leghorn materials of which the hats are made. Flowers are much in vogue, in fact they are empatically a fashion. They are worn not only on millinery, but on the dress, on the fan, and on the breast, the same as a gentleman wears a rose in his buttonhole.

Feathers will be used on the more expensive goods, especially real Ostrich in cream, white, beige and sky-blue. Some combination of feathers, blended together so as to make a very long and third feather going quite around the hat and drooping at the back.

Ribbons are still largely used in broaded, checked and plain effects. But the newest are shaded from a dark color at one edge to a pale one at the other, and the satin Merveilleux material in wide piece goods is made to match these shaded ribbons.

Some very beautiful laces are brought out this season, in Spanish,Vermicelli and Coralina, besidesa variety of other makes. Cream is the prevailing color in laces, but of course black and white will still be used.

SPORTING NOTES.

—The Toronto lacrosse club played fourteen games last year, ten of which they won.

—Maud S. will trot against time at the leading race tracks during the coming season.

—The London Sporting Life says the Cambridge are a strong and level crew, not finished oarsmen, but getting well together, with judicious "leaving alone," will gradually improve further.

—The race between Cottaford, the British Columbian champion, and Stevenson of Vallejo, which took place on the San Ulito, was won by the latter. The three miles were covered in 20 minutes 58 seconds. Cottaford capized at the turn.

—Bell's Life says: The Cambridge crew after a week on tide water are very backward in style, considering that the day of the race is so near. The Oxford crew are still uneven, but impress one as being a powerful lot, and what individual faults they possess can be remedied if the coaching is judicious. The next week when they arrive on tide water. The race will be rowed about 8:30 a. m. Joseph W. Chitty, member of parliament, officiates as umpire.

—Wallace Ross writes as follows to a St. John, N. B. paper:—"As there has been a lot of dispute as to the merits of Smith and myself I would like to have it settled. I will row Warren Smith any distance he may name on the Kennebeccasis, and allow him two hundred dollars for expenses. Or I will take two hundred dollars from him and row on Bedford Basin for $1,000 a side any time in June. If he will not row me at either of the places named I will row him on Lake Memramcook, Maine, each man to pay his own expenses; Smith to be allowed to name his own distance. This challenge will remain open seven days. Geo. Hosmer, of Boston, Reilly, of Saratoga, or Courtney, of Union Springs, can be accommodated with the same terms. Articles sent to at St. John will receive attention.

—Hanlan was recently interviewed in New York, and in answer to the question what his proposal really was, he said:—"It is to row against any man in the world for from $1,000 to $10,000 a side, and beat him fifteen seconds at the finish. This proposition has been incorrectly published as an offer to give an advantage of fifteen seconds at the start."

There was a great difference, he said, between giving a man a start of so many seconds and beating him at the finish so many seconds. His method has always been to take the lead at the start, if possible, and keep it through the race. This lead gave him an advantage at once. His antagonist would make a spurt from time to time to overtake him, while he could regulate his own speed to suit the case, and expend his reserve energy at the finish. Courtney he did not consider much of an oarsman ; in fact he had never been in a race with a man so easy to beat. People he said made a mistake in talking so much about Courtney, when there were several other oarsmen that were far superior to him. As yet he had received no response to his proposition, and he was engaged in making preparations for opening his hotel at Toronto bay next summer. In the event of a race, he would insist on its being rowed at Toronto, as he owed it to the people of that city. They had treated him well, and it was now their turn to have a show.

AMERICAN.

The Great Flood at Yankton.

ROBERTSON'S CONFIRMATION RECOMMENDED.

Few changes in Foreign Mission probable

THE PRESIDENT AND HIS APPOINTMENTS.

ATLANTA, March 31.—A recent duel arraigned between two prominent citizens of Americus was prevented by the arrest of Dr. Fort and second.

ST. PAUL, March 31.—Telegrams report the greatest flood in Yankton, ever known. The river rose ten feet yesterday. No estimate of damage. The water commenced rising again yesterday at Vermillion, and reached the second story windows,the occupants being removed in skiffs. Intense excitement. A break up at Bismarck yesterday flooded the country five miles, wrecked three farehouses at Bismarck landing, and inundated the town of Mandan. The greatest loss aside from life, will be cordwood cut during the winter for townsetilers and steam-boats. It has all been swept away. The wood choppers and settlers of lowlands are all washed out. Undoubtedly many drowned.

PITTSBURG, March 30.—The steamers Emma Graham and Montana collided 25 miles from here Tuesday night. The Emma Graham sank in four feet of water without damage to cargo or passengers.

NEW YORK, March 30.—The Herald's Albany special says the Stalwarts have decided not to attempt to revoke the resolution recommending Robertson's confirmation. Nearly all the Democratic members of the Legislature signed the petition to the Democratic Senators recommending the confirmation.

Washington specials to the Times says it is reported the President realizes Chandler's nomination was a mistake and would be gratified if Chandler will decline.

The World says it is believed some Republicans tired of deadlock and will shortly vote for an executive session. Understood the President has decided to withdraw the nomination of Nichol for Indian Commissioner. A member of Congress, who visited the President yesterday to oppose the renomination of the Post master of his district, was told the main question was whether the incumbent was efficient. The Congressman replied he supposed his wishes as the representative of his district would be respected. The President rejoined that while willing to avail himself of information concerning officers, he felt the appointing power was lodged with himself and not with the representative.

The World says there is no real opposition to Robertson among Democrats, but not a Democrat has been heard to favor Chandler.

The Tribune says the changes of the present session in foreign service will not likely be numerous. Reported Lowell, remains in England ; White will remain at Berlin until next summer ; Foster will stay at St. Petersburg ; Fairchild likes Madrid, and is well fortified by home political influence ; Marsh probable be recalled from Italy his own request. The Turkish mission may be vacated by the appointment of Longstreet to be marshall of Georgia. General Badeau is said think favorably of Rome.

NEW YORK, March 30.—Mrs. Mary Nelson, a blind music teacher of New Rochelle and daughter aged 18 were fatally suffocated by gas from a coal stove Monday night.

AFTERNOON.

FATAL RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

Formation of Branch Land Leagues.

THE NICE DISASTER AND NUMBER OF VICTIMS.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, I., March 30.—A construction train on Rock Island Road near Walnut yesterday collided with a freight train, demolishing the cars of the construction train including a caboose, in which were 25 employes,all of whom are injured, several probably fatally.

PHILADELPHIA, March 31.—A further reduction in the price of coal of 25c to 30c a ton is announced, by Reading Co. The coal Co's of Pennsylvania Railroads have determined upon a general reduction of prices.

LONDON, March 30.—A Dublin despatch announces that the Land League is trying to organize local branches in Dublin to bring pressure upon traders, and says the League commenced in the old quarter of the city by establishing a branch where there is a large population of the lowest classes, capable of furnishing abundant materials for mischief. The council of the new branch have sent a circular to merchants and traders who do not sympathize with the League, but are largely dependent upon the people for labor and custom, and for immunity from injury. Merchants and leaders are unwilling to comply with the circular and afraid to refuse.

NICE, March 30.—Sixty-one victims of Opera House disaster, consisting of 36 Frenchmen, 20 Italians, 2 Englishmen, 1 German and one nationality unknown. Three victims were boys under 14 ; nine youths ; four girls ; 24 male and 18 female adults. Relief subscriptions amount to 800,000 francs.

NEW YORK, March 30.—A new line of steamers between New York and Swansea Wales, called the Shamrock Line has been established.

Mrs. Eliza Greatorock, the artist, has been notified of the death of her only son, Thomas, at Darado Colorado, March 11th. He was fatally shot by a gambler whom he had threatened for attacking a woman on the street.

Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color

A dressing which is at once a agreeable, healthy, and effectual preparation for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved to usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous, and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not hurt it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

A GREAT CAUSE OF HUMAN MISERY
IS THE LOSS OF

MANHOOD

We have recently published a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage etc., resulting from excesses.

Price only 6 cents, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cts. or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

The Lecture should be in the hand of every youth every man in the land.

KNOW THYSELF.

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; or, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than fifty valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth, price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says, "No persons should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

The Tribune says: "The author has had unprecedented success in dealing with nervousness of all kinds and its affections, whether due to pernicious habits or indulgence. He is a Nerve-specialist, and therefore know where of he writes with such power and ability."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to Hon P. A. BISSELL, M. D., President of the National Medical Association.

Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, No. 4 Bulfinch St. Boston, Mass. The author may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience.

An Immense Area of Railroad and Government Lands, of great fertility, within easy reach of permanent markets at extremely low prices, is now offered for sale in Eastern Oregon and Eastern Washington Territory.

These lands form part of the great Grain Belt of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 250 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are already loaded for all parts of the world.

Grain at Portland, Oregon, commands a price equal to that obtained in Chicago.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R. R. is now assured, and guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the construction of the network of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R. & N. Co. in the valleys of the Great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the lands now open to purchase and settlement. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future. Lands now in advance yield of the finest of wheat per acre. No failure of crops ever known.

Railroad Lands offered at the uniform rate of $2.50 an acre.
